East Carolina College

Greenville, North Carolina

The quality of education is reflected in an amalgam of many elements beginning with such fundamentals as the teacher, the student, and the curriculum. Part of the task of education is to provide an environment in which young people may become more sensitive to truth, heauty, and culture. The esthetic appreciations to be drawn from great literature, from conversation and lectures, from experiencing various forms of art, and from simply living on the college campus, all are important to the whole pattern of education.

In a rapidly changing world, East Carolina College serves as custodian of the intellectual capital of its students. It also serves as a center of innovation and change, of investigation of the application of knowledge to current needs, and of re-examination and criticism of society.

Over the years, the environment has changed at East Carolina. This has been a drastic and dramatic change. It is well to keep our history in mind, and an ever constant look to the future; however, we are concerned in this edition with the present—1963 on the campus of East Carolina College. Volume forty-one of the Buccaneer, capitalizes upon the use of the dominant Austin Tower, long a campus symbol and soon-to-be a shrine. Developing the campus theme, the pages herein depict the students and student life as they work and wander over our two hundred and thirty-five acre campus.

Take a walk with us through our school year. It may be a long walk, for it is a big year. You may have to run in parts. Occasionally, though, you will be able to stroll, or even relax. So take life easy for awhile. Lean back, enjoy yourself. Renew some old friendships and strike up a few fresh ones. You may even meet yourself. Review with us an enjoyable year, 1963 at East Carolina.

These are some of the highlights of this school year. Look back over them with fond memories.

Our College

You cannot really know something until you have loved it," once said an unknown but wise philosopher. This is the sentiment we develop for East Carolina, our College, our Alma Mater. Here we live, learn, grow, laugh, and cry. Perhaps, it is through experience and association that we come to know our College; and it is with every smile or tear that we inevitably come to love and respect our College.

Born in Cordele, Georgia, Mr. Mac Hyman makes his debut as a resident writer and assistant professor of English at East Carolina College. He attended North Georgia State College, Duke University, and Auburn, as well as doing graduate work at Columbia University. A former Air Force pilot, Mr. Hyman has twenty-three combat missions over Japan to his credit.

The popular novel, No Time For Sergeants, was authored by Mr. Hyman. It has been made into a television show, a play, and a movie. East Carolina's second popular novelist, Mr. Hyman also has had short stories published in Esquire, Paris Review, Nugget, and Arts Forum.

In addition to teaching and writing, Mr. Hyman occasionally finds time to play a little tennis and golf and hunt.

Academics

As compared to the nine original departments, East Carolina College now has seventeen fields of study which compose the carriculum. In addition, courses in agriculture, palp and paper technology, and engineering are offered. Preprofessional programs are also available.

Within these departments, professors and students work together for the betterment of the educational system. Classes meet hourly for fifty minutes with the necessary labs being longer. These phases of the College fashion a great percentage of the academic program.

Quizzes are administered to the cadets in Austin Auditorium.

Each week instructions in the field of Air Science are given during the class lectures.

Precision marching is a test of the drill team's performance.

Three hundred and thirty cadets are in the Air Science Department for the 1962-1963 academic term. Under the supervision of Major Elbert L. Kidd, the staff of nine guides these prospective second lieutenants of the United States Air Force through a four-year program.

The activities of this realm of education include membership in the Arnold Air Society for those excelling in Air Science, the Drill team for those specializing in precision drilling, or the Color Guard. A coeducational organization, the Angel Flight, is also sponsored by the Department of Air Science.

An additional facility provided Air Science participants is the lounge in the basement of Austin Building which is comparable to the College Union.

School of Art

October was an outstanding month for the School of Art. At this time, the official title of school was awarded this former department and affiliation with the National Association of Schools of Art was also completed. Under the leadership of Dr. Wellington B. Gray, the East Carolina School of Art has the largest and most complete facilities for graphic arts and ceramics in the South. Among other ratings, the school is the largest collegiate art school in the mid-South and the only school of art in North Carolina.

Numerous shows and exhibitions are staged by the sixteen faculty members and the two hundred art majors. These students also form an art club and exceptional students are members of the honorary art fraternity, Delta Phi Delta.

Tedious work is encountered in the School of Art as this busy student strives to finish her project.

Pottery, ceramics, and canvas work are three of the interesting phases of art courses. Interested onlookers seem to agree that this phase, at least, is one of interest.

"Field work" seems to be a portion of many courses, whether it be art, science, or business. This coed strives to capture the beauty of nature, as she alone sees it, on canvas.

Dr. Dempsey, as well as the other professors, spends much of her time in her office grading papers and reports.

School of Business

With fourteen hundred and seventeen students working toward a degree in Business, the School of Business ranks twelfth in size of the departments of Business in the South. Due to revised curriculum and increased standards, the department has held a "school" status since 1961.

Dr. Elmer R. Browning serves the School of Business as dean. Thirty-six full-time faculty members compose the school's teaching staff. Housed in Rawl Building, the School of Business offers five plans, the newest being economics, of majors from which to choose. After completing the course requirements for a B.S., A.B., or M.A. degree, business majors usually go into the field of accounting, management, or teaching.

Five departmental organizations are available to members of the School of Business who seek closer affiliation with those in the same field.

Accounting puzzles many business students including Miss Judy Whitfield. Here Mr. Cameron tries to show her an easy way to the solution.

Dr. Stewart explains the new degree in economics which the School of Business is offering.

Dr. Staton spends much time evaluating student teachers and offering them constructive criticism.

Department of Education

East Carolina is noted for its teacher training program. The Education Department which has eleven hundred majors is highly responsible for this status. Along with the academic side of education comes the student organizations. Five such societies are present on the campus.

In addition, this department, under the leadership of Dr. Douglas R. Jones, also offers special programs. Included are remedial reading classes, guidance counseling, speech correction sessions, and special summer reading clinics.

Education majors learn to play with the children they teach.

As is true with many college quizzes, time is an essential element.

Authors, Ovid Williams Pierce and Mac Hyman, discuss a book at one of their frequent "gabfests."

Department of English

Bruce Howell demonstrates his speaking ability in Dr. Charles' speech class.

Teaching, journalism, and graduate work are the three major fields into which the graduates of the English Department enter. With over three hundred majors in the field, the department offers three degrees. An English fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta, also advances the development of the English curriculum on campus.

Acting as a service department, the English faculty, headed by Dr. Meredith N. Posey, is composed of forty-three staff members including two noted authors, Ovid Williams Pierce and Mac Hyman. Two fellowships are also given by the department to deserving graduate assistants. Future plans include a speech laboratory and a further enlargement of the curriculum.

Two English majors listen as Dr. Posey, the department head, counsels them about their courses for next quarter.

Lab study is a requisite for all who study the foreign languages at East Carolina.

Department of Foreign Languages

Versatile instructors characterize the Department of Foreign Languages.

French. Spanish, German. and Russian are the four languages offered by the Foreign Languages Department. In order to enhance the study of these languages, two foreign students are brought to the campus each year, therefore providing communication in the native tongues. Sixty majors along with twelve instructors are in the department. Candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree also complete twenty hours of foreign language.

Directed by Mr. James L. Fleming, a foreign language laboratory and a listening and reading room has been established. Two foreign language majors have also won the scholarships given by the American Association of University Women. Six students, in addition, went abroad for further study this past summer.

Local college students find that a foreign exchange student proves to be both beneficial and interesting to work with.

Rocks are thoroughly analyzed in the geology laboratory. Dr. Cramer identifies specimens for these two students.

Department of Geography

Workshops, travel-study tours, and expansion are included on the agenda for the Geography Department. With seventy majors and twelve faculty members, the department is one of the largest undergraduate departments of geography in the nation. Cartography and geology laboratories are available for student use.

Upon the completion of either of the two degrees offered in geography, the graduates usually enter city and regional planning, cartography, teaching, or government work. An honorary geography fraternity, Gamma Theta Upsilon, is also under the supervision of the department which is directed by Dr. Robert E. Cramer.

Maps are studied by two geography majors.

Courses in mapmaking are completed through the use of the necessary equipment in the cartography laboratory.

Special points of interest are pointed out on the globe under the supervision of Dr. DeVorsey.

Six onlookers observe the swimming instructor demonstrating the placement of the hands for a stroke.

Department of Health and Physical Education

Currently, three hundred and sixty students are majoring in the Health and Physical Education Department. These students, along with many more, are instructed by the twentytwo faculty members of the department who are directed by Dr. N. M. Jorgensen. Teaching and coaching are the major occupations of the graduates of this department.

In addition to offering the Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees, the department is authorized to grant a certificate in recreation.

Five student organizations, including Phi Epsilon Kappa, the Women's Recreation Association, the Physical Education Majors Club, the Weight Training Club, and the Cudas of Carolina, are affiliated with this department. The swimming pool, tennis courts, intramural areas, and athletic fields comprise additional facilities.

With the acquisition of a new department director. Dr. Miriam B. Moore, the Home Economics Department continues to strive for more skilled homemakers. Upon the completion of the Bachelor of Science degree, a great diversity of opportunities await the graduate of this department. Included are the teaching, the home demonstration, and the foods fields.

Located in Flanagan Building, the Home Economics Department was originally a part of the Science Department. Tremendous growth has taken place and now the department is an active part of the campus through the sponsorship of the Home Economics Club and Phi Omicron honor fraternity.

Department of Industrial Arts

Industry, government, and the teaching profession are three major fields which graduates of the local Industrial Arts Department go into. Established in 1949, the department now has a staff of nine instructors who teach two courses to the one hundred and fifty majors in the field.

Facilities in the basement of Flanagan Building for these students include a welding library and 19,000 square feet of floor space, added just this year.

Under the direction of Dr. Kenneth L. Bing, this academic department sponsors two student organizations, the Industrial Arts Club and the honorary fraternity, Alpha Delta Tau.

Many phases of "tool work" are covered in the curriculum.

Scale models are made as projects for courses in Industrial Arts.

Instructors of the Industrial Arts Department find time to spend working closely with their students.

Prior to graduation from the department, Library Science majors are well-equipped and experienced in running the "desk."

Department of Library Science

Established on the campus in 1936, the Library Science Department now offers the Bachelor of Arts and the Master of Arts degrees. Currently, there are twenty-five students carrying this educational realm as their major and sixty persons who have library science as a minor.

An added outlet for those students interested in the library and its facilities is the Library Club. This student organization is sponsored by the Library Science Department which is headed by Mr. Wendell Smiley. Becoming familiar with all phases of research work in the library is a major element of the work in the Library Science Department.

Beth Harris and Judy Belch supervise two Rose High students in their library research.

Department of Mathematics

Claiming two hundred and twenty-seven majors and fifteen full-time faculty members, the Mathematics Department, with Dr. David R. Davis as head, is ranked in the American Mathematics Society Notices. This department which offers three degrees is one of East Carolina College's most stable areas of education.

Along with the many required mathematics courses and laboratories, a major in this field can find outlets for his energies in the Mathematics Club.

Listening to the records in a designated room is an integral part of the music theory classes.

School of Music

Performance at various conferences, civic meets, and festivals is typical of the sixteen performance groups in the School of Music. Annually the school initiates a series of programs including those for television, for the Contemporary Music Festival and for the Summer Music Camp.

Offering five degrees, this new school has one hundred and seventy majors who are taught by thirty-four instructors. Included on the staff are two composers. Dr. Martin Mailman and Mr. James H. Parnell. These faculty members who serve as guest conductors and composers throughout the state also aid the programs of five musical organizations within the school.

School of Nursing

Established through an act of the State Legislature in 1959, the School of Nursing was the first department to gain the status of a school on the campus. Guided by Mrs. Eva Warren, this school, which is accredited by the State Board and the National League for Nursing, has grown to a staff of ten teachers with approximately eighty students working toward the Bachelor of Science Degree.

Facilities for the student nurses are made available by the selected hospitals and other community agencies. On campus, the school is provided with a nursing laboratory located on the third floor of Graham Building.

Interviewing is an aspect of the psychological method used in counseling students.

Department of Psychology

Future plans within the Psychology Department place greater emphasis on the clinical aspects of the subject matter. A testing center has been established in order to attain this goal. Under the direction of Dr. Clinton R. Prewett, this department stresses student research among its thirteen faculty members and two hundred majors.

Teaching and mental health clinic work claim the majority of the graduates of this department. Psychology majors also may obtain membership in their student organization, the Psychology Club.

"Watch that story telling," the examiner seems to say as a pupil is tested on the polygraph.

Dr. Prewett, head of the Psychology Department, advises Frank Galloway and Donna Cain on their courses.

A variety of events go on simultaneously in many science courses.

Department of Science

Tremendous growth has occurred in the Science Department within the past seventeen years. In 1945, there were six teachers in the department. Now there are twenty-six with Dr. Charles W. Reynolds as the director. Likewise, the number of majors has increased to over four hundred. Teaching, industry, and technology are the primary fields into which these students go.

Included in the curriculum are four major fields of study biology, chemistry, physics, and general science. In addition, facilities for the students consist of a photography laboratory, several darkrooms, and numerous research laboratories. Seminars also are being held, and two student organizations are outgrowths of the Science Department.

Labs are an important part of science.

Faculty members of the Science Department often meet with Director Charles Reynolds for current events, class problems, or mere social visits.

Students find research and experimentation an interesting field in which to study.

Counseling and guidance are a part of a professor's schedule in the Social Studies Department.

To give students a thorough understanding of society as a whole is the general aim of the Social Studies Department. With thirty-one full-time professors and five graduate assistants, the department strives for this goal.

All students including the seven hundred and twenty Social Studies majors are subjected to public lectures which have included the Danforth Foundation Project and the World Affairs Institute.

Led by Dr. Paul Murray, the departmental graduates usually become teachers or social workers. As students in the department, they were offered courses in history, government, and sociology.

Residences

Velve dormitories house the students who live on the campus. Within these "homes away from home," residents and counselors act as the guides to more than fifty per cent of the College enrollment.

These residences include Wilson Hall, the oldest, which was erected in 1906, and New Dorm which was completed for the 1963 term. Other residences for College students include off-campus housing and fraternity or sorority houses.

Facilities

From the heat in the classrooms to the books in the library—these are the facilities offered to the students of East Carolina College. Registration, personal appearances on radio and television, and activities of the College Union are included in these assets to the College student.

Every day, these people are the ones who work behind the scenes. Little recognition is received, but they continue their timely vigil. Together these facilities form a major portion of the College.

Miss Janice G. Hardison assumed the title of Director of Foundations and Alumni Activities on June 1, 1962, following several years in the teaching profession.

Alumni Association

Organized on June 5, 1912, by the Classes of 1911 and 1912, the Alumni Association of East Carolina College was founded to develop a spirit of cooperation among its members, to increase a spirit of loyalty to its Alma Mater and to promote the general welfare of the institution. Maintaining an alphabetical file of all graduates, a class file, and a geographical file, this association keeps alumni informed about college activities, encourages alumni to represent the College in their communities, and urges each alumnus to make an annual contribution to the College.

Activities of the Alumni Association include the publication of a monthly news bulletin and a quarterly magazine. These phases of the association's work are under the supervision of Alumni Secretary Janice G. Hardison. Miss Hardison has worked closely with the establishment of the ECC Development Fund.

Student assistants find that their work is cut out for them once each month when the bulletins are ready for distribution.

Mrs. Frances Van Nortwick serves Miss Hardison as secretary. Her duties, consequently, require many hours at the typewriter.

The alumni of the College, under Alumni Secretary Hardison's leadership, have taken an active part in the Liggett and Myers Paper Penny Campaign for the benefit of the Ficklen Memorial Stadium.

Wiss Ruth Bostian, a former student at the College, is one of the many ulumni interested in the Paper Penny Campaign. When visiting the campus last summer, she presented Dr. Robert Holt another of her orapper collections.

Many alumni and friends were on hand for Commencement activities in May, 1962. On everyone's agenda was a tour of the Alumni-Faculty Building and a visit with the new Director of Foundations and Alumni Activities.

News Bureau

Under the supervision of Miss Mary H. Greene, the College News Bureau strives to keep the general public informed on happenings on the campus, plus to give coverage through the news media of student achievement. Established in the early days of the College, this facility now sends many news releases daily to a mailing list of over two hundred newspapers, alumni bulletins, and professional pamphlets. Currently, the News Bureau averages approximately one hundred published articles per week in North Carolina newspapers alone.

Mrs. Virgnia P. Dansey handles the many secrearial chores involved with News Bureau production.

Miss Mary H. Greene, Director of the News Bureau and Assistant Director of Public Relations, serves as an instructor in the English Department, in addition to her many duties in this news covering capacity.

Doctors C. F. and Malene frons discuss the problems involved with running an efficient Infirmary.

Infirmary

For the usual variety of minor ills that prevail at East Carolina, proper medical care is available through the College Infirmary. Three physicians and four registered nurses staff the Infirmary. Dr. C. F. Irons heads the staff. Services of the medical center are free to the student body. A portion of the funds necessary to maintain the Infirmary comes from fees paid by the student in the form of a general fee.

Vaccinations are given occasionally to students who find it necessary to seek bed in the College Infirmary because of a virus,

Blood pressure checking is not a rarity for these nurses.

Clinic hours can be the "trying times" for students as well as the Infirm personnel. Students come in throngs for medical aid.

Handling over 200,000 volumes of books is the job of the Head Librarian Mr. Wendell Smiley.

Library

Eighteen professional librarians and sixty students compose the staff of Joyner Library. Located conveniently in the center of the main campus, the library greatly aids the students. Its modern facilities including the reading rooms, the periodical room, and the North Carolina Reference Room are available at designated hours.

Completed in 1955, this educational center houses over 200,000 volumes which include microprint copies of every book printed in America before 1800. In addition, Joyner Library subscribes to 750 periodicals and binds approximately ninety per cent of them for future reference.

Even in the early afternoon, the library is well-used for study, research, and leisure reading.

Operating and maintaining the College switchboard is a part of library staff duties.

Mr. Paul Julian is responsible for the efficiency of the cafeterias.

Excellent food at reasonable prices is the policy of the College cafeterias.

Operating on a three meal basis seven days per week, the cafeteria system maintains four dining halls for the convenience of the College students and staff. Three of the four cafeterias are located in the center of campus in the same building which houses the post office and book store. The fourth such dining hall is located in Jones Hall on College Hill Drive.

These state-owned facilities are non-profit dining halls. Approximately seventy-eight students have part-time employment in the cafeterias. The East Carolina College cafeterias are supervised by Mr. Paul Julian, Director.

Long lines of students and faculty anxiously await the serving of food. Even with four dining halls available, lines such as these always prevail.

IBM Facilities

The fall of 1962 marked the beginning of the use of the IBM facilities at the College. Among the operations of this equipment are pre-registration. drop-add procedures, and grade summaries. This electronic data processing method saves labor and time and simplifies previous procedures used by the College.

Post Office

Directed by Mrs. Mildred Manning, the College Post Office is open to all women students residing in dormitories. Male students are serviced in their respective dormitories. Day students may rent a postal hox at their option. The campus mail facilities are available through the payment of a nominal fee for hox rental. Mail is delivered twice and picked up three times daily.

This year marks the first year of tenure for Dr. David Middleton, Director of Extension.

Extension Program

Workshops and community field classes are under the supervision of the Extension Department. Dr. David J. Middleton, the director, arranges for teachers of the various classes, sets up schedules, and determines the location of the field classes.

Five schools constitute the extension portion of the College. These facilities are located at Cherry Point, Goldsboro. Washington. Kinston, and New Bern. In addition, there is a branch of the College at Camp Lejeune. This facility alfords the College to boast that there are more members of the U. S. Marine Corps enrolled here than at any other institution of higher learning in the world. Approximately 3000 persons take advantage of these schools each quarter.

American Government, a course in the Social Studies Department, is one of the many classes conducted through the Extension Program.

Military personnel view a schedule of courses being offered at Cherry Point Marine Corps Air Station.

Laundry

Employing thirty-five persons, the College Laundry is owned and operated by the College. Pick-up and delivery service is a feature of this facility. Mr. W. E. Boswell supervises the posting of a schedule for each dormitory and guides the general operations of the laundry.

Five dollars out of every campus student's tuition is designated for use as his laundry fee. This facility is also available to day students. With the opening of additional space this year, the laundry has provided a much improved facility for the students' use.

Maintenance Department

Keeping the premises and buildings of the College in good condition is the primary function of the maintenance department. Under the supervision of Mr. James N. Caprell, the eighty-two employees of this department furnish the heat, light, and other extra facilities for the six thousand students of East Carolina College.

Mr. Walter Boswell, Superintendent of the Laundry, is the oldest, in point of service, of any staff member of the College.

Our Campus Life

Engaging in late night bull sessions, electing student leaders, conferring honors upon our fellow students, selecting beauty queens, planning and enjoying campus entertainment, carnivals, sports, weekend dances, trips to the beach, the hilarity of winter snow, the restlessness of spring-these are aspects of campus life. From Garrett Hall to College Hill Drive, our campus life prevails. It is found here because we are here, and it lives because we live. This is the human, the personal, and the warm aspect of a large and proud College. It is not something separate in itself, but a quality of our College that is interwoven into every aspect of our campus life.

Commencement, Awards Day, the College Union Carnival and the Spring Elections were the highlights on the East Carolina College campus in the Spring of 1962. Crowds hustled to obtain their yearbooks, several hundred students thronged the College Union on Carnival Night, Wright Auditorium overflowed with poeple for the "Miss Greenville Pageant," and proud friends and parents witnessed the graduation of more than one thousand students on Sunday, May 27.

Culture appeared on the campus in the form of the Entertainment Series and the Fine Arts Festival with numerous art exhibitions confronting visitors as they wandered in the patio between the cafeterias. As usual, the April rains beseiged the campus and the "Spring fever" became quite contagious. This eventful quarter concluded a memorable year, 1962, at East Carolina College.

Paintings and sculpture added to the success of the Fine Arts Festival which made its debut in the Spring.

Many friends and relatives packed the stadium to witness the graduation exercises which were concluded under threatening skies. Conferences Highlighted Spring Zuarter.

Each Spring the College honors students who have been cited for outstanding service to the campus. This annual event is called Awards Day. Special trophies are awarded deserving groups and individuals, the Who's Who members are recognized, and individuals who have excelled in campus organizations are given citations. Among such winners in 1962 were Don Graziano, Patsy Elliott, and Merle Summers.

Enrollment for the Summer sessions at East Carolina reached an all-time high of 5,252 students. This figure was an increase of 402 over the former high set the previous year.

With these students, campus life came into full bloom. The College Union sponsored ice cream and bingo parties and watermelon slicings which whetted the throats of many students during the seething climate of the Summer months. Johnny Nash was the highlight of the Summer School Entertainment Series, and numerous Liggett and Myers cigarette packs for the stadium fund were counted. In addition, fireworks burst forth in keeping with the Fourth of July traditional festivities. August brought an end to the Summer session's wellrounded activities.

Sun, sand, and surf were an integral part of the atmosphere as the College set flocked to nearby Whichard's Beach.

Entertainment was at a high pitch during the two sessions of the 1962 Summer School. Leading jazz groups including the Ramsey Lewis Trio visited the campus. Local talent was not forgotten as the combos played frequently at the College Union dances. In addition, the School of Music presented its Summer mall concert. Fall

Returning to school and beginning a new school year were the first tasks as nearly six thousand students invaded the College campus. After being somewhat confused by what the IBM machine's tabulated schedules, the Fall Quarter finally began.

Amid all the mass confusion, football season started with the imagery and vigor of the game and soon came Homecoming with its pageantry. The College Union added activity to the campus with its combo dances and the Limelighters and Smothers Brothers visited East Carolina as part of the Entertainment Series.

Fall Quarter was the time for the students to join one of the many campus extracurricular activities. In addition, the Departments of Music and Art became schools. Miss Ruth White. Dean of Women, was honored on her twentyfifth anniversary at the College, and climaxing the quarter were the dreaded final examinations.

Freshman Orientation Began September 10.

Brenda Reges and Bill Eyerman issued the students IBM printed ID cards at the beginning of Fall Quarter.

Winter

Winter on the College campus was a time of much activity; probably the busiest quarter of the year.

Entertainment highlighted the season. Traditionally, the service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, sponsored the White Ball and the Freshman Class initiated a "Frosh Dance." In addition, the Inter-fraternity Council brought the Coasters, the Untouchables, and the Majors to entertain the students on March 7.

The Student Government Entertainment Series was responsible for bringing the Dave Brubeck Quartet, Jose Molinas and the Spanish Dancers, and Dame Judith Anderson during the quarter. With Brubeck came visitor Jane Morgan, popular vocalist, to witness a first—the awarding of Downbeat awards on a campus. The Brubeck Quartet and members of the group were the recipients as Dr. Leo Jenkins made the coveted presentations.

At last, the long awaited day arrived. Snow fell on March 5 and on the same day the Mardi Gras was held. Snowhalls, snow men, and even a little "snow rolling" rounded out the activities of the day. As the quarter drew to a close, a Publications Conference and the chorale groups from various high schools in Eastern North Carolina came to the College for conferences and competition.

Snow, entertainment, and conferences were only fragments of this eleven weeks amid study, fun and hilarity.

Miss Cathy Shesso

Exquisite beauty is characteristic of the first lady of the vearbook. Miss Cathy Shesso. As a student at Jacksonville High School. Cathy was selected by Miss Bess Myerson, former Miss America, to reign as yearbook queen. History repeated itself for Cathy when she was named vearbook queen here at East Carolina in October, 1962. Beauty, poise, and personality were the requisites for this title holder. So, as a Chi Omega and sorority sister of two former Miss Americas, Cathy walked off with the Buccaneer Oueen's crown and title. Cathy represented East Carolina College at the 1962 Azalea Festival as Princess for the Queen's Court. Beauty, though, is not the only attribute of Cathy. She is quite active in many phases of student activities. Special Events Chairman of the Student Government Association is one phase of work which has exhibited her initiative and dependability.

7 ouchdown! Victory! Defeat! The band plays the victory march when the Pirates score a thirty-yard gain or when they make a long jump shot from center court. We know heartbreaking moments on the playing field and in the grandstands when our pass is intercepted or our runner is tagged at home plate. Yells are chanted, victory marches are played, and flags are waved—all in keeping with a moving competitive spirit that lives on our campus from early fall to late spring with the coming and going of our seven sports. We love them, too, because we are young and human and feel a part of every victory or defeat.

Football

Some athletes are said to be born; others are said to be made; but, no matter what category he falls into, the football player must spend approximately thirty hours in practice for every hour he plays. He must possess a will to win—a will so strong that he will sacrifice not only these long hours of rigid practice, but also fatigue, bruises, and possible injuries. He lives the strictly disciplined life, win or lose, because he knows that only vietory can offset the disappointment of defeat.

East Carolina Edged by Richmond

Richmond had to stage a fourth quarter comeback to defeat iast Carolina in their opening game 27-26. A first quarter effort f 13 points by the Spiders seemed to indicate a runaway game or Richmond. However, this indication was soon eliminated s the dazzling second half play produced three touchdowns and 20-13 Pirate lead. Bill Cline started off things for the Pirates y leading them into Spider territory and scoring the first uchdown.

After forcing Richmond to kick, Vince Eiduke passed to arry Rudisill for the second Pirate touchdown and a 14-13 CC lead. A perfect 40 yard pass from Bill Cline to Dave umgarner created another Pirate score and a 20-13 lead. ECC ceived the opening kickoff in the second half and Jerry Tolley made a beautiful 80 yard touchdown runback to increase the Pirates lead to 26-13. Richmond refused to succumb, however, and scored two more touchdowns and conversions in the last half to sneak through with a 27-26 victory.

Pirates Take Home Debut

CAUGHT-Bill Cline (43) is caught from behind, but continues to carry a Catawba player for extra yardage.

After delighting a large crowd of 6500 with a dominating first half score of 15-0, East Carolina had to fight hard to preserve their lead and eventually beat Catawha 15-14. Sophomore Bill Cline led the scoring attack of the Pirates as he scored two touchdowns and passed to wingback Larry Rudisill for a two point conversion. Earl Sweet provided the other point of ECC on a successful field goal attempt.

Catawha completely dominated the second half in offensive and defensive play. A combination of the passing of McDevitt to Bucky Pope and the power running of Ron Krouse accounted for the two touchdowns of the Indians. A missed conversion attempt proved to be the deciding point of the game and the gallant effort of Catawba proved to be in vain as the Pirate prevailed to win 15-14.

Powerful WCC Downs ECC

Once again East Carolina was edged in a tight, hard-fought ball game. Western Carolina managed to overcome the 16-13 lead of the Pirates and eventually beat ECC 20-16. Co-captain Dave Smith provided an early 2.0 Pirate lead by spilling a Catamount in the end zone for a two-point safety. Late in the second quarter, Bill Cline added to this lead with a 15 yard touchdown jaunt, and Earl Sweet kicked the extra point to give ECC a 9-0 halftime lead. Western Carolina began their impressive comeback in the third quarter as they quickly scored two touchdowns and took the lead at 13-9. ECC would not be outdone this quarter, however, as Bill Cline scored once again for the Pirates and Earl Sweet kicked his second extra point to give East Carolina the lead again at 16-13. East Carolina's hopes were quickly disspelled again as the Catamounts came back with an 89 yard drive to defeat the Pirates 20-16.

ECC Dominates Newberry at Homecoming

Over 9,000 homecoming fans saw East Carolina storm to a 36-8 victory over Newberry. Newberry surged to an 8-0 lead in the second period by capitalizing on an interception and passing for the conversion. A few minutes later, Bill Strickland climaxed a 61 yard run for the touchdown, EC's conversion attempt failed, and the half ended with the Indians leading 8-6. Neither team scored again until the fourth quarter when EC's Bill Bailey intercepted an Indian pass which resulted in another Pirate touchdown and a 28-8 lead. Newberry tried desperately to come back, but the defense of ECC held. With 45 seconds remaining on the clock. East Carolina scored once more in their dominating 36-8 victory.

East Carolina ended a six year Appalachian losing streak by defeating the Mountaineers 29-16. Tom Michel and Bill Cline started the Pirates off early by contributing a touchdown each to give ECC a 15-0 first-period lead. Tom Michel scored again in the second quarter on a 78 yard romp to increase the Pirate lead to 21-0. A few minutes later, Appalachian scored their first touchdown just before the first half ended and East Carolina went into the intermission leading 21-8. After a scoreless third quarter. Bill Cline passed to Dave Bumgarner for a touchdown and conversion to boost the lead 29-8. With a few minutes left in the game, Appalachian scored another touchdown, but it was not enough as the Pirates downed them 29-16.

Strong LR Downs ECC

East Carolina lost a 7-6 heartbreaker to highly ranked Lenoir Rhyne after having held the Conference leader for three quarters. With four minutes left in the first half, sophomore Bill Cline ran the ball from the ECC 46 vard line to the 3 vard line of the Bears. Fullback Tom Michel went through the middle on the next play for the Pirate score. A conversion attempt failed and ECC abandoned the field with a 6-0 half-time lead. This lead held until the fourth quarter when the Bears scored on the powerful running of fullback Kemp. A game deciding conversion attempt was successful and Lenoir Rhyne took the lead 7-6. Once again, the Pirates threatened as they drove deep into Bear territory, but this threat was removed by a 15 yard penalty. Lenoir Rhyne took over and ran the clock out to win a hard-fought battle, 7.6.

ECC Routs Wofford

East Carolina's Pirates completely devastated the Wofford Terriers, 41-9, with a tremendous four touchdown third quarter. ECC gained a 7-3 halftime lead by acquiring a touchdown and conversion to set off a successful field goal by Wofford. After a few minutes of second half play, Tom Michel turned a Richard Hunnevcutt interception into a touchdown for a 14-3 Pirate lead. Minutes later, Bill Cline capitalized on another interception to increase East Carolina's lead to 21-3. Again the Terriers failed to move and again East Carolina scored. Bill Cline passed to Anderson for this touchdown to add a 28-3 score to Wofford's troubles. Once more ECC struck in the fatal third period. Tom Michel's powerful running sent ECC into the fourth period leading 35-3. In the last quarter, Bill Strickland contributed the last Pirate touchdown as Wofford scored their first and the Pritase came home with a convincing 41-9 victory.

Pirates' Fourth Quarter Defeats Eastern Kentucky

East Carolina came through with a phenomenal 21 point fourth quarter effort to defeat Eastern Kentucky. EK acquired an early 6-0 lead by capitalizing on a fumble deep in ECC territory. East Carolina came back a few minutes later when Larry Rudisill broke through right tackle for a touchdown, and adding a conversion, ECC took the lead 8-6. This lead was shortlived as the Maroons came back for an 80 yard touchdown march that gave them a 12-8 halftime lead. In the fourth quarter, the Pirates gained three touchdowns: the first by Vince Eiduke, a 56 yard run by Michel for the second, and the last on a recovered fumble in EK's end zone by Richard Hunevcutt to subdue the Maroons 29-12.

Playing a limited three game schedule. East Carolina's Baby Bucs presented the home fans with a review of the future varsity while compiling a successful season record of two wins and one loss. This one loss was the result of the opening game with Fork Union Military Institute in which the Freshmen were defeated by a slim 16-14 score. This loss seemed to instill within the Baby Bucs a determination not to yield to defeat again. Newport News caught the full fury of the Freshmen's revenge intentions as they were crushingly defeated in a game which produced a total of 34 points for East Carolina. A difficult test for the endurance of the Baby Bucs' winning intentions was unfolded in the exciting game with Chowan. Chowan, number three in the nation among small colleges, invaded Greenville with the intention of retaining their unblemished record by defeating East Carolina. But, the intentions of Chowan were not enough to combat the brilliant defense of our Baby Bucs whose 7-6 win rounded out the season with a 2-1 record. A great deal of potential was seen in players Buddy Bovender, Norman Swindell, Neil Linker, Ruffin Odom and Paul Rife as they contributed an outstanding effort to the Freshman Football Team.

Basketball

As the football season came to a close, East Carolina fans moved from the chill of the stadium to the warmth of Memorial Gym in eager anticipation of a successful basketball season. Here, the fans observed the '62-'63 schedule, including capable teams as Virginia Tech. Davidson. Richmond, and Oglethorpe. with reasonable apprehension.

The slow start by the Pirates was quick to realize the worst of these apprehensions, but they were soon dispelled as the Pirates began to emerge from a team of uncertainty to a capable and well respected one. Perhaps the main reason for the Pirates attaining a winning season was the desire and determination of the players. Many times. East Carolina was faced with bigger and supposedly better opposition than themselves and many times it took these assets to procure a Pirate victory. Co-captains Bill Otte and Lacy West led the offense of the Pirates as they compiled an average 18.7 and 17.4 points per game respectively. Sophomore Bill Brodgen commanded the backcourt and was third in average points per game while Jerry Parker and Richie Williams provided key defensive play in rounding out the starting five. On the efforts of these men, East Carolina attained a season record of 12 wins and 10 losses.

What might have been the most exciting and best game of the year for the Pirates was the loss to Davidson; Davidson, who beat Duke earlier in the season, was ranked high nationally and was considered one of the best teams in the Eastern United States. This powerful team had all they could do to contain the upset intentions of the Pirates by an effort of desperation in the last three minutes of play.

Considering the loss of only one starter, Lacy West, and the incoming talent from the Freshman team, East Carolina is anticipating an improved basketball record in the coming season.

Bobby Kinnard, Jerry Woodside, Neil Hodges, and Jack Yoder emerged from inexperienced to seasoned athletes in providing leadership for the East Carolina Freshmen. In the coming season, this Freshman team will join the Varsity squad, and if the potential of these players is realized, East Carolina will present a problem to its competitors in the future.

LEADING WRESTLER Bill Cunniff prepares to flip a St. Andrews grappler.

East Carolina's '62-'63 Wrestling season was a year of building for the future as the majority of the team consisted of young, inexperienced Freshmen. Although the Pirates had a losing season record of two wins, one tie and seven losses, valuable experience was gained in the rugged opposition the Pirates faced. Senior Bill Cunniff commanded leadership of the team with sophomores Bob Muddy and Bernie Colorado, co-captains, following close behind. East Carolina's two victories were shutouts of Saint Andrews, 34-0 and 29-0. Perhaps the most significant match of the season was with the University of West Virginia. West Virginia disposed of the outstanding team of the University of North Carolina without yielding a single match to the Tar Heels; but, the Pirates managed to win eight of their matches.

With the return of the entire team except for Senior Bill Cunniff, the coming Wrestling season promises to be very successful.

East Carolina's 1963 swimming team was evaluated by Coach Ray Martinez as "the finest team we have had by far." If the fans looked only at the record, 7 wins against 6 losses, they would be inclined to believe that the swimming year was not quite so successful. But, by looking deeper than the record and evaluating the Pirate's opponents, one can easily see what a difficult task East Carolina had to post a 7-6 record. North Carolina State, with five All-Americans on their team, headed the list of the Pirate's losses. Not far behind came the much respected teams of the University of North Carolina. Florida State and the University of Florida. Victories for the Pirates were seen in meets with Davidson, Georgia, V.P.I., Washington-Lee, Old Dominion and nationally ranked University of Miami. Leading the Pirate swimming talent was Bob Kingrey, holder of the National Athletic Intercollegiate Association Diving Championship, and Captain Ed Zschau. holder of the individual Best Medley Relay Record. Freshman talent was evident in Jim Marasco. specializing in the breast stroke. Howard Purser and Harry Sober. excelling in freestyle competition and Paul Donahue, exhibiting good diving.

As the Pirates lose only three members of this year's team by graduation, Ed Zschau, Bob Kingrey and Doug Sutton, and with the return of seventeen lettermen, East Carolina is expecting to attain a better swimming record in the coming season.

Before admission to candidacy for a degree, every applicant is required to take the Graduate Record Examination. Two degrees are offered by the College—The Master of Arts and The Master of Arts in Education. Although the number pictured is small, the total enrollment of the Graduate School is over five hundred.

Many graduate students use their Saturday morning class break to best advantage; they rush to the soda shop for another cup of coffee.

Opera Workshop presented

The School of Music and the Playhouse combined talents for the Opera Workshop. Presenting one opera each year, the workshop also experiments in contemporary operas. Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief," feature opera of last year, was revived for a northeast tour sponsored by the USO. The fast moving comic opera directed by Gene Strassler was seen by service personnel in Laborador, Iceland, Greenland, and Newfoundland.

Gossip seems to be a common means of communication. A tea party seems like a probable scene for the latest news. In an opera, a gossip session can be quite interesting.

A quick change for Jerold Teachey means help from the two old maids. On the USO tour, any kind of change in Newfoundland would be highly uncomfortable.

In the dual cast, the maid, Alison Moss, giggles with enjoyment as Martha Bradner and Bonnie Currin stand back in amazement. The vagabond, Jerold Teachey, tries the drink as a means of charming the old maid.

In its twenty-fourth year on campus, the East Carolina Playhouse has as its primary aim the training and acquaintance of the students with the theatre. Experience gained through the playhouse ranges from acting to set construction.

A soul searching session at the mission resulted from the crap game in the sewer. Sarah Brown (Betsy Bullard), second from the right, is that certain mission worker.

The audience's reaction at the end of the show contributed much to the curtain call. The cast and crew later celebrated their success at a cast party.

Producing quality junior officers to meet the needs of the United States Air Force, the Reserved Officers Training Corps was started at the College in 1946 and now has an enrollment of approximately 300 cadets. These men are organized into a group which is composed of two squadrons. Successful completion of this four year program results in the cadets being commissioned as second lientenants in the United States Air Force. These graduates become the leaders of tomorrow's Air Force.

Cadet colonels for the ROTC this year were Grover C. Norwood, Gerald V. West, and Donglas C. Robinson.

ROTC squadrons and group cadet officers have led the cadets through a successful year of training.

Recipients of the Distinguished Cadets Awards were Major Gus Childress, Colonel Carroll Norwood, Major Dan Rouse, and Major Bill Trower.

Composed of and controlled by selected Air Force Reserved Officers Training Corps members, the Arnold Air Society is a national student organization. There are 170 Arnold Air Societies located at various colleges and universities throughout the United States. This society is headed by a national staff and its members represent leading ROTC cadets. Colonel Gerald V. West is the commander of the squadron at East Carolina College.

Religious Groups

Religious dramas are often portrayed by student actors at the Baptist Student Union located on Eighth Street.

Andrey Porter, Secretary: Bobby Chappel, Treasurer; Brenda Painter, Vice President; George Patrick, President.

Baptist Student Union

Organized at East Carolina in 1935. the Baptist Student Union endeavors to be a link between the college student and his home church. Every Monday and Wednesday nights, the Baptist students gather for forums, supper, and vespers. The Baptist Student Center is open at all times to the student.

Activities of this group for the year were several retreats, the formation of service teams to churches within the community, the attendance at the annual BSU convention, and the participation in the Student Missions Conference at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Episcopal students take communion.

Bulletin board work always has a place in every organization; the Canterbury Club is no exception.

Canterbury Club

This Episcopal group strives to offer an opportunity to those who wish to mature their religious experience on a college level. Membership is open to all interested persons. For married students there is the Canterbury Couples division, and for members of the faculty, a Faculty Fellowship. Representatives of this organization take part in the Inter-Religious Council. Weekly meetings are held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Cakes, pies, and barbecue-this is what the students in the Free Will Baptist Fellowship enjoy for a meal.

Free Will Baptist Fellowship

King Youth Fellowship

The King Youth Fellowship, founded in 1955, is an organization which allows for the development of spiritual. social, and leadership qualities. Until this year the ECC group was the only organization of the Pentecostal Holiness denomination in the colleges of the United States. This year the alumni of the group were given a Homecoming Party in the form of an Hawaiian Luau. In the Winter Quarter, an annual Valentine's Banquet set the scene for members and guests, and annual retreats are planned for the Spring.

Kenneth Proctor, President; Linda Cherry, Vice President; Barbara Pittman, Secretary.

From the year 1948, this group has endeavored to promote Christian Fellowship and to offer a weekly period of worship and Christian instruction. Under the guidance of Reverend R. B. Crawford the organization, consisting of forty members, plans an annual Valentine Banquet and a Spring quarter weiner roast for its members.

Singing hymns is a favorite pastime of the members of the Lutheran group.

Brenda Kluttz, Secretary-Treasurer; Helen Kallio, President; Mrs. Mildred Derrick, Advisor; Miss Pat Benson, Advisor.

Lutheran Student Association

To provide fellowship among Lutheran students, several projects are underway for the current year. First is the participation of the group in supervising small children related to the adult members of the congregation. Second are the annual Fall and Spring Retreats at Pamlico Sound. Third, the group annually prepares a booth for the Spring Carnival. Also of much interest to the members is the Luther Ridge Assembly of Associations from college campuses throughout the Southeastern states. Weekly meetings are held in the campus Y-Hut.

Newman Club

Another fulfilling year has been had by members of the Newman Club. The organization, an association of Catholic students, is a nation-wide organization. The purposes of the club are to promote social activities in a spiritual manner, to learn more about the Catholic faith, and to worship in a rightful way. In order to fulfill these purposes, the Newman Club meets each week in the campus-located Y-Hut. The Mardi Gras and other such activities found the Newman group an active participant.

Jim Smith, President; Shirley Hanes; Ola Mae Bundy; Betsy Brandon; Jean Woodson, Secretary; Alan Nance; Ben Cox; Jim Hobbs, Director; and Bill Joseph, Treasurer.

Three Methodist young people engage in a game of chess prior to the weekly meeting.

Wesley Foundation

The 1962-1963 year has been one of emphasis on study groups and communication with the fine arts for the Wesley Foundation. Under the dominion of the Methodist Church, this foundation has experienced much growth through the weekly programs of worship, communion, and Bible classes. Through these media, the Methodist students on campus have learned to be of service, to witness, and to gain knowledge in the Christian realm of life.

Westminster Fellowship

This Presbyterian organization maintains as its purpose that the calling to be God's people while part of a college community might be more clearly understood and more vitally realized in the lives of students. As its projects the large group of ninety students has been active in Fall and Spring Retreats, sponsored a Greenville Sunday School for colored children, and collected money, books, and clothes to be sent to Taejon College in Korea. Of the group which assembles twice weekly, two members have served on the Synod Westminster Council.

Formed in order to draw the members of the various religious organizations closer together, the Inter-Religious Council works in conjunction with the student organizations and the Religious Advisory Council. This governing body is composed of student representatives of the Student Christian Association and denominational organizations on the campus.

Together with the Religious Advisory Council. the Inter-Religious Council plans Religious Emphasis Week which is held in the Fall. Mr. D. D. Gross. director of Religious Activities, serves as the advisor.

Under the leadership of Tom Mallison, the members of the 1962-1963 Student Government Association have once again supervised the selling of class rings, the handling of publicity for student entertainment, and the procuring of entertainment for the College community.

Student Government

Association

Each individual as a student at the College is automatically a member of the Student Government Association. Through this organization, the student body, faculty, and administration communicate with each other. They consistently hold evaluating committees, change the constitution, or eliminate certain out-dated rules.

As well as a communicating media, the Student Government Association provides the College with entertainment both in the cultural and popular fields. Highlights for 1963 included the Jose Molina Dancers, Brailowsky, the Smothers Brothers and the Limelighters. The Homecoming festivities were also supervised and directed by the SGA and were climaxed with a Queen's Coronation Pageant and a Homecoming Dance with the Lester Lanin Orchestra. In addition, the annual musical. "Once Upon a Mattress." was financed with SGA funds.

The finale of a year's work in this organization is the election of officers for the following year. Officers for the association, the classes, and the dormitories are directed through the auspices of the SGA. Executive, legislative, and judicial positions are elected and these individuals in turn plan the program for the student body for the next year.

Our Greeks

Congeniality in close fellowship seems to be the dominant theme that prevails among the "sisters" and "brothers" who work together, play together, and live together, in fraternity and sovority life. It is through the various fraternities and sororities, that the need to belong, to develop self-esteem, and to achieve self-recognition is accomplished. "Brothers" and "sisters" learn the satisfaction of service and the joy of mutual association; they share the uncertainty of the pledge period and the triumph after initiation. Deep and lasting friendships grow.

Alma Mater

Praise to your name so fair, Dear old East Carolina. Your joys we'll all share And your friends we'll ever he. We pledge our loyalty, And our heart's devotion. To thee our Alma Mater, Love and praise.

One stanza of Edward Fitzgerald's translation from the "Rubayait of Omar Khayam" seems to serve comparably as a compendium in communicating a true Editor's Epitaph— "The moving finger writes, and having writ, Moves on: nor all your piety nor wit, Shall lure it back to cancel half a line. Nor all your tears wash out a word of it."

The editor's main task is to see to it that the final elements, from the opening page to the last page, seeks to record the year's history adequately, and actively. When this page rolls off the presses, all has been said and done; then, another year approaches, another staff toils: another challenge is faced.

Frowing from 130 pages in the 1923 yearbook to our 461 pages, this edition represents the largest volume in the history of the College. Many individuals are responsible for the ideas and labor represented herein. I have only served as a channel through which these ideas were developed and the labor distributed. It would be impossible to name all the people who are really responsible for the publication of this volume, however, I would like to recognize a few that have stuck by me in my efforts as editor.

The utmost appreciation is extended to two fraternity brothers, John W. Garriss and S. Gale Koonce who for the past two years have served as Associate Editor and Business Manager respectively. John has worked ardently on all phases of the book including the classes and the Greeks section this year. Tony R. Bowen did a swell job as Copy Editor in '62 and as Managing Editor this year; in addition, Tony organized the Buccaneer Queen Coronation Tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Collie. Much gratitude is also extended to Dr. John C. Ellen for his literary advisorship and Miss Gwen Potter for her financial advisorship during the past two years.

Swould also like to recognize the assistance Miss Janice Hardison and Mr. Earl Aiken have given to Johnny Mac-Diarmid. Sports Editor, and Carroll Kornegay. Assistant Sports Editor. MacDiarmid and Kornegay spent many hours seeking statistics, writing copy and making layouts in improving our current Athletics section.

H II of us. I am sure, appreciate the efficient manner in which Circle K Club and Delta Signa Pi assisted the Business staff with Ronnie Neal, Ted Whitmyer and Mack Worthington serving as coordinators in the distributing of the Buccaneer.

Instrumental in making it possible for me to have been editor for the past two years are the people who have taught and counseled me since my freshman year—Dr. James H. Tucker, Chairman of the Publications Board, and former editors and fraternity brothers, Buddy Kilpatrick, '61 and Uke Armstrong, '60.

Whiss Eleanor Poole served this year as a most efficient Copy Editor and will serve as efficiently as Editor for the 1964 Buccaneer. To Eleanor and her staff. I extend my best wishes and sympathy in the task ahead of you. And, most of all, I wish to thank the student body and each organization of East Carolina College for the invaluable experience of working with you. The time and effort has been golden.

Analysis to everyone, and I hope you enjoy volume forty-one as much as we enjoyed the process of compiling everything included in this edition.
