Viola Dixon ~~was~~ reported on the Constitution booklet.

The ~~Society~~ Society was authorized to write letters of condolence for the Society to Misses Blanche and Ethel Everett and Lalla Pritchard.

The programme committee for our next Social meeting was appointed by Miss Alice Medlin chairman of the Programme Committee -

As there was no further business to come before the Society the meeting adjourned.

On the evening of March 15, 1913, the E. A. Poe. Society had a meeting with Miss Blanche Lancaster presiding in the absence of the President.

The May Pole Dance, which is to be given in May, was discussed. The Committee, appointed to see Mr. Wright about our Musical, reported that he had given his consent for us to have it.

The meeting was then turned over to the chairman of the Programme committee and the following programme was rendered -

"The troubles of the Balkan States against Turkey" Mabel Bradcher.

Music Miss Madeline Albritton

"What Austria wants in the Balkans by Addie Pearson
