My dear sir,

It was my purpose to have had the pleasure of calling on you before you left Raleigh, and expressing my thanks and appreciation of the many courtesies shown me by you; but I could not get away from my business at the time I expected to be in Raleigh.

I assure you that you have an ardent admirer in me, and wish our State could always have such an efficient Chief Executive.

With my very best wishes, for you and yours, I trust you may always regard me as your sincere friend.
