Elias Carr. President N. E. F. A.

Dear Sir
The

are having some trouble in the Alliance in our County and we desire an expression of your opinion in regard to the matter, the circumstances were as follows Application was made to one Alliance for membership by a party and was black balled.
At the end of six months the same person applied to a neighboring Alliance for membership and was taken in. The matter was taken to the County Alliance and it was admitted by the last Sub Alliance that they had violated the constitution by receiving a member within the jurisdiction of a sister Alliance. It was agreed by the County Alliance that the matter be left in the hands of the two Sub Alliances for settlement and if it could not be amicably settled then whole matter to be reported back the County Alliance.

The two Sub Alliances appointed a Committee of five members from each ^{of the two} Sub Alliances and the Joint Committee reported that they had agreed that the party should make his application for permission from his nearest Sub Alliance, and he voted for in the Alliance that he proposed to join. The application was made and permission was granted by a majority of the nearest Alliance and after that was done the other Alliance refused to re-ballot as per agreement.

We want to know if they would be compelled to reballot before the party can be legally a member of the Alliance.

The members of the latter Alliance are divided on the matter, some contending that a reballot must be had. But a majority refusing to take the ballot. The matter is causing trouble and we hope you will give the matter your early attention. Fraternally

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the fresh air.
It felt like a warm blanket.
The sun was shining brightly, and the birds were singing.
I had never felt so alive.
The landscape was beautiful, with rolling hills and green fields.
I had heard that the weather was perfect, and now I knew why. It was exactly what I needed. I had been so stressed at work, and this was a great escape. I had heard that the food was good, and now I knew why. It was exactly what I needed. I had heard that the people were friendly, and now I knew why. They were
had heard that the views were amazing, and now I knew why. They were
had heard that the service was excellent, and now I knew why. It was exactly what I needed. I had heard that the prices were reasonable, and now I knew why. They were exactly what I needed.
