Mr Elias Carr P

Dear Brother

Has a subordinate Alliance one the right to prefer charges ^{against} a brother, & deal with him by expulsion for not meeting his obligation with his Merchant, that the Alliance has made arrangements with for those who could make arrangement for themselves; When the failure is an account of the shortness of crops? Has it a right to expel a member that will not fellowship a bro that has treated them badly? Has it the right to prefer charges, & deal with a member after having granted him a remit or withdrawal ^{in good standing} care for any thing that he did a month or two before the care was given; when it was talk about to even consider at the time the care was ask for & given? Has the business agent the right to sell Alliance goods to men outside of the Alliance at Alliance prices those they pay hem the money? You will please answer this by a private letter, & by the first mail am obly

Fraternally

Mr. Wm. F. C.

The people of Boston, who have been so long exposed to the influence of the Slaveholders, and their agents, and who have been so long educated to despise the Slave, and to consider him as a mere animal, and a slave, will be slow in giving up their old habits, and in adopting new habits. They will be slow in giving up their old prejudices, and in adopting new ones. They will be slow in giving up their old ways of thinking, and in adopting new ones. They will be slow in giving up their old ways of living, and in adopting new ones.

Brother Cora
