Rats!

The hunters who recently made such big records are nowhere along side of Mr. John Smith when it comes to rat catching.
He set a wire trap for the rodents in his store, Wednesday night, and going down this morning found that he had bagged sixteen fat ones. He said it was not a specially good night for rats, either, or there is no telling how many he would have caught.

Tobacco Cloth at Lang's

They Are Fine Actors.

There was not a large audience to see East Lynne by the G. A.
Hill Theatre Co. last night, but the attendance is showing an increase with each performance.
The acting last night, especially of the ladies, was splendid and their costumes were exquisite.
They give way to-night for the home company to play "Imogene" as previously arranged for, and Friday night will present "The Daughter of Dixie or the South before the War." You should not miss this. The Hill company is composed of the very best actors and nothing but praise is heard of their plays.
