On the evening of October 11th The Edgar Allen Poe had its formal initiation, which took place on the first floor of the Administration Building. Miss Emma Cobb presided over the meeting. The reports of the different committees were submitted to the society; the names of the new members were read and approved. After the business was finished the new members were initiated in groups of threes and fours and made to repeat the solemn vow of secrecy. Immediatly following the initiation, members, both old and new, gathered in the Library, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and there delicious refreshments were served. Each one present pronounced it an enjoyable evening.

The Edgar Allen Poe Society had a call meeting in the auditorium on the afternoon of Oct. 14th. Initiation was discussed and the different committees were appointed. A committee was sent to Mr. Wright to ask for the first floor of the Main Building. After all the business was finished the meeting adjourned.
