History of Wayne County.

1St USPY SCARCES

HISTORY OF WAYNE COUNTY.

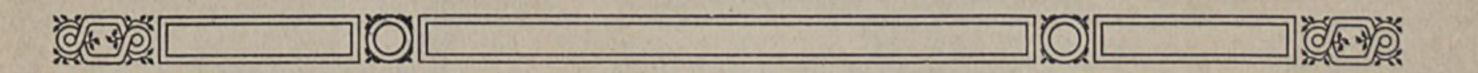

ADDRESS BY

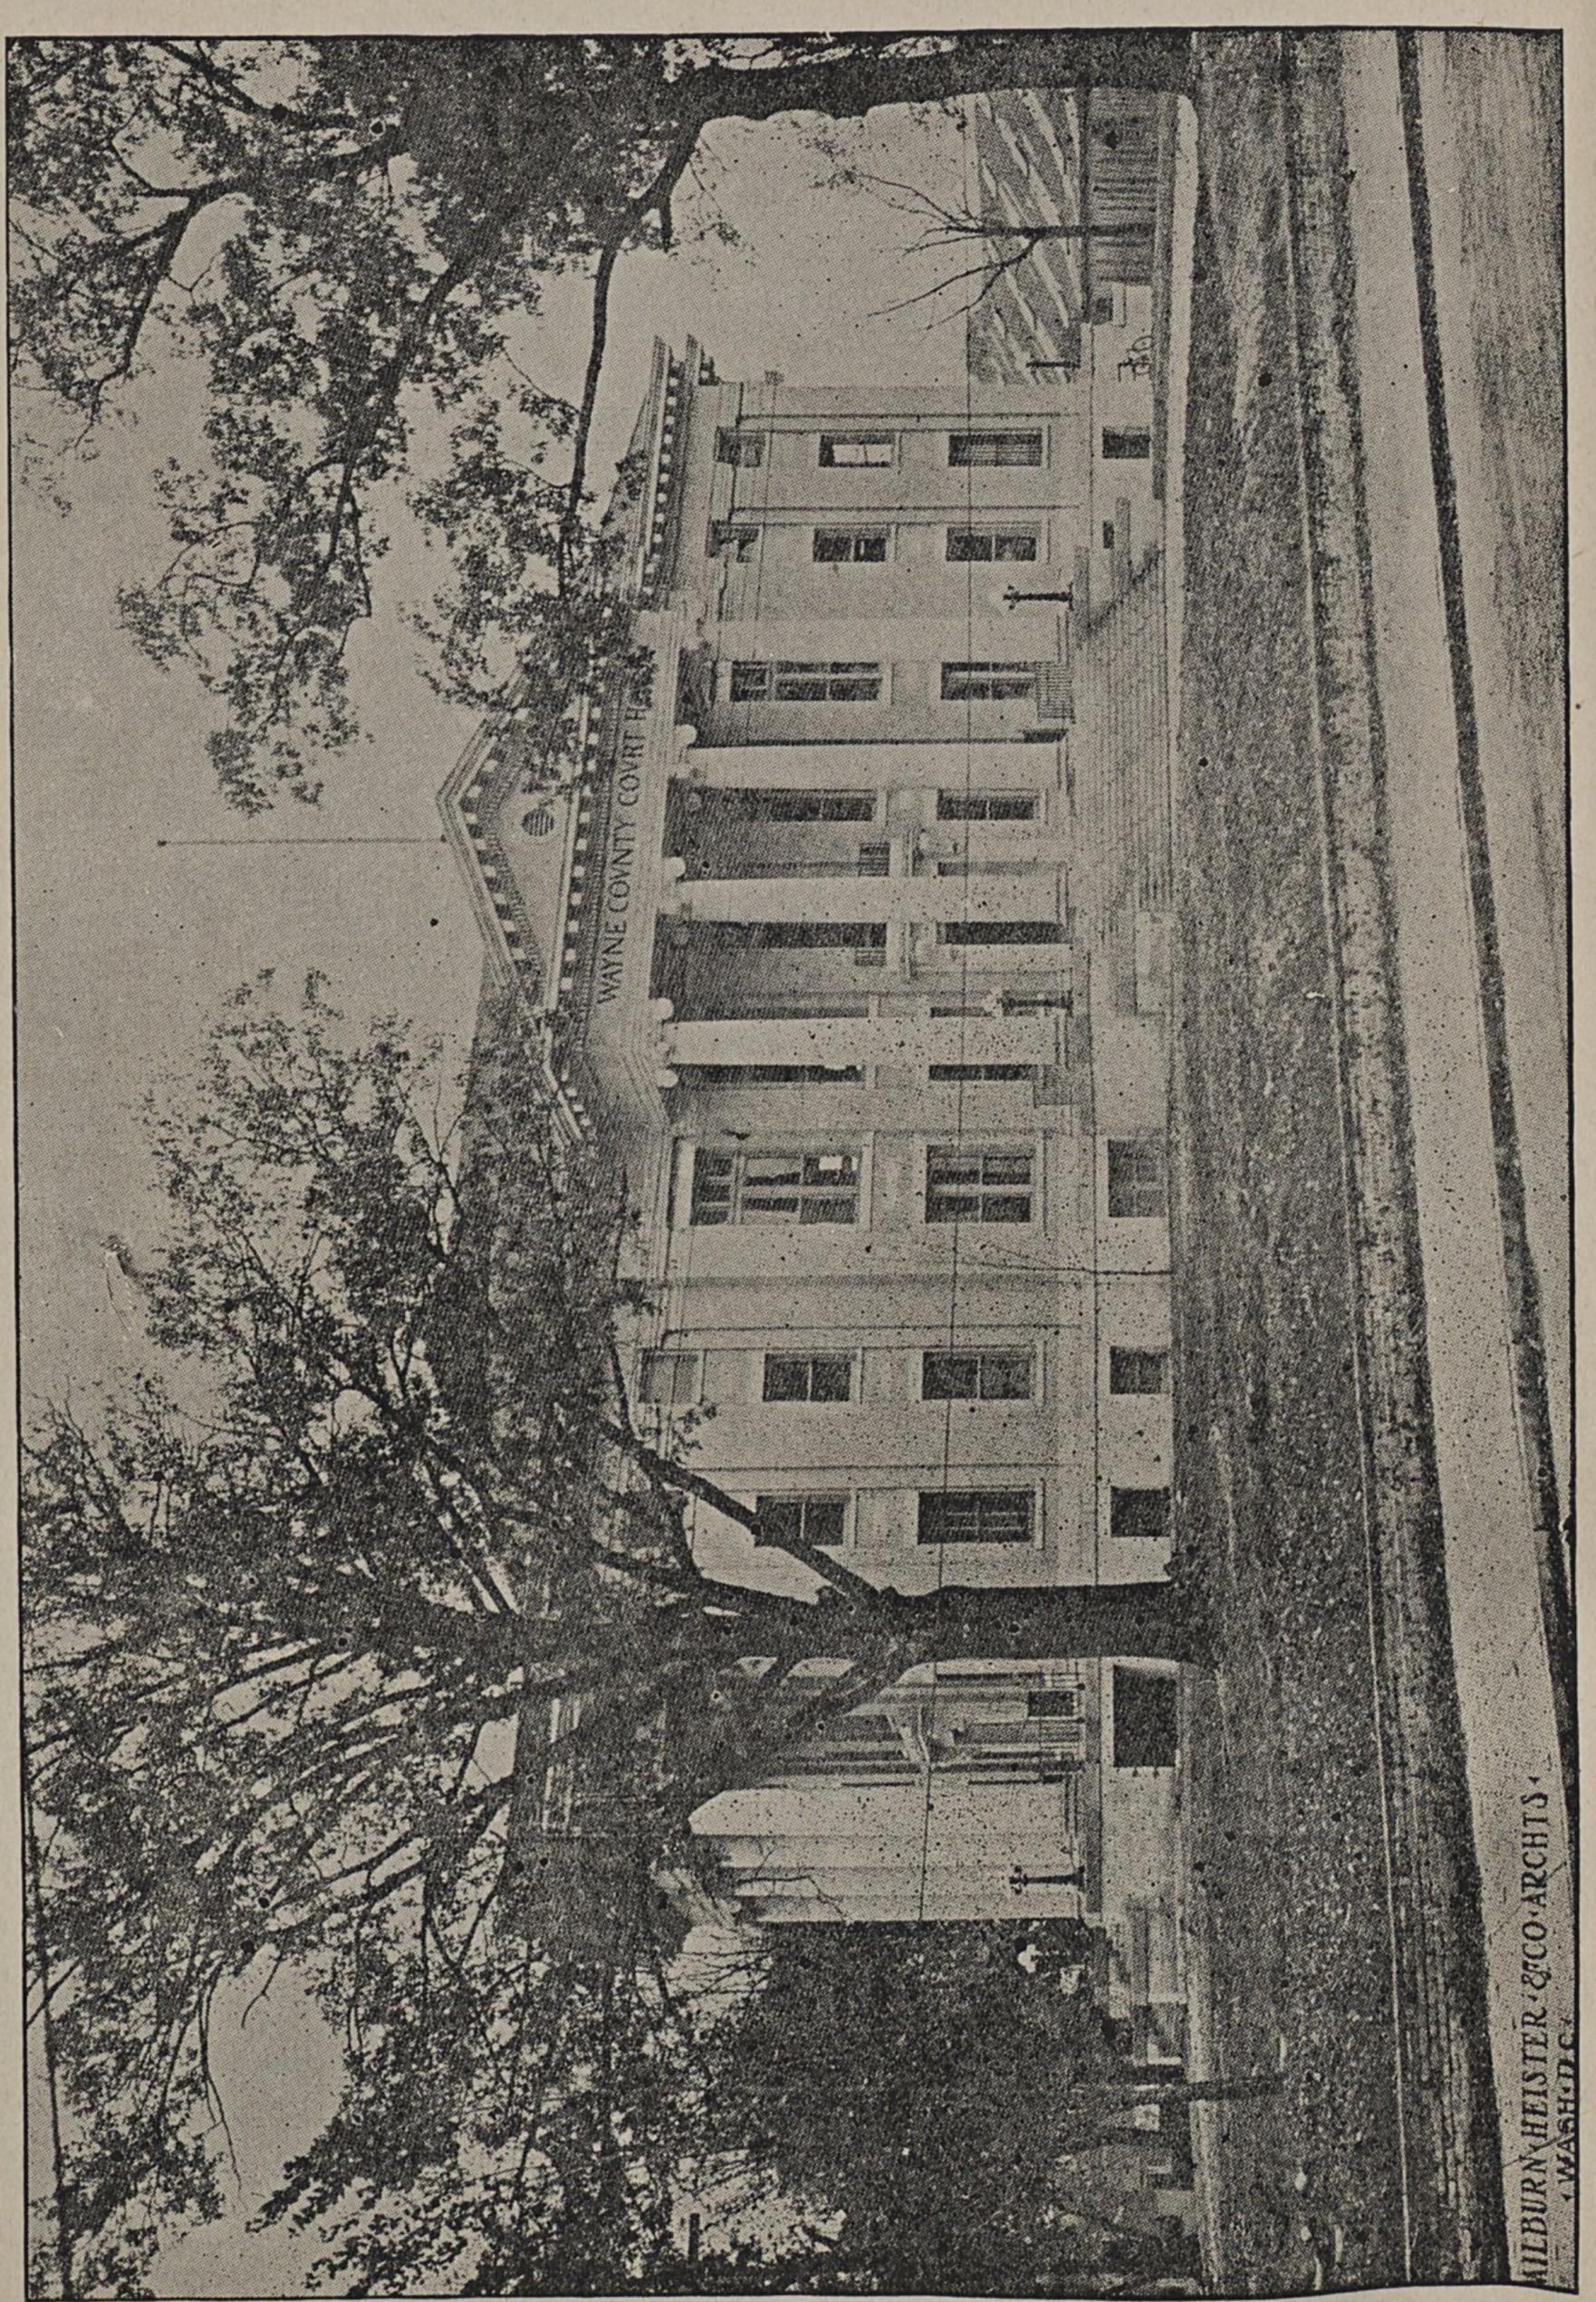

Judge Frank A. Daniels,

AT OPENING OF

Wayne County's New Court House,
NOVEMBER 30, 1914.

Exercises Incident to the Occasion.

WAYNE COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

BOARD OF COUN TY COMMISSIONERS:

No. 1, I. F. Ormond, Chairman of the Board; No. 2, R. A. Whitfield, of Gantham township; No. 3, W. A. Martin, of Nahunta; No. 4, D. N. Newsome, of New Hope; No. 6, C. F. Herring, of Indian Springs No. 5, Earle A. Humphrey, Attorney to the Board.

Dedication of New Court House AND History of Wayne County.

It would seem that all Wayne county | Building Committee, composed of himhad gathered in Goldsboro today to self and Mr. C. F. Herring, on the part participate in the most prideful event of the Board, and Mr. Frank K. Borin the city and county's history—the | den, representing the citizens of the formal opening of Wayne county's | county as a whole. Heister & Company, of Washington, house in the South. D. C., and the builder was Mr. W. P. now a leading architect of Raleigh; and the County Attorney, who attended to all the legal technicalities of the gram. building bonds, their drafting and late Col. L. W. Humphrey, and a na- ated and applauded. tive Goldsboro boy; while supervising aged, as he always was, by the special linger in their hearts for aye.

magnificent new Court House, than | And today this court house is being which there is none finer, and few | viewed and visited by thousands of our comparable to it in the South. And | county people, here for the celebration we deem it of primal interest and of its formal opening, and a common worthy of emphasis as cause for ad- thrill of patriotic pride permeates all ditional pride to every citizen of bosoms over its substantial build, its Wayne county that it was not only symmetrical proportions and superlabuilded in all its superlative beauty | tive beauty, and we are proud to be at the common assent of our people, able to present to our thousands of as a public necessity, but its construc- readers pictures in this issue of the tion was supervised in every detail of building and of the builder and of the specification and executed to comple- | Board of County Commissioners and tion by native Wayne county boys, County Attorney whose public spirit only the plans of the building being and patriotism gave to our county the work of other than home talent people the opportunity of building for The architects were Messrs. Milburn- themselves the most creditable court

Owing to the absence of Mr. I. F. Rose, of this city, a native Wayne | Ormond, who was called last night to county boy, and his associate, repre- Atlanta, to the bedside of a critically senting the architects, was another ill brother, Hon. W. S. O'B. Robinson Wayne County boy, Mr. J. M. Kennedy, presided at the opening exercises and introduced Judge Frank A. Daniels who then took charge of the pro-

In presenting Judge Daniels, Judge sale, and the construction contract, Robinson paid a really brilliant tribthroughout its intricate specifications, ute to the occasion, the American peowith such consummate skill that there | ple-his home county people and to was not a hitch from start to finish, is the man he was presenting, Judge Mr. Earle A. Humphrey, son of the Daniels, that was thoroughly appreci-

Judge Daniels then announced that the entire and exacting work, the the exercises would formally open Chairman of the Board of County | with prayer by Rev. Jacob F. Hill, of Commissioners, Mr. I. F. Ormond, was | Saulston township, and that venerable constantly "on the job," and nothing and beloved divine responded, and with required in the specifications or es- benignant countenance lifted heavensential to the completeness of the ward, uttered a beautiful and appromagnificent building was overlooked priate prayer that settled like a beneor neglected, sustained and encour- diction over his vast audience and will

HISTORY OF WAYNE COUNTY.

PRAYER BY REV. J. F. HILL AT THE OPENING OF WAYNE COUNTY'S NEW COURT HOUSE.

O, Lord, Thou who has created us, who has preserved us and kept our lives, and who has given unto us that knowledge, that instinct to recognize Thee as the God of heaven, and the God of all the earth, we come to Thee with humbleness of heart and beseech Thee at Thy throne of grace and ask Thee, Lord, look from heaven, Thy lofty habitation, to earth Thy footstool upon us; forgive us of any wrong that we may have committed against Thy holy and precious will; one stone upon another, and all the grant unto us repentance for Christ's sake.

Now, oh Lord, we have come this day to dedicate this temple of justice, and we ask Thee that Thou will bless everyone in Thy Divine presence. Oh God, bless these attorneys that are here to defend those that may commit wrongs. Help them to realize their responsibility, and, oh God, grant that they may be endowed with Thy spirit and do justice both to the State and their clients. Heavenly Father, bless the officers of this court; guide and lead them to a faithful discharge of their several duties. And we pray Thee, Lord, that Thou will have mercy and bless the law makers of our land, guide and lead them that they may enact such laws as will be according to Thy will and beneficial to the peo-

We pray Thee, oh God, to bless our nation; bless the President of our nation and his cabinet, and guide and lead them by Thy Holy Spirit in the right. Bless our State Government; bless our Governor, and we pray Thee. Lord, that he may administer in his office justice to the State.

Legislators, as they convene from men: time to time, and may they be inspired | To me has been assigned the duty with a purpose to enact such laws as and privilege of presenting you this will be beneficial.

juries that may be summoned from est structures of its kind in the entime to time in this Court; may they | tire Southern states. be guided in such a way that they may | On May 20th, of last year, you will render their verdicts according to Thy holy and precious will.

Now, Lord, we ask Thee to remember our own Judge Daniels. Father, bless him, guide and lead him; grant that he may live many days upon the earth to serve his people.

Father, have mercy upon the prisoners incarcerated in the jail. Help them to realize the enormity of their sins and turn unto Thee that they may receive forgiveness.

Have mercy, our Father, upon all suffering humanity.

And now, Lord, we pray that as we realize from Thy word that the time is coming when there shall not stand temples, and all that man has erected must crumble to the dust, grant, our Father, that we may so live and walk before Thee that when the time shall come that this earthly tabernacle of ours shall be dissolved, and that we must go into eternity, prepared or unprepared, before the judgment seat of the Lord Jesus Christ, may our lives be so hid with Him in Thee that we may be able to hear His welcome voice saying, "Come, you blessed of My Father," and that we may find abundant entrance into that temple not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens. All of which we ask for Jesus' sake. Amen.

He was followed by Hon. Earle A. Humphrey, attorney to the Board and Solicitor of the County Court, who on behalf of the Building Committee formally presented the Court House to the Board, speaking as follows:

PRESENTATION OF WAYNE COUN-TY'S NEW COURT HOUSE.

(By County Attorney E. A. Humphrey)

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Board of County Commissioners, Fel-We pray Thee, Lord, to bless the low-Countymen, Ladies and Gentle-day with Wayne County's new court Have mercy, our Father, upon the house, said to be one of the handsomemployed the most skillful and able or religion, creed or color. architects you could secure, to super-thereafter, you awarded the contract of law. for its construction to a popular local

Then on December 1st, of last year, Messrs. Chas. F. Herring, F. K. Bor- | the lawyers. den, and I. F. Ormond, with the last | Folks seem to think the lawyer named gentleman designated as Chair- has an easy time, but it's no such man of that Committee, to superintend | thing; he's the first man to help you and personally manage and control after the last man has turned you the work as it progressed.

the Committee has done its work and | ters, and get you out of trouble: and evidence here today, and I believe times by a guilty client, when that you will agree with me that it has client goes to him with his tale of done its work well and deserves your | persecution and oppression; a victim praise.

Especially do I commend, without Hon. I. F. Ormond.

his post of duty, inspecting and exam- turned a verdict of not guilty. ining the construction as it progressed, and exercising personal control and supervision of the work, and I debt of gratitude.

Before turning this building over to you I wish to say, I trust we all understand that it represents much more gather for the transaction of everyday routine business, for trading and trafficing one with another; it stands for much more than that:

recall that you wisely selected and tion as to riches or poverty, politics

Within its walls at all times the intend the construction of the build- wronged and oppressed should find ing according to plans finally sub- that principle rules, and that equity mitted by them and approved by you. | prevails, while the State and the coun-On August 25th, about three months | ty are protected from the violation

And, Mr. Chairman, in presenting contractor and builder, who had en- this building I cannot but express the tered into competitive bidding with pleasure of the Committee in proa number of other builders, and the | viding officials of Wayne County and wisdom of your choice in the employ- members of the Bar with such accomment of both contractor and builder | modations, unsurpassed by any county is, I believe, fully proven here today. in the State of North Carolina.

I know they appreciate it, and I just a year ago tomorrow, you ap- know they deserve it: They are a pointed as a building committee worthy and industrious lot, especially down. He is expected to know the The skill and ability with which law, to look after your business matperformed its duty are clearly in he is frequently imposed upon. Someof some of his enemies, etc.

Former Senator Morgan, of Alabama reservation, the untiring work and | was a great lawyer; and had been emlabors of the Chairman of that Com- ployed to defend an old darkey, a mittee, who is none other than the former slave, upon the charge of steal-Chairman of your your own Board, ing a mule. The Senator worked hard in behalf of old Mose, and made Day in and day out, he has been at a great speech to the jury, who re-

After his client was acquitted, Senator Morgan turned to him and said, "Mose, did you get that mule?" And should feel derelict in my duty if I | Mose replied: "Boss, it was dis way; failed to tell the good folks of Wayne | before I was tried I sorter thought I County that they owe him a lasting | did git dat mule, but since you made dat speech I knows I didn't."

The time of each speaker has been limited, I have been informed, and I do not wish to transgress the rules than a material structure where men | nor encroach upon the rights of others who are to follow me.

I therefore, for and in behalf of the Building Committee, present to you, Mr. Chairman, and members of the It represents a clearing house for Board of County Commissioners, and the adjustment of men's rights; where to your successors in office, in trust Justice is dispensed without distinc- | for and as custodians of the citizens of Wayne County, thist magnificent (the exiled Hebrews exhaled itself in property, to have and to hold to the a canticle of religion which Jehovah good people of this County as tenants | inspired, and which has been transin common, in fee-simple, to use and | mited as the inheritance from God's enjoy forever.

HISTORY OF WAYNE COUNTY.

this Col. Dortch did admirably, Jerusalem the beginning of my joy." even on but a few moments' notice, The value of patriotism to a people

Jos. E. Robinson, who had been dele- purest and noblest sentiments of the gated to present the N. C. Flag, on heart; but it attains its full force and behalf of Gimble Brothers Company, beauty only where minds are elevated of Philadelphia, and he spoke as fol- and hearts are generous. lows:

PRESENTATION OF N. C. FLAG.

(By Col. Jos. E. Robinson.)

Board of County Commissioners-My spirit, at which generations coming Fellow Citizens: Today—this occas- after us may gather to con the lesson ion-marks a new and proud epoch of patriotism here perpetuated and in the history of our County—a catch the ennobling inspiration of county whose citizens have always high resolve. And over this structure portrayed the most splendid quality | -the common pride of our county of patriotism: for patriotism is love people—shall float the flag of our glorof country-love of state-love of jous commonwealth; and it is now son for mother; strong as the pillars | th; eyes of patriotic North Carolinians of death: loyalty, generous and dis- ever beheld: there is no such red in interested—shrinking from no sacri- summer rose—in sparkling wine or fice : seeking no reward except coun- sunset glow: no such white in winter manity has burnt the incense of ad- cloud: no such blue in woman's eye, in miration and reverence at the shrines ocean's depths or heaven's dome-no count its deeds. Fireside tales-outborrow from it their warmest glow. Poets' songs are sweetest when they echo its whisperings: orators most to its inspiration. The patriotism of had been delegated to receive this people to the nations of all times:-"Upon the rivers of Babylon, there On leaving the city last night Mr. | we sat and wept when we remembered Ormond expressed a desire that Col. Zion. If I forget thee, O, Jerusalem, W. T. Dortch of the city bar, should let my right-hand be forgotten. Let represent him in formally accepting my tongue cleave to my jaws if I do the Court House for the county, and | not remember thee-if I do not make speaking eloquently for the people of cannot be estimated. It is above gold the county their appreciation of this and precious stones—above commerce commodious, modern and most cred- and industry-above citadels and waritable court house and their thanks | ships. Patriotism is the vital spark to the Board of County Commissioners of the State's honor: the living fount for co-operating with them in building of the State's prosperity, the strong shield of the State's safety: its effu-Col. Dortch was followed by Col. sion is the fragrant flowering of the

That the minds and hearts of Wayne County's citizens are elevated and enerous finds most creditable proof and expression in this magnificent Court House, which they have builded to the godders of Justice—and as a Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the shrine of our progress and public county, and loyalty to their lives and | my prideful privilege to present that welfare-love tender as affection of flag-the most inspiring object that try's triumph. Through the ages hu- snow, in dogwood bloom or floating of patriotism. The most beautiful such brilliant star in all "those arpages of history are those which re- gent fields above" as that which shines from the unfurled flag of North pourings of the memories of peoples | Carolina-"Heaven's blessings attend her: While we live we will cherish, protect and defend her!"

potent when they attune their speech Mr. S. F. Teague, of the city bar following stirring words:

NORTH CAROLINA FLAG.

(By S. F. Teague)

men:-

Within the last four months more hearts have been thrilled and more their homes and loved ones to fight our right. for their flag. Within the past four It seems fitting therefore, Mr. Chairmonths thousands of men have march- man, that the flag of our fathers ed into the face of cannon and have should float from the most modern charged into the thickest of battle and commodious court house in North under the inspiration of their flag. Carolina. This new court house is Yes, today, even at this very hour, a magnificent expression of Wayne thousands of men lie bleeding and county progress and a shining exdying upon the battle fields of Lu- ample of its people wishing "to be rope wrapped in its folds, and hearts rather than seem." and homes are left desolate that their flag may be saved.

ment rallies disorganized soldiers and justice which it symbolizes. turns defeat into victory? A flag! and the integrity of a people.

And so, fellow North Carolinians, Judge D. H. Bland, of the County this flag represents the most sacred | Court, had been selected by the comof our possessions our ambitions, mittee to receive this flag, and he, in our ideals, our freedom, our independ- his own always graceful manner of ence and our integrity. This emblem speech, accepted it in the following of our state was first accepted for words: North Carolina by the first Colonial Congress at Halifax, April 12, 1776. This flag was born in an effort to establish a state where freedom of flag, and this he gracefully did in the (and justice and right should prevail. t was bought with the blood of our fathers and floated over the state SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE OF THE during the perilous days of its early struggle. It was the standard of those men who worked out the first laws for North Carolina and for Mr. Chairman-Ladies and Gentle- Wayne county. Its motto was the note of the men who established Wayne county and built the court house which has ben replaced by this souls stirred with patriotic fervor | magnificent structure. This flag has than ever before in the history of the come down to us as a priceless herworld; and millions of men have been | itage, and we who have the right to called to their colors and have left | call it our flag, may well be proud of

In behalf of the people of Wayne county, therefore, Mr. Chairman, we A flag! Only a piece of variegated accept with thanks, from Gimbel silk or satin. A flag! What is it in Brothers, of Philadelphia, this North a flag, which, when trampled under Carolina flag; and in behalf of the foot, causes an entire nation to rise citizenship of Wayne county, sir, we as one man to avenge the insult? A pledge a new loyalty to the flag of the flag! What is it in a flag, which, when Old North State, and our hearty supwaved before a company or a regi- port of the principles of right and

What is it in a flag, which, when Next on the program was the prewrapped in its folds or sailing under sentation of the U.S. Flag, from the its banner an American citizen can Jr. O. U. A. M., who had selected Col. walk among the warring Nations A. C Davis, of the city bar, as their safe and secure? A flag! It is to a spokesman, and in eloquent words and country what the cross is to a Christ- | forceful gesture and thrilling climaxian or the crescent is to a Moham- es, as is his wont, he performed the medan. It is a country's most sacred duty assigned him amid great enpossession. A flag! It symbolizes thusiasm and applause, the Junior ideals, the freedom, the independence | Order being in attendance in full numbers and regalia.

JUDGE BLAND'S ACCEPTANCE.

In accepting the U.S. flag, Judge D. conscience, independence of thought, H. Bland, of our County Court, said:

Commissioners, who are the custodians of this beautiful building, as well as the guardians of our county affairs generally, it gives me much pleasure to are asserted and maintained, or foraccept from this great fraternity the flag of our country. The Junior Order of American Mechanics, as the name suggests, is distinctively an American | rect. Society. In the history of fraternity it will be noted above all others, think, for its teachings of a genuine patriotism, too often neglected among a free people, and for its constant display and reverence for the emblems of our Nationality. The fear of God and love of country are the foundation stones upon which the society has erected a splendid structure and it is determined that no effort shall be spared to impress these great principles, so essential to the welfare of our Republic, upon the citizens of our State and Country.

This beautiful Court House is in a very real sense, the property of the citizens of Wayne county, and yet it also belongs to our State, of which our county is an important part, and also to our Nation, of which our State is a distinct and important unit. With no blush or apology to make for our past history, we feel a just pride in the great influence our State is wielding in the National government today, and we are looking forward with confident ture. It seems to me, therefore, to be eminently fitting that this stately build- | Chapter: ing, the capitol of the great county of Wayne, should be adorned with the flag of our Nation, along with the flag of our State, which has just been presented. This flag represents those principles of government which our forefathers won and obtained through blood and tears, and of which we are the inheritors without effort and with-

On behalf of the Board of County | discretion, innate honesty and natural sense of justice which exist, in varying degree, in every man. This is the temple of justice, in which those rights feited, according as the law framed by our countrymen, applicable to the facts as found by our countrymen may di-

Is it not, therefore, fitting and proper that this new and stately Court House should be adorned with the flag of our great Nation? Its inspiring colors should be a constant call to every county officer to render in every instance the best service of which he is capable that our system of government may attain its most successful end. It should be a constant reminder to every Judge, juror, counsellor and witness that his country demands of him, within these portals at least, that degree of honesty and integrity upon which only a government such as ours can be successfully maintained, and which will secure to our fellowmen as nearly perfect justice as can be administered by human hands.

Gentlemen of the Fraternity, in the name of our Commissioners and the citizens of our county, I thank you.

Following Mr. Bland, Mrs. C. F. Taylor, regent of David Williams Chapter Daughters of American Revolution of this city, was introduced, and anticipation to a yet more brilliant fu- in the following eloquent words presented the Bible provided by her PRESENTATION OF BIBLE BY MRS. CHAS. F. TAYLOR, FOR DAVID WILLIAMS CHAPTER D. A. R.

Mr. Chairman and Board of Commismissioners of Wayne County, N. C. Gentlemen: On behalf of the David Williams Chapter of the Daughters of out price—those principles which are the American Revolution, of Goldsboro, proclaimed in our National and State | North Carolina, we present this token Constitutions and which guarantee to of our interest in and love for the every man the right to personal liber- institution of justice and equity, an inty, private property and equality be- stitution, which, next to national or fore the law. Our system of govern- colonial independence and the creation ment is founded upon a recognition of a representative form of governof the rights of the individual. It seeks | ment, was desired and made possible its authority in those incalculable by the heroic and victorious struggle rights which God has given to every of our forefathers in the American man. Its stability rests upon that sound 'Revolution. This book, the Bible, was their inspiration, teaching, as it does, | moting the moral and civic welfare of the love of God, home and country. the home of our fathers, and which It is, therefore, most fitting that in a court of justice its presence is consid- tage. ered necessary and proper. And, so long as the teachings of its Author, the great Law Giver, are accepted and followed, the service of this great institution, into the hands of whose representatives we commit this copy, will be conducted in accordance with the desires of those who established our Government and whose memories and deeds the Daughters of the American Revolution honor and perpetuate.

The Chapter which we represent, esteems it a great privilege, in presenting this gift to you, to indicate the purpose of its organization. We desire | displayed, life size, from the Judge's in this manner to express our devotion to the administration of justice to which this beautiful building is dedicated. We wish to convey to you an | who remembered and loved the great expression of the high regard in which | jurist. Judge Robinson stated that all the institutions of our community | the picture was only exhibited today, and State were held by the soldier and but would at a subsequent meeting of patriot whose name our Chapter bears, the bar be presented to the county to and to pledge to you, the representa- be hung on the walls of the court tives of the County of Wayne, our as- room. Judge Robinson then presentsistance in the teaching of righteous- ed Judge Daniels, who at once entered ness, justice and liberty, and the doing | upon the delivery of his comprehensive of loving and kindly deeds, thus pro- and masterly address.

will be to our children a precious heri-

Mrs. T. A. Henley then rose and handed the Bible to Rev. J. W. Gardner, saying: "As Loving Deeds, Officer, the presenting of this Bible is the first work of the Chapter."

Rev. Jno. W. Gardner had been selected to accept this Bible, which he did in an earnest and eloquent talk that thrilled every hearer and he was often interrupted by spontaneous applause—especially in his fervid words expressive of appreciation of the late Hon. W. T. Dortch, whose picture was rostrum, and eloquently referred to a few moments later by Judge Robinson, that brought tears to many eyes,

Address by Judge Frank A. Daniels,

DELIVERED AT THE OPENING OF THE NEW COURT HOUSE IN WAYNE COUNTY, GOLDSBORO, N. C., NOVEMBER 30th, 1914.

Mr. Chairman, Gentlemen of the | may be administered with high purdies and Gentlemen:-I appreciate the | with mercy, and that the intellect may very kind introduction of my friend be cleared and the judgment strength-Judge Robinson. I cannot, of course, ened by an appeal to the highest thing endorse all he says about me. I at- that touches the lives of men, the gostribute a large part of it to his good- pel of Jesus Christ. ness of heart and the life-long friendship that has existed between us. I have to return my thanks to the Board | State in the Union to raise its hand in of Commissioners for their invitation | rebellion against tyranny, the first to that I should preside at this term and | declare its independence, and to win Judge Connor, one of the finest and struggle, and it is well that there most promising of our young judges, should be placed upon the walls of and to our Governor that they have this court house the flag of this great consented to give me the pleasure of nation, and that under its ample folds being with you today, on an occasion | there should rest the flag of North consecrated by the highest patriotism | Carolina. and purest religion upon which rest I am glad to be present on this ocall our laws and all our civilization. casion for another reason. I am al-It is well that the Bible should be ways glad to be at home—and I have presented. It is well that ministers | not been at home much lately. should invoke upon this court and When I was up in the mountains in upon this people the blessing of Al- | the fine county of Watauga, up close mighty God. I do not know any men to the sky, sitting as I sit now, looking ences of the gospel in their daily lives | men and women I ever saw in my than those men who are called upon life, I was a little bit troubled as I to take into their hands the lives, lib- looked into their bright, handsome erties and property of a great peo- faces. I said, "I am afraid they are ple, the judges and jurors of our better looking folks than my people courts.

preaching a pure and simple gos- of future generations. pel; when I think of the men I am not afraid any more. and of the neighborhoods in my And now, Mr. Chairman, I de-

Board of County Commissioners, La- pose, that justice may be tempered

It is well that the flag of this State should have been presented—the first my acknowledgments to my friend the first victory in our Revolutionary anywhere who need more the influ- out upon one of the finest bodies of down in Wayne," and I have been When I think of these preachers, of afraid ever since until today when I this man who sits here before me, look into the faces of this splendid Jacob F. Hill, who has been so close gathering of our citizens; these men to me all these years, and of that other of character, these men of courage, minister of the gospel, Jno. W. Gard- and these home builders, these queens ner, when I think how they have gone | who wield the sceptre and train the through the length and breadth of this | youth of this land, and upon this band county and this section of the State of students from our schools—the hope home county, which through their sire to congratulate you, I desire ministry have been led into better and to congratulate the good people purer lives, I feel like thanking God of this county upon the work and taking courage. This is their of your hands. I never came into place today. I have often thought that it until this morning. I did not want. of all the meetings that ought to be to see it as it grew step by step, but opened with prayer, the courts of the I wanted all of its loveliness to dawn land are those, in order that the laws on me at one glance. I had that pleasceeded you, and I expect if Mr. Hatch | try. would turn to his docket there he Now, on this occasion so fraught house here.

fullness of time you took occasion by ernor of the State of North Carolina. the progress of the work to look after | stocks. Mr. Rose and see that he was getting | It may not be amiss to trace the everything in the right place and car- descent of Wayne. As I have stated, rying out his contract.

this, that had resounded with the elo- ston by the act of the General Assemquence of many of the best and ablest | bly of 1758, and included the territory men had served its time. Sixty-three now embraced in Wayne, Greene and years had elapsed from the time of Lenoir, all of which is described in the building of the old Court House the act of the General Assembly as until you began the construction of St. Patrick's Parish. The court house, this magnificent edifice. You did it jail and stocks of Dobbs county were,

ure this morning. You have erected | twelfth among the counties of the here one of the finest Court Houses in | State in wealth and population, and the State. I have held Court in sixty | when you had approximately a counties. I have not seen in any of population of forty thousand. I them a finer one; and if there is a ought to say that these gentlemen, better arranged, more commodious and Mr. Rose and Mr. Kennedy came from handsomer building than this in our the township of the contractors who borders, I have yet to see it. But you | built the original structure that stood were in no hurry about it, gentlemen. upon this site; and it is a good town-I remember that the citizens of this | ship to come from-named Grantham, county had to get after you and other after one of your oldest families, Boards of Commissioners that pre- among the first settlers of this coun-would find on reading the reports of with pleasant memories, so consecratthe grand juries, that they had said ed as I have said by the purest patriotin a dozen reports for a period of 10 ism and the benediction of the minisyears that the Board of County Com- ters of God, and in an age when we missioners ought to build a new court | have made more progress than in any period of our history, on this the But you were not to be stampeded. I | 134th anniversary of the holding don't know of any men in Wayne of a Court of Justice in Wayne county who can be stampeded and county, I regard it appropriate to refer particularly the men we put on briefly to the history of the county our County Board, our County Com- from its establishment in 1779 by virmissioners. They of all men that I | tue of an act of the General Assembly have known cannot and ought not to held at Halifax during the administrabe hurried. You waited and in the tion of Richard Cas vell, the first Gov-

the hand, and last year in an era of This act provided that Dobbs Counour greatest prosperity you made your ty (named after one of the Royal plans, deliberately and sensibly, and Governors) "should be divided by a called to your assistance the best help line run through the middle part, you could get. You employed, in or- from north to south, and that the der to put your plans in proper con- western half should be called Wayne dition, one of the best architects in | county" in honor of General Anthony the country, Mr. Milburn, of Washing- Wayne, a distinguished officer in the ton, D. C. After having done that, you | Continental army, and that the first let the contract to one of your own session of the Court of Pleas and capable builders, Mr. W. P. Rose, and | Quarter Sessions should be held on the you called to assist the architect Mr. second Monday of January, 1780, at J. M. Kennedy, son of my friend Dr. | the home of Josiah Sasser on Little Kennedy, and one of the most promis- River. Commissioners were appointing young architects of the State. He ea by said act to select a site and and Mr. Milburn came often during have built a court house, prison and it is the western half of Dobbs county. The old building, the predecessor of Dobbs county was formed from Johnat a time when Wayne County stood in 1779, located about 12 miles from courts of Dobbs were directed to be Green, who had 70. The Whitfields, held at the house lately occupied Needham, William, William, Jr., and by Col. Glasgow, in the town of Lewis owned about 30 each; Alex Einston. I have talked with some of Bass, Jr., 24; Edward Bass, 10; Richour eldest citizens, who remember to ard Bass, 28; Charles Holmes, 16; have seen the ruins of the Dobbs Lav. Jernigan, 26; Stephen Jernigan county jail near the mill.

Goldsboro, near Bizzell's mill, in (names of the heads of families are for township, in Wayne county.

much wider than the North Carolina | 15, James Cobb, 14; Nathan Cobb, 21; of today, and extended from the At- John Barefoot, 25; William Hooks, 14; she wishes it.

in 1779, and prior thereto, may enable | der, 11; Moses Stanley, 12; and Ezeus to better appreciate the difficulties | chial Slocumb-(an officer in the Conand advantages existing at the time | tinental army), 1.

of whom were slaves.

what is now known as New Hope | the most part those best known to this generation.

After the creation of Wayne, the The largest slave owner was Joseph 24; Richard McKinnie, 16; Mary Mc-Johnson county, named after Gab- Kinnie, 16; John Adkinson, 10; Wilriel Johnson, perhaps the best of liam Rhodes, 15; Elisha Pipkin, 14; our Royal Governors, was founded David Cordell, 21; Thomas Carraway, in 1746 of the upper half of Craven, 12: James Tinsley, 10; Burwell Moorwhich was in 1722 one of the nine ing, 9; Ishum L. Lane, 6; William precincts which were changed in 1738 | Howell, Sr., 13; James Hanley, 8; to counties. Craven was one of the Etheldred Howell, 10; William Sherthree precincts of Bath. All of these rard, 24; James Edmundson, 19; Wilprecincts were embraced in the liam Fort, 10; John Sherrad, 16; John grants of Charles II to his favorites, Minshew, 10; Isaac Woodard, 19; Ephwho were known as the Lords Pro- ram Daniel, 11; Jessie Aicock, 3; prietors, and embraced a territory | Shadrick Dickinson; 14, Bridgett Cobb, lantic to the Pacific Ocean. So that | Charles Hopkins, 10; John Herron, Wayne may claim Royal descent, if Sr., 20; Sarah Ward, 17; Sarah Pope, 16; John Hanley, 11; William Alford, A short account of the conditions 11; Robert Hooks, 14; John Coorpen-

of the establishment of the county. In the foregoing list may be found Prior to 1730, the only occupants of the names of many of our citizens of the territory now known as Wayne today. There were many other slave county were Indians and wildanimals. owners whose descendants still live At that time the population of the among us who owned from one to entire state was only 36,000. About twelve slaves, but the majority of that year settlers gradually began our citizens were never slave-holdto come in, but there was no general ers. The principal business of the movement of immigration before 1750. country was hog and cattle rais-Among the earliest settlers were the ing, and the principal crop was Quaker families, the Edgertons, Hol- corn, though a small quantity of cotlowells, Pikes, Pearsons, Deans, Cox- ton and tobacco was grown and the es and others. At the time of the turpentine industry was beginning. establishment of the new county, the A great epidemic in 1760 destroyed population was about 5,000, one-fifth seven-eighths of the cattle of the State. The cleared areas were small, In 1790, according to the first cen- except in a few instances. The oldest sus of the United States, there were clearing in the county, and probably 4576 whites, and 1557 slaves, some at the time the largest, was the farm of whom were probably Indians, or of Josiah Sasser, upon which the first of Indian descent, it having been court was held, which is now owned customary to hold Indians captured by Messrs. I. F. Ormond and E. B. in war as slaves, which may account | Borden, and which has been, according for the characteristic Indian features to well established tradition, in and color frequently observed in the continuous cultivation since 1775, and descendants of former slaves. The probably prior to that date.

much in 1779. In the older settled praise of the good wife: regions along the Cape Fear, Neuse and Chowan a number of large and elegant mansions had been built and there was a degree of wealth an! luxury enjoyed there which presented to the traveler a striking contrast to the humble homes and frugal liveg cf the people of this section. In 1730 there were only two water mills in the colony, and grain was generally ground in hand mills even to a much later date.

Clothing, shoes and hats were made at home, home grown cotton, wool, leather and the skins and fur of wild animals being utilized for the purpose.

I note that an item of Morth Carolina Export Trade in 1753 was 30,000 deer skins. In 1784, 71 bags of cotton of sufficient volume to raft it to New weighing 225 pounds each were exported to England from Charleston, there being no export of cotton from any other port, and seized by the English Government on the ground that the United States could not produce so much.

A traveler, writing just before the Revolution, says: "There is but little Fayetteville and Petersburg. Council specie in circulation, there being no Best, father of Geo. W. Best, and other occasion for it; for a planter raises large farmers of his time and before his own meats, beef and bacon, his him, frequently drove 1,000 to 1,500 own corn and bread, his drinks, cyder | head of hogs along the county roads and brandy, his fruit, apples, peaches, from their homes to these marts of etc., and a great part of his clothing, trafe. which is cotton."

There were few roads and travel | The cotton gin had a late introducwas usually by neighborhood paths on | tion in this county; and before its adhorse-back. Practically all the houses | vent, cotton was picked by hand from were built of logs. An order in Coun- the seed around the fireside at night, cil, March 31, 1726, provides that "For and a shoe full was the task for each the saving of lands for the future, member of the family from supper every house shall be fifteen foot long, until bed time. My friend, Capt. J. ten Broad, made tight and habitable B. Edgerton, informs me that he enof clapboard and loggs squared, with gaged in this pleasant past-time as roof and chimney place and a Door late as 1845, and that growers of cotplace. The whole acre cleared well ton in the middle of the 40's hauled and the major part of it broke up and | their cotton to Fayetteville to be ginplanted with either fruite trees or ned. He remembers quite vividly, grain." In the towns, purchasers of that, as a boy, he accompanied his lots were required to build houses 16 | father's wagons on this long journey. by 24 feet. Lumber was generally Some plantation gins operated by hand sawed by hand and was scarce and ex- were in use. The card, the spinning pensive. There were few saw mills | wheel and the loom were necessities and North Carolina produced only in every well regulated house, and of about 150,000 feet of lumber a year | the matron of that day it might have prior to 1750, and probably twice as been written as Solomon wrote in

"She seeketh wool and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands."

"She layeth her hands to the spindle and the distaff."

"She looketh well unto the ways of her household and eateth not the bread of idleness."

From early times until the railroads began operation, the transportation of our products was so primitive as to excite the amused interest of the people of this age, so familiar with railroads, steam boats and automobiles, and soon to be equally familiar with air craft of various sorts.

Our ancestors rolled their barrels of turpentine on the rough ground by hand until they reached a water course Bern. They carried their tobacco all the way to Petersburg, Va. revolving over bad roads, drawn by horses harnessed to axles skilfully placed in the ends of the stout hogsheads containing the precious weed.

The surplus hogs were made to transport themselves to the markets of

The late Probert B. Scott among others was so successful in raising | the first Editor and Newspaper and corn and hogs that he accumulated a Law Publisher of the State. good estate and left each of his chil- The publication of these newspapers dren a valuable plantation.

offices in the State-Edenton, New events stirred the minds of the people. Bern, Wilmington and Washington,- Their intermittent appearances seem and up to 1759 no post routes. Letters | the result of scarcity of subscribers, were carried by travelers from planta- who could read them, and the small tion to plantation and forwarded as and scattered character of the settlepromptly as practicable, but the ments. means of communication were inadequate and unsatisfactory. Official mail | in large part as illiterate as the barons, was carried by messengers or special who wrested "Magna-Charta" from carriers on horse back and at great | King John and could not read it, nor expense. In 1755, upon the recom- sign their names to that immortal mendation of Gov. Dobbs, James Da- instrument which they adorned with vis, Printer, was employed for the sum | their seals. It is probable that at the of one hundred pounds, six shillings | time of the Revolution not one in and eight pence, proclamation money, thirty of the white citizens of the for one year, "To carry all public colony above the age of twenty-one letters, expresses and dispatches relat- could read or write; as late as 1850 ing to this province to any part there- only one in seven could boast of those of, and every fifteen days send a mes- accomplishments. senger to Suffolk, in Virginia, and to There were no public schools, Wilmington."

North Carolina Gazette was begun in free schools, but the money was spent New Bern by James Davis about 1751 | for other purposes. or 1752. It contained according to its foreign and domestic," and was pub- veto of England. lished weekly. To James Davis belongs the honor of having set up the first | Wayne County, there were, so far as printing press in North Carolina in our records show, only two schools in the year 1749, and of having printed this State where there was any semthe first book in 1751, a "Revisal of | blance of public education. The charthe Acts of the General Assembly," ters of the Academies of New Bern known as the "Yellow Jacket." He and Edenton each provided that free was appointed postmaster at New Bern | tuition should be given to ten poor by another famous printer whose children. Not until 1839 was there name was Benjamin Franklin. James any Act of the General Assembly Davis was a Virginian by birth and creating a public school system, and the ancestor of Mrs. Thomas W. Slo- no poll or property tax was levied for cumb, Col. Adam C. Davis and Jeffer- the support of the schools until after son Davis, Esq., of Goldsboro, and 1850. It was provided that they should James Davis, deceased, of Wayne. be sustained out of what was called Among his descendants living in other | the Literary Fund, consisting of the communities, I have known James W. proceeds of the Swamp Lands, diviand Thomas C. Davis and their sister, dends upon the stocks of certain cor-Mrs. James Murray of Wilson. All of porations held by the State, and the these have exhibited the high charac- license tax on retailers, tavern keepter, fine intelligence and public and ers and auctioneers, all of which for

was frequently interrupted and re-In 1790 there were only four post sumed from time to time as great

The settlers of North Carolina were

though as early as 1746 John Starkey, There were four or five newspapers | a minister of the established Church of published in North Carolina at the be- England, introduced and procured the ginning of the Revolution, at New enactment by the General Assembly Bern, Wilmington, Halifax, Edenton of a bill making an appropriation of and Hillsboro. The publication of the 6,000 pounds for the establishment of Another appropriation of the same announcement "The freshest advices, amount was made in 1754, but met the

At the time of the establishment of private worth, which characterized the year 1850 amounted to less than $125,000. After careful examination | wise purpose. The Presbyterians of the public school system began.

Governor Martin wrote in 1775 pendence. "Literature was hardly known; there At the time of which I speak, the he was evidently in error.

was sent to school at New Bern, Eden- | along the rivers. of high degree, as there were also in eastern and northern counties. Guilford, Granville, Bertie, Rowan and masses of people.

been rendered difficult by the policy numbered 1,000 in this state. of the English Government.

don, and this instruction was given to churches in every county in the State. all subsequent Governors.

whether the King should give that able to find any record of it. odists and had a depressing effect upon | mostly in private houses. The earlall efforts for the establishment of | iest Methodist preacher in the county, schools and colleges. The remoteness of whom I have been able to learn, of the people from cities, their ignor- was Phillip Hooks, who was a local ance, their poverty and indifference, preacher at Waynesboro in the early co-operated with this selfish and un- part of the 19th century.

of our histories and records, I am the West, more than any other denomable to find no evidence that any ination, resented this treatment, and, school existed in Johnston, Dobbs, or in spite of the displeasure of Gover-Wayne prior to 1790, or that any was nors and Kings, built and maintained taught in Wayne until after the pass- schools and colleges, and prepared age of the Act of 1839, under which their people for the great struggle soon to come for equality and indewere in the province but two schools, influence of that other great factor those at New Bern and Edenton," but | in the upbuilding of mind and characas to the latter part of this statement | ter was feebly exerted. There were but few preachers of the Gospel, few It is probable that some of the more | churches, and the Sunday schools, like prosperous citizens employed teachers | the free schools, had not arrived. The in their families, who taught their attempt to force on the people of the children, and sometimes the children | State the established church of Engof equally fortunate neighbors, and it | land was resented and its ministers is probable that now and then a boy were to be found only in the towns

ton, Wilmington or in Virginia, where In 1764 there were six ministers of there were academies and even schools | this church, and in 1776, 18 in the

William Edmundson, a Quaker, Mecklenburg, but such education was | rreached the first sermon ever heard for a limited number, and was com- in North Carolina. Quarterly and pletely out of the reach of the great | Monthly meetings were held in Johnston and Dobbs by the Quakers prior The establishment of schools had to the Revolution, at which time they

The Baptists came early to the Governor Burrington was instructed | state; the first churches organized in 1731 that no school master should were Shiloh and Meherrin, and the be permitted to come from England to next Kehuka Creek in 1742. Soon North Carolina to teach school with- their ministers began to preach in this out the license of the bishop of Lon- county, and by 1776 had established

The Methodist church began in In 1771 an Act was passed by the North Carolina with the ministry of General Assembly to charter Queens | Joseph Pilmon in 1772. In 1777 John College in Charlotte, but was vetoed King, John Dickens and Edward Pride on the ground "That this college, if were assigned to the Circuit of North allowed to be incorporated, will in ef- | Carolina, and at the end of the year fect operate as a Seminary for the ed- reported to the Conference in the ucation and instruction of youth in the | bounds of their circuit 930 members. principles of the Presbyterian church, It is probable that some of these and the Board of Trade doubted preached in this county, but I am un-encouragement to the Presbyterians In 1790 the Contentenea Circuit was of North Carolina." The same policy formed of Greene, Pitt, Craven, Lenoir embraced Quakers, Baptists and Meth- and Wayne, the ministers preaching by all denominations.

tions existing at the time is found in of their own institution, was oppresthe fact that when Dr. Elisha Mitchell, sive. North Carolina was settled by a Presbyterian minister and professor | the freest of the free, by men to whom in the State University, on his travels | the restraints of other colonies were through the State in 1827, spent Sun- too severe; but the settlers were genday in Waynesboro, he writes that on | tle in their tempers, of serene minds, that day he "collected a little congre- enemies to violence and bloodshed. gation, and held forth to them at the Tavern."

destitute of religious instruction, and | tered at their feet like the flowers in at this time none of the fine and up- their meadows, and the spirit of hulifting influences emanating from the | manity maintained its influence in the churches had been present long Arcadia, as Royalist writers will have enough to have much effect upon the | it, of 'Rogues and Rebels' in the Parainhabitants of the county. The peo- dise of the Quakers." ple, however, were of English stock with all the virtues and vices of that | county was born in the throes of the great race, with its glorious history Revolutionary War. Before its forbehind them and the promise of a mation and while it was a part of the splendid future in this new land before | County of Dobbs, a company of eighty them; with stout hearts and sound of its citizen soldiers under the leadheads, with resources unknown else- ership of Ezekiel Slocumb marched where, many of which they them- from his home, at the call of Col. selves did not dream of; and here they | Caswell, to join the Continental forces set out to conquer the forests, till the in their attack upon the Tories and soil and build homes for generations | British at Moore's Creek, and, accordyet to come.

says of them that they were "desti- across the Creek, and through the tute of the kindly influences of re- swamps, that completed the rout of ligion and of law—and during the year | the enemy and gained the first victory 1749 North Carolina was found to be for American Arms in that great conlittle better than an asylum for fug- test. itives—such are the unpleasant inci- It was at this time that one of the dents which occupy the story of an most interesting incidents connected inconsiderable settlement that grad- with our Revolutionary struggle took ually filled with people as the law place, when Mary Slocumb, the wife afforded protection to the vagabond, of Capt. Ezekiel Slocumb, being left as everyone lived without control and at home with an infant child, fearful all enjoyed in security what a trivial of the fate of her husband and his labor had gained." On the other hand | comrades, was unable to sleep and the impartial historian, Bancroft, rising in the night, saddled a fine mare writes of them: "They were men who and rode from near the present site had been led to the choice of their of Goldsboro, through the forest in the residence from a hatred of restraint direction of Moore's Creek, about 75 and had lost themselves among the miles, until she came within hearing woods in search of independence. Are of the cannon announcing the beginthere any who doubt man's capacity | ning of the battle, when quickening her for self-government, let them study pace she soon arrived at a clump of the history of North Carolina, its in- woods near the Creek and found there habitants were restless and turbulent | the wounded of her husband's comin their imperfect submission to a gov- mand. She was greatly distressed at

About 1830 there was built in abroad. The administration of the Waynesboro a church which was used | Colony was firm, humane and tranquil, when they were left to take care A striking illustration of the condi- of themselves. Any government, but

Freedom, entire freedom, was enjoyed without anxiety as without guaran-Most sections of the country were tees; the charities of life were scat-

It must be remembered that the ing to our historians, were a part of An unfriendly writer (Chalmers) the division that made the final charge

ernment imposed on them from the sight of an apparently lifeless

HISTORY OF WAYNE COUNTY.

body covered with her husband's cause they did not understand the cloak, but, upon removing the cloak, quarrel, or because they were unwilldiscovered that, instead of her hus- ing to take part against the oppressed band, the wounded man was Frank and rebellious Regulators. Cogdell. Her husband soon appeared I find in the Colonial Records a and remonstrated with her for her copy of a letter written at the time the daring conduct. She remained a short | inhabitants of Dobbs were ordered to time nursing the wounded, and then re- muster for service in that campaign, turned to her home. At one time the in which it is stated that only seven British Colonel, Tarleton, had quarter- men in all the county responded. I ed his troops on her plantation and re- find also that after the battle two of marked in her presence that it would | the Regulators escaped to Dobbs and make a fine estate after the war for upon resisting arrest, one was killed some British officer; to which she re- by the Sheriff and the other captured. plied that all he would ever get of her I am sure the failure of our people to present as a Continental officer at reluctance to fight. They furnished British. He and his wife, who was a Army, a number of them were woundsister of Charles Hooks, the Repre- ed, and after the close of the war some sentative in Congress from the Wil- of these were pensioned by Conmington District, lived far into the gress. 19th century, honored and respected; the husband serving in the House of Commons from Wayne in the years 1812, 1814, 1815, 1816 and 1818. They owned a large tract of land south of the Neuse River and West of the A C. L. Railroad, and lie buried in the family burying ground between Mount Olive and the town of Dudley.

Slocumb in the Revolutionary War is now in the possession of his great | Stephen Cobb, Joseph Sanderson and grandson Capt. Thomas W. Slocumb, of Goldsbero, while Mrs. Hattie Slocumb Gay is the proud owner of a silver tea pot once the property of her great, great grandmother Mary Slocumb. Junius Slocumb, Esq., of Goldsboro, is the only other surviv- ing the same session, having elected ing great grandson of Ezekiel and Robert Simms as first Sheriff of the Mary Slocumb. I have known two County, and James Cobb, Clerk of the others, Wm. W. and Charles Slocumb, Court, it was ordered that Thomas now deceased.

Moore's Creek, the inhabitants of of confiscated property for this coun-Dobbs were called upon to furnish ty, and their bonds were fixed at soldiers to the Royal Governor Tryon | 200,000 pounds each (which is equal for the subjugation of the Regulators. to $1,000,000 of our money) from There is no evidence, however, that which it may be seen that paper they responded to the call, or that any money was abundant but cheap, and citizen of this section took part in the that the few Tories in the county battle of Alamance. It seems that they were in great danger of losing their resolutely refused. I am unable to property. ascertain whether they refrained, be- | Jurors were drawn to attend the plantation would measure only two aid the Royal governor against their by six feet. Captain Slocumb was fellow citizens was not due to their the surrender of Yorktown by the their full quota to the Continetal

Organization of the County.

In the midst of the stirring scenes of the Revolutionary War the County of Wayne was organized, and court was held, as the records show, on the second Monday of January, 1780, at Josiah Sasser's, pursuant to the Act of the General Assembly. The following Justices were present: Robert The sword worn by Capt. Ezekiel Simms, Ethelred Ruffin, Jesse Jernigan, John Handley, Thomas Williams, John Sheppard. Little business was transacted.

On January, 1781, the Court appointed Thomas Grey, Stephen Cobb, Joseph Sanderson, and Needham Whitfield, inspectors of paper money. Dur-Grey, Stephen Cobb and John Hand-But even before the Battle of 'ey, Esqs., be appointed commissioners

Bern, and this entry appears of rec- his good behavior." ord: "Court adjourns in-course to Mr. Josiah Sasser's on Little River."

The Court again held its session at Josiah Sasser's January 1782, and one of the most interesting orders is as follows: "Ordered that Needham Whitto Inspect the pool for the Insuing Ellection." A session of the Court was held on the second Monday of April, on Little River, an adjournment having been taken at the previous meeting "Incourse" to Mr. Daniel Herring's; there is no explanation why Daniel Herring's, the court should have been held at Mr. John Herring's. widow, qualified as his executrix.

The Court again met the second Monday in July 1782 at John Herring's on Little river, and among other things William McKinnie was appointed Commissioner to collect the Specific Provision Tax as provided by Act of Assembly.

be recorded."

of their consciences.

against him, he appeared and crossexamined his daughter Sabra, and, beat her in the presence of the Court.

Superior Court to be held at New to give a bond for $1,000 in specie for

Session of January 13, 1783, was held at the residence of Samuel Blythe.

Session of November 1783 was held at Stephen Cobb's. Among other matters to which attention was given, it field and Samuel Blythe be appointed was "Ordered that Joel Grantham name the inhabitence of Capt. Pipkings district."

Court was held at John Fleetwood's 1782, at the home of Mr. John Herring on Little river, July 12, 1784. At that meeting Joseph Pipkin, Needham Whitfield and Stephen Cobb reported that they had let out the building of the Court House, Prison and Stocks having adjourned "Incourse" to Mr. to Col. Wm. McKinne for 335 pounds, he being the lowest bidder.

A session of the Court was held at At this term the will of Josiah Sasser | West Point Monday, January 2, 1785, was proven and Elizabeth Sasser, his and again at the same place April 11, 1785, at which meeting Dr. Andrew Bass was authorized to keep a public ferry at West Point over Neuse river and to keep a house of public entertainment on his land on the north side of said river.

I gather from the records that the Commissioners appointed by the Act October 14, 1782, the Court was held of 1779 to select a site on which to at Mrs. Elizabeth Sasser's, and among have the Court House and Gaol and other things the following entries ap- | Stocks built, recommended, and had pear of record: "A deed of sail from approved by the Court at a very mea-John Grantham to David Jernigan for gerly attended session a location which 60 acres of land is proved in court by appeared satisfactory to them, and the oath of David Jernigan and order- that at the next court, more largely ed to be registered." "An account of attended than any court during the sails of the estate of Josiah Sasser, period under consideration, the said deceased, was turned into the Court order was annulled, and in 1782 an by the Sheriff and ordered that same | Act of the Assembly was passed reciting the failure of the former com-Our ancestors seem to have extend- missioners to act, and appointing Steed their views of independence and to | phen Cobb, Needham Whitfield and have spelled according to the dictates | Joseph Pipkin to contract for three acres as near the centre of the coun-This interesting record also ap- ty as may be for the Court House, pears at this meeting: "John Rowell, | prison and stocks, also to contract for whose wife and daughter, complain- building the same. From all of which ing that he had abused and threatened | it appears that a controversy existed them prayed the peace of the State respecting the location of the Court House. It seems that the former Commissioners and three Justices of not liking some answer, assaulted and | the Peace undertook the location of the County Seat to suit themselves-He was adjudged in contempt and but when the great body of Justices sentenced to three months in jail, and | gathered they incontinently rescinded appointing new ones.

On the 14th of February, 1782, Andrew Bass, Doctor, conveyed to Stephen Cobb, Needham Whitfield and Joseph Pipkin, Commissioners, three acres of land on the North Side of the Neuse river, as a site for the Court House, and the County buildings were built upon that site, about one mile from the corporate limits of the present city of Goldsboro, by Col. William McKinnie.

Some of our older citizens inform me that they remember very distinctbeen larger than the dimensions re- to settlers. Among others, to Richquired by the statute in the building ard Washington, John Wright, Franof court houses, which was 24x16 cis Castex, D. G. W. Ward, Charles J. feet. It was a frame building, weath- | Nelson and Arnold Borden. er-boarded and raised high above the large, open space underneath, in which | boro, was the father of the late Col. space Capt. Thomas W. Slocumb, his James A. Washington, so well known boy friends and the goats used to and highly esteemed throughout the play.

town of Waynesboro was incorporated, Miss Daisy Washington.

the order of the Court and procured | to make rules for the prevention of the passage of the Act of 1782, re- the running at large of cattle and moving the old Commissioners and hogs, and to prohibit the erection of stick chimneys. These progressive ideas were doubtless carried out, though it is difficult to imagine that the rules prohibiting the running at large of live stock could have been very acceptable to the citizens of the new town, if its inhabitants were the genuine ancestors of the residents of some of the towns and cities I have known, in which I have seen municipal campaigns decided upon the question whether live stock should run at large upon the streets.

Our records show a number of conly this Court House. It may have veyances made by the Commissioners

Richard Washington, the leading ground on brick pillars, leaving a merchant of Waynesboro and Goldscounty, and the grandfather of Com-At that time the County Seat had mander Thomas M. Washington, and no name, except that of "The Court | Lieut. Pope Washington, of the United House," but in January, 1787, the States Navy; Mrs. Jas. M. Allen and as it is stated in the Act of the Gen- Wright was the father of Mrs. Lou M. eral Assembly, on the lands of An- Jones, Mrs. J. D. Brooks, and the drew Bass, and it was provided in the grandfather of Mrs. J. W. Nash, and act that Andrew Bass should convey to Mrs. Nellie Brenizer of Washington, D. certain trustees, to-wit: William Mc- C. Francis Castex was the father of L. Kinne, Burwell Mooring, William H. Castex, F. L. Castex and Mrs. Whitfield, Joseph Green, David Jerni- Winslow. D. G. W. Ward, a physigan, Richard Bass and William Fel- cian, was the father of Judge D. L. lows, sixty acres of land, including | Ward and Wyatt M. Ward, of New the three acres theretofore conveyed Bern. Charles J. Nelson, a Baptist on the North side of the Neuse River, minister and prominent citizen, left where the Court House and public no descendants living in this county. buildings then stood, and specific di- Arnold Borden died in 1846, leaving rections were given for dividing the his widow, Maria Borden, and his said tract into lots, laying out streets | children, Mrs. Harriet Dewey, wife of and selling lots; the proceeds of sale | Dr. Charles Dewey; James C. Borto be divided between the Commis- den, E. B. Borden, Mrs. Lou Kornesioners and said Andrew Bass. The gay, wife of W. F. Kornegay; Mrs. proceeds retained by the Commission- John F. Miller and William H. Borden. ers were directed to be used for the | He was one of the leading business improvement of the town. The Com- men of Waynesboro and Goldsboro, missioners were given large powers; and built the Borden Hotel, upon the among others, were authorized to re- square on West Centre Street, upon move all porches and buildings that which the business houses of the projected into the proposed streets, Goldsboro Drug Company, Royall &

before the North Carolina Railroad Francis Castex. for many years.

Among other residents of the town of Capt. J. E. Peterson. were John H. Powell, Mrs. Keziah Wellons, Dr. Daniel Cogdell, Mrs. E. A. Churchill, Dr. Andrews and Wm. Crawford. The only living persons known to have lived in Waynesboro are L. H. Castex, E. B. Borden, Miss Sallie Churchill, W. W. Crawford, Mrs. paddled about the river a while in Rowena Powell, of Goldsboro, and an old crazy canoe, to see the lime-Mrs. Sophia Hutton, of Washington, stone about the mouth of falling creek, D. C.

Holding the First Court.

boro on July 9, 1787, The following Mrs. Andrews, formerly Miss Gunn, Justices attended: Robert Simms, who was married in the meeting William Alford, Willis Bryan, John house in Washington the summer you Beck, Absolem Williams, Richard were there. She lives just on the McKinne and Josiah Jernigan. Of banks of the Neuse. On Sunday colthe earliest settlers we have little in- lected a little congregation and held formation, but as far back as the forth to them at the Tavern. Dr. memory of living man reaches the town contained a population probably less than 100. Its principal merchants | them all very pleasant. Took my were John Wright, Richard Washing- tea and spent the evening at Dr. ton and Arnold Borden, whose stores stood upon the river. C. J. Nelson | the Neuse and got my breakfast at conducted a buggy and repair shop.

the opposite side of the screet, imme- | Carolina, as he married a girl of some diately upon the river bank, and the property, failed, and now lives in homes of Washington, Wright, Dr. rather humble style in Wayne. He Andrews and Borden, were among does not appear to be efficient, and I the principal residences of the doubt his wife regrets her having town. The Borden residence was married a Yankee." abandoned town.

moved to Goldsboro, and is now a drews, was a gifted Methodist preachpart of the residence of Carl Gris. er, and the fourth, B. Frank Andrews, wold, a descendant of James Gris- a local Methodist preacher.

Borden and Dewey Brothers and oth-, wold. The only relic remaining of the ers now stand. This hotel was the old town is an ancient cedar tree stopping place for travel by the old standing on the bank of the Neuse stage road from the West and East | River on the lot formerly owned by

was built, and from the North and The site of the town is now the South on the old W. & W. Railroad. | property of Major H. L. Grant and After the death of her husband, it upon it is located the brick manufacwas conducted by Mrs. Maria Borden | turing plant of H. L. Grant & Son. The old cemetery is on the plantation

> A slight glimpse of the town of Waynesboro is found in a letter written December 28, 1827, by Dr. Elisha Mitchell to his wife, from which I quote the following: "I rode down to Bass' Ferry and and then passed on to Waynesboro and put up at Isaac Hill's. Found there a young lawyer from Orange, who The first Court was held at Waynes- knew me and went with me to see Williams and Tippoo Henderson and Morris called upon me, and found Andrews'. Monday morning crossed Mr. Griswold's. Griswold is a Yankee The home of Francis Castex stood on boy who came from Rocky Hill to afterwards moved to Goldsboro and The Dr. Andrews referred to kept is now the property of James W. a tavern at Waynesboro for many Bizzell on Ash street. The Washing- years and was a practicing physician ton residence was also moved to and one of the most influential found Goldsboro and is now owned by Mrs. ers of the present city of Goldsboro. Clara Jones and is situate on West | One of his sons, Rev. S. G. Andrews, Center street. Richard Washington was a colonel in the Confederate was the last resident to leave the States army. Another, George P. Andrews, was a Colonel in the U.S. The Castex residence was also army. Another, John N. An-

Descendants of Dr. Andrews in the were established in each county, persons of Mrs. M. T. Breazele, Mrs. | and in 1818, the Supreme Court was B. W. Southerland and Mrs. Fred established. Before the organization Mintz, live in Mount Olive, Wayne of the Supreme Court the judges of James Griswold, who was denomi- known as the "Court of Conference." nated a Yankee by Dr. Mitchell, All matters relating to the probate censure of Dr. Mitchell. On the contrary, he was one of the most promiand for many years served as Clerk and Quarter Sessions. and Master in Equity. He was the reside in Goldsboro.

the Federal Constitution.

this I have no definite information.

Cogdell, Joseph Jernigan and James | boro. Handley, and of these, Mooring and of the Constitution, and McKinnne, Jernigan and Handley voted for the tion that the Constitution was ratified.

guaranteed, or the first ten amend- enjoyed the advantages of education. ments to the Constitution assured.

in Wayne County until 1806. Prior rapidly was the stream of emigrato that year Wayne was a part of a | tion to the Southern States which set district in which court was held at in about 1830, continued for nearly New Bern, and all cases of importance | twenty years and deprived this counwere tried in the Superior Court of ty and other counties of the State of county, and there are other descend- the Superior Court met twice a year ants in this and adjoining counties. | to settle questions of law in what was

who was himself a Connecticut Yan- of deeds and wills, the qualification kee, appears not to have deserved the of administrators and guardians and the settlement of estates, together with the levying of taxes and the laynent and influential citizens of the ing out and working of roads, and the county. He was chairman of the trial of cases of minor importance, Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions | were cognizable in the Court of Pleas

I find throughout the records the founder of a numerous and highly re- appointment of overseers and hands spected family, several of whom still whose duty it was to remove logs, trash, sandbanks, etc., which obstruct-Dr. Andrew Bass, the founder of ed the waters of the Neuse, over which Waynesboro, was a delegate to the all the freight moved from New Bern Provincial Congress of 1775, and to by flats, and afterwards by steamthe convention held at Hillsboro in | boats. The Superior Court had sub-1788. His fellow delegates to this stantially the jurisdiction of the Sulast were William Taylor, Burwell perior Court of to-day. There were Mooring, Richard McKinne and James | two terms held annually, and many Handley, and, following the lead of of the famous lawyers of the State, Thomas Jefferson and Willie Jones, including Gaston, Badger, Haywood they voted against the ratification of and others, attended this court from time to time, and were entertained at I think it probable that some of his the village taverns. It is reported descendants still live in this county, that they complained of the fare, as and in that part of Wilson which was has occurred in the lives of numerous formerly a part of Wayne, though of eminent lawyers since that time, and I have heard of one of the most dis-In the Convention of 1789 the dele- tinguished lawyers of the State who gates from Wayne were Richard was peculiarly bitter in his animad-McKinne, Burrell Mooring, David versions upon the taverns of Wayens-

Although there was for the times a Cogdell voted against the ratification large business done in Waynesboro in the early part of the nineteenth century, the town never grew much in ratification. It was at this Conven- extent or population. It was the only town in the county and its leading citizens were people of refinement and North Carolina refused at first to culture, a number of them being from ratify until a Bill of Rights had been | the Northern States, where they had

One of the reasons why the popula-There was no Superior Court held | tion of Wayne did not increase more Craven. In 1806 Superior Courts | many of their best citizens, to the enrichment of Alabama and Missis- | order that they might not be able to shorn of many of the barbarities which inflicted which shock the sensibilities of more modern times.

written by one of the judges of the England, after having been modified Superior Court to the Clerk, which is | in our courts and by statute, but as follows: and having nothing to offer, wherefore the setence of the law should not be awarded against him, the court pronounces the following sentence. That the said H. Grant stand in the pillory one hour, that he receive 39 lashes on his bare back and be imprisoned | flesh. five months. Sheriff of Wayne is ordered to carry out this sentence as regards the corporal punishment this day. It is ordered that he be committed to the jail of Lenoir county." I note that it frequently occurs that prisoners are confined in the jails of Lenoir and Wake counties, and sometimes find the recital that the jail of Wayne is regarded as insecure.

where the prisoner claimed the bene- State, who in this behalf prosecuted fit of clergy, in addition to some other | for the said State, being present here punishment to burn him in the hand | in the Court, saith that he admits the with a red-hot iron. The benefit of plea aforesaid of the prisoner, and clergy grew up under the Eng- prays judgment, etc. And it being lish law, when the authorities of the thereupon demanded of the said Daniel Roman Catholic Church demanded Gooding, if he hath or knoweth anythat the priests of that church should | thing wherefore judgment of death not be tried by the secular courts, should not be pronounced against him but should be turned over to the ec- for the felony aforesaid. He saith clesiastical courts for trial. At first | thereof, he prayeth the benefit of his it seems this demand was acceded clergy, which is allowed to him. And to without condition, but the secular it is thereupon considered by the courts afterwards began to assert court here by force of statute in their rights and a compromise seems | that case made and provided, that to have been effected, and clergymen (instead of the burning of the hand) were turned over for trial to the the said Daniel Gooding be four church court, but only after having times publicly whipped, once on Mon-

claim again what was called their It may be interesting to recall that | clergy, and later still the benefit of at the time of the organization of the clergy was extended to laymen, and Court in Wayne County and for many | members of the nobility charged with years afterwards the administration crime were discharged for the first of the criminal law had not been offense without reading, while persons of lower degree were disdistinguished the English common charged upon its appearing that they law, and punishments for crime were | were able to read, but not until they had been branded. This blot upon the law was afterwards swept away I find among the old records a note by legislation in this country and in while it existed a gentleman now liv-"Please draft the entry to be made | ing in this community, E. B. Borden, on the minutes as follows: 'State vs. | Esq., relates that in his boyhood he H. Grant, upon conviction for forgery. | was present at a session of the Su-The defendant being put to the bar, perior Court held in Waynesboro, and that he heard a prisoner sentenced to be burned in the hand and saw the Sheriff come in with the red-hot iron, and apply it to the hand of the prisoner, heard a frying sound and saw the smoke arise from the burning

> The modifications were in a number of instances of severe character. A fair instance may be found in the judgment rendered in the case of State vs. Daniel Gooding, who had been convicted of burglary, which reads:

"On the arraignment of the prisoner, he having pleaded guilty in part as charged in the indictment as appears under date of the 3rd instant, and It was customary at the time, Stephen Miller, Esq., solicitor for the been branded with a red-hot iron, in day, the 6th inst., again on the 3rd

Monday in November next, and on custody of the Sheriff, to be carried into execution and have the said

Another judgment rendered during this period is as follows:

set in the pillory for one hour and ed "to take flip" at the tavern. receive on his bare back 25 lashes, and be imprisoned for the space of c'usively to the Court of Duplin, last-Sheriff of Wayne county carry this sentence into execution, and cause the whipping to be inflicted on the Tuesday of the next court, and the pilloring on the Monday of the same court. And that the prisoner stand committed until the costs are paid. This, the 7th day of October, 1823."

minutes that, after undergoing the corporal punishment, he was relieved judge invited the party in to drink which the Court of Pleas and Quarter | who immediately took the bar-keeper's Sessions in Wayne tried any defend- place and apron, and soon concocted ant for a capital felony, but as late such delightful beverages as they had as 1787, in our neighboring county of never seen, demonstrating a skill in Duplin, the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions constituted of several justices of the Peace and without jury tried a murder case, convicted the defendants and ordered the execution. Two negroes, brothers, were charged with killing their master on March 15, 1787. They were brought to trial March 17, 1787, before the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, and confessed their guilt. The elder, who struck the blow, was sentenced to be preacher to preach to slaves, other carried to the common gaol and there than those of his own master. A to be safely kept until the next day, slave found off his master's plantawhen he should be carried by the | tion without a pass, when caught by Sheriff to the Court House square | the patrol, was subject to be beaten and there tied to a stake and burned with many stripes. A runaway slave alive, and his ashes scattered upon | could be outlawed on the application

the 3rd Monday of February next, to the county gaol and there safely and the fourth whipping on the first kept until the next day, and then car-Monday after the fourth Monday of ried to Court House square, tied to March next, and that he receive 25 a stake and have his ears cut off, the lashes on his bare back each time. letter "M" branded on his cheek, and And it is ordered that the Sheriff of one hundred lashes laid on his bare Wayne county carry the judgment back. (This leniency is shown—as is recited in the minutes of the court— Daniel Gooding in his custody until on account of his youth, and the probability that he had been under the influence of his elder brother.)

"Whereupon it is considered by the at a later session it appears that, after Court that the prisoner, ——, be a laborious session, the Court adjourned late into the 19th Century.

A gentleman who has not been practicing law more than forty years gives the following striking incident illustrative of customs which long prevailed: Soon after my friend began the practice he was attending Court in one of our eastern towns, and one evening It is gratifying to note upon the the presiding judge and several lawby the pardon of the governor of the with him. The performance of the bar-keeper in preparing the drinks I am unable to find any instance in proved unsatisfactory to His Honor, the mixing of drinks, that brought much commendation from his professional brethren as well as from the laymen who witnessed this achieve-

There were many more capital offenses than in this day. The institution of slavery was responsible for he enactment of many harsh laws. It was made a crime to teach a slave to read, it was a crime for a slave the ground. It was adjudged that the of any person by two justices of the younger brother be committed to the peace, upon its appearing that he without benefit of clergy.

the people of negro insurrections that no books or papers of any sort were permitted to be distributed among the slave population, or among the free negroes—an unintentional recthe system than the phillipics of all the abolitionists.

While the laws were severe in some respects, they were mild in others. Offenses involving moral turpitude, such as forgery, larceny and fraud, were severely punished, while crimes of violence were dealt with more gently. Violations of law resulting from impulse or the natural frailities of human nature were treated with great tenderness.

The court records of to-day show that we have inherited many of the feelings and practices of our ancestors.

Laws were passed to correct the morals of the people by mild punishments. It was enacted that every person swearing in public should be fined 25 cents for each offense; that every person convicted of being publicly drunk should be fined 25 cents if the offense was committed on a week day, and 50 cents if committed on the Sabbath, and that every person committing fornication should be fined $2.50 for each and every offense. In view of a contention adcant.

acts in the history of the State. As in every proposition for the re-

was supposed to be lurking in the About the year 1816 John Coor-Penwoods or swamps and killing cattle, der, who had been Sheriff of the counand it was expressly provided that ty and also member of the General such slave might be killed by any Assembly, was assassinated as he drove person who might find him, and in any along the road from his home to the manner that he saw fit, and that the | County Seat. The assassin, who was slayer should not be in any manner | understood to be David Jernigan, fled called to account therefor. The steal- and every effort was made to appreing of slaves was punished by death, hend him. At last, Paul Coor-Pender, a son of the murdered man, learned So fearful were the lawmakers and | that Jernigan had taken refuge among the Seminole Indians in Florida. This young man, not quite of age, traveled through the uncleared country by horse and wagon from Waynesboro, through the States of South Carolina ognition of the power of enlighten- and Georgia and into the Everglades ment. The legislation in reference to of Florida. He introduced himself to slaves was a stronger indictment of the Chief of the Seminoles and demanded the surrender of his tather's murderer. The Everglades at that time constituted a secure refuge for criminals from the older settlements, and Jernigan claimed the right of hospitality and protection, which the Chief generously extended; but when he learned that the son was demanding the murderer of his father in order that his death might be avenged, his natural sense of justice prevailed and he surrendered the prisoner to young Pender, who, without assistance, conveyed Jernigan back to Waynesboro and delivered him to the Sheriff.

The prisoner was indicted for murder at September term, 1816, and upon his application the case was removed to Lenoir for trial and P. C. Pender was recognized to appear as a witness against him. It was provided in the order that the trial should take place on the succeeding Thursday. The prisoner was convicted and executed. There are few instances in history of a more heroic exploit.

As there seemed no prospect for growth for the town of Waynesboro, vanced in recent years that the law probably because the location was not should not deal with questions of conducive to health, but principally morals, the action of the early law- because the Wilmington & Weldon makers of the State is quite signifi- Railroad was in process of construction through the county, about the During the period of which I speak | year 1840 agitation began for the rea citizen of Wayne county performed | moval of the County Seat to the locaone of the bravest and most daring tion afterwards known as Goldsboro.

HISTORY OF WAYNE COUNTY.

moval of a County Seat, a great con- | Thursday in August next, to ascertain trovery arose between the advocates whether the majority of the voters faand the opponents of the movement. vored building a new Court House in Waynesboro was vigorous in its opposition and other sections of the county were equally so. All the citizens were aroused on one side or the other of the proposition; public meetings were held, speeches made and much warmth of feeling shown.

A great meeting was held in Golds-

Wilmington ice.

should have a new Court House or | thereon to the Court." not." Among others, William K. William B. Edmundson, Benjamin Ay- County Attorney in his stead. cock and James Griswold, twenty-six in all, voted in favor of the proposi- missioners purchased from James tion, and ten others voted against it; among whom were John C. Slocomb, four acres of land, and he executed a John Everett, Ira Langston, John deed therefor to James Griswold, Coley, James F. Kornegay and Will- chairman. James Rhodes conveyed Goldsboro or Waynesboro.

At the August term, 1848, Ollen Coor, Esq., Sheriff, reported that at an election held August 3, 1848, a majority of the votes polled were in favor of the removal of the Court House from Waynesboro to Goldsboro. The following order was thereupon made: boro in the large oak grove where "The Court doth thereupon appoint are now situate the residences of commissioners from each captain's Mrs. Henry Weil, Mrs. Sol Weil and district in said county, namely: Mrs. Arnold Borden, at which elo- James Griswold, John Kennedy, Hardy quent speeches were made, and much Yelverton, Benjamin Aycock, T. T. barbecue and much good, home-made Simms, Ethelred Sauls, W. H. Gardner, liquor consumed. There is a tradi- John Everett, Bryant H. Pate, Willtion that one of the ardent advocates | iam Carroway, John Becton and Wilof removal on the morning of the lis Hall, to prepare a plan for a new meeting deposited in the well on the | Court House and gaol of such size premises several barrels of ice, which and built of such material as they he had surreptitiously procured from shall deem requisite and expedient, Wilmington, and that the assembled which plan, with the estimate of exmultitude drank at the well, after par- pense and particular description of taking of dinner and of the other such contemplated building, be shown liquids, and pronounced it the coldest to the said board before the said and best water in the county, and be- Court of Wayne on or before the came enthusiastic for Goldsboro as third Monday of February next, and the commissioners or any majority of Tradition further says this story them shall likewise, without delay, was started after the election by lay off a site for said Court House some disappointed advocate of the and gaol of not less than two nor town of Waynesboro, and that the wa- more than four acres in size, within ter of the new location was naturally one half a mile of Mrs. Borden's hotel, so pure and cool that it would have and purchase the same and draw upbeen absurd to have polluted it with on the County Trustee for the payment thereof, and take a deed there-After much agitation and discussion, for to the Chairman, according to the at a session of the Court of Pleas and Act of Assembly, and said commis-Quarter Sessions held at Waynesboro, sioners or a majority shall and may November 15, 1847, a majority of the contract for the building thereof upon justices being present, it was moved, said place according to the terms of "That they take a vote whether they said Act, and report their actions

At the same term H. W. Husted, Lane, Thomas T. Hollowell, Uriah Esq., resigned as County Attorney Langston, S. P. Cox, Hardy Yelverton, and William T. Dortch was elected

On February 19, 1849, the said com-Rhodes for the consideration of $250 iam Hollowell. An order was made the whole of the square upon which for a vote of the people on the first | the Court House is now situate, except 120 feet along the western side | Thomas T. Hollowell and John Hayes, thereof.

It is an interesting circumstance that James Rhodes, the grantor of the Court House square, was the uncle of James R. Hatch, Esq., the accommodating and obliging Clerk of this Court at present and for the past eight years. It is also a pleasant reflection that Isaac F. Ormond, Esq., the active and efficient chairman of the present Board of Commissioners, now owns the land on the south side of the county road at Hooks' bridge over Little River, formerly belonging to Josiah Sasser, upon which the first Court for the county of Wayne was held, and that he served eight years most acceptably as Clerk of the Superior Court of the county, and that Charles F. Herring, Esq., a member of said board, was for eight years an admirable Clerk of this Court.

The contract for building the Court House and jail was awarded to John E. Becton and Joseph Kennedy. At the August term, 1850, the commissioners reported that they had purchased a lot and had received from the contractors the Court House and jail. find no record of any report of the commissioners, required by the order of the August term, 1848, nor of any payment made to the contractors, but have understood that the contract price was about $17,000.

At the August term, 1850, the last Court held in the town of Waynesboro, it was ordered "That the wilful defacing, cutting or in any other manner injuring the walls, or any other parts of the Court House shall be held an offense in the contempt of the Court, and the officers of the court the first court held in Waynesboro are ordered to bring all persons so offending forthwith before the Court to be dealt with in the premises."

ber 30, 1850, when Hon. John W. El- different sections of the county. and Quarter Sessions was held in the the father of Mrs. Ellen Dortch, denew Court House on the 18th day of ceased, and Mrs. Millie McKee, of November, 1850. The minutes recite, Raleigh. It is related that he could "Justices present, the Worshipful Will- ride on horseback from Goldsboro to

Esqs."

I note that at the November term, 1851, an order was made allowing William T. Dortch, County Attorney, the sum of $32.50 for his services at this term and at the three preceding

John A. Green, a descendant of Joseph Green, who in 1790 was the largest slave owner of Wayne county, was Clerk of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions. He served in that capacity from August term, 1833, to September term, 1853, when he was succeeded by Benjamin Aycock, who served until 1862.

John A. Green was the father of Mrs. George L. Kirby, the late Mrs. Susan Gulick and the late George D. Green, of Wilson.

At the same time William G. Bryan was Clerk of the Superior Court. He served from 1849 to 1861, and was the father of John W. Bryan, Esq., formerly a member of the firm of Grainger & Bryan, attorneys, of Goldsboro, and now one of the officers of the Eastern Hospital for the Insane.

At the same time James Griswold was Clerk and Master in Equity. He filled that office from 1829 until 1853. He was succeeded by Geo. V. Strong, who performed the duties of office until 1860.

At the same time Ollin Coor was Sheriff. He served for 22 years. Sheriff Coor was the father of Capt. Hopton H. Coor, of Fork township. Ollin Coor and his kinsmen, who preceded him, filled the office of the Sheriff of Wayne county for many

In the 63 years intervening between and the first court held in Goldsboro great changes had taken place. Much of the land had been cleared, many The first Superior Court held in large plantations stocked with numerthe new Court House was on Septem- ous negroes were to be found in the lis, afterwards Governor of the State, Among the large land owners and presided. The first Court of Pleas | slave owners was John W. Sasser, iam K. Lane, John C. Slocumb, his home, some six or seven miles distant, without getting off his own land. Other large land and slave owners were William K. Lane, George W. Collier, Theophilus Best, Council Best, Sam Smith, John Coley, W. B. Fort, John Everett, David Everett, Levi D. Howell, Capt. R. P. Howell, er of our townsmen, Dr. M. E. Robin-William D. Cobb, the numerous Whitfields, John C. Slocumb. David F. McKinne, Thomas Uzzell, Peter Peacock, Thomas Yelverton, Rigdon Dees, Gabriel and William Sherrard, E. B. Borden, W. F. Atkinson and others.

The cultivation of cotton had become general. The population had slaves and 664 free negroes.

work and a number of private schools liam Robinson, as a school for boys had opened in Goldsboro, and in some on the lower floor, and by Miss Webb other sections of the county. Among as a school for girls on the upper. the other teachers were William Rob-Ireland. About that time they conducted successful private schools.

Hon. W. S. O'B. Robinson, Col. Jos. | conducted. E. Robinson, Miss Eliza Robinson, Mrs. D. B. Frazier, deceased, Mrs. M. | ing to the Primitive Baptist denomi-R. Cox, of Newton Grove, and Mrs. | nation, was built about 1853, and the Mary Morris, all of whom, except | Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Mrs. Cox, reside in Goldsboro, and Dr. about 1857, and the Baptist Church George Robinson and James Robinson, later. deceased.

Ministers of most of the denominations preached in almost every neighborhood. Illiteracy had been reduced at that time to such an extent that one in every seven white persons over 21 years of age could read and write. There was no development of manufactures except along the railroad turpentine stills were everywhere to be found. There were gin houses and a few saw and grist mills. There were no banks and the money lenders and their customers attended the courts, where loans were made and collected. The town of White Hall, situated on the Neuse River, was beginning to grow and become a center of trade. Nahunta, now Fremont; Eureka, Pikeville, Dudley and | ville, Eureka, came into existence, the Mount Olive did not exist. Golds- old town of White Hall on the Neuse boro was growing into a thriving and having preceded them by many years, prosperous village and the center of and now known as Seven Springs. trade.

The town was rich in newspapers The Patriot Republican, Democratic, was published by W. B. Gulick; the Goldsboro Telegraph, by W. T. S. Alston, and the Goldsboro Patriot, Democratic, by William Robinson, the fathson and Thomas R. Robinson.

About the time the county seat was moved to Goldsboro, Miss Indiana Wills, afterwards Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, conducted the first school, and was succeeded after her marriage by Miss Emily Webb.

The old Academy, which used to increased to 7,802 whites and 5,020 stand at the head of John Street and which is now the property of W. H The free schools had begun their Godwin, was used by John and Wil-

The first church was a small frame inson and John Robinson, graduates building on the corner of John and of Dublin University and natives of Chestnut streets, where St. Paul M. E. church now stands, in which ministers of all denominations preached, and in John Robinson was the father of which one of the earliest schools was

The Methodist Church, now belong-

A hotel was built on the corner now occupied by the Kennon Hotel and operated by James Griswold.

During the '70s the towns of Mount Olive and Nahunta, now Fremont, were established, and have since grown into prosperous and thriving towns, among the most progressive in the State. The name Nahunta was changed to Fremont in honor of Col. S. L. Fremont, for many years connected with the old Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company.

I believe I neglected to state that Goldsboro was named after a civil engineer in the employment of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company.

Later the towns of Dudley, Pike-

It would be interesting to compare

ter home than they enjoyed. There are hundreds of homes in Wayne county that are more comfortable, better furnished and have more of the luxuries of life than were known to even the most prosperous of our citizens in that day. Their owners are more intelligent, have higher ideals, and lead better lives.

The Superior Courts were presided over by learned and able judges, the law enforced with some severity, and the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions intelligently dispatched the business of the county and tried the cases both civil and criminal within its jurisdiction. Lawyers from New Bern, Fayetteville, Wilmington and Raleigh were usually in attendance upon the Courts, and our people were brought in contact with some of the brightest intellects of the State. The local bar was small but able, consisting of Wm. T. Dortch, Geo. V. Strong, W. T. Faircloth, and W. G. Morrisey. The officials of the county were men of character, intelligence and property, and leaders in social and political life. Ollin Coor, the Sheriff, was a man of marked peculiarities and of unbounded popularity, and withal a man firm and determined. Near the middle of his term of office occurred what was known as the "Holleman War." A feud existed between the Holleman Clan and Lewis Cogdell, growing out of trespassing of stock upon the lands of each other, and partly, I am informed, from the purchase by Cogdell of some lands of the Holleman's at public sale, which the latter claimed were improperly sold, and at a sacrifice. Not caring to resort to law for the mans waged war upon Cogdell. and on one occasion shot through his carriage in which he and his wife were riding to their home. They sur-

the conditions under which our peo- one appearing in his yard after nightple live at this day with the condi- fall. They were considerate of the tions that existed at the time the employees of Cogdell and notified them Court House just removed was com- that when they were moving about the pleted. We hear much said about the premises after night it would be advispalatial homes of the old-time planter | able for them to whistle, that if they and slave-owner, but the fact is that failed to do so they might be the recipthe average man to-day lives in a bet- ients of bullets not intended for them. On one occasion one Pennington, an overseer of Cogdell, who had received this caution, in haste to get his horse and ride off, forgot to whistle, but fortunately for him the horse he was riding passed too close to the gate post of the lot and hurt his foot, whereupon, forgetful of the statute forbidding the use of profane language, he cursed the horse. He was afterwards informed by one of the Hollemans that it was well for him that he violated the statute, for that otherwise he would have received a dose of lead. Warrants were sworn out for the members of the Holleman family and placed in the hands of Sheriff Coor, who made diligent effort to apprehend the offenders, but was unable to do so. They retired to their home which they converted into a castle, and prepared for a siege, denying admittance to all comers, including the High Sheriff.

Sheriff Coor, a most considerate man and on very friendly terms with the Hollemans, who had always been his political supporters, resorted to every species of diplomacy in order to induce them to surrender, but in vain. While expressing profound regard for him personally they declined to accede to his official request or to receive him in his official capacity; finding that mild measures were without avail, the Sheriff summoned a posse of determined men who with arms in their hands surrounded the Holleman home and the Sheriff, as was his duty, demanded admittance. The defenders announced that they would be very glad to receive the Sheriff, whereupon he was admitted, endeavored to induce the garrison to capitulate which was very vindication of their rights, the Holle- firmly refused; but in order to show On their regard for their personal friend, several occasions they shot at him | they insisted that he should drink with them. Brandy was produced and the Sheriff and the members of the Holleman family drank together. Thinking that this social intercourse had probrounded his residence and shot at any ably softened their resolution, the | been caused by the determined resoluthe besieged opened fire with the re- line. sult that one of the Sheriff's posse they withdrew out of range and the Sheriff, feeling that patience had ceased to be a virtue and that his forbearance might be misconstrued, dispatched Blount King, one of his posse, to Goldsboro with instructions to bring destruction, and under the order of the Sheriff, after another demand made for surrender, leveled his deadly artillery upon the house and fired. The charge went through the house and wounded one of its defenders. Thereupon, being unable to resist further, they surrendered. The kind hearted Sheriff took the entire family, including the wounded man, to his home, where he kept them until the succeeding term of court, when he had them duly appear.

It is not recorded whether the jail was still out of repair, or whether the Sheriff's fine sense of hospitality induced him to pursue this unusual course.

From 1850 to the breaking out of | Wayne. the hostilities in 1861, there was concharge of E. B. Borden.

The first and only loss of territory occurred in 1854, when the northern part of the county was taken by Act | tinctly hearing the roar of the guns of the General Assembly to aid in the | while this battle was in progress. After creation of the new county of Wilson. | the close of the war the town was gar-Before that Contentnea Creek had risoned by Federal soldiers, a large been a part of the northern line part of whom were negroes. In 1867, of Wayne, and Black Creek was in "companies of negro federal troops Wayne. Two Sheriffs, Sims and were concentrated in Goldsboro, and Thompson, had come from the terri- a reign of terror followed during which tory now given to Wilson. The line depredations of all sorts were comestablished by the Act contained a mitted, and the conduct of the troops

Sheriff again insisted that they accom- tion of Jacob Hooks to remain a resipany him. They positively refused dent of Wayne, and it was provided and he retired. The besieging force that it should be so run as to leave his drew closer to the dwelling and soon land on the South side of the Wilson

When the State threw in her lot was wounded in the leg; whereupon with the Confederacy there were no more loyal supporters of the movement for secession.

Wayne, like many other counties, had contained a number of union men, but after President Lincoln called upon the State for volunteers, like most of the cannon which was used in firing the other Union men, they entered fourth of July salutes. King pro- heart and soul into the cause of the ceeded immediately upon his errand, Confederacy. The county sent twentyshortly returning with this weapon of two companies into the Confederate Army, containing about 2,500 men.

Captain Thomas W. Slocumb, a great grand-son of Ezekiel Slocumb, became first lieutenant of one of the companies, the Goldsboro Rifles, and was afterward promoted to Assistant Adjutant General with the rank of Cap-

Among the officers now living, I recall Col. Jno. P. Cobb, now of Florida, Capt. H. H. Coor, Capt. J. B. Edgerton, Capt. R. P. Howell, Capt. D. J. Broadhurst, Capt. D. A. Cogdell, and Capt. Thomas W. Slocumb.

No troops in the Confederate Army conducted themselves with more gallantry than the contingent from

The inhabitants of Wayne escaped tinued progress and growth-more the greatest rigors of the war until land being cleared and cultivated and near the close when Sherman's army more negroes being brought and work- passed through the county and destroyed upon the farms. The wealth of the ed much property. General Sherman county greatly increased. The State with his lieutenants, Generals Scofield Bank of North Carolina in 1860 estab- Terry and Logan, and a very large lished an agency in Goldsboro in army encamped at Goldsboro for some time, soon after the battle of Bentons-

Many of our citizens remember dispeculiar crook which is recited to have | was so violent that it was unsafe for women to leave their homes." These troops remained until some time in 1869. Some bummers or camp followers, who pretended to be connected with the army, engaged in forays into the surrounding country, robbing, pillaging and insulting women, until at last a band of Confederate soldiers who had returned from the war, after their surrender, found it necessary to pursue and destroy these marauders. One of them, whose name was Wilson, at the head of his band of ruffians, was on one of his usual expeditions in the summer of 1865, between Goldsboro and the Wilson county line, when a party of ex-Confederates under the command of Dr. B. Thomas Person, now of Wilson, hastily gathered, attacked and pursued them and ran their leader into Goldsboro, where he sought protection from the garrison, and shot and killed him on the steps of the store on the corner of Boundary (now Holly) and East Center Streets, then occupied by the late Sol. Keaton. This act, daring in the extreme, brought relief to the people of the county. Among those who participated in it I recall Frank M. Aycock, a gallant soldier, patriotic citizen and excellent farmer, and Gilbert Ward, who won distinction in war, and never in his life feared man or devil, whose affectionate loyalty to his friends was unsurpassed by any man I ever knew.

Dr. Person, a man of dauntless courage, capacity for leadership, and greatness of heart, after practicing his profession for many years, during which | Clarke. no sufferer, however poor, ever sought his service in vain, still lives far beyond his four score years, enjoying the confidence and love of troops of friends. A kindred spirit representing the gallant soldier, loyal citizen and way, afterwards Solicitor of the disold time physician, whose life has been | trict. spent in unselfish devotion to his neighbors, is Dr. J. B. Kennedy, of able and experienced counsel, both for pay tribute to these old time country doctors, among whom I should like to include John F. Miller, W. H. H. Cobb Geo. L. Kirby, J. D. Spicer and Thos. Hill, of Goldsboro, who have passed away and M. McI. Tatum, of Mount Olive, who still survives.

One of the most celebrated trials that took place in the Court House just removed was the trial of the Worley murderers, in April 1878. On February 11, 1878, James Worley and his wife, Appie Jane, humble but industrious and worthy citizens, living in the low lands of Fork township, were found murdered in their humble home, in the presence of their infant child and little five year old daughter. On investigation it was found that a crime, even more horrible than murder, had been perpetrated. David A. Grantham was at that time Sheriff of the county --- a descendant of one of the oldest and most respected families, a man of unusual intelligence, energy and character. He organized an investigation, aided by the citizens of the neighborhood, which resulted in the arrest of four negroes, Noah Cherry, Harris Atkinson, Robert Thompson and Jerry Cox. So careful and thorough had been the investigation that the last named defendant finding himself in the toils of the law turned states evidence. There was great excitement when the facts of the tragedy became generally known, and there was imminent probability that an attempt might be made to lynch the prisoners, which the coolness and courage of Sheriff Grantham prevented; and the prisoners were duly brought to trial on April 30, 1878, in the presence of a numerous and highly excited multitude. Hon. John Kerr presided at that session of the court. The State was represented by Hon. L. J. Moore, Solicitor, assisted by William T. Dortch and W. E.

The defendant, Harris Atkinson, was represented by John D. Kerr, now of Clinton; Noah Cherry, by George T. Wassom, a negro lawyer of Goldsboro, and Robert Thompson by Swift Gallo-

The evidence was fully developed by Grantham township. It is a delight to | the State and defendants, argued with great ability and the charge of the presiding judge was clear and impartial. The defendants, Cherry, Atkinson and Thompson were convicted, sentenced and on the 14th day of June, 1878, executed by Sheriff Grantham in the presence of an immense multitude.

The investigation of this case begun | enactment of many useful and farby Sheriff Grantham, and his assis- reaching measures. He was elected tants, participated in by the Coroner's a member of the Corporation Commis-Jury, presided over by Dr. George L. sion in 1908 and served most ably un-Kirby, the Coroner; the quiet courage | til his death. and determination of Sheriff Grantham, which prevented the application of lynch law, and the impartial trial, sentence and execution taught a most salutary lesson, and furnished an example, not only to the citizens of Wayne but to those of the State worthy to be followed in tragedies, which are calculated to arouse the improvement in farming, though twen-

Slocumb, who after serving as clerk of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sesthis District, and served from 1818 to portion of our county. 1823. He died in Washington and was buried in the Congressional Cemetery; manufacturing establishments is sometimes claimed that when he of W. H. Underhill. was sent to Congress he was a resiwho served in Congress from 1853 to 1861 inclusive, was a gallant colonel wounds received in battle; Curtis H. Brogden, after whose family one of our fine townships was named, after having served the county repeatedly as tives served for many years as Comptroller of the State, as Lieutenant Governor and upon the death of Governor

The district has again honored us in the election to Congress of our countyman, Geo. E. Hood, a member of this bar, who has served as County Treasurer, Mayor of the City of Goldsboro and as a representative in the House from Wayne.

cipitate them into lawless conduct, ton were marketed in Goldsboro. Since bringing the law into disrepute and then improved methods have been ininvolving those who participate in the troduced and have resulted in the production of larger crops of corn, Among the citizens of Wayne who tobacco and cotton, and there has have been greatly honored in the past grown up the great industry of truck are Jesse Slocomb, the son of Ezekiel raising in one of the finest sections, around the prosperous and progressive town of Mount Olive, which has added sions, was elected to Congress from to the wealth of the citizens of that

Prior to 1880 there were but two William H. Washington, who served Wayne, W. F. Kornegay & Company's in Congress from 1841 to 1843—it | Machine Works and the Planing Mill

In 1881 J. H. Strauss & Co. built the dent of Craven, but the authorities | Rice Mill and operated it. It has since differ on this point; Thomas Ruffin | become the Carolina Rice Mills. In an attorney at this bar prior to 1850, 1882, the Goldsboro Oil Mills were erected and operated. In 1884, the Goldsboro Lumber Company erected in the Confederate army, and died of and operated its mill, since removed to Dover. In 1885 Royall & Borden organized the Mattress Factory for the manufacture of the Royal Felt Mattresses. Dewey Bros. built their maa member of the House of Representa- chine shops in 1885. In 1885 The Goldsboro Furniture Company was incorporated. In 1886 Wayne Agricultural Works was organized. In 1887, Caldwell, as Governor-he was elect- The Enterprise Lumber Company beed to Congress in 1877, and afterwards gan business; in 1900, The Borden served in the State Senate; Swift Gal- | Manufacturing Company; in 1905, A. loway who was first elected in 1878 | T. Griffin Manufacturing Company; in and served two terms as Solicitor | 1907, the Goldsboro Buggy Company; of the district; and Benjamin F. in 1907, the Goldsboro Knitting Mills, Aycock, who served as State Sen- now the Durham Hosiery Mills; in ator at the sessions of 1889, 1891, 1907, the Utility Manufacturing Com-1893, 1901 and 1907, where he was pany; in 1910, the Empire Manufacregarded as one of the ablest, wisest turing Company, and in 1911, the and most progressive of Senators, Wayne Hardwood Company. H. Weil who formulated and procured the & Bros., H. L. Grant & Son, Borden

Brick & Tile Company, and the Wayne | been of vast benefit to this county. I

Dewey, E. B. Borden, Henry Weil, | tirely of local money. Solomon Weil, W. H. Smith, W. H. Borden, F. K. Borden, John L. Borden, ditions are the extension of the tele-Nathan O'Berry, Geo. C. Royall, M. E. Robinson, Robert Kornegay, J. S. Carr | and the circulation of newspapers, & Sons, A. T. Griffin, A. H. Edgerton, and these useful agencies have served Norwood, Thomas H. Holmes, J. R. harmonize and unite them. Bell and J. T. Hooks.

bear a thousand more.

Red Brick Company have been refer to the banks, and first I mention engaged in manufacturing brick and the Bank of Wayne. The last statetile. The capital of these various cor- ment of the Bank of Wayne, June 30, porations amounts to about one mil- 1914, showed the bank had resources lion seven hundred and fifty thousand of one million five hundred thousand dollars. The output of these in- dollars; the statement of the National stitutions is three million, three Bank of Goldsboro, made at the same hundred and sixty thousand dollars a time, showed that that bank had rea year, the monthly pay roll exclusive | sources of five hundred and seventyof office force, is forty-seven thousand five thousand dollars; the Savings and five hundred dollars. Then there | Bank had one hundred and fifty thousare the Mount Olive Lumber Company and; the Peoples Bank three hunwith J. R. Bell as its president, and the | dred and fifteen thousand; total in Fremont Oil Mills under the manage- Goldsboro two million five hundred and ment of J. T. Hooks, president and J. forty thousand dollars, resources for B. Lane Secretary and Treasurer. the development of our enterprises, the Goldsboro is developing, too, into a cultivation of our fine farms and the tobacco market. There are gins and general business of the county. The saw mills throughout the county. One | Bank of Mount Olive had resources of of the best things about these two hundred and twenty-one thousand enterprises is that they have been eight hundred and three dollars. The built and operated with Wayne Citizens Bank of Mount Olive one county money. We made the hundred twenty-eight thousand eight money and saved it and put it into hundred and sixty-eight dollars; the these industries that are giving em- Bank of Fremont two hundred eightyployment to thousands of our citizens | six thousand one hundred and thirtyand bringing wealth into the commun- nine dollars, making the total banking resources three milion one hundred The men who have done these seventy-six thousand dollars. These things, I regard as constituting a roll | institutions are managed by men of of honor, and as such they should oc- character, excellent business qualificupy a place upon the records of the cations and experience, and have the county. W. F. Kornegay, W. H. Un- | confidence of all classes. The capital derhill, Street & Hyman, Charles and deposits are made up almost en-

Some things that have helped conphone, and the rural delivery routes H. L. Grant, I. F. Ormond, Geo. A. to bring our people close together, to

I do not think I should close this You remember in the opening part | address without some reference, which of my address I stated that only about I hope will be pardoned, to a gentlethree hundred thousand feet of lumber | man born in Waynesboro, who came were manufactured in the early days early to Goldsboro, where his whole in all North Carolina. Statistics show | life has been spent, organized the first that now we are manufacturing over | banking institution in 1860 as an agency a billion feet per year, and in recent of the State Bank of North Carolina, years the lumber companies are de- and who in 1873, calling to his assistvising ways to preserve the timber, ance Capt. R. P. Howell as the cashier, and every time they saw a thousand and Geo. W. Dewey as assistant cashfeet they try to arrange that the lands's | ier, oragnized the Bank of New Hanyoung growth shall be left intact to over, which was afterwards merged into the Bank of Wayne. I refer to Another class of institutions has its honored president E. B. Borden, who for fifty years has stood at the | generation now growing up, I take the head of this business world, and privilege of an old man and wonder who by his good life, high character, whether our young people will attain clear intellect and fine business sense | the stature of these splendid men. They has done much to mold and shape the should do it. They should do more, business community, which is regard- because they have more advantages. ed by the entire State as one of its | There is another thing I want to most steady and reliable. I think it | mention in the development of this but just to say in this connection what | county. In 1850 there was spent in every citizen of Wayne feels and Wayne county for the education of the knows.

gence.

character of the citizens of this coun- prosperity of the county. I take pleasstrong, vigorous men, men of charac- growth of this county. I rejoice in it; ter and of real power who had a lead- but there is something I rejoice in ership which they used wisely, and more than that; it is the moral growth well; they could be relied upon in any of this community, its growth in incontingency to take positions which telligence and high ideals. If we could would do honor to the State. I have let some old citizen compare the inknown many of them. I would like to | tellectual and moral conditions existname them all if I had time. Some ing here fifty years ago with the inof them had gone through the War. | tellectual and moral conditions ex-Many participated in the bitterness isting today, and show us the differthat existed before the war, passed ence, we should be astounded and dethrough that great ordeal and some of lighted. Never has progress been them came out wounded for life. They | more wonderful. Wherever progress bore with courage the evil conditions | has been made, it has been the result that came in the wake of war. They of the work of the church, the school had to rebuild this country. They got and the home in the uplifting of a down to the hardest sort of labor in citizenship that is growing morally and order to feed and clothe their families. | intellectually higher every year. They endured great privations. In the | The first vote I ever cast was for I think of them in contrast with the | controversy about the establishment of children one thousand four hundred In passing I should wish, if time and seventy-two dollars. Last year, permitted, to refer to all the officials | 1913, the amount ran up to $86,094. My of our well managed and prosperous | friend Mr. E. T. Atkinson, our County financial and other institutions. I Superintendet of Education, procannot go into particulars about these | nounced by the school authorities of gentlemen, but recent events in this the State to be one of the best on the community compel me to make refer- list of North Carolina Superintendents, ence to a gentleman, who is president and a descendant of one of the earliest of one of the banks of this city. I of the settlers, has given me the figrefer to Geo. A. Norwood, president of ures. What a contrast! Against one the National Bank of Goldsboro, a man hundred and twenty-five thousand of high character and fine intelligence dollars in 1850, we spent in 1913, for who has grown upon this community, the education of the children of the interested in its development, and alive | State four million dollars for better with public spirit. It is a fortunate schools, better teachers and longer thing for a County like ours that its terms. The school property of the manufactures, its trade, its banks county is worth five times as much and its business are in the hands of | today as it was worth in 1900. Nothmen of character and men of intelli- ing is of more importance than the education of all the children, for upon When I came to practice at this Bar | the character and intelligence of the I was greatly impresed with the sturdy | coming generations depends the future ty. In every township, there were ure in talking about the material midst of all they never forgot their the establishment of the Goldsboro duties as citizens. They grew strong Graded School. I came in 1881 to this through adversity, and sometimes when Bar, and in that year we had a bitter worth but private schools, and it was through eternity by four good women, a fight to a finish whether this two of whom have gone to their recommunity should take charge of the ward; the others linger here honored great function of government, the and revered by this whole community. training up of its future citizens. I I refer to Miss Mary Carrow, Mrs. M. remember a man who has passed away | D. Crayton, Mrs. M. O. Humphrey and who was a great power in that day, Mrs. Mary B. Griswold. I do not think and some of you gentlemen remember | my task would have been complete him, Julius A. Bonitz. He was heart until I had paid this just tribute to and soul in favor of that movement. | these noble women. I remember that he came to Aycock | In this connection it should be adand your speaker and asked us to ded that in the 70's J. B. Williams and write the editorials in his great and E. M. Nadal conducted an excellent useful paper, The Goldsboro Messen- school at Fremont. ger, in favor of the establishment of Another great factor in the educathe Goldsboro Graded School; and tion of the people has been the press Aycock and I, from week to week, represented in this county by The wrote the editorials for the paper. Argus, The Record and The Headlight, Sometimes Aycock started to write, of Goldsboro, The Tribune of Mount was interrupted, left the editorial half | Olive and the Messenger of Fremont, finished, and when the editor called always conducive to the public welfor it, I would finish the other half. | fare. Sometimes conditions were reversed; In 1881 four young men were licen-I would start and he finish. I should | sed by the Supreme Court and came to like to see those old editorials. I practice at this Bar-Charles B. Ayshould like to see them because the cock, Wm. R. Allen, Jos. E. Robinson Governor's style and mine were en- and Frank A. Daniels, and in the next tirely different, but our hearts were few years a fifth, Wm. T. Dortch, Jr together on that great proposition. They were intimate personal friends The fight was won. How about it now? and their youthful regard for each Why, it is the most popular institution other deepened with the years without in Goldsboro. If a man in Goldsboro interruption and bound them together who cares for popularity wishes to as with "hooks of steel." Of widely destroy himself utterly, let him put differing temperaments and gifts, anhimself in opposition to the progress | tagonists who met each other in this of that splendid institution. Some of arena in many a hotly contested dethe finest educators in the State have | bate, their affection and loyalty for gone out from its halls. I might men- each other, cemented by generous and tion, Moses, Alderman, Claxton, Joy- manly rivalry, never faltered. I rener, Foust and Brooks and others.

tion, while I have the highest respect | golden hearted gentlemen as one of for those useful institutions, the State | the great joys with which my life has Normal and Industrial College, at been blessed. Greensboro, and the Teachers' Training Jos. E. Robinson in a few years School, at Greenville, while I know that | left the practice, which I am sure he it is almost a liberal education for our | would have adorned, for newspaper boys and girls to come in contact with | work, established the Goldsboro Argus, those refined and cultured young wo- which he still edits and which has men who come from these institutions been for more than thirty years the to teach our children, I wish to stop | eloquent advocate of every measure just a moment and talk about some that tended to the material advanceold teachers I knew. I want to say ment and moral uplift of the comno public school, worthy of the name, to the cause of public education he that the little children were taught still presides over the Board of Eduand trained and influences exerted cation of the county, with Barnes public schools. We had nothing of much | upon their characters which will last gard my friendship and life long asso-While I admire this modern educa- ciation and communion with these that in this community when there was | munity. After many years of service

Aycock and W. F. English as his faith- | where I go, I hear expressions of retinction his title of Col. Robinson.

prepared his cases with scrupulous infinite industry. care and argued them with unusual and painstaking lawyer. His familiar- is now serving as United States Marity with the decisions of our Supreme | shall for the Eastern District of North Court, his facility for putting his hands | Carolina under the appointment of upon them at a moment's notice as President Wilson. He is a son of well as his able use of them, won | William T. Dortch, for many years the early the admiration and the despair leading citizen and lawyer of the of his less fortunate brethren. A man | county, and has inherited and cultivatof tact and delicacy of feeling and edd a large measure of the great talents thought, considerate of the opinions of of his distinguished father. He has others, while tenacious of his own, always had a strong hold upon the afquiet, persuasive and logical, he has | fections of the people of the county had a large measure of success in and has been one of its most popular impressing his views upon his asso- citizens. An experienced and capable ciates. He is regarded as a man of lawyer, and an advocate of great powgreat self control, and he is, but at er, he has for many years enjoyed a the same time of feeling and emotion large practice and a great influence. seldom exhibited unless when deeply His kindness of heart, genial dispotouched. Steadfast in his friendships, sition and excellent common sense loyal to his convictions, always ac- have won him many friends in all tively interested in the welfare of his | sections of the State. Generous and county and his State, his career has so loyal that he counts not the cost been one of great usefulness. He when he can render service to a served the county as a member of the | friend, long live this gallant gentle-House of Representatives during the man and close neighbor of mine. sessions of 1893, 1899 and 1901, where he rendered valuable service as a wise, shall I say of the friend of my boyconstructive legislator, and where he hood, my school and college mate, and stood in the front rank of the ablest | for nearly a quarter of a century my statesmen of that body. He was in partner in the practice of the law, June 1894 appointed a Judge of the bound to me by ties as close and ten-Superior Court. He served until Janu- der as those that bind brothers of the ary 1895. In 1902 he was elected Judge same mother? What a heart he had, of the Superior Court and served un- that beat in sympathy with all mantil January 1, 1911. In that capacity kind! What a generous hand that imhis learning, ability and character poverished itself to relieve human sufmade a great impression upon the fering! How the poor and the weak and profession and the people. Every- the helpless appealed to him who was ful associates. His valuable and con- gret that he no longer rides the disstant services to the cause of charity | tricts of the State. His conduct of and humanity aided greatly in the the business of the Court, his tact establishment of the Goldsboro Hos- and courtesy, his impartiality and evipital, and other benevolent agencies, dent love of justice, the clearness of and are known and appreciated by his charges which enabled juries easily all his fellow citizens. No worthy to grasp complex and troublesome cause will ever lack an advocate so questions of fact and law, marked him long as he presides over the sanctum as one of the ablest trial judges the of the Argus. He was on the staff of State has produced. In 1910 he was Governor Aycock and wears with dis- elected one of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, and worthily William R. Allen, the student and at upholds the traditions of that great the same time the practical man of tribunal. His opinions, clear, concise affairs, of well balanced and highly and exhaustive, furnish evidence of discriminating mind, from his youth his learning, good sense and almost

William T. Dortch, Jr., soon after clearness and directness. He early his majority was elected Tax Collecbecame a well grounded, accurate tor of the County for two terms and strong, helpful and rich in the love of | Court in 1910, since which time he has his family and his friends! How from served in that position. his early youth the passion for the The Bar to which these young men enlightenment of those that sat in came had a high reputation throughdarkness burned in his great soul! out the State for learning, ability and Shall I tell in my feeble words of the | character. Indeed, probably the pringreat campaign that he made for the cipal reason why I came to this Bar little children of the State who were was the advice of a wise friend, and crying for the light "and with no language but a cry"? It is written in the hearts of the people of North Carolina who responded to his brave words and are fulfilling his prophecy that knowledge should unfold its ample rage to the gaze of every child born of woman. Shall I say how in a distant State while making his great appeal for the enlightenment of all mankind his great heart forgot to beat and he rested from his labors? Is it worth while to tell of his political campaigns, of the splendid eloquence that convinced, thrilled and moved to action a whole people, of his service as District Attorney and Governor? Great as they were, his greatest service was his educational campaign, and such will, I think, be the verdict of future generations. No purely technical lawyer could he be, though he knew the technical side of the law No mere case lawyer—lost unless he found a decision in point, but a lawyer who knew and loved great principles, had assimilated them and made them a part of his speech as well as a part of his life. How on this spot was exhibited his greatness as a lawyer, and his power over the minds and hearts of men? Here in some splendid passage clothed in language unapproachable, when mind and soul seemed lifted above ordinary limitations, he satisfied the judgment and stormed the citadel of the emotions. He was the greatest among us, standing, like Saul, higher than his brethren; and, though we envied his great gifts, there was no jealousy, but only admiration and love. No other man | mon sense and practical judgment; a of his generation, and I doubt, of any | wise counselor in his office, noted for other generation of North Carolinians, the careful and thorough preparation has had in so full a degree the re- of his cases, for consummate manage-in the State Senate in 1899 and 1900, senting the law and the evidence to and was elected Judge of the Superior | the court and jury. I have known people.

Charles Brantly Aycock—and what

he advised this course not only because Goldsboro was at the time a railroad center and the county seat of a fine farming country populated by sterling and industrious people, but principally because it had one of the ablest bars of the State. The leader of that bar was William T. Dortch, who from the building of the Court House in 1850, and for many years afterwards, had as his principal antagonist George V. Strong. W. T. Faircloth, H. F. Grainger, John W. Bryan, Stephen W. Isler, A. K. Smedes, I. F. Dortch, W. S. O'B. Robinson, Swift Galloway, Col. W. A. Allen, Col. L. W. Humphrey and Nixon P. Clingman were the other lawyers practising here at that time.

William T. Dortch, a native of Nash, was county attorney for many years, was a member of the House in 1860, and speaker of that body. He was elected to the Confederate States Senate in 1862, in which he served until near the end of the Confederacy. He afterwards served in the sessions of 1879, 1881 and 1883 as State Senator, and won the reputation of a wise legislator and a safe political leader. He had been in his early years a diligent student of the law, and as early as 1855 was one of the best lawyers of the State. Judge Strong once told me that when he came to the bar of Goldsboro, a few years after Mr. Dortch, he regarded him as one of the best informed lawyers that he had ever seen. Mr. Dortch was a man of great vigor of intellect, strong comspect and confidence and love of his ment in the court, master of the art of examining and cross-examining wit-Frank A. Daniels served as Senator nesses, exhibiting great power in preJ. T. Dortch, have been members of sion of 1891. this Bar.

1879; elected Chief Justice of the Su- he has recently died. preme Court in 1894, and served from George V. Strong, a native of Sampthe lawyers of the State.

1878 and 1879 Hon. F. M. Simmons, now senior Senator from North Caro. Iina, lived in Goldsboro and practiced law as the junior member of the firm of Faircloth & Simmons, and that while living here he married his first wife, Eliza, daughter of Col. L. W. Humphrey.

H. F. Granger, a native of Greene county, associated with John W. Bryan, was doing a practice almost equal to that of William T. Dortch. He served as a member of the House at the session of 1881. Mr. Granger was a sound lawyer, careful and industrious, and an advocate of real strength. He was one of this strong array who died in the year 1884.

John W. Bryan, his partner, a native

some lawyers who surpassed him in | the study of the law and the business some one or more of these qualities, of the office. It was the general imbut taking him all in all, I have pression of the young men who came thought that he was the best lawyer to the bar that his opinion on a legal I ever knew. No man has lived in question was as valuable as that of Wayne who gained in so great a de- any of his associates. On account of gree the confidence and respect of all ill health, he retired from the pracclasses of its citizens. Three of his tice about the year 1887. He served sons, I. F. Dortch, W. T. Dortch and as a member of the House at the ses-

Stephen W. Isler, one of the most William T. Faircloth, who was long eccentric but kindest of men, was a one of the most prominent practition- great student and for many years read ers at this Bar, was a native of Edge- law for about fourteen hours a day. combe, a diligent and careful lawyer, It was said that he had read, among of good judgment, who when aroused other things, the Revised Statutes of presented his cases to the jury with the United States including every demuch vigor. He was at one time cision cited in them. He was excepsolicitor of this district, served as a tional in being a man of large propmember of the Constitutional Conven- erty, the management of which ention of 1865, was Associate Justice of grossed much of his attention. He afthe Supreme Court from 1876 to terwards removed to Kinston where January, 1895, to his death in Decem- son, had shortly before I came to the ber, 1900. His opinions are usually Bar removed to Wake, retaining, howbrief, clear and strong. His excellent | ever, his practise at this Bar which common sense enabled him to see he always attended, and at which he and present the determining princi- was a great figure. Shortly thereafter ple of the case, and to fortify his de- he formed a partnership with Chas. cision by the citation of the authori- B. Aycock and F. A. Daniels which ties sustaining it. In this last posi- lasted until 1886 or '87. He was a tion he won much reputation among gentleman of fine manners, a most industrious lawyer who never rested It is interesting to recall that in content until he had seen and thoroughly examined every authority on every side of every proposition. His acute and somewhat subtle mind enabled him to see a subject at so many angles that there resulted sometimes an uncertainty of conviction, which, however, did not militate against his eloquent and persuasive presentation of his views to the court. He was not the equal of Mr. Dortch in the practical management of his cases, but I have never known his superior in the domain of law. He surpassed all his associates in literary attainments, and in beauty and felicity of speech. In his youth he was a poet and published a volume of verse about which later he became sensitive and endeavored to recall from circulation. He afterwards represented the county of Wayne, a quiet, studious lawyer, of Wake in the House, and served as who was not attracted to the contests | Judge of the criminal court of that of the court room, devoted himself to county. He served as a member from

Wayne in the State Convention of 1861. | county, his love of justice and his full meridian of his powers. A man of and brilliant manner in which they great ability, fine judgment and thor- have been demonstrated have left a oughly immersed in the study of the lasting impression. Social, genial and law. He read law, talked law, thought loyal to his associates, he has drawn law, but still had leisure for the cul- and held a multitude of friends. He tivation of literature and intercourse is the only practicing member of the with his friends. His genial and cor- old Bar, Jno. W. Bryan being the only dial manner, dignity, kindness of heart other survivor. I trust that he may be and unselfish service to the young long spared for the delight of his men of the Bar won their hearts, and brethren and the good of the communhave kept his memory green. He died | ity. in 1884 at thirty-eight in the full ma- Swift Galloway, a careful and acturity of his great faculties. There curate lawyer and model Solicitor, was was no honor to which a lawyer could possessed of extraordinary powers of aspire that could not have been his eloquence which often produced great if his life had been spared. His last effects. His sense of humor and his argument to the jury in a capital case | goodness of heart are cherished by was so able a presentation of the law | those of us who knew him. After leavof circumstantial evidence that it has | ing the county he represented the ever since served as a model to his | county of Greene in the House of Repbrethren. I have heard it substan- resentatives.

least a hundred times. Dortch, a well informed lawyer, strong | He had been a practicing lawyer for speaker and elegant conversationalist, many years in Duplin where he had did a large office practice, wrote most | made a great reputation as an able, of the deeds and wills and settled most | safe and learned lawyer. He was the of the estates of the county. He also father of Hons. O. H. and William R. appeared in most of the important | Allen. He took a large part in public litigation. In clearness and direct- affairs in his early life; served in the ness of speech, in the grouping of the General Assembly with much reputafacts of his case, and in his ability to | tion as a wise legislator, and rendered impress the jury, he had few equals. | valuable services to his State. It was He represented this Senatorial District | always his ambition to go upon the in the General Assembly of 1876 most | bench, and he would probably have acceptably.

native of Wayne, the son of John Rob- Legislature in the early '70s he ininson, for four years District Attorney | troduced and secured the passage of for the Eastern District of North Car- a usury act which so grievously ofolina, and for eight years, from 1895 | fended a number of the bankers of his to 1903, Superior Court Judge of this District that they secured his defeat District. I have found in traveling when he was a candidate for that over the State that he made many position. He did not live to appreciate friends who keep him in remembrance. the honors conferred upon his sons, fore juries which in real eloquence ored and respected throughout the and power stand out in my memory State. Col. Allen died in 1884. as among the best I ever heard. He is | Col. L. W. Humphrey, a native of endowed with the Irish gift of humor Onslow, moved to Goldsboro in the which brightens and illuminates not spring of 1865, and engaged in the only his public speeches but his pri- practice of his profession here, and vate conversation. In many counties was an able and accomplished lawof this State, as well as in his home yer, but with strong bent towards

A. K. Smedes was at that time in the hatred of oppression, and the original

Col. W. A. Allen came from Duplin tially made by members of this Bar at to Wayne shortly after the young men I. F. Dortch, son of William T. I have mentioned began to practise. been elevated to that position but for William Smith O'Brien Robinson, a the fact that while a member of the He is a brilliant lawyer and advocate. but his wife and their mother lived I recall several of his arguments be- until both her sons were known, hon-

business. With Hon. W. A. Smith in est families in the county, and is a the early 70s, Col. Humphrey built the | man of intelligence and high character hotel now known as the Kennon, on and one of the best officials I have East Centre street, and he was the ever seen. He taught me about all I first to engage in the erection of ever knew about the probate pracbrick business buildings. He served as | tice. He soon after retired from president of the A. & N. C. Railroad, office and with W. H. Smith formed and I have heard it said, made one of the hardware business of Smith & the best presidents that corporation | Yelverton, to which on the death of has ever had. He was the father of Mr. Smith, he succeeded. Earle A. Humphrey, at present a member of this Bar, County Attorney and this building shall stand the lawyers Solicitor of the County Court, and of who practice here shall have a high D. C. Humphrey a member of this Bar sense of their responsibility to their and City Attorney of Goldsboro.

admirers.

training and patient industry than any lawyer of the State, he had begun escape. shortly before his death the preparamuch needed work. He represented and exact justice to all men." the county in the session of 1895 of the General Assembly.

I have the most pleasant recollections of the kindness of every one of these gentlemen from the eldest to the dress to that great mine of informayoungest. Their helpfulness and kindly | tion the Colonial and State Records, consideration for their younger breth- Wheeler's History, J. Bryan Grimes' ren begot in us an affection that the Notes on Colonial North Carolina, officers of this court were W. T. Yel- P. Battle, L.L.D., the records of the verton, clerk, and D. A. Grantham, Courts, unpublished notes on Goldssheriff. I have already spoken at some | boro by Mrs. Julia Winslow, address length of Sheriff Grantham. W. T. by Nathan O'Berry, Esq., before the

In conclusion let us trust that while clients and to the court, may grow in Nixon P. Clingman, not actively en- ability, learning and character, and gaged in practice, a man of fine liter- maintain the high standard established ary attainments and poetical taste, by the old time bar; that the officers whose numerous poems found many of the court may sustain the reputation bequeathed to them by their pre-W. C. Munroe, a genuine Scotch decessors; that the jurors shall meas-Presbyterian and a native of Bladen, ure up to the requirements of the came from Greene to this Bar in the Statute, and always be men of good early '80s, after a successful career moral character and of sufficient inthere. He was a man of unusual in- teligence to discharge properly the tellectuality, of fine literary taste and great duties committed to them; that a learned, industrious painstaking law- the Judges who shall preside here yer, a delightful companion and con- may be men who know the law, lovers versationalist, devoted to his friends of justice, endowed with great abilities. and unswerving in his loyalty. He of high character, who shall know was the author of Munroe's Annota- neither the person of the poor nor the tions, greatly prized by the Bar of the person of the rich, administering the State. At the request of the members law in the spirit of humanity, doing of the Bar, among whom he was re- judgment in righteousness. May no ingarded as better fitted by learning, nocent man ever be convicted within these walls, and may no guilty man

Let us remember the language of tion of a digest of our Supreme Court | the great Webster that "The Chief Reports, but failing health prevented concern of man on earth is justice." the completion of this great undertak- Let us write over our portals the iming and deprived the profession of a mortal words of Jefferson "Equal

Note.

I am indebted for much of this adlapse of years has left undimned. Diary of a Geological Tour of Dr. In 1881, when I came to the bar, the Elisha Mitchell, edited by Dr. Kemp Yelverton belongs to one of the old- | Chamber of Commerce of the City of Goldsboro, 1912, Hon. M. O. Sherill, There are in the State enough patri-State Librarian, Hamilton's Recon- otic citizens who have the ability to struction in North Carolina, many citi- insure the publication of this great zens of Wayne, and especially to Vol. I work who will do it when their atten-History of North Carolina by Capt. tion shall be directed to this public Samuel A. Ashe, the only history of the duty. State that deserves the name. I regard | The people of the State and their it a serious reflection upon the patriot- children should not lose the benefits ism of our people that so few volumes of the labor of this able, scholarly and were sold that, though the material industrious North Carolinian whose for the second volume completing the family and himself have largely conwork is ready for publication, the tributed to our past achievements. means are not available to secure it.

W. P. ROSE, Builder of Wayne County Court House

