World's Proverbs.

If you would be a sage among fools, never express an opinion.
 It is easier to win applause than to make converts.
 When the rack is empty the milk-pail leaks.
 One dyspeptic stomach can sour a whole family.
 Man has a reputation to make, woman but one to lose.
 Few have sufficient command of language to know when to keep still.
 Be more cautious in lending your influence than your money.
 Killing time is the commonest kind of fool suicide.
 The world cannot afford to do without reasonable pleasures.
 Fashion cares less for what you say about its character than about its clothes.
 Read what you write when it is cold, and you may not be so warm over it.

The printer got John Horne's chicken item mixed up yesterday. Instead of fifteen chickens from two eggs it was two chickens from fifteen eggs. He reports eleven hough, to day.

NEARER HOME.

What is Happening Over the State.

Mr. Montford McGehee died at Raleigh at the age of 73.
 A new life-saving station is to be built at Core Banks.
 S. Otho Wilson was sworn in as Railroad Commissioner on Monday.

The Aurora says that three carloads of monazite, worth $1,000 has been shipped from Shelby.
 Arrangements have been made for the immediate beginning of work on a $100,000 cotton mill at Salem.

The Methodist parsonage at Pleasant Grove, in Union county, was destroyed by fire Wednesday. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

An old man named Reams, from Virginia, was waylaid and murdered in Nash county on Sunday. His assassins believed that he had money with him.

On the next Sunday after the Shemwell-Payne tragedy the pastor of the Methodist church of Lexington preached a sermon against capital punishment.

While up in her room attending to her infant child near midnight Mrs. C. H. Whorton, who lives on Pollock street, was struck in the arm by a pistol ball fired from inside the lot by some one. It fortunately inflicted but a slight flesh wound.—Newbern Journal.

The fishermen tell us that fishing has been almost a complete failure this season. When the nets were first put out the freeze came and destroyed nearly all of them. And the run of fish has been small. Taking the small number of nets in use and the light run the season has been a failure.—Washington Progress.

The building and loan associations of the city had a meeting and decided to bring action to test the law in regard to the act to regulate assignments. Mr. C. L. Hunter will bring action for the Mutual Building and Loan Association. The case will be tried at Lincoln court before Judge Robinson, and will be taken immediately to the Supreme Court.—Charlotte Observer.

THE WOOL IN MY CLOTHING

Grows on a sheep's back and not on a cotton stalk. It would be a good idea for you to see that your Spring Suit is made of the kind that grows on a sheep, because it is better in every respect—wears better, looks better, holds color better and is finer.

Our $5, $8 and $10 Spring Suits are made of this kind of wool and they fit just like tailor made. All grades, all colors and all shapes.

Fat or lean, I can fit you.

FRANK WILSON,

The Leader in Clothing.

P. S.—I can take your measure and make a beautiful Suit of Clothes.

About Advertising.

An exchange says the following on this important subject:

It is continuous effort that pays in advertising as in everything else. A business man doesn't keep his store open one day in the week, or one week in the month, or three months in the year. If he advertises that way that is the impression people will get. It is continuousness that has made each letter in the word "Royal" before the words "Baking Powder" worth over $2,000,000. The owner of Royal Baking Powder recently refused $12,000,000 for his business—a business built up and fostered by persistent advertising.

People are very forgetful. They have to think pretty hard to remember the vice presidential candidate two campaigns back, and yet he was pretty well advertised at the time. It has been truly said that the time to advertise is all the time. In business there is no such thing as standing still. A business man must go forward or he will fall back. Even if you do just as much business this year as you did last, some other fellow is doing more business and he is getting ahead of you.

Don't forget to hand your subscription to the carrier.

Up in the Air.

A company has just been incorporated at Springfield, O., for the discovery of the heirs of the vast Holmes estate in England said to be worth $400,000,000. It was left by James Holmes, a South sea trader, and William Hinrod, of New York, is said to be one of the heirs.

The odds are 100 to 1 that there is no such estate. Similar announcements are made from time to time, and thousands of people in this country have been bled by unscrupulous swindlers.

There are no estates in England worth millions of dollars awaiting American claimants. Our ministers and consuls have frequently made this statement but it has no effect. Just so long as people love money and lack common sense and information they will be the victims of the lawyers and agents who work the unclaimed estate racket.

In the past few years it has been announced that various persons were in search of million dollar inheritances in Europe. Not one ever succeeded. They spent the money they could spare on the agents who were swindling them and that was the last of it.

People hunting big estates a rule, will have to accumulate them by their own efforts.—Atlanta Constitution.
