The 1949

Tecoan

This is East Carolina Teachers College in the school year of 1948-1949.

This was a year of great events not only to the students of the college but also to the people of the community, nation and the world. On the top place in international affairs was the duel between the United States and Russia for world leadership. These two countries had exchanged insults until it looked as though war were inevitable. In China fighting continued as usual.

Leading national affairs was the election of President Harry S. Truman for a second term—a feat declared impossible by many political experts. Taking second place in the news of the nation was high prices. Even Congress seemed baffled at this problem, and prices continued to rise.

Here at home in North Carolina the election of Governor Kerr Scott was the big event. It started the politicians thinking.

The college in 1948-1949 completed its forty-first year of service and grew in prestige as one of the best colleges for training teachers in the Southeast. When the school year began, twenty-one buildings stood on the campus, surpassed by few in beauty.

The student body that year was composed of men and women in almost equal numbers.

Most of the men were veterans, but their conversations were slowly changing from Anzio and Iwo Jima to Fords and Chevrolets and even Model T's.

*The girls as usual gossiped and talked about clothes.
This year it was the "new look."*

The activation of an R. O. J. C. unit on the campus was a leading event of the year.

The beginning of work on Slay Hall, dorm for men students, initiated an extensive building program to be continued in the future.

To Dr. J. Y. Joyner

We dedicate this the nineteen hundred and forty-nine Tecoan

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, who as State Superintendent of Public Instruction, served as ex officio chairman of the Board of Trustees of this college from 1907 to 1919, and who during the construction of the first five buildings on this campus served as a member of the Executive Committee, is probably East Carolina's oldest friend.

It was through his influence, wisdom, and council that East Carolina is a co-educational college. We feel that it is altogether fitting that this annual be dedicated to Dr. Joyner because, last but far from least, he united the friends of the State High School bill with the friends of the East Carolina Teachers Training School bill to establish what we feel is one of the best teachers colleges in the United States.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner,

one of East Carolina Teachers College's oldest friends.

John D. Messick

President East Carolina Teachers College

Dr. John D. Messick had now served two years as president and already the school showed signs of his able leadership. The stadium which had so long been a dream began to be a reality. The new building program, the advances in scholastic standing, and the increased prestige of the college all bore his mark.

ADMINISTRATION

Under his administration, as academic dean, was Dr. Leo W. Jenkins. It was his duty to uphold the academic standing.

Miss Annie L. Morton was dean of women and had the tremendous job of supervising and caring for the girls. Her length of service in this position is evidence of her ability.

For dean of men there was a Texan, Mr. W. E. Marshall, who also served as director of student affairs. It was under his guidance that the student legislature rose to its present high standing.

The Senior Class

In the spring of 1949 East Carolina graduated its largest Senior class.

The size was partially due to veterans and partially to the increasing number of men choosing the teaching profession.

Activities

The activities in the year 1949 were about the same as in any other college.

Dances were the big items on the list especially the Charlie Spivak Dance. But for regular good old fashion fun the prize should go to Sadie Hawkins Day. This event in its second year at the college had gained in popularity until everyone went as "Lil' Abners" or "Daisy Maes".

Though there were many occasions when the whole student body turned out to celebrate, most of the activities were still carried on in the clubs. The Departmental along with the Fraternal and Social Clubs formed the basis for most of the student extra-curricular activities.

Sadie Hawkins Day

The year of 1949 would not be complete without mention of Sadie Hawkins Day. Sponsoring this celebration again that year was the Science Club. The club did such a good job that the judges had a hard time selecting the best characters. The best Daisy Mae was Hilda Grace Moye. The best Lil' Abner was Bill James, while Mammy Yokum and Hairless Joe were best portrayed by Lola Stephenson and Curtis Wilson.

Carnival and Registration

Among the many charitable gestures of East Carolina in 1949 was the World Student Fund Drive. Under the influence of Nick Fokakis the carnival that year again was a success and contributed much to this worthwhile organization. Although there were many good things to be remembered, registration definitely wasn't one. It was still a headache.

Seasonal

In autumn most of the thoughts of the students were turned towards football with the actual game only furnishing the climax. First, there had to be pep rallies, decorations, and parades, then at Guy Smith Stadium the big event. Along with football went many other outdoor games such as tennis, softball, and volley ball. But as winter came students gradually collected indoors.

Snapshots

Parties, parlor "dates", and cards took up most of the time, but there were one or two students who actually studied! With the approach of spring the crowd drifted outdoors again. Games, weiner roasts, baseball or just sunning provided excuses for being outside.

Under the capable leadership of Charles Connor, the Student Legislature reached a new high in fair representative student government. Probably at no time in the history of the college had the student body enjoyed such high quality self-government.

Men's Judiciary

The purpose of the Men's Judiciary was to act as a judicial body in all matters concerning discipline of men students. The great increase in men students in 1949 placed added responsibilities on their shoulders.

Women's Judiciary

Primary among the duties of the Women's Judiciary was the promotion and maintenance of high standards of conduct. With the new demerit system their task became easier.

Standing Committees

Although most of the policies and laws were laid down by the Student Legislature, it was in the standing committees that the work was accomplished. Without them the Student Government could not have functioned.

Teco Echo 1949

The Teco Echo, the student paper, at East Carolina, was published bi-weekly in Greenville. All students were eligible for membership on the staff of the paper. In order to be placed on the staff a student had to work on the paper for two issues.

Staff meetings were held each Monday evening in the staff-room in the basement of the Austin Building at 6:30 o'clock.

The Teco Echo has received all American ratings two or three times and first class ratings many times at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York. The Teco Echo is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the Associated Collegiate Press.

The Pieces O'Eight

The Pieces O'Eight was the literary publication for the college. Here any budding Whittier, embryonic Rembrandt or promising Galsworthy could have his ego inflated by seeing his works in print. The Collegians

This group of music makers organized in 1947 by Mr. Herbert "Sax" Carter, progressed rapidly. Music for most of the dances in 1949 was furnished by this organization.

The English
Club

International Relations Club

The purpose of the International Relations Club was to promote a greater interest in, and a better understanding of, international and national affairs and relations. Meetings consisted of reports, commentaries, and discussions of world problems both by students and by out-of-town visitors.

The English Club

The English Club of East Carolina Teachers College organized in 1944, had as its aim "to promote the cause of good English on the campus, to further the interest in good literature, and to afford a measure of social intercourse among the English majors and minors of the college".

Bob Chinnis was president and Laura Williamson was secretary.

Science Club

Besides their interesting and informative monthly meetings, the Science Club sponsored trips to places of scientific interest in the spring. Another highlight of their year was the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance to which all the college students were invited.

Sullivan Nelson, president; Betty Saunders, vice-president; Bill Sutton, secretary and treasurer; James Briley, Public Relations Director.

Association for Childhood Education

Club members worked together to increase professional knowledge, to promote a more general understanding of the value of early childhood education and to improve the standard of professional training for teachers.

Future Teachers Of America

The aims of the FTA were to develop among young people who are preparing to be teachers an organization which would be an integral part of state and national associations and to acquaint these young people with ethics, history, and programs of these associations.

The organization has been a charter member of the NEA since 1939 and is the oldest branch in North Carolina. It gave junior membership in both NEA and NCEA, entitling each member to the books and magazines supplied by these associations. It was the only organization on the campus open to all prospective teachers regardless of major.

Miss Emma Hooper, sponsor; Emma Louise Gurley, Edith Rhodes, treasurer; Mae Sheppard, president; Corinne Braswell, secretary; Ellen Clark, membership chairman.

Music Club

Music Club

The Music Education Club was organized in March 1947 in an effort to give better music to the campus life and to give the students an outlet for the expression of their musical experiences. It became affiliated with the Music Education National Conference in December, 1948, with twenty-four members. The club was very active both on and off the campus. Its greatest achievement was the establishment of a scholarship fund.

Teachers Playhouse

The Teachers Playhouse was organized and maintained in order to give its members practical experience in the interpreting and production of outstanding plays, to promote interest in dramatic activities of the college to promote the creative talent of the students, to encourage the reading and witnessing of better plays and to promote an enthusiasm for the drama in all its phases.

During 1948-'49 the Teachers Playhouse of East Carolina Teachers College presented several outstanding plays which included "The Coventry Nativity Play" and Shakespeare's "As You Like It".

Any student averaging a "3" could, after one quarter at East Carolina, become a member provided he had been successful in tryouts held by the club.

Lola Stephenson, president; Bill Durham, secretary.

Teachers

Jarvis Forensic
Club

Jarvis Forensic Club

The Jarvis Forensic Club was the Public Speaking Club of the college. Its primary function was to serve as an outlet for long-winded would-be orators, and to give encouragement to the hopeful. Perhaps its greatest job of the year was the selection of debate teams to compete in inter-collegiate debates.

Frank Toothman, vice-president; Miles Buck, Geraldine Amundson, president; Dr. M. N. Posey, advisor; Milton Zellin, secretary and treasurer.

Women's Athletic Association

Varsity Club

Women's Athletic Association

For the athletic-minded women of East Carolina Teachers College there was the Women's Athletic Association. All women students were invited to join and were recognized members after the proper ceremonies. The Association sponsored intermural and inter-dormitory contests.

Florence Boerckel, secretary; Lucy Layton, treasurer; Sarah Bazemore, president.

Varsity Club

The Varsity Club was composed of members of all the men's Varsity teams. Prospective members were approved by the entire club and afterwards underwent a grueling initiation before becoming full fledged members. The club sponsored the annual Varsity Club Dance and crowned their queen. The Queen for 1948 was Marian Early now the wife of the baseball team's star catcher, George Wynn.

Henry Andrews, president; George Wynn, secretary; Ike Davis, treasurer.

Veterans Club

The Follies
Of 1949

Veterans Club

When the men began returning to college from the armed forces the Veterans Club was organized. It was one of the most active clubs on the campus. With athletic scholarships in mind the veterans club went far in helping East Carolina Teachers College hold its own in athletics. A banquet given each quarter helped the members to enjoy a good meal as well as to have a good time. Keith Kilpatrick, president; R. B. Lee, vice-president; Ed Casey, treasurer; Ruth Bostian, secretary (not pictured).

The Follies Of 1949

The Follies of 1949, also called the Veterans Minstrel, was the Veterans Club's chief weapon for raising money. Under the direction of Mr. Eli Bloom the show was a series of great successes. Perhaps the real honors should have gone to the dancers and the special members who spent countless hours rehearsing.

Y. W. C. A.

JEAN BOSTIAN
President

Through the efforts of this organization many of East Carolina's traditions were upheld. Among these were the "White Gift" Christmas service, the "House of Comradeship" program, and the commencement candlelighting service. The YWCA in collaboration with the YMCA sponsored vespers each Friday evening, the annual Religious Emphasis Week on campus, and maintains the "Y" Hut.

OFFICERS

Jean Bostian, president; Evangeline Baker, vice-president; Frances Wilson, secretary; Grace Daniels, treasurer.

Y. M. C. A.

Although outnumbered by the Big Sister organization, the YWCA, the YMCA assumed its share of the Hut, Vesper programs and Religious Emphasis Week.

Pi Omega Pi, Beta Kappa Chapter

Pi Omega Pi was a national Honorary Business Education Fraternity whose aim was: to promote scholarship and interest in commerce, to aid in civics betterment, to encourage high ethical standards in business and professional life, and to teach the ideals of service which are the basis of all worthy enterprise.

Beta Kappa Chapter was organized at East Carolina Teachers College February 14, 1944. Members had to have twenty-one quarter hours in Business Education with a "2" average, three quarter hours in education and a "3" average in all other courses.

Pi Omega Pi established the Thomas Clay Williams Memorial Scholarship Award to be given each year at commencement to the senior having the highest scholastic average in the Business Education department.

Marshall Scruggs, historian; Wade Woodley, vice-president; Frances Daniels, president; Fred Ourt, treasurer; Joanne Winslow, secretary.

Phi Sigma Pi

Phi Sigma Pi

The purpose of the Phi Sigma Pi was three-fold—knowledge, training, and fellowship.

Good moral and social qualities were the basis for the admittance into the fraternity. New members of the fraternity were voted on by the members of the club. Further qualifications included scholastic standing of a "3" and enrollment in the college for at least one quarter.

Lawrence Posey, president; Herbert Taylor, secretary.

Sigma Pi Alpha, Phi Sigma Chapter

For the foreign language students there was the Sigma Pi Alpha, Phi Sigma Chapter. This fraternity had as its purpose the promotion of understanding between foreign nations and a knowledge of customs in other countries.

Mary Mills, president; Christine Lilley, vice-president; Margaret Bickel, secretary-treasurer; Miss Austin, advisor.

Athletics

Athletics were slowly recovering from a downward trend developed after the war. The Pirates were discovering their power and using it. Although the football team came through without a win the other teams added glory to East Carolina Teachers College. In basketball the Bucs were continually upsetting the favorites while in boxing, tennis, and golf the teams won over opponent after opponent.

Football...1948

The purple and gold aggregation opened a disastrous football season against an air-minded Cherry Point eleven on September 18, 1948. The Marines struck twice through the air lanes in the opening minutes of the game to take a 13 point lead that never was overtaken by the surprised Pirates. The E.C.T.C. eleven came to life in the second half as John Smith scored from the four on the end of an 86 yard drive. The Buccaneers died deep in Marine territory as the game ended.

Lenoir-Rhyne was the first North State Conference foe for the Bucs and they proved to be too much as they sank the Pirates 26 - 6. The locals played great ball in the first half as they trailed 7 - 6. A pass from Maennle to Tanner was good for 40 yards and then Johnnie Smith once again carried the mail for the Bucs as he scored from the one yard line. The Bears roared in the second half as they scored three more T. D.'s to emerge a 20 point victor.

The Managerial Staff

The following week the Pirates played an evenly matched Elon eleven, only to have fate against them once again as the Fighting Christians won 6 - 0.

The Homecoming Celebration was shattered to shreds by West Carolina on October 16, 1948. The Pirates were held scoreless while the "Catamounts" rolled up 39 points. Twenty-six of these came in the first half. The home eleven threatened several times with Holscher and Maennle leading the way but they never hit the pay dirt.

The Johnson-men, moved to Newport News, Virginia for the next encounter with Frank Dobson's Apprentice School eleven. The Gold and Purple were victors in two previous battles, 19 - 6 and 14 - 6 in 1946 and 1947, but in 1948 the tide turned as the Virginians outclassed E.C.T.C. by a 20 - 6 score. Johnnie Smith again scored the six pointer. Keith Kilpatrick and Stan Peel were outstanding in the line.

The Pirates played host to the Duke "B" team on the 29th of October and played the best ball game of the '48 season only to lose by one touchdown.

The score was 19 to 13, but it does not tell the story of the frantic episode. Wetherington scored early on a 45 yard pass from Frank Maennle. Duke tied it up only to be overtaken by the Fighting Pirates. This time Maennle scored on a short flip from Bill Darby. Bass added the extra point to make it 13 to 6 at the half way point.

The Blue Imps scored twice more in the last quarter by a pass interception and a 50 yard gallop. However, the Pirates were on the Imps doorstep as the final whistle sounded. Wetherington and Wyatt played great ball along with "Shot" Ellis, George Wood and Keith Kilpatrick.

The Appalachian State "Mountaineers", 1948 North State Conference Champs made short work of the Pirates at Boone, N. C. Herman Bryson, little All-American Halfback, led the Apps to pile up seven touchdowns and 5 extra points while the crippled Bucs were held scoreless. Pollili's play was great for the Gold and Purple.

Wilmington, North Carolina played host to East Carolina and High Point College on November 13, only to see a first half Pirate club die in the last thirty minutes. High Point was handed 7 points in the opening minutes, only to be tied by Mike Kovach who sailed 66 yards on an end run and Garrel Bass' extra point. The Panthers scored a safety in the second quarter to hold a 9 - 7 lead at halftime. The Purple Panthers then struck for twenty-three more points in the last half to claw the Pirates by a score of 30 - 7.

November 17, 1948 brought rain, mud, and blues to the subdued Pirates as the A.C.C. Bulldogs took the coveted "Bohunk Trophy" back to Wilson, N. C. on a score of 6 - 0. The mud drenched Pirates outplayed the Bulldogs, but lacked the scoring punch. Bryant, Smith, and Holscher looked great on several occasions while Booth, Ellis, and Yarbrough stood out in the line. The defeat was the first one ever handed to the Pirates by A.C.C. on the gridiron. It also marked the ninth straight setback without a victory for the 1948 season.

In the 1948 opener, the Bucs downed a defensive minded Portsmouth Grid Club five by a score of 36 - 26. Two nights later they traveled to High Point only to be beaten by a score of 51 - 31 in the North State Conference opener.

The locals still were not up to par the following night when the Catawba Indians pulled away from a 23 - 22 halftime score to emerge a 51 - 39 victor. The scoring was led by Everton and Maennle who scored 10 and 9 points respectively.

The Appalachian "Mountaineers" provided the next opposition for the Bucs who finally found the range. Behind the scoring of Jack Everton and Charlie Bill Moye, who scored 18 and 15 points respectively, the E.C.T.C. cagers posted a 60 - 53 victory. Bob Shuford scored 6 points in the last 2 minutes to keep the Apps at bay.

The Bucs posted their third win of the campaign against the Norfolk Navy in a real thriller by a score of 54 - 51. Moye and Bauer led the way for the Bucs. The following week the same Navy five turned on the steam at Norfolk and downed the Pirates in a high scoring contest 76 - 46. Toddy Fennel led the Bucs in vain as high scorer with a total of 14 points.

Elon College fell by the wayside of the Bucs in a North Stater on Eddie Tanner's free throw in the last minute. The score of this thriller was 49 - 48. Charlie Bill Moye led the way with 18 points, but suffered a dislocated toe which hurt the Bucs badly. Without the services of "C. B." the Bucs suffered three straight setbacks at the hands of Lenoir-Rhyne 71 - 47, Catawba 49 - 45, and A.C.C. by a score of 51 - 48. Everton and Tanner were high for the locals with 14 and 12 points respectively against Lenoir-Rhyne. Everton was high against Catawba also.

The Bucs lost their chance to regain the Bohunk Trophy in a hard fought battle at Wilson with Moye and Everton ailing. Fennel and Maennle were high for East Carolina. Toddy Fennel collecting 14 points and Frank Maennle 10.

The Gold and Purple quintet welcomed the two stars back against Lenoir-Rhyne College and poured it on to avenge the previous defeat. The Bucs never lost the lead as they piled up a 65 - 49 score. Charlie Bill Moye was high for the night with two dozen points while "Big Jack" Everton poured 13 points through the hoops.

On February 5, 1949, Coach Porter's squad traveled to Boone, N. C. only to succumb to a 54 - 41 defeat. Everton was high for the night with eleven points while Moye registered 9.

The offensive leaders for the '48-'49 campaign were Everton, Moye, Fennel, Tanner and Collie. The defensive players were Len Bauer, Frank Maennle and Ben Harrison as stalwart guards.

Maennle, Shuford and Fly proved to be ever consistent on the rebounds. Jack Davis, '49

Pirate Ring-Men ... '48-'49

East Carolina Teachers College returned to the ring wars after several years absence. The Pirates came back under the capable hands of Jim Johnson, director and Johnnie Long, instructor. Johnson was a former East Carolina boxer, while Long was an ex-professional fighter who was a leading contender for the middle-weight championship a few years previous.

Co-Captains for the '48-'49 squad were Redwin David and Ken Stargardt, both standouts in their respective divisions. The Corsairs had matches with American University, Charlotte YMCA, Winston-Salem YMCA, Goldsboro A.C. and Elizabeth City A.C.

Tennis Holdovers from '48

Five returning lettermen formed the bulk of the attack for the East Carolina Teachers College netters. The eight man team was led by former number two man Keith Hudson. Hudson played a fast game last year and was consistently hard to defeat.

"Iron Arm" John Heath held down the spot behind Hudson at the number two post. Heath was known for his iron arm serves.

The fastest rising star on the campus was Bob Williams, star netter from Thomasville, N. C. Bob was fighting for a higher berth that spring.

In Charlie Bill Moye and Ben Harrison were found the two versatile men who comprised the strong doubles combination. The two will be remembered long for stirring victories of yesteryear.
