Dear Brother

In case a member of an Alliance is expelled, and wishes to join again, and three black balls are cast against him, Has the Alliance a right to take a revote on him or not? I claim it comes under the heading of a member just coming into the order. And I think if more than one black ball occurs a revote cannot be taken until 6 or 12 months pass - Please set me right on this for the benefit of our Alliance

Yours Fraternally
