It was unanimously decided that we try to have Dr. Birchhead come to E. C. T. T. S.

The matter of raising money for Dr. Birchhead's expenses by continuing the sweeping of the halls was discussed and decided in favor of. It was impressed upon every girl present that she must do her duty and her level best every time, and not have her work for someone else to do.

At the call for her report, the Critic read her duties from the Constitution and then repeated the Society's aim "That we are striving to make our Society more parliamentary. To do this, she told us the continues talking at every meeting must stop! and that every girl should remember they are not recognized unless they address the President and stand on their feet. Otherwise the Society does not give its time and attention.

Helen Bahnson Sec.

There was a regular business meeting of the Poe Society on January 10, 1920 with the president in charge. After the minutes were read and approved, the reports from the various committees were given as follows: Treasury - $184.84 in Treasury; Poster Committee asks for more help - Volunteers were called for by the president; The flower bed committee was asked to meet to pull weeds during the following week. The chairman also stated that she was trying to get land to plant red and white roses for cutting; the Captains of the sweeping force reported excellent Co-operation on some halls and very poor work on others.

The Secretary read letters from Dr. Birchhead and Mrs Bowie in which they expressed their inability to address