

Pres. Huong's Resignation Awaited

S. Viet Neutralist Said Next President

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — President
Tran Van Huong could turn over the presidency to neutralist Gen. Duong Van
"Big" Minh as early as Saturday, opposition political leaders said today.
They hope such a move

would allow him to form a government acceptable to the Communist side for a negotiated end to the war.
Probing North Vietnamese
and Viet Cong attacks were reported 25 miles west of Saigon today.

Political sources said

Huong has decided to resign
and turn over his office to the neutralist leader despite a constitutional provision
calling for conservative
Senate President Tran Van
Lam to take over.

Militant Roman Catholic priest Tran Huu Thanh told

newsmen the new government could be announced on Saturday with Minh
assuming the presidency and former Senate President and Catholic politician Nguyen Van Huyen taking over the premiership.

Meanwhile, Hanoi said that any U.S. attempt to send ships and Marines to evacuate Americans from South Vietnam "is a serious

military move which ... is obviously not designed for evacuation at all, but to serve its evil schemes of intervention."

The North Vietnamese
commentary added that by
"attempting to remove more than 10,000 Vietnamese from their homeland, the Ford administration is hatching a long-term scheme against Vietnam. This is a heinous crime which blatantly violates international conventions on human rights of which the U.S. is a signatory."

In neighboring Cambodia, Phnom Penh authorities have provided food for the 610 persons who have taken refuge in the French Embassy, French
officials said. A French military plane is standing by with supplies in Vientiane, Laos, awaiting Khmer Rouge permission to land in Phnom Penh.

police official said it was the government destroying ammunition at the Bien Hoa
air base, 15 miles north of the city.

In Washington, officials said no more than 1,100
Americans would be left in Saigon by the end of the day,
and that number could be evacuated in one day by helicopter. They said North Vietnamese forces are in position to deny American transport planes use of Saigon's airport.

The airlift has taken out fewer than 10,000 of the 130,000 South Vietnamese the U. S. government has been talking about removing. But the U.S. Congress was still at work on legislation to authorize the use of American troops to protect the evacuation.

The director of the evacuation, L. Dean Brown, said in Washington that among those being removed were Vietnamese who worked on the Phoenix Program in which suspected Viet Cong
were murdered.

In Paris, a Viet Cong statement assured that Vietnamese who worked for the Americans would be "treated correctly" and did not need to be evacuated.

West of Saigon, Viet Cong
and North Vietnamese units of company strength hit at government militia posts.

The attacks appeared to be designed to press the bickering politicians into

getting together and coming
to an arrangement with the Communists, making an attack on Saigon unnecessary.

The Pentagon said 14 divisions of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops are now around Saigon, with a 2-1 numerical advantage over the government's forces, and could attack the city "any minute."

The blackout on news from Cambodia moved into a second week with no word on the condition of 600 foreigners
and others who took refuge in the French embassy before

the Khmer Rouge took over April 17.

A broadcast from Phnom Penh said the nation was in the second day of a three-day
celebration of "independence
day" and vowed "to change
the way of life of our people and build Cambodia back to a position of importance."

In Laos, a spokesman for the coalition government said
it ordered Communist Pathet Lao and rightist troops to withdraw from areas north of Vientiane where they were reported fighting last week.

U.S. Officials Trying To Step Up Evacuation Pace

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With Communist-led troops now able to mount a massive attack on Saigon and shut the city's airport, U.S. officials are trying to increase the evacuation of Americans and South Vietnamese to about 10,000 a day in a race against time.

Officials said the number of Americans in Vietnam would be reduced to 1,100 by today,
down from some 5,000 on April 1. The 1,100 total was said to be small enough to permit a quick
one-day helicopter evacuation
in any emergency.

Th use of U.S. troops in evacuating Americans and some

Vietnamese is authorized in legislation undergoing refinements in Congress.

A House-Senate conference committee was expected to complete work today on a bill
empowering the President to use troops, if necessary, and authorizing $327 million for humanitarian aid and evacuation.

That compromise legislation
was tentatively agreed to Thursday by the conferees
after differing bills were passed by the House and Senate. The final version being worked out
could go to the Senate later today and on Monday to the House, which was not in session
today.

In approving the use of troops to rescue Americans, the compromise bill also permits

the troops to help evacuate Vietnamese if the troops' numbers and deployment would not have to be changed to help them.

With an estimated 14 divisions of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops near Saigon, a Pentagon spokesman said Thursday the Communist-led forces might begin attacking the city "any minute."

Maj. Gen. Wynant Sidle, the spokesman, said U.S. officials had no idea why the Communist-led troops have not taken advantage of their 2-1 numerical superiority over the South Vietnamese. "They have the capability right now of mounting a massive attack," Sidle
said.

U.S. intelligence sources say North Vietnamese forces also are in a position to deny American transport planes the use of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport
whenever they choose.

"As soon as the field comes under attack, they'll probably have to stop" the evacuations

there, one general said. Such a development would confront
President Ford with the decision of whether to send in U.S.
helicopters and Marines to carry out further evacuations, possibly from the American Embassy grounds in downtown Saigon.

Meanwhile, the U.S. official overseeing the evacuation said
the Vietnamese evacuees include a number of persons active in the controversial "Phoenix Program," which was designed in the late 1960s to ferret
out Viet Cong from areas under Saigon's control.

Because the program resulted in some bloody executions, the South Vietnamese participants are considered targets of possible Viet Cong reprisals.

L. Dean Brown, the official, said up to 50,000 "high risk"
Vietnamese, including the Phoenix participants, might be evacuated. The Ford administration has approved the entry
of some 131,000 South Vietnamese into the United States.

Highway Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is under orders by the Senate to release $9.1 billion in highway construction funds to the states during the current fiscal year and the one that begins July 1.

The Senate's 77-7 vote Thursday came under terms of a 1974
law that permits either house of Congress to overrule a presidential decision to defer spending.

Ford had hoped to postpone allocation of the money as part of his drive to hold down federal spending and with it the size of the deficit.

But spokesmen for the majority indicated that they considered unemployment a more pressing national problem than the budget deficit.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the transportation appropriations subcommittee, cited figures indicating that about 150,000 new jobs are generated by each $1 billion in highway construction.

HOTLINE APPEAL

NEEDS AMERICAN ADVERSARY

Dr. Yoon Hough Kim an East Carolina
University faculty member, who is Betty Ma's sponsor, has asked Hotline to appeal for anyone who knows any American still in Saigon to contact him.

Betty has received a call from her mother
saying that her only hope for getting herself, her sister and mother and five children out of Vietnam is for an American to go to the Embassy and see that the needed paperwork is done quickly. Dr. Kim said he has signed affidavits saying he will be responsible for all the costs involved in getting the family out and will assure anyone who can be contacted to help that he will reimburse them in full.

Hotline appealed yesterday for our readers to send telegrams to the American Embassy in Saigon
and to Pres. Ford asking that the East Carolina University student's family be allowed to leave Vietnam.

Dr. Kim's office phone number is 758-6883; his home phone, 756-6937.

LOST AND FOUND

Hotline has received a number of calls from persons who had lost Persian cats and were hoping the one mentioned in Monday's column as being injured was theirs. Anyone having lost or found a pet may contact Mrs. Ruby (Tommie) Calhoun, chairman of the Lost and Found committee of the Pitt County Humane Society. She may be able to establish contact between a loser and finder and can offer advice about how to advertise about a lost or found pet. Her phone number is 752-7412.

Escape Fails; Three Dead In Embassy Siege

By HARALD MOLLERSTROM
Associated Press Writer

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) —
Terrorists who held a dozen persons hostage in the West
German Embassy for 12 hours
Thursday dynamited the building in a futile attempt to escape after the Bonn government refused their demand for the release of 26 anarchists.
Two hostages and a terrorist
died in the siege, the terrorist
an apparent suicide.

Defending his government's decision to stand firm, West
German Chancellor Helmut
Schmidt told the Bonn parliament today that West Germany
plans to press a worldwide
manhunt for wanted political extremists.

"The horrible epidemic of international terrorism requires international cooperation," the chancellor said after thanking Swedish authorities for helping save the lives of most of the hostages.

Schmidt announced for the first time that West German
state and federal authorities
had introduced new antiterror-
ist techniques that, together
with the help of foreign police,

have led to the arrest of 10 other "violent criminals." He gave no names or details.

In addition to the fatalities
Thursday, two policemen and a hostage were hospitalized in serious condition. Several others received minor injuries, including West German Em-bassador Dietrich Stoeker, who was slightly burned.

The other five terrorists
known to have been in the building were captured, police said. They included a woman.
Earlier reports said there were seven in the gang, but the police revised the figure.

EARLY ARRIVAL

PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad

minister, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, has arrived here for the start of a trip to Trinidad

in advance of the meeting of Commonwealth leaders
scheduled for May 6 in Jamaica.

Art Building Work Is Begun

Initial work on the second phase of the new art building
complex at East Carolina University is underway with R.N. Rouse Construction Co. of Greenville handling the general contracting.

Construction of the second phase, at a contract cost of slightly less than $2 million, is expected to take approximately 13 months, according to James J.
Lowry, director of plant
maintenance and operations at ECU.

Lowry said that the new section, located east of the first phase of the art building, will have approximately 55,000

square feet of space and involve three levels.

Features of the second phase
include an art gallery,
auditorium, main offices or the Art School, and a new concept in darkroom ideas and techniques.

In addition to Rouse, other primary contractors include
Kinston Plumbing and Heating, Harold's Mechanical Co. of Greenville, and Stackhouse
Electrical Co. of Goldsboro.
Odell Associates of Charlotte handled the architectural work.

The first phase of the complex
was completed in June of 1974.

Wallace Intends To Run

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —
Gov. George C. Wallace confirmed today that he plans to run for president in 1976. He declined to say when the formal announcement will be made, although other sources
said it probably will be early in June.

"As of now I intend to run,"
Wallace told The Associated Press.

His national campaign director, Charles Snider, said the governor has told friends he will make the announcement
probably in the first two weeks
in June, and that he will seek the Democratic nomination as he did in 1972 before he was wounded in an assassination attempt at Laurel, Md.

Even though he wouldn't be pinned down on a date, Wallace
told reporters at a news conference Thursday that early in June "is as good a bet as any."

But the 55-year-old governor who is still paralyzed in both legs from wounds suffered in the shooting May 15 1972, would not confirm them that he definitely plans to run, only that he may.

When he was asked today if he hadn't already made his decision, he replied "you can say that. As of now I intend to run."

Barring Escape

ARANYAPRATHET, Thailand (AP) — Khmer Rouge authorities have ordered mass
evacuations from Cambodian towns near the Thai frontier
and shot dozens of Cambodians
trying to flee into Thailand,
Thai border police and refugees
said today.

There was no confirmation
from any other source.

Refugees who straggled
across the border Thursday
said that townspeople in the border town of Poipet and in Mongkul Borei and Sisophon
farther inside northwest Cambodia — perhaps 50,000 in all —
had fled into the jungle.

Evacuated 600 Persons In Standard Precaution

HUNTERSVILLE, N.C.
(AP) — Six hundred persons evacuated their homes after a box containing radioactive material slid from an overturned
State Highway Department
pickup truck late Thursday.

They were allowed to return
in less than two hours.

The radioactive material was in a nuclear density gauge.
That's a metal box about 2 feet long and 10 inches wide to determine the density of road-building material.

The gauge had been used on a construction project on I-77
near the wreck in Huntersville,
a town of 1,500 population 15
miles north of Charlotte.

Sgt. W. E. Ethridge of the Highway Patrol said the evacuation was simply a precautionary measure and there would have been no serious threat even if the radioactive had been leaking. The evacuation is standard procedure
for the Highway Patrol in such cases, he said. "We're taking

these precautionary measures
just to make sure."

There was no leakage.
Ethridge said the truck ran off a narrow road and crashed
down a bank into a wooded area.

The two occupants, Doug Garlton, 30, of Red Cross in Stanly County and Hugh Grant
Poplin, 43, of near Polkton in Anson County, were not seriously hurt.

The accident occurred at 4:50
p.m.

Found Married People Happier Than Singles

CHICAGO (AP) — Married people in the United States are happier than singles despite reports to the contrary, according to a University of Michigan psychologist.

"We find that married Americans are far happier and more satisfied with their lives than singles are, in spite of national mumbblings and grumbings about the tired institution of matrimony," writes Dr. Angus Campbell in the May issue of Psychology Today.

He and two colleagues, Phillip Converse and William Rodgers, recently surveyed 2,164 adults across the country, asking what they think about the quality of their lives and how their opinions
have changed over the years.

"Fewer than 10 per cent (of the married)
described their lives in sour terms — boring,
miserable, lonely, empty, useless — and far
more than half think their lives are worthwhile,
full, hopeful, interesting, and other happy
positives," Campbell reported.

"All of the married groups — men and women,
over 30 and under, with children and without — reported higher feelings of satisfaction and general good feelings about their lives than all of the unmarried groups — the single, divorced, or widowed."

Of the single groups, women of all ages were found to be happier and more satisfied than men, Campbell said.

Campbell reported that having children "is a mixed experience. The patter of little feet aggravates as well as delights."

Once a couple has children, "reports of happiness and satisfaction drop to average, not to rise again significantly until their children are grown and about to leave the nest," the survey found.

"The best of all possible worlds, for most Americans, is to be newly married and not have children," Campbell said.

GM Keeps Own Lid On 'Motorgate' Scandal Probe

Joan Little's Lawyers Claim Offices Bugged

By CATHY STEELE ROCHE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Defense attorneys for Joan Little, a black charged with slaying a white jailer she says tried to rape her, claim their Durham law office was bugged. The allegations came Thursday as they began arguing a pretrial motion asking that any evidence obtained through electronic surveillance be suppressed. Guy Rankin, a private investigator employed by the defense, testified he checked the offices of Jerry Paul and Karen Galloway in January and his equipment indicated the presence of a transmitter. He also said there was evidence of taped telephones. A State Bureau of Investigation agent testified he knew of no electronic surveillance activities by state agencies.

Superior Court Judge Henry McKinnon did not rule on the bugging motion or on contested elements in another motion seeking disclosure of state evidence in the case. Oral arguments on pretrial motions were suspended until Monday. McKinnon denied a defense motion to quash the first-degree murder indictment against Miss Little. The motion was based on allegations prosecutor William Griffin acted improperly before the grand jury. The judge also turned down a motion to dismiss the indictment on claims the state acted in bad faith by not allowing Miss Little a preliminary hearing. He also denied a motion asking for such a hearing. The defense contends Miss Little was promised a preliminary hearing as one of the conditions of her surrender last September, eight days after she had fled the Beaufort County jail. When she escaped, she left jailer Clarence Allgood, 62, dead or dying in her cell. She claimed he was trying to rape her and she stabbed him in self-defense with his own ice pick.

Peace Corps Job In Zaire

ZAIRE, Africa—David Jenkins of Goldsboro, N.C., is working in agricultural and rural development in the southern part of the vast African nation, formerly known as the Congo as a Peace Corps volunteer. A former ECU student, Jenkins does construction work and assists local people in raising goats and rabbits from his base of operations at a demonstration farm and agricultural extension center. The farm's comprehensive development program also includes animal traction, swine and poultry production, field cultivation and village sanitation. It is sponsored by the Southern Presbyterian Church mission. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. David B. Jenkins Sr. and is a graduate of Goldsboro High School. More than 7,300 Americans are serving as Peace Corps volunteers in 68 developing nations around the world. The Peace Corps is part of ACTION, the federal agency for volunteer service. Most of the people in the Zaire area are subsistence farmers.

N.C. Tax Owed By Holshouser

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Jim Holshouser has a refund of $671 coming from the federal government on his 1974 income tax return. But he owes the state $187. Holshouser revealed the balances Thursday when he disclosed his income tax returns, in fulfillment of a 1972 campaign pledge. He earned $4,038 more than his salary in 1974, according to the tax returns. Holshouser's total earnings were $42,538, with additional income coming from the rental and sale of several properties in Boone, N.C. The governor paid $8,948 in federal taxes and $2,445.31 in state taxes, the forms said.

Drop Suit For Share Of Funds

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP)—Golden Frinks and Mrs. Jesse Williams have voluntarily dropped their lawsuit against the defense attorneys for Mrs. Williams' daughter, Joan Little. They had sought a 30 percent share of the more than $200,000 raised for Miss Little's defense. Frinks claimed that her attorney, Jerry Paul, had promised the money to him for financing a movement to aid oppressed black women. In a statement, Frinks said he would pursue other means to get the money. Paul has denied promising it to him.

Three Collisions In Greenville Thursday

An estimated $4,000 property damage resulted from a series of three collisions investigated here yesterday by Greenville Police. Heaviest damage resulted from a 5:05 p.m. mishap on Memorial Drive, 75 feet North of the Millbrook Street intersection officers reported. Police identified the drivers involved in the mishap as Lois Marie Garrett of 1402 Willow St. and Delores Mercer Shannon of 402 Able St. Officers, who said both drivers were injured in the collision, estimated damage at $2,500 to the Garrett car and $300 to the Shannon auto. Mrs. Garrett was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety. Charles Gorham Clark Jr. of 2305 Jefferson Dr. was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of

Job-Making Bill Pending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is ready to pass a $6.1-billion, appropriations bill designed to create a million new jobs this year through public service employment and public works programs. The measure contains $140 million more than the House version, passed March 12. Senate approval was expected today. It is being pushed by Democratic congressional leaders as a major part of their program to reduce unemployment. However, the bill authorizes spending far beyond the recommendations of President Ford. Administration officials have indicated strongly it will be vetoed. The officials have said the President would accept about $2 billion of the authority, the part designated for public service jobs and summer youth jobs. But the rest is unacceptable, they told the Senate Appropriations Committee.

By JONATHAN WOLMAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — General Motors has refused to shed much light on a secret "Motorgate" episode in which many salaried workers at its large Chevrolet office in New York State were dismissed abruptly. Altogether, about three dozen Chevrolet workers in the Northeast were fired "for violating company policies," including the acceptance of gifts from dealers. The secret GM probe began 15 months ago after the murder of a Chevrolet Division area service manager. A Boston-area Chevrolet dealership service manager has been charged with the murder.

F. James MacDonald, a GM executive vice president, refused to tell reporters Thursday what policies the workers had violated. Nor would he discuss the warranty fraud allegations in Boston which led to grand jury indictments alleging fraud by Chevrolet dealer R. Gordon Butler in Lowell, Mass., and service manager George Edgerly. Butler and Edgerly allegedly were involved in cheating GM by charging for warranty work never performed. Edgerly is accused of killing Chevrolet's Francis Smith, who was shot to death the same day he checked warranty violations at the Butler dealership.

Both accused men contend they are innocent of the charges. MacDonald said GM began investigating its New York office as a result of the killing. But he insisted that firings in Bethpage, N.Y. — and later at Tarrytown, N.Y., Detroit, and in Boston — were not related to warranty fraud. Though MacDonald would not discuss particulars, it was reported that the New York employees were taking gifts from car dealers, possibly in return for favors. GM policy forbids employees from receiving more than nominal gifts from dealers, who may be seeking favoritism to get a better stock of best-selling cars. Fired workers said they do not know why they got the ax, although some said they have been accepting gifts, such as free car service, from dealers. MacDonald said the investigation, labeled by one dismissed Chevrolet worker as "Motorgate" because of the company's reluctance to discuss particulars, has ended. GM was looking into irregularities in warranty claims by dealers when it turned its attention to the New York Chevrolet zone office. The Wall Street Journal said investigators were directed by GM's Warren Jeffries, who interrogated employees and said he was a former FBI agent. Because MacDonald would not discuss the Boston murder or fraud case, reporters were left with the charges gleaned from a police affidavit on file in Middlesex County in Massachusetts. When customers brought their cars into the Butler's dealership for repairs under car warranties, employees would do the job, then charge GM for work not performed, such as "replacement of pistons, replace crankshafts or replace transmissions." Police said though the expensive work was never done, GM paid for labor and supplied appropriate replacement parts, which later were sold to other customers. The affidavits said that GM investigators began sifting through Butler's warranty claims sometime after January 1974, when the body of Smith was found floating in a river north of Boston with a bullet in his head.

Dr. Indorf To Be Lecturing In Malaysia

An East Carolina University political scientist has received a Fulbright Professorship to lecture in Malaysia this summer and assist with the expansion of international exchange programs. Dr. Hans Indorf of the ECU Department of Political Science will lecture at the University of Malaya in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, during the summer semester from June 1 through late September. He will teach graduate seminars in Southeast Asian politics, one of his chief research areas, and assist in other courses in political geography. In addition, Dr. Indorf will work with the United States Information Agency and with the Malaysian-American Commission of Education Exchange on international student-faculty exchange programs.

New Officers Are Installed

The Pitt County Association of Insurance Women held its installation of officers at the Western Sizzlin' Wednesday night.

Officers are: President, Jane Bradbury; Vice President, Joyce Mills; Second Vice President, Frances Blanchard; Treasurer, Joyce McRoy; Recording Secretary, Audrey Stillwell; and Corresponding Secretary, Dot Simko.

The installing officer for the candlelight ceremony was Mrs. Mary Smith of Mount Olive, president of the North Carolina Association of Insurance Women. She has had 21 years experience in the insurance field and is a charter member of the Wayne County Association of Insurance Women, who are celebrating their 10th anniversary this year. Mrs. Smith has completed two courses toward becoming a certified Professional Insurance Woman.

President Sarah Jenkins extended the welcome to members and guests. The invocation was given by Sophia Sumner of Ahoskie.

JANE BRADBURY

A special guest for the installation was Mrs. Myrtle Lumpkin of Goldsboro, secretary of the State Association of Insurance Women.

Mrs. Jenkins was presented a past president's pin. The Insurance Women's Collect was led by Joyce King.

Dinner tables were decorated with arrangements of spring flowers in white straw baskets.

Churchwomen To Meet In Kinston

KINSTON—St. Mary's here will host the annual meeting of East Carolina Episcopal Churchwomen May 1, beginning with a business meeting at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. C.E. Hancock of New Bern will preside. Mrs. Sam Hutaff, of St. Johns', Fayetteville, will be installed as president, and Mrs. W.T. Bradshaw of Wilmington will become vice president.

The Rev. Frank H. Vest Jr., rector of Christ Church, Charlotte, will speak on "A Theology For Renewal."

The Rev. Vest, a graduate of Virginia Theological Seminary, recently represented Province IV at a national conference on hunger.

Following noon-day prayers, lunch will be served by the ladies of St. Mary's. The service of Holy Communion will close the meeting.

Notice

Mrs. Francis Everett and Family express thankfulness for prayers, caring friends, visits, beautiful flowers, cards and gifts; especially your prayers. I'm improving each day. May God Bless.

Young Employee Respects Rules

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I work weekends as a sacker and carry-out boy in a big grocery store that has signs up all over the place saying, "NO TIPPING, PLEASE."

My problem is that nice little old lady (and some young ones) who stuffs a quarter down my shirt pocket and says, "Take it—nobody's looking."

Abby, when I return the tip some customers get insulted, but I return it anyway because it's against the rules to accept a tip, and a kid could get fired if he's caught taking one.

I've seen some guys accept tips, but I don't, and I never will because in the first place, it's cheating and in the second place, I don't want to get fired.

Abby, please ask customers not to try to slip a tip to someone where tipping isn't allowed. It just puts temptation in his way and weakens his character.

CARRYOUT BOY

DEAR BOY: Here's your letter. It's beautiful. And so are you. The world could use more young people like you who respect the rules, and fewer like those who wink at them.

DEAR ABBY: I know I have a problem, but I need to know how far my rights go in doing something about it. My father had a vasectomy recently, so naturally I am curious as to why my mother is still taking birth control pills.

I am only 15 and can't handle the fact that my mother is having an affair with another man. Knowing this has completely destroyed my faith in her.

I think it's my duty to tell my father. I love him very much and hate to see him used this way.

Should I tell my mother that I know she is taking The Pill even though my father is sterile now? And if she doesn't tell Dad, I will?

IN-BETWEEN DAUGHTER

DEAR IN: If your mother is taking birth control pills, it doesn't necessarily mean that she is having an affair. Before jumping to conclusions, why don't you ask her if she's on The Pill, and why?

DEAR ABBY: What is the correct name for a divorced man?

A woman who has been married and divorced is called a "divorcee."

A guy in our office calls himself a "bachelor," but actually, he is a divorced man. A girl feels lied to and cheated when she dates him and finds out later that he has misrepresented himself.

DECEIVED

DEAR DECEIVED: The dictionary defines a bachelor as "an unmarried man." Therefore, any man who is unmarried (regardless of how he attained his single status) is properly called a bachelor.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Some Women Overlook Way To Save On Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — You don't have to be an oil heirress from Texas to take advantage of tax shelters.

"Just look into tax-sheltered annuity, which is so often overlooked by too many women," advises W. Scane Bowler, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Pioneer Western Corp., a financial services organization.

A tax-sheltered annuity is an investment vehicle, federally sanctioned, through which an employee of a nonprofit organization — such as a teacher or a nurse — can put a certain part of monthly income into a retirement fund without first having to pay income tax on that amount.

The interest which grows up over the years is also sheltered from income tax, as long as it remains in the fund.

Bowler said that more than 17 million persons are eligible for tax-sheltered annuities but that only 800,000 had taken advantage of the plan through the end of 1974.

He says that teachers and other school employees are the most numerous group taking advantage of tax-sheltered annuities, with nurses next. Then come workers for membership organizations and religious institutions.

Bowler said that four out of five persons now showing interest in TSA, as he calls it, are women. Previously it was two out of three.

No Special Reason For Change

Gov. James E. Holshouser is understandably concerned about provisions proposed for the state Executive Budget Act which would transfer some of the budget making power.

Republican Holshouser and some Democratic members of the Council of State are together in opposing the changes.

The governor was concerned about provisions which would allow the budget commission to elect its own chairman. Now the governor is presiding officer over the Advisory Budget Commission meetings. He is also concerned about restrictions on the transfer of funds and the power of administrators to reclassify positions.

"What it sort of means is that you may not have a governor's budget anymore," he has been quoted as saying. "If we're going to have some other kind of budget, we ought to quit calling it the executive budget."

Council of State members, who are elected, are reportedly concerned over the limitation of authority of department heads to transfer some funds and the shifting of responsibility over contingency and emergency funds to the Advisory Budget Commission from the Council of State.

It is now easy to determine how some of the provisions about which concern has been expressed will work, but we share the governor's concern for the provision which would allow the Advisory Budget Commission to elect its own chairman.

After all, the governor is charged with the duty of providing a recommended budget to the General Assembly and he should be in charge of the commission which prepares that budget.

Since Holshouser is Republican and the Legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic, such a move could be interpreted as an effort to keep a Republican governor from serving as chairman of the Advisory Budget Commission, and that could react adversely with voters in the future.

To us, it has been logical for the governor to serve as chairman of the Advisory Budget Commission. We don't see any reason to change it, particularly since the governor as administrative head of the government must work with the budget on a daily basis.

THIS AFTERNOON Geography Cheats Schools

By BILL NOBLITT

RALEIGH—Just because a child is born and raised in a mountain cove, or alongside a brackish creek down east, shouldn't condemn him to a poor education.

It shouldn't, but it does, says State Rep. Herbert L. Hyde, D-Buncombe, who thinks the local supplements which make the rich, urban county schools a more rewarding experience for the kids ought to be eliminated in favor of uniform, statewide financing.

Local supplements run contrary to the command of the State Constitution that education in North Carolina public schools be free, uniform, and equal: "It has never been either free, uniform, nor equal. . . I know what local supplements do. . . they create disparities in opportunities," says Hyde who was born and raised in a mountain cove; faced a deprived education in a one-room schoolhouse, and was one of 100 fellow youngsters cheated of a decent education.

"But I walked out. . . 4½ miles to get to a school. . . I was the only one walking out. The rest dropped out," says the Asheville lawyer who today is highly regarded as one of the leading intellectuals in the General Assembly, and widely recognized as a constitutional expert.

A Vicious Cycle

Hyde saw first hand what he terms the vicious cycle of poverty cheating children of an education: a rural, poor county with inferior schools; a child makes it through school and goes to an inferior college to get a teaching degree; then back to teach in the poor schools.

"And everybody is yelling 'Why can't Johnny read?'" Hyde said.

At Western Carolina where he first enrolled there—and the same is true at other colleges across the state—just about everybody had to take remedial work in the basics before they could handle college work, Hyde recalls.

The reason is that eastern and western rural counties simply do not have the local funds to attract the best teachers who get healthy supplements in urban schools; and cannot afford students the special programs in science, music, art, etc. that the rich schools provide.

Statewide funding of public education is Hyde's answer to the problem, and again this year he has introduced his previously defeated proposal to provide that the state assume full financial responsibility for support and operation of all public schools; relieving local units of government of any financial contribution.

He has been talking about the proposal for 12 years; and he gloomily admits that the measure has little chance of passage this year—or in the immediate future.

"The people who ought to be fighting for it are the eastern and western representatives. . . and they resist it the most. The problem is simple. . . to make public education equal across the state," he says.

High Cost

A big problem is the cost of such a change, ranging from $169 million to $900 million per year, depending on the source of the estimate.

Strangely enough, Hyde sees the statewide funding program coming into being in 12 to 15 years when he looks for Piedmont, urban representatives to take over control of the General Assembly: "and they are generally more liberal. . . not more enlightened, but liberal."

Would the rich counties such as Mecklenburg, Wake, Guilford and Forsyth give up their hefty supplements to education in favor of helping the poor counties? Hyde thinks they would, since the proposal is to keep a higher level of service, though not essentially as high as now provided by the richest counties. But the liberal representatives recognize the need to give up a little to help the poor kids a lot, he believes.

Hyde's idea is one whose time is at hand, some local school people believe; many boards of county commissioners are being pressed by local school boards to provide more funds for expanded school programs.

The proposal is relatively simple: local school boards would continue to run things as they do now, except that budgets would be submitted to the State Board of Education rather than local county commissioners.

State funds would be parceled out to local schools equally and without discrimination, and all local school expenses from the superintendent's salary to janitorial supplies would come from the state.

Local units of government "shall not be liable for or required to make any financial contribution for the operation of the public schools of the state," the proposal states.

By ART BUCHWALD The 1975 Chutzpa Award

WASHINGTON—Chutzpa is a Yiddish word which means "unmitigated effrontery or impudence." There is no comparable word in the English language. The classic example of chutzpa is the young man who murdered his parents and then asked the court to show mercy because he was an orphan.

Every so often something appears in the newspaper which gives you new faith in chutzpa. Last Sunday a small United Press item in my paper said the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. (AMPI) had asked for the return of the $10,000 cash that was introduced in the bribery trial of former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

AMPI officers testified they had given Jake Jacobsen, their lawyer, the money to "reward" Connally. Then after Watergate Jacobsen became worried and asked for $10,000 from Connally to put in a safe-deposit box in case the Feds wanted to know where the money was. Connally gave it to him in a cigar box. When Connally became worried that the bills were not old enough, Jacobsen said Connally gave him another $10,000. (I won't bother you with this ten grand as it will only confuse you.) Connally's lawyers got Jacobsen to admit that AMPI had given him not $10,000 but $15,000 to "reward" Connally. When asked what he did with the other $5,000, Jacobsen "thought" he must have given it to Connally, too.

Yet if the money was spent, as the government claimed, to influence higher milk supports, then it was used in the commission of a crime. And any money used in a crime cannot be returned to the person who committed the felony.

This leaves our friends at AMPI. To their credit, although they have said they gave Jacobsen $15,000, they are only asking for the return of $10,000 which shows they're all heart.

After reviewing all the facts in the case I have concluded it's only fair that AMPI be given their $10,000 back, but with a few strings attached.

One is that if they get the money back they will not give it to any of their lawyers to "reward" worthy politicians for jacking up the price of milk.

If they must spend the money let them give it to Mark Spitz who is trying to get all the kids in America to drink more milk for strong teeth and bones.

As for the $5,000 left over, I think that belongs to the American people. The trial of Connally cost all of us at least $500,000, and if we can get back 1 per cent of our money I guess we can't complain.

In the meantime, AMPI is the leading candidate for the 1975 National Chutzpa Award which by some strange coincidence is now worth $10,000.

The N.C. SCENE Bad Year For Politicians

By JOHN KILGO

This has not exactly been the kind of year that builds job security in the North Carolina Legislature. Every time the lawmakers drop one controversial issue, another pops up to take its place.

One House member looked up at the capacity crowd of women gathered to hear the vote on the Equal Rights Amendment and said: "No matter what happens, half of 'em' are going to be madder than hell."

It's been a year when the politicians have earned their money and then some.

When the House defeated the ERA, proponents of the measure set out to gain a measure of revenge. They say they'll try to do it at the ballot box in the next legislative election.

Rep. Craig Lawing and Senator Billy Mills co-chair a joint committee on the economy. The committee has the task of trying to help save enough money for North Carolina to balance its budget this year.

The committee was against teachers being paid unemployment benefits during summer vacation. While about 98 per cent of the general public could be expected to agree with the committee on this point, the teachers took out after Lawing and Mills. They talked about the two men as if they were bandits on the loose.

The general state of the economy has made it necessary for the Legislature to tighten its belt this year. This means raises for state employees can't be handed out as easily as in past years. But every special interest group has figures to show that the Legislature should go ahead and grant their pay increase, and cut in other places.

A Senate committee recently recommended an increase in tuition costs at state-supported universities. College administrators don't like it. Students don't like it. Parents with children in college don't like it.

But Sen. Livingstone Stallings says: "We're in a bad fix for money. Something has to be done."

All the while, simmering in the background, is the controversial issue of what to do about the med school at East Carolina University.

A great many people in the West and the Piedmont are saying this is no time to appropriate $50 million for a four-year med school in Greenville. Proponents of the ECU med facility are still saying the issue must pass and pass this year.

Like the ERA, the Legislature is going to make a large portion of the population angry with the ECU vote, no matter how it goes.

"This has not been the easiest year to serve in the Legislature," says Senator Herman Moore. "There haven't been many easy decisions. A lot of people out there are mad."

The good news, for the politicians, is that legislators don't stand for re-election this year. They hope next year will be a little easier.

To the editor:

I know everyone in the area has been listening to the tragedy that has been occurring in South Vietnam. East Carolina University has a student from South Vietnam. Her name is Betty Ma. Betty has been attending school here for the last 16 months. She has made many friends at East Carolina and in Greenville. She is very worried about her family in Saigon and has gone to the immigration office in Virginia seeking a way for her family out of Vietnam and to the United States. This will not be the first time Betty's family has had to flee from communism. Her parents moved from China as the Communists took over to the more democratic area of Vietnam. Now Betty's family is about to be surrounded by communism again.

I hope everyone reading this letter is concerned enough to care to send a telegram to the President of the United States to ask him to help cut the red tape so Betty's family will be safe from communism. The cost of such a telegram from Greenville is only $2 for 200 words and I think that is a small price to pay to help save a family from communism. Betty's mother's name is Phung-Hue-Phuong and her address is 30 Le-Quaig-liem, Saigon 5. The telegraph office is located at the Happy Store on 14th Street, Greenville. Please send a telegram today and help save Betty's family.

Agency Invites A Suit

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is granting the nation's corporate giants permission to produce billions of throw-away plastic pop and beer bottles that it concedes will foul the landscape, consume precious energy and possibly boost consumer prices.

In an unusual move, however, the agency is openly inviting a lawsuit to block the approval and clarify a gray area in the law.

The legal question is whether the 1969 National Environmental Policy Act amends by implication the 1906 Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.

The industry has not responded yet to the FDA's draft environmental impact statement, in which the issues of environmental harm, energy use and cost were raised. Previously the industry stressed the safety of the plastic containers, the only issue raised by the food and drug law.

FDA general counsel Peter B. Hutt urged that plastic bottles be prohibited, but FDA Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt concluded he could withdraw earlier approval only if the bottles were unsafe or unhealthy, which they aren't. His decision had the effect of ruling that the 1969 environmental act did not amend the 1906 law.

The 1969 law ordered agencies to consider environmental impact in making decisions. The 1906 law gave the FDA authority only in situations involving safety and health.

The FDA initially approved plastic bottles but in September 1973 decided the decision required an environmental impact statement, raising the possibility that approval might be revoked. This month it published a draft impact statement and said it would go ahead with approval.

In a Federal Register notice April 14, FDA said, "Although adverse environmental impacts relating to destruction of scenic beauty, depletion of energy resources, increase in litter and trash, and similar matters are not condoned by the commissioner, he has no legal authority to prevent them." But it also invited any citizen to "obtain judicial review" by filing a suit.

"This has to be settled either by additional legislation or the court," Schmidt said in an interview Thursday. Although the Supreme Court has ruled that Congress did not intend the environmental law to repeal by implication any other federal

Strength For Today

IMMORTALITY

Although many people might be skeptical about the truth of creeds and theological propositions, probably few people, deep down in their hearts, believe that death ends everything. Most of us instinctively believe that there must be something beyond the grave.

As the philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "I am a better believer, and all serious souls are better believers, in immortality than we can give grounds for."

Here indeed is a belief which must be fundamental to all clear thinking and basic to all hope. If death ends all, what is the use of anything? Of what pitiful value is even the best of anything if it does not survive the ordeal of death?

Nothing gives life so much significance as to believe that our everyday living here on earth has an eternal significance. Nothing lends such dignity to life as to know that it persists into eternity.

Consumers 'Giving Them Fits'

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The American consumer continues to give fits to marketing strategists and retailers.

Some of the best known names in merchandising are in trouble, and the list doesn't begin and end with the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. and W.T. Grant Co., which are losing scores of millions of dollars.

A long list of manufacturers and retailers of consumer goods find they can't get the public excited about anything, except possibly about saving whatever they can. People are "buying down." Money is piling up again in savings institutions. Savings Bond sales are high.

The group thought at one time to be the smartest of all marketers, the Detroit auto maker, finds that customers will buy only when they can drive a good bargain for themselves, which often is a losing proposition for the seller.

The cash rebate concept was thought to be another example of Detroit's genius when, earlier this year, the public crowded into automotive showrooms and helped dealers cut their inventory glut.

But, as Detroit has learned, it really doesn't take a great deal of imagination to sell products at a loss or on a margin too skimpy to support a living. And that, it appears, is one thing that rebating amounted to.

Another: Those sales made last February and March quite likely were at the expense of spring sales. That at least is the conclusion being drawn from the worst spring selling rate in about 14 years.

Once upon a time, that time being no more than 10 years ago, there was a pervasive feeling that Detroit made its market — that it decided what it wanted to do and then went out and did it, supported by promotion and hoopla.

Now Detroit recognizes it must contend with a complex, demanding, better educated consumer. A suspicious consumer, you might add; a consumer who expects nothing more than his money's worth and who discounts the hoopla.

In theory, this is a healthy situation for everyone, despite all the bleating that might accompany it. Better companies, better products and a stronger economy are the results of competition, economists tell us.

But until the sellers can convince the public that their products are of the highest quality and that to buy now means a better life for them, the entire economy seems destined to move ahead only slowly.

Action To Increase Tuition At Community Colleges

RALEIGH (AP) — While young male drivers have gained a notch toward getting lower auto insurance rates, community college students appear closer to paying higher tuition fees.

The state Senate appropriations subcommittee on education decided Thursday to recommend tuition increases at community colleges and technical schools as part of a $12.8-million cut in the community college system budget for 1975-1977.

The committee voted in favor of an increase from the current $33 a quarter to $39 a quarter for in-state students and a raise from the $137.50 now for out-of-state students to $250. The panel estimated the increase would amount to about $3 million in the two-year budget period.

The subcommittee had earlier decided to recommend an increase of $200 for in-state students and $300 for out-of-state students attending the 16-campus University of North Carolina.

UNC President William Friday is to appear before the subcommittee April 30 to suggest alternate plans for cutting $70 million from the university system during the two-year period.

Sen. Livingston Stallings, D-Craven, subcommittee chair, emphasized that the decision on tuition increases are tentative so far.

Meanwhile, the House gave tentative approval to a bill that would drastically restructure the state auto insurance rating system. The proposed system would ban consideration of age or sex in setting liability or collision rates.

The measure was debated nearly two hours and final consideration is expected Tuesday. If it wins House approval, the bill must go to the Senate for consideration. It would take effect Sept. 2.

State Insurance Commissioner John Ingram proposed the plan. He had said it would result in lower rates for most drivers and no safe driver would get a rate increase.

Chief beneficiaries of the plan are males less than 25 years old. Now, they are charged more than any other class of driver.

Under the proposed plan, all drivers would pay the same basic rate for insurance with surcharges being levied for an accumulation of points from chargeable accidents or moving violations.

The only variables in the rate plan would be the driver's record and the use of the car, whether it's used for pleasure, driving to work, for business or on a farm.

Essentially, the bill equalizes all drivers, then puts extra charges on those with bad records. They, supporters argue, are the ones who cause the higher rates.

Opponents of the bill argue that age is a valid consideration in setting rates. They said young males cause more accidents. They also called for consideration of the insurance industry's "fair plan." It would continue to use age and sex as factors in setting rates but would establish more categories so that young men would get progressively lower rates until turning 25.

The House is scheduled to give the measure final consideration Tuesday. If it passes, it will go to the Senate.

Also in the legislature Thursday, the Senate Public Utilities Committee approved a bill to allow North Carolina's Electricities to band together to own and operate power generating stations.

The bill has already been approved by the House.

Ticket To Vietnam And No Return Guaranteed

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Although George Farmer has a free one-way ticket to Vietnam, there's no guarantee he'll be coming back.

An ad hoc group called Volunteers for Vietnam is soliciting volunteers to fight Communist aggression in the Southeast Asian country, and plans to fight on to the finish.

Farmer, of Greer, S.C., is divorced, and estranged from his only child. He retired from the U.S. Air Force after 26 years, and says he doesn't care that there are no guarantees he will live if he volunteers to fight.

"I called them and said I was volunteering. According to the information I got, thousands of volunteers and veterans are calling to join," he said.

"All they offer us is transportation over there," he added.

VVV Assistant Executive Director Joe Belisaris said telegrams from volunteers are being collected for presentation to the South Vietnam embassy in Washington. He says he hopes the unofficial, unsupported citizens group will be invited to intervene.

"We're a pretty determined bunch of people, we want to take the U.S. flag back to the republic of Vietnam with a combat unit to show the Vietnamese people that all Americans do not agree with Congress," he said.

Belisario said when another

150 volunteers are contacted and contributions from "wealthy citizens we are negotiating with" are firm, the first group of volunteers will be taken overseas.

He said it is up to the volunteers to make preparations to care for their families when they leave on what could well be a suicide mission.

"Insurance wouldn't pay off, and we're making it plain that there will be no pay involved," he said.

Concern, active anti-Communism, Farmer said, is the reason he wants to go back to South Vietnam. "I don't care if they don't give me anything when I get off the plane. I believe strongly enough in what we are going to do to go in and die for it," he said.

Rose High Ranked 10th In Annual Math Exams

The results of the 26th Annual High School Mathematics Examination have been announced with Rose High School this year placing tenth among 49 North Carolina Schools participating.

According to Mrs. Kemp Baldwin, chairman of the Rose High Mathematics Department and advisor for the exam, a total of 49 Rose High students participated in the examination which was given on March 11. The exams were then mailed in to a central point where they were evaluated, with the final results recently announced.

Among entrants from Rose High, William Griffin Garner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Garner, placed first at Rose and was 22nd in state level.

The second highest score at Rose was made by Joseph Lee Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Howell; third highest scorer was William Harry Billica, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry R. Billica.

The purpose of the annual math examinations are to sustain interest in mathematics; to broaden understanding in mathematical concepts; and to stimulate interest in mathematics and in fields requiring mathematics as a background.

As a result of being the top scorer at Rose High, William Garner will receive the Mathematics Award to be presented at the Awards Program on June 5 at Rose High.

Annual Concert Set For Sunday

The annual spring concert of The Symphonic Wind Ensemble of the School of Music, East Carolina University, will be held on Sunday, at 3:15 p.m. in Wright Auditorium.

Dr. Clyde Hiss, baritone, and Mrs. Dottie Jo Knight, mezzo-soprano, are the two soloists with the ensemble Herbert Carter directs the 53 piece Symphonic Wind Ensemble.

For the spring concert, Carter has selected a varied program of compositions by composers Bernard Rogers, Norman Delo Joio, Ernest Krenek, and Robert Russell Bennett.

The program will open with Rogers' Three Japanese Dances. The first two of these, Dance With Pennons and Mourning Dance, will be sung by Mrs. Knight. The third dance is Dance With Swords.

Dance With Pennons is a musical portrait of young girls in Japan dancing lightly with strips of silk. In The Mourning Dance, an elaborate group of percussion instruments combine in a complex bell sonority against a primitive motive sounded by flute and bass flute.

Dr. Hiss will sing The Tryst, Praise and Profanation and The Parting from Delo Joio's Songs of Abelard. This band composition comes from the music of Time of Snow, a dance score choreographed by Martha Graham. The three songs represents in dramatic musical terms the story of Abelard and Heloise. Abelard was a 12th century French scholar whose romance with his niece stunned the world at that time.

Krenek's Three Joyous Marches are scored for a small German-type band of wind and percussion instruments.

The final work on the program, Bennett's Symphonic Songs For Bands includes three movements, with the titles of Serenade, Spiritual and Celebration.

There is no admission charge for the Wind Ensemble spring concert and the public is invited to attend.

statute, no court has ruled on whether it amends other laws.

By 1980, according to the FDA's draft environmental impact statement, the soft drink industry alone will need about 100 billion bottles and cans annually, roughly 400 for every American.

Coca-Cola and Pepsi-Cola have test-marketed the plastic throw-aways, which are lighter and cheaper to transport, and reduce the need for large inventories of bottles, sorting, cleaning, inspection, and handling and storage of returnables.

The FDA said plastic bottles can be expected to speed the trend away from returnable bottles, which it said are superior to other containers. Refillable bottles cost one-fourth as much to produce as one-way bottles and conserve raw materials, but plastic bottles are not likely to be refillable in the foreseeable future, the FDA said.

Andrew Carnegie made a great fortune from iron and steel and left much of his money for educational purposes.

NEW YORK (AP) — Investors apparently encouraged by another record monthly trade surplus sent stock prices broadly but modestly ahead today.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 4.77 to 808.43, and advances outnumbered declines by nearly 2-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

As the opening bell sounded, the government reported a record $1.38 billion seasonally adjusted trade surplus in March, the second monthly record in a row.

In view of four months of almost uninterrupted stock gains, the market has held a cautious tone for the past week.

Most of the sizable gains today were in the glamor section. Bausch & Lomb gained 1 1/2 to 32 1/2, Burroughs 1 1/2 to 95 1/2, Disney 1 1/2 to 47 1/2, and IBM 1 1/2 to 208 1/2.

The most active Big Board issue, Armstrong Cork, dropped 1/4 to 26 1/4, including a 114,000-share block at that price.

ASA, Ltd., was unchanged in the mixed gold mining group. The company's shareholders approved a 2 for 1 stock split effective May 9, but the company said lower gold prices probably will result in declining second quarter net earnings.

The NYSE's composite stock index added 0.23 to 45.86, and American Stock Exchange's market-value index was up 0.48 at 84.02.

Rampant Homer Parade Crushes Wilson

Purple-Gold Game Is Saturday; Dye Unsure Of Accomplishments

Saturday afternoon, Coach Pat Dye will sit in the press box and watch what the efforts of this spring have brought forth for the East Carolina University Pirates—and he's not sure he's going to like what he sees.

"It's hard to tell what we've gotten done," he said. "During the last two weeks, we were so darn tired that we didn't get any better. I just hope we didn't go backwards."

Dye feels that the offensive unit of the Pirates has made a lot of progress during the drills. "We have two young quarterbacks who have come a long way toward becoming winning football players," he said. "But we are either very weak on defense or awfully strong on defense; it's hard to tell. But anytime the offense can run the ball up and down the field like it's been doing, you have some defensive problems. And especially when the defense really knows what the offense is doing. In our last scrimmage, we put our best defense up against all the rest, and they still were able to move the ball."

Some people will probably miss the game because of injuries, and some have missed the spring entirely because of injuries. They might help to make some difference in the defense next fall. "But we are really going to have to work hard to try and get the defense together," Dye said.

Returning to the offense, Dye feels that the team can move the ball on anyone. "Out passing has improved tremendously. We have more confidence and we execute better."

Saturday's game will have only 12 minute quarters. That, and the fact that the wishbone is a control offense would tend to make the Purple-Gold game a somewhat low-scoring affair. But Dye does expect both teams to score several times.

Dye did feel that there has been some improvement on defense, but it is in individuals rather than as a unit. "Jake Dove is the best man we have up front. Willie Bryant has been good in the past, but he had only a so-so spring. I think maybe he was tired from football in the fall, wrestling all winter, and now football again in the spring. He should have a good fall. Otherwise there have been no real surprises up front. Harold Randolph probably had the best spring of the young players, while Emerson Pickett, Tommy Somers and Harold Fort all looked fairly good in the linebacking positions.

"Nose guard is a problem, as are the defensive ends. The secondary started good, but they've slacked off. Probably because they don't have much

Navarone's guns were never louder than the Rose High bats were yesterday as the Rampants smashed 18 hits, including five home runs, to blast Wilson, 22-1.

The win tightened the Rampants' hold on the lead of the Division I standings with a 7-1 record. The Rampants got two hit pitching from Mike Belton and Wright Hooks with the big hits coming from centerfield Macon Moye who homered twice in the first driving in six runs.

Wilson's only score came off a solo home run in the second, the only hit off Rose starter Belton. Mike pitched five innings for the win striking out eight and walking three. Hooks finished the game giving up a hit and fanning three.

The Rampants all but demolished the Titans in the first as they batted all the way around twice. They drove into the lead on 13 runs and picked up one in the third, four in the fourth and five in the fifth. Rose had a chance to add another in the second but could not score a man from third.

It was a frustrating afternoon for Wilson. With one out, Wilson put a man on by a walk but he was caught going back to first after a pop-up. Rose then began to shell Titan starter Robin Caddell.

Jack Jenkins singled and scored on Griff Garner's double. Kelly Heath reached on an error and Mike Brewington beat out a bunt. All three waltzed in as Moye drove a pitch over the fence in center.

Keith Jones drew a walk and Ron Hunt singled him to third. Hunt was caught stealing second. Eddie Connolly walked and a double by Belton drove in Jones. Jenkins got his second hit of the frame scoring Connolly and Belton. Garner grounded into a fielder's choice but the ball was thrown into center as Wilson went for Jenkins. The ball got by the outfielder as Jenkins raced home and Garner pulled into third. As Wilson went for Garner, the ball was again thrown away letting him score.

Heath kept things going with a left field double and Brewington's second hit brought him across. Moye then added another homer for the 12th and 13th runs.

Tim Hennant led off the second with a home run for Wilson and for a minute they were showing some life. But Belton got the next man to fly out and fanned a man and a pop-up ended the frame.

In the third, Hunt singled and later scored on a single by Jenkins.

Two more runs had come across in the fourth when Lee Shearin got a hit. Hunt brought him in with the fourth homer of the day.

Jay Chenier reached on an error in the fifth and scored on Heath's four-bagger. Shearin reached on an error also and he, too, scored on a roundtrip smash, Jimmy Averette doing the work.

Jenkins	Heath	Brewington	Hunt	all had three hits for the Rampants. Moye had two.
The Rampants will be looking for their next win Tuesday as they travel to Elizabeth City to meet Northeastern.

Tigers Outlast Robersonville

WILLIAMSTON—Williamston outlasted Robersonville last night in a 15-12 slugfest.

The two teams were tying up for the third time this season. Each team had claimed one of the previous meetings.

Robersonville got it started in the first inning, picking up one run. Charlie Smith singled and Neno Hayes got a hit. Carl Bullock singled to score Smith.

Williamston came back with four in the bottom of the first. Roy Lilley singled and Phil Selby reached on an error. Tim Hardison singled, driving in both runners. Eric Godard reached on an error and moved up on a passed ball. Butch Davis singled to score both Hardison and Godard for a 4-1 lead.

Robersonville came right back with four in the top of the second to regain the lead, 5-4. Reid Bullock singled and Ricky Jenkins got a hit. Ken Gurganus grounded out, moving them up, and a passed ball scored Bullock. Another scored Jenkins. Jeff Warren singled and Smith got a hit. Hayes was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Carl Bullock then singled to score both Warren and Smith.

Williamston rallied in their half of the frame for six big runs, and that again pushed them ahead, 10-5. Lilley walked and

Conley In 6-1 Victory

HOLLYWOOD—D.H. Conley captured a 6-1 victory over North Pitt yesterday in the Eastern Carolina Conference.

North Pitt scored first, getting a run in the first inning. But after that, they were shut out, and got only three hits during the afternoon off Donnie Cox.

Cox fanned five and walked just two in going the distance.

The lone run came on a home run by Neal Whitley in the opening frame.

Conley came back to tie it up in the bottom of the first on a home run of their own. This one hit by Clennel Streeter.

The Vikings pushed over a second run, to take the lead, in the second inning. Cox helped himself with a triple, then scored on Roger Jenkins hit.

In the third, Conley added another run. Randy Adams singled and moved up on an error. He stole third, scoring when the throw down was errored.

Another Conley run crossed in the fourth. Cox singled and stole both second and third. Jenkins singled him home. The final two came over in the fifth. Adams singled and stole second. Eugene Forrest doubled to score him. Forrest stole third and scored on an error.

Conley is now 5-5 in the league and 7-5 overall. The Vikings host North Lenoir on Tuesday, while North Pitt travels to Aycock.

Records Were Set

New records were set in nearly every event during the Division I girls' track championships Wednesday afternoon.

Fannie Johnson of Rose High School set three new marks in her victories. Her distance of 16-1 in the long jump, and her times of :11.5 in the 100-yard dash and :26.8 in the 220 dash were all new league marks.

Peggy Capehart of Bertie set three new standards also. Her times of :8.5 in the 60 hurdles, :15.6 in the 110 hurdles and 1:04.6 in the 440 set new standards.

Other new records included Rose's Pat Hardy's shot toss of 33 feet, 7½ inches; the mile relay team of Bertie's time of 4:33.2; Wilson's Lillian Barnes time of 2:35.5 in the 880 and Northeastern's 880 relay time of 1:56.1.

In addition, Eloise McCain of Wilson tied the high jump mark of 4 feet, 10 inches.

No new records were set in the discus, and the mile.

Miss Capehart's time of :8.5 in the 60 hurdles was ahead of the state record of :8.6.

Welborn Signs Virginia Star

East Carolina wrestling coach John Welborn has announced the signing of James Kirby, a Robinson High School wrestler from Centerville, Va.

Kirby is the first 1975 signee and comes from the same high school as Paul Thorpe, a member of the Pirate wrestling team this year.

"We are very fortunate to get a wrestler of James' ability," said Welborn, the 1975 Coach of the Year in the Southern Conference. "He was an outstanding wrestler for three years in high school and I feel he will be a tremendous asset to our program."

Kirby is a two-time Northern District Champion, a two-time Northern Regional Champion and also captured the Virginia State High School championship this season. As a senior, he captained the Robinson High

Von Joshua Returns Favor To Ken Forsch

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Two years ago, Ken Forsch broke Von Joshua's hand with a pitch.

Thursday night, Joshua broke Forsch's heart with a hit.

Joshua, whose career was once interrupted by a Forsch delivery, got a chance to pay him back partially with a game-winning hit that led the San Francisco Giants over the Houston Astros 6-5.

"The game-winning hit was nice, but even bigger was the fact that I beat Ken Forsch," said Joshua after knocking in Derrell Thomas with a single to center. "Forsch broke my hand two years ago. I was with the Dodgers then, and I got hurt at Los Angeles.

"It was in April and I was hitting .340 at the time and platooning and finally getting to show what I can do. Then I got hit by Forsch on the wrist. Things were never the same after that.

"I never did get a chance to play when I came back off the injured list and I finally asked to be traded."

Joshua not only got his wish — he got his team.

"I'm glad it was to the Giants," he said. "I'm from Oakland, so it's just like going home."

The Giants were glad they had him Thursday night, at least. Not only did he drive in the winning run, but earlier produced a 5-4 lead for them with a bases-loaded walk in the seventh.

In the other National League games, the Los Angeles Dodgers ripped the San Diego Padres 11-6; the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Atlanta Braves 11-3 and the Chicago Cubs downed the Philadelphia Phillies 4-1.

The Giants started their winning rally off Forsch, 0-1, with Steve Ontiveros' double. Thomas ran for Ontiveros and two outs later, raced home with the go-ahead run on Joshua's base hit. The Astros tied the game 55 in the eighth inning when Cliff Johnson walked with the bases loaded on four pitches from reliever Gary Lavelle.

In the seventh, Joshua drew a bases-loaded walk off Wayne Granger to provide the Giants with a temporary one-run lead. Preceding the walk were a single by Chris Speier, a sacrifice bunt by Ontiveros which Granger fumbled for an error, and a hit batsman.

Dodgers 11, Padres 6

Ken McMullen climaxed a six-run comeback in the sixth inning with a grand slam homer as Los Angeles defeated San Diego. Losing 5-4, the Dodgers tied the game off Dave Friesleben, 1-2, on a run-scoring single by Dave Lopes. Reliever Danny Frisella

To Speak At Service

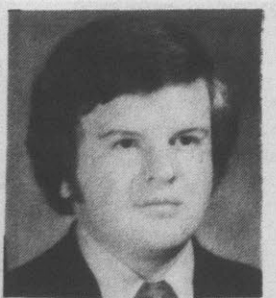

Al Worthington, a former major league pitcher of 19 years, will be the guest speaker for services at Temple Free Will Baptist Church Sunday, from 10 a.m. - 12 noon.

Worthington was a player with the San Francisco Giant, Boston Red Sox, Chicago White Sox and finished his career as a player and a pitching coach with the Minnesota Twins. Presently Worthington is head baseball coach at Lynchburg Baptist College in Lynchburg, Va.

The former pitcher says that "strikeouts, shoutouts, no hit games are thrills of a kind, but they fade into absolute insignificance beside the good news of the Gospel, that Christ will save all who come to Him in Faith believing."

Pastor Richard Kennedy invites all the baseball players of Greenville to hear Worthington. Bring your glove or ball and get it autographed. Temple Church is located at the corners of 11th and Forbes Streets.

Golden State Drops Seattle

Rick Barry had just scored 31 points, led the Golden State Warriors to a 105-96 victory over Seattle in the deciding game of their semifinal series, and was walking off the court when it happened.

He was bushwacked by a female fan — kicking and scratching.

"I was leaving the floor and someone was kicking me and hitting me from behind. I turned around and it was a woman. I couldn't believe it. I mean, I really couldn't believe it," Barry said.

Barry was also doused with beer after the game, prompting Golden State Coach Al Attles to lament: "Seattle gave a great effort to get this far in the playoffs. It's a shame their season had to be climaxed by this."

Both Barry and Boston's Jo Jo White had to break out of playoff doldrums to send their

Ayden-Grifton Hands First Loss To Saints

DUDLEY—Ayden-Grifton snapped Southern Wayne's perfect record in the Eastern Carona Conference yesterday, but it took 10 innings to do it, 8-1.

The game was scoreless for the first eight innings as both teams had chances but couldn't make them pay off. Dennis Cristiano went the distance for the Chargers, striking out nine and walking just one as he scattered four hits. He had a one hitter going through six innings.

Ayden-Grifton finally pushed over a run in the ninth inning. Eddie Taylor singled and Vern Davenport singled. Both moved up on an error. Stevie Tripp hit a sacrifice fly to score Taylor.

Bear Grass In 10-4 Victory

BEAR GRASS—Bear Grass High School continued to roll along close to the leader in the Beaufort-Hyde-Martin Conference with a 10-4 victory over Pantego yesterday.

Pantego scored first, but Bear Grass had charged into a 5-2 lead after two innings.

In the top of the first, J. Bell led off for Pantego with a walk, then stole second. D. Davis singled, driving him in. Davis moved up on a walk and scored on Mann's hit.

Bear Grass rallied to tie it up with two in the bottom of the first. Junie Wynne walked and stole second. Ray Wynne singled to drive him in. Ray Wynne, who had moved to second on the relay home, stole third and Danny Robertson walked, then stole second. Keith Williams also walked, loading the bases. Terry Wombleton reached on an error, allowing Ray Wynne to score.

In the second, the Bears added three more. Jimmy Peaks singled and stole second. Ray Wynne reached on an error and Mark Gardner doubled to drive both of them in. Gardner stole third and scored on Williams' hit.

Pantego came back with a run in the third. R. Davis singled and advanced to third on Craddock's hit. Mann sacrificed Davis in. The Bears closed it out with five runs in the fourth inning. Gardner singled and stole up. Rogerson singled him in and moved up on the relay. Williams reached on an error, scoring Rogerson. Robert Harrison walked and Richard Knox singled in Williams. Richard Harrison singled in Robert Harrison, but Knox was thrown out. Jimmy Peaks then doubled in Richard Harrison with the fifth run of the frame.

Pantego got one more in the fifth. Mann reached on an error and scored when Copeland also was safe on an error.

The Bears are now 6-3 in the league and 11-3 overall. They travel to Jamesville to meet the league leader on Tuesday.

Rose Girls In Second Victory

Rose High School's girls' softball team recorded their second victory of the year yesterday with a 12-4 romp over Kinston.

Rose pushed over five runs in the first inning to take the lead for good. Jane Wahlert walked and scored when Jill Carney smashed a home run. Fannie Johnson kept it going with a single and Shirley Johnson singled. Errors on the relays allowed both runners to score. Peggy Leggett singled and also came around on errors.

In the second, Rose added three more. Edna Barnhill singled and Wahlert got a hit.

Pam Pack Takes Win

WASHINGTON — Washington High School romped to a 9-0 victory over Williamston yesterday.

The Tigers were unable to do much with the Pam Pack, leaders of the Northeastern Conference.

Williamston is now 2-10 on the year. They will take part in the conference tournament on Monday at Edenton.

Ken Samuelson (Wa) defeated Parnaz Green, 6-2, 6-3.

Steve Fentress (Wa) defeated Steve Dickens, 6-1, 6-0.

Watson Pridden (Wa) defeated Johnny Dickens, 6-2, 6-2.

Ras Holmes (Wa) defeated Frankie Norris, 6-1, 6-0.

Fentress-Pridden (Wa) defeated Manning-Griffin, 8-2.

Morton-Samuelson (Wa) defeated Green-Norris, 8-2.

Jackson-Jones (Wa) defeated Dickens-Dickens, 8-4.

Fannie Johnson doubled both of them in. Shirley Johnson singled to score Fannie for an 8-0 lead.

Kinston broke the ice with one run in the fourth. Dawson singled and errors let her come around.

Rose came back with four more in the fifth for a 12-1 lead. Wahlert singled and moved up on an error. Leggett tripled and scored on Lu Foreman's hit. Rosie Cox singled and moved up on an error. Sally Augspurger singled and an error let both Foreman and Cox score.

Kinston scored again in the sixth. Loftin singled and came in on errors. The other run came in the seventh. Dawson singled and advanced on an error. Ingram singled her in and came around on more errors.

Rose is now 2-2 on the year. They play host to Williamston on Tuesday.

Happy Show For A Young Viewer

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — We recently wrote a television concerto for saxophone and violins. But CBS rejected it on grounds there's too much sax and violins on television these days.

In lieu of the concerto, the network this Sunday is offering a nifty music show we recommend for young viewers. The opus is called "Danny Kay's Look-In at the Metropolitan Opera."

In it, the eternally youthful

GETTING A NEW START

"I never want to move again!" I told a friend. Even before the moving van arrived, there were days of sorting, discarding and carefully packing the things we treasure. There were farewells and last minute errands.

Then early one morning, the huge truck came lumbering up the street, and the movers began loading beds, tables, chairs, dishes and books. After several hours, the last box was in the van, and our belongings were on their way to a new home.

A new home, new friends, new community—so many things with which to become acquainted.

The church is a fine place to get a new start—to make new friends and strike up a vital relationship with the Maker of us all.
