Published by the Students of East Carolina Teachers College
Greenville, N. C.

Foreword

IN presenting the second volume of THE TECOAN, the students of East Carolina Teachers College offer no apologies for the contents of the book; it is but a brief chronicle of the everyday events and scenes of our college life. Had life at Teachers College been different, the book would have been different. Every effort has been put forth to give a picture of conditions as they actually existed during the school year 1923-'24; it is the only pictorial record of the year's events, therefore, we believe it will be valuable for future reference.

"The book's imperfect. Yet midst mirth and jest

There may be some of good. It is our best."

The editors wish to thank the students, the members of the faculty, and the officers for their help and friendly suggestions in the publication of THE TECOAN: such a spirit of co-operation in our college is worth many times the cost of this volume.

College Song

(TUNE: Follow The Gleam)

DOWN East in our great old State
There's a college that we love best.
Emblazoned with Truth it lives
And will always withstand each test.

CHORUS:

Teachers College, we're boosting you,
To Service you're true, all the years through.
Teachers College, whose standards unfurl
And give guidance to all the world.

Our college with lofty aims
Who unselfishly gives her all,
To her we'll be loyal, true,
And will answer her every call.

As days gently pass away
And our college its standards raise,
We fonder and prouder grow,
Alma Mater fore'er we praise.

SECOND CHORUS:

Alma Mater, Symbol of Right,
Giving to all the best of your light
Alma Mater, to each you're a friend
And we'll stick by you 'til the end.

TODAY in most Carolina schools may be found East Carolina Teachers College Alumnae. Especially is this true of the central and eastern sections. Let a new Alumna enter a school and she is at once given the right hand of fellowship by the old girls. There is a peculiar bond existing among all graduates. It seems that this key to fellowship is in being "An E. C. T. C. Alumna."

Little groups of Alumnae have come together in many places in the State and organized county chapters of the Alumnae Association. The year 1920 found only two of these branch organizations, Edgecombe and Pitt. This year will find many among them; Wake, Lenoir, Halifax, Franklin, Granville, New Hanover, Forsythe, Wilson, Pasquotank, Beaufort, Mecklenburg, and Gaston.

Now, for a really good time, attend one of these group meetings. If you can get a word in cross-wise you are lucky. We all want to talk at once. There is so much to say. Listen with me for a minute to the chatter: "Say, have you heard about the change at E. C. T. C.? Isn't it grand? Don't we feel swell?" Of a different nature, but still part of it all, you may hear: "Did you know that ..... was married? When? To whom? There's hope for us all then, isn't there? Heavens, did you hear that ..... has bobbed her hair? What would Mrs. B. say? Well, I think she looks wonderful. I believe I shall bob mine." And thus it goes until the matter of transacting business is almost an impossibility. There are no "Old Maid School Marms" here, I can assure you of that. We have all drunk at the fountain of youth and are enjoying school days once more.

The big culminating event of the year for every Alumna is Commencement at E. C. T. C. When we gather there, we hear from the many girls who have been scattered.

We see the changes and improvements. We make these changes a part of the school we attended. Thus we grow and keep in touch with Our College. Our relationship is renewed.

This year with a new Alumnae Hall in store for us, Commencement is a time looked forward to with eager ant'cipations.

After all, the Alumnae Association with its chapters are:

*Bands, joined in tho't and aim are we,
Soon, stretching from Hatteras to Cherokee,
Service, Loyalty, Fellowship, these three
All pulling for E. C. T. C.*

The History of the Class of '24

FOUR years ago, my classmates—and it seems as yesterday—we first entered dear old E. C. T. T. S. Vivid is the memory of that first trip to Greenville. Ah! I can hear the porter, now, exclaiming, "Freight wreck ahead, two hours wait!" Suddenly the train stopped in what seemed to us the Dismal Swamp, for we could see nothing through the slow drizzle of rain but a net work of briars and bushes standing knee deep in mud. How should we spend that two hours was our first thought, but shortly we were comforted by a group of old girls who assured us that they had learned from the conductor that the track was completely torn to pieces for several miles, and that we couldn't possibly leave before the next morning. Eagerly did we drink the message of these kind friends, and realizing that it was a God given privilege of a "Newish" to yield to any emotional feelings, whether it brought tears from the eyes or lament from the tongue, we played the part of a "Newish" and we played it well. After waiting about three hours we learned that there was a train waiting for us on the other side of the wreck, and that by walking around the wreck and getting on the train we would really get to Greenville that night. This brought a thrill of joy which turned our tears to smiles. So, up we got, took our suitcases, umbrellas and various boxes in hand and started through rain, mud, briars and bushes to find the train that was waiting for us. Walking was a terrible task, our suitcases grew heavier and heavier, the mud made a desparate effort to pull off our shoes, the briars insisted on having us wear drop stitched hose, the bushes and the wind endeavored to rob us of our umbrellas. After passing through this ordeal we got on the train and found ourselves in Greenville about eleven o'clock.

Homesick and lonely were we that first week. But with the passing of time we lost that feeling of dismay that first possessed us, and, in its place, found something of indefinable sweetness and strength, a something that transcends everything in the heart of a school girl; a something that comprises in two words all the grandest qualities, all the noblest emotions; valor and honor, love and loyalty.

Our first year was filled with the many requirements of the "C" course or First Year Normal. We took an active part in all phases of school activities, but our every thought and ambition was to learn all the pedagogy and psychology needed to fit us for practice teaching the next year.

Vacation passes quickly and in September we returned to be "D's", or Seniors, we thought. For as you have noticed we had spent our first year in the East Carolina Teachers Training School which only offered a two-year Normal Course. Shortly after our arrival we learned that our President had succeeded in getting our State Legislature to change our school from a training school to an A College. Thus we learned that we were no longer Seniors of E. C. T. T. S., but Sophomores in East Carolina Teachers College. What a shock to be changed from a senior to a sophomore! But we were glad enough to make the change. Many were we in number and hard was the fight which made our second year a success. June found our practice teaching passed and we were presented our diplomas from the Normal Course.

There was little satisfaction in stopping the job half finished, so we resolved to finish it. Our Junior year was crowded with hardships. I've felt at times that we had made the greatest mistake of our lives by attempting to take college work, for there seemed to be no place for us. We had a small number and only two wanted to specialize in the same subject, so the courses we wanted could not be offered. After working earnestly for three weeks we were able to fill our schedule with courses enough to give the required number of points, thus it seemed that fate forced us to do one term of work for credits, chiefly. Realizing that any transition period works a hardship on all parties concerned, we resolved to use its difficulties as a means of gaining strength. With this determination we went to work and made the year a success in spite of the difficulties.

All too soon came the end of our Junior Year. Victory perched upon our scholastic banners and we were Seniors.

Many of the difficulties which confronted us our Junior Year presented themselves when we became Seniors. But thanks to Mr. Austin who gave us a place on the college schedule, our wants were supplied as nearly as possible. After finding that we could get the required work for graduation, we organized the first Senior Class in the history of the College. We have entered heartily into the spirit of our College, though our small number has prevented us from taking the active part desired. We joined the Juniors and gave the College its first play by a college class.

Out of our seven members we have the Chief Marshal, Vice-President of the Y. W. C. A., Editor-in-Chief of the TECOAN and the Student Government President.

The Tecoa

We have felt the hardships of the transition period of our College more keenly, perhaps, than our underclassmen. Our future will probably suffer from the lack of some course we might have had, had circumstances permitted, but even then we feel that we have been fortunate in having been students in E. C. T. C., at this particular time. It has given us an appreciation of its growth and development that will be impossible for other students to have.

The year has come to an end, and with it our career at E. C. T. C. It is with sadness we part from one another and from our dear old Alma Mater, but never will we part from its ideals. With its motto, "To Serve" ever before us we hope to live up to every ideal involved therein. We shall ever be able to say:

*"And with joy that is almost pain
My heart goes back to wander there,
And among the dreams of days that were
I find my lost youth again."*

A. WOODWARD, '24

To Our Mascot

MASCOT, we've worked and toiled to reach
The goal we have attained,
But much we hope that our work
Has not been all in vain.

Not nearly is our work complete,
In fact, it's just begun,
On farther up are other peaks
Which must be reached and won.

As we climb up the trails of Life,
We wish you'd go along
To cheer us with your laughter gay
And with a merry song.

Though tasks be long and ways be rough
O'er paths we've never trod,
With thoughts of your dear smiling face
The way won't be so hard.

A. H. F., '24.

Prophecy

TEN Years! Could it be possible that so many years had passed since last I beheld my dear old Alma Mater, and the seven girls, who that day in 1924, received the long-tailed for "Sheepskin"? Yes, ten years had slipped by since that memorable day, and as I had spent most of that time in India as a student volunteer worker, I was in total ignorance of the happenings at Teachers College and of the whereabouts of my classmates.

At last I was returning to the scene of my college life! It was the Commencement of the Class of 1934 that I was going to. The wonderful improvements which we had heard talked of so much had been made. We now ranked as second best Teachers College in the United States. I was assured that I would hear from, if not see, my classmates.

I found on my arrival that I was not at the dingy Norfolk Southern Station with which I was so familiar. Where could I be but in the beautiful E. C. T. C. Station which had been constructed just behind the stately Campus Building? I was shown to this latter named building by a portly gentleman of color, who said that the President would be in presently.

As I entered the spacious parlor, my attention was drawn to a copy of the college paper, which was issued daily. Eagerly scanning the paper I found this bit of good news:

Expected on the next train! Pres. Annie Howard Felton of

Annie Howard had at last put her limitless knowledge of English where it would be seen by millions, and had won for herself the honor of being orator at a Commencement at her Alma Mater!

Alice Pope, teacher of European History at Yale University arrived last night and will give a lecture on "The Advancement of Europe in the past Ten Years."

Just then I was disturbed by a violent shake on the shoulders. Looking around, I beheld Leah Cooke, who was still talking as usual. "Say, Clara, when do you think Mary Whitehurst will be here? You know she is teaching Public School Music in the Boston City Schools. She received her musical education under Mr. Potter."

The Tecoan

After several attempts to speak, I finally asked, "Leah, what are you doing now?" She answered rather plaintively, "I can't stop talking so I am now the Campaign Manager for the Democratic Nominee for President."

Anxious to know where Ruth Barbee and Augusta Woodward were, I asked Leah if in her travels she had seen them. Leah stopped talking for a few minutes to think. Then she said, "While I was in Hollywood last summer, I saw Ruth Barbee. She made such a fine lawyer in our Senior Play that she was made official lawyer for all movie divorce cases. But she is coming to Commencement."

"Where is Augusta?"

Before she could answer, the door opened and a very striking blonde came into the room, followed by three distinguished looking ladies. The leader of the group I recognized to be our former Student Government President, Augusta Woodward. I asked her what she was doing and she replied, "Mr. Wright is on leave of absence for two years in Europe. The Board asked me to fill his place while he is away."

With the entrance of Augusta the circle of 1924 was complete; we had all arrived for Commencement at our dear old Alma Mater.

Our Class today,
It is up and away
At the peep of early morning
With the staff in hand,
An eager band,
Our hearts as light as air.
The Purple and Grey is leading away
As the earth our feet are scorning
And off we start with a bouyant heart
And with never a thought of care.

CHORUS:

For it is step, step, swinging along,
We keep the time with a marching song,
Our Class is leading the way.

Class Poem

DEAR fellow Travelers, our journey is ended
Which was begun two years ago.
The road ahead looks long and rugged
And our progress, Oh, so slow.
But our aims were high and noble
And we buckled to the task.
As we knew though hard the labor
Bright would be the goal at last.

We were faced with many trials.
But we smiled and did our best;
And our feet were always guided
By the far-off goal, Success.
And while here we've caught a vision
That in us shall never die.
But its rays will shine more brightly
Through the years that hasten by.

So we've worked and toiled together
In these dear old college halls,
And there's just a touch of sadness
As we leave, though duty calls.
And we know as years move onward
Though we've roamed the wide world o'er
We'll look back with sweetest memories
On the Class of '24.

MARGARET ANTHONY.....Weldon, N. C.

*"She will dispute and prove it too,
That blue is black and black is blue."*

See that far away look in her eyes? Well, she is either thinking of New Bern or Florence, it is hard to tell which. She is one of us, however, and when there's anything doing you can always count on Margaret. She is always ready for any kind of mischief and a few other things shine out from her eyes. Good luck to you, Old Dear, and happy be your future.

ANNIE CROSS BARNES.....Sunbury, N. C.

"Talking is more or less a consumption of energy."

Annie likes college life in general but home much better. She is one girl who glories in the right all women have—the right to speak her mind. We wish her success in her chosen career.

GRACE ATWATER.....Chapel Hill, N. C.

"Who relished a joke and rejoiced in a bun, Rare compound of oddity, frolic and fun."

Grace is one of our most original girls. A merry companion, and a loyal friend. She is blessed with a happy nature and her dimples are constantly peeping out in her joyous smile. When we have the blues we run to Grace or "Dumps", for we've found that no one can scare them away as well as she can. We'll remember and love her always because—she's just Grace.

GRACE BAENS.....Lewiston, N. C.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Happy-go-lucky girl! Always laughing. When sad and blue go to her room and you'll laugh too. One might think her very dignified by only seeing her in the classroom but that is just the face she wears while obtaining knowledge. When she sees a piano she is always ready to play. What is it she cannot do? The Class of '24 wishes her much success in the future.

LINA BAILEY.....Roxboro, N. C.

*"What are little girls made of?
Sugar and spice and everything nice."*

This is certainly true in Lina's case. She is sweet and gentle, calm and deliberate about everything she undertakes. She worries and worries about her practice teaching, but we always find her coming out on top in the end, and we know she will succeed when she goes away. Loyal, dependable, studious—that's Lina.

SARAH BARNHART.....Salisbury, N. C.

*"Tis the songs you sing and the smiles you wear
That makes the sunshine everywhere."*

This is truly fitting for Sarah, as she carries sunshine with her. She is happy and ready for mischief, which can be told by one glance of her eyes.

The Tecoa

JOANNA BARWICK.....Fort Barnwell, N. C.

"Behind those brown eyes there lies much mischief."

Industrious and straightforward in every way is Joanna. She is true blue and we count it a privilege to have her as one of our pals. She is little but, you bet, she doesn't mind speaking what she thinks. Good luck to you, old girl.

BONNIE BOSWELL.....Black Creek, N. C.

"As the spring's soft call brings forth the birdling's song,

So doth her strains of sweet music make the heart rejoice."

"Bonn" is the musician of the class, and we are very proud of her talent. She plans to teach school, but sometimes we wonder! And we wonder if she really does not wonder about it herself at times! Why teach, when at any time she may possess a certain—

GLADYS BATEMAN.....Columbia, N. C.

"A smile for all, a greeting glad,

An amiable, jolly way she had."

Gladys has been an invaluable asset to the college as well as to her class—being sent as a delegate to Blue Ridge from our Y. W. C. A., of which she is President, and having represented our student body at the Student Volunteer Convention held in Indianapolis. Broadmindedness and personality—supplemented by her extensive correspondence with "Carolina," "Wadesboro," and "Baltimore," makes her one of the most popular at E. C. T. C.

BESSIE BOTTOMS.....Margarettsville, N. C.

"In she came with one most substantial smile."

You can never tell what mischief is hiding behind those honest eyes, for she's always ready to laugh no matter how serious the occasion! However, she's a true friend, kind and sympathetic and makes life pleasant for those around her. With these qualities we are sure that Bessie will make a success.

GRACE BISHOP.....Durham, N. C.

"As a perfect type of womanhood,

She stands among the best."

Grace, or "G. B.," as we know her, is a girl whom everyone can depend on for anything that is to be done. We know she can teach, for what is there about Eskimos that she doesn't know! Who can "pitch a song" better than Grace! She is not afraid to say her say, though the whole world be against her. Love her? Well, we just couldn't get along without "G. B."

EULA BOYETTE.....Princeton, N. C.

"Under her crown of fair blonde hair,

Many thoughts lie buried there."

Eula is quiet and studious, yet far from being dignified. Those who know her best find her a true friend at all times. She is a conscientious worker and tries to do her best in whatever she undertakes, both in her classwork and on the outside. She has made many friends at E. C. T. C., all of whom wish her much success.

The Teccoan

VERA BOZEMAN.....Ahoskie, N. C.
"Life without laughing is a weary blank."

Vera is very fond of "breaking the monotony to change the effect." Such a charming personality, sweet disposition, strong sense of humor, sympathetic nature and oh! so many other good things that belong to Vera that it would take a whole book to describe her. We wonder what we will do without her next year. Success doesn't half way express what we know will come to her, for a girl of her type is much cherished by everyone and much sought for by all. We wish her success in all her undertakings.

MARY RUTH BROUGHTON.....Hertford, N. C.
"He that chooseth me, shall get what many men desire."

Mary Ruth's motto is to be always "early" to her task. She is a girl whom everyone loves. Have you ever heard the expression "The early bird catches the worm"? If you don't believe this, ask Mary Ruth, "cause she knows." We can imagine many years hence, Mary Ruth the manager of her own household—but now we must consent to seeing her manager of the 5th Street Kindergarten.

NANCY BRANTLEY.....Zebulon, N. C.
*"Not too serious, not too gay,
 But a right good fellow in every way."*

Nancy is a girl who has won a place in every one's heart. Efficient, lovable, strong in character, kind-hearted and all that goes to make up a good sport; these are some of the things that go to make up "Reds." As President of the Athletic Association, she has won a place in athletics. For her we predict brilliant success. Good luck to you, "Reds."

GLADYS BROUGHTON.....Zebulon, N. C.
*"Say what you have to say,
 Be what you are and no other way."*

She is a quiet but attractive brunette and lives up to her motto. In addition she has that indefinable something called personality, which makes her liked by those who know her. Gladys is the embodiment of neatness and we feel sure that the way to success is open to her.

MIRIAM BRIDGER.....Windsor, N. C.
*"If she will, she will
 And you can depend on't,
 If she won't, she won't
 And there's an end on't."*

Just to look at her anyone would see that her face is her fortune. Boys in all walks of life fall for Miriam's smile, or Miriam's ways or whatever it is about Miriam that works the Cleopatra charm.

SWANNASOE BROUGHTON.....Zebulon, N. C.
*"Then she speaks seldom, all the while
 She brings forth a smile."*

"Swan" is a modest, quiet, unobtrusive young lady, endowed with a generous share of good humor. She always finds a ridiculous side to every question, thus diverting our minds from too serious thoughts. She's just a fine, wholesome, whole-souled girl, and we all love her.

The Tecoan

SUDIE BRITT.....Newton Grove, N. C.
"Smile and the world smiles with you."

Yes, this is "Sudie." Not so big nor so loud but very studious. She is quiet and unassuming, but liked by everyone who knows her.

ANNIE LEE CARTER.....Wintod, N. C.
"She can who thinks she can."

With the above motto we know Annie Lee will scale the ladder of success easily and smoothly. She is a girl who tries and conquers every problem that is put before her. We wish for her every success possible for we think nothing is too good for her.

ANNIE LAURA BROWN.....Swan Quarter, N. C.
"She is not afraid to say her say Though the world be against her."

When you hear Annie Laura say, "Well, girls, I do know," you may know she has something in store for you. She is one who is always ready with her winning smile to solve any problem that may confront her. With her modest, composed disposition, she has woven a chain of friendship which we hope will continue to link. We know that with her persistent determination she is bound to win.

LILLIAN COCKRELL.....Rocky Mount, N. C.
"Those who laugh last, laugh best."

Remember this, Lilly, and you'll think twice before you laugh. What would we have done if it hadn't been for Lillian's peals of laughter rippling through the air to cheer us on our way? She's a good sport, always ready for fun and frolic. Judging from her actions—for actions speak louder than words—we find "eat, dance and grow merry" to be her motto. Well, here's to you "Lilly." May you scale the ladder of success and upon reaching the top obtain your desired goal.

MARGARET BROWN.....Greenville, N. C.
*"Not too serious, not too gay,
 But a good fellow, day by day."*

Margaret is quiet, dignified, studious and ambitious; one whom you can depend on at all times. She is loved by her friends for her kind and gentle manners. Here's wishing her the best success.

BARBARA CONNER.....Rich Square, N. C.
"Variety is the Spice of Life."

"Boh" is full of surprises. One minute she is very angry and the next minute she is saying, "Just look at the sweet letter I got today!" Though she has a "spit-fire" temperament, her friends know her for what she is—a true pal. She has strong likes and dislikes and will do any favor possible for those whom she likes. She is warm-hearted and loyal. A great success is predicted for her in the teaching profession.

The Tecoa

LUCILLE CREDELE.....Lake Landing, N. C.

*"To see her is to love her
To know her is to praise."*

Although we did not have Lucille with us last year, we are very fortunate in having her now. She is a type of girl who makes friends with those about her and is fortunate enough to hold their friendship. She is jolly and full of life and will always be remembered as a jolly comrade.

AGNES CREDELE..... Swan Quarter, N. C.

"She can who thinks she can."

Gentle, sweet and kind is Agnes; a friend to all. In her two years with us, she has won a place in everyone's heart. From the looks of her letters, we wonder if she will be a school "marm" long. Anyway—to you we wish and predict a great success.

OSCEOLA THOMAS CREW.... Pleasant Hill, N. C.

"And still the wonder grows, how one Small head could carry all she knew."

Oceola has taken the honors of the college as the most studious girl. There is no need to repeat that the class accorded to her this honor, also. With an "I. Q." such as she has we can readily predict a very successful future for her. When on the spur of the moment, we desire and need some historical, mathematical or pedagogical lore, immediately and forthwith we rush to this classmate of ours.

AILEEN CRITCHER.....Greenville, N. C.

*"No sinner, nor saint perhaps,
But well—the very best of claps."*

Well, we'll admit Aileen is no saint, and we can't say she is a sinner. She is the kind of a girl one loves to have around. She is thoughtful, cheerful and gay—always ready to help in any way. We're glad you are one of us, Aileen, and we wish much success for you.

MILLIE DAVENPORT.....Tarbo o, N. C.

"Good nature and good sense Must ever join."

A sweeter girl cannot be found. Although she seems quiet and reserved she is a good sport and always ready to help others. Millie stands high not only among her friends but in her class.

IRENE DOWNER.....Racford, N. C.

*"I leave thy praises unexpressed
I leave thy greatness to be guessed."*

Although we have never realized "Irene's" ambitions, yet we shall see them fulfilled. With her charming personality and her brilliant mind, she will not stop until she has reached the highest attainments.

The Tecoan

PEARLE DANIELS.....Franklinton, N. C.

*"She may be serious, she may be gay
But she's a rare good sport in a rare good way"*

What a number of good qualities we find in Pearle. She's the kind of a girl we all love—efficient in all things, a good sport, a real pal, a sweet disposition, unselfish and attractive. From all appearances we don't think Pearle will be in the teaching field long. Nevertheless, we predict for her great success in all she undertakes.

JANIE DOUGHERTY.....Kinston, N. C.

*"Be good and always smile,
Seems to be her motto, and It's well worth while."*

Everybody likes Janie! With her kind and generous disposition she has won many friends to whom she is capable of being a genuine friend in return. She is always ready and willing to lend a helping hand to those about her. Her gentle, sincere manner will be sure to bring her many successes.

ANNIE BELL DEAN.....Oxford, N. C.

"Be what you are and no other way."

"Cricket" is a modest, quiet girl who certainly lives up to the above motto. We all like her because of her thoughtfulness and unselfishness. She is a steady and earnest worker in everything she undertakes.

KATIE LEE FARMER.....Raleigh, N. C.

*"I leave the praise unexpressed
I leave thy greatness to be guessed"*

As a primary teacher, "Little Farmer" takes the lead. She is zealous in her work, thoughtful, loving and sympathetic with all her friends, a jolly good sport and ready for fun. This is "Little Farmer" and "Nann" know her hut to love her.

BESSIE DEAN.....Oxford, N. C.

"She's little and low, but never slow."

Bessie is a quiet, lovable girl and she is always ready when duty calls her. Yet when duty is done she is ready for play. She is a good friend to have and her classmates expect to hear of her as a successful teacher.

VIRGINIA FAULKNER.....Henderson, N. C.

"Where there's a will there's a way."

With her persistent determination she is bound to win. She is always happy and ready for mischief, which can be told by one glance of her eye. We hope to hear great things from her in the future.

SALLIE HENRY FREEMAN.....Gatis, N. C.
"A very charming little girl."
 Laughing from dawn to the set of sun, that's "Tillie." You never see her without a letter in her hand and—"Got a letter from Wake Forest." Here's to you "Tillie"—much success in your future life.

ELLIE GRIER.....Pineville, N. C.
"To know her is to love her."

We find in Ellie a combination of love and friendship. She is a hard worker—but sometimes those blue eyes reveal some mischief, which is numbered as one of her characteristics. She is loyal to every organization here, and always thinks of others before she thinks of herself. We predict for Ellie a successful future in whatever she undertakes.

MAUDE FONVILLE.....Moriah, N. C.
*"Quiet in nature
 Jolly in play
 Maude's a dear little girl
 In every way."*

Though Maude's small in stature she has a big heart. She goes at her daily tasks in her quiet determined way which always wins. We wish for her great success in the future.

MARY LOU GRIER.....Pineville, N. C.
*"Interested and true
 If she likes you, will stand by you."*

Brilliant intellect, ready wit and energy combined—that's Mary Lou. She is on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and you can often hear, "Ask Mary Lou to do it. You can depend on her." She is always ready and willing to try any task set before her. We predict for her a great future.

INEZ GERALD.....Pine Level, N. C.
"Always on time."

"Shortie" she is known as, not because of her height—but! She has a heart to conceive, an understanding to direct and a hand to execute. She is a good sport, especially in basketball.

WILMA GRIFFIN.....Laurinburg, N. C.
*"Every day in every way
 She makes someone's life more gay."*

The above fits Wilma exactly. It makes no difference how busy she is, we always go to Wilma when in need for she is so willing and capable to help us. We are looking forward to visiting "Bill" in her "little doll house" which we know she will soon be the mistress of, for it is her great desire to make some one happy, and we know she can do it.

The Tecoa

MARIE HARRIS ..... Oriental, N. C.

"Success always comes to those who labor."

Labor might be called Marie's middle name. When duty calls, she is always on time with the "goods." It takes a person of this type to win out, and we are sure Marie will be a credit to E. C. T. C., in the future.

AGNES HATHAWAY ..... Hertford, N. C.

"A noble and attractive every-day bearing comes of goodness, unselfishness, sincerity and refinement. These are the characteristics of Agnes."

BERTHA HART ..... Ayden, N. C.

*"Say what you have to say
Be what you are and no other way."*

Bertha is a wide awake, studious girl, liked by all. She loves mischief and plays many pranks on unsuspecting classmates.

MARGARET ARTHUR HAYES ..... Gates, N. C.

"Eyes that might see her on this summer day, Might find it hard to turn another way."

The word "sport" describes Margaret to a "t". When you meet her you may expect this greeting: "Ah! come on let's have a good time." Now doesn't that sound like Peggy!

ELSIE HORTON ..... Zebulon, N. C.

*"Impulsive tho' her nature be
She is quite true as you can see."*

Elsie has an unusual gift—the ability to attract little children. There is no mystery about her power—she just loves them. She is a faithful and capable worker in the Cabinet, Society and other organizations of the College. With her persistent determination she will surely succeed in her chosen vocation.

JESSIE HINES ..... Goldsboro, N. C.

*"Her happy disposition, her pleasant smile
Have won her friends for nunny a mile."*

Jessie is the jolliest, best-natured kind of a girl. She is always bright and happy, always willing to do something for some one else. For all these reasons, everyone who knows her loves her.

The Teccoan

BERNICE HOUSE.....Bethel, N. C.

"Kind hearts are more than coronets."

Bernice is a quiet, studious, true and noble friend through all troubles. She is loved by all her friends for her kind and gentle manner, and she always has a smile for everybody. Here's wishing her the greatest success.

DORIS JACKSON.....Winterville, N. C.

"She is always quiet and dignified."

Although she has a quiet and dignified manner, she is always ready for fun. Doris is a very studious girl. She is always ready to help others.

EMMA LOU JACKSON.....Middleburg, N. C.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

All who know Emma Lou know that she believes in this slogan for she has practiced the proverb "Laugh and grow fat". She is a fun loving girl, up for any sport. She is a conscientious worker and always goes prepared for her work. We expect great things from her if the "Chicks" will leave her alone.

LORENA JEANNETTE.....New Bern, N. C.

"When joy and duty clash

Let duty go to smash."

Yes, that's her sentiment exactly. Always out for fun—always ready for a laugh—but when Travis is mentioned she really and truly gets serious. In that big heart of hers you will find love, friendship and kindness. Altho' one of the prettiest girls in the class, she is not the least bit conceited. "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone" is her motto. We know that she will meet with success wherever she goes, so here's luck to you, old girl.

DOROTHY JOHNSTON.....Woodland, N. C.

*"Sweet, true and always kind
A better pal no one could find."*

"Dot" is a living proof that a "teacher" may be gay and not noisy. She is happy and her sunny disposition shines over on rainy days to cheer us up when we have practice teaching and history reference reading. Her success seems inevitable if some "Perry" doesn't sidetrack her. A good sport in every way is what we find in her.

PEARL JOHNSON.....Beuson, N. C.

"Here is a dear, a true, and industrious friend"

Pearl is one of our "fair damsels" from Johnston County. She is a very quiet and reserved girl and those of us who are lucky enough to know her say "to know Pearl is to love her." With her beauty and laughing care-free manner she steals hearts by the score. She is sincere, studious and stands well in her class.

The Tecoan

GRACE JORDAN.....Cary, N. C.

*"If she will, she will,
If she won't, she won't"*

This readily applies to Grace. Owner of her own heart, we think, and master of her own mind. What she says she means—whether in seriousness, sarcasm or jest. She's an all around good sport, ready for work and play. We expect great things from you, Grace, so don't disappoint us.

LUCY GRAY KING.....New Bern, N. C.

"She is candid and frank in every way."

One of Lucy's outstanding characteristics is lack of deceit. She is just what she is and a truer friend cannot be found. With her sunny disposition and wide store of knowledge, we predict for her great success as a "First Grade" teacher, or in anything that she may undertake.

SADIE KELLUM.....Kellam, N. C.

"To be rather than seem."

Here is a girl we know very little about. She is a quiet, dignified girl who takes more interest in her own affairs rather than the affairs of her neighbors. For this, and her lovable disposition, she is loved and admired.

HELEN KNOTT.....Oxford, N. C.

*"She wears a smile deep and wide,
And bothers not with time or tide."*

"Knott" is one of the sweetest and most popular members of our class. She is one we can always count on when we need help. "Knott" says she doesn't know what she particularly wants to do, but we feel sure "Our Blonde" just doesn't want to tell until—June.

INEZ KENNEDY.....Mount Olive, N. C.

Put all the "write-ups" together and the result will be Inez. Look up in the dictionary the definition of a true-blue sport and apply it to her. It fits. When a game of basketball is played at E. C. T. C., select the best player. The result will be Inez.

LOTTIE LANIER.....Rose Hill, N. C.

*"She is serious, sometimes gay,
Yet she wakes things go her way."*

Lottie is a steady and earnest worker in everything she undertakes. Her actions are always from honest motives, and mindful of her fellowman. We predict her success as a primary teacher.

NELL LAZENBY.....Statesville, N. C.
*"She's kind, she's modest, sincere and true,
 More studious, more generous than most of you."*

You need go no further if its for a real true pal you are searching. "Nell" is a sport thru and thru. With her lovable and generous disposition she has won many friends, to whom she is capable of being a genuine friend in return.

LILLIAN LEARY.....Old Trap, N. C.
*"She is little in size,
 But so very good and wise."*

"Lil" is a favorite among her classmates and his is readily seen by her many honors. Her singular manner and winning ways have won for her a place in all our hearts. If we are ever in need we know she is ready to lend a helping hand.

SUSAN E. LEE.....Dunn, N. C.
"For all she hath a kindly thought."

To like Susan you have to know her. Knowing her you will find her a valuable companion. She is always willing to solve any problem that may confront you, let it be a problem of love affairs or of school. She is never idle a moment but thrifty and thoughtful of others. If more information is desired see the "Black-haired Maroon and Gold."

DAYTON LEONARD.....Salisbury, N. C.
"Never busy but always accomplishing something."

That's Dayton, one of the most popular girls in the class. Take things as they come; do today what there is to do and let tomorrow take care of itself, is another one of Dayton's philosophies. She loves a good time and she usually has it but she doesn't let good times come ahead of her work. She's a good sport and a true friend and we're expecting a splendid career for you, Dayton, so don't disappoint us.

ANNIE LITTLE.....Marion, N. C.
"Not for herself alone."

This has long since been Annie's motto, and she lives up to it in every sense of the word. For two years she served her class as Student Government Representative, and she gave of her best. No matter how difficult the task she always meets it with a smile. With her ability, her noble character and charming personality, we feel sure that only success awaits her.

BETTY LONG.....Seaboard, N. C.
*"Life is full of laughter,
 But even laughter ends,
 Give me instead forever,
 The friendship of my friends."*

Betty is just an "all around" girl whom we all love. She possesses that quality of being the same wherever you see her; this wins for her quick and lasting friends. Betty is always ready for play when her duties are done. She's a friend worth having.

The Tecoan

LOIS LYNN.....Goldshoro, N. C.

*"Not too quiet, not too gay,
But loyal and true in every way."*

Lois is known among us as one who goes about minding her own business and doing her duty. She has a high sense of humor, is a good sport and proves a good friend to those in trouble. May all happiness in life be hers.

CLARA T. LYNN.....Durham, N. C.

*"If you want a friend that's sweet and true
One who writes poetry and loves it too,
And one who still loves you tho' others fail
Then Clara is the girl for you."*

Tho' "Smiles" has red hair she doesn't possess the "red hair" characteristics. Instead she's jolly, happy and always smiling. That's why we call her Smiles. She slips herself into people's hearts and then—we wonder how we got along without her. Because we love her we hope her dreams come true, which means "that home with the bill side sloping down to the lake" will bye and bye come true.

LILLIAN McARTHUR.....Clinton, N. C.

*"T-T-T-T-T, tell 'em
'Cause I-I-I-I-I-stutter."*

Lil, even tho' she keeps you listening for the next word, is a girl everyone likes. She is capable of doing well any task she undertakes. We hope Lil will continue to sing her merry songs and quote poetry in the future, along with her witty sayings. Lil is always happy and brings cheer to her friends.

NETTIE McCANLESS.....Asheville, N. C.

"Her cheeks were rosy, her lips were red, Bought and paid for so they said."

Did you ever see a brunette that wasn't up to some mischief? Well, if you haven't, just hang around and watch "Peanut" awhile, mischief is her main line of business, except when she is writing to —. Nevertheless, with all her mischief and fun, "Peanut" doesn't hesitate to study once in a while. For this little ray of sunshine we predict a successful future.

LUCIA MAE McCALLUM.....Rowland, N. C.

"Ye shall know her by her smile."

She is a quiet, dignified girl and possesses a store of knowledge. She isn't a "chatter-box" but when she speaks it is worth your while to listen. Lucia Mae is always willing to help others. She never says "I can't" but with one of her winning smiles (which she always wears) she always does her best. She takes an active part in Y. W. C. A. work and as a member of the Cabinet she has shown her willingness to do her part. To know Lucia Mae is to love her.

FLORA McCORMACK.....Rowland, N. C.

"Precious things are done up in small packages."

It can truly be said of Flora that a "friend in need is a friend indeed." You can take any of your troubles, with the exception of arithmetic, to her, and she will help you willingly. She is a loyal member of the "Rowland Gang" and especially true to her chewing gum. Flora is a good sport, dependable, ambitious, frank in her opinions and success awaits her in everything she may undertake.

ORA McCORMACK.....Rowland, N. C.
"Good nature and good sense must ever join."

Here is the greatest combination of brains and personality found anywhere. To have Ora for a friend is to have one that is loyal and true. In school she is an excellent student and out of school she is a good sport in every way. She is absolutely true blue and we count it a privilege to know her.

WILLIE McCORMACK.....Rowland, N. C.
*"Not too serious, not too gay,
 But a good pal, day by day."*

"Bill" hails from Rowland! Fate always sends "Bill" where some one needs a cheerful word. If you are down-hearted and blue and "Bill" is around, your face will soon be in a smile by hearing "Bill" say, "Listen girls, I know a new joke," and finally wind up by saying, "Children, don't you think I'm falling off." We expect great things from you, "Bill."

ANNIE McFAYDEN.....Raeford, N. C.
*"'Tis Annie McFayden
 Our own 'Sunny Mack'
 She wins many friends
 With her smiles and her tart."*

"Sunny Mack" is one of our girls who is blessed with a jolly good nature. Nothing is too hard for her to tackle with a will that wins. At early sunrise you can often see Annie B. with a smiling face enjoying a morning sport on the tennis court.

DORA McLAWHORN.....Hunterville, N. C.
"Work before play, then the pleasure is real"

To appreciate her you must know her well. She works untiringly, always letting work come before pleasure, but in the end she reaps her just reward. Altho' seemingly reserved, she has a real sweet disposition and, yes, a sense of humor. When in need, you may depend on her for a helping hand.

GLENNIE MANGUM.....Monroe, N. C.

A smile for all, a greeting glad
 A most lovable lady for "Sawyer lad,"
 She's little and low, but never slow
 For her lessons she studies and always knows.
 Not too serious, not too gay,
 But a perfect lady day by day,
 She's kind, she's modest, sincere and true,
 The most considerate I ever knew,
 Eager for our best welfare in everything that she do
 She's proved a faithful friend,
 And now, we must give her up,
 "Boo-hoo."

LILA MITCHELL.....Fuquay Springs, N. C.
"Rich are they who have many true friends."

Always a smile and a cheery word from Lila. She has greatly endeared herself to her friends and classmates. No situation is too trying for her optimism. Always she is calm, serene, dignified, courteous and generous. She is very studious and at her post of duty on time, and at all times complying with the Student Government regulations. To know her is to love her.

The Tecoan

MARIE MITCHELL.....Charlotte, N. C.
*"A willing worker, full of mirth,
 We need more like her on this earth."*

Marie has an intelligence intensely alive—she has determination, endurance and a keen sense of humor. We feel sure that since it is her delightful task to rear the under thoughts, to develop the young mind, she will win her way to the hearts of all her pupils.

RUTH MITCHELL.....Brevard, N. C.
"Still water runs deep."

Along with several others from our class, Ruth comes from the western part of "the grand old North State." Judging from the I. Q. she has, we know what is in store for her. Our greatest cry is, "More girls like Ruth for E. C. T. C."

HELEN MODLIN.....Ahoskie, N. C.
*"She is ever a good sport and a true friend,
 And one upon whom we may safely depend."*

Helen is just what everybody likes—a jolly good sport, kind, amiable, unselfish and attractive. She is always thoughtful of others and a faithful and capable worker. We all wish for her the success that seems inevitable.

ANNIE LEE MORGAN.....Spring Hope, N. C.
"Have more than thou showest, Speak more than thou knowest."

Annie Lee always meets her tasks with a sincere heart and never gives up until she has overcome it. A successful teacher is our wish for her.

ELIZABETH MORRIS.....Newport News, Va.
 For every funny cry or yell
 We go to "Tissie" who knows them well.
 When it comes to looks, Elizabeth's there.
 She makes you want to tear your hair,
 She loves to smile and wink her eye,
 And makes the jealous nearly die.

MARGARET MURDEN.....Elizabeth City, N. C.
"A sunny disposition is half the battle."

Margaret is quiet and faithful to a degree that commands admiration from her classmates; a good, lovable girl with a keen sense of humor. She is an earnest student and we feel sure the way to success is open to her.

The Teccoan

GARNETTE MYERS..... Spring Hope, N. C.

*"What's the use of worrying,
It never was worth while,
So pack up your troubles

Bubbling over with laughter, that's "Peggy." It is spontaneous, it is irresistible, that jolly laugh of hers, and the way her blue eyes twinkle testify that it is natural. Her sayings and gestures are just "heaps" of fun to her friends. The two things she likes best are: dancing and playing the ukulele. Mingled with her jolly disposition she is studious, for she makes excellent grades in all her studies.

IRMA NESBIT.....Rae ford, N. C.

*"Attractive and sweet
And hard to beat."*

"I know I won't get any mail today," is Irma's daily remark. But when she reaches the P. O. box it is overflowing with letters from Davidson, Carolina and State. Who wouldn't consider themselves lucky to correspond with such a sweet, lovable girl! Indeed! She is a girl of charming personality and wherever she may go this one trait will stand out foremost in the minds of many.

MARIAN NEWBY.....Hertford, N. C.

Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but, above all, the power of going out of one's self, and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another.

NELLIE PEARCE.....South Mills, N. C.

"Sweet music breathes her soul away."

This quiet girl doesn't stand out as a star performer in any particular branch of work, but she is a steady and earnest worker in everything she undertakes. We realize her capabilities and predict her success in the world.

MAYE PENDERGRAPH.....Kinston, N. C.

*"I could not in a palace find,
A truer heart than she."*

Maye is never sad or mad. Her whole aim in life is to make others glad. Here's to you, Maye, may the sunshine of your smile pierce thru the dark clouds and bring happiness to all.

BERTHA PETERSON.....Kerr, N. C.

*"Altho' she is small, and hardly grew at all,
If she were not on the list, she would be sadly missed."*

Bertha is a sensible, attractive girl and you who are numbered among her friends may be called fortunate. She believes in studying, but "When pleasure and studying clash, let studying go to smash." However, when Bertha sees a thing must be done, she is a girl who can and will do it.

The Tecoa

CLARA PERRY.....Creedmoor, N. C.

"Still water runs deep."

As neat as a pin and as sweet as a flower, is Clara. Although quiet in her manner, yet we can depend on her at all times, and we predict great success for her.

LEONE PERRY.....Creedmoor, N. C.

Just a good fellow, day by day."*

Leone is well known by all of us because of her many outstanding qualities. She works with a will and usually accomplishes her many desired tasks. Her words are few and far apart but when she does favor us with a remark it is well worth remembering. She is a girl whom we miss when she does not take part in a thing.

MARY FRANCES PITTARD.....Hester, N. C.

*"Errs like straws upon the surface flow,
He who seeks for pearls must dive below."*

She is a pearl indeed worth diving far below to find. Mary Frances says she is going to teach next fall but all of us who know her well doubt that. We understand that if Dan Cupid doesn't get the right-of-way she must at least teach near Greensboro.

MADGE PORTER.....Severn, N. C.

*"Her greatest ambition, I regret to state,
Is this—to graduate."*

With her modest, composed disposition, Madge has woven a chain of friendship. A good teacher! Well, I reckon so! And here's wishing her success.

CATHERINE REED.....Hertford, N. C.

"Because I rant not, neither rave of what I feel, can you be so shallow as to dream I feel nothing?"

"Jack" is a girl whom anyone would be glad to know. She likes (to be) "Jolly" and proclaims to all that worry is unnecessary. She will succeed in whatever she attacks and her ability and charm will always stir others to action. When we say that we like "Jack" we really mean it. She is a good, true friend.

CLEO RICHARDSON.....Wendell, N. C.

*"Her modest looks the cottage might adorn,
Her sweet voice sings early in the morn."*

Those who know her best love her best for her sweetness of disposition and loveliness of character and they count it a privilege to be numbered with her friends. Judging by her widowed temperament it is easily seen that she will live up to her above motto. Helen asked a question, Cleo always answers, as a true Council member should, "You'll find out."

The Toccoan

ROSALIND ROBINSON . . . . . Morven, N. C.

"To know her is to love her."

Rosalind does what she thinks best, and is seldom wrong in it. She is quiet, dignified and faithful. A good, lovable girl whose high sense of humor exceeds the average. She is jolly, good natured and true.

IRMA LOUISE ROBINSON . . . . . Goldsboro, N. C.

*"I leave thy praises unexpressed,
I leave thy greatness to be guessed."*

Who knows? Louise is a real good sport and all her classmates know. And, when it comes to hard studying she is one of the few who really know how to study.

As Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., none could excel her. She is always at her place of duty and ready to help in any way she can. We expect great things of you, Louise.

KATIE MAE ROBERSON . . . . . Robersonville, N. C.

"I chatter, chatter all day long."

Katie Mae does not abide by the old saying, "Children should be seen and not heard." She's always both seen and heard. She is cheerful, vivacious and gay, but she can appear rather serious sometimes—when she is warning some girl of the Council. However, she can "get by" the Council with what she wants to do, and never seems to stop and warn herself.

MARY GOLD SHELTON . . . . . White Rock, N. C.

*"She is bright, she is witty, she is kind, it's true,
We wouldn't swap her for fifty like you."*

Mary Gold is one of our typical E. C. T. C. girls. If you want anything done, and done well, go to her. She has never been found shirking her work—especially English. Her winning smiles and laughing eyes speak well for her. Her heart is kind and sympathetic, and she will always be remembered by those who know her.

MAMIE DOROTHY SHELTON . . . . . Erwin, Tenn.

*"Her winning ways and sunny smiles,
Make her friendship well worth while."*

That Mamie has many friends at E. C. T. C., cannot be disputed, for to know her is to love her. She served as secretary of the Poe Society for one year and was always faithful to her duty. As a member of the "D" Class she did her best at any task assigned her whether it was to serve as class treasurer or to teach math at the Model School. When pleasure presents itself she is a right good sport and is always willing to take her part.

SIDDIE ROGERS . . . . . Creedmoor, N. C.

"To know her is to love her."

Siddie is a girl of a very rare kind, with the mildest manners and the bravest mind. She's always ready for pleasure and fun. When duty and work are done. With her winsome ways and cheery smile, She's a "friend of friends" very worth while. To the future we extend, Success for her that will never end.

The Tecoa

GLADYS SLEDGE.....Louisburg, N. C.
"Best things come in smallest packages."

Here is a girl whom everyone may depend upon doing the right thing. She possesses a wonderful personality which leads you to love her, for by her winning ways she has won a place in the heart of every one who knows her.

LOIS SMITH.....Kinston, N. C.

*Quote Judith, "What's in a name."
 In faith, we would ask you the same;
 For this bright Smith lamp

That's a rhyme which was really our aim.

Being very accommodating and always ready to help a friend in need, many a girl has sought Lois in solving the seemingly impossible math problems. She shines in many other phases of life, especially history, she being much interested in two of our presidents, John "Quincy" Adams and "Wilson." She is the kind of a girl we will remember as a good comrade and true friend.

SARAH SMITH.....Winterville, N. C.
"Tiny parcels are the best."

There is a ray of sunshine to be found in the darkest places when Sarah is around. She has the "gift of gab" along with a history brain. As for her eyes, look at them and draw your own conclusions.

MARGORIE BELL SNOWDEN.....Snowden, N. C.
*"She may be serious and she may be gay,
 But she's a rare good pal in a rare good way."*

To like "Margie" you have to know her. She is a good sport in every way and always ready to have fun. Although "Margie" likes fun, her work comes first. Every Monday morning you can hear her say, "See you in a minute, I have to see Miss Graham." She is industrious and straight-forward in every way.

ELIZABETH STANLEY.....Goldsboro, N. C.
"As busy as a bee."

Always ready to go somewhere for a big time—that's "Lib." This does not mean that she never studies for her classmates know better. As for teaching, she is considered a very polite teacher. When a child accidentally answers correctly Elizabeth is so shocked she can only think of "Thank you." We know she will make an excellent primary teacher for she knows just how to handle the little ones.

MYRTLE SYLVANT.....Snow Hill, N. C.
*"No jokes or pranks you ever play,
 And you never throw your time away."*

Myrtle has manner demure, Myrtle has manner demure, But once she thinks you've done her wrong, Down sweeps her vengeance on the person's head, And before she's avenged he will wish he were dead.

The Toccoan

NETTIE TAYLOR . . . . . South Norfolk, Va.

"When I ope my mouth to speak, Let no dog bark."

Who can describe Nettie? She is here and there brightening our lives with her ever ready wit, her laughter and sunny disposition. Her classmates, and all who know her, love her and like to have her around—"to chase away the blues." A magnetic and charming personage is Nettie, and we are expecting great things of her in the teaching world if the "Bills" are not too many.

MARY TYSON . . . . . Wadesboro, N. C.

"A friend that is loyal and true."

Mary is the most confidential girl on the hill, as true as steel. A friend in need is a friend indeed. You will always find Mary the truest of friends. She is little 'tis true but her heart is as big as two.

LUCRETIA TUTTLE . . . . . Oxford, N. C.

"Life without laughter is a dreary blank."

So says Lucretia—kind hearted, easy-going, sympathetic and friendly is she. Yet, when it comes to history "Crete" always gets very serious and has no time to pull off any jokes. "I wonder why?" The only failing "Crete" has is "to follow the styles." Just look at the back of her head and see. Many are the happy memories we can link with "Crete" and we don't see what we would have done without her. Here's luck to you, old dear.

HELEN THERESA VINIARSKI . . . . . Asheville, N. C.

*"Trust a man?
I'd trust the devil first."*

"Moonshine" has been a faithful member of the Class of '24, always willing to do what is asked of her. This is shown by her being our representative on the Annual Staff for two years. Along with her work she carries the motto, "Have a good time." Her tongue's always ready with sarcasm and fun. Here's wishing you much success when you receive your M.R.S. degree.

FELSIE TUCKER . . . . . Durham, N. C.

*"Though small of stature, large of brain,
From no hard task does she refrain,
As true as gold, bright as the sun,
In triumph she, life's race will run."*

This almost expresses Felsie's real nature. She is a friend to all with whom she comes in contact. She is a broad visioned girl who knows a square deal always.

CHRISTINE WARD . . . . . Jacksonville, N. C.

"Smile and the world smiles with you."

Christine is better known among her friends as "Muvver" and "Ting-Ling." Her nickname "Muvver" naturally tells us that we couldn't do without her. She is a real sport and loves to dance too. We hope she will keep up her sunny disposition and laugh as much in the future as she has in the past.

The Tecoan

SALLIE WATERS.....Conetoe, N. C.

"Think of me as you please."

Sallie is the kind of a girl you like when you know her. She is a true and jolly good sport on all occasions. Throughout her college years she has been a valuable asset to her society. She expects to teach school, but judging from her "specials" which appear so frequently, we do not predict for her a long career as a school ma'am.

MABEL WATSON.....Rowland, N. C.

"Small in stature but not in 'pep'."

"I ain't telling you no story." When you hear these words you may know Mabel is coming to relate one of her exciting experiences. The fact that she has been voted cutest for two years speaks much for her. Give Mabel a good bonk and a box of candy for company and she is in paradise. She is very fond of eating and dancing, therefore, her motto, "To eat and to dance."

BERTHA WESTBROOK.....Dunn, N. C.

*"Be modest, be kind, be true,
Each ideal will be accomplished if you do,
Run to the goal of success,
'Twill only be there that Bert can rest."*

"Bert" is a grand "Ole Lady" (room mate). Who knows better than I! "Y" we go to bed singing and get up singing. "Bert" does her work too. She is always ready. When the question is asked her answer is "I will." We all know what a variety of ideas are stored away in her head by her most entertaining programs, which are given on Saturday nights at monthly business meetings of the Y. W. C. A.

GRACE WESTER.....Franklinton, N. C.

"But while I breathe heaven's air, and heaven looks down on me and smiles at my best meanings, I remain mistress of mine own self and mine own soul."

When you really know her, you find how much you have been missing—a friend of sterling qualities. In the social firmament Grace twinkles as one of the highest stars. With her cheerful smile she has become a favorite with the "Cricket on the Hearth." We feel sure success and happiness will be her lot in the world.

MARGARET WEST.....Dover, N. C.

"Talking, she knew not what and cared not why."

"Hix" is just an all round girl and possesses that quality of having the same sweet disposition wherever you see her. She is one of those folks who forget to make you feel blue. She is a happy-go-lucky girl whom everyone likes and likes to be thrown with.

EVA WHICHARD.....Greenville, N. C.

"Always be on top."

This quiet and dignified girl lives up to her motto—always prepared to do her task and do it well. With her persistent determination she is bound to win. Those who claim her friendship are fortunate indeed.

The Tecoan

CHARLOTTE WHITE.....Pollocksville, N. C.
"Nothing more useful than silence."

Charlotte comes to us from N. C. C. W. She is quiet, modest and capable. Day by day she constantly keeps increasing her knowledge of things in general. Charlotte may be sure when she leaves E. C. T. C., she carries along with her the best wishes of her classmates for a successful future.

BLANCHE WILKINS.....Greensboro, N. C.
*"To be loved is all I need,
 And whom I love, I love indeed."*

Here, indeed, is a woman with a head to conceive, a tongue to persuade and a hand to execute any action with merit. This has been clearly shown in the numerous things Blanche has done for her class as its president. But don't take her too seriously, for with her jolly disposition she often converts her room into a veritable "Laughinghouse." Her classmates wish for her the success which seems inevitable.

FANNIE WINFREE.....Wadesboro, N. C.
"On time every time."

Fannie not only lives up to this motto, but tries to encourage others to do the same. She believes that duty comes before pleasure, and always uses her time to the best advantage. In spite of this when the time comes for pleasure, a more good natured, fun-loving girl cannot be found anywhere. One cannot help but love her because of her unselfish spirit and willingness to help others.

NANCY WITHERS.....Wentworth, N. C.
"Thy modesty is a candle to the merit."

Modest and refined is she, yet she is one of those rare girls who possesses power to make a success of whatever she undertakes. We predict for Nancy a most successful future.

MARGARET WOODS.....Hillsboro, N. C.
*"'Tis reported that Dan Cupid's dart,
 Has punctured this fair damsel's heart,
 But when we ask 'Maggi'
 She says 'Look at my Frat'.
 Now what do you think is the meaning of that?"*

Margaret is one of our sweetest girls. She wins her way into your heart before you know it, and you love her because—well, you just can't help it. We wish for her great success in the future and happiness in her work though she teach but one in a Bungalow School.

BETSY WRIGHT.....Iogold, N. C.
*"Play while you play and know the limit,
 And still get all the fun that's in it."*

One glance at her dancing brown eyes tells the tale. Here's a dandy good sport. With her attractiveness and sunny good nature, we find that she possesses those characteristics of personality and character that naturally make people like her. She has her own opinions—reliable ones which she expresses regardless of contradictions. She is admired by all with whom she comes in contact.

The Tecoan

ELVA YELVERTON . . . . . Black Creek, N. C.

"To know her is to love her."

Elva is an inspiration to those with whom she comes in contact—calm, serene and dignified, but she has her gay side too. Elva is "strickly" a good sport if she does call him her Buddy.

ANNIE BRYAN . . . . . Greenville, N. C.

*"A perfect woman, noble planned,
To worn, to comfort and command."*

We would have to travel to find a sweeter and nobler girl than Annie. She is always ready with a cheerful word to help those about her. Her friends look forward with pleasure to her friendly smile of greeting. We are sure her kind and noble manner will bring her many successes in whatever she undertakes.

MINNIE GARDNER . . . . . Fountain, N. C.

"A silent girl is always more admired than a noisy one."

Minnie is a girl with a strong will and a true heart. She is one whom we all admire. She will surely reach her goal in all things she begins.

IRENE BRASWELL . . . . . Monroe, N. C.

*"Irene is wise,
She is betrayed by her looks,
She's fairly in love,
With papers and books."*

Irene has many, so many good traits that it would take ages to write them all. However, when they are added up, our Irene can't be beat. She is a girl worth knowing and having as a friend.

MARY BRASWELL . . . . . Monroe, N. C.

*"If ever she knew an evil thought,
She spoke no evil word."*

What has been said of Irene is also true of Mary. With her winning ways we are sure that the world holds much in store for her.

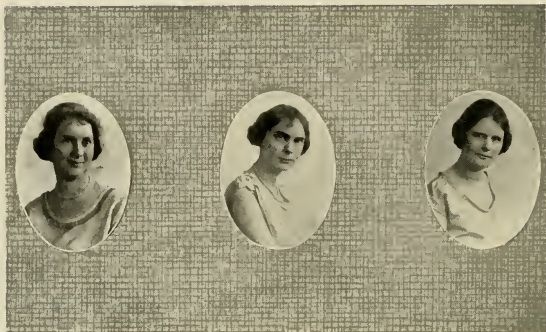

BERTIE MANNIS . . . . . Biscoe, N. C.

"A woman of wit and merry sayings."

Bertie is a girl loved for quietness and dignity. She is always ready to help her fellow students when they are in need. Good luck! to you, old girl, and may success be ever thine.

MARY HELMS ..... Unionville, N. C.

*"A scholar who silently thinks and thinks,
And eventually unravels all the kinks."*

Here's a girl who knows how to cook,
To knit and crochets,
This is quite enough for any girl's hook,
And she'll get a man some day.

FAYE PURSER ..... Unionville, N. C.

EVA L. HOCKADAY ..... Creedmoor, N. C.

"Still waters run deep."

Class Song

(Tune of "Vive L' Amour")

*Come, classmates, and join now with joy in a song
To Dear Old '24,
The best of good cheer as we're passing along,
Dear Class of '24.*

CHORUS

*Here's joy to you, honor and love evermore,
Sweet memories will come when the day is o'er,
Of faces we love and will never forget
In our Class of '24.*

*The sweetest memories in years we'll recall,
Dear Class of '24,
In fancy we'll roam once again in this hall,
Our Class of '24.*

*We hope that the future will bring each success,
In our Class of '24,
We'll hold high her standards, the noblest and best,
Dear Class of '24.*

CLARA LYNN, '24.

Class History '24

THE Class of '24 wishes to relate in a very crude way just a few of its most important dates, from babyhood "A's"—angels, to womanhood as "D's"—dears.

On September 25, 1920, there were scattered among the student body of East Carolina Teachers Training School, 24 of the most "timid little creatures" you ever saw. At first these 24 "timidities" were not congenial with the "old girls" at all, but they soon discovered that the "old girls" were "human" rather than "superhuman".

After a period of six weeks we organized ourselves carefully and thoughtfully under the leadership of that brave and noble character, Leona Johnson, who was made first president of the Class of '24. Our noble leader made a great success of whatever she attempted no matter how hard the task, and with her wonderful voice she could even quiet the "chattering" of the whole student body.

We appeared for the first two times before the school by rendering a most interesting chapel and Y. W. C. A. program.

On May 7, we did our part in making May Day a success. On May 11, we entertained our sister class, the "C's".

On June 7, we witnessed for the first time, the presentation of diplomas to the graduating class, and longed for the day to come when we would receive so precious a treasure.

June 8, Vacation—A trip to dream land.

On September 26, 1921, we returned to the "Garden Spot" of the world, which was now East Carolina Teachers College.

This year Lina Stevens acted as a guardian angel over 34 "B's". We were not timid this year for there is no such thing as a timid "B-e-e", and we never fell short of being the class for we were the bravest "B's" East Carolina Teachers College had ever possessed.

On December 6, 1921, there came a very sad event into our lives; one of our most loyal members, Virgie Mitchell, answered the Great Voice from above, "Come forth".

On May 6, we led Y. W. C. A. services.

On May 11, we entertained our sister class, the "D's".

On June 5, we presented a beautiful lantern drill in honor of the graduating class.

June 8, Vacation, which was all too short. Swiftly the days passed bringing again September, the beginning of another school year.

On September 27, 1922, we were more than glad to know that approximately 280 pupils had registered as members of our class.

The Tecoan

This year we felt more keenly our responsibility, for, naturally we were looked up to as leaders, as we were great big "C's".

Marion Newby, a "natural born leader," successfully piloted us through the deep waters of many difficulties and over the rough waves of the following dates:

Thanksgiving Day ball game—'23 vs. '24—"We won".

February 25, Led Y. W. C. A. services.

February 14, Junior-Senior reception.

May 14, "May Day", under the auspices of '24.

May 26, last regular class meeting of '24 while known as "C's".

June 5, visit to "Home Sweet Home".

On September 27, 1923, we had at last reached womanhood and gained possession of our long wished for name—"Dignified D's".

With Blanche Wilkins as president and under her leadership we proved what the class of '24 really could do.

On October 27, we made a decision on class rings.

On December 16, we led Y. W. C. A. services.

On February 25, we gave a reception in honor of our friends.

On April 15, Senior Play presented.

On June 2, "Class Day" exercises.

June 3, at last brings us to the end of a perfect dream, presentation of diplomas, our long wished for treasures.

Then comes the greatest event of all. Our great and noble task of laying the foundation for the future generation, that is, the task of training up boys and girls into true manhood and womanhood for "The Good Old North State".

Last Will and Testament

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
COUNTY OF PITT
TOWN OF GREENVILLE

} EAST CAROLINA TEACHERS COLLEGE

WE, the Class of '24, with full grown wings and a wonderfully developed confidence in our flying ability, are now preparing to soar away to an unknown land, which will be for better or for worse, for life or death, or for eternal bliss, or for eternal grief.

To those who will remain on this mundane sphere, we, in full possession of sound mind, memory and understanding, do make and publish this, our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all former wills heretofore made at any time.

FIRST—We give, devise and bequeath to the school as a whole our boundless knowledge, and request that it be used for the edification and enlightenment of any and all greenhorns who may follow in our tread.

SECOND—To our Faculty:

ITEM 1—To Miss Maupin, this chain to help in linking her psychology with life.

ITEM 2—To Mr. Leggett we leave this little table to be used as a basis for your psychology. This will enable our successors to know just what basis to allow you to put it on.

ITEM 3—To Mrs. Jeter and Mrs. Keel we leave this cage of chickens. We sincerely hope our successors will get more chickens and less hash.

ITEM 4—Mr. Austin—We leave you this airplane. This will enable you to carry our successors on the various trips to different nations and cities, in reality instead of imagination.

ITEM 5—Miss Lewis—This yard stick and large pencil, so that everything may be drawn to the line.

The Tecoan

- ITEM 6—Miss Wilson—We leave you this great invention which will enable you to catch the students who persist in opening their lockers during class.
- ITEM 7—Mr. Slay—We leave you this watch which will not necessitate so much winding.
- ITEM 8—Miss Davis—Here is a set of ten volumes of Connor's works. We hope that future history students may be blessed with enough references.
- ITEM 9—Mr. Henderson—A class in which all students may be able to follow directions as you desire.
- ITEM 10—Miss Whiteside and Miss MacFayden—We leave you a place in the "Hall of Fame" as a reward for your heroic efforts in helping this group of mental deficient in their practice teaching.
- ITEM 11—Miss Tolleson—This student who is able to distinguish a column left march from a flank march.
- ITEM 12—Miss Tarpley—This pair of glasses to be used in finding every fault in the girls sewing and discover every long stitich taken.
- ITEM 13—Mrs. Grimes—We leave you this "man", to try out some of your numerous dishes on. We feel sure he will delight in being the target.
- ITEM 14—To Mr. Meadows—This book of illustrations for use in his classes next year.
- ITEM 15—Miss Jenkins—All profits of the annual for her super-excellent work in getting out said master pieces of "Children's Literature".
- ITEM 16—Misses Graham and McKinney—We leave you both this new invention to keep you from calling on the students so much for oral addition, division, multiplication, and subtraction. This wonderful machine will do all four for you and the pupils hereafter will not be seared into petrification.

The Tecoan

- ITEM 17—Miss Harding—This little balloon. This will ride you around the building after the numerous girls Mr. Wright sends for, thus saving your strength and time.
- ITEM 18—Mr. Underwood—A set of A Number One teachers next year who will not worry—and with whom he can find no fault.
- ITEM 19—Miss Muffy—We leave you this book of culture, written by the Class of '24. We feel sure that this will prove to you that your numerous lessons in culture teaching were not in vain.
- ITEM 20—Miss Ross—We leave you this box to keep your many strings of beads in.
- ITEM 21—Miss Moore—This microscope to enable you to find every little defect in the girls' rooms after they have spent hours in cleaning up.
- ITEM 22—Miss Beaman—We leave you this bottle of Coea-Cola. Give more of this and less salts. The girls will appreciate it because the majority of your patients are either "History or Math patients".
- ITEM 23—Mrs. Beckwith—This little basket of apples to be given to next year's hungry girls just before going to bed.
- ITEM 24—To the Music Teachers—This bunch of ragtime music in order that East Carolina Teachers College will not be lacking in "jazz" in the future.
- ITEM 25—To Miss Gray—We leave this bell to keep silence in the library in order that she may not have to put forth so much energy in sh—H.
- ITEM 26—To Miss Scoville—This "Baby Lincoln" to surpass other teachers' ears.
- ITEM 27—To Mr. Deal—This radio and batch of newspapers in order that he may be "posted" on all current events.
- ITEM 28—To Miss Chamberlain—This box of colors that her life may remain as bright in the future as it is at present.

ITEM 29—To Mr. and Mrs. Spilman—Thinking there will be a great increase of currency here next year, we place this bank in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Spillman, thus helping them to make students' money secure.

ITEM 30—To the Model School Teachers—This waste basket to keep all mistakes made by practice teachers while teaching at Model School.

ITEM 31—We give and bequeath to the faculty as a whole a sweet and unbroken succession of restful nights and peaceful dreams. No longer need you lie awake during the long watches of the night to worry over the uncertainty of whether this one is doing her night's work or that one will have her mathematics in morning class. It has been a hard strain on you, as Seniors are said to be at all times and under all conditions difficult to manage. You have done your duty and verily now shall have your well earned reward.

THIRD—To the Following Classes:

ITEM 1—To the "C" Class—We will our seats in Chapel. May they fill them as promptly and faithfully as we have done. Our "Senior Dignity"—may they uphold it forever with all the seriousness and gravity endeavoring to realize its vast importance in spite of their natural lightmindedness and irresponsibility.

ITEM 2—To the Freshman Class—We leave you this box of paint to change your color of normal green to a tint. We also leave our privilege of going down town any day in the week.

ITEM 3—To the Sophomore Class—All our "ones" to be used in helping them out in arithmetic and history. From the rumor we hear and personal experience we feel sure they will need and appreciate this gift.

ITEM 4—To the Junior Class—Our smiles, patience and good looks, and willingness to work.

FOURTH—

ITEM 1—To our Annual Staff—We leave our hearty and most grateful thanks for their splendid efforts and endless hours of work in getting out the second volume of the TECOAN.

The Tecoan

ITEM 2—To the Y. W. C. A.—We leave this new supply of “rations” for their store to be used in feeding future girls on “bag supper night”.

FIFTH—

To Mr. Wright we give and bequeath our deepest reverence and our heartiest gratitude. In an attempt at partial payment for all he has done for us here at East Carolina Teachers College, we make over to him here and now a mortgage on our future. It shall be his to watch every step of our upward flitting—to note each trial—each attempt, each victory, each success and honor that we may achieve in the arena of the world and to accept for himself as interest on our deathless debt each ounce of praise, every iota of honor, knowing it is all due to his faithful instruction and guidance.

SIXTH—

Now we leave not of necessity, but of our own free will our blessings, tender memories of our associations together and forgiveness of anything that we may not have appreciated in the past and a pledge of friendship from henceforth and forever.

In testimony whereof, we the testators aforesaid herewith subscribe our names this the sixth day of June, Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-four, at East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, North Carolina.

Class Prophecy

WHEN we finished college, it was with a will to teach,
Whether there should be members or just one to each.
Even the best laid plans are sometimes knocked away,
But thinking of my classmates now, I often wonder why—
Marion Newby, who ten short years ago, a dentist aspired to be
Is now happily married and children has she three.
Now, why is it that Betsy Wright, whose middle name was sleep,
Is now a leading banker with much more sale than she can keep?
To be a famous lecturer was Lillian Leary's one ambition,
But in this work we dare not say she's found her life's true mission.
Take Sarah Barnhardt for instance, who we know couldn't carry a tune;
But whose success in Metropolitan Opera is soaring toward the moon.
Look at Creasy Tuttle, who was as lazy as could be,
But now rides in her limousine and wears fine clothes you see.
Grace Wester never knew her chance lay in the field of math,
It's hard to believe but now she trods its well worn path.
Dear Old Blanche whose sole object was winning of a spouse,
Has built a home for Old Maids and called it "Laughinghouse".
Dayton always wished to be a moving picture star,
But in vain! She's a lawyer since her admittance to the bar.
To equal Senator Field's fame, was Agnes Hathaway's one desire,
She has a lawyer's license but the world's not yet on fire.
We thought "Reds" Brantley's wit would put us in the background,
But now she has a store and sells sugar by the ten-pound.
In Jack Reed, behold our May Queen Fair!
She works in a beauty parlor and dresses ladies' hair.
Then Annie Laurie Brown, who wished to win renown,
Travels with a circus, acting as a clown.
To spread Mr. Leggett's philosophy was McArthur's one ambition,
But now she pussy-foots it round enforcing prohibition.
Nor, Marjorie Bell, remember, a Butler wished to be,
Is now a soap box orator, expounding liberty.
Gladys, our Y. W. President, who never was a shirker,
Has become a minister and is quite a pious worker.
Lucia Mae, as a missionary to China wished to go,
Is now at E. C. T. C., teaching boys to sew.
"Dot" Johnston who wanted to get into some easy job,
Is now a labor leader making speeches to the mob.
Cleo, a singer great, we thought she was to be,
Had to go when Nowell calls, its principal now is she.
Those Grier girls who aspired to be best teachers in Mr. Underwood's section,
I see are out as candidates in the coming Presidential election.
Doesn't it seem strange that Irene Downer, who was a shark in Math,

The Teccoan

Is now end man in a minstrel and makes the people laugh?
"I'll wipe Irene Castle off the map" Miriam Bridger boasted proudly,
"Dancing's the tool of the devil," Deacon Bridger now rants loudly.
Viniarski wanted an easy job teaching High School French,
But at present is a famous judge sitting on the bench.
Mary Gold thought her talent would yield her a famous post
"Murder will out," in "Hamlet" she's playing the ghost.
And Helen Knott, whom we all esteemed so high,
Is now a crooked doctor, selling liquor on the sly.
To Louise Robinson, married life was the one thing that appealed,
She's had that and more—plowing in the field.
Wilma thought she saw her chance with ministerial work,
But she figured her chance wrong and at present is a clerk.
Lois Smith's only ambition was to become somebody's wife,
She discovered a cure for kinky hair and now is fixed for life.
To be a basketball coach, was the wish of Vera Bozeman,
But Alas! she has substituted one of those things called husbands.
Little did I think that the girl called Lina Bailey,
Would ever become so famous that we read about her daily.
To what end did Felsie Tucker exercise her charm and grace?
She is now a Chorus Girl in some small town place.
"I'll be a daring arconaut" said Susan Lee one day,
She has taken over her Daddy's store and tries to make it pay.
Mannie is a gardener, both in name and occupation,
For as a landscape gardener she's famous throughout our nation.
Here's to Lillian Cockrell, she accomplished her ambition,
By teaching, though its only one, which was the college mission.
Helen Modlin kept this end in view, to be a millionaire,
A teacher's job looked good to her and so she landed there.
Bertha Hart would be a lawyer, but found the job too hard,
And now she works in Bowen's selling cheese cloth by the yard.
To be a movie actress was P. D.'s fondest hope,
But now she works in a drug store and concocts a wicked dope.
Irna Nesbit wished to be a politician astute,
But as a doctor of the heart she now has won repute.
To be a famous poet was Grace Atwater's aspiration,
But a family with its attachment leaves no time for meditation.
Oseola in her student days a shark always seemed,
Now she reports every night, "Sir, the floors are clean."
"I'll be a staid Old Maid" said Glennie to the girls,
She is now a trapeze walker turning flips and whirls.
In college Annie Little as a student made her mark,
Behold her now a peddler selling popcorn in the park.
Myrtle and Nell both aspired to be a patent merchant prince,
They started out as teachers and have done it ever since.
Sara and Joanna, both were doctors in their dreams,
But who we see as dressmakers, who sew the finest seams.
As we look back over all our days and recall Bertie Maness,
We think now of her famous sign "Teeth Extracted, Painless."
Betty Long and Bessie Bottoms who both were teachers rare,
At present have a side show in the Greenville fair.

The Teccoan

Lorena had no thought but to gather beaucamp jack,
But now she scrapes a living with a Lizzie as a hack.
"I'll never come back once I get away" said Margaret to us one day,
But wait! She is back at college teaching English for darn good pay.
Quote "Lib" Stanley, "As a teacher I'll make the world stand still."
Can't say much for the teaching but she's right there with it still.
To be a great musician was the wish of Annie Lee Carter,
Now she is the Leading Lady in "My Lady's Garter."
And little Annie and Maggie who had no wish for fame,
Have now success and fortune playing the National Game.
Those Broughton sisters wished to be owners of large estates,
They are now employed as packers, packing fruit in crates.
Eula and Sudie said, "There's nothing in a name."
It seems they've changed their minds since then, 'cause they're playing the married game.

Grace and Margaret always wished to take a trip to Mars
They've given up that ambition and at present are studying the stars.
Bonnie Boswell, a singer great, always wished to be,
Now she's at a Model School teaching do re mi.
Being treasurer of our Class must have helped Mary Ruth,
For she is now a leading banker in the city of Duluth.
Mary and Irene, who were Braswells as you know,
Have recently eloped with two actors from the show.
Bessie and Annie Bell Dean, who were never knee high to a duck,
Are playing in their latest picture "Always Just Outa Luck."
Margaret Hayes and Sallie Freeman, those girls from the County of Gates,
Have adopted for their specialty the painting of china plates.
Aileen Critcher and Josie Barnes who never skipped a lesson,
Have taken up æsthetic dancing and are leaders in that profession.
Millie and Little Katie Lee who were both as fine as silk,
At present are State Inspectors, looking for germs in milk.
"I'll be a great light in the world" one day said Annie Bryon,
She's now a traveling salesman selling electric irons.
Barbara, Agnes and Janie, all three whom we thought would never pass,
Have become United States Senators, ahead of the rest of the class.
Lucy Grey King and Sadie Kellum, who always told the line,
At present are Old Maid School teachers, and of the very worst kind.
Lois Lynch and Claire Lynn, who were girls of the finest type,
Are now with Libby Company, advertising Libby's Tripe.
Lila and Marie Mitchell, sisters in name if not in blood,
Have become rich by molding statutes, not of clay but out of mud.
Ora, Willie and Flora the little McCormack cousins,
At present have a honey farm, where the bees are always buzzin'
Dora Mae and Doris Jackson, who hail from Winterville,
Are now quack country doctors, administering sugar pills.
Strange but true, the whole "H" family Hines, Horton, House and Harris,
Now are famous modistes, away in far off Paris.
Grace Jordan, remember those big alluring brown eyes,
But to hear of her now as an oculist, indeed is quite a surprise.
Lanier and Johnson saw themselves as doctors in their dreams,
They got their chance, went down, not up, and now saw planks and beams.

The Tecoan

Garnett, Gladys and Christine, all members of one gang,
Are doing their bit in this world, in the wiping out of slang.
Those Perry girls, who were quite the berries in the gold ole days of yore,
Are now at the University taking a course in folklore.
"We'll both be famous architects" said McCaless and Pendergraph,
But who are back in dear old Greenville on the Daily Reflector Staff.
'Twas always thought that Nettie Taylor and Sallie Waters would both prove hindenthals,

In China now you'll find them—they've answered the call.
But Margaret West, remember was leader of the Poes,
You'll find her now at Heber Forbes fitting misses clothes.
"I'll be a bareback rider" was the comment of Faye Purser,
She is now at E. C. T. C., acting as bursar.
Mamie Shelton as you know was Mary Gold's first cousin,
Now operates a fresh fruit farm, "Hens eggs by the dozen".
"I'd like to be a tennis champ" said Nellie Pearce and Charlotte White,
Their wish was never realized for they've chosen married life.
Winfree, Rogers, and Peterson, who were all three carefree lasses,
Are now with Karo Company, selling black molasses.
Rosalind and Katie Mae Roberson, not sisters by any means,
Have turned to art as their life work and are painting landscape scenes.
Inez Gerald and Kennedy, who in basketball saved the day,
Started out as teachers but found it didn't pay.
Lucille Credle, we always thought would surely reach the top,
Her dreams are rudely shattered, she is now a traffic cop.
Virginia Faulkner and Mary Tyson, who consuls wished to be,
At present are at Davenport, selling Lipton Tea.
Westbrook, Withers and Yelverton, loyal members of '24,
Have come together as partners and built themselves a store.
Mabel Watson, if I remember, came to us from Rowland,
Has won great fame as a soloist by "My Heart is in the Lowland".
Jackson, Brown and Whiehard, who artists wished to be,
Have built a home for the aged, as a bit for humanity.
Madge Porter and Mary Helms who we always thought were quiet,
I see by the papers are the principle leaders in a terrible riot.
On account of sickness, Pittard and Fonville left us for awhile,
They are leeturing now in Washington on "The Dangers of Maiden's Wiles."
And so it is the whole way through, as you did read and see,
They've none done what they should have done or been what they should be.
But through it all no one can say, however bold,
That we've been disloyal to the purple and the gold.

Class Song

LET every heart sing
Let every voice ring
And to her each one be true,
It's ever onward, her courage pursuing
May defeat ne'er our ardor cool,
But united we will stand for her—
Our dear old class.

Honors she has taken,
Always follows up "To Serve"—
May she always rank the highest,
May her colors never fall.
There's no other that can match
When her girls are "In the State"—
For they are fittest
And also sweetest—
Then here's a cheer for her,
For her who ne'er will yield.

Class Song

FAITHFUL, and true hearted
To the Class of Twenty-six—
We revere her and defend her,
And her colors to the last;
We will stand for her united,
Of her deeds we gladly tell,
Her colors streaming,
Glad faces beaming,
So here's a cheer for her
That we all love so well.

CHORUS:

Joyous and ever loyal
To the Class of '26
Let every heart sing
Let every voice ring
And to her each one be true,
It's ever onward her courage pursuing,
May defeat ne'er our ardor cool,
But united we will stand for her—
Our Dear Old Class.

Honors she has taken
Always follows up "To Serre"—
May she always rank the highest,
May her colors never fall.
There's no other that can match
When her girls are "In the State"—
For they are fleetish
And also sweetish—
Then here's a cheer for her
For her who ne'er will yield.

WE are Teachers College Freshmen.
We aren't credited with dreams;
Yet from nineteen twenty-seven
There's a light that for us beams.

In that year we will be seniors,
We are striving toward that goal,
There's desire to do his best,
In the recess of each soul.

In the three years that must intervene,
We'll make each moment count,
We'll be loyal college students,
And make honesty our mound.

We're as green as any freshmen,
But we'll study to deserve
The love and admiration
Of the ones whom we may serve.

We'll not study to be teachers
Of the school books alone,
But trainers of the makers
Of the Nation, State and home.

We want to render service
To the children of our land,
In the city, town and village
Or the little mountain band.

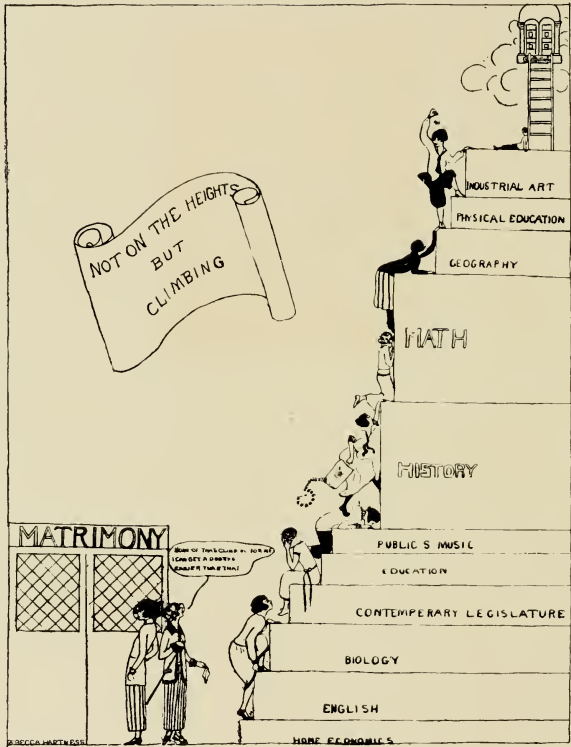

We have chosen Teachers College
Because each one of us feels,
That its course is the one
Which with out personal problem deals.

We are thirty-five in number,
Not so many, as you see,
And who knows that even one,
To fame may hold the key?

But by concentrated effort,
The entire thirty-five
May accomplish untold good,
And keep the name alive.

It's the dearest, best old college,
Anywhere this side of heaven,
So you see why we look forward
To Nineteen Twenty-Seven.

Class Poem

HAR down the path comes memories twining—
Memories fond and dear,
Memories that are yet inclining,
To hold loving hearts for their classmates, also sincere,
Forgetting our Junior Normal Class is something impossible to do,
And we will ever prove loyal to the colors white and blue,
We love each one in our class with hearts that are sincere,
And as for our class not making good, we have no fear,
Our spirit and cooperation is just as tho' we were all one,
And we always try to see that the good and noble things are done,
We try not to seek honors; we try not to seek fame,
But we do fight hard to win life's game,
Although our road, sometimes, seems miserably rugged 'tis true,
We must never give up, but keep faith and fight it through;
Because, to every dark side, there is something bright on the other one,
Therefore we must keep on until we accomplish whatever is begun,
"Not on the heights, but climbing" is our motto;
This we will ever try to prove true,
Making it stronger wherever we go,
It makes no difference what we may do,
The songs we sang may wither;
All heaven and earth may fall,
But the Junior Normal Class will ever prove loyal
To the college, classmates, faculty, and all,
The Junior Normal Class will ever climb upward and afar,
And someday hitch their wagon to a star,
Also very humble we shall ever be,
And try to prove worthy O college of Thee!

D. W. C. A. on the Campus

"Y. W. C. A. means so much to me!" exclaimed the Girl to our Y. W. C. A. President. "In what ways does it mean so much to you?" asked our President.

"Well," laughed the Girl, "I am so enthusiastic about it that I hardly know which feature to mention first. To begin with, the Y. W. C. A. is the only religious organization in College. Its representatives were the first to greet the new girls and to welcome them to E. C. T. C. Then the Y. W. gave the get-acquainted party on the campus the first Saturday night the girls were here, and that helped to dispel the homesick feeling."

"So those were your first impressions of Y. W.," said our President. "Now how about the religious services we have regularly?"

"The Friday night services are enjoyable because the programs are varied. The program, following the business meeting one Saturday night in each month, is amusing and is a change from the regular routine. Since we do not have an opportunity to attend church services on Sunday nights, the religious programs take the place of sermons. The Morning Watch Services, held every morning except Sunday, from 7:15 to 7:30 are an inspiration, and start the day right."

"Do you enjoy the Bible and Mission classes?" asked our President.

"Yes, indeed," the Girl responded, "and I wish they came oftener than once a week. These classes are well worth while, because the various members of the Faculty, who conduct them, have the discussion organized in an interesting and helpful way. In these services, as in all other phases of the Y. W., we have an opportunity to mingle with the girls, and to add to the good fellowship that already exists."

"I have mentioned how the Y. W. attends to our spiritual and social needs. It also attends to our physical needs, because when we are hungry, we go to the Y. W. store, which is in a convenient place in the Administration Building."

"Yes," said our President, "and soon we hope to improve our store and add a tea room. Also in the Campus Building, which is under construction, the Y. W. will have a home-like modern rest room, well equipped with such things as a piano and a victrola."

"That will be wonderful," agreed the Girl. "I wanted, too, to mention the reports that we get from big conferences. We hear much about the inspiration and help our present Y. W. cabinet obtained from Blue Ridge, and then your talk about the Indianapolis convention, to which the Student Body sent you, was a thrilling message in itself."

"Another big conference will be held in New York soon," added our President, "and we will send one or more delegates to that. Then, besides the religious work of the Y. W. C. A., we want to bring some worth while social activities into the college. Of course we have our regular spring festival, but we want more than that. One of our secret plans (don't tell anyone) is to give a reception."

The Girl clapped her hands. "Now," she asked, "do you wonder after realizing the wide scope of the Y. W. activities, that I say it causes the noble spirit, the wholesome atmosphere, and the feeling of good will that exist in Teachers College?"

ATHLETICS! This word brings to mind a picture of gymnasiums, ball diamonds, tennis courts, golf links, skating rinks, swimming pools, and innumerable boys and girls with cheeks flushed, eyes sparkling and merry voices shouting in the excitement of the game.

The first game of importance at E. C. T. C., is the Thanksgiving basketball game between the two Normal Classes. This exciting event is the only athletic feature during the fall term. Despite the damp, wet court on this day both teams put up a creditable fight, the Junior Normal Class winning by a score of 24—8.

During the winter term all the "gym" classes go out for track training for the big event "Field Day" which comes in the early spring. The basketball, baseball and tennis tournaments, however, begin before this day, the final game being played on "Field Day."

This day is full of quite a number of lively athletic features with the classes participating and with all the girls bubbling over with enthusiasm. The game on this day decided the winners of the two silver loving cups; the class winning in basketball receiving the basketball cup and the class winning the most points in tennis, baseball, and track the general athletic cup. This season furnished quite a bit of entertainment for the college students and the faculty with these animated contests and the friendly spirit of rivalry displayed by the contestants.

For the coming year we are expecting still more athletic sports as our new gymnasium will be completed and quite a number of new phases in athletics will be introduced. This will provide more recreation for the girls and will afford more opportunity for them to spend their free moments profitably.

Our gymnasium teacher has offered a loving cup to the individual making the most points in athletics this year. Each one is working to see if she will be the lucky one, and each is hoping that she will.

The Junior Normal Team of nineteen twenty-four,
With Barnes and Hart to roll up the score,
With Mercer and White working so faithful and true
To guard their best for the white and blue,
The skillful center, Felton, so tall
Made it impossible for the Seniors to get the ball.
With these as a line up you may well understand,
The excitement created when the Thanksgiving game began.
First to one and then to the other,
Rolling and tumbling they clashed together,
Thus raged the battle until it was done.
When the score keeper announced,
"The Juniors have won!"
But one thing the Juniors will all have to say,
The Seniors were good sports throughout the day.

 Dees just wants to walk and walk
 While Moore just "loves" to talk and talk.
 Barnes is always on the run,
 White is there with all the fun,
 Rogers wants music given to her space,
 Of course, Reel always holds the ace,
 Holt is always there with a smile,

Social Recreation

THE social activities of E. C. T. C. constitute a phase of life which fills every student's heart with a bright warm glow which will be remembered long after we have left our dear old Alma Mater.

An evening of peppy enthusiastic games on the campus, followed by refreshments was given by the Y. W. C. A., and the Student Government Association on the first Saturday evening of school. Each girl wore her name so that she might be learned. An air of intimacy and good fellowship always pervades these little functions which make it a most enjoyable occasion for all parties concerned.

The next thought of a social gathering was the reception given by the various churches on the third Monday evening of school. In addition to the pleasure of meeting the people of the town which these receptions afford, they may be instrumental in helping some poor girl "catch a new beau". Lucky is she who among the twenty-five who gathered around him was chosen "the one".

Time passed onward. The howl of October wind told us there were witches in the air, thus our thoughts were turned to a Hallowe'en party. This was truly a night of fun when we learned that the faculty was equally as skilled in bobbing for apples as a ten-year-old boy.

What thrills a Freshie more than to learn that the sixth week of school brings the night of society initiation and she must wear her hair in tiny plaits the previous day? This much dreaded occasion seemed to afford an unusual social recreation, for we heard those who rode the goat, or the cat, or even those who used the laundry list as a solo, declaring they never had a better time.

Students formed themselves into various clubs. The picnics, weinie roasts and other socials given by these clubs did much to break the monotony of dormitory life. Similar socials were given by the various Sunday schools from time to time during the year.

This year the literary societies and the Freshman and First Year Normal classes gave a play free of charge to the student body.

The Junior-Senior and D classes each gave to the students and community a play which afforded the highest type of social recreation.

The D Class this year gave a reception to their gentlemen friends and the faculty. What could cause more excitement at E. C. T. C., than the presence of one hundred boys at a reception.

The Senior Reception given by the College was another feature of particular interest.

The President's Reception to the Seniors and Senior Normals gave its usual contribution to the social functions of the year.

The College owns a moving picture machine. The students were shown, free of charge, one picture each week.

Our list would not be complete without mentioning our May Day Festival. This came near the end of the year and left many pleasant memories for the students to carry through the holidays.

So it is that the grinding monotony of dormitory life has been broken from time to time, and the students furnished with the wholesome recreation so necessary to the proper performance of the more serious duties of college life.

Rays of Sunshine From Here and There

DEFINITION OF TEACHERS: A mob of mobilized maidens meditating matrimony and teaching while they wait.

ELIZABETH STANLEY: "Why, Inez, I thought you liked soup."
INEZ KENNEDY (gazing at a bowl of soup which contained macaroni): "I do like soup the way we make it. But, we don't put windpipes in our soup."

NANCY BRANTLEY (after being unable to find the Jordan River, which was in the list of rivers Mr. Austin had assigned to the class to look up): "Ruth, where is the Jordan River?"

RUTH BARBEE: "In the Bible."

MISS JENKINS: "I hope all you girls can go to Washington, D. C."
INEZ GERALD: "I have never been but I am certainly going on my trousseau."

"LIZ" ARCHIE (combing her hair): "Look, my hair has so much electricity in it."
PHOEBE TREXLER: "Why, of course, it is connected to a dry cell."

FELSIE TUCKER (teaching English at model school): "Give me a compound sentence using the two words 'detest' and 'deduce'."

LOUISE: "I flunked in 'detest' and dad gave me 'deduce'."

Group of girls talking about commencement:
LEONE PERRY: "What is a diploma anyway?"
"BERT" WESTBROOK: "A diploma? Oh, yes, it's a written guarantee that the bearer knows how to starve to death in a polite and genteel manner."

Marjorie and James Butler in Y. W. store.

JAMES: "Well, I guess I had better be going. I gotta go up town."
MARJORIE SNOWDEN: "Oh, James, please bring me an ice cream cone."
James returns, hands Marjorie a paper bag.
Marjorie peeps into the bag and there finds an empty ice cream cone.

This was after the lover's quarrel:

"I can never forgive you," he cried. "Last night you said I was a lobster."
"But, my dear," she replied coyly, "you must remember how crazy I am about lobster."
With a glad cry he folded her to his heart.

HE: "Can I call you by your first name?"
SHE: Yes, if I can call myself by your last name!"

TOO CHEAP

KIND FRIEND: "I'll give you a penny for a kiss, Elizabeth."
BRIGHT KID: "No, thank you! I can earn more takin' cod-liver oil."

SHE: "It's only six o'clock and I told you to come after supper."
HE: "That's what I came after."

The Teccoan

On the morning of January 17, 1924 (first class in the day) Mattie Mae Lyon was seen coming from the "gym" dressed in her "gym" suit.

CLASSMATES (calling from Miss Maupin's room): "Where have you been, Mattie Mae?"

MATTIE MAE LYON: "Nowhere."

CLASSMATES: "Well, what happened then?"

MATTIE MAE: (Thinking she had to meet "Jim" the first period instead of the last), said, "Oh, I just read my schedule upside down."

SHE: "That man fell out of a twenty-story building and wasn't badly bruised."

HE: "How come?"

SHE: "He fell out of the first story."

ONE OF MACK SENNET'S BATHING BEAUTIES

LITTLE WILLIE (pointing to a picture of a zebra): "What's that?"

LITTLE JOHNNIE: "It looks like a horse in a bathing suit."

BLACK: "Niggah, how much you gittin' fo' workin' heah?"

TAN: "Ten dollahs per."

BLACK: "What! Ten dollars per day?"

TAN: "Naw, perhaps."

MOTHER: "Didn't I see you sitting on that young man's lap last night?"

DAUGHTER: "Well, you told me that if he tried to get sentimental, I must sit on him."

"Even a policeman cannot arrest the flight of time."

"Sure he can. Why only this morning I saw a policeman run into a drug store and stop a few minutes."

"Mr. Deal, what does 'nihil' mean?"

"Nothing."

"Then what did they put it in this Latin book for?"

"What is adulterated food?"

"An adulterated food is a food suitable for an adult."

"Is your English teacher particular?"

"I should say so! She raves if she sees a period upside down."

METERS

There are meters of accent;
There are meters of tone;
But the best way to meter
Is to meter alone.

There are letters of accent;
There are letters of tone;
But the best way to letter
Is to letter alone.

MISS WILSON (on C4 Class): "It's positively silly the queer sort of ways girls spell the name May. Some spell it Mae, Maie, Maye and the like. If I ever change my name to May I'm going to spell it "Ma."

MATH TEACHER: "Where is my poly-gon?"

BRIGHT PUPIL: "Up the geome-tree."

On sociology class Mr. Henderson asked for a list of ruminant animals.

One girl answered: "Cows, not horses; deer, not antelopes; sheep, not goats."

After the definition of a "ruminant animal" was given, Rose Hooks said: "In this case, the goats are the sheep."

The Teccoan

Ruth asked, "Mr. Slay, is it true that the negroes mix the ginger cookies with their feet?"

"No, it isn't. If they did, the people would suffer from ptomaine poisoning."

MARY LOU: "How I hate to go home. All my friends are getting married."

IRENE: "Didn't you hear what Mr. Wright said?"

MARY LOU: "No, what did he say?"

IRENE: "He said all those who were exposed to contagious diseases during the holidays should not come back immediately after vacation."

Two girls were sitting in their room studying when Miss Moore went around to inspect the rooms.

"You girls are not studying," said Miss Moore.

One of the girls said, "Miss Moore, wont you please tell me how to vote, so when I'm old enough I'll know how to do it?"

"Well, Ruth, I didn't know you were in your second childhood."

When pickles grow on lollipop trees,
When Rachel Lee stops screeching;
When bumble bees put powder on their knees,
Then, I'll make a "1" on teaching.

Alice was telling the girls about climbing the Blue Ridge Mountains.

"Well, Alice, how high did you climb?"

"I climbed 600 feet below sea level."

TEACHER (assigning history lesson): "Tomorrow we will take the life of King George. Please come prepared."

ELLA OUTLAND (at class meeting): "Girls, in case you haven't seen anything on the bulletin board, I just want to tell you to give all your jokes to Pricilla Austin. Phew! I am all out of breath—I have just been to see Mr. Leggett. I'll tell you all about it."

MISS WILSON: "Mr. Butler, what is osmosis?"

The whole freshman class tried to give the definition in a chorus.

MISS WILSON: "Look here, folks. Is the whole class named Butler? No matter how hard you try there can't but one of you girls be named Butler."

TEACHER: "How was iron ore discovered?"

PUPIL: "I heard daddy say they smelt it."

SUN: "And did ye miss that rabbit?"

SHINE: "I t'ink so. I didn't shoot."

GOLDEN SILENCE

WIFE: "I think you might talk to me while I sew."

HUSBAND: "Why don't you sew to me while I read?"

COST OF TRANSPORTATION

MR. SMIFF: "Say, pahson, if de gospel am free den huccyn yo' is allus yellin' fo' money, so?"

PARSON JONES: "De gospel am free, deacon, an' so am wattab, but yo' gotta pay fo' de bucket yo' totes it in."

W. JAY SMITH (after Senior Reception): "I had an awful good time tonight, Miss Morris."

TIZZY MORRIS: "So did I—perfectly awful!"

FIRST FLEA: "Been on a hike?"

SECOND FLEA: "No, on a tramp."

The Teccoan

SONNY: "Mama, do cats go to heaven?"
MOTHER: "Of course not."
SONNY: "Then, where do the angels get their harp strings?"

MR. HENDERSON: "Miss Robertson, what was Salem witchcraft?"
MINNIE: "Uh, uh, it said it was like our modern telegraphy (telepathy)."

MISS WILSON: "Miss Jackson, where do people usually keep a cow?"
LILLIE GREY: "In the yard with the other poultry."

HETTIE: "Mr. Rose and Rosalind Muir sang a duet at the Methodist church this morning."

LOLLIAN: "Was it pretty?"
HETTIE: "It was 'In the Garden'."

MINNIE (on history class): "Mr. Henderson, where did the world come from?"
MR. HENDERSON: "I don't know, do you?"

GETTING PRACTICE

JACK: "Why did they kick that medical student out of the library?"
TOM: "They caught him trying to remove the appendix from the book he was reading."

HOW FORTUNATE

MR. LEGGETTE: "We will spend this hour on Imagination."
STUDENT: "Grand!"

We think she needs a hotel—Louise has 25 children in the first grade. She is living in a cozy steam-heated apartment

CONCEITED?

EDNA (after opening several room doors): "Well, where is everybody?"
LILLIAN (from a distant corner): "Here I am."

SOME INSECT!

PROFESSOR (in zoology lab.): "What insect lives on the least food?"
BRIGHT PUPIL: "The moth. It eats holes."

VIRGINIA: "True, you talk in your sleep."
TRUE: "Ha! I don't doubt it for that's the only time I get to talk."

GWEN: "Liz, do you see any change in me?"
LIZ: "No, why?"
GWEN: "I just swallowed a dime."

MR. GRUMPY: "I wonder why women were made so foolish."
MISS MAUPIN: "Why, to match the men, of course."

TEACHER: "Johnnie, give a sentence using 'such'."
SECOND GRADE JOHNNIE: "I 'sucked' and 'sucked' everywhere for my coat."

BLANCHIE: "It's wasting time sitting here watching others take gym."
GRACE: "You wouldn't do anything anyhow but waste time."
BLANCHIE: "I would. I could rest."

SURE SIGN

"Well, Art, I can tell you are a married man all right. No holes in your stockings any more."
"No. One of the first things my wife taught me was how to darn 'em."

The Tecoan

SIXTH GRADE PUPIL: "Good evening, Miss Leary."

GRACE ATWATER: Miss Leary indeed, ha! ha!

CLARA: "The sun is setting in the west. Isn't it pretty?"

LILLIAN LEARY: "It used to make me feel funny, but it doesn't now." (Answering Grace's ejaculation.)

TEACHER: "Does any one else have a sentence using 'dispatch'?"

MARY (frantically waving her hand): "Yessum. He dispatched his pants."

BRIDE: "I had a horrid dream, I dreamt that you were about to desert me."

GROOM: "Holy smoke! I've married a mind reader."

HE: "May I hold your hand?"

SHE: "Of course not. This isn't Palm Sunday."

HE: "Well, it isn't Independence Day, either."

"Little girl, when you squeeze your dolly does it say 'mama'?"

"No, sir. It cries, 'Oh boy!'"

SUITOR: "Mr. Perkins, I have courted your daughter for fifteen years."

PERKINS: "Well, what do you want?"

SUITOR: "To marry her."

PERKINS: "Well, I'll be hanged. I thought you wanted a pension or something."

INFORMATION WANTED

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee

Or a key for the lock of his hair?

Can his eyes be called an academy

Because there are pupils there?

In the crown of his head, what gems are found?

Who travels the bridge of his nose?

Can he use when building the roof of his mouth

The nails on the end of his toes?

Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?

If so what did he do?

How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?

I'll be hanged if I know, do you?

Can he sit in the shade of the palm of his hand?

Or beat the drum of his ear?

Does the calf of his leg eat the corn on his toes?

If so, why not grow corn on his ear?

When I am dead and in my grave

No more hash will I crave

But on my tombstone I want "wrote"

"Many a cow's gone down my throat."

On English class Mr. Meadows asked if any of the girls had taught school. One of the girls began to relate her experiences.

MR. MEADOWS: "Where did you teach, Miss Johnston?"

VIRGINIA JOHNSTON: "Beaverdam."

MR. MEADOWS: "There's always some—dam township in every county."

Our Pure Ice Cream and Home Made Candy are more than a dessert. Their food value exceeds that of most table foods. A dish of our Ice Cream has the same food value as a pound of steak or four pounds of potatoes. We leave it to any member of the household to say which is the most appetizing. Lautares' Ice Cream has passed by the State Food Inspection at Raleigh, and has proved to be a pure cream—and a rich cream. Our Ice Cream Plant has been installed by the Southern Construction and Supply Company, Atlanta, Georgia, and is the best and most up-to-date in the State.
