TAKE

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

IN HOT WATER.

The benefits arising from the use of this well known remedy for all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, in connection with HOT water, can not be over-estimated. To obtain this benefit the Seltzer Aperient should be taken in water as hot as it can be drunk, or at the temperature of hot tea or coffee—at least from an hour to an hour and a half before meals—always allowing the effervescence to cease before drinking and then sipping it slowly until consumed. Taken thus it cleanses, sweetens and tones the Stomach, preparing it to receive and digest food; the Bowels are literally washed down and cleansed without pain, a gentle perspiration will ensue, and every function and fibre of the body will feel the healthful influence of this potent invigorating beverage.
