EAST CAROLINA COLLEGE

Dear Alice,

Reser

74
 Geography was really good to me this quarter. it helped me to gain a friendship that I hope will never cease. I sure hope you'll be able to teach me some of the subject matter before exam time it really had been fun having a class with you, and I hope we will be able to have many more. I'm only sorry this quarter for Geography had to end before it really got started.

I don't know how to say it, but I think you are one of the finest I've ever known. There is something about you that will just get it.

How we were able to discuss our problems and still end up smiling I'll never know. I think we are in the same boat and it's a good thing we can swim. Honestly you are the most understanding person I've ever known. I hope you'll always be that way.

For some reason I'm not getting much writing done. I'm thinking alot of things but I can't seem to find the right words to express my thoughts. maybe it's because I'd rather say them than write them.

although it has been only for a short time, I sure have enjoyed the walks

Jesse R. Boyd, Jr
1103 Evans St
Greenville, N.C.

to Austin, the chats there, and the 13:30 P.M. talks. Talking to such an understanding person has really been wonderful, and I hope it's just beginning.

When you go to Williamston fishing again you'd better come to see me. It won't be much of your way I don't think.

Really Jesse, it has been great being with and around you. I have really enjoyed it and I'm looking forward to some more good times with you this summer.

I do hope the best of everything will be yours always. You deserve it!

Love,
Sam

Jesse,

I hope I'll see you this summer - if not in Ayler maybe I'll come over here and see some of your "chicks". It's been nice knowing you.

Lots of Luck to a swell guy, have one H - - - of a time with Brigadoon and the house party after it. Remind me to tell you what you did since you don't remember.

Theory and F.C.C. would not be the same with out you - thank goodness. There's hoping you stick it out for four years. You've got what it takes. Good luck in all you do. Remember me always as your friend.

Dedication

Since his appointment as Director of Student Personnel, Dr. Clinton R. Prewett, who is both an educator and administrator, has helped to continue the upward march of education here at East Carolina. Students have learned that they can turn to his office for assistance with their problems.

A native of Georgia, he received his B. S. Degree from the University of Georgia, his M. A. from the University of Oklahoma, and then his Doctorate from the University of North Carolina. Before his appointment here he had been Junior Chemical Engineer with the U. S. Civil Service and a Training Foreman with Tennessee Eastman Corporation at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Dr. Prewett also spent two years in the U. S. Army in the office of Information and Education.

Through the help and assistance of Dr. Prewett, and others like him, East Carolina is fast becoming a leader in state and national education. As a token of our appreciation for the credit which he brings to the college we dedicate this 1955 Buccaneer to him.

I hope you really enjoy your year in college. I wish you all the best. Love you!

What better reminder of yesterdays at East Carolina is there than Pop Williams, veteran campus policeman? Students will always remember Pop patrolling the campus at night, sharply on the lookout for a couple lingering behind a bush or a girl whispering from her dorm window to her Romeo below. From 1914 until his retirement last year Pop Williams (with his warm greeting) was a friend of all the students—a fine symbol of our traditions of service and friendliness.

Books, swimming classes, lab sections . . . These are the activities that crowd our days. These are the materials that shape our lives here at East Carolina. Though we are busy, we still find time for the recreation which we need. For our materials for development also included dances, parties, dates, weekends. All these are part of our memories of four years at E. C. C.

PROGRESS

From an enrollment of 920 in 1945 to 2496 in 1955. That is one measure of our growth. Another is physical plant; a spacious library, an ultra-modern student union, new dormitories under construction, and other buildings in the planning stage. And every year brings the addition of many new staff members. It is the students' responsibility to keep things moving ahead—to build through intelligent work and cooperation a finer East Carolina—This is our challenge in the years ahead.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Students:

Your having been with us for four years demonstrates the fact that you came with a purpose and you will soon realize your objective. Upon your generation rests a great responsibility to uphold the Christian, democratic way of life we cherish and to promogate its principles in all your endeavors. You are fortunate to have been born in America and to have the opportunity to get a liberal education. The extent to which that education will be of benefit depends entirely on you. You are richer in education and experience because of your four years in college and you therefore, owe a greater debt to the world; you should exert every effort to see that your environment is made better because of your presence.

Strive to succeed in your chosen work, but in all things exemplify the Golden Rule in practice. There is great need for leadership to bring peace out of chaos and joy out of sorrow; your Alma Mater expects you to assume a place of leadership. Be assured it will always be interested in your success and ready to help you in any way possible.

Fraternally yours,

J. D. Messick

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY of Alumni Association, James W Butler, sits at his desk in the recently re-decorated Alumni Building. Mr. Butler is responsible for directing alumni relations and coordinating activities.

Below is Mrs. Susie Webb, Secretary to Mr. Butler and cheerful Receptionist of the Alumni Association.

These three student helpers of the alumni office are working with the cards which contain names and addresses of former students. With the help of these cards the association attempts to keep a finger on all its alumni scattered all over the world.

Arranging the cards are Helen Bland Matthews and Margaret Geddie, while Frank Dees files them.

Wahl-Coates Laboratory School, colloquially known as the training school, is under the guidance of Miss Frances Wahl. The student body is made up of Greenville boys and girls in grades one through eight. It is considered a part of the college since all of the students in Primary and Grammar Grade Education do their practice teaching here.

These help us secure a well-rounded college education

Dear Jess,

This year - my freshman year - has been one of the most wonderful years I have ever experienced. You have helped to make it wonderful too, because you have meant a lot to me.

I have spent some of my happiest moments with you.

Jess, to me, you are a fine, sweet, cute boy, and I have enjoyed knowing and dating you this year. I don't know anything else to say, and anyway I can't express how I feel.

I had a good time this summer & I came to see you & "Lucky" at Myrtle Beach. If I don't see you this summer, I'll see you next fall.

Love,
Jim

At this time students pause briefly to focus their attention on strengthening spiritual values and religious ties.

PUBLICATIONS

WE MEASURE TIME BY DEADLINES AND CIGARETTES, BUT OUT OF THE CHAOS . . .

Great Minds Create; Thus

SMILING EDITOR, Jane Kanoy, the girl who prodded, cajoled and pleaded, was always cheerful and genial when not worried. The last few weeks have been her darkest hour.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHERS, Bill Penuel and Percy Rogerson check on Pictures.

BUSINESS MANAGER, Mildred Reynolds, held the business end of the Buccaneer in her hands. Her deadlines were end of the month affairs when the bills came in.

PROCRASTINATION GUIDES THE BUCCANEER

At this writing the Buccaneer is nearly finished. A few picture captions must still be written, and then it can be sent to the printer. The 1955 Buccaneer staff has endeavored to record in picture and word the activities and accomplishments of the myriad departments, groups, and sections of campus life.

Writing and picture taking started last fall, but then only sporadically. Thoughts seemed more important than deeds. If the Buccaneer had a guiding spirit it was the spirit of procrastination. Most things completed were done out of necessity, at the last moment, with great urgency; hence great decisions seemed to invite procrastination.

At times the staff was woefully shorthanded. Sometimes it was next to impossible to gather correct information from organizations. However by checking and rechecking with different groups we have accumulated the information and have written, proofed, and published the information.

THE YEARBOOK STAFF crams itself into the staff office for a moment of relaxation during the last week. All have a bottle coke.

The 1955 East Carolinian

THE EDITOR. Faye O'Neal had her own special problems. She had to worry about writing editorials about all the things that worried the administration.

The East Carolinian, the campus newspaper, is the students weekly guide to daily campus life. The newspaper is edited, written, and published by students of East Carolina College. The East Carolinian staff faithfully records the ups and downs of the college activity as they see them and they have kept as their aim "to build a bigger and better East Carolina."

Through the years the East Carolinian has ranked high with other college weeklies in the state and over the nation. This year will be no exception for not only have the staff met a deadline each week but they have added a new darkroom, sponsored two talent shows, and held short classes on the essentials of reporting.

The stories have been written and the used type discarded, but the years to come remain a challenge to future East Carolinian staffs.

BUSINESS MANAGER, Emil Massad smiles with satisfaction when his books finally balance.

Here's hoping lots of luck to the "old" story boy. Hoped got to know next parents. Will get you my then to

Anyone who will support the YWCA and its principles may become a member. Its purpose states: "We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God." The "Y" has become a symbol of worship, recreation, and good fun for all who wish to participate. Special holiday services, as well as the regular Vesper Services, which the YWCA joins with the YMCA is sponsoring, have become traditions on campus.

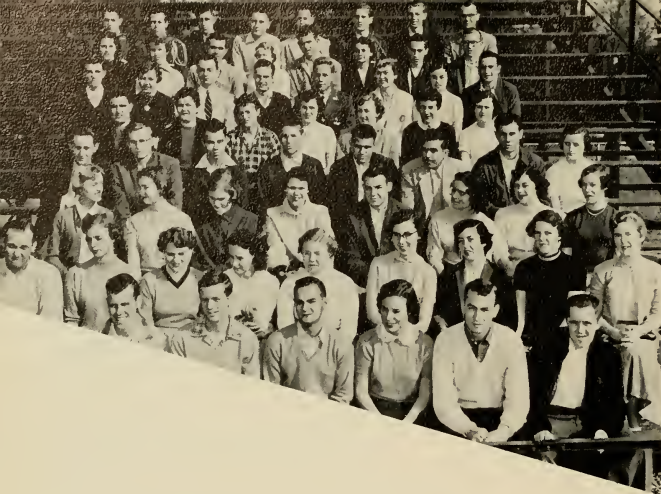

Present at this meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet members are: Seated, Grey Ward, Jo Ann Lee, Shirley Hargrove, Erleen Lilley, Eugene Hayman and Neel Dupree. While standing, we have Jane Midyette, Carolyn Moore, Evelyn Sherman, and Betty Jo Carroll.

One of the highlights of each Spring quarter is the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. retreat at one of the near-by beaches.

It is the only organization on campus that devotes its time exclusively to the study of national and international problems.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS CLUB

The Young Republicans Club takes an active part in the support of the Republican party. The political minded students of the club are doing all they can to stimulate more interest in better government here on our campus. The club holds monthly meeting and brings to the students interesting speakers from the political world.

THE MATH CLUB

The Math Club meeting gives its members an opportunity to share mutual interests and compare ideas on mathematics. Features of club programs are monthly puzzles, planned entertainment, and guest speakers all of which help to stress the vital importance of mathematics in the everyday life.

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

The members of the Association for Childhood Education agree to work together to increase professional knowledge, to promote a more general understanding of the value of early childhood education, and to co-operate with all who work for the betterment of early childhood education. All students interested in the welfare of children are invited to become a member of the A.C.E.

A group of A. C. E. members, along with the advisors, discuss the program for next month's meeting.

THE EAST CAROLINA PLAYHOUSE

The purpose of the East Carolina Playhouse is to encourage dramatic arts at East Carolina College and to give students of the college an opportunity to participate in dramatic production of educational and cultural work. The Playhouse has as its primary belief that dramatics should and does have a part in the educational system for the college students.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club of East Carolina College, organized in the Fall of '53, is made up of library assistants, however, all interested persons may use this organization as a means of fellowship and also benefit from the interesting speeches on library work. The club is designed to help the students interested in the library science field in general, to have a broader understanding of this field.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The purpose of East Carolina College's Student Science Club is to promote a broader interest in scientific fields, to develop greater knowledge of the world and to bring together those students interested in science.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts students with their thirteen charter members and their instructors, Bing and Powell, formed the Industrial Arts Club in the Fall Quarter of 1949. It was formed to advance Industrial Arts in Eastern North Carolina and to promote greater interest and fellowship among students of the Industrial Arts Department of East Carolina College.

THE CIRCLE K CLUB

The Circle K Club, an outstanding organization for men at East Carolina, is sponsored by the Greenville Kiwanis Club and is one of the leading Circle K Clubs in the country. Members are chosen for their above average leadership, scholarship, and citizenship. The club assists the Kiwanis Club in its annual production and helps the Junior Woman's Club sell bread for the Watson Memorial Fund.

THE ENGLISH CLUB

The English Club, the oldest departmental club on campus, celebrated its thirtieth anniversary this year. It was organized for the purpose of "furthering interest in good literature" and to give English majors and minors a chance for fun and fellowship together.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club of East Carolina, an affiliate of the North Carolina Home Economics Association and the American Home Economics Association, has the same purpose as these two clubs. It places special emphasis upon the promotion of a greater interest in the field of Home Economics, international fellowship, and the provision of means by which students may develop in leadership and initiative.

CREATIVE WRITERS

The school year 1954-55 saw the revival of the Creative Writers, a group composed of students and others interested in doing creative work and discussing the merits of contemporary writers.

Organized last spring for the first time in several years, the Creative Writers have operated under the direction of Dr. Martha Pingel, faculty advisor and member of the Department of English.

SOPHOMORE COUNSELORS

In keeping with the aims of scholarship, the fraternity limits its membership to men who have at least a "2" average. Membership in the Sigma Rho Phi Fraternity is open to all male students at ECC who meet the requirements set forth in the by-laws of its constitution. Its paramount objective is to develop a campus-wide brotherhood and to render service to the college. Its organization serves as a framework within the limits of which young men can exert their abilities in the realm of democratic living.

A national service fraternity which now has more chapters than any other similar organization on college campuses, Alpha Phi Omega aids the development of friendship and the promotion of service to humanity.

Many service projects—information service on the annual High School Day, assistance to the college administration during Freshman Orientation Week, ushering service at athletic events, clerical assistance to the Dean's Office, and other activities during Homecoming Day and Commencement Week-end—are in the record of events in which the fraternity has had an opportunity to serve. The Alpha Gamma Chapter of Chi Beta Phi was founded at East Carolina College in 1953. Our primary objective is the attainment of more knowledge and a better understanding of the world about us. In fulfilment of this we were a co-sponsor of the North Carolina Academy of Science, which was on campus for the first time this past spring, and are beginning preparations for a regional Science fair to be on campus this spring.

In promotion of our objective, primary aim for membership is a "2" average in science or mathematics, and a "2.5" general average. Potential members are also selected from the viewpoint of future contributions for the sciences.

Continuing our quest for wider scientific knowledge, each year at our annual dinner meeting we have a speaker who is prominent in a field of science.

A Salute To The Air Force R. O. T. C.

Military

U. S. AIR FORCE R. O. T. C.

East Carolina College has reason to be proud of its Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps. Since 1948, the men students of East Carolina have had the opportunity to receive a commission in the Reserve Officers Training Corps while obtaining a college degree.

For the first two years of the four year course, the cadets are taught the elements of warfare and drill procedure. They also have an opportunity to fly with members of the staff.

To go into the advanced course, the cadets must pass a pilot or observer aptitude test and a physical examination. While in the advanced course they take positions of leadership on the drill field.

During the third year, they go to summer camp at various bases located in the United States and get an inside look at the Air Force life of which they will become a part.

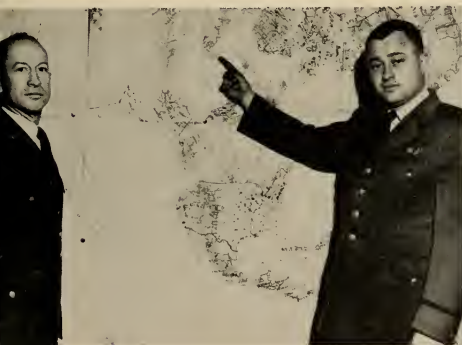

Just prior to graduation the cadets who have completed the Reserve Officers Training program successfully receive their commission in the Air Force.

This year the senior cadets plan the drill procedure. They have a forum each Friday and talk over the problems that have come up during the week.

ROTC COLOR GUARD

The R. O. T. C. Color Guard provides the martial atmosphere and color for each drill session. It too is called upon to perform in parades and at ball games.

HONOR DRILL SQUADRON

The Honor Drill Squadron, known to many as the "Drill Team," this year is composed of sophomore cadets. They have become very proficient in drill, the manual of arms, and the amazing "silent drill series." The squadron is commanded by Percy Wilkins.

FOOTBALL

No renewal of 1953's North State Conference football crown was in order for East Carolina during 1954 but the Pirates nevertheless acquitted themselves well against all opposition.

The overall record for the year showed five wins, four losses, and one tie. Conference triumphs came over Lenoir Rhyne, 7-6, Catawba, 26-7, and Western Carolina, 27-13. League losses were at the hands of Elon, 20-6, and Appalachian, 13-7.

Against outside opposition the Pirates recorded wins over Norfolk Navy, 21-0, and Stetson, 26-7. They lost to West Chester, 6-4, to Tampa, 27-14, and were tied, 6-6, by East Tennessee.

Holland was chosen on the All-North State Conference squad, named to the All-State team of the Greensboro Daily News and, along with fullback Claude King, received honorable mention rating on the Little All-American squad.

FIRST ROW: Emo Boado, Harry Rainey, Bobby Perry, Tom

The season of 1954 had its ups and downs as far as the Pirates were concerned and though their record was disappointing in comparison with the preceeding year, they still have much to remember.

Perhaps the turning point of the year came before the season even opened when Dick Cherry, a Little All-American in 1953 as a sophomore quarterback, suffered a broken foot that sidelined him for the season.

But even with that the season had its merits with Boyd Webb calling signals expertly and backs Claude King, Emo Boado, and co-captain Topy Hayes ripping the line. Up front in the forewall Larry Rhodes and J. D. Bradford were holding down the ends while Willie Holland and George Tucker took care of the tackle posts. Guards David Lee and Don Burton, considered by many to be the most underrated player in the state, flanked aggressive center Lou Hallow.

Freshman footballers at East Carolina during 1954 did not have a regular schedule but got plenty of workouts in competition with the varsity gridgers.

Approximately 30 players from all sections of North Carolina and Virginia took daily workouts under the eyes of Head Coach Jack Boone and assistants Jim Malory and Earl Smith.

Many of these players should be moving up to varsity assignments this fall to fill posts vacated by graduating seniors.

Coach Jack Boone and Gary Mattocks talk things over during the half.

*Jessie,
Haven't had the opportunity to know you very well, but it has been a pleasure knowing you as much as I have. Good luck, have a good summer - see you next year. As Ever,

THIRD ROW: Carl Rhodes, Joe Mayo, Louis Slade, Jerry Brooks, Curtis Roberson, Gene Turner, Jerry Allen, David Granitz, Dan Godfrey.

BASKETBALL

The loss of senior stars Bobby Hodges and Charlie Huffman left the East Carolina College Pirates minus both height and experience as the 1954-55 basketball season opened.

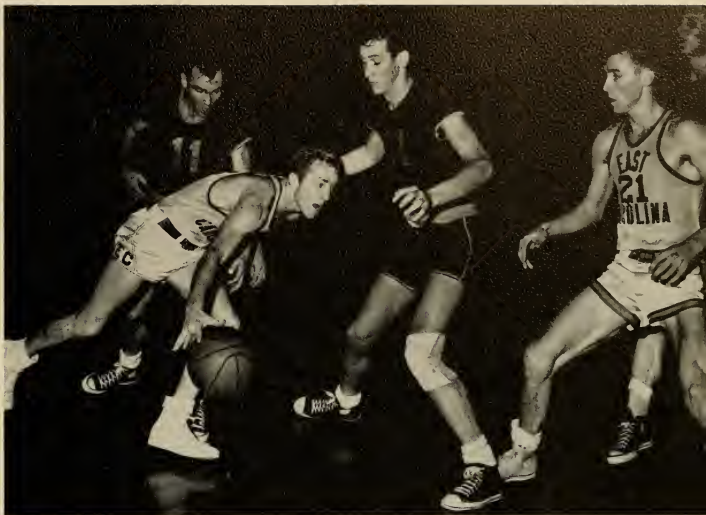

But even with the loss of these outstanding players Coach Howard Porter found some solace in three returning starters, guards J. C. Thomas, captain Cecil Heath, and forward Don Harris. To these, Porter added a pair of freshmen, center Guy Mendenhall, and Nick Nichols.

Early season wins recorded by the Pirates included triumphs over Guilford, Lenoir Rhyne, Appalachian, and Catawba in the conference and highly rated Belmont Abbey, Erskine and Presbyterian in non-league play.

That the Pirates were in for a rough time as far as defending the league title they won the preceeding season was visible early when Elon upset the Bucs on the Christian court. Soon after East Carolina dropped its second loop game and found themselves battling to stay in the race.

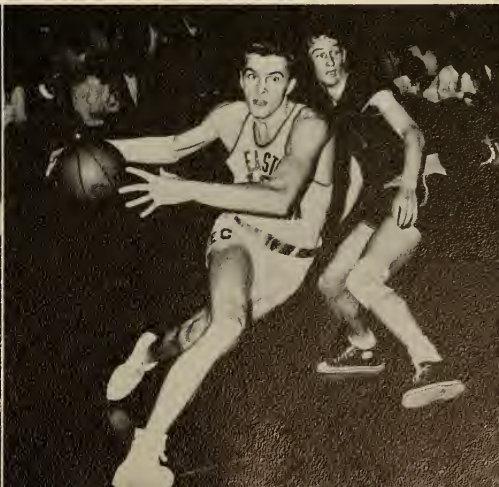

He's got it and gone! Captain Cecil Heath steals ball during Appalachian contest.

You just can't stop Don Harris.

Waverly Akins drives for basket.

FIRST ROW: Captain Cecil Heath, J. C. Thomas, William McArthur, Waddell Solomon, Maurice Everett
 . . . SECOND ROW: Coach Howard Porter, Marion Hales, Jerry Bosquet, Nick Nichols, Guy Mendenhall, Waverly Akins, Don Harris, Freddie James, Assistant Coach Earl Smith.

A RECORD THAT IS HARD TO BEAT

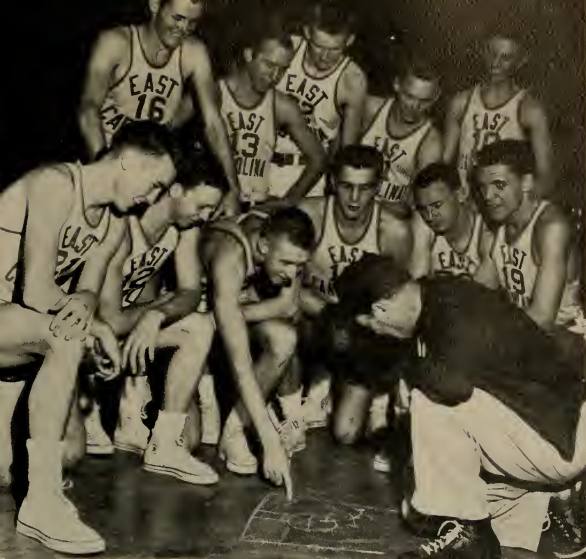

Pressure was on the Pirates from the opening game of the 1954-55 season as they sought to defend the record that was hung up in the spring of 1954.

That year the Pirates walked off with the Conference title, won the NAIA district playoff and compiled the sixth best overall record of any basketball team in the United States.

At Kansas City, where the Bucs travelled to represent District 26 in the NAIA national playoffs, East Carolina lost a narrow decision to St. Benedict's in the opening round.

Marion Hales ties up Erskine player.

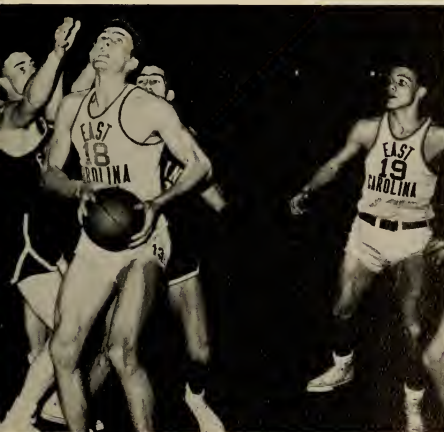

Coach Howard Porter goes over a play with the Bucs.

LOOKING AHEAD

Coach Howard Porter showed evidence of building for the future in his composition of the 1954-55 Pirate squad. Among the newcomers who should help the Bucs next year and after are Freddie James, Waddell Solomon, Marion Hales, Maurice Everett and Jerry Bosquet.

Waverly Akins is about to go up for shot against Erskine.

Nick Nichols hooks for two points.

BASEBALL

A so-so baseball season in 1954 found East Carolina finishing in second place in the Eastern Division of the North State Conference behind Elon's Christians.

East Carolina opened its season by dropping two contests with Wake Forest's Demon Deacons. Other competition met by the Pirates exclusive of games with league teams included Montclair, (N. J.) Teachers.

While the Pirates' efforts weren't entirely successful during the baseball season, the Buccaneers nevertheless came up with some freshmen players who played excellent ball. Outfielder Dave Nance collected some timely hits while playing well defensively. Pitcher Mack Cherry, a slender righthander, displayed the poise of a veteran.

Among the veterans who shone were second baseman Cecil Heath, thirdsacker Charlie Cherry, firstbaseman W. C. Sanderson, and pitchers Jim Byrd and Jim Piner. Unfortunately, however, Sanderson, Byrd and Piner completed their play in '54, and Coach Jim Mallory was faced with the difficult job of finding replacements for the 1955 season.

Spring of 1954 saw the addition of a new sport to East Carolina's intercollegiate athletic program. For the first time since the founding of the school the Pirates competed in track and field events and capped their one-meet season by winning the North State Conference championship.

Leon Ellis, an East Carolina alumnus doing postgraduate work here, coached the team. The Pirates could schedule only one meet prior to the conference finals at High Point but in that outing East Carolina stunned N. C. State's Wolfpack, 58—55, at Raleigh.

At High Point, where the competition for the conference title was held, East Carolina easily outdistanced five other league teams to gain the championship. No records were smashed by the Buccaneers in winning the league title, but Bobby Perry, a freshman ace from Greenville, tied the conference mark for the 100-yard dash with a winning time of 9.9 seconds.

Plans for 1955 called for a larger schedule, and hopes for another successful season were bright with the return of eight men from the 1954 squad.

At the Conference meet at High Point East Carolina poured on the steam to outdistance Lenoir Rhyne's defending champions. Final score showed East Carolina 45; Lenoir Rhyne, 34; Elon, 29½; Guilford, 23½; High Point, 22; and Western Carolina, 8.

GOLF

East Carolina's Golfers Rolled to Their Sixth North State Conference Title in Seven Years

The year 1954 found East Carolina's golfers rolling to their sixth North State Conference title in seven years as the Pirates compiled an unbeaten league slate.

In addition to capturing the team title, Claude King took the individual championship by defeating Don Smith, of Elon, in an 18-hole playoff over the Starmont Forest Country Club course at Greensboro. Dave Martin, of East Carolina, finished third in the individual standings.

The winning team score for the Pirates was 648. Elon, which finished second, had a 658, while Appalachian and High Point, the other two teams entered, tied for third with identical scores of 691.

TENNIS

East Carolina College's tennis team wound up on the minus side of the ledger during 1954, compiling an overall record of 3-6 and a conference mark of 3-2.

At the conference tourney, however, the Pirates salvaged some honors when Paul Cameron and Bob Williams took the doubles championship. Cameron and Williams turned back Shrader and Borjes, 6-2, and 6-1, and then whipped Frazier and Eller, of the champion High Point squad, 7-5, 7-5.

J. W. Browning, Bob Williams, Lewis Barnes, Paul Cameron, Jack Pickett, Craig Kester, Gene Russell, Dal Foscue, and Frazier Bruton.

SWIMMING

The winter of 1954-55 found East Carolina enjoying another new sport. For the first time in the history of the school a swimming team was formally organized and meets were scheduled with squads from both the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conferences.

Since no other North State Conference school has a swimming team, the Pirates were forced to take on a terrific schedule with the net result that, from a scoring standpoint, the season was far from successful.

All indications, however, point to a better record next year as the East Carolina swimmers take full advantage of their new pool and their new coach, Ray Martinez.

Thanks... Jess...

for all the crazy fun I've had while being around you. I'll never forget the night you walked to my home when I lived on Evans Street. We've had a few good days together, but our journey and we'll see you next year.

This book just could not be completed without an expression of appreciation and a hearty vote of thanks to all the people who have made the preceding pages possible.

First of all, I want to thank this exceptional staff which came through so wonderfully. They really, along with friends whom they could draft, poured in more work in such a short time when the deadline was so near than one could possibly expect. Thanks again, Folks.

To Les Blackwell, may I say that your patience is unequalled, except by Job. Working with a rookie editor on a new style of printing brought about undreamed-of complications. To you and Frank Rosenberg of Paragon Press, who made me feel that the Buccaneer was as much your book as mine—many thanks.

This year, as in many years past, our individual portraits for the Class Sections and Fraternities are the product of Smith Studio in Raleigh. Thanks to Fay Smith, for we could have never met the deadline had it not been for your cooperation. We shall long remember it—and the pictures were tops.

To C. L. Perkins my thanks for the outstanding group pictures. It was a long, tough, and seemingly never-ending process, but the pictures turned out fine, C. L., thanks.

I'm sure our Editorial Advisor, Dr. James Poindexter must have felt as though he were taking on quite a few extra classes with themes assigned to all of them with all the proof-reading he has asked to do. My sincerest thanks to you, Dr. Poindexter, for all the time and interest you have put into the Buccaneer.

Of course, in the Spring when it turns contract-signing time, right there ready to help us was Dr. John O. Reynolds, Financial Advisor. His eye was always on our progress, he would let things run at their own rate. But, when needed, he was right there with the correct answer.

Dr. Clinton Prewett, Director of Student Personnel has certainly lived up to the meaning of his title for me. He seemed never too busy to listen to all my problems and was truly a friend to the entire staff.

My thanks also to those concerns which advertised in our book. In short, thanks to each and every one of you who have helped us in the production of the Buccaneer. I wish there were room to name each of you. You have all gone far out of your way to help us and this note of verbal thanks is only a small bit of what the staff really feels.

And now, Lannie, to you I turn over my desk, typewriter, and office key. All my best wishes and luck in making the 1956 Buccaneer the best ever.

Dear - dear,

You asked me to write a lot in your annual and I will - but, if it isn't a volume, please remember that it is quality, not quantity that counts.

Honestly, Jess, you are one swell guy and sweet to boot. You are one of those rare creatures that have that unique ability to make ones around to feel better - I thorough enjoy talking with you and the ekers and cream-puffs we have had in the student union.

That evening we went to Lyden to see Bigadon was the greatest - just what the doctor ordered. We have had some wonderful times this year and it doesn't seem quite possible that this year is almost over.

I hope you will be coming over to camp for during the summer - I'd be glad to see you.

Anyway, working with you in "Bigadon" was the greatest. We really worked but it was worth every minute of it.

Take care of yourself and have a nice vacation.

Best of everything,
James Joyce Smith

Best of luck to a really cute boy.
Be good and watch
those nerves.
