Handsome Offices.

Messrs. Blount & Fleming have fitted up the handsomest law offices in Greenville. Both rooms at their office have been beautifully papered, nicely carpeted and splendidly furnished. We dropped around to see them for a few minutes, Wednesday afternoon, and they looked as cozy as could be in their well arranged quarters.

Don't Slander These Good Women.

A lady prominent in the King's Daughters has requested the REFLECTOR to correct an erroneous impression that has been made concerning their order. It has been told that they solicited the Hill Theatre Co., which played here last week, to donate a portion of the proceeds to them. This does injustice to the noble ladies. They did not know that they were to receive a portion of the proceeds until it was so published. The fact is that when it was first announced that a portion of the proceeds were to be given to the public school fund, some one suggested that as that fund was derived from sources of taxation and had already been considerably augmented by recent entertainments, the money would serve a better purpose to be used in charitable work. Acting on this suggestion it was decided that a part of the proceeds should go to the King's Daughters to be used as they deemed best in relieving suffering. When the money was tendered them of course they accepted it, and there is no question but what they will do more good with it than if it had gone to the school fund. The King's Daughters are doing a noble work and should be encouraged, rather than hindered by insinuations.
