

Unemployment Rate Falls In July To 6.9 Per Cent

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —
The nation's unemployment rate fell to 6.9 per cent in July, resuming its downward course after rising the previous month, the government reported today.

Unemployment had risen
from 6.9 per cent in May to 7.1 per cent in June after declining from a 1976 high of 8 per cent last November.

Labor Department
analysts said that with the rate hovering close to the 7 per cent level for the past several months, the growth in the economy appears to have slowed temporarily following the sharp expansion earlier this year.

Some economists were expecting another rise in the jobless rate last month, but a sharp decline in the civilian labor force brought the rate down in July.

Civilian labor force, which includes those working and looking for work, declined by 340,000 last month with nearly all of the reduction occurring among teen-agers. The government said it was likely that the reduction in the labor force was due to the lateness of the survey week when the June figures were gathered.

"Thus, some youths who otherwise would have been recorded as July entrants were counted in June," the government said.

There was little growth in the number of Americans with jobs last month, as total employment, at 90.6 million, was little changed from June after advancing for eight consecutive months.

Over the past year employment had grown by 2.8
million, with a 2.9 million increase in nonagricultural industries and a 140,000
decline in agriculture.

With the jobless rate falling back to 6.9 per cent last month, the total number of unemployed declined by 220,000 to 6.7 million.

Most of the drop occurred
among teen-agers and adult women.

The Labor Department said the teen-age jobless rate fell from 18.6 per cent to 17.4 per cent last month, its lowest point since October, 1974.
However it was only white youths that benefited, as the rate for black teen-agers remained "extremely high"
at 40.7 per cent, the government said.

Among other major groups
in the labor force, the government gave the following breakdown:

—The jobless rate for adult men increased to 5.1 per cent in July from 5 per cent in June.

—The rate for adult women declined to 6.9 per cent last month from 7.2 per cent.

—Among whites, the unemployment rate dropped from 6.3 per cent to 6.1 per cent.

—Unemployment among blacks and other minorities was unchanged at 13.2 per cent.

Nonfarm payrolls rose by 255,000 last month to a total of 82.4 million.

Nearly three-fourths of the increase occurred in the service-producing industries.
But there was also a 70,000-job increase in manufacturing employment which has grown by a total of 750,000
since last October.

Employment in the construction industry increased by 35,000 last month, about half of the gain resulting from strike settlements. But there was a decline of 35,000 in mining employment, largely because of strike activity, the government said.

The average work week for nonfarm production workers edged down a tenth of an hour for the second consecutive month to 36.1 hours in July.

Manufacturing overtime also edged down one-tenth of an hour after holding at 3.4 hours for three months. Both of these measures indicate slowed economic growth.

Average hourly earnings were $5.23 in July, up 2 cents from June and 37 cents from a year earlier. Average weekly earnings total $190.90, an increase of $1.26 over the month and $13.02 from the level in July 1976.

Job-Making Bill Signed By Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, calling youth unemployment "a serious affliction on our American democracy," today signed legislation to put 200,000 young people to work.

The $1 billion program he signed into law includes park and forestry jobs like those in the depression-era Civilian Conservation Corps. Carter put his name on the bill with two green pens at a ceremony in the White House Rose Garden.

The legislation is the last part of the President's economic stimulus package. Carter said an additional 1,000 public service jobs are being contracted for each week and Americans are getting a tax cut under parts of the program already in effect.

The youth employment program includes job training and is also aimed at cutting the rate of high school dropouts. Carter said the program would encourage young people who lose self-esteem because they can't find work and subsequently "lash out against authority."

"This program will single out young people and give them a chance in life," the President said.

It was the third time this week Carter sat at a small brown table on the Rose Garden lawn to sign legislation. On Wednesday, he put his signature on strip mining control legislation.
Thursday he signed into being the Department of Energy.

"I think this is a good week for my administration, for Congress and for the whole nation," he declared.

Carter praised members of Congress, particularly Sens.
Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., and Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky. Williams and Perkins are the chairmen of key committees that handled the youth jobs bill.

The President set aside time for the signing before meeting for the third time in two days with President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania.

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said the two leaders are turning to efforts to improve relations between Tanzania and the United States after discussing the possibilities of bringing black majority rule to Rhodesia without "an escalation to massive bloodshed and civil war."

After his session with Nyerere, Carter is witnessing an oath-taking ceremony for James R. Schlesinger, the nation's first secretary of energy. The Senate confirmed Schlesinger's nomination Thursday a few hours after Carter signed into being the Department of Energy which Schlesinger will head.

Later today, the President and Mrs. Carter planned to fly home to Plains, Ga., where they will return to the Methodist church in which they were married to be guests at the wedding tonight of Mrs. Carter's brother, Murray Smith.

Carter will announce his welfare program Saturday at a news conference in a small, one-story agricultural experiment station near Plains. The meeting with reporters will be available for live radio and television coverage.

A HOTLINE APPEAL

CRITICALLY ILL BABY

A young couple who live in Homestead Trailer Park on the Belvoir Highway near here have a critically ill six-month old son.

The infant has a liver problem discovered soon after birth which has kept him hospitalized in Pitt Memorial and Duke Hospitals much of his life. He is back in Pitt Memorial now and doctors tell the parents that they have done a "fantastic" job caring for him for this long, but there is little chance that he will survive many more days.

The young man's job with Wilson Tree Service is not enough to handle all the expenses that have been involved in his son's care, of course. Friends in the trailer park have taken up food for them
recently, but much more help is needed.

Anyone wishing to assist the couple with medical and other bills may send contributions in care of the manager of the trailer park, Claude
Roache, Homestead Trailer Park, Lot 41, Rt. 4, Greenville, N. C. 27834 or go by Pop's Quick Way,
the store located at the entrance to the park,
which Roache runs.

UPDATE MEETING

RALEIGH, N.C. — North Carolina Department of Transportation officials will conduct a public meeting in New Bern August 9 (Tuesday), at the Sudan Temple on Broad Street, to provide area residents with an annual update
of the State's Highway Improvement program. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m.

—Rejected by voice vote a proposed four-cent increase to 11 cents in the tax on gasoline
for private aircraft.

—Killed, 226-190, a proposal
to earmark crude oil tax revenues for support of Social Security benefit payments.

—Voted, 223-198, against a proposed return, or "plow-
back," of some of the tax revenue to certain oil companies as a, incentive for exploration.

Follow Carter Script

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives, working through the last sections of President Carter's national energy program, is adhering to White House wishes except for the issue of a higher gasoline tax.

With House leaders hoping to complete work on the bill today before Congress begins a month-long recess, the main votes remaining are on a Republican effort to junk the President's energy plan in favor of their own.

Meanwhile, James Schlesinger, Carter's nominee to head
the new Department of Energy, was scheduled to be sworn in today in a White House ceremony.

Generally, the GOP alternative energy plan calls for less regulation of the oil industry.
Backers of the proposal say it would assure ample fuel supplies and prevent a repetition of last winter's shortages and plant closings.

The Republican blueprint has virtually no chance of approval by the Democratic House, and Republicans are so confident that Carter's program won't work that they already have announced plans to campaign against it in next year's congressional elections.

In debate Thursday, lawmakers handed the President one of his few setbacks on the bill, rejecting a plan he supported to hike the federal gasoline tax by a nickel a gallon. The vote was 339-82 against increasing the current tax of four cents a gallon.

A proposed tax hike of four cents also was defeated, 370-52.
The House took these other actions:

—Rejected by voice vote a
proposed four-cent increase to 11 cents in the tax on gasoline
for private aircraft.

—Killed, 226-190, a proposal
to earmark crude oil tax revenues for support of Social Security benefit payments.

—Voted, 223-198, against a
proposed return, or "plow-
back," of some of the tax revenue to certain oil companies as
a, incentive for exploration.

Council Applied Right To Assess For Street Work

By TOM BAINES

Reflector Staff Writer

The City Council voted last night to exercise its new power of assessment to pave, curb and gutter a portion of Fourth Street at the total expense of the property owners on the unpaved section.

By unanimous vote, the Council resolved that the improvements be made on the section of Fourth Street lying between Hilltop Avenue and Hickory Street with
"one hundred per cent of the total costs" assessed upon the Brown heirs, owners of the property.

The city received the authority to make street improvements in Greenville and to assess the costs of the improvements against the abutting property owners without the necessity of petition as a result of ratification in May of House Bill 464
by the N.C. General Assembly.

The bill provided that the improvements would be authorized if the Council found that a street or section of a street was unsafe for vehicular traffic and the public interest would be served by the improvements; if the public interest would be served by connecting two streets or portions of a street already improved; if public interest would be served by widening a street; or if the street was in need of repair or pavement.

Attorney James Cheatham appeared before the Council
as representative of Mrs.
Elvira Tolson, who Cheatham identified as being owner of one-fourth
"undivided interest" in the Brown property.

Cheatham requested on behalf of Mrs. Tolson that the city not adopt a resolution directing the improvements to be undertaken and that the city not use its powers of assessment except in extreme circumstances.

The local attorney said that the proposed action by the city constituted a taking of property and he said that

Mrs. Tolson has not requested the paving.

According to Cheatham,
the proposed assessment
figure for Mrs. Tolson's property amounts to $5,000 to $6,000 out of a total assessment of some $18,000. He said that Mrs. Tolson depends on the property for rental income.

Cheatham said that the constitutionality of the ordinance giving the power of assessment to the city is in question in the matter. He referred to the paving as being a convenience for area property owners rather than a matter of public interest.

Andy Heath of Charlotte, appearing on behalf of his mother, Mrs. W. A. Heath of Kannapolis, said if the improvements are deemed to be in the public interest, the work should be paid for out of public funds. Mrs. Heath, it was noted, owns one-eighth of the property in question.

Heath contended that safety and drainage is not a factor on the unpaved portion of Fourth Street. He referred to the powers held by the city under the ordinance as "awesome" and said those powers could be used for special interest groups.

Councilman John Howard said that the matter of maintenance is involved in the Fourth Street issue.
Cheatham contended that maintenance is not addressed in the ordinance as a criteria for using the assessment authority.

Merrill Bynum, who lives at the corner of E. Fourth and Hilltop, said that area property owners want the street paved "if there is any way of getting it paved." He said that to have two blocks of unpaved street within four blocks of the university is a "disgrace."

Bynum spoke on behalf of several property owners who attended the meeting.

The preliminary resolution on the assessment provided that the "percentage of the cost of the work to be assessed against the abutting property owners will be 100 per cent, excluding, however,
work at intersections."

In another matter on the agenda involving assessments, Council members adopted a resolution finding facts that a portion of the unpaved section of Brownlea Drive should be improved with curb, gutter and paving. In addition, a resolution was adopted on the proposed assessment for the work and calling for a public hearing at the Sept. 8 Council meeting.

City Manager Jim
Caldwell explained that property owners in the proposed Brownlea section had petitioned the city to improve the whole unpaved section of the street. He said that the city does not have funds at this time to participate in the improvements and such participation would be authorized since the street is shown as a thoroughfare on the city's thoroughfare plan.

Caldwell recommended a resolution be adopted finding facts that a portion of Brownlea, involving a section extending from Tenth Street southerly some 1,330 feet to the Parsons' property, be paved. The property owners would be assessed for the cost of the work involving the abutting section of the street while the city would pay for the center line segment.

Councilman Dr. Frank
Fuller said that he is concerned that if the public wishes to petition for street

Youth Is Charged With Theft At Police Dept.

By STUART SAVAGE

Reflector Staff Writer

Ernest Dale Morris, 16 of 201
South Warren St. was arrested by Greenville Police on charges of breaking, entering and larceny of a firearm in connection with the theft of a revolver from the Police Department's Detective Division last March.

Chief Glenn Cannon said
Morris was taken into custody shortly after Noon today following an intensive investigation of the incident.

Morris, Cannon said, is president of the department's Police Cadet organization.

Cannon said earlier today that no publicity was given to the theft in March, because it was felt it would hamper investigation of the incident.

The chief said theft of the weapon, recovered by Ayden Police last week, was considered, "an internal affair," at the time.

"We wanted to get to the bottom of it," Cannon emphasized. At the time, he said,
"we felt publicity would hamper and delay closing of the case."

The pistol recovered by Ayden officers a week ago had been taken from a local sporting goods store and was being held as evidence by Greenville

Police. When officers moved to return the gun to the store, they found it had been taken from a Detective Division locker, Cannon said.

The chief noted that since that time, attempts have been made to "jimmy two doors" to other areas in the police department, one of them a door leading to the department's arms room. Cannon emphasized that entry was not gained and no other thefts have occurred.

Cannon said the only other theft from the department that he could recall occurred
"possibly 10 years ago," when

Jewelry For Men Gets OK From Designer

By JOHN MOODY
UPI Men's Fashion Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — The word is out for men — Jewelry's in.
Bracelets, necklaces and diamonds, which for generations have rested in the woman's domain, have finally found their way into the jewel boxes of Americans marked "His." And one reason for the transition has been Aldo Cipullo, the Italian-born jewelry designer who came up with the "Love Bracelet" while he was apprenticing at Cartier's in New York.

"Men now are much freer to wear whatever they want, and that includes jewelry," Cipullo said. "We are not a generation which has had rules laid down for us — 'Wear this, a man wouldn't wear that' — and therefore we are not afraid of labels like 'feminine' or 'un-masculine' being applied to us. It is up to a man to be a man, and what he wears should really have no bearing on his manliness. Manliness is inside."

The jewelry Cipullo creates tends to be one characteristic — simplicity.
He is aware that if the world is ready to accept a man in a bracelet of gold, it would still be wary if the bracelet has the gaudiness of the queen's jewels.

His Grandmother Is Out Of Bounds

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have a rather delicate problem. My husband comes from a large family, and I get along very well with all of them, but naturally I like some of his sisters and brothers better than others. My question: When I entertain, isn't it O.K. for me to invite, say, a few of my husband's sisters and brothers, and leave out some?
I was called on the carpet by my husband's grandmother who said if I couldn't invite ALL of the brothers and sisters, I shouldn't invite any of them. Abby, that would make 18 people every time. I don't expect to be invited every place MY sisters and brothers are. I'd like to add that I invite the whole tribe occasionally, so it's not like I'm snubbing anyone.

BIG FAMILY

DEAR BIG: I don't know who is calling the signals in your family, but she's out of bounds. If you "invite the whole tribe occasionally," no one should feel offended. Invite whom you wish.

DEAR ABBY: Last week I returned from caring for my ailing mother for the last five weeks. She has a terminal illness and lives 300 miles from here.
Yesterday a friend of mine called on me and I am still in shock. She begged me to give my husband a divorce! It seems they saw a lot of each other while I was out of town. She said they were "in love," and he claimed I won't give him a divorce. She said my husband said we were "separated" and I had left him!
We've been married for 17 years and there never was any mention of divorce. In fact, I thought we had a good marriage. I am stunned, hurt and dizzy trying to figure this out.
Can you help me?

STILL IN SHOCK

DEAR STILL: What's to figure out? Tell your husband about your visitor, and let HIM explain it to you.

Bridesmaids Luncheon Given Miss Simpson

Miss LaVonne Simpson, bride-elect of Garrie Moore, was honored Saturday at a bridesmaids luncheon given by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Moore.
The Moore home was decorated with a color scheme of pink and green. Individual tables were covered with pink linen cloths and centered with arrangements of summer flowers and pink candles.
Carnation corsages were given to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Bessie Simpson, Mrs. Mary Moore, mother of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs.

Rosa L. Harris by Mrs. Jean S. Carter, sister of the honoree.
Miss Simpson was remembered with a gift from Mrs. Moore.
The refreshment table was covered with a white embroidered linen cloth and decorated with a bridal cake flanked by arrangements of summer flowers. The mother of the honoree served cake.
Miss Simpson was given a collection of recipes from the guests and her hostess by Miss Annette Barnes.
Good-byes were said by the host and hostess.

Don't waste leftover brewed coffee! Chill it and mix it with milk and chocolate syrup for a delicious drink.

New Welcome Wagon Hostess Is Named

Mrs. Jeanie Whitehead has been named Greenville's new Welcome Wagon hostess.

Prior to moving to Greenville, she was a Welcome Wagon hostess in New Bern. A native of Rocky Mount, Mrs. Whitehead and her family lived here before moving to New Bern.

While living in Greenville, she was a member of the Welcome Wagon Club.

The Whiteheads have two sons, ages four and nine. They attend Memorial Baptist Church and he is an insurance underwriter.

Mrs. Whitehead says she is very domestic and loves to cook. She also enjoys camping, bowling and roller skating.

Mrs. Whitehead is active in religious work gets special pleasure from working with young people. "I am looking forward to meeting everyone in the club and am delighted at the prospect of continuing my Welcome Wagon work in Greenville," she said.

Mrs. Jeanie Whitehead

manager, were here to "kick off" the 50th year celebration of Welcome Wagon.

Hostesses were here from Rocky Mount, Roanoke Rapids, Washington and Havelock.

If you want your baked potatoes to have soft skins, rub them with a little butter or margarine or salad oil before putting them in the oven.

State Convention Report Given Auxiliary Members

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars held its business meeting Thursday night.

Mrs. Ruth Evans reported on the state convention held recently in Winston-Salem. She announced that 7032 Auxiliary in Division Two won first place in the work done for the children at O'Berry Center.

Mrs. Carrie West was voted to be an honorary Post Department president and voted to be the assistant state chaplain.

The State Department President is Mrs. Mary Cazney of Gastonia.

The District Two meeting was held in Mount Olive July 31.

Mrs. Doris Harris reported that five auxiliary and three post members visited the Veterans Hospital, Fayetteville, recently and held a birthday party.

Mrs. Margaret Joyner, Cancer Aid and Research chairman, reported that $62.15 was collected during July.

It was announced that the auxiliary would have a yard sale Sept. 10.

Mrs. Patricia Heydorn was enrolled as a new member.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Alice Moseley, senior vice president. Mrs. Rosa Lee Williams, Mrs. Elroy

Highsmith and Mrs. Mildred Merrill served refreshments.

A BABY? ... YES

NEW YORK (AP) — A couple of years ago Dr. Elizabeth M. Whelan wrote a book, "A Baby? ... Maybe," which originated from the dilemma she and her husband faced about whether or not to have children and reflected the quandary of many American couples who debate the pros and cons of parenthood.
Recently Dr. Whelan, who runs a preparenthood counseling service, and her husband, attorney Stephen Thomas Whelan, announced the birth of a daughter, Christine.

"After we looked at the pros and cons and weighed all possible alternatives as scientifically as we could, we finally realized that what we were dealing with was basically an emotional decision," she said. "We felt — for no fully rational reason — that we didn't want to miss the experience of having at least one child."

Spilman, Oglesby Named Pitt Democrats Of Year

By BARBARA MATHEWS
Reflector Staff Writer
Mrs. J. B. Spilman of Greenville and Henry Oglesby of Grit-

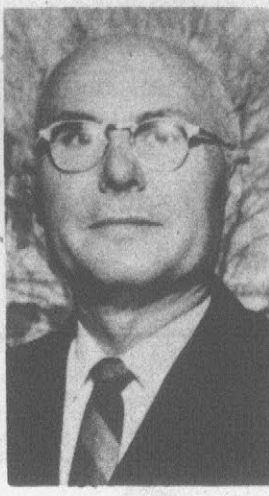

MRS. J.B. SPILMAN

ton have been named Pitt County Democrats of the Year. According to Mrs. Betty Speir, county party chairman, Oglesby and Mrs. Spilman will be in contention for honors as the State Democrat of the Year. "They are both such good candidates," said Mrs. Speir. "Mrs. Spilman's career over the years has been an outstanding one. She has blazed the way for women in politics since the 1930s."

"And Henry Oglesby has had an illustrious and influential career in the party."

Oglesby served as administrative assistant to Congressman Herbert Bonner for 20 years, was president of the North Carolina Democratic Club in Washington, D.C., and was chairman of the county Democratic organization.

Mrs. Spilman said she was "really thrilled" at the selection.

Approve Step Seeking Insurance Policy Bids

WILLIAMSTON — Approval of a motion to permit the various insurance policies of Martin County to be put out for bids was the major item of business on the agenda of the Martin County Commissioners for the board's regular August meeting.

Under the provisions of the motion, the county accountant has been designated to gather information on present policies and to seek the assistance of the Department of Insurance in Raleigh for making the change to a bid system as the individual policies now in force expire.

Maurice Dunn, introduced to commissioners by Agriculture Extension Agent Leon Allen, was approved for the position of assistant agricultural extension agent for the county. A Snow Hill native, Dunn is a graduate of N.C. A&T University.

Letting of a bid on a landfill trash compactor was tabled until a future meeting following a lengthy discussion on specifications. Two bids were submitted — one by Arrows Equipment Co. at $88,600 for a Rago Ram-pacter 65; the other was a $93,715 bid by the E. F. Craven Co. for a Rex 350 Trashmaster.

Approval based on the stipulation that a grant request goes through was voted on a request made by Betty Griffin on behalf of the Senior Citizens Center. The request is that a $3,051 budget item for a janitor be diverted as matching funds for a state grant. If the grant is approved, the total that would become available for renovation of the center would be $24,000. If the grant application fails acceptance, the $3,051 would revert back to the originally designated allocation for a janitor for the center.

In other actions, taken by the commissioners:

— Approval was given the County Board of Education to transfer $91,430 from current expense funds surplus to the capital outlay budget;

— Agreed to include Roy Cooper Lane in the Jamesville area as part of the state road system;

— Delayed until a meeting can be arranged with Rober-sonville and Mid-East Housing Authorities a request by

Haywood Harris that the Martin Community Action be allowed to request funding for 50 units of Section 8 housing in Martin County;

— Turned over to the county attorney a report by County Accountant Donnie Pittman that by January 1, 1978 the county must have a building and electrical inspector;

— Designated Pittman as the person to sign mosquito control material sent to Raleigh; and — Heard a report that $23,920 has been sent to Martin County from federal funds to assist residents suffering from the high costs of energy.

born and I will die as: a Baptist and a Democrat."

Oglesby said he was flattered at being named.

"I think the party has done more for me than I have done for the party," he said.

"Any little thing I've done for the Democrats I have owed them."

The credentials of both Mrs. Spilman and Oglesby have been sent to a committee in Raleigh for consideration as State Democrat of the Year.

Recommend Rationing

CARRBORO, N.C. (AP) — Without strict water rationing, Chapel Hill and Carrboro "could be in serious trouble by the middle of October," says a consultant for the Orange Water and Sewer Authority.

Robert Blum has been working on a drought management plan which includes the imposition of strict rationing as the shortage worsens, possibly enforced by water cutoffs and fines.

Blum said University Lake, from which both towns draw their water, would be dry by the end of November unless water consumption is drastically reduced beforehand.

The lake will last through November without rain only if consumption is held to 3 million gallons a day, said the graduate student in the school of public health at the University of North Carolina.

Consumption last month averaged 5.8 million gallons a day before conservation measures were enacted. This week the two towns have used about 4 million gallons each day.

Blum said rationing could make the lake last until January.

Looking for an Asthma Cure

My husband has had attacks of asthma for many years. Every time he hears of a new cure we pack bag and baggage and go to the most far-off places. Fortunately, he is retired so it's not too difficult to roam around. We've moved to three different parts of the country. Still the attacks come on. We heard about a special type of "cellular therapy" in Europe which is supposed to be good for asthmatics. Do you know where it is being given? — Mrs. A.V.D., R.I.

Dear Mrs. D.: Yes, I am aware of the so-called "cellular treatment." The enthusiasm generated in the country of origin has not been substantiated by any physician in the United States. Under the circumstances, I would hesitate to recommend it for your husband. It would be an expensive experiment, fraught with a great possibility of disappointment.

Many new advances have been made in the prevention of asthmatic attacks and in their control when they do occur. Have you ever considered the possibility that your impatience for rapid recovery is chasing you from place to place, without giving any one single doctor a real opportunity to study your husband exhaustively over an extended period of time? Only in this way can a physician, in consultation with an allergist, establish a regime that will diminish the frequency and the severity of the asthmatic attacks.

I've been told that I have a "nervous stomach." I looked it up in a medical book, but couldn't find the term. Can you explain it? — Miss F.R.F., Ohio

Dear Miss F.: Unfortunately, I will be no greater help than the medical book. For "nervous stomach" is not a medical term, and does not indicate a definite condition. Many vague complaints are dropped in the homemade category of "nervous stomach."

and "biliousness." If you have any specific complaints, it would be much wiser to bring them to the attention of your doctor so that he can study them and properly evaluate them, with X-rays and other tests at his disposal.

Very often, a nervous, highly tense, emotionally upset person will have symptoms that are concentrated in the area of the stomach. If this is what you mean by a "nervous stomach" your doctor may take advantage of a psychological consultation, in order to arrive at the definite cause of your problem.

Putting Marijuana Into Focus

President Carter is asking Congress to recognize something that is obvious — use of marijuana is already so widespread in this nation that criminal penalties for its use are futile.

The president asked that federal criminal penalties for possessing up to one ounce of marijuana be ended. The present maximum sentence is stiff, a fine of up to $5,000 and up to a year in prison.

President Carter proposes a civil fine for simple possession.

It was pointed out that over 45 million Americans have tried marijuana and probably some 11 million use it regularly.

Under the Carter plan selling marijuana would still be illegal and use of marijuana would still be discouraged.

The president's position seems logical to us. We are not happy with the spread of another mind bender such as marijuana, and comparing it to liquor doesn't make it any more acceptable.

Still some young person who happens to be caught with pot shouldn't face the possibility of a long prison term.

The president brought the matter into focus when he said, "Penalties against possession of a drug should not be more damaging to an individual than the use of the drug itself."

Further Review Is Certainly In Order

Marine Corps officials and pilots say they have full confidence in the vertical take-off jets, even though a number have crashed.

There have been 24 crashes of the Harrier AV-8A, which have raised questions either about its reliability or the adequacy of training of those who pilot them.

Maybe the plane is reliable, but the military should certainly review it mechanically, and also the training program for its pilots.

'Low Key' Bonds Campaign

By BILL NOBLITT
RALEIGH — If, as signals now indicate, the administration of Gov. James B. Hunt produces a "low-key" campaign for voter approval in November of $300 million in road bonds, the outcome would seem iffy.

There are two main ingredients at work which will determine the way voters will go: the location of projects to be funded by the bonds; and the future impact on gasoline costs.

State officials proclaim the bonds will not cause gas taxes to go up. But the truth is that gas taxes will go up — whether the bonds can be blamed or not is another matter.

State Transportation Secretary Thomas W. Bradshaw concedes the necessity for a state tax hike from the present nine cents per gallon to 10, or perhaps, 11 cents. His boss, the governor, campaigned on a pledge of no new taxes. But a growing number of legislators foresee the need of a tax hike, as do highway officials.

A Study

Bradshaw predicts, this scenario: Hunt will honor his no-tax pledge by appointing a study commission on roads to examine needs and revenues for the future. Such a probe will doubtless conclude that a tax hike is necessary.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Congress is pondering a federal gas tax hike between four and eight cents per gallon, with a portion rebated to the states. North Carolina, most insiders predict, would get about half-a-cent ($15 million per year) from that, while the rest would go into funding the bureaucracy and the federal-aid projects.

One penny of North Carolina's gas tax is already earmarked for paying off past bond issues, and will not expire until 1982 when those bonds will be retired.

Thus, it is clear that increased taxes will be required despite the $300 million in bonds to be sold if the voters approve. Bradshaw's shop has a list of immediate needs on North Carolina's highway system totaling $6.8 billion over the next five years. That is obviously an impossibility. At present income levels, the state can meet about a tenth of that: $610 million. The rest must go begging.

BILL
NOBLITT

A Deficit

Even so, the bonds would only make up anticipated deficits since the department has scheduled $882 million in spending for five years in the face of expected income of $610 million.

So after maintenance (which takes about half the income), matching federal dollars on Interstate and other U. S. projects, and meeting the payroll, the state has a dwindling amount left for state road construction (secondary and other non-federal) which will total only $51.6 million next year; plummet to $8.2 million in 1982.

Other income ($400-million plus) would go to federal matching, office operations, and maintenance.

Even after understanding that the dollars are dwindling and the new income from bonds — and a tax hike — are essential to future road building, the question of where the roads will go remains.

The problem is that dollars don't go far on the roads these days: four-laning an existing road costs a million dollars a mile; a rural freeway costs $2.5 million per mile; improving a two-lane road extensively costs half-a-million per mile; and even putting down a two-foot shoulder runs $20,000 a mile. A city freeway costs $5 million per mile.

Indications are that state officials will attempt to inform residents of various parts of the state on an informal basis what projects will benefit from the bond money, if approved. But they won't (and say they can't) commit to specific programs.

To do so might produce votes in one particular area, but cause another to work strongly against the bonds. But many observers wonder where support will come from if not from those who stand to gain something?

But It Isn't A Crime

WASHINGTON — If a neighbor came into your house and started to poison your water you would immediately call the police, have the person arrested, press charges of attempted murder and do everything to see that he got sent away to the slammer for a long time. But if a company poisons your water and also the fish and wildlife in your rivers and lakes there really isn't much you can do.

You could show up at the company office and say "I want to see the man in charge of poisoning the lake water in this community."

"We have no such person," the receptionist will reply.

"Then I want to see the guy in charge of this factory."

If you're lucky you may get in to see the junior vice-president, in charge of cranks.

"Why are you poisoning my water and making my family sick?" you might ask.

"I'm sorry. We have no idea what you're talking about."

"Look out there. You see all that sludge pouring into the lake. Where the hell do you think it's going?"

"That's just a by-product of what we make here. We have to dispose of it some way."

"Why in the lake? Why can't you dispose of it some other way?"

"If we did it any other way we would have to charge more for the product and pass the cost on to the consumer. You wouldn't want us to do that would you?"

"I don't care what it costs the consumer. Why should I be poisoned because you can't figure out what to do with your sludge?"

"Our laboratory technicians have measured the waste from our plant and have assured us that there is no danger to anyone's health."

"Big deal. Suppose they came in with a report that it did endanger our health."

"Our technicians would never do that. They're scientists."

"Well, I'm going to go to the government and tell them you're poisoning the water."

Charge Play On Fears

By WILLIAM KRONHOLM

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cancer victims, emotionally vulnerable to hucksters, are "exploited skillfully" by promoters of Laetrile, the Food and Drug Administration maintains in its strongest statement yet on the underground cancer treatment.

In a 268-page report filed Thursday with a federal judge in Oklahoma, the FDA said an exhaustive review of clinical research and of Laetrile proponents' arguments has failed to sway the agency's conviction that Laetrile is a hoax.

The report was ordered by the judge, who is hearing a case filed by a cancer victim who wants Laetrile. While revealing no new evidence, the report marshals previous arguments against the substance, then characterizes Laetrile promoters as charlatans and Laetrile users as victims.

"Cancer engenders fear...Cancer victims' families feel both sympathy and guilt at being unable to relieve the victim's suffering," FDA Commissioner Donald Kennedy said in the report.

"These feelings are exploited skillfully by the purveyors of false cures. Cancer victims and their families are extremely vulnerable to the kind of persuasion so skillfully used by Laetrile's promoters..." he said.

"Promoters play upon the victim's frustration with a medical establishment that cannot offer the certainty of a cure, and build upon the cancer patient's fear of legitimate cancer therapies," Kennedy said.

The commissioner said the FDA made an objective review of Laetrile supporters' arguments, but found them unacceptable.

40 Years Ago Today

United States consular officials in all of China organized the whole American population tonight to guard their lives and get them out of possible danger zones, if necessary, while China's general Chiang Kai-shek suddenly proclaimed:

"We will fight to the death."

By nightfall the month-old undeclared war brought columns of motorized Japanese troops north to halt a Chinese advance from behind China's great wall.

Tobacco cures this week throughout Eastern North Carolina were declared today to have been unusually good by farmers and others keeping up with the progress of Pitt County's chief money crop.

"This section has the best crop tobacco it has ever had," declared a farmer this morning and his statement was sanctioned by others interested in the industry.

It was predicted, however, that the poundage would be less than had been expected. This situation tended to increase optimism that prices would be satisfactory when the local market opens on August 26, exactly three weeks from today.

THE GALLUP POLL

Defense Concern Rising

By GEORGE GALLUP

PRINCETON, N.J. — Concern over U.S.-Soviet relations is reflected in the latest survey findings which show public support for defense spending to be at the highest point recorded in Gallup surveys over the last eight years.

In the latest nationwide survey, 27 per cent say "too little" money is being allocated for defense in the budget — an increase of 19 percentage points since 1969 when the question was first asked.

BUDGET PROPORTION HAS DECLINED

In assessing the current findings and trend, it is important to bear in mind that the proportion of the federal budget earmarked for defense has declined sharply over the last few years. While the current budget calls for $96.9 billion for defense, or about 24 per cent of the total budget, the proportion was, for example, 33 per cent in 1972.

At the same time, however, surveys have consistently shown that the public has little awareness of the proportion of the total budget actually slated for defense.

Strength For Today

PERSON-TO-PERSON
Some people's religious experience resembles a station-to-station telephone call; others, a person-to-person call. The station-to-station call usually indicates that we have information to impart or questions to ask. But we are not vitally interested in getting a particular person on the other end of the line. In the person-to-person call it is just as important for us to get a particular party on the line as to start a conversation.

Vital religious faith is a personal relationship between man and his Maker, God is a person, and true religious faith brings us into contact with this person. Religion which consists wholly in membership in an organization is not vital religion. As far as relations to God are concerned, it is a station-to-station call.

Religious faith which pleases God and produces results brings man into contact with his Maker, fills him with the joy of fellowship, and gives him to sense of personal co-operation with a Power far above his own.

Republicans Lost In 'Victory'

By DON McLEOD

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Republicans who rallied behind the banner of party loyalty to beat public financing of Senate elections this week won a major legislative victory, but their own party may be the real loser in the long run.

Every available study indicates that private campaign financing for which the Republicans fought so hard overwhelmingly favors the Democrats.

There are all the old myths about the Republicans being the party of big business and big money, but the practical facts of life in modern politics give congressional Democrats the best chance at private campaign money.

This is based on two elemental facts.

—Democrats outnumber Republicans by about 2 to 1 in Congress.

—Most of the private money donated to political campaigns goes to incumbents.

Despite the lingering beliefs that labor money goes automatically to Democrats and business money to Republicans, the fact is that the smart money follows its best interests more often than its heart.

The average political contribution from the big money sources is aimed at courting a winner far more often than toward making a winner of an ideological or partisan friend. This usually translates into giving money to a powerful incumbent rather than taking a chance on a challenger.

Equally mythical is the idea that the GOP gets all the money it needs from "fat cat" contributors. For all practical purposes the "fat cat" of yesterday is out of the game. He can still give, up to $25,000 total, but not more than $1,000 to any one candidate, and that can't buy much or help all that much.

The new force in campaign finance is the political action committee, or PAC in the jargon. Committees can give up to $5,000 to a candidate, and spread those $5,000 beneficencies among members of a congressional committee with considerable effect.

These special interest groups contributed almost $22.6 million to congressional candidates last year, almost double their 1974 gifts. And any way you look at it, this money favored incumbents and Democrats.

In contested congressional elections involving an incumbent, the incumbents received $13.2 million from special interest groups, compared to $4.1 million for their challengers.

That's a 3-1 edge over-all for the predominantly Democratic incumbents, but the ratios can go even higher when broken down into the various special interests.

Money from agricultural groups favored incumbents 7 to 1. Business groups, despite their generally presumed GOP preference, went 4 to 1 for incumbents regardless of party. Health groups favored office holders against outsiders by 3.5 to 1. Labor went for incumbents 3 to 1.

Personal Income Gains Outpaced Price Advance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department says the growth of personal income from the first quarter of 1976 to the first quarter of 1977 outpaced the rise in consumer prices by 4 1/4 per cent.

Personal income increased 9 1/4 per cent during the period, compared with an increase of 5 1/2 per cent in consumer prices, the department said Thursday.

All states and the District of Columbia reported an increase in personal income.

Six Western states plus Michigan and New Hampshire reported the largest rises in non-farm personal income. Delaware and North Dakota had the smallest increases, both about 6 per cent or roughly equal to the increase in consumer prices.

Nevada led the states with a 14.4 per cent increase in non-farm personal income, due largely due to increased tourism. Michigan was next with a 12.9 per cent increase, due to increased auto production.

The other Western states reporting large gains in nonfarm personal income were: Utah 12.7 per cent; Wyoming 12.7 per cent; Oregon 12.4 per cent; Idaho 12.2 per cent, and Montana 11.7 per cent. New Hampshire registered an increase of 11.9 per cent.

Michigan, Wyoming, Utah,

Oregon and Idaho each had especially strong federal civilian or manufacturing payrolls in the first quarter.

Personal income consists of private and government wage and salary payments, interest, dividends, housing values and transfer payments before deduction for taxes.

Three Collisions In Thursday's Traffic

An estimated $2,150 property damage resulted from three traffic collisions investigated here yesterday by Greenville Police.

Heaviest damage resulted from a 9:40 a.m. mishap at the intersection of Tenth and Elm Streets involving a truck driven by Joe Dallas Ward of Route 5, Greenville and a car operated by Scott Buck of Route 3, Greenville.

Police, who charged Buck with failing to stop for a stop light, estimated damage at $200 to the Ward vehicle and $1,000 to the Buck car.

An estimated $300 damage resulted to each of two cars involved in a 10:55 a.m. collision at the intersection of Reade and Cotanche Streets.

Drivers of the two cars involved were listed as Pholia Pilgreen Dunn of 303 Harvey Dr. and Lenice Lawson Cherry of 306 West 14th St.

Michael Allen Linton of Route 4, Martinsburg, W. Va., was charged with failing to keep a proper lookout while backing following investigation of a 7:55 a.m. mishap on Greenville Boulevard, 97 feet West of the Memorial Drive intersection.

Police reported the tractor-trailer driven by Linton collided with a car operated by Terry Soles Robertson of 405 East Fifth St., causing an estimated $350 damage to the car. No damage resulted to the truck.

Both former U.S. Presidents Warren G. Harding and Harry Truman were members of the Baptist Church.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market chalked up a broad gain today, responding to an easing of interest-rate worries and a drop in the unemployment rate.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.94 at 891.11.

Gainers outpaced losers by better than a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

First-hour volume on the Big Board came to 5.37 million shares.

The government reported this morning that the unemployment rate dropped from 7.1 to 6.9 per cent last month.

Brokers said traders were also pleased with the decline in the basic measure of the money supply reported late Thursday by the Federal Reserve.

Close watchers of the Fed data had been fearful that any additional increase in the money supply would prompt the central bank to tighten credit further.

Times-Mirror led the active list, down 1/4 at 24.

Sears Roebuck gained 1/4 to 30 in active trading after a 1/2-point gain Thursday, when the company posted a 21.7 per cent jump in sales for July.

The 11 a.m. NYSE composite index was up .13 at 54.15.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose .15 to 120.46.

Deadline Approaching For Telephone Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last-minute contract talks are getting under way that will determine whether 700,000 phone company workers strike the Bell System at midnight Saturday.

Before today's talks, a union leader said a strike is "almost inevitable." But a company spokesman predicted a strike could be avoided.

Glenn E. Watts, president of the Communications Workers of America, said Thursday that the negotiations "are in very serious trouble" and "activity at the bargaining table has come to a complete standstill."

It appeared, however, that the Bell System was prepared to improve on its original offer. "I'm sure there is going to be movement in the next few days, because we all know there is not much time left," company spokesman Charles Dynes said in an interview. "I'm still confident we can come up with an agreement."

He said the company's 200,000 management and supervisory personnel are prepared to maintain service that "would be pretty good for quite a while."

improvements, they should have that right. He expressed a concern that "we seem to be dumping the idea on the people" that the city is going to take care of the matter and then charge them for it.

The councilman said that he did not want the Council to "start getting his hands about everything."

Petitions can still be submitted, it was pointed out.

Other business on the agenda included:

— Appointment of Donna Whitley to succeed Linda Hix on the Public Transportation Commission (Ms. Hix has taken a part-time position as transit marketer with the city's transit system);

— Reappointed Dr. John Wooten to a new term on the Public Transportation Commission;

— Approved the rezoning of 28.75 acres on the south side of Norfolk and Southern Railroad from Industrial, R-6, and Highway Commercial to Unoffensive Industry and R-6;

— Took no action on a resolution closing a portion of River Drive from Eastern Street easterly to Johnson Heights (the matter was tabled at the June and July meetings and the request for closing the street died upon the lack of action last night by the Council);

— Granted a mobile home permit renewal to Mrs. Queenie Boyd for the structure at 1806 S. Greene Street;

— Approved an amendment to the 1977-78 city budget appropriating $6,400 from "Anti-Recession Fiscal Assistance" funds to cover Carver Library roof repair needs;

— Approved two amendments to the Position Classification Plan by adding landscape foreman and community information officer in the respective salary ranges of $7,946-$10,141 and $12,943-$16,519;

— Adoption of an ordinance amending the City Code to require that new construction sites must prepare concrete slabs for refuse containers prior to final inspection of the facilities and that at existing locations occupied for over 12 months, the property owner will provide the materials and the Public Works Department will supply the labor to construct slabs for the containers;

— Acceptance of a revised Bicycle Ordinance as endorsed by the Greenville Citizens Bikeway Committee (the ordinance as revised provides, among other things, for "no mention of a mandatory registration program" and "no provision for registration or ownership transfer fees");

— Adoption of a resolution creating the Greenville Land Development Codes Review Committee with the responsibility of examining the existing land development codes of the city and making recommendations concerning changes in the codes;

— Passing of a resolution adopting the Rules and Regulations Governing Ambulance Service of the Office of Emergency Medical Services, Division of Facility Services, N.C. Department of Human Resources;

— Approval of the sale of a disposal parcel in the Southside Redevelopment area to Zack Reddick Jr. for $3,225;

— Establishment of fire protection fees for 1977-78 for five extrajurisdictional industries protected under contract by the city figured on the basis of assessed valuation and city tax rate;

— Acceptance of the transit report for the past year submitted by the Public Transportation Commission (the transit system established a new one-day ridership high on Thursday with 882, topping by 105 riders the best previous day of 177 recorded on July 5);

— Scheduling of public hearings involving rezoning, annexation and a proposed ordinance amendment;

— Release of a schedule of taxes for 1976 and 1977;

— Release of interest amounting to $78.09 on a 1972 paving assessment as requested by Phil Flowers;

— Granting of applications for beer and wine privilege licenses to Sweet Caroline's Inc., 740 E. Greenville Boulevard, and by the Kroger Co., 600 Greenville Boulevard;

Acceptance of a bid submitted by Barrus Construction Co. for furnishing labor, materials and equipment necessary to pave Fifth Street from Greene to Cotanche and for the furnishing of labor, materials and equipment necessary to pave the Sixth Street parking lot (Barrus submitted a unit price proposal of $4.68 on the Fifth Street segment and $2.15 on the parking lot compared to $5.61 and $2.70 by Barnhill Contracting Co. and $6.49 and $3.23 by L. A. Reynolds Construction Co.; and — Acceptance of a bid by Phelps Chevrolet Inc. for three four-door sedan, six-passenger automobiles in the amount of $17,880.94 (Hastings Ford submitted a bid of $18,000 but did not submit a bid bond and sign the proposal while Smith-Waldrop offered bids of $16,060.17 and $18,367.44 on different vehicles).

PWP Group Activities

The Greenville Chapter of Parents Without Partners will hold its regular weekly meeting at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

The group will hear Dr. Bruce Wardrop discuss the advantages and disadvantages of home ownership from the single parents' point of view.

Members and prospective members are invited and reminded to bring items for the August yard sale.

The yard sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at Red Oaks Shopping Plaza on US 264, west of Greenville. An Adult Social Evening will follow at 7:30 p.m. at United Figure Salon. The party will feature dancing and light refreshments. Only members and courtesy card holders are invited.

Also, members and their children are invited to a Family Bowling at Hillcrest Lanes at 2 p.m. Sunday.

For further information on group activities call 758-9954 or 752-1674 evenings.

$96.55 Day For Market

Price average on the Greenville Tobacco Market improved to $96.55 per hundred pounds on Thursday as $738,076 pounds sold for $710,759.

J. N. Bryan, sales supervisor of the local Tobacco Board of Trade, said that yesterday's totals brought the season average to $90.95 per hundred pounds. So far this season, the market has sold 6,082,420 pounds for $5,531,855.

Stabilization receipts yesterday accounted for 12.5 per cent of total sales, Bryan noted.

Offerings consisted of primers, lugs, leaf and non-descript tobacco, he said, with an increase noted in the volume of non-descript tobacco for sale. Top practical price paid yesterday was $1.34 per pound, Bryan added.

a set of auto fender skirts that had been stolen from a car and which were being held as evidence pending trial of the case, were taken from a Detective Division office.

The chief, who emphasized again that until the revolver was recovered in Ayden, the theft of the gun "was considered an internal matter," said an investigation has been underway since March. However, he said firm leads in the case had run out until the pistol was recovered last week.

Nightmare Is Past For Chisox' Lemon

By FRED GOODALL
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The "nightmare" behind him, Chet Lemon is rapidly moving toward becoming the "player I know I am."

No longer burdened by learning an unfamiliar position and nagging injuries, the Chicago White Sox center fielder has regained the confidence which sent him to the big leagues as an infielder.

His improvement is considered a major reason why the White Sox are leading the American League West, instead of trailing the pack like the preseason pundits predicted.

"Last year was a nightmare. Every time I turned around I had a new injury and the old one never healed," said Lemon, now in his second full year in the majors. "I was playing a new position, but I was pleased with my fielding. It was my hitting which disappointed me."

"Playing center field here (Comiskey Park) was a big adjustment. Its the biggest outfield in baseball. I played the position like a wild man last year. Even before a game started, I'd go out and run around and tire myself out. And then the injuries would hit," said Lemon, who, nevertheless, tied for second in fielding percentage among American League outfielders with a .992 mark in 1976.

"I've learned to pace myself.

You can't go out and run, run, run all the time because its a long season. Sometimes you have sit down in the clubhouse and take it easy for awhile. I'm doing that this year and I think it's helped me stay healthier."

Lemon's fielding has fallen off from last year when he had only three errors while handling 368 chances, but his hitting in 1977 is vastly improved. In his first full season in 1976, Lemon hit .246 in 132 games with four homers and 38 runs batted in. Through 103 games this season, the 22-year-old center fielder had committed nine errors, six more than a year ago, while batting .287 with 15 homers and 44 runs batted in. He's also scored 67 runs, compared to 46 in 1976.

"I'm pretty content, but not overwhelmed with the season I'm having," said Lemon. "The important thing is that we're winning and I feel I'm contributing."

While admitting he's doing better statistically, Lemon says he won't be the "player I know I am," until his batting average rises to around .300 and remains there.

"My primary goal this season was to play on a winner and hit .300. Right now I'm having a lot of fun because we are winning and I'm within reach of .300. That where I want to be and that's where I belong.

"Last year I was caught up in trying to establish myself as major league material. I've done that now, so some of the pressure's off. I feel at home (in the big leagues) and that's a super nice feeling."

Paschal Battling For Tailback Job

CHAPEL HILL — Greenville's Doug Paschal will be competing with four other players for the starting tailback spot when the University of North Carolina opens fall football practice on Aug. 16.

The former Rose High star running back will be battling Terence Burrell, Delbert Powell, Phil Harris and Carey Casey.

Paschal is the only one of the group who has had any varsity game experience at the position, but he has only run nine plays from the tailback spot. He is a 6-2, 210-pound sophomore.

This year is the first in head coach Bill Dooley's North Carolina career that the Tar Heels have gone into fall practice with the tailback position completely unsettled.

"I really don't know what we're going to do," according to Dooley. "We think we have the players capable of doing the job at tailback, but they're just green and untested right now."

Burrell was red-shirted last season, Powell played split end, Farris was a tailback on the junior varsity team and Casey sat out the year with a knee injury.

Dooley said, "We may stick with one guy or we may alternate tailbacks as we did in 1974. All of that will be determined by what happens in our fall practices."

East Carolina Ousted

CHAPEL HILL — East Carolina's Pirates picked a bad time to suffer their first shutout loss of the Summer League season — in the league tournament.

Louisburg's 2-0 victory over the Bucs last night was their second defeat in the double elimination tournament and ousted them from the competition.

After a first round loss to Louisville yesterday, the Pirates played UNC-Wilmington in the loser's bracket yesterday afternoon, taking an 8-1 victory. That set up a second encounter with the Hurricanes who, by virtue of their victory, move into the championship game with the University of North Carolina tonight. Louisville had dropped to the loser's bracket with a 10-0 loss to UNC yesterday.

East Carolina's hitters banged out 14 hits in yesterday's first game, while the Buc pitchers, Mickey Britt and Bill Davis, held UNC-W to just three hits.

The Pirates built up a 4-0 lead before UNC-W's only run in the fourth. ECU then added four more runs in the fifth for the victory.

Britt finished the season at 7-5 by taking the victory in the first contest, while UNC-W's T. I. Watkins suffered the loss, dropping to 2-3.

Three straight hits got things rolling in the top of the first for the Bucs as Eddie Gates, Raymie Styons and Bobby Supel all got singles with one away. Supel's base hit scored Gates.

Styons advanced to third on a long fly by Macon Moye and then scored ECU's second run of the inning on a squeeze bunt by Robert Brinkley.

In the second, Tommy Cobb walked, while Jim Gibson and Gates singled to load the bases. Cobb came in on a fielder's choice by Styons.

The Pirates added a fourth run in the third as Moye doubled and then scored on a base hit by Tommy Warrick.

The Seahawks' only run came in the fourth when Richard King and Ed Finch walked and King scored when Chip McDonald reached on an error.

Four insurance runs were added by ECU in the fifth. Cobb walked and moved to second on a sacrifice by Gibson. He scored when Paradossi singled. Paradossi was thrown out when Gates hit a fielder's choice, but Styons was hit by a pitch and Supel reached on an error to load the bases. That brought up Moye, who hit a three-run double, scoring Gates, Kevin Cameron (courtesy runner for Styons) and Supel.

The Pirates seemed to run out of hits in their second encounter, however, coming up with only five, none of which were hit very hard.

Louisburg got only four hits, but managed to put two of them together in the fourth and those, coupled with an ECU error, enabled the Hurricanes to score the game's only runs.

Len Bradley raised his record to 5-2 for the year in pitching the entire game for Louisville. Brad Price started and went 3½ innings for the Bucs, giving up both Louisville runs. He was charged with the loss, dropping to 0-2. Lee Cherry did an excellent relief job, giving up just one hit in 5½ innings, but the ECU offense couldn't come up with any runs.

The Pirates never seriously threatened in the game, but did get a few men on base. They got two on in the second, a man to third in the seventh and one to second in the eighth.

Louisburg's fourth-inning runs came when Linwood Thorbs got an infield hit, followed by Nick Dunn's single. Thorbs scored on an infield out by Chuck Barcliff and Dunn came in when Rick Furr's ground ball to Paradossi was erred as the Buc second baseman pulled Moye off of first with his throw.

The Pirates' Summer League season ends with a 19-14 record.

NFL Roundup

In tonight's other game it's Baltimore at Denver. On Saturday it's Minnesota at Los Angeles, Miami at Tampa Bay, Atlanta at St. Louis, New Orleans at Chicago, San Diego at Dallas, New England at the New York Giants, Buffalo at Pittsburgh, Kansas City at Detroit and Cincinnati at Green Bay. On Sunday it's Seattle at San Francisco and on Monday night it's Houston at Oakland and Washington at Cleveland.

It's not as much of a fresh start as it is an attempt at rebounding for the Jets. They got their exhibition season started a week with a 20-6 loss to the Chicago Bears in last Saturday's Hall of Fame game.

"No way I'm going to get discouraged, no way," Jets Coach Walt Michaels said. "Sure I was disappointed in the turnovers (six of them), but I was satisfied with the rest."

Denver should have a nice free-for-all ming for a while over the starting quarterback job with the departure of Steve Ramsey to the Giants. Craig Morton, who came to the Broncos in that swap, Craig Penrose, Steve Spurrier and Norris Weese will all be trying to show their stuff against the Colts.

One of the biggest quarterback stories, of course, will be played out in Los Angeles where Joe Namath will be making his debut for the Rams following his dozen years as Broadway Joe of the Jets.

Curley Culp Is Recalled

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — Middle guard Curley Culp has been recalled from waivers and Houston Oilers Coach Bum Phillips says there will be no attempt to trade him.

Phillips confirmed that Culp's name was placed on the waiver wire Wednesday but was removed Thursday. Phillips said this is a fairly common practice in the National Football League.

"Being on the waiver wire doesn't mean anything," Phillips said. "He was put on the wire to see how much interest there was in him."

Jenkins Finally Breaks Loss Streak

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Ferguson Jenkins isn't used to this sort of thing.

"I've been struggling," says the Boston Red Sox pitcher. "I've had other things on my mind."

For many years a big winner in the major leagues, the venerable right-hander had gone six weeks without a victory this season.

On Thursday night, he finally ended his frustration.

"Now I feel like I'm contributing," Jenkins said after pitching a three-hit, 3-1 decision over the Oakland A's. "Maybe this will help us put a big winning streak together."

Jenkins blamed his lack of aggression for the victory drought which began after his 7-3 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles on June 23.

Baseball Roundup

"The team has been playing well," said Jenkins, "but I haven't."

Against the A's, he seemed to be as good as ever, though. While improving his record to a modest 8-7, Jenkins faced only 29 batters and required just 81 pitches to defeat Oakland.

"I was nice and loose," said Jenkins. "I only made one or two bad pitches. I felt good all the way. I could feel it coming back. I started to feel like I did early in the season when I was winning."

In other American League games, the Chicago White Sox beat the Texas Rangers 5-4; the Detroit Tigers turned back the Minnesota Twins 4-2; and the Kansas City Royals blanked the Toronto Blue Jays 2-0. In limited National League action, the Philadelphia Phillies edged the San Diego Padres 2-1 in 10 innings and the Atlanta Braves stopped the Montreal Expos 5-2.

A seventh-inning single by Steve Dillard off Oakland's Vida Blue, 10-13, broke a 1-1 tie, scoring Dwight Evans, who had opened the inning with a single. Rick Burleson followed with a broken-bat single to left for the final run.

Jenkins, who was 0-2 in his last six starts, walked none and struck out two while sending the A's down to their sixth straight loss.

White Sox 5, Rangers 4

Eric Soderholm doubled and scored the game's first run in the third inning, then singled and scored on a passed ball in the sixth with the run which lifted Chicago over Texas.

The triumph snapped a fourgame Chicago losing streak and halted a fivegame Ranger winning streak as the White Sox pulled 3½ games ahead of second-place Minnesota in the American League West.

Tigers 4, Twins 2

Rookie right-hander Dave Rozema won his 11th game with a six-hitter, leading Detroit over Minnesota. Rozema, 11-4, who turns 21 today, pitched his sixth straight complete game. Minnesota starter Pete Redfern hurled 62-3 innings and suffered his seventh loss in 11 decisions.

Rusty Staub knocked in two runs for the Tigers, with a grounder in the third and a homer in the sixth. His home run, No. 13 for the season, provided the Tigers with a 3-1 lead and their eventual winning run.

Royals 8, Blue Jays 0

Fred Patek knocked in four runs with a homer and two sacrifice flies to lead Kansas City over Toronto. Larry Gura, 6-5, scattered nine hits in a routgoing performance.

Patek, the smallest man in the major leagues at 5-foot-4, lashed a two-run homer off Jesse Jefferson in the second inning and had sacrifice flies in the third and the fifth.

Braves 5, Expos 2

Biff Pocoroba smashed a home run and Atlanta erupted for four straight singles and three runs in the third inning to beat Montreal.

Eddie Solomon, 3-1, who worked out of an eighth-inning, bases-loaded jam, was the winner with relief help.

Atlanta broke the game open in the third by scoring three runs on singles by Rowland Office, Barry Bonnell, Willie Montanez, and Jeff Burroughs and a run-scoring groundout by Garry Matthews.

Phillies 2, Padres 1

Bake McBride singled home pinch-runner Jerry Martin in the 10th inning to lead Philadelphia over San Diego.

Ted Sizemore opened the 10th with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice by pinch-hitter Tommy Hutton. McBride then grounded a single through the middle, scoring Martin, who had gone in for Sizemore.

Philadelphia reliever Tug McGraw, who worked three scoreless innings behind starter Larry Christenson, earned his sixth victory against two losses.

Elder Leads Hartford

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Lee Elder parlayed a putting tip from his wife and "a little change in my swing" into a one-stroke lead in the first round of the $210,000 Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

"Now I've got the lead, the other fellows have to catch me. And if I can just go out and do again what I did today, I ought to be able to run and hide from them a little bit," said Elder, who scored 10 "3's" on his way to a gaudy, seven-under-par 64 Thursday.

Reminded he'd almost won twice in this tournament, once finishing third and once losing in a playoff, Elder grinned and ed: I just want to get rid of the 'almost' and go ahead and win it."

He credited a putting tip from wife Rose, delivered last week in Vail, Colo. while he was playing in a pro-am event that also included former President Ford, with a major assist.

"She noticed I was taking the club back outside the line," Elder said. He corrected the fault and had nine one-putt greens on the friendly 6,589-yard Wethersfield Country Club course that, as usual, gave up some of the lowest scores of the year.

Six men—Curtis Strange, Kermit Zarley, Dick Mast, George Burns, Jim Simons and Terry Diehl, the first-round leader a week ago in Philadelphia—were locked at 65, only one stroke off the pace.

Lee Trevino, a front-running winner in the Canadian Open in his last start, topped another group at 67, only two shots back in the chase for a $42,000 first prize.

PGA champ Dave Stockton had a 67, U.S. Open title-holder Hubert Green 68, Johnny Miller 70 and defending champ Rik Massengale matched par 71.

More than half the field of 156 broke par in the ideal playing conditions, mild temperatures with just a hint of breeze, and more than four dozen players had scores in the 60s.

The scores were so low Massengale faces the need for a score better than par in the second round if he is to survive the cut when the field is trimmed for the last 36 holes.

"It's a frustrating course," said Diehl, who didn't make a bogey and didn't have a "5" on his card. "You may be playing pretty good, then look up at the leader board and see somebody 100 under par and then you miss a couple of little putts and it's pretty frustrating."

Elder, who has won two tour titles and gained international attention as the first black to play in the Masters, avoided those frustrations, however. The change in his game helped, he said.

"For a while I'd been trying to cut the ball. Finally, I decided to go back to the draw, the shot that I won a lot of money with. I feel a lot more comfortable with it," he said.

He played the front nine three under par, then swept into the lead alone with birdies on four of five holes starting on the 11th. He capped it off with a 15-foot birdie putt, his longest of the day, on the 15th.

Guthrie Outruns Petty

By JERRY GARRETT
AP Motorsports Writer

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Richard Petty didn't seem too excited after his qualifying run for Sunday's Talladega 500 Grand National stock car race.

"Do you need more horsepower, Richard?" "Do you need to work on the chassis?" "Do you need to put in a different gear?" he was asked.

He replied wearily, "What we need is a Chevrolet."

But his Dodge was faster than the trouble-plagued Fords, he was reminded.

"Yeah, but the Chevrolets beat me bad and we don't have any problems," Petty responded.

Then he noticed his speed of 188.664 miles per hour was not only 11th-fastest, but also slower than that of Janet Guthrie.

As Petty walked toward his truck to leave, he said, "The doll outqualified me, didn't she?"

Yes, she did.

"I guess she outdrove me, too," he said.

Miss Guthrie was ninth-fastest, at 189.391 m.p.h., in a Chevrolet. It was a closed-course speed record for women, eclipsing her Indianapolis record of 188.957. Benny Parsons, fresh from his victory last week at Mount Pocono, Pa., won the pole position with a speed of 192.684 as Chevrolets swept the top 10 qualifying spots.

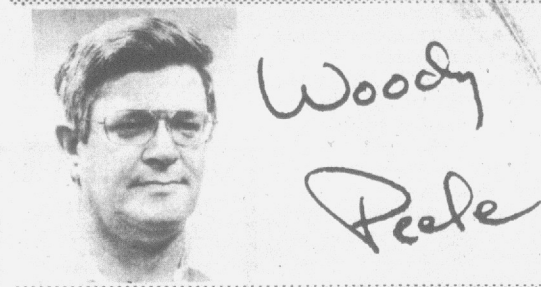

"The Chevy teams dominate," Parsons said. "And I feel like we've got one of the top Chevrolet teams on the circuit."

Only one Ford qualified

Thursday when the top 20 spots were decided.

The Mercury of David Pearson and the Fords of Buddy Baker and Dick Brooks all had to wait and try today for one of the final 20 positions for the $200,000 race.

"We got out this morning and ran about 177," said disappointed Pearson, who didn't try to qualify Thursday. "Things have got to get better."

The team of Martha Moye, Mike Moye and Simon Moye won a Ladies-Junior Captain's Choice tournament held last Thursday with a 39. Linda Hayes Freuler, Til Jolley and John Catlett were second with a 35. Peggy Hallow, Scott Kee and Gordon Douglas were third with a 35 and fourth place was taken by Jolinda Kee, Steve Woodward and Frank Woronoff, who also shot 35. Cards were matched to settle ties.

The Member-Member tournament was been postponed from August 20-21 to October 29-30.

A Father-Son tournament will be held this weekend, with nine holes scheduled for Saturday and nine more Sunday. Around 40 teams are signed up for the event.

Ayden Golf and Country Club

Sam Vincent had a hole-in-one on hole 12 last Saturday with a four-wood. He was playing with Jeff Wingate, Robbie Jones and Bill Ellington. Lloyd Foley holed out a six-iron to eagle 18 last week.

A Member-Member tournament will be held Sunday.

Grifton Golf and Country Club

A Nightmare tournament in superbball format was held last Sunday. First place went to the team of Bobby Price, Garland Creech, Carolyn Sheets and Sandra Hardison. Cecil Lilley, Ted Bender and B. J. Powers were second, while Don Lister, Kay Morris and John McDougald took third.

Ken Barnes and Wes Barwick both eagled the first hole during the week.

Upcoming events see the club championship scheduled for August 13 through September 18. It will be match play. A Couples Member-Guest will be held August 20 and a Moonlight tournament August 28. The club's Member-Guest will be Sept. 17-18 and a Ladies' Invitational will be October 8.

Greenville Golf and Country Club

Janet McGlohon took first place in a Ladies' Day Flag event held last week. Nancy Monroe was second, Sue Hardy third and Barbara Ellis fourth.

Personal highlights of the week were Betty Akin's 80, Sue Hardy's 86, Bernie Rawl's 83 and Jim Blount's 87.

On August 11, a Pro-Junior tournament is scheduled. It will be for ages 9-15, 18 holes and will begin from a shotgun start at 2 p.m. Entry fee is $8.

A Mother-Daughter tournament is slated for August 12. A 9:30 shotgun start is planned for the nine-hole event. Full handicap will be in effect for the best ball tourney.

August 19 is the date for the club's Husband-Wife tournament. The nine-hole best ball event will begin with a shotgun start at 4 p.m. The entry fee is $6.

A boys' and girls' Challenge Cup putting competition will be held from 4-5 p.m. on August 21. The five-hole match is for ages 4-7.

On August 25, a boys' and girls' Captain's Choice for ages 9-15 will be held. It will begin at 9:30 a.m. and has a $2 entry fee.

Are you one of those hawk-eyed readers who spots every error in a bridge column and then dashes off an indignant letter to the editor? If that's your pleasure, here's a chance for you to test your analytical skills. Would you rather declare or defend three no trump after West leads a heart to East's king and East returns a heart to the ace in dummy? Study all four hands, make your decision and then read on.

If you elected to declare, you should lead a diamond from dummy. If East plays the nine, you finesse the ten. West can win the queen and knock out your last heart stopper, but the diamond ace fells the king and you can enter dummy with your last diamond to run the suit and come to nine tricks.

But wait a moment: what if West refuses to win the first diamond trick? Now you can cash the ace, dropping the king, but West wins the queen, knocks out your remaining heart stopper and you can't get to dummy to run diamonds.

You can counter that. When the ten of diamonds wins, lead a club. West wins and knocks out the queen of hearts. Now duck a diamond to East's king. Win the spade return, cash the ace of diamonds, dropping the queen, and the queen of clubs is the entry to the diamonds. It doesn't materially affect the play if West refuses to rise with the king of clubs on the first round, for you simply duck in dummy and then drop the king.

So you want to declare. In that case, East goes up with the king of diamonds when you lead the suit from dummy. If you win, West holds up the queen of diamonds till the third round, knocks out the heart and waits to get in with the king of clubs or queen of spades to run hearts.

So you want to defend after all. Well, then, declarer wins the ace of diamonds and continues with the ten. West must hold up to shut out dummy's suit. Now declarer cashes the queen of hearts and throws West in with the queen of diamonds. West can cash his hearts, but then must present declarer with an entry to dummy in one of the black suits. On the hearts, declarer sheds a card from each suit in dummy and two clubs from his hand.

Revised Sitcom Has Lively Mix

By JAY SHARBUITT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "A Year at the Top," rejected by NBC, yanked for massive premise overhaul just before its planned CBS debut last January, finally staggers in tonight for a one-hour premiere on CBS.

Emitted by sitcom king Norman Lear and rock music's Don Kirshner, it's a lively mix of rock, devilry, fantasy and Making It in Hollywood, enacted with all the subtlety of a ball pen hammer.

You may recall the original "Year" involved four old singers, three of whom gave their souls to the devil in exchange for youth and a year's success in pop music. Mickey Rooney was the holdout.

He's the only older cast member left in the new "Year," which now centers on two young composers pushed to fame by a record mogul they don't realize is the scheming son of the devil.

The Mick, who unfortunately only makes brief appearances in the next four episodes because a film job kept him from working regularly in the series, now plays a different character.

He's cast as Mickey Durbin, of Boise, Idaho, a minor league showman who comes to Hollywood with his two nephews, Greg (Greg Evigan) and Paul (Paul Shaffer) and Greg's true love, Linda (Priscilla Lopez).

Seems Greg, who looks as if he takes Michael Landon pills, and Paul, who resembles Paul Simon with his glasses off (Elton John with them on) have written a musical they hope to get produced on Broadway.

Mickey steers them to Paragon Records, intending to seek financing from an old pal who heads the company. Inquiries are made.

"Do you have a shovel?" asks the receptionist. Then she explains: "He was buried eight years ago."

Which sets the stage for hijinks with the new Paragon chief, Frederick J. Hanover, played with lighter-than-air flair by Gabriel Dell. He, the devil's son in mufti, uses greed of mortals well.

For example, rock star Billy Worth (Timothy Thomerson) is one of his success stories. Having made Billy the idol of millions on a handshake deal, he now urges this worthy to sign a contract.

Billy balks after noting the pact calls for "selling yew mah soul and spending eternity in hell." He signs after being briefly stripped of his shirt spangles and hearing his voice rise three octaves.

Hence, when his dad, "the big D," demands two more souls by nightfall, he hastens to lure Greg and Paul, whom he first gave the brisk brush-off, into his hellish fold.

He magically turns the lads, who can't sing, into rock vocalists, which is the same thing. (It must be said that even with lush musical backing, Greg and Paul don't seem quite ready for the small time.)

But all is resolved as the boys, amid a well-paced hour of skulduggery and persiflage, are propelled to stardom.

Whether in the next four Fridays they'll get star ratings without the regular, skilled tomfoolery of Rooney remains to be seen. But this looks like a pretty good "Year" after all the waiting.

The nation's airlines carried a record 223 million passengers in 1976, reports the Air Transport Association.

Said Involved
In Theft Ring

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — The FBI has arrested six men allegedly involved in a theft ring which recorded big-name music groups on eight-track tapes and sold them at cut-rate prices.

Five North Carolina men and a sixth man from Washington, D.C., have been charged with transporting stolen property across state lines. The FBI said they would also face federal copyright violation and conspiracy charges.

More arrests are also expected in the case as the investigation continues, the agency reported.

The six arrest so far are:
—Benny M. Church, 39, of Germantown, released on $10,000 bond.

—Alton I. Greene, 28, Lexington, $5,000 bond.

—Richard S. Nelson, 31, Lexington, $5,000 bond.

—Richard S. Webster, 51, Germantown, $10,000 bond.

—Rich Colville, 23, Tobaccoville, $5,000 bond.

—Maurice H. Rishel, 58, Suitland, Md., $10,000 bond.

FBI affidavits filed in federal court in Washington allege the North Carolina men manufactured master tapes in the Winston-Salem area and sold them to Rishel, who converted them to eight-track tapes and distributed them along the East Coast.

The FBI said it had been investigating the ring for nine months and cracked the case in April when undercover agents in Winston-Salem bought some of the pirated tapes.

The affidavits said Rishel was a retired Air Force officer and sold about $15,000 worth of the tapes each week, especially in Washington and Cleveland.

Federal Abortion Payments Curbed

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government, which has helped pay for more than one million abortions for poor women in recent years, is finished paying unless a woman's life is endangered by her pregnancy.

While arguments continue in court and Congress remains deadlocked on the abortion issue, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. ordered enforcement Thursday of a year-old legal provision that was prevented from taking effect for months by a court challenge.

The provision was enacted last year to bar the use of federal money for any abortion "except where the life of the mother would be endangered if the fetus were carried to term."

But it wasn't put into effect because U.S. District Court Judge John F. Dooling Jr. in Brooklyn declared it unconstitutional.

On Thursday, at the instruction of the Supreme Court, Dooling lifted his order.

Less than an hour later, Califano, who personally opposes abortion, made this announcement:

"The department will provide federal financial participation in the cost of abortions only where the attending physician, on the basis of his or her professional judgment, has certified that the abortion is necessary because the life of the mother would be endangered if the fetus were carried to term."

Califano said victims of rape or incest who receive pregnancy-preventing treatment before they know whether they are pregnant will not be affected by the announcement. Nor will the government stop financing treatment of ectopic pregnancies, in which the fertilized egg develops outside the uterus and cannot grow to term, he said.

Reaction to Califano's announcement was predictable.

A spokeswoman for the National Right to Life Committee called it "one small step toward our goal of a human life" constitutional amendment to outlaw abortions.

The National Abortion Rights Action League said it would press Congress for legislation "to protect the lives and health of poor women who need the medical service of abortion."

Federal money for elective abortions has been available almost exclusively to poor women eligible for Medicaid, a health care program administered by the states but financed mostly by the federal government.

Medicaid had paid for nearly one third of the 1.1 million legal abortions performed annually in the United States since the Supreme Court ruled in 1973 that a woman has the right to decide with her physician whether to have an abortion.

Individual states may decide to pay the full cost of Medicaid abortions themselves rather than terminate all but the life-saving procedures, but a spot check indicates only seven states, Alaska, Hawaii, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nevada, Oregon and Washington, plan to do so.

TRESTLE GETS SIGN — When students and visitors arrive in Greenville they will be greeted by a large lettered ECU on the side of the Charles Street underpass. The trestle is under the control of Southern Railway which gave permission to have the sign painted. According to Southern Railway assistant superintendent

C. B. Balliff, this is not a usual practice. The company, Balliff said, does not allow signs on the side of trestles. The bright purple and gold sign will let everyone know they are in "Pirate country" when they arrive in Greenville. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

See Little Impact By Fake Tobacco

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The inventors of a cigarette supplement now used to replace one-third of the tobacco in three British brands of cigarettes say the substance probably won't have much effect on U.S. leaf producers.

"The growers were concerned 25 years ago that the introduction of filters was going to displace the tobacco content of cigarettes," said Jim Allen, regional communications manager for Celanese, a Charlotte company that invented the substance. "The actual facts are that those fears have not been realized."

But British use of the cigarette additive cytel has begun to worry U.S. tobacco growers. Producers are concerned about whether the substance might threaten the tobacco export market.

"Leaf tobacco is a very important export to us," said Dr. Oscar K. Moore, an economics professor at East Carolina. "For example, 30 per cent of the U.S. production was exported in 1975. England has traditionally been the biggest importer of U.S. leaf tobacco, but West Germany became No. 1 recently."

The three British firms began using cytel last month, which ironically was developed in North Carolina, the producer of 35 per cent of the country's real leaf.

Celanese officials say they won't know how well the new cigarettes will do in Britain until the end of the year.

The fake tobacco, a wood pulp cellulose supplement, was invented in the late 1950s. A second substance, called NSM

(new smoking material), has been developed and is being marketed by Imperial Tobacco Ltd.

West Germany came out with the first cytel cigarettes in 1975 and Switzerland began marketing the product later, with modest success.

Honor Grad Takes Post

Miss Mamie E. Maye of Greenville has completed her Master of Arts degree in music education at the University of Minnesota and has accepted a position at St. Paul's College in Lawrenceville, Va.

Miss Maye was a 1976 cum laude graduate of Virginia State College, Petersburg, and she also graduated with honors of U. Minnesota in Minneapolis. While attending U. Minnesota she was president of the Sigma Sigma Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota Fraternity for Women in Music and a member of the Black Music Educators of the Twin Cities. She maintained membership in AGO, MENC, and Kappa Delta Pi Honor Society. During the spring quarter she was administrative assistant to Dr. Johannes Riedel, Director of Graduate Studies.

She has been invited to present her thesis, "A Comparative Study of the Gospel-Song Plays of Langston Hughes and 'Shuffle Along' by Noble Sissle and Eubie Blake," at the fall meeting of African and African-American Folklorists to be held at Indiana University Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

She will be instructor of music appreciation and methods of music for elementary teachers at St. Paul's, as well as college organist and choir director. She is the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Maye Sr. of Greenville.
