OLD MARKET HOUSE, FAYETTEVILLE

THERE are few buildings left in America like the Old Market House in Fayetteville. Built in 1838 and used before the Civil War as a slave market and for public sales of other property, it is noted for its symmetry and beauty of architecture.

OLD CHURCH AT BATH

THE oldest church in the state built in 1734 is St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Bath. In it are gifts presented to it by Queen Anne and King George II of England. Under the tile floor are graves of early settlers. The doors are handmade and pegged.

W

ITH this volume, the Tecoan Staff gives you another link of the chain of year-books of E. C. T. C. We have attempted to give a picture of the life of our campus; so that in years to come this book may serve as a reminder of your years of preparation for a profession.

The theme of this annual is Historic Eastern North Carolina. This idea has been carried out by the presentation of historic scenes of North Carolina.

DIARY

SEPTEMBER 24: Dear Ole E. C. T. C., I'm making pledge to you tonight: On every special day of this precious year of 1935-36, I shall record what you meant to me that day. Then when I grow old and gray—shall I ever do that?—I'll take out my diary and we'll talk again about our best memories.

But I shall not need this diary to recall today.—Does every opening day bring so much excitement? Girls, girls, girls, from ten states they've been horning in today. Boys too, trying to see which one's auto horn could greet us loudest. And what halls! Bags and trunks piled everywhere so that tonight we're all nursing bruised shins. My cars nearly burst too from shouts "Hi Mary!"

Poor Freshies! What green eggs they were! Yet by lunch they were all signed in, had been trotted to their rooms by blue-badged "Y's" and had begun learning "what college life was all about." Tonight they've shown themselves mere kids. While we old girls were holding forth about the summer doings, wails down the hall interrupted our discussion and announced the annual epidemic of nostalgia. Most of us retired early to console the weeping Freshmen. Mildred McDonald became for the moment Niagara Falls. Joyce Harrell suggested that since the pipe water is muddy we cork up the lavatory and catch the tears for a shampoo.

SEPTEMBER 25: The Freshmen registered today. What a tumult! Funny that most of them would not agree that it wasn't so complicated after they had gone through with all the red tape. This afternoon the faculty entertained the Freshmen, with a barbecue supper on back campus. All of them seemed to enjoy the good cats, but they will know more how to appreciate a treat of this kind after two weeks of hash, and other unanalyzable concoctions.

SEPTEMBER 26: Upper classmen registered today. The uproar was almost as bad as when Xylde Cooper found the rat under her pillow. Carolyn Brinkley, "Lib" Wilson, "Judy" Cole, Ethel Vick, and Jean Thomas announced to all of us they had signed up for practice teaching. I s'pose we'll hear more about that, though. Rachel Stone told them she didn't care for practice teaching, but had signed up for everything except ichthyology.

OCTOBER 4: A husky fellow, full of pep, is what we need, and that is what we got. Tonight at a mass meeting, we elected Joe Hatem as our cheer leader. Joe is a new student, but we believe he can boost the Pirates through a winning season.

OCTOBER 8: Junior and Senior Primary Majors went to a weiner roast today. Everybody enjoyed eating weiners. Ruth Kiker ate fifteen and then wondered if one more would disturb her digestion.

OCTOBER 12: Practice teaching began today. Joe Hall was so excited assigning her first lesson that her pupils thought she had a case of palsy. Ida Kay Hair suggested that her class read "To A Sonny Lancaster." One meek little boy raised his hand and quietly said: "Miss Hair, there's no such poem." "Oh!" quavered Ida Kay, "I mean 'To A Water Fowl'."

OCTOBER 15: The Teachers in Ragsdale Hall invited their neighbors, the Co-eds, up from the cellar tonight, and gave them a house warming. Miss Wilson, Miss Mack, Miss Cassidy, Miss McKey, Miss Davis—

oh, all our teachers—entered whole-heartedly into the various games. The boys said they enjoyed playing "London Bridge." But they also said the ice cream and cake wasn't so bad. Looks as if our teachers haven't grown up, or they may just like to play "childish games."

OCTOBER 21: Tonight we had our first opportunity of the year to get together and break bread at the same table with the faculty. We quickly learned "Teachers Are People." And the evening clothes! how proud they made us—we all had good looks tonight. Everything went off with a bang. I felt like a real lady playing hostess to our table. After the dinner, everyone went to the Campus Building to see the far-famed dancing of La Argentina! The marshals looked wonderful in their new regalia. Jewel Cole was especially resplendant as chief marshal. When La Argentina was first mentioned on the campus, I believe we would have been more excited over the coming of Sally Rand. But now since we have seen her wonderful performance, we are grateful to the college for having the classic lady. She brought Spain from across the waters to us.

NOVEMBER 13: A "One Woman" show here on our campus! Miss Cornelia Otis Skinner impersonated the Wives of Henry VIII tonight. Miss Skinner appeared without scenery—only heavy velvet drapes and for her first part a modern table and a chair or two with costumes and furniture of the period. She is within herself a complete theatre, a whole tragic, comie, if not heroic, theatre, incidentally that offered us more entertainment than is found in the playhouses on Broadway.

DECEMBER 11: Senior play: "Easy Pick-in's" tonight. Seniors gone dramatic. "Lib" Faison a star grunter. "Dot" Hooks and Jack Humphrey good imitators of a loving couple. —When can we all be stars?

DECEMBER 17: S'pose everybody is home by now. I can't help thinking what a scurry we had getting away. At lunch we swallowed ham sandwiches and ate pickles whole, and fell exhausted into some kind of vehicle to bring us home. At last everyone dashed through the Saturday Evening Post. No more college for two weeks!

JANUARY 2: Through the Saturday Evening Post again. No more Santa Claus! No more turkey and fruit cake! We silently filed into our dormitories. Then everybody saw everybody else. My! All these Christmas spoils: watches, compacts, pictures, and rings galore!

JANUARY 4: I was surprised this morning to see a man sitting behind the desk in the Library. But I soon found out that he was Mr. Gullidge, the new librarian. Then I was assured that he was our librarian when he finished his talk in Chapel. We sat like statues while he told us about observing the library rules. I'll bet everybody will be quiet in the Library now. Won't that be nice! All of us can concentrate on our work or lose ourselves in a good book.

JANUARY 6: Last night we discussed what Santa Claus had brought us, but we didn't know until this morning that Santa had left a commercial department here on our campus. Twenty-six shining new typewriters greeted us when we reached the third floor in Austin. Miss Adams and Mr. Browning, our commercial instructors, seemed pleased with the clickings from each typewriter.

JANUARY 12: Not many of us knew Mr. Spilman very well, though we had often watched him steadily at work. Now we know him through Dr. Meadows' fine tribute to him, and always we shall remember him as a noble man who kept his Book Balanced—his business books balanced and his life books balanced.

JANUARY 10: Spring cleaning in January! Yes, it happened at E. C. T. C. Even dainty sylphlike marshals turned into scrub women! We like the results—rooms fit for guests to see. Believe we'll keep them clean.

JANUARY 15: Use the vivid imagination of a thousand girls and you will feel the anticipation with which we looked forward to the coming of Amelia Earhart. After hearing her, we made more pleasant comments about her than about any speaker we have had on our campus this year. Miss Earhart described her trip so vividly that we forgot ourselves and flew with her from Honolulu to California. We tasted a cup of cocoa she drank eight thousand feet above the Pacific, and reached out the window to grasp a handful of the bright stars that shower around her. Everything she said was just this fascinating and just this charming—her slimness, her grace, her inner light, her idealness as a woman who dared to be herself.

JANUARY 31: Y. W. C. A. annual services were led this year by a woman, Mrs. Smith, from Duke University. We may forget some of her ideas about world peace, but how can we ever forget this simple challenge that she quoted—

“What sort of class
Would this class be
If every member in it
Were just like me?”

FEBRUARY 1: Sometimes we act like kids. But not today. "Lest we forget," let me record the memory now. Assembly hour. Students holding a simple memorial program to Rudyard Kipling. The thousand of us reverently reading together, as our morning devotional, his "Recessional" and sitting in hushed stillness while ten of our girls sang this prayer-song to De Koven's great music. And reverently listening through the rest of the program. No applause—just quiet. "Lest we forget."

FEBRUARY 7: Winter weather! Down to zero! Snow, rain, sleet, snow, slush, mud, snow, sleet! And flu! More beds into the infirmary! More nurses, more doctors! Teachers out—fewer classes. Vicks and Musterole and cough syrup and hot soup—and flu! flu! flu! And kindness. Why do we have to get sick for us to know how good our neighbors are?

FEBRUARY 14: Here we are near closing of another school year. The Annual completed, Mary, Rachel, and other members of the staff are celebrating. Though there is much rejoicing now, we still have more glorious occasions to look forward to, such as, the Siberian Singers, Mid-Winter dances, the Varsity Club's Annual Minstrel, Junior-Senior, the Student Federation Convention which meets on our campus this year. My! There is fun to be had and there is also a feeling of sadness when we realize that all too soon Ellen, Mary, and the other Seniors will be bidding us adieu. However, this has been a great year at E. C. T. C., and we will sign off until next fall.

SENIORS

FOUR years ago the campus of E. C. T. C. was brightened by the addition of about a hundred and fifty sunbeams. Although at first we were only a typical freshman class, it was not long before we were not only seen but heard. Almost at once we chose as our first class president, Ethel Vick; today our class is proud to have her as president of our senior class. Parties, entertainments, banquets, and last but not least, the senior play—these were among the pleasures recorded in our class diary. Pleasures and sorrows, work and play, shared we alike. Now that the time has come for us to leave, a feeling of responsibility and gratitude descends upon us. We realize that we should no longer be tiny sunbeams that we were four years ago, but rays of light willing to go out and direct others into the passageway through which we have passed. And so it is with joy and expectation that we say adieu.

JUNIORS

ONCE upon a time in the month of September in the year nineteen hundred thirty-three, some two hundred persons descended upon that hospitable institution—East Carolina Teacher's College—by various means, for the purpose of being manufactured into teachers. Even on that early day they were impressed by the infinitely superior wisdom and knowledge of the upper classmen. They were bewildered and sometimes, perhaps, embarrassed by this new scheme of things. After safely passing through registration, with all its mysteries, and initiation, that reign of terror, they were ready to organize as a class. The first officers of the class of thirty-seven were: Doris Nichols, President; Ellen Rackley, Vice-President; Mary Alice Starr, Secretary; and Henrietta Tucker, Treasurer. The year finally passed, and after vacation they returned with all the assurance of Sophomores. The new class was under the leadership of Geneva Brown, President; Belle Kearney, Vice-President; Frances Edgerton, Secretary; and Martha Hines, Treasurer, and the year passed with the usual scheduled entertainments. In the spring quarter the officers for the following year were elected, and then came vacation again. They came back Juniors, with capable leadership and joyous expectations of that high-light of school life—the Junior-Senior.

JUNIOR CLASS

DURING the Christmas holidays I had a letter from Doris Nichols, who, you remember, was president of our class in 1933. She wished to know something of what the class was doing; so with the suggestions of my shadow, Genevieve Geneva, I shall endeavor to call forth a few items that may be of interest to her. Where will we begin?

I suppose that she will be excited by a list of our class officers—and of all the prominent boys and girls, which is an exciting list, truly! Genevieve thinks it is really masterful the way Margaret Norman, our president, conducts a class meeting, and I agree with her, Margaret surely has executive ability. She is also outstanding as Treasurer of the Young Women's Christian Association. The other officers of our class are: Oleta Chamblee, Vice-President; Helen Wilson, Secretary; (Genevieve continually evinces the way Helen tosses a basketball around the court, and no wonder) and Belle Kearney, Treasurer. Belle is one of the finest girls in our class, and she really knows how to handle our money. She also has charge of the budget office, which is a responsible position.

Our class is well represented on the Council. Effie Lee Watson is Vice-President of the Student Government Association. Frances Edgerton is class representative. Frances has also taken a great part in the Baptist Student Union. She has done much work in establishing this organization on our campus. Elizabeth Dixon Johnson is House President in Cotton Hall, and Ruth Kiker is House President in Jarvis. Ruth attends many church conferences, and was elected President of the North Carolina Methodist Student Conference held at the Woman's College in Greensboro this year. She also is interested in Four-H Club work. Elizabeth Dixon also finds time for other things; she is outstanding as President of the Poe Society.

Ruth Cagle, Beatrice Hammond, and Marion Wood are working on the TECOAN Staff. The Juniors are also represented on the other publication on the campus. Josephine Ranes is Business Manager of The Teco Echo. Jennie Green Taylor has generously contributed to that publication also. Louise James is President of the Lanier Society. Mary E. Parker is treasurer of this same society. Nola Walters is Secretary of the Poe Society. Beatrice Hammond is Vice-President of the Emerson Society. Our class certainly helped to furnish the society officers. The society marshals from our class are: Ruth Cagle and Ruth Kiker are marshals in the Emerson Society; Nola Walters, Poe; Effie Lee Watson and Louise James, Lanier.

Nora Bogart Stevenson is President of the Home Economics Club, which is known as the Delta Omicron Sigma. Callie Charlton is vice-president of this club. Callie is also interested in basketball. The Delta Omicron Sigma is not devoid of good workers and many committees of the Junior Class come from this group.

Chessie Edmondson is back with us again this year. For a while we thought she would not return. Jeanette Edwards, Jackie Strickland, and Bill Broadwell do their best to see that we are well represented in the fun-loving group of the campus.

Viola Smith is among those working in the library this year. She will soon be an accomplished librarian. Henrietta Tucker is among that select group known as Science Majors. In fact she is Secretary of the Science Club, and is in charge of the publicity.

He is Vice-President of the Science Club, Junior Class representative on the Men's Student Council, and Manager of the Varsity Basketball Team. Francis Sinclair is one of the outstanding tennis players on the campus, and the principal "rooter" at the basketball games. William Sledge is a transfer from Campbell College. Henry Hatsell is also a transfer. He spent his last year in Wake Forest. Alvah Page is our star crooner. Red Flanagan is now working in the Greenville Post Office. to be a star in all sports. Our class co-eds are always well represented in the annual minstrel, which is sponsored by the Varsity Club. This just goes to prove that our class is not devoid of talent along the musical line, not to mention our ability to "crack" jokes.

I know that Doris would have liked to have been here for the Junior Class Carnival. On the night of February 4, the basement of the Campus building was turned into a regular fair-grounds. This was a time when many loyal class members showed that they were not afraid of work. So many took part that it is difficult to single out any person. Margaret Norman, Belle Kearney, Onie Cochran, Geneva Brown, and Marion Wood, seemed to have been hard at work. Ruth Cagle and Ruth Styron were kept busy making hot dogs. Lucile Clark, Viola Smith, Ruth Wood, and Ruby Lee Peacock really made lovely Japanese hostesses in a tea room.

This was a time when the Junior Class had others come to their aid. Many of the co-eds from the other classes helped with the Carnival, as though they were Juniors. Of course this was much appreciated by the class. The money made from the Carnival was put on the Junior-Senior budget. Speaking of that, the Junior-Senior was another time when the Juniors carried off colors as entertainers.

The Junior Class has had a fine year, but such was to be expected from a class containing so many cooperative students, and having such excellent advisers as Miss Hunter and Mr. Cummings.

SOPHOMORES

MEMORY carries us back two years when a definite part of our lives began—entrance to college. After many entertainments, ordeal of registration, and initiation week, we settled down to our courses.

Officers were: President, Xylde Cooper; Vice-President, Annie Mae Ward; Secretary, Bertha Lang; Treasurer, Mary Lawrence Davenport; Council Representative, Elizabeth Copeland. For advisers we chose Miss Holtzclaw and Dr. Slav.

Fall quarter the Juniors entertained with the Junior-Freshman party, and we returned the honor winter quarter.

In 1935 we returned haughty Sophomores. Class officers included: President, Margaret Banck; Vice-President, Mildred Edwards; Secretary, Mary Lyon Shotwell; Treasurer, Bertha Lang; Council Representative, Elizabeth Copeland.

Fall quarter we entertained the Seniors, and winter quarter they honored us.

From our group have come officers of various campus organizations, football heroes, basketball players, and tennis champions.

Yesterdays are easily forgotten, but never ours at East Carolina Teachers College.

IT was the fall of 1935. Sophomores were arriving at E. C. T. C. for another year full of activities. The woods gay and rustling made us think of gypsies, and thus we were reminded of the visit that Margaret Banck paid a well-known gypsy fortune-teller, Madame De Shazo, who had her tent just outside the city limits of Greenville. Margaret Banck, president of the class of 1938, visited this famous fortune-teller seeking a way to steer her class most successfully while she was in office. As she gazed into her crystal, Madame De Shazo fascinated Margaret with the predictions of the activities of her classmates during their sophomore year. Looking into her crystal the exotic seer paused in deep thought and slowly began this prophecy.

As president of your class, you will prove to be a successful leader. Near you I see Mildred Edwards, the Vice-President of the Sophomore Class, assisting you in your official duties.

By the side of Elizabeth, I observe another officer, Mary Lyon Shotwell, Secretary of the class.

A tall brunette appears. Yes, her name is Bertha Lang, a girl who will be very dependable in the office as Treasurer.

Who is this very excitable bundle of energy that I see always with a camera in her hand? Ah! It is Maggie Crumpler, the photographer for the TECOAN.

The class will be very fortunate in having a number of transfers to join them this year. They are Mary Loss McDonald, who will transfer from Pineland College; Sadie Hocutt will come from Meredith College; Delilah Prevatte will transfer from Campbell College; Edna Earle Perry will change from Louisburg College. I wonder how Marjorie Bray will keep her work separated from Robert Dowd.

I glance Grace Freeman, who will be marshal from the Poe Society. After her how can I help seeing Lallah (Sammy) Adler and her humor?

FRESHMEN

ON September 24, 1935, two hundred wide-eyed, hopeful Freshmen gathered at East Carolina Teachers College for the Orientation Week. With the help of the school officials and the officers of the student body, the new students rapidly adjusted themselves to college life. Parties, teas, mass meetings, and registration, together with getting acquainted with one another, occupied the first few days.

The Freshmen's stay on the campus this year has been extremely happy. The upper classmen have displayed genuine college spirit in the clubs and organizations. The Junior-Freshman party is an event that every Freshman will remember. The Y. W. C. A. members, the Emersons, Laniers, and Poes have done all in their power to make the Freshmen's new home a congenial one.

Due to the brief time that the Freshmen have been together as a class, there has been very little history. However, the Freshmen are grateful for this opportunity to thank all those who have so graciously helped make worthwhile and memorable this first year of their college life.

SENIOR NORMAL

ACT I

THE most important character was Eleanor Taylor. Mildred Fuller, Billy Williams, and Carolyn Richardson also held important parts.

It would be impossible to give the events as they happened, but we can give a few of the most outstanding ones. After initiation came the party that the "D's" gave to us. Later in the year we returned the honor.

Some of the members became members of the Student Council, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, Marshals and the like.

ACT II

The most important character in this act was Doris Couch. Other important characters were Roberta Brantley, Cornelia Scott, and Julia Peterson.

The D-C party, the C-D party, the class plays and practice teaching were the most important events in this year.

The next part will take place in many parts of the United States. Our success will be determined then. But then, as now, our motto will be: "To strive, to seek, to find, but not to yield."

SENIOR NORMAL DAYS...

Oh, these college girls! Why don't they get to studying? It seems practically impossible to keep a "gang" of them from getting together in somebody's room in order to discuss everything and everybody. Josie Hall, Ida Kay Hair, the Hilburn twins, and practically all the other D's in Wilson Hall seemed to be crowded in Josie's room. Well, they did pick the largest room on the hall.

Since the group was made up of the members of the Senior Normal class, naturally the subject got around to the class itself. Those girls certainly seem to be satisfied with their own class. You would think that the D class was the only real class on the campus. The ears of their classmates must have been burning that day. No wonder the D class is such a marvelous class. Just hear the things that are being said.

Doris Couch, the President of the class, is doing her best to help her class. Of course the President can't have a successful organization without the help of others. Roberta Brantley, the Vice-President, is one who gave much to help her President have one of the best classes on the campus. In mentioning those who have given time, thought and energy to the class, the other officers could never be omitted. The Secretary, Cornelia Scott, and Julia Peterson, the Treasurer, come in for their share of the work. Handling money seems to be quite a job for anybody.

Hadilene Coley, who had been in the group of D's, suddenly realized that she had a class. Time, tide, and classes wait for no student. Hadilene snatched a notebook and pencil and ran. She went after that notebook as if it were a basketball. Well, why not? Josie seems to think that it is perfectly permissible for one of the Well, Hadilene has enough to cause a little conversation. She was a marshal for the Poe Society. In '35 she was Business Manager of the Athletic Association.

Elizabeth Morris, another of the Morris girls from Windsor, seems to have proved quite popular during her stay on the campus. She was Vice-President of the Poe Society. You should hear "Hez" tell about the history relationship of her family and the school. Something about each member of her family coming to school here, living in the same room, and doing practice teaching in the same grade. Quite a record.

Speaking of the name Morris—there is Christine Morris. She doesn't belong to the above family however. "Tiny" is on the Teco Echo staff this year.

Billie just came in to say that Bettie Lane wanted to see Elizabeth Morris a moment. What about Bettie? She was on the Junior "Y" Cabinet. In '35 she was cheerleader of the class.

Billie Williams was Treasurer of the class when they were C's. About this time a strong wind blew the door open. This sudden blast reminded the girls of Ruby Lucas. Ruby is certainly full of vim, vigor, and vitality. She is one of the college cheerleaders.

Ruth Wise is on the Senior "Y" Cabinet. Ida Kay Hair, even though she was among those present, was in for her turn. She is Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. She is also the Teco Echo representative of the D class.

Patsy is also on the Teco Echo staff, Sara Lee Yates is another of the Teco Echo girls. She is on the circulation staff. How could anyone ever think of Sara Lee without remembering Doris Quinn? The Laniers in the group by some means directed the conversation into the Lanier Society. They seemed well satisfied with their present treasurer, Annie Lee Hawkes. Annie Lee is also a member of the Y. W. C. A. and the Athletic Association.

"You know," Hattie Hilburn remarked, "we have quite a few members of our class who are transfers. There's Ruth Laughlin. They decided the conversation was getting too close home anyway; so they let it drift outside the room again, but not outside of Greenville.

Lewellyn Thornton, a Greenville girl, can usually be found in the library immediately after lunch. That seems to be Lewellyn's favorite time for studying in the library. Quite often with Lewellyn is seen Virginia Shindler. Now, they're getting far enough away. Virginia is from the middle west. Look out the window. There goes Martha Yelverton, Marie and Mary Elizabeth Hargett—three members of the Sidney Lanier Society. They must be going to the society meeting.

Someone seems to be calling Emma Barker Mallard. Oh, yes! It's Wilson Blalock. Oh well, if those two get together Julia Peterson can not be far away. They're probably on their way to the "Y" store to find Becky Watson.

Ellis Jones seems to be a homing pigeon. Every Saturday Ellis packs her bag and goes home. Ruth Fisher looks rather lonesome since Hazel Barbee is no longer here. Hazel was a member of the D class, but she had to leave on account of illness.

Here comes Sarah Carraway. Can't you hear her talking? That's all right, though, everybody likes to talk. Maybe Sarah does get in a little more than her share. As long as she stays as jolly and good-natured as she is now, no one will worry about Sarah.

Speaking of good-natured people, there's Mary Love. Mary always has a smile for all.

There's Virginia Ellis in Miss Jenkins's car. Miss Jenkins is probably sending her up town with some advertising material.

Sally Proctor, Billie Lassiter, and Julia Murphey are three hard-working primary majors. Just ask Miss Coates if you don't believe this.

Brr-ring—there goes the dinner bell. Here is another afternoon wasted. Girls, girls, will you never learn the value of time? Maybe it wasn't wasted after all, for they certainly convinced themselves that the D class was composed of fine girls.

THE importance of recording this class history for future reference is made clear to us because of the difficulty we have in recalling the past. We look backward on what has been accomplished and forward with hopes, plans, and aspirations for the future.

It seems but a short while since we were the typical inexperienced Freshmen whose task was finding our place and keeping out of the way of the upper classmen. We knew our time for leadership would come and the best preparation would be to listen and learn, in short, to follow.

After a week of initiation, that looked forward to, dreaded, and long remembered time, we were well represented in school organizations. From then on we moved a little nearer the front and were intrusted with more important tasks. As we look back we realize that this was preparation for years that are to come and that it will encourage us in the present and inspire us in the future.

SEASON'S RESUME

REVIEWED in the light of past football achievement here, the 1935 season was highly successful and packed with thrilling moments. A team, proved capable by consistent greatness, played inspired football at times. There were stars who, although they could not win games alone, showed that talent was not lacking.

A deceptive aerial attack, which culminated in the intricate "Flying Trapeze" play, coupled with brilliant running and blocking, made it possible for the 1935 Pirates to combat successfully heavier and more powerful teams. With the Wingate game the lone exception, the E. C. T. C. team displayed a fighting spirit of which any college may be truly proud. In the remaining games, however, the snap and spark of life drove the team, if not always to victory, at least to success. When Oak Ridge came to Greenville, the Cadets did not expect to encounter the twisting, fighting team which barely missed winning in the final seconds of the game. The first win came at the expense of Chowan College, and was followed by another victory from the highly rated Norfolk Branch of William and Mary team.

Against A. S. T. C. the Pirates led the Mountaineers at the half and fought gamely to lose a splendid game. The following Tuesday E. C. T. C. won the last scheduled game from Louisburg College.

FOOT

E. C. T. C. VS. WINGATE

IN the first game of the season E. C. T. C. lost to Wingate, 6 to 0. Wingate made the only tally of the game in the third play by a pass. During most of the game there was a continual exchange of punts. In the last few minutes Gibson carried the ball a gain of 50 yards, the longest run of the game. The defensive work of the Pirates was superb; however, they were weak on offense.

E. C. T. C. VS. OAK RIDGE

Considered a much stronger team than the Pirates, the Oak Ridge Cadets were able to win by only a small margin, 6 to 2.

Both scores were made in the final quarter. Cadet Smathers intercepted a Teacher's pass on the 50-yard line and ran for the touchdown. The Teachers' two points came on a safety when Stowe attempted to pass to Lindsey. Brinkley downed the ball behind the goal posts.

The Teachers' first half play was marked by strong defensive, led by Jimmy Johnson, tackle, who was in almost every play.

BALL

As a whole the Pirates outplayed the highly favored Cadets by holding them for downs at opportune times. It was a case of who would get the breaks and the breaks went to the Cadets.

E. C. T. C. VS. CHOWAN

E. C. T. C. Pirates defeated Chowan College 46 to 0, the largest score that they have ever run up at one time. During the first half the Pirates did not show the fire that was well exhibited in the last half. The first half was marked by many fumbles, ending with a score of 7 to 0. But the story was quite different the last half. Stowe scored three touchdowns to lead the Pirates. Others scoring were: Kapelic, Ferebee, Gibson, and Cunningham.

E. C. T. C. VS. WILLIAM AND MARY

Scoring a touchdown and two safeties, E. C. T. C. Pirates shattered the hopes of the Norfolk Division of William and Mary-V. P. I. team of a perfect season, winning by 10 to 6.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Pirates made an attack the second quarter that netted a touchdown. Taking the ball on their own 42-yard line, the Pirates marched down the field with a dazzling passing attack which, coupled with a 15-yard penalty against the Braves, put the ball on the Division 2-yard line. A lateral from Stowe to Gibson scored on the fourth try. The Braves came pounding back and inaugurated an 88-yard march, topped with a 40-yard gallop to score. Halfback Cunningham boomed a long punt that fell on the Division eight-yard line. A bad pass from center was downed in the end zone to give the Pirates the first safety. The second came about in the final quarter when the Braves' center uncorked another wild heave.

Playing through a heavy snow and intense cold, the Pirates led the Mountaineers 6 to 0 at the half. The touchdown came in the second quarter after they had advanced from their own 35-yard line to the Mountaineer's 15-yard line. Gibson made a long pass to Cunningham who made 10 yards when he lateraled to Stowe who scored. For no length of time during the first half did the Mountaineers threaten the Pirates' territory.

Appalachian's first score came in the latter part of the third quarter after they had blocked a punt on the Pirates' 30-yard line. A succession of line drives brought another touchdown in the fourth quarter giving the Mountaineers a victory of 14 to 6.

E. C. T. C. VS. LOUISBURG

The Pirates' season was closed by a win over Louisville College Trojans, 13 to 0. Scoring was in the second and final quarters. Each touchdown came on the end of a 30-yard advance, with Gibson doing all the scoring. The Pirates made the first scoring advance with ground plays, but in the second a pair of passes set the stage for Gibson via line plunges.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

E. C. T. C. Pirates opened their basketball campaign by meeting the Panthers of High Point College. During the first half the Pirates held the Panthers to 13 points while they were collecting 10. However in the second half the Panthers turned on the steam to gain a victory of 45 to 23.

In a second game with High Point Panthers the Teachers again halted and suffered a defeat of 40 to 32.

The Pirates had better luck in the game with Rocky Mount. Showing much improvement since the defeat by High Point, their teamwork was almost flawless. Holleman, around whom the team was built, led the Pirates to a victory of 33 to 23.

Taking the road again, E. C. T. C. went on a scoring rampage in its second tilt with Rocky Mount "Y" defeating them 42 to 20. Starring on defense was Jimmy Johnson; however, Holleman was again leading scorer.

The Pirates continued their winning streak by defeating the Williamston "All Stars," 34 to 24. Until the closing minutes when the "All Stars" became a bit too free in giving fouls, of which the Pirates took advantage, the game was nip-and-tuck throughout. Johnson carried off the high scoring honors.

With Holleman and Ridenhour putting up an amazing exhibition of shooting, the Pirates trounced the Washington "All Stars" 42 to 12. The "All Stars" were outplayed from start to finish by the speed and excellent teamwork of the Pirates.

In the opener of a two-game series the Guilford Cagers defeated the Pirates 22 to 16.

However the tide turned in the second of the series. Playing sensational ball and fighting every inch of the way, the Pirates claimed the victory in the best game of the season, 34 to 27.

To add another victory to their list, the Pirates won over Campbell College, 46 to 36. The E. C. T. C. Mentor used his entire squad of 12 players.

The Pirates ran roughshod over the Presbyterian Junior College. E. C. T. C. used substitutes very frequently, but P. J. C. couldn't stop the rampagers who walked off with a score of 62 to 42.

In the first game of the Annual series between E. C. T. C. and A. C. C. the Teachers were the winners, 58 to 41. However, in the second the Teachers were a bit off par and lost 26 to 20.

Outplayed in every respect, the Louisburg Trojans suffered a severe defeat. E. C. T. C. seemingly walked to a victory of 54 to 15. This was perhaps the most easily won game of the season.

Falling into the hands of the Pirates in a second game, the Trojans were bested 49 to 31.

With victory on their minds, the Pirates met the Oak Ridge Cagers. Both teams displayed excellent teamwork, but the Cagers were losers to the Teachers, 45 to 39.

Ending the season with a victory of 54 to 35 over the quint of the Norfolk Division of William and Mary, the Teachers realized their success had been measured by twelve victories of the sixteen games played.

BASEBALL NOTES

WITH the resignation of Coach Mathis at the end of the basketball season, the Teachers' baseball club fell under the leadership of "Bo" Farley. Farley, a three-letter athlete at Duke, former director of Athletics at Danville High School, Manager of Greenville Baseball Club in summer, 1935, present director of Athletics at Greenville High School, has, as baseball coach of E. C. T. C., been most successful in building up a club of hard-hitting players.

In the first series of the season the Quakers invaded the Teachers' Camp and managed to split honors of the series, the Quakers winning the first, 14 to 1 and the Teachers, led by the faultless pitching of Wells, claiming the second victory, 4 to 0.

After the first series with the Quakers, the Teachers again split the honors with the Panthers of High Point. With Brock, F. Hinton, and Hassell collecting two hits each, Stowe scoring two runs and F. Hinson, Hassell, and Ayers one run each, the E. C. T. C. Club emerged with a 5 to 3 victory

In the second game of this series, played at New Bern, the Panthers bested the Teachers by 6 to 4 in a game marked by clumsy playing.

On April 17, the Teachers left on their first baseball tour of the season. With their chins up, they met the Apprentices of the Naval Apprentice School. In a game in which each team was equally matched, lack of time forced the game to be a 2 to 2 draw.

Next day the Braves of William and Mary capitulated after a battle of two and one-half hours. This was a game met with little resistance and one in which F. Hinton hit the first home run of the season for the Teachers. Holland displayed splendid pitching allowing only five hits; whereas, the Teachers made 13 hits. With the exception of one player, every participating player for the Teachers scored one or more runs enabling them to run up a score of 12 to 4.

As the Tecoan goes to press, the E. C. T. C. Club is leaving on a five-game series of which they will play one game each with P. J. C., Guilford, Oak Ridge, and two with High Point. Already the Teachers are ahead of last season and Manager Hyatt Forrest predicts an even better record by the close of the season.

VARSITY CLUB

THE Varsity Club is one of the youngest organizations on the campus—yet one of the most active. In order to become a member of the Club one must be a letter man. In the spring of 1934 the athletes gave a minstrel show in order to get funds to buy sweaters. The minstrel show was so successful that the boys decided to organize a Varsity Club and make the minstrel an annual event. Theo Eason was made President of the Club with Frank Jennings Vice-President, and Jimmie Carr was elected to the position of secretary—a position which he has held throughout the life of the Club. At that time there were only fifteen members in the Club. In its three years of existence it has more than doubled its membership. Under the direction of Jimmie Johnson as President and Lester Ridenhour as Vice-President, the Club sponsored its third minstrel show and also a Varsity Club dance this year.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

COACH LUCILLE NORTON

SEASON'S RESUME

SINCE sports were first introduced in our college, basketball has been the only inter-collegiate sport for girls. Basketball was played "within the walls" for a number of years. This brought about a sense of fair play and gave the students some idea of defeat and victory. As the college received outside recognition in other fields, there was a desire to be equally recognized in the one sport.

For many years they were bested by their opponents, but this did not cause them to give up. They used these defeats as "stepping-stones" for later victories. Under the leadership of Dr. A. D. Frank they began to realize many more victories than defeats. This year the new coach, Lucille Norton, has taken those who were already proficient on the squad, added new material, and turned out another winning team.

WOMAN'S ATHLETIC

THE W. A. A. was organized in 1912. This organization struggled unsuccessfully until the past few years when it became an active and enthusiastic group. In the early days of the college the Thanksgiving basketball game was the main sport of the year. This year the main aim of the Association was the rebuilding of the Intramural system. In striving to reach this goal they were successful. Students were invited to participate in any of the following sports: basketball, tennis, horseshoe, croquet, archery, softball, table-tennis, or hiking. The year's work terminated in the first "Field Day" of the college, held May 2.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

UP until this year the girls' basketball team had been under the able coaching of Dr. A. D. Frank, head of the History Department. When Dr. Frank became coach, he had many problems to face; getting equipment, building up his basketball material, securing recognition among basketball teams of other Women Colleges, etc. Diligently he and his teams worked and obtained all that they strived for. In the years following his teams were almost unconquerable.

When Coach Norton became a member of the E. C. T. C. faculty, she, too, had problems. Last year's graduation classes claimed many of the most outstanding players. So she took the old material left, added new, and turned out teams that were equally as good as those before. In fact, her freshmen players were high scorers in nearly every game. E. C. T. C. is proud of her girl athletes and looks to them to keep the name of the college, in that field, on top.

The Ramblers played their first game of the season against Mitchell Junior College. Even though three players of the first lineup were Freshmen, all scoring was done by them. Every member of the squad, however, aided in turning in fine team performance. Their reward was a victory of 36 to 24.

Next the Ramblers put on a scoring parade to roll up an 85 to 10 win over the Carolina Beauty College Sextet. Speedy action, quick thinking, and superior playing otherwise were responsible for the Ramblers' easily walked-away-with victory.

Again, in a second game with the Beauty School, the Ramblers won overwhelmingly—running up an easy score of 77 to 13.

Still proving their excellent playing ability, the Ramblers again forged to the front for another victory. This time the victim was Wingate Junior College, suffering a defeat of 42 to 13. The excellent floor work of the guards coupled with the stellar work of the forwards, opened the path to the goal for the E. C. T. C. players.

The Ramblers and Wingate Sextet ended the first half of the second game with a tie, 8 to 8. In the third quarter each team scored eight points. However, when the last quarter ended, the Ramblers were triumphant and brought home a score of 28 to 16.

In a game with William and Mary, Coach Norton's Ramblers added another victory to their list. The team trailed until the third quarter, when they pulled into a 27 to 27 tie. They then forged into the lead and stayed in front the rest of the way. At the end the Ramblers walked off with a 41 to 29 victory.

When the Ramblers met the Charleston girls, the game was almost breath-taking. Neither team had been defeated, so here was the chance for one of the two teams to prove their superiority. After hard playing and excellent teamwork on the part of both teams, the Ramblers hailed ahead with a victory of 37 to 26.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

IN order to give more students a better chance to become proficient in a greater variety of sports, the Woman's Athletic Association revived and revised the Intramural program, introducing a new point system.

Any student, except members of the Varsity team in that particular sport, may participate in any of the various sports: basketball, tennis, horseshoe, croquet, archery, softball, and hiking.

It is the chief objective of such a program to create among the students a sense of fair play, loyalty, sacrifice, respect, cooperation, and sportsmanship. Not only does a student receive these immaterial rewards, but also material ones—College Monograms.

Already the results have been a realization of a greater feeling of unity within the student body as a whole.

ELLEN JENKINS
President of Student Government Association

STUDENT BODY

THE first system of Student Government was inaugurated in November, 1920, with the idea of promoting a sense of personal responsibility in the students of the college. In the fifteen years of the development of the Association, it has evolved into a more worthy and efficient organization by continually setting up higher campus standards. The aim of Student Government is to develop student honor and self-control; to direct matters concerning college life, not reserved to the jurisdiction of the faculty; to encourage right ideals and promote a sense of personal responsibility in the students of the college; to keep in sympathetic touch and to cooperate with the Student Government movements. This we have done by affiliating ourselves with the various student associations, becoming a member of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Association of Student Government in 1928, and the National Student Federation of America in 1930. As for this year, the Student Government has tried not only to uphold the ideals expressed in its beginning, but to improve the internal organization of the council.

MEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT

THE Men's Student Government Association, one of the youngest organizations on the campus, is perhaps also the most promising insofar as present plans for the future are concerned. Although the Association is still in its infancy, it has gone far in substantially establishing a nucleus of men students here.

Late in 1934, the impracticability of having only one student governing system over both boys and girls was realized. With the thought in mind of working with the college administration and facilitating a larger enrollment of men here, plans for organization were instigated. William Wright took over the leadership in drafting a constitution. With its completion, Baxter Ridenhour was elected first President, and although the original council functioned little immediately following its installation, the foundation was laid for future activity.

WILLARD, BARROW, CARR, DOWD, TYSON, STOWE.

Robert Dowd was elected early in 1935 to finish Ridenhour's term of office, and during the following months, the council proved decisively its ability to handle discipline cases, as well as to take a leading part in student affairs. The council was instrumental in getting rooming quarters on the campus for the boys.

This year, with Durward Stowe as President, the chief purpose of the Men's Council has been twofold. The Councilors have been particularly interested in gaining recognition for the boys, and of advancing the heretofore popularly latent fact that this is a co-educational institution. Secondly, the council has tried to form the foundation for a large enrollment of men students here in the future.

We feel that the Men's Association has realized its purpose in a large measure.

HATTIE PEARL MALLARD
President of Young Women's Christian Association

THE Young Women's Christian Association of East Carolina Teachers College is the oldest organization on the campus, being organized the first year the college was opened in 1909 and joining the National Association at the same time. Since its organization much has been done toward promoting high ideals among the students.

Each Friday and Sunday evening, vesper services are held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. The subjects for these meetings have varied from time to time. Local and out-of-town speakers have been brought to the services. Out-of-town guests have included deputation teams from Carolina and N. C. State. One of the most outstanding speakers of this year was Mrs. Hazen Smith, Assistant Dean of Women at Duke University.

The Chairman of the Religious Education Committee, Catherine Wallace, has had as her duties the making of contact with speakers, while to herald the coming of each event, Ruth Wise has served as Publicity Chairman.

HAIR, THOMAS, MALLARD, NORMAN, DENNIS, WALLACE,
JENKINS, CHARLTON, COPELAND, DAVIS,
WALTERS, WISE.

The services of the Young Women's Christian Association do not stop with vesper services. Each morning, Monday through Saturday, Morning Watch is conducted. During this year, Ester Mae Dennis has been leader of this.

The college, local, and state papers print reports of the Y. W. C. A. meetings. These accounts have been written by the Cabinet Reporter, Elizabeth Copeland.

Other committee chairmen are: Nola Walters, Music; Juanita Davis, Social Service; Margaret Martin, Social; and Callie Charlton, World Fellowship. Ellen Jenkins is Student Government Representative on the cabinet.

The Association has as its four major officers, Hattie Pearl Mallard, President; Jean Thomas, Vice-President; Ida Kay Hair, Secretary; and Margaret Norman, Treasurer.

The work has been greatly helped by the faculty advisors, Miss Emma L. Hooper, Mr. M. L. Wright, and Miss Lois Grigsby.

PUBLICATIONS

THE publications on our campus consist of the Teco Echo, a newspaper issued to students bi-weekly, and the TECOAN, official college yearbook, issued to all members of the student body at the close of each year. Appropriations are made for the support of both from the Student Fund. They are edited by separate staffs of students elected from the student body and advisors selected from the faculty.

The past workers on the publications have passed on to us enthusiasm and their vision of bigger and better TECOANS and Teco Echos. We in turn have tried to add something of value to the contributions of our predecessors. Our work has been an endless pleasure and well worth the time and trouble which it has cost us.

CULLENS, CRUMPLER, HAMMOND, CAGLE, WOOD, DAVIS.

MARY GORHAM
Editor TECOAN

KNOWING full well that they will come, even cringing at the thoughts of the many unfavorable comments which may be directed at our work, we submit the results. In order that one person may not be forced to take all the blame while another is loaded down with praise, we offer you a direct line of attack for your brickbats and posies. Maggie Crumpler submitted the diary, Margaret Davis the athletic section, and Ruth Cagle the organizations and publications. Mary Gorham had the task of doing all the rest and half we were supposed to do.

WITH THE JOURNALISTS

IN developing this fourteenth volume of the TECOAN, ours has been the problem of portraying vividly and yet conscientiously a cross section of life at E. C. T. C.

We have changed our course from that laid out by the staffs who have gone before us, in endeavoring to present the material, which shall be a tangible part of our schooling, in a new and different light.

Information for our friends who are not connected with the college and details that students may want to remember have been included in the writeups, which are relatively new to our annual.

Various contests have been held throughout the year in order to increase to a greater degree the part which the students might take in the production of the book. The cooperation of the student body has been necessary and we are more than thankful that instead of being indifferent, in many instances they have been as enthusiastic as we.

The work on the 1936 TECOAN has been a distinct privilege to the staff who entertains the hope that their work will meet with approval.

THE business staff has always had a most difficult job in obtaining advertisements to aid in the financial end of an annual. This year they increased their task even more by endeavoring to make a larger and more pleasing advertising section. By adding pictures they have made it more attractive and interesting. By sponsoring a contest for the students and merchants, they have made it larger and more profitable. Jimmie Cullens, Beatrice Hammond, and Marion Wood, under the leadership of Rachel Stone have done a good piece of work.

WITH THE JOURNALISTS

THE Teco Echo is a bi-weekly newspaper published by a staff of students advised editorially by Miss Mamie E. Jenkins and financially by Dr. Beecher Flanagan. The latter was appointed this year to succeed Mr. M. L. Wright, who resigned.

The primary aim of the 1935-36 staff has been the presentation of impartial accounts of the news of interest to the readers. In editorializing, the purpose has been fourfold: (1) to voice prevalent sentiments, (2) to offer constructive criticism, (3) to compliment, (4) to comment. We trust that we have at least maintained the pace set by former staffs. If we have hastened that pace a bit, we are confident that incoming staffs will do likewise.

One of the most commendable achievements on the campus during the year is the harmonious relationship that has been established between the newspaper and the annual staffs. May we hope that we leave to the staffs of future years a similar ability to cooperate.

EMERSON

THE Emerson Society is the youngest of the three societies on our campus, being formed some years after the other two. However, since its organization, it has been most active.

Through the years, the Emersons have been fortunate in having a series of presidents who had the interest of the society at heart. The marshals that they have furnished have been truly a credit to the school.

The mascot, a brown and white bulldog, represents the spirit of the society in that its members will fight to the end when the occasion arises. Last year when the move was made to abolish the societies, the Emersons took the lead in pleading that they remain. They did not wish to see the blue and white banner leave the campus.

In the fall of the present year, the strength of the members was shown when the Emersons secured the largest numbers. This made our society the largest one on our campus. With high hopes and plans concerning mid-winter dances and dramatic events, we began the year.

SOCIETY

Song

*Oh, Emerson Society,
Dear old White and Blue,
For you our hearts beat merrily,
As we sing this song to you;
And when we see our colors there,
Blue and White everywhere,
We know that they mean only you,
And all you hold so true.
So here we are, the Emersons,
Boosting for our clan.
Oh, Emerson, Oh, Emerson.
For you we'll always stand.*

POE

ON February 14, 1936, the Poe Society celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday anniversary. In 1911 it was organized under the name of "A" Society, with Grace Bishop as its first president and Governor Thomas J. Jarvis first honorary member. The inter-society committee chose the names of Poe and Lanier to fall to the two societies "A" and "B" by lot. The name Edgar Allan Poe fell to the "A" Society, and has since become an object of the affectionate loyalty of its members.

In 1913 the first inter-society debate was held. The Poes won by upholding woman suffrage.

The Poe Society has always been active in making and upholding the high ideals which lend their influence to the lives of those who go forth to serve. It has kept abreast of the times and has been among the first to care for the development of the school, as a collective group and as individuals.

SOCIETY

Song

*Oh, Edgar, oh, Edgar Allan!
We are the Edgar Allan Poes.
We are the Society,
Choice and picked variety.*

*Oh, Edgar, oh, Edgar Allan!
We are the Edgar Allan Poes.
March on! March on!
Beneath the red and white,
For we will conquer all our foes,
And we're sure to win in every fight.*

LANIER

THE advantages of the Lanier Society to its members and to the college of which it is a part are clear and unquestionable. To have the opportunity to feel the close social bond which a group of congenial spirits emphasize and bring to a high state of perfection is one of the most worthwhile emotions of which one is capable. Friendship, confidence, loyalty, and broad-mindedness stand for its noble ideals, so

Hail to the Sidney Laniers!

SOCIETY

Song

*Let us sing a song of praise to our Society,
Hail to thee, oh, Sidney Lanier!
Loyal members ever proving your sobriety,
Tho' our fun to us e'er will be dear;
Then let us to our banner each a tribute pay,
Let us ever our motto uphold,
Always faithful, true and loyal to thee, night and day.
Hurrah for the Green and Gold!*
