Hello Frankie

Received your letter & was glad that you were pleased to receive our note. It was quite a treat, wasn't it. Glad to hear you like the Navy & believe me I bet there are guy in the Army now that they were in the Navy too. At least a sailor hasn't got to go marching for hours as a soldier's do do you see, I guess you knew what you wanted all right. You wanted to know how the gang is getting along. Sorry to say, his no kid for the kid got to the Boss for having another kid broken in at the other mill. So now you can see for yourself how dumb the kid is. He tries hard enough but he's so forgetful. He forgets to close the soap dish. Tells this, he forgets to open the gates at certain times. He even went so far as letting people in that didn't often belong here without passes. It's too bad, that at least he tried. I hope the next one is better. Do you know James Lupinello? He's home on a 7 day furlough & he looks very good. Received a letter from — Leonard & he's getting along fine also.

a few of the girls were asking for you.
Mike sends his regards so does Theresa.
Aggie hasn't left for the Marines yet.
I don't know what is holding her back altho' she received word that she was going To North Capolina for her training I'd be sorry for her especially in this weather. Well Frankie it's almost time to go home now of course it's fun. but we had to put in 8 hrs, how awful-
So now I'll be saying Good by + Good Luck until I hear from you again. Say, I hope a brother-in-law trains at Sampson, maybe you'll see him sometime. His name is Joseph Kaltdnick.
Let me know if you ever meet him.

Ans. Soon.

As Ever

Marie
