UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,

MADISON, WISCONSIN.

W. H. MORRISON, SUPERINTENDENT.

DEAR SIR:--

The Fourth Bulletin of Wisconsin Farmers' Institutes is now ready for distribution. It makes a book of 352 pages--a veritable handbook of agriculture, containing a verbatim report of the closing Institute of three days, of short, pithy experience in all branches of farming, and the hundreds of questions that follow are answered; making it the richest and ripest publication upon Dairying, Horse Breeding, Swine and Sheep Husbandry as given at sixty-six two-day Institutes held in our state last winter.

In this day of organization among farmers, if we hope for good and beneficial results, we must go at it in a business way. The farmers' gathering must be an educational factor, that will equip him, making him a better farmer, better citizen, better business man, and a hustler who has been educated by contact with his fellow farmer and the world, which will give him knowledge and a breadth of understanding that will make him proud of his calling and not a foot ball for politicians. Equip him with these capabilities and practicalities and make him an educated man of the world, build him up into a thinker, instead of a follower of vagaries and non-essentials, and you will have so fitted and prepared him that he will lead, and have a following too, not because he is a farmer, but because he respects his business, and is level headed, and has extended his horizon; and this alone will place him side by side with business and professional men in legislative halls and places of trust, for merit in him will be recognized as well as in other vocations.

Wisconsin has been holding these farmers' meetings over twenty years, and when you read No. 4 you will wish for the preceding volumes. This book is sent at cost price to encourage farmers to read, think and band themselves together in similar meetings for mutual improvement and benefit.

Paper covers, 30 cts.; bound in cloth, 50 cts., postpaid. If you are not more than satisfied with the book the money will be refunded.

Yours truly,

W. H. Morrison
