N.C. Senate Okays 'Windfall' Measure

RALEIGH (AP)—The Senate today enacted into law a bill designed to bring the state a $67.3 million windfall next fiscal year to help finance a pay raise of 4 per cent plus $300 for teachers and state employees.

Meanwhile, the Senate and House were set to take up spending bills providing for a $3.4 billion budget to operate state government during the 1976-77 fiscal year. The budget is the only thing standing in the way of adjournment which could come late today.

Rep. Jimmy Love, D-Lee, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said that a conference committee had met Thursday night and helped clear the way for adjournment by informally reaching agreement on differences between the House and Senate on the spending measure.

A final attempt to provide teachers and state workers with a raise greater than the 4 per cent plus $300 failed in the Senate Appropriations Committee Thursday.

For a while Thursday, it seemed as if the salary increases in the budget might be larger than the 4 per cent plus a flat $300 that the legislative leadership had agreed on several weeks ago.

A proposal to make the raises 8 per cent for all employees was defeated 16-12 in a tense, crowded Senate Appropriations Committee.

A few moments later, the full Senate defeated an amendment to the taxing bill which would have expanded the windfall revenues gained from accelerating the collection of employees' withheld taxes from corporations.

The extra money was to be used for pay raises closer to the 16 per cent "cost of living" increase that teachers and state employees have been demanding. It was defeated, 34-12.

Sen. John Henley, D-Cumberland, the majority leader, led the opposition. "We have got to be fiscally responsible. Look at New York City, New York State...the same thing has happened," Henley said.

The expansion of the windfall would have resulted from making the accelerated collection schedule apply to businesses with more than $1,000 withheld monthly instead of $3,000. That would have increased the windfall from $67 million to $80 million.

The windfall comes about because taxes will be collected each month instead of at the end of each quarter. Thus, two months' worth of tax collections will come in toward the end of the 1976-77 fiscal year that would normally not have come in until after the year had ended.

Meanwhile, with the vote generally following party lines, a joint session of both houses formally rejected Gov. Jim Holshouser's nominees to the State Utilities Commission.

Holshouser had denounced previous committee votes against his nominees as "petty and arbitrary."

The Senate rejected incumbent Lester Teal's nomination to a longer term by 42-0. In the House, the vote on Teal was 104-8. Mrs. Patricia Locke of Charlotte was rejected 40-5 and 96-13. No vote was taken on a third nominee, W. Scott Harvey. No vacancy existed for Harvey to fill after Teal was rejected.

The vote means that Teal's term will expire in 1977 instead of 1981. Two seats, one ending in 1981 and the other in 1977, will remain vacant unless Holshouser makes interim appointments that will be subject to confirmation in January when the legislature reconvenes.

A special investigative committee reported to the House that overall morale in the Highway Patrol is good, although problems exist.

The committee, chaired by Rep. Edward Holmes, D-Pitt, was assigned to the study after a series of newspaper articles reported internal dissension within the patrol.

But despite testimony from more than a dozen complaining patrolmen, the committee recommended no major changes. It rejected a recommendation that the patrol's security function for the governor and his family be ended.

Holmes said most of the problems within the patrol stem from poor communications between patrolmen and their officers.

The rank and file patrol members have formed a new association and engaged a publicist and a lobbyist, former Gov. Robert W. Scott.

The head of the organization, Johnny Davis of Sanford, said he was satisfied with the report but disagreed that there was no major morale problem. Davis said the main cause of the problem was discontent with salaries and benefits.

Girding For 'Budget War'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford and Congress apparently will spend the summer at each other's throats in what could be an historic confrontation over the federal budget.

Acting under a new budget procedure, Congress has for the first time approved its own federal budget. In the past, Congress has worked on a budget submitted by the president.

Under the new procedures, Congress has approved its own spending ceiling of $413.3 billion for fiscal 1977.

But Ford said Thursday he is determined that it will be his budget of $395.8 billion that will regulate government spending and not the congressional budget.

"The Congress should be on notice that it is my intention to hold federal spending to the lower limit I proposed," Ford announced after the House gave Congress' budget ceiling final approval on Thursday. "I will not be a willing partner to the risk of another round of double-digit inflation."

Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, had warned when the Senate approved its spending ceiling on Wednesday that if Ford tries to cut the congressional budget figure by veto it would mean "a long summer of futile confrontation between Congress and the White House."

Democratic leaders say Congress' higher spending is the way to keep the nation's economic recovery going, largely by creating an extra one million jobs and continuing Congress' $17 billion tax cut through 1977, rather than granting a $28 million tax cut Ford proposed.

Democrats, including House Budget Committee Chairman Brock Adams, D-Wash., contend it is Congress' tax cut and extra money for federally aided jobs that have started economic recovery, not Ford's efforts to cut federal spending.

The $413.3-billion congressional budget ceiling envisions a $50.8 billion deficit compared to Ford's $44.6 billion.

The essential differences in Ford's and Congress' budget approaches to economic recovery rest on taxes and jobs.

Congress' $17 billion tax cut is focused on low- and middle-income Americans and assumes they will spend the money and stimulate the economy. Congress also wants to spend some $6 billion to create a million new federally aided jobs.

Congress' economists say that will cut unemployment to 6 per cent by the end of 1977, compared to 7 per cent under Ford's budget proposal.

Ford's budget would grant an additional $11 billion in tax cuts to middle-income taxpayers and corporations.

Board Meeting

Discussion and possible action on the elementary redistricting plan is the primary item facing the Greenville Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting on Monday May 17, 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the auditorium at Wahl-Coates School.

Among agenda items are a progress report on the Middle School, an Arlington Street proposal, site bids, resignation of boardmember, reappointment of boardmembers, and the City Council resolution on elected school board.

Also, the 1976-77 budget, notes on General Assembly action, teacher planning time, granting of diploma on college credit, ESEA Title IV-C reading project, a letter on the Extended Day Program, and a review of the State Board of Education Curriculum Guide in reading, language art and English K-12.

Doctor Suing Onslow Hospital

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP) — Dr. William H. Levis III and three of his patients have filed suit against the Onslow County Memorial Hospital for allegedly denying him privileges there.

Levis and his patients seek $100,000 damages and a restraining order forcing the hospital to allow him to practice there.

Levis admitted that he had misused a pain-killing drug, Talwin, prior to May, 1974. He said he has not misused it since then.

Implies 'Hot Leads' For Further Oswald Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA and FBI lied to the Warren Commission about the assassination of President Kennedy, a Senate intelligence committee member said today. The senator also suggested "we pursue some hot leads" to answer for certain who killed Kennedy.

Sen. Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., a member of the panel's subcommittee investigating the assassination, said "there is no question in my mind" that the two intelligence agencies lied to the commission which conducted the government's first, massive probe of Kennedy's death.

Schweiker said he has found no new evidence about who killed Kennedy but declared: "If we pursue some hot leads, we may well answer that question." Schweiker refused to elaborate on what he meant by "hot leads."

Schweiker made his statements on the CBS-TV "Morning News."

He said the subcommittee has turned up "significant new material about defects and deficiencies in the investigation" of the assassination, noting — as he has before — the CIA's failure to inform the Warren Commission of its schemes against Cuba's Fidel Castro and the FBI's destruction of a note by Lee Harvey Oswald, whom the commission named as Ken-edy's sole assassin.

Schweiker and Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., are the only members of the subcommittee, which investigated the "performance or non-performance" of the intelligence agencies during the initial probe of the assassination. Hart has said he has seen no evidence to discredit the Warren Commission's report that Oswald acted alone in killing Kennedy.

But Schweiker said today he disagrees. He said the deficiencies in the investigation of the assassination, noting — as he has before — the CIA's failure to inform the Warren Commission of its schemes against Cuba's Fidel Castro and the FBI's destruction of a note by Lee Harvey Oswald, whom the commission named as Ken-

Schweiker said some of the deficiencies by the CIA and FBI were "deliberate."

Schweiker and Hart are expected to deliver a written report to the intelligence committee by the end of the month. The full committee must approve the report before it is made public.

The question of why Oswald killed Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas, Tex., will be one of the first questions to face a proposed new Senate committee that would watch over the workings of U.S. intelligence agencies.

The Senate intelligence committee voted Thursday to recommend that the proposed new permanent, panel conduct an investigation into the never officially-answered question.

Creation of the new, permanent committee itself remains in doubt.

A compromise measure to create the new panel ran into some unexpected trouble Thursday when members of the Armed Services Committee, which currently monitors the CIA and other spy agencies, raised the possibility of a filibuster.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield immediately filed a petition to invoke the Senate's debate-ending cloture rule.

Southern Conference Hears Two Goodbyes; Vote 3 New Members

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

The Southern Conference heard goodbyes from two members but welcomed in three others as the league concluded its spring meeting here this morning.

The University of Richmond, bowing out of the conference on July 1, attended its last meeting, while East Carolina University gave formal notice that it would leave on July 1, 1977.

Three other schools, Marshall University, Western Carolina University and the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, were voted into the league, effective July 1. They will be on a probationary status for one year, however.

Because of this status, none of the new members will be eligible for the major championships within the conference. It is possible, Commissioner Ken Germann said, that some of them might meet requirements in some of the non-revenue sports.

To be eligible, the schools must achieve Division I status in a particular sport, and meet all NCAA and

Two members of the Pitt County Board of Education filed for reelection Thursday. Mark Owens, present chairman of the board has filed for reelection of the Fountain-Falkland-Bell Arthur Township seat. William M. (Bill) McLawhorn of the Ayden Township has also filed for reelection.

Owens, an attorney, has served on the board since October 1966. He is a resident of Fountain and has served as the chairman of the board of Education since 1970.

McLawhorn, a farmer-businessman resides in Ayden. He has served on the board since December 1970.

In announcing that he is filing, McLawhorn said that he would like to see an equalization of funds distributed between the county and city students, the construction of Ayden Grammar School and some changes in the quality point system.

The term of office for the seats to be filled on August 17, is for six years. May 28 is the final deadline for candidates to file for any of the three board seats up for election this year.

Stasavich Is Remembered

The portrait will hang in Mingos Coliseum. It was also announced by the conference that its championship football trophy will be known as the Clarence Stasavich Memorial Trophy starting

I work in a supermarket which sells vegetable seeds. Some of our customers seem to think that seeds sold in small packets shouldn't be taxed, but it's the agricultural seeds that don't have to be, as we understand it. Please clear this up. E. N.

According to Ray Midgette, Manager of the Greenville State Revenue Office, your customers are correct. No seeds, flower or vegetable, regardless of how they're sold, should ever be taxed. Flowers, sets, tubers, roots, tobacco and vegetable plants shouldn't be taxed either if they're sold by the grower. Those being resold by a retail establishment would have to be taxed, however, he said. A copy of the seed tax ruling may be obtained from the State Revenue Officer here if you're still in doubt. BIRTHDAY NO. 2

Hotline had a birthday yesterday, and we forgot to observe it or even mention it.

Our first column was published May 13, 1974. We continue to be amazed at the variety and scope of the problems our readers call upon us to deal with. And, of course, we're gratified any time we're able to get a refund, clear up a misconception, or reestablish communication that leads to the solution of a problem. Our only regret is that the need is so much greater than our staff limitations. We wish we could acknowledge and follow up on every item presented us.

Yesterday was a happy birthday for us.

How's The Weather?

WEATHER FORECAST—Showers and rain are indicated today for the eastern portion of the nation, except for Florida and the Southeast.

By The Associated Press
It was damp and mild in North Carolina today. Similar conditions will hold into early next week. Highs today were from the mid 70s to the low 80s. A weak cold front in the Mississippi River valley is influencing North Carolina weather. Clouds and rain associated with the front spread into the Tar Heel mountains and western Piedmont early this morning. Elsewhere in the state, the predawn hours brought widespread fog. Temperatures at dawn were mild, averaging in the 60s. A warm and moist southerly wind flow kept skies generally cloudy in the morning. This gave way to partly cloudy conditions later in the day. The breaks in the clouds allowed the sun to push the mercury to the 70s and low 80. Thunderstorms were scattered over the state today, mainly in western sections. They were not severe.

missioners, and J. D. Stock, manager. Greenville Mini Storage is designed for rental storage areas by the month, day or year. It consists of 105 individual units, each with its own security lock. (Reflector Photo)

Predicts Big Role For Eastern N.C. In Crisis

"Eastern North Carolina will play a major role in a far more severe crisis than the energy crisis we have recently experienced," said Dr. Stan Riggs, East Carolina University geologist, as he spoke to the monthly meeting of the Pitt County Agribusiness Association.

Dr. Riggs was referring to a predicted world food crisis and the importance of Eastern North Carolina's phosphate deposits. Dr. Riggs referred to his recent experiences as a consultant to the Mexican government on development of phosphate mining. He stated that the prospects of a world population of 7 billion people had been made very vivid. Mexico is currently experiencing a dramatic population increase. Environmental impact is an important factor to be considered in the mining of Eastern North Carolina phosphates; but, environmental impact will not be the controlling factor down the road.

"Seven billion people will be the control. With the limits on land, fertilizer is the only way we will provide the nutrients needed for food production," he stated. The United States, Morocco, and the USSR own 80 per cent of the world's known phosphate deposits, according to Dr. Riggs. The Eastern North Carolina deposits are a significant part of the U. S. supply. He outlined the area of the deposits which are under as major portion of five Eastern counties and much of the Albemarle Sound. Presently only one mine is actively removing the high grade phosphate ore, but another is in the planning stage and others are trying to develop new techniques for mining the deeper deposits.

Ground water withdrawal is being carefully regulated and monitored by State government and the mining companies, according to Dr. Riggs. The current allowable water use rates of 102 million gallons per day should cause no problem except for areas near the mines. These problems are being provided for in the plans for new mining operations.

"Eventually, some system of returning the water to the ground source after use may be necessary," he said.

In other business of the Agribusiness Association, Secretary-Treasurer Jack Cullipher, reported that currently there are 51 members of the group. Larry Land, President, informed the members that a plant protection demonstration is underway on the Curtis Worthington farm on the 264 By-pass west. He encouraged those in attendance to ask others in Agribusiness to become members of the Association.

CORRECTION
In the second paragraph of the story on Dr. Badger Clark leaving the board, carried on page one of Thursday's paper, a word error occurred. Where it was noted "Dr. Clark . . . also served privately on the board completing an unexpired term," it should have read "also served previously on the board . . . etc."

Since a bid of four clubs could be competitive and not forcing, and a jump to five clubs could lose the heart suit, he elected to bid four hearts even though his suit could not be described as robust. However, he did have a safety factor. If doubled, he could always run to five clubs, secure in the knowledge that any penalty there would not be expensive.

Miss Darlene Gilbert

British Viewers Like Female Counterpart

BY ROBERT MUSEL
LONDON (UPI) — The news that Barbara Walters would become the first woman to anchor a major U.S. television network news show, with a $1 million pay packet to go with the job, made headlines throughout the United States.

But in Britain the English equivalents of Walter Cronkite, John Chancellor and Harry Reasoner were joined some weeks ago by a good-looking young lady named Angela Rippon, who anchors the 25-minute 9 o'clock newscast on the British Broadcasting Corporation with aplomb and assurance.

Naturally there were jeers from outraged male chauvinists, cheers from jubilant feminine militants and reaction from all the other fringe and splinter opponents and proponents of the status quo. But now that novelty has passed into commonplace, the average man and woman have weighed in with the only verdict that counts in a mass medium.

They like Miss Rippon.

The BBC had a solid team of three male readers when they decided to replace one of them with a woman simply because they thought it was time they had one and Miss Rippon had everything they considered essential for the job — a pleasant manner, journalistic background and clear diction.

She had worked BBC regional programs so there was no fear of the camera. And anyone who has been a newspaper foreign correspondent at the age of 20 isn't apt to panic in any situation. But her debut was tense and she was gratified when the letters that poured in were 80 per cent favorable.

"The first night I was on I knew I would be under terrific scrutiny," she said. "If I overdressed or used extravagant mannerisms, the reaction of 12 million people would have been, 'Oh God, have you seen that awful woman on the news?' I was aware I had to prove all the old chestnuts about women not being able to read the news were just a myth. A man reader can be indifferent and still get by. A woman has to be good all the time.

"I think the only reason I am here is that attitudes in television are changing. Women are now more acceptable."

Naturally there was some criticism and not the kind Cronkite, Chancellor and Reasoner ever get. Top dress designers complained her clothes weren't exciting enough or feminine enough and they were free with their advice. Women viewers wrote in asking Miss Rippon to do something about her startled eyebrows, described as looking like a butterfly's feelers.

"I can't do anything about them," she said plaintively. "That's the way they grow."

Royal dress designer Hardy Amies thought she ought to try a low-cut sweater. Princess Anne's dressmaker, Maureen Baker, said Miss Rippon should look formal sometimes and casual others but always glamorous.

"Viewers switch on for the news not for me," said Miss Rippon, who is tall, 31, married and most attractive, though she claims she isn't.

"I quite like my voice," she said. "What I detest is my face. It's too fat and the jawline is too square."

As her photographs prove, Miss Rippon is also very modest.

Mrs. Shires Is Speaker

The Patient Circle of the King's Daughters had its meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas L. Hannaford.

Mrs. Clara Moye Shackell, president, recognized the following guests: Mrs. Mary Fay Shires and Mrs. Joyce Corbett Mayo. She congratulated Mrs. Delphia Corbett and Mrs. Hannah Warren for winning awards at the Greenville Woman's Club Author's Luncheon. She announced that Marian Bailey had been selected as the Chautauqua Student this year and plans to leave for Chautauqua, N.Y., July 5.

Mrs. Shackell, Mrs. Cora Powell and Mrs. Polly Dail attended the Thirty-Second General Convention of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons held in Hartford, Conn., May 3-7. The next General Convention will be held in Dallas, Tex., in 1978.

Committees have been set up to begin making plans for the 1977 convention to be held in Greenville Oct. 15-16.

Mrs. Corbett gave a report on the "Around-the-World Department."

Miss Mary Wells introduced Mary Fay Shires, who gave a talk on her work in Cherokee County and how she got involved in politics. In 1964 she was a candidate for the legislature and won. The two things she fought for and got were better roads and better schools for the mountainous section. Later she ran for the Senate and won.

She stated that the North Carolina Legislature is the most powerful governing body in the United States, that it is the only state in the union where the governor does not have the power to veto. When the legislature passes a bill, that's it. The constitution requires North Carolina to have a balanced budget. She added that the N.C. bonds have a Triple A rating on the market.

Mrs. Hannaford, assisted by Miss Mary Wells and Mrs. T. I. Moore, served refreshments.

Don't worry when the undersides of metal lids on your canning jars darken. Natural compounds in some foods corrode the metal and cause this. Use new lids when you are putting up foods again.

Two other flowerpots contain Mrs. Hazan's first-aid kit, aloe vera. She treats a finger burn immediately with the sap from a spiky leaf, a long-time folk remedy to prevent blistering and reduce pain.

"Ten minutes are enough," she said. "It's very dangerous if you burn yourself with caramel."

That lesson's dessert was croquette (kro-ahn-tee), mahogany-colored caramel containing chopped almonds.

Four of her students that day were suburbanites who had come from Long Island and Westchester County especially for the class.

Sue Sincero, whose physician-husband, Domenico, is a Neapolitan, drove in from Irvington-on-Hudson with a friend, Helen Herlitz.

New Yorker Amy Musher, whose husband, Jon, is a stockbroker, sandwiches lessons into her regular three-day work week at a news magazine.

"I have known many people with responsible jobs who took a long lunch hour to attend (cooking) classes," Mrs. Musher said.

Mrs. Hazan's husband, Victor, is an Italian-born American. Former creative director of an advertising agency in Italy, Hazan now works with his father, David, a retail fur merchant in New York City.

Mrs. Hazan's first book, "The Classic Italian Cookbook," was a great critical success when it was first published three years ago by Harper's Magazine Press. It was reissued recently by Knopf.

Writing cookbooks and teaching cooking represent a big change from her career in her native Italy.

"I was a doctor in natural science and biology, and taught in high school and college. Eight years ago, when we came to this country, I wanted to work, but my English was not very good.

"Victor said, 'you like to teach, you like to cook, why not put the two together?'"

Six classmates in Chinese cooking classes made the same suggestion, and became her first students.

"It's not professional restaurarant cooking," Mrs. Hazan said. "Very few (dishes) have a nice appearance." She strives for good taste instead.

"I don't teach with measurements," she said, adding wine to a pot for stracotto al barolo (beef braised in red wine sauce). "The wine should come up two-thirds of the way in the pot."

"The book says to chop the tomatoes, but you don't have to (use a knife). You can chop each one with a spoon as you put it in the pot."

"The amount of tomato is not rigid. It depends on how much you like. It doesn't have to be red like tomato sauce."

"Try to choose a pan with a very tight cover (for stracotto), but if you don't have one, put aluminum foil right on top of the meat (before putting the lid on)."

When she isn't teaching, she works on her second cookbook — in Italian. Her husband translates.

"I would like to do a short course, not on cooking, but on buying showing how vegetables look when they are fresh or not fresh, the color and grain of meat, the color good cheese is supposed to have. I think it (cooking) is an art, not mathematical."

Paper Person Calls For End To Sexism

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a paperGIRL, and I deliver to approximately 80 households.

My problem is that I am constantly being called a paperBOY, and I hate it. There are a lot of girls who deliver newspapers, and it's time people realized it.

Our newspaper company had an awards banquet, and the invitation read: "Please wear a shirt and tie." Well, I turned down the invitation. When my adviser asked me why I didn't attend, I said, "Because I don't have a shirt and tie!"

He said I was silly because if I had been there, I might have been voted paperBOY of the year.

Abby, can you do something about my problem? All of us paperGIRLS will be very grateful.

PALM SPRINGS PAPERGIRL

DEAR PAPERGIRL: If the newspaper is delivered on time the boy or girl doing the job will be called "blessed." (P.S. I'm sending you a shirt and tie for the next awards banquet.)

DEAR ABBY: Our son and his girlfriend, who are both in their early 30s and divorced, live in California about 50 miles apart. They openly admit that they sleep together on weekends to find out if they are compatible for marriage.

They flew here last December to spend the holidays with Dad and me. When we showed them his bedroom for HER and the hideaway bed in the den for HIM, they decided to stay at a motel.

Dad and I were hurt because we see our son only once a year, but we didn't say anything, and off they went.

When our son returned to California, he phoned to tell us that his expenses for the trip, including the motel room, were $748, so we sent him a check but said this was the last time we would pay for a motel room since there was plenty of room at our house.

Do you think we were wrong in refusing to let them sleep together in our home? Even though we knew they had slept together elsewhere, it would have made us very uncomfortable.

SQUARE IN ILLINOIS

DEAR SQUARE: No. When children (of any age) visit their parents, they should live by the rules of the parents' home. You were far more generous than most parents would have been. Since your son preferred to stay at a motel, HE should have paid for it!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (26¢) envelope.

campaign speeches.

The spokesman said no decision has been made whether the President would continue to refer to Goldwater's criticism of Reagan.

At his May 4 news conference, Goldwater said he would "have to support Ford's position" of attempting to renegotiate a canal treaty with Panama.

Goldwater said Reagan's statements "could needlessly lead this country into open military conflict."

Reagan has said he would go to the same lengths to protect U.S. interests in Panama as he would "to keep someone from taking Alaska away from us."

Asked whether he would go to war to keep the canal, Reagan said, "I don't think there has ever been a President who wouldn't have had to say yes."

could not do that would be "pretty pathetic."

That this explanation is being made — and accepted — points to present political realities: Jimmy Carter is a cinch to be nominated and will be better advised to retain the popular Strauss than change the guard now.

Ronnie and Barry

Sen. Barry Goldwater's sudden new animosity which could seriously impede Ronald Reagan's presidential campaign follows two long, friendly telephone conversations between them containing no hint of what now seems quite possible: open endorsement of President Ford by Mr. Conservative.

There has been no contact between Goldwater and Reagan the past month. But Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr. of California quietly informed Reagan operatives in Indiana last week that his father might endorse Mr. Ford. The younger Goldwater revealed he has tried to persuade his father to stay neutral.

Reagan insiders have two possible explanations for the Senator's sudden hostility: first, Reagan's lining up 27 Arizona delegates despite Goldwater's vigorous appeal for an uncommitted delegation from his home state; second, Reagan's threat to replace Goldwater as the Republican party's No. 1 right-winger.

The first of two Goldwater-Reagan conversations, both originated by Reagan, came just before the Feb. 24 New Hampshire primary. They agreed that liberal Republicans, occasionally joined by the media, were smearing Reagan as "destroyer" of the GOP.

according to the loan agreement, the ABA says, adding:

"It even counts in your favor if you can show — through check records — that you managed the family finances and were responsible for seeing that installment loans and credit bills were paid off, even though your name was not on the loan."

But the law says lenders can ask a woman to file a new credit application if the ability to pay seems seriously affected by the new status, the ABA says. And because of lower income, the woman might have to offer collateral.

Significant also is that creditors no longer can ask a woman to obtain a cosigner on a loan that a married man or bachelor with the same credit record would obtain without an additional signature.

"How would anyone know?"

"Four of the five editors on the jury worked for the CIA and they figured they might as well give the prize to one of their own."

Goldwater told Reagan that he experienced similar attacks in 1964, adding that liberals should not be allowed to get away with it.

In their second talk a month ago, Goldwater told Reagan he had heard complaints that some Reagan operatives were antagonizing party regulars. Goldwater added that his own zealous in 1964 had caused many such complaints which, he said, sometimes had substance. He strongly urged Reagan to keep a tight grip on his agents, and Reagan completely agreed.

Campaigning in Nebraska last week, Reagan was asked at every stop how Goldwater could differ so strongly with him on the Panama Canal. Reagan at first said he was saddened by Goldwater's criticism but at North Platte Wednesday reacted less gently, saying: "I think Barry is a little confused." He also produced a 1975

Senate resolution, co-sponsored by Goldwater, opposing changes in the Panama Canal treaty.

HHH and Carter

Although Sen. Hubert Humphrey has ruled out an active presidential candidacy, he is not ready to bury the hatchet with Jimmy Carter.

Humphrey's office could not find room on the Senator's schedule last week when Carter asked to meet him. Sen. Joe Biden of Delaware, a Carter booster, told Humphrey he and Carter would just drop by unannounced; don't do it, HHH replied.

In truth, Humphrey still burns over being called a "loser" by Carter. That may partially explain Humphrey's enthusiasm over Carter's late-blooming challenger, Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. of California. Humphrey was gushing over the way Brown handled himself at a Capitol Hill reception last week.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took a sharp drop today, caught up in renewed concern over prospects of rising interest rates.

Trading was moderate. The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 8.03 at 993.07, ending a four-day stay for the average above the 1,000 mark.

Loser outdistanced gainers by a 3-1 spread among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Weekly Federal Reserve statistics issued after Thursday's close of the NYSE showed another rise in the nation's money supply.

Analysts said that data gave rise to fears of a further tightening in the Fed's credit policy that would foster higher interest rates.

Underscoring those worries was the decision by New York's Citibank this morning to raise its prime lending rate from 6½ to 6% per cent, joining most other banks at that level.

The increase by New York's largest bank in its basic charge on corporate loans came as no real surprise. But Wall Streeters noted that it nevertheless emphasized the recent uptrend in the cost of money.

Oklahoma Gas & Electric was the most active Big Board issue, down ½ at 18½.

Southern Conference eligibility requirements. In most non-revenue sports, teams are required to participate in at least two meets to be eligible for the championships.

Germann said that Marshall likely would be able to schedule the required number in some sports, since it is already Division I. Western Carolina is expected to meet Division I standards in all but football by this fall, and Chattanooga is expected to follow suit shortly if not by fall.

While no official talks were held, Germann said that Madison College of Virginia had made preliminary talks with the league about applying for membership.

Rumors have also circulated that William & Mary and Davidson might withdraw from the conference, but these were played down by the commissioner. "Davidson, which does not meet football requirements asked for an official position from the conference, and the conference assured that school that it wished them to remain."

As to William & Mary, said to be one of five schools, along with Richmond, East Carolina, Virginia Tech, South Carolina and West Virginia to be attending a meeting in Richmond in June about a new conference, the commission said no official talk was done. "There was a lot of rumors," he said, "but nothing concrete."

The conference left up to the athletic directors at their June meeting to set the site and format of the basketball tournament for next spring. Formal bids have been received from Williamsburg, and Roanoke, Va., and Greenville, S. C.

It is expected that the format of having the first round games on the home court of the top seeded teams will continue. Unless one of the new members meets requirements, the top team would receive a first round bye.

The conference amended its constitution to allow for 12 members instead of the current 10, and discussed the situation as it applies to the proposed Division I-IA group in the NCAA.

The league's December meeting will be held in Williamsburg, and the May meeting in Charleston, S.C. Dr. Frances Bonner of Furman was reelected president of the conference, with Col. John Burroughs of The Citadel as vice-president, and Col. Dwight McAllister as secretary-treasurer.

Rampant Hopes Fade As Bertie Wins

A SPLASH OF THE BUBBLY — New York Nets John Williamson, left, douses Nets president Roy Boe with celebration champagne in the Nets' locker room Thursday night. Nets forward Tim Bassett, right, joins in the jubilation following the Nets' victory over the Denver Nuggets, 112-106, to clinch the ABA championship title at the Nassau Coliseum. (AP Wirephoto)

Nets, Down 22, Rally To Capture ABA Title

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer
UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets were struggling.

They had fallen 22 points behind the Denver Nuggets with 5:07 remaining in the third quarter of the sixth game of their American Basketball Association championship series.

Their shooting was off-target. Their offense was disorganized. The Nuggets, particularly David Thompson and Dan Issel, were destroying their defense.

The situation appeared hopeless ... and it seemed a seventh and deciding game would have to be played in Denver Sunday.

Then, suddenly, the game turned.

The Nets, the best defensive team in the league throughout the regular season, began playing the defense that had distinguished them during that time. And because of it, their offense prospered.

They forced the Nuggets into costly mistakes, turnovers that resulted in Nets points or missed shots.

They began to close the gap. And they were gathering momentum.

The Nuggets, in the championship series for the first time, were coming apart at the seams.

By the end of the third quarter, Denver's lead was down to 12-78. And one period later, the Nets had completed their incredible surge from behind, beating the shocked and frustrated Nuggets 112-106 Thursday night.

The victory gave the Nets the series 4-2 and was their second championship in three years.

"You can only make a comeback like that when you have the guys who can play pressure defense," said New York Coach Kevin Loughery, his clothes dripping with champagne. "And we had them."

Loughery, who also led the Nets to their first league championship in 1974 in his rookie season as coach, ordered the Nets into a full-court press in the opening minute of the fourth quarter with Denver ahead 92-79. It was the turning point of the game.

For the entire last quarter, the Nuggets made only four field goals, two of them layups, after having connected for a total of 38 in the first three periods. Thompson, who had bombed the Nets for 38 points during the opening three quarters, was held to four foul shots in the final period.

Meanwhile, John Williamson got the Nets offense in high gear. He fired in 11 straight New York points, cutting the Nuggets' lead with just over eight minutes remaining.

Then, with about four minutes left, and the Nuggets still ahead 104-97, New York finally charged ahead for the first time since the opening period. Eleven straight points put the Nets in front 108-104 with 1:46 to go, and Denver couldn't recover.

Williamson, with 16 points in the fourth quarter, finished with 28. Julius Erving, the series' Most Valuable Player, scored 31, including 18 in the third period, and wound up with two championship records — 226 total points for a 37.7 average. He also had a game-high 19 rebounds.

Brian Taylor contributed 24 points and Jim Eakins, playing in place of starting center Kim Hughes, who was on crutches after suffering a severe sprain and a muscle tear in his left ankle during Game Five, had 15 points and 13 rebounds.

Thompson finished with 42 for Denver and Issel scored 30. But they didn't get enough help.

"I don't ever expect to see this team give up," said the joyful Loughery. "They have too much confidence in themselves to do that."

"You can't tell me there's a more courageous club than the Nets," said Larry Brown, Den-ver's disappointed coach. "You can't tell me there's a greater player than Julius Erving."

"I still think I have a great club," he continued. "We just let things get away from us in this series. It's hard for me to realize that we blew a 22-point lead and the chance to go back home and win it all. We just lost our poise."

While Brown found it difficult to believe, the sellout crowd of 15,934 at the Nassau Coliseum didn't. The fans went wild even before the game was over — and caused the last three seconds not to be played.

After Rich Jones made his only field goal of the game after 11 misses, a layup with three seconds left, giving the Nets their 112-106 lead, the enthusiastic, hysterical fans poured onto the court, surrounding their heroes.

Officials and police required several minutes to clear the playing area, but by that time, it was decided not to officially complete the game.

It really didn't matter, the Nets were champs.

They had done it with a team that was given little chance at the start of the season. They had undergone a big personnel shake-up since last season, when they were upset by the Spirits of St. Louis in the opening round of the playoffs and had become ex-champions after winning the title in 1974.

And it did not appear the changes were that beneficial.

"Coming out on top was much tougher this year because no one outside our organization expected it," said Loughery. Before the season, Denver, San Antonio, Kentucky and even St. Louis were picked to finish ahead of us.

By WOODY PEELE
WINDSOR — Bertie Senior High School took advantage of every break they were given and fought to a 4-2 victory over Rose High School last night.

The defeat dropped the Rampants to a 6-6 Division I record, and tied them with the Falcons for second place in the league. Wilson, 5-6, also have a stake in the position, which carries with it a runner-up berth into the State 4-A baseball playoffs.

Perhaps the most telling blow to the Rampants in the game was a premature end to a two-run rally in the third inning. That was halted by a controversial double play. Bertie came back with two in their half of the inning on a freak double, then added the two winning runs in the sixth winning.

Neither team was able to pick up many hits. Rose had five and Bertie had four. Joey Perry hurled the victory for the Falcons, allowing just one earned run. He walked two and struck out four.

Loser Mike Belton gave up just four hits, but two of them drove in all four runs. Belton's troubles were caused by four walks and a hit batter, as he added eight strikeouts.

Rose didn't get a runner until the third when Greg Lee opened up, reaching on an error off his bunt. He was sacrificed up and Greg Sasser reached on a bunt single. David Dixon followed that up with a single to deep short, scoring Lee from third. Jay Chenier followed up with a single to right, bringing in Sasser. Dixon moved to third on the play, and Chenier tried to stretch it on the relay home, but was caught going into second. A quick relay to third found Dixon sliding back into the base.

He was called out, however, by the field umpire, standing some 90 feet away, near second base. Rose Coach Ronald Vincent appealed to plate umpire Dutch Overton, who was near the play, but who appeared to make no signal. Overton later claimed he, too, had called Dixon out.

Nevertheless, it took the Rampants out of the inning and they never got it going again.

For the next three innings, however, they did get men in scoring position, only to have them die there.

After putting a man on second via a walk and a hit in the first, Bertie broke the ice in the third. With one down, Belton issued walks to Ricky Vick and Andy Flood, with Johnny Harrell running for the former. After a second out, Cliff Keel hit one through the gap between second and third, and Chenier slipped while trying to field the ball in left and it bounced past him, allowing both runners to score.

Belton held Bertie in check after that, retiring eight straight batters, but the sixth proved his downfall.

With one down, Belton hit Keel and Kerry sacrificed him up. Bill Eubanks walked, and a pickoff attempt at second was thrown away, allowing both to move up. Jack Curlings, who had twice fanned, then singled to right, scoring both runners for the 4-2 final score.

Rose plays host to league champ Northern Nash today at 3:30 p.m. at Guy Smith Stadium. The Rampants are now in a must-win situation if they wish to return to the playoffs and defend their 1975 state title.

Jenkins Said Pushing For New Conference

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Dr. Leo Jenkins, president of East Carolina University, has invited presidents and athletic directors of five other schools to join him at a meeting here in mid-June to discuss formation of a new conference, the Richmond Times-Dispatch says.

"I can't discuss that tonight," Jenkins told the paper Thursday night from Greenville, S. C., of its report he wants East Carolina to join in a new league with Virginia Tech, Richmond, William and Mary, South Carolina and West Virginia.

The paper said the move was triggered by the fact East Carolina had been given a clear indication the Atlantic Coast Conference, which it would like to join, has no expansion plans in the near future.

Richmond, East Carolina and William and Mary are members of the Southern Conference, but Richmond officially leaves the league June 1, East Carolina recently announced it was quitting after the 1976-77 school year and William and Mary is reported ready to get out.

Both Virginia Tech and West Virginia have been independent a number of years since leaving the Southern Conference, while South Carolina became an independent after dropping out of the ACC in 1971.

Although South Carolina since has tried to rejoin the ACC and Virginia Tech has been openly interested in membership the last 10 years, the seven-member ACC isn't expected to discuss expansion at its spring meeting next week in Myrtle Beach, S. C.

Five votes are required to expand, and the paper quoted a league official as saying last week "there are three schools unalterably opposed" to expansion at this time.

The paper quoted South Carolina basketball coach Frank McGuire as saying Thursday night he recently received a call from "a close friend" who asked whether he were interested in forming a new conference involving "six top schools along the East Coast."

McGuire said the proposal included "two prominent Virginia schools and one North Carolina school that I know of. Nothing has been done on paper, so I haven't been able to officially inform the university of this yet."

The Times-Dispatch said Jenkins reportedly has been in telephone contact with one of the presidents and reportedly issued written invitations Thursday for the Richmond meeting.

McGuire said he was "waiting for an official letter on this now, and supposedly these people want to hold a meeting in June. All of this is being handled at the (university) presidential level, where it should be."

The timing of the meeting, the paper said, is keyed to football reclassification now under way in the National College Athletic Association.

All six schools want to be classified at the top football level, but the NCAA will not announce its reclassification decisions until the first two days in June.

Lions Roll By Kiwanis, 16-0

The Lions romped to a 16-0 victory over the Kiwanis yesterday behind the no-hit pitching of Scott Galloway.

Galloway, in hurling the gem, walked just three batters while he struck out 14. Only three baserunners got as far as second base. The last 10 batters went down in order.

The Lions got all they needed with four runs in the first inning. Mark Gatlin singled to open the frame and moved up on an out. A passed ball moved him to third and he scored on Troy Hudson's fielder's choice. Galloway singled and Patrick Rand walked to load them up. David Jester singled in Hudson and Jim Whitehurst got a hit to score Galloway. Rand scored on a passed ball.

Another scored in the second. Roger Williams doubled, stole third and scored on Hudson's out.

Another pair scored in the third. Whitehurst singled and Robert Steel walked. Chris Smith singled in both runners. The Lions added four more in the fourth and five more in the fifth, including a homer by Williams.

Whitehurst led the hitting with three, while Williams and Edward Frazier each had two. Kiwanis 000 000—0 0 4

ALBANY, Calif. (AP) — A strike of janitors scratched Golden Gate Fields' thoroughbred racing program today, the ninth straight racing day lost, and no negotiations are scheduled in the dispute.

The janitors union wants a contract clause protecting the work force level at its current 79 men; the track management wants the right to reduce the staff and has offered to arbitrate the issue.

Milwaukee Mound Bothers Palmer

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The mound was "flat" at Milwaukee's County Stadium — and so was Jim Palmer.

"It wasn't really one of my better games," said the Baltimore right-hander. "I kind of got a little tired in the end."

As Palmer lost his vitality, his fastballs lost their velocity and the Cy Young winner had to be content to struggle through an eight-hit, 5-3 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Thursday.

Palmer's condition was not enhanced, either, by the condition of the Milwaukee mound — a situation that has bothered Palmer and other pitchers around the American League. Palmer has been the most vociferous critic of what he calls its "flat" surface.

"I got hit pretty hard in Kansas City last Sunday, so it was pretty hard to look forward to pitching in Milwaukee. But you can't do much about it. It's like throwing straight up in the air. You've got to make sure you release the ball from on top, or you'll throw a lot of high fastballs and they'll hit it out of the park on you all day."

In the other American League games, the Boston Red Sox beat the Cleveland Indians 7-5; the Detroit Tigers nipped the New York Yankees 3-2; the Kansas City Royals routed the Chicago White Sox 13-2 and the California Angels turned back the Texas Rangers 7-5. In the only National League game, the San Francisco Giants outscored the Chicago Cubs 9-5.

Despite fighting the Milwaukee mound along with the Milwaukee batters, Palmer had little trouble with the Brewers through the first seven innings. But then he was touched for a run in the eighth on George Scott's RBI single and two more in the ninth on a walk and two-out homer by Gorman Thomas.

Red Sox 7, Indians 5
Rick Miller drilled three hits and drove in three runs, sparking Boston over Cleveland. It was the second straight victory for the Red Sox after 10 straight losses.

Luis Tiant, 4-2, gave up nine hits and three of Cleveland's runs in 6-2-3 innings. Jim Willoughby, the second relief pitcher, pitched the last two innings for the Red Sox and gave up two runs in the ninth on sacrifice flies by Doug Howard and Ron Pruitt.

Tigers 3, Yanks 2
Rusty Staub's three-run homer with two out in the eighth inning following an intentional walk to Willie Horton lifted Detroit over New York. Chris Chambliss' home run in the bottom of the seventh had given the Yankees a 1-0 lead, snapping a scoreless duel between winner Vern Ruhle, 3-0, and loser Rudy May, 2-1.

Royals 13, White Sox 2
George Brett smashed three hits for the sixth straight game and John Mayberry belted three hits and knocked in two runs to lead Kansas City past Chicago. Mayberry took a .182 batting average into the game, but pounded two singles and a triple. Also contributing to the 16-hit Kansas City attack was Cookie Rojas, who drove in three runs with an eighth-inning double.

Angels 7, Rangers 5
Orlando Alvarez, recalled earlier in the day from the minors, blasted his first major league homer, a three-run shot in the fifth inning, to power California over Texas. Alvarez, a 23-year-old outfielder acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers this spring, played as the designated hitter and delivered his homer off Stan Perzanowski as the Angels built a 7-3 lead.

Giants 9, Cubs 5
Willie Montanez tripled in the tying run in the ninth inning and scored on a single by Steve Ontiveros as San Francisco erupted for five runs to defeat Chicago. The Cubs had broken a 4-4 tie in the bottom of the eighth inning of the rain-delayed game when they scored a run without a hit on walks to Jerry Morales and Manny Trillo, a sacrifice bunt by Steve Swisher and Dave Rosello's sacrifice fly.

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — More than 200 players are trying to qualify today and Saturday in a 36-hole test for the 64 non-exempt places for the North and South amateur golf tournament.

They and 64 exempt players, including defending champion Curtis Strange of Virginia Beach, Va., and Wake Forest University, will open match play Monday. The 76th annual tournament will run through next Saturday.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Hockey League's annual amateur draft will be held May 27 instead of June 1 as originally scheduled, it was announced Thursday.

No official reason was given for the switch, although the early finish of this year's play-off season is probably a factor in the decision.

The league's annual meetings are scheduled for Montreal beginning June 7.

RALEIGH (AP) — In an effort to find out why some children learn more than others, state education officials have been asking ninth graders such questions as, "Are you ashamed of how much money your parents make?"

And thousands of ninth graders have been answering the questions. The state guarantees their anonymity.

Other questions on the personal attitudes test ask the students to tell whether they cry easily, whether they are ever ashamed of themselves, or whether they would be the same sex if they could be born again.

Dr. Robert C. Evans, director of the state's evaluation and assessment unit, said the purpose of the testing is to find out what social and economic attitudes have to do with academic achievement. Much of the standard testing is strictly academic.

By correlating the academic results with the attitude answers, Evans said, the department hopes to tell what types of attitudes contribute toward academic achievement and which do not.

The program has come under attack in the legislature. The House refused to appropriate $189,000 to continue it until Lt. Gov. Jim Hunt said the money was a "non-negotiable" part of the Senate budget. Senate conferees conceded most of their budget differences to the House in order to preserve the testing program.

Hunt said the program was essential in determining the success of special efforts to help each child learn to read. But Evans himself described some of the questions as "very personal."

He said the question of privacy bothers the state educators. The test includes a statement advising students not to answer questions they do not want to answer.

Test Code On 'Tenure'

BOONE, N.C. (AP) — Appalachian State University may soon find out the definition of "neglect of duty" by a tenured professor.

The school is testing the tenure code under which no state university professor has been fired "in recent times," according to a University of North Carolina official.

Chancellor Herbert W. Wey called for the ouster of Dr. Robert H. West in March, saying that West had been devoting too much time to his law practice and not enough to his teaching duties.

West is protesting the decision. He has taken his case before the school's Academic Freedom and Tenure Committee, which is due to make a recommendation by May 21.

West said he received permission in 1973 to devote one hour per day to his law practice. The school alleges that he has missed two classes this semester, been late for another, and has not kept posted office hours.

West has said that if the committee recommends his dismissal, he will take the case to federal court.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today and tonight are likely to find you discontented and eager to make changes, but you would be wise to remain silent. Otherwise you could lose support by a complaining attitude.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't fall for new-fangled ideas that are not practical. Be calm in the face of opposition, otherwise you could easily get in trouble.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make sure to keep promises you have made. Your mate may be a bit difficult, so be patient. Atmospheric conditions are responsible.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use tact in dealing with an associate who may not be doing what you think is best. You can get the best results through reasoning.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Handle all those duties ahead of you while you are in the mood. Use care with a co-worker who may be out of sorts.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Not a good day for amusements you had in mind, so postpone them to a better time. Show more devotion to mate. Be more practical-minded.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take time to make family life more ideal. Get rid of whatever may be causing tension at home. Show that you have wisdom.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Much care must be exercised in motion of all kind today to avoid an accident. Listen to what a financial expert has to suggest.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Listen carefully to what a business expert has to suggest for handling an important

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Friday, May 14, 1976—11 financial problem. Use practical methods.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study your reflection in the mirror and make improvements that are needed. Do not accept a social invitation where there's disharmony.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Forget those seeming limitations and go ahead with plans you have made and make them work to your advantage. Express confidence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although you rely on your friends a lot, it is best you go after your aims alone today, be they of business or personal nature.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do nothing that could ruin your reputation by obeying rules that apply to you. New appliances could make your work easier.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will enjoy physical competition and is likely to stir things up just for the fun of it. Be sure to give sports that will wear off this excessive energy, and then this can become a most successful life, particularly in managerial lines.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Dedicated New Butner Prison

BUTNER, N.C. (AP) — James V. Bennett, former director of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, says the new approach will be more humane treatment and environment for inmates, and opportunities to help prepare themselves for return to society.

Bennett said Thursday at the dedication of the federal prison at Butner that he hoped it would be the model for such an approach, which he conceived.

The new prison near Durham was dedicated to Bennett.

He said no one would be able to charge that, "We failed at Butner because of warehousing."

Dr. Martin Groder, former warden-designate at Butner, has accused the federal prison system of just warehousing inmates. Just before the dedication, Groder repeated, in a newscast on CBS, his charge that the federal prisons have turned away from rehabilitation.

Dr. Donald Deppe, the warden, said the unique thing about Butner will be that it will offer inmates a free choice to participate in self-help programs, rather than coerce par-

UDINE, Italy (AP) — The Italian government has rushed hundreds of railway cars to Friuli province to house earthquake victims driven from their tent camps by flooding rains.

Police warned the homeless in five camps that they might have to move.

Rescue squads stopped digging through the debris for bodies and dug drainage ditches around the tent camps. But officials said there was no health hazard yet.

Continue Probe Of Theft Case

Chief Glenn Cannon said today that Greenville Police are continuing their investigation into the theft of a tape player and FM converter from a car parked near the intersection of Third and Plant Streets yesterday.

The Chief said Milton Parker of Route 1, Stokes reported the theft at 5:35 p.m. He said entry was gained through an unlocked door.

Value of the equipment was estimated at $70.

Another threatened village was evacuated Thursday night, adding more than 3,000 persons to more than 100,000 persons made homeless by the first severe quake May 6. It was the fifth village evacuated in two days.

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, after a visit to one of the tent camps and a meeting with Italian officials, told reporters the government had done a "splendid job."

The vice president said he was certain the House of Representatives would approve the Ford administration's legislation to allocate $24 million to the Italian government for relief and reconstruction. The Senate has already passed the bill.

American officials said the United States already has sent more than $600,000 worth of tents, supplies, food and medicine to the quake area.

Gather To Prepare Parade Of Homes

The Parade of Homes committee and various builders participating in this year's event sponsored by the Greenville Home Builders Association met today to discuss last minute details and launch the parade.

On hand for the meeting, held at the Greenville Golf and Country Club, was City Engineer Charlie Holliday and Chief Building Inspector Alton Warren.

It was noted during the meeting that some 400 to 500 families are expected to attend the parade scheduled for this

Saturday and Sunday, May 15 and 16.

Parade of Homes committee chairman Lee Ball said that builders will be available to answer questions of home buyers and interested participants. Brochures may be picked up at sponsoring businesses and at most restaurants throughout the city, he added.

A suggested parade route has been planned, it was noted, and directional signs will be placed beside roads indicating the route.

Represent PTI At Annual Convention

Twelve Pitt Tech students and two faculty members from the Radiologic Technology Program represented PTI recently at the Annual Convention of the North Carolina Society of Radiologic Technology in Boone.

A highlight of the convention was the reelection and installation of Sandra Harrison as president of the society. She is the chief R.T. for Pitt Memorial Hospital.

During the convention, students attended lectures and competed with other Radiologic Technology students in exhibit displays.

Lindsey Beddard, a Pitt Tech student in R.T., placed third in the exhibit competition. His exhibit was entitled "Sweet Eye Localization." The "sweet" method of localization is used in radiology for the purpose of localizing a foreign object within the eye. The position of the foreign body is localized by geometric calculation by a radiologist or ophthalmologist. These calculations determine what operative measures must be taken, if any.

"The meeting provided the faculty and students with numerous learning opportunities and materials," according to Garrie Moore, chairman of the Pitt Technical Institute R.T. program.

Scholarship To Local Student

Miss Cindy Carole Allen, a Meredith College student from Greenville, was awarded an Ida Poteat Scholarship in the recent Awards Day ceremonies on the campus.

Two Ida Poteat Scholarships for $200 each are given each year, one to a rising senior and one to a rising junior, by the Meredith Alumnae Association in memory of Miss Ida Poteat, teacher of art at Meredith from 1899-1929. Selection is made by an alumnae committee on the basis of scholarship, character, and service to the college. Miss Allen was presented her award by Miss Anne Bryan, president of the alumnae association.

Gospel Sing On Saturday Night

A gospel sing, sponsored by the Association of Operation Room Technicians at Pitt Memorial Hospital, has been scheduled for Saturday night.

The program will be held at D. H. Conley High School and will begin at 8 p.m.

Featured singers will include the Dixie Melody Boys, the Hopper Brothers and Connie. Admission will be charged.

Mathematician Is ECU Visitor

Lida K. Barrett, head of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, visited the East Carolina University Department of Mathematics last week.

Dr. Barrett addressed a gathering of math faculty members and students on "Applied Mathematics or Applicable Mathematics."

The Cosmetologist Club, Chapter No. 24 will present The Spirit of 76 Annual Hair Styles and Fashion Show Sunday at 4 p.m.
