The steamboat OLIVE tied up at Tunis Wharf (on Chowan River) Atlantic Coast Line Railroad station at left.

Soon after this picture was taken the OLIVE was hit by a tornado and sunk below Colerain February 1903. (Feb. 16)

She was rebuilt and returned to service as the HERTFORD.

The OLIVE-HERTFORD was owned by Albemarle Steam and Navigation Company.

-Copy of picture taken by K. R. Israel, who was employed ~~by Albemarle Steam and Navigation Company~~ as station master.