There was a call meeting of the Poe society in room II Jan. 21, 1922 for the purpose of deciding what kind of stationery the society wanted. Miss Hicks had several samples and a choice was made from these. It was decided that one box would be ordered for each member of the society. The members were again urged to go to the piano recital given by Mr. Eizman. The meeting adjourned.

A regular business Meeting of the E. A. P. Literary society was held in the Auditorium on Jan. 28, 1922. The Meeting was called to order by the president. The roll was called and the minutes read and approved. The treasurer reported that there was some over a hundred dollars in the treasury. Miss Hicks reported that she had put in an order for the stationery and it was thot best that she should get the money out of the treasury to pay for it then the girls could pay her.

The president reported that she thot we came out on the recital given by Mr. Eizman. She said Miss Fahnstock had offered to pay for the programs. The society did not like this plan so it was decided we'd make money some other way to pay on them if we didn't come out.

An invitation from the Lanins inviting the society to a play to be given Monday night Jan. 30, 1922 was read by sec. and accepted by the Society.

A motion was made that the following amendment be made to sec. 1 Art. V: Every member that misses a regular meeting of this society without permission from the president is subjected to a fine
