Pepper on the Stage

Some years ago a famous actress, having been disengaged for some time, packed her wardrobe in pepper to preserve it from moths. She was suddenly called upon to take the part of the queen in "Hamlet." Being rather late for her first scene, she omitted to shake out her royal robes, and her dignified entrance had an astonishing effect. The king, after a brave resistance, gave vent to a mighty sneeze that well nigh made the stage vibrate. All the royal courtiers and maids of honor followed suit sympathetically. Hamlet came on with a most sublime tragedy air, but after a convulsive movement of his princely features, he buried them in his somber robe, while sneeze after sneeze was all the public heard from him. Amid the hubbub on the stage and the shrieks of delight from the audience, the stage manager, between sneezes, rang down the curtain.
