Mr. Elias Carr,

Dear Sir & Bro.

At the meeting of our
A. Sub. A. to day, I was requested to write you for advice.

Can a man's wife become a member of the Alliance when he himself ^(husband) does not belong to it? Can she ^(his wife) join without paying her fee of initiation?

How would it be in case the man was disabled from physical labor?

A man wants ^{to join} who says he is too poor to pay the fee if he can't ^(without fee) join, his wife wants to join ^{without} fee. What will we do with them?

Give all the instructions you can think of regarding female admittance.
The Constitution is not plain enough it seems.
And Oblige Yours
Respectfully
J. B. Cardon
