

Kiss for Eleanor

Kiss
for
Anne. 73

Badde But would send one too if he may like. Mamma Nancy sends love of love to my little children.

Monday 10 York St

My dear Mother

I looked in all the stores in N. In a desire for Eleanor but could not find anything you would like, only winter dresses.
You are stuck and too soon for spring suits. How soon I may have another chance at Boston I would like me some bag before I had half finished my purchases, he promised to let me return for a ten days after Easter.

Then I will have a better chance to select my suite either a spring outfit.
I kept them all full at home and tried very hard to persuade Ma to return with us but she insisted it was too cold to change her bed and promised to come as soon as it turned warm.

I wish you could see the body shams. Ric worked they are expensive and I am so proud of them.
While in N. I attended a most expensive. The ladies in morning room are rearing such beautiful coco and head bonnets they would be so becoming to you if you intend to leave off your veil this Summer I would advise you to ^{get} that instead of of straw as you spoke of doing. Think I will get one or two a hat this Spring.

But I have picked my letter with the styles and left no room or time for other things I wanted to say. As to conscience matters I will add a great deal of love & kisses to all the dears over at Horseshoebridge. Please write soon to your affectionate daughter Mattie

Japanese sale and got several very pretty articles.
Lillian sent to me was a lady dressed in morning this evening some say name but called would have may over and look at me.
I then called Gaston attention to her, when he informed me it was Mrs Hoge. After the sale I went to her and introduced myself - and very soon we were good friends. I like her very much indeed and I think too she is quite handsome.
She caught Gaston at the over there he had taken refuge to escape notice.

But I told her when she could find him & she was not trying to do it. I would like to have seen more of her but he left next day.

I had a dress made while I was of some new material I will enclose sample as I think it is nice & reasonable $1.25⁷⁵ I bought twelve yards and trimmed it with ^{new} ribbon my friend something and truly I think, wish I had a sample to send you. I know you would like it - I will try to describe it

It has the effect of a braided pattern as though it had been stamped & worked the sequins come already -^{made}

I have a broad piece on the skirt the width of the length of this paper - ^{and} for which I paid $2.25 it took a yard & three quarters.

For the bodice I bought a narrow piece 90 cts a yd -

I state all this thinking you would like some. It would be very good even if you had old dresses.

There is very little of it yet in N. and none at all here so if you want some I would advise you to send direct to H. J.
A little of it on a dress is
