

I am sure it must be a good one. I shall go to Liverpool to-morrow to attend the Conference at Hebrin on Sunday. I expect to return here in a weeks time and hope to see you when you come up. I miss you see.
Tell the Baby, it is exceedingly pleasant for me to be at home, but there are no little feet here and I miss too, his sweet voice at my door. Mrs. Twitty I brought you a rose. Mrs. Twitty thought him smelt the sweetest flower.
Love to John's, kindest regards to Mr. Carr, and ever the warmest Affection for yourself.

Love haste Yr. friend,

G. D. Twitty.

Dear Mrs. Carr,

I returned the Commutation Ticket as directed, and write, fearing Button may not do so, to assure you of our safe arrival at home. We had no trouble, rather a pleasant time, than otherwise, somewhat uncomfortable at Rocky Mount - nothing more.
William was as gallant & polite as an older person could have been, not once forgetting to remind me of the bundles, and but for Mr. Carr's having said that he was careless with money I should have given him the amount to pay expenses & placed myself entirely in his care.

Say to Mr. Carr that I had and sent Mr. Louerville, looking four dollars and forty cents, after much better than when at Bruce, paying expenses, which I handed bridge. In his own words I send to William, except one dollar - "lots o' cords" of love to yourself that, I kept to send him after and Mr. C., and will write soon, awhile, should you not come up because he is well aware that before the 1st of July.

I succeeded in getting him a very pretty suit of grey, the best a little different, but not enough so to detract from the appearance of the suit. In fact it was the only suit in the house that fitted him - marked nine dollars, but the merchant, few like, let me have them for eight. Joe had a violent headache all the way home & looked how the match was made up sad, almost inconsolable at parting so hurriedly? He said, that I was at the Depot this morn - called it the Lord's Match - If so, ing to see the College girls off and sent Mr. Louerville, looking after much better than when at Bruce, I send

to yourself and Mr. C., and will write soon, because he is well aware that
"Uncle Elias" more a letter from his Nephew. Yours Mother was in Warrington last week, quite well. Mrs Benson gone on a visit to her friends in Berlin, will return next week and residence with Mrs.
Battle. Mrs. Allen was married yesterday. Bid - was at the masriage. I asked Mr. Louerville, was made up
that he
- If so,

Mrs. Elias Carr.
