NEWS OFF THE WIRE.

Served by our "Leased" Underground Cable—(Limited).

President Cleveland arrived in Washington City Friday from his hunting trip in North Carolina.

A negro attempted to wreck a C. & O. train, near Richmond, by placing logs on the track. He was caught and jailed.

A wall of the Mechanic's National Bank building at Pittsburg, Pa., fell, killing one man and wounding three others. A similar accident occurred at Laramie, Wyo., by the falling wall of a burned building.

Mr. J. J. Tucker, of Chicod, tells us that on last Thursday he killed two wild turkeys that weighed 20 and 18 pounds respectively. Mr. Tucker is the boss turkey hunter in the Chicod section.

Mr. J. L. Butner, of Raleigh, is spending a few days in town. Mr. Butner is a skilled piano and organ tuner, and anyone wishing to place their musical instruments in the care of a competent and painstaking man should consult him.

The Planter's Guide.

The REFLECTOR office has just printed for the Planters' Tobacco Warehouse a neat 32 page pamphlet entitled "The Planter's Guide." It gives an interesting treatise on the handling of tobacco from the plant bed to the warehouse floor. Every tobacco planter in the county should have one of these pamphlets. They are for free distribution and can be had from Messrs. Forbes & Moyer.

Musical Feast.

We have spent no more delightful evening and enjoyed no grander musical feast than with a few friends at the splendid home of Mrs. J. B. Cherry Friday evening. Our people well know what a charming singer Mrs. Cherry is, and in addition to her magnificent voice the enjoyment was heightened by Mr. Brooke French, of Wilmington, the most superb tenor singer to whom we ever listened, and Mr. J. L. Butner, of Raleigh, whose violin obligatos are seldom equaled. Miss Carrie Cobb also added much to the enjoyment of the occasion in her faultless accompaniments. It was indeed a rare evening of pleasure.

Mr. Sam McIlveen, the literary tourist, is also a skilled worker in wire—not a "wire worker." He presented us with a very handsome "Reflector" pin made by himself of gold wire.

DID YOU KNOW?

Well. Look at these Names and Then You Will Know.

Mr. S. F. Freeman left this morning for Plymouth.

Mr. H. F. Harris has gone to Johnston county.

Miss Mary Moyer returned from LaGrange this morning.

Mr. W. S. Greer arrived in town this morning, smiling as usual.

Mr. Frank Wilson returned from the north Friday night and you can look out for his new goods.

Miss Claude Lancaster, of Raleigh, who was visiting the family of Mr. J. S. Congleton, returned home to-day.

The Representative From Pitt.

Rev. Phillips, Populist, of Pitt, is a fine specimen of the genus futionist. He is now said to be a Seventh Day Adventist, having left the Baptist church (in which he was a minister). Last night he lay across two trunks dead drunk in the baggage room of the Yarbrough House.

Yeste day Phillips went to the office of the State Auditor and drew his pay for the two days this triangular commission has been sitting. Then came his little "expense" account. He had a valise full of books, which he told the chief clerk was included in the "expenses." He had been compelled to buy them, he stated, for the use of the committee, which could not get along without them. In fact the tomes in that valise were essential to the well-being and happiness of the members of that committee.

The valise was opened. In it were a few old law books; and copies of acts of former legislatures—the latter old books that any one might have picked up on the floor of the house.

The valise was ruled "out of order."—Raleigh News and Observer, 15th.
