From the throes of a turbulent half-century of progress, East Carolina College stands with its face toward the future. A new vista shapes itself amidst the turmoil of expansion. With confident strides, the College moves to meet the challenge of tomorrow — to serve answers to inquiring minds — to perpetuate the disciplines of modern education.
Future . . .

As steel beams frame the sky and new buildings rise almost overnight, the face of the campus changes quickly. The future seems at hand and the conquest easy.

And it is for the hallmark of posterity and to the multi-victory of East Carolina College as it begins its second century of service that the 1959 Buccaneer is dedicated.
More than a half-century ago, an act of the State Legislature established a school which has become one of the largest colleges in North Carolina.

Rising with stately grace from the rolling green acreage off Fifth Street, East Carolina's oldest building, Austin, stands as a time-honored monument to by-gone days.
Standing with an emerald elegance, Juniper trees have witnessed the years bring a rising fame to East Carolina College.

Surrounded by green herbage, the fountain in Wright Circle has become a peaceful repose from the turmoil of expanding brick and mortar.
For those moments away from books, the College Union has provided a wealth of activities for those students who seek more than a repertoire of facts.

Keeping pace with the growing demand for scientists, technicians, and business personnel, Flanagan Building has justified the foresight of those men who brought higher education to eastern Carolina.
Framing the panoramic stretches of the interior quadrangle, Flanagan columns stand as a vestige to business and scientific excellence.

Lining the length of North State Avenue, the girls' dormitories constitute the oldest campus buildings.
Heralding a new era for East Carolina, Christenbury Gymnasium looks out across Tenth Street to the fast developing South Campus.

Becoming one of the two state vocational training centers in Home Economics, the college built a home management house for practical experimentation.
Representing more than two million dollars, Joyner Library is the largest research facility in eastern North Carolina.

A new influx of male students came in mid-century—William B. Umstead Hall for men is the result.
Garrett Dormitory is the newest addition to the women's housing development project.

As the first building to be erected on the South Campus, this five story men's dormitory becomes the tallest building in Greer ville.
As classroom space demands increase, new buildings push expansion into the ever-shrinking arboretum.

A modern cafeteria addition is one of the many such extensions which strive to meet the increasing needs of an expanding student body.

Foreign languages have truly found their place in the college curriculum this year. The department has grown in offerings, students, and faculty members. Enrolled in the department are 322 men and women who are taking courses in French, Spanish, German, and Russian. Freshmen expect almost anything when they come to college, but when they do away with the professor and put you in front of a TV monitor for a class in US History, it's just going a little too far.

First year students bring family car to college.

Freshman girl's proving ground: of course, this picture was made before kissing was outlawed!!

Marshals...

Marshals are representatives of the college at public functions, especially at commencement, and the success of such occasions can be definitely affected by the way in which the marshals serve.

The marshals, selected by vote of the entire student body, choose their chief marshal and serve for one year in this esteemed and honorary campus position.

Spring '58...

Often called the happiest season of the year, spring holds a special significance for East Carolina students. Featured events such as the Junior-Senior Dance, the May Day pageant, and senior graduation are anxiously expected each year. Highlighting the 1958 spring was the 50th anniversary pageant, "East Carolina's Spade: To Serve." The production celebrated a half-century of growth and development.

Among the delecate flowering of Japanese cherry trees, Marilyn Shavender welcomes the first brisk days of spring.

Cheesecake and suntan oil, a pretty picture, in the sun court at Ragdale Hall.

Warm days come and the Umstead males make like dead Indians.
Carnival spirit fills the College Union at the annual "Carnival Night." One of the favorite attractions was the pie-throwing booth, especially with Mike Katsias as the target.

Hal Langdon's "Hi-Five" provide the music for the annual Military Ball.

Eddie Dennis presents Jackie Byrd with the queen's bouquet at the Phi Sigma Pi Sweetheart Ball.

Barbara Chappell enjoys first edition of THE REBEL, the college's new literary magazine.
Presented by the East Carolina Playhouse, Sleeping Beauty was given before audiences in Greenville and Pitt County schools.

Construction begins on the new men’s dormitory on South Campus.

Chairman of the Business Department, Dr. E. R. Browning, crowns Earl Soles and Gayle Davenport king and queen of the Valentine Dance.
Ralph Marterie and his nationally known band visited the campus for the Chandelier Ball.

Guest actor, Jerry Rockwood, starred in the East Carolina Playhouse production of Tea-house of the August Moon.

President Messick presents Maurice Everett with the award for outstanding tennis player in NSC.

Bulldozer clears arboretum for construction of new classroom building.
May Day '58

Like spring itself, May Day, 1958 was an event of delicate charm as the campus beauties paraded around the college pool. It was a fairyland experience when young girls dressed in satin lavenders announced the entering queens, and baby white ducks paddled through the pool water. Our queen was Miss Betty Phillips, and her maid of honor was Marcia Forbes.
Pink seashells and rainbow colored fishes characterized the 1958 Junior-Senior Dance.

Ragsdale basement window made a good delivery point for Buccaneer editor Ike Williamson.

Dottie Jo James sings Julie in the college production of Carousel.

Rose Rich sings with the "Dreamers" for the Senior Night activities.
"East Carolina's Spade To Serve" climaxed the Golden Anniversary celebrations of East Carolina. The pageant, by Miss Emma Hooper, presented through drama, music, and dance the 60 years growth of the college. Above is the final scene and at the right, Dr. Messick has just presented Miss Hooper with a bouquet of roses.

Memorial Gymnasium was packed as 750 students received their degrees. At the right, President Messick congratulates an eager co-ed.
SGA President Johnny Hudson presides over meeting of Summer School SGA.

This was one of the most effective summer sessions in many years. The campus streets were named and the college acquired its first mascot.

More than 1700 students were enrolled in the two sessions.

Summer '58...

After fifty years of wrong directions, the campus streets were given names. One of the most impressive is North State Avenue.

For the first time East Carolina has a mascot. Through the efforts of SGA President Johnny Hudson and Vice President Clint LaGotte, a Great Dane was purchased and appropriately named "Buc."
H. S. Kelly seems to be enjoying the hospitality of the College Union at one of their many “Bingo-Ice Cream” parties.

Remember the controversy over the College Union bicycles? No matter where the money goes, Sandra Gray and Betty Smith check two out for a ride out to Green Springs Park.

One of the highlights of the Summer Session is the numerous watermelon cuttings sponsored by the College Union. Director Cynthia Mendenhall eyes Charles Youmans as he expertly carves the chilled fruit.
The most popular place on campus during the summer months is the picnic area. Cases of Pepsis and pounds of hotdogs find their way here to be glutonously consumed by hungry students after a long hot day of classes.

More hotdogs!!! Looks as if we have a glutton in the party . . . . she's roasting a hotdog and at the same time chewing on one. Well, the co-ed standing thought it was funny.

The college pool needs no advertising. Its cool, sparkling water is the perfect place for relaxation from one of Greenville's humid sub-tropical days.
Another school year began in September with a record enrollment. During the summer months, the campus had undergone a considerable change.Returning students found two new buildings and three extensions.

East Carolina continued to fulfill its promise as a growing institution.
Carol McDaniel, '57 Homecoming Queen, presents "Buc" at first football game.

KA's Bud Herrin and Pete Gurley check student ID cards at football clash with Elon.

Art Major, E. T. Rogers, tries his hand at pot turning.

And fish came up for air!

Freshman textbook...
But of course, a voting booth.

Ida Mae Thomas and George Ray seem to enjoy counting ballots.

Hello, world!

Unusual smiles seen as drill team falls into formation.
Homecoming...

Hailed as the most impressive Homecoming weekend in the history of East Carolina College, students, fans, and alumni gathered to celebrate another year of growth and progress. The 1958 Homecoming was highlighted with the appearance of sister queens, Jimi and Carol McDaniel, the new mascot, "Buc," and ECC's own Betty Lane Evans, Miss North Carolina for 1958.

Following in the footsteps of her older sister, Carol, Jimi McDaniel was chosen Homecoming Queen for the 1958 event.
...1958...

First place float prize was won by Kappa Sigma Nu for the second consecutive year.

Sorority girls contribute much to the beautification of the campus.

Garrett Hall displays their homecoming spirit with a sign of victory.

Sandra Cooper seems to find her date this year rather inanimate.

Hers, sleepy workers put finishing touches on float.
Highlighting the Homecoming parade was the appearance of East Carolina College's own Betty Lane Evans.

Color pictures in the making for '59 yearbook. Editor Spain and Homer Ball cover Homecoming bonfire.

Little imagination is necessary to get the significance of this float.

Wonder what Flemming Hall had in mind with this cat and dog scene?

Meaning of KMA: a closely guarded secret...
“Buc,” East Carolina’s first mascot, was a center of attraction during the Homecoming parade.

Head cheerleader, Joy Johnson, performs one of her more ambitious routines.

Jarvis Hall captured for the third consecutive year the first place prize for the best decorated dorm.

Residents of the Collegiate Apartments emphasized their autonomy by sponsoring one of their glamorous queens as a parade entry.

Kathryn Crumpler added one of the many beauty touches to the parade.
Alice Ann Horne, Playhouse sponsor, was riding low this year.

Tired pirate rests after a long parade.

Nina Weaver, Lurita Umphlett, Jane Murray, and Carolyn Hinton make pretty decorations for the Sigma Alpha iota float.

Winter '58-'59...

Coming on the heels of a pleasant fall, winter arrived in a flurry of white flakes as the campus was blanketed in sixteen inches of snow. On the morning of December 4, East Carolina students awoke to find the college campus blanketed in sixteen inches of snow and ice. For many it was a first experience with a white winter. With high banked drifts, the campus was never more picturesque, and both young and old found snowballs, icy streets, and snowmen an exhilarating new experience.

Sponsored by the Kappa Upsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the White Ball is an annual event which has come to be the outstanding dance of the winter quarter. Situated in the center of the dancing area was a white paper snowman twenty feet tall. The other decorations were basically white, reflecting the earlier campus snow.

East Carolina's Student Government began a series of sweeping changes following the spring elections. Its organizational theme of "greater service through student responsibility" was challenged from the beginning by a host of campus issues.

The Advisory Board for the organization brought the Senate System to reality. For the first time in years, the Points System worked effectively to curb office holders, and the freshman orientation program was considerably improved. A featured event of the year came when the Student Government Presidents Meeting, drawing students from several states, was held in Joyner Library.

The body has in general been more active than previously.
Since 1920 the East Carolina College Students Association has operated under a Student Legislature composed of the presidents of all recognized campus organizations. Due to continuous changes in membership each year, a new system which would continue to be representative yet more stream-lined and effective was sought. As this year’s S.G.A. administration came into office, the new senate system came into being. The Senate has caused renewed interest on the part of the student body in vital campus issues and student government activity as a whole.

A college annual is not just a picture book. It should strive to emphasize the intellectual and social tenor of the college campus and has as a secondary obligation to indicate the developing trends of the cultural and academic climate through layout, motif, and copy.

The Buccaneer is published by a staff of approximately ninety people. Each staff member has the opportunity to learn the integral makeup of the college and the tedious business of organized book publishing. In this, a college yearbook brings to fruition its threefold purpose.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
It is not surprising that an indifference towards intellectualism permeates, and in many cases dominates, the general atmosphere of our colleges. This is the sort of thing against which we hope to rebel.

We hope The Rebel will stimulate thought, create a variety of opinion, and provoke an interest in a highly developed art form. We believe that the achievement of these goals would constitute a revolution on any campus.

THE EAST CAROLINA PLAYHOUSE was established on the campus in 1939. The organization has as its purpose the encouragement of "dramatic arts at East Carolina and to give students of the college an opportunity to participate in dramatic productions of educational, cultural and/or dramatic worth." All students of the college are eligible to become members and may do so upon the completion of a period of apprenticeship during which time they must work in at least one major production and two Player’s Studio Productions. At least one play participation must be along technical lines. Members are expected to take part in each of the major productions and to direct and act in Player’s Studio Productions during the school year.

"Player's Studio"

Experimental Drama

Each year, aside from the three regularly scheduled major productions, the East Carolina Playhouse presents various plays on an experimental basis. This type of theatre is designed to give any student the opportunity to be in a play to satisfy enthusiasm as well as talent. Most of the superior actors in the organization are products of the various original, famous, or children’s plays. No student who is truly interested in the theatre is ever turned away from one of these plays. While they may not have the training necessary for a major production, there is always the PLAYER’S STUDIO through which one may air his talents to their fullest advantage.

"Carousel"

The time—1873; the place—a small town on the coast of Maine... and with that audiences gave up reality and were carried magically away into the world of musical theater. Carousel, with music by Rodgers and Hammerstein, captured the imagination and became the most lauded production ever seen in McGinnis Auditorium. Sponsored by the S.G.A., the directors were Dr. Kenneth Cuthbert and Dr. Elizabeth Utterback.

"All That Glitters..."

SUPPORT THE PIRATES
Pirates drop Emory-Henry in opener by 12-0...

The Bucs equaled their 1957 win total as they capitalized on two fourth-quarter fumbles by turning them into touchdowns. Bass, Bishop, and Perry stood out in the backfield and Emory, Davis, and Gordon were stalwarts in the forward wall.
Pirates bow to strong Presbyterian by 24-16...

Facing a 24 point deficit, the ECC offensive unit managed to get rolling with eight minutes left in the fourth quarter and wound up with 16 points for their efforts. Bobby Perry and Ralph Zehring dominated the offensive play for the Pirates.
ECC upsets Catawba Indians 6-0 . . . ECC capitalized on a third quarter Catawba fumble and then played outstanding defensive ball to upset the previously undefeated Indians. Bobby Perry and Lee Atkinson were the leading runners for the Bucs. "Our line played one of the best games that I have seen in several years," commented Coach Boone after the game.
East Carolina came out from half-time like a roaring bull and then proceeded to knock-off the Elon Christians. Two outstanding halfbacks, Lee Atkinson and Bobby Perry, keyed the win along with Ed Emory who was all over the field. Perry scored both touchdowns and Atkinson broke through the Elon line for many chunks of yardage and played an outstanding defensive game.
ECC stops Western Carolina 18-7...

A Homecoming crowd of approximately 8,500 witnessed Bobby Perry, Buc halfback, score his seventh touchdown in five games as ECC outscored a determined Western Carolina squad. The work of David Thomas, Bill Cain, Joe Holmes, and Howard Beale at the end slots stopped the outside attack while Gary Pierce, Charlie Cook, Henry Vansant, Wayne Davis, and Ed Emory dominated the inside play.

Jim Speight, Lee Atkinson, Ralph Zehring, and off course Perry led the offensive attack.
The Indians of Newberry College took advantage of ECC mistakes in the opening half to gain a 12-6 lead at intermission, and then unleashed a bone-crushing ground attack in the second half to hand the Pirates their second worst licking of the campaign. James Speight was the leading ground-gainer for the Bucs with 113 yards out of their total of 137 yards. Randell Holmes got off several outstanding boots and wound up with a 47.5 average for six kicks.
Appalachian, playing at full strength for the first time, upset the Pirates in the mud at Boone for the Bucs' first conference loss. However, ECC, who had drives run out at the 13, 5, and 1 yard lines in the first half, put up a game fight all the way. Ralph Zehring and James Speight paced the Bucs in their poorest offensive showing of the season. The lone highlight in the loss was the punting of Randell Holmes who averaged 43 yards per kick despite the muddy field.
Lenoir Rhyne Blasts Bucs 59-14... Taking advantage of a couple of hand-out fumbles and numerous penalties, Lenoir Rhyne Bears easily ran over the ECC Pirates who could never get started. Bobby Perry, the money ball player, netted his eighth touchdown in the first period. James Speight, All-Conference halfback last season, highlighted the Bucs running attack by picking up 58 yards in nine attempts.

"Yes, Coach, we lost..."
ECC defeats Randolph-Macon 36-6 . . . Halfbacks Lee Atkinson and Walter Hanford racked up two touchdowns each as the Pirates vaulted the Yellow Jackets of Randolph-Macon. Coach Jack Boone was well pleased with his entire club but summed up the playing of tackles Henry Kwiatkowski and Charles Cook as outstanding.
Pirates blast Quakers

20-0 . . . East Carolina scored on the first play from scrimmage and then added two more touchdowns later as the Bucs gave Coach Boone his most successful season since 1953. James Speight scored two touchdowns and Lee Atkinson, playing in his last game for the Pirates, scored once. All-Conference guard Ed Emory was all over the field and with the aid of Charles Cook, Bill Cain, David Thomas, and Charles Gordon had the visitor's offense under control during the whole game.

Coach Porter, heading into his twelfth season as head basketball and the head mentor, has had some glorious years in the Pirate den. His 1958-59 club may produce another one of those good years.

With six strong men forming a nucleus, Porter is ready to aim his guns toward the North State crown once again. Jessel Curry, ALL-CONFERENCE Guard, heads the returning starters. Although leading the team last season with a 16 point average, Curry’s greatest asset is his excellent play-making.

Ike Riddick is one of the returning guards averaging 12 points a game last season. Noted for his speed and quickness, Riddick is also a good rebounder.

Charlie Adams is the other regular guard. Having overcome a defensive weakness, this sharpshooter is a good bet for ALL-CONFERENCE honors.

Joe Plaster, who has shown great improvement over the past three years, returns to the pivot slot. Standing at 6’8”, Plaster gives the Bucs plenty of height and he will also get his share of points.

Charlie Lewis are the Freshmen who have been showing up well this year.

Pirates have successful season...

The Pirates, who won ten games and lost four in the North State Conference, came in second to Elon College which posted a thirteen and three record. Limited practice due to bad weather caused the Pirates to be slow in reaching top form. However, sparked by good defensive play, they were in contention for the title until the close of the season. The infield averaged two double plays per game. Lack of hitting resulted in several narrow losses.

Pirate Swimmers Place Fourth in NAIA Meet

East Carolina yielded its NAIA swimming throne, held for 1957, to North Central Illinois College at Muncie, Indiana, as the Pirate swim squad took fourth place in the annual NAIA event. Coach Charles DeShaw took over team while regular coach Ray Martinez was away on leave of absence.
East Carolina’s tennis team attained impressive record as they won the NSC title. The only defeats suffered by the Pirate net team were given to them by the Citadel and North Carolina State, both by the same score, 5-4.

Maurice Everette, who has held the number one position for the Pirates for the past four years, emerged as North Star Conference singles champ. Billy Hollowell and John Savage teamed to win the conference doubles championship.

JOHN SAVAGE
Doubles Champion

LAWRENCE "RED" BROWN

JOHN WOOTEN
One of Top Collegiate Powers in the South...

East Carolina’s tennis team, recognized as one of top collegiate powers in entire south, is expecting to be just as strong in 1959. Even with the loss of their number one man, Maurice Everette, the future still looks bright. John West, the number two man, was undefeated and is slated to replace Everette. Also, undefeated were Billy Hollowell and John Savage, the hottest doubles team in ECC history.

Lawrence Brown and Mike Katsias, number five and six men respectively, have made great improvement and should bolster the team considerably.

Smile boys! You won the championship.

Absent: Howard Beale
Workman and Goodwin exchange congratulations after scoring low rounds. Holton, Harris, and Land pose for photographer.
Coach Howard Porter’s Golf team understroked Elon College by four points to walk off with the North State Conference Championship. Led by Wayne Workman, Paul Goodwin, Ira Land, and Howard Beale the Pirates completed a very successful season by winning the coveted championship. The title was Coach Porter’s fifth championship in seven years of competition. With Tommy Harris and Raddy Holton gaining much valuable experience, the Pirates should be even tougher when North State play rolls around next year.
Intramural Sports
Under the leadership of Intramural Faculty Director Coach Earl Smith, Student Director, Bill Boyd, Jr., and the Intramural Council, East Carolina's 1958 fall touch football program proved to be highly successful.

A total of twelve teams entered the football program. They were divided equally into a Fraternity League and a Dormitory League. At the completion of the regular season, a playoff was held to determine a first, second, and third place college championship touch football team. The Country Gentlemen, an up and coming group of students banded together under this name for athletic participation in intramurals, took the first spot with a two out of three game win over Lambda Chi Alpha. Lambda Chi emerged as the second champion and Kappa Sigma Nu bested the River Rats for the third place honor.

Trophies for the three top spots were awarded. One of the outstanding achievements during the fall for intramural sports was a new constitution drawn up by Student Director Boyd and presented to the Student Government Association for recognition. With this new constitution at work, the Intramural Association put many new ideas and policies into effect which are designed to benefit all male students at East Carolina.

Spoone is hard-pressed by Bob Menefee
Intramural Basketball for 1958-1959 was the largest program in the school's history. Twenty-three teams participated for top honors divided into three leagues.

Under the able direction of Coach Earl Smith, Faculty Director, Student Director John Spoone and the efficient Intramural Council, this program was effected.
