November 12, 1906.

Dear Sir:

We are just closing the most successful years work that we have had since the organization of our company. Our sales have far exceeded our expectations, and we desire to thank each and every one of our old friends and customers for their continued patronage, good will, etc., and also to thank our new friends for their share in contributing to our success.

We have six large factories, well located, and owing to their capacity, as a rule we have been able to make shipment as per contract, but owing to our very large trade this season we have been taxed to the utmost, and it has been necessary for us to work almost day and night in order to avoid delays.

Our repair department and small order department have been taxed to their utmost; still as a rule we have been able to get all shipments out so as to avoid serious delay.

We desire to emphasize now, the IMPORTANCE of placing orders early in 1907, for whatever you may need; that is for complete machines, complete gin out-fits, repairs, repair work, etc. Do not delay placing your orders until late in the season. Determine early what you will do, and get your shipments out before the rush comes on, and thus avoid any possible delay.

Our policy in the future will be the same that it has been in the past; that is we will make every improvement in our goods that can possibly be made, giving every possible care to every detail of our business. We will turn out nothing except what is strictly first-class as to material, workmanship and finish. We will not place on the market any machine that has not been thoroughly tested and proven that it will accomplish the work for which it is sold.

Again thanking you for your share in making our business the success that it is, hoping to be favored with your order the coming season, and requesting that you fill out and return the enclosed card, for which we thank you in advance, we beg to remain,

SIM-P

Yours very truly,
CONTINENTAL GIN COMPANY.
