

DAILY, $5.00 PER ANNUM.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co. give the ATLANTA JOURNAL a larger circulation than any other daily in Ga.THE ATLANTA JOURNAL, DAILY AND WEEKLY.

WEEKLY, $1.00 PER ANNUM.

ATLANTA, GA.

June 3, 1891.

Hon. Elias Carr,
President State Alliance,
Old Sparta, N. C.

Dear Sir:-

Believing that the action of the recent Industrial Union Conference at Cincinnati is a matter of great and general interest and of material importance to the people of the South, the Journal is desirous of laying before its readers the views of the leading alliancemen of the Southern States thereon.

With this end in view, we invite from you an expression of your opinion upon the action of the Cincinnati Convention and the attitude of the Alliance in the South towards the proposed People's Party.

We would like to have your response in time for publication in the Journal of Saturday June 13th, and would prefer that you would not make it over five hundred words in length, though that limitation will not of course be rigidly applied.

We can assure you that what you may write will be printed as written, without change or coloring. Your kindness in complying with our request, at your earliest convenience, will be highly appreciated.

Yours respectfully,

J. H. Richardson
Editor Journal.

Did not reply