machine. As it was the night for the election of a new president, the Society unanimously elected Miss Oma O' Brian as president. As she was absent, the expresident presided during the entire meeting. Miss Strassburger gave a talk on the many duties and responsibilities of the business manager of the quarterly and the necessity of having a capable girl in this office. Miss Annie Spruil was elected Business manager and Miss Mabel Thomas, Assistant Editor.

Miss Julia Taylor, the retiring president, expressed her pleasure at being able to serve the Society in the capacity of president; the Society extended a rising vote of thanks in appreciation of the splendid service Miss Taylor has rendered the Society.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the secretary draw up an amendment to the constitution providing for election of new treasurer at the same time of election of new president.

There being no further business the meeting was turned over to the program Committee.
