Call Meeting.

There was a call meeting of the E. A. Poe Society on Jan. 25, 1916. A letter from the Lanier Society was read stating the query for the annual debate in March, which was, "Resolved that the American people should uphold president Wilson in his present policy of preparedness." It was moved and seconded that the Society leave the choosing of the negative or affirmative over until our next regular meeting.

Then a letter was read by our President from Miss Mary Bridgman, our former president, and it was moved and seconed that the Secretary write Miss Bridgman a note of thanks for a dollar which was inclosed in the letter, for our Society.

The meeting now adjourned.

6. The E. A. Poe Society held its business meeting Jan. 29, 1916. The roll was called, and the minutes read, and approved.

We were glad to add to our Society the following members:- Annie Pendleton, Ruth Austin, Annie Lee Harper, Vivian Hudnell, Maude Simmons, and Jennie M. Sewell.

It was moved and seconed that the Society turn the matter over to the debaters of whether or not our Society should have the negative or affirmative, in the annual debate. The following girls were chosen as preliminary debaters:- Juanita Weedon, Flora Hutchins, Gertrude Cook, Helen Bell, Helen Gardner, and Hallie Jones.

As the meeting had to be cut short, the meeting adjourned.
