

DAILY REFLECTOR.

D. J. WHICHARD, Editor.

Subscription 25 cents per Month.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

The Winston bar, upon Judge Battle's retirement from the bench, presented him with a gold-headed cane and with resolutions showing its regard for him.

Chicago is green with envy over the success of the Lexow investigating committee in New York. She is talking of unmasking a few of her own corrupt bosses, merely to show that Gotham is no worse than she is.

Secretary Herbert has decided to build the submarine boat authorized by Congress several years ago, and has ordered the contract to be drawn at once, in order that the vessel may be completed and ready for experiment before the end of next year. The design of John P. Holland, of Newark, N. J., has been definitely adopted, and it is expected that the vessel will be built at Newport News, Va.

While President Cleveland is having fun shooting duck down in South Carolina the Legislature of that State is creating fun for the country at the President's expense. A member introduced a resolution expressing appreciation of the visit of the President to the State and extending his party an invitation to visit the General Assembly and accept the privileges of the two floors of that body. The resolution met with opposition from the reformers and a general debate followed. For creating an all-around rumpuss the Palmetto State is making herself a reputation.

Since starting the DAILY REFLECTOR we have been sending it to some people in town who have not yet indicated that they want it. Please let the carrier know if he can continue taking it to you. We hope no one will refuse to subscribe for it, as every person in town should feel especially interested in keeping up such an enterprise. The paper is going to do all it can for Greenville and it asks the patronage of every one.

South west Greenville is a busy quarter and it fills one with pride for his town to walk out that way these mornings and see load after load of bright tobacco rolling into the warehouses, the busy throng of employees in the prizeries, hear the merry hum of machinery over at the Greenville Lumber Co's. plant, several trains a day flying behind their puffing iron horses, with the children journeying schoolward addin to the life of the scene. Verily, the old town is moving forward.

The Herald has received the first two copies of the DAILY REFLECTOR, a new afternoon paper started in Greenville Monday. It is not large as yet but is full up with news, and the publisher, Mr. D. J. Whichard, promises to make it bigger and better if the first month's experimental work shows that he is justified in doing so. — Salisbury Herald.
