Dear Father,

Yours duly read, I am not surprised to hear that you have been censured for appointing Jarvis, but I suppose it is consoling to you when you reflect, that a similar action would have resulted, had you appointed the ghost of General George himself. I dare say some hoped that a certain Western Congressman would be the fortunate one, & that they did not care a cent about a new election that would have <sup>had</sup> followed, & the consequent divulcation of the present weakness of the Dem. party, I really believe that 9 out of 10 in these days have such inferior eye sight that they

x bleed seems the only one that will flourish things up. This is not over christ take; turn back the pages of his tory & you will find that I speak truly here, My joins me in much love to you all,
Sincerely & affly

can not see farther from their noses than the bottom of their breeches pockets, Now I am really concerned about Jarvis' chances, But if he stands no show, I want to hug to my breast the knowledge of the fact that Raw son, the laundered linen Senator, will never be returned, Now what do you think of the chances of this cut & career legislator? I read the article you enclosed on silver with considerable interest, Yes, I have no doubt that eventually the world will be forced to a paper basis for the very potent reason that there is not enough silver & gold "to go round", Revolution however will have to accomplish it, as blood alone has bought every law under which we live today, The money power, the conservative element, has always deprecatd any change, has always blocked the wheels in the machinery of evolution,
