and what it should mean to each girl. The girls were then given seats. There were 80 new members initiated.

After the Initiation Miss Bass ch. of Program Committee took charge. The Society joined in singing the "Poe Psalm," which was followed by an address of welcome by the president, Miss Thigpen. "The Ideals of the Society were impressed upon the members and each girl was urged to do her part in keeping up those ideals. The work of the Society in the past, and what we expect to do in the future was emphasied."

Mrs. Meadows rendered a beautiful Instrumental Solo. Mr. Meadows then addressed the Society. He first told the new members how lucky they were to get off with such an easy initiation and told of his experience in his College Initiation. He spoke of the organization of the Society ten years ago, and how with interest he had watched it develop unto its present stage. He expressed his desire for a real Literary Society in which every girl would have a chance to "come into her own."

In closing the "Poe Psalm" was sung several times for the benefit of the new members.

The President then invited the Faculty members, followed by the new members, and lastly old members to go in the order named to the Recreation Hall.

The members entered the hall
