Quartette "Tenting tonight" by
Misses Moore, Cox, Brooks and Whitehurst
"The Rise of Bulgaria" Eliza Branch.
"Gen. Savoff, the most conspicuous Soldier" Pearl Brown.
Music - Eunice Albritton
"The King who holds the Balance in the Balkans" Ada Smith.

After the Programme the meeting adjourned -

On the evening of April 12, 1913 the Edgar Allan Poe Literary Society and the Sidney Lanier Society of the East Carolina Teachers Training School held an inter-Society debate on the query: Resolved: That the time has come when the women of North Carolina should be granted the right of suffrage on the same conditions as men - The negative side (the Lanier Society) was upheld by Misses Sudie Lancaster, Lela Deans and Bessie Doub, while the affirmative was upheld by Miss Lois Grubbs, Rosa Edgerton and Corinne W. Bright of the Poe Society - The judges decided in favor of the affirmative, two votes being cast for the affirmative and one for the negative - The Edgar Allan Poe Literary Society won!!!!