Against Confederate Pensons.

So major H. L. Grant, who himself draws a pension from the Yankee side of the line, although able bodied and unwonded, has introduced a bill in the State Senate to repeal the act pensioning, at a poor pittance, the wounded Confederate soldiers of this State. He would take from them, wound ed and maimed, helpless and starving though they be, the poor pittance that their own State has provided for them and which their own home people willingly pay, while he himself draws a Federal pension for helping to wound them at the head of a negro regiment! And th is is the man whom many Old Confederate soldiers voted for in the late election on the Fusion ticket against Ben Aycock for the Senate, and by whose votes he was elected. This is how he repays them: He and Marion Butler "pull" for Abe Middleton, their burly negro henchman, in preference to a one-legged Confederate soldier, as assistant doorkeeper, and now he wants their pension taken from them.—Goldsboro Argus.

We thought from the Secretary's statement about its close that the last State fair at Raleigh was the most successful financially that has been held, but the fact comes out now that it fell short $4,000 of paying expenses.
