A FAILURE.
More years ago than I shall name, I sought to win a good wife's fame,
I knew not how—but all the same I made a shame.
I cut, I stitched, with many a tear; Hollowed it out, both front and rear;
I carved the armholes wide for fear They wouldn't fit.
John's neck I measured to be true.
The band must fit, that much I knew I'd heard so oft. All else I drew And puckered in.
At last 'twas done. A work of art, Complete, I hoped, in every part.
"Come, John," I called, with quick-ing heart,
"Try on your shirt."
I must confess it bulged somewhat In places where I thought should not,
But John, the brute, yelled out,
"Great Scott!"
"Is this a tent?"
And such behavior—language, well!
He uttered things I'll never tell—I may forget them when I dwell In higher spheres.
Oh, woman of the present day,
To yours inscribed this tiny lay,
You little know the man you pay Your homage to.

HOW PRESIDENTS DIE.
American Notes and Queries.
George Washington.—His death was the result of a severe cold contracted while riding around his farm in a rain and sleet storm on December 10, 1799. The cold increased and was followed by a chill, which brought on acute laryngitis. His death occurred December 14, 1799. He was 68 years of age.
John Adams.—He died from old age, having reached his 91st milestone. Though active mentally, he was nearly blind, and unable to hold a pen steadily enough to write. He passed away without pain, July 4th, 1826.
Thomas Jefferson.—He died at the age of 83, a few hours before Adams, July 4, 1826. His disease was chronic diarrhoea, superinduced by old age, and, his physician said, the too free use of the waters of the White Sulphur Springs.
James Madison.—He too, died of old age, and peacefully, July 29, 1836. His faculties were undimmed by old age, and his physician
said, the too free use of the waters
of the White Sulphur Springs.
James Monroe.—At the time of his death, which occurred in the 73rd year of his age, July 4, 1831, it was assigned to no other cause than enfeebled health.
John Quincy Adams.—He was stricken with paralysis Feb. 21, 1848, while addressing the Speaker of the House of Representatives, being at the time a member of Congress. He died in the rotunda, of the Capitol. He was 81 years
of age.
Andrew Jackson.—He died June 8, 1845, 78 years old. He suffered from consumption, and finally dropped which made its appearance about six months before his death.
Martin Van Buren.—He died July 24, 1862, from a violent attack of asthma, followed by catarrhal affection of the throat and lungs.
He was 80 years of age.
William Henry Harrison.—The cause of his death was pleurisy, the result of a cold which he caught on the day of his inauguration. This was accompanied with severe diarrhoea, which would not yield to medical treatment.
His death occurred April 4, 1841, a month after his inauguration. He was 68 years of age.
John Tyler.—He died January 17, 1862, at the age of 72. I have been unable to ascertain the cause of his death.
James K. Polk.—In the spring of 1840 he was stricken with a slight attack of cholera while on a boat going up the Mississippi river.
Though temporarily relieved, he had a relapse on his return home and died June 15, 1849, aged 54 years.
Zachary Taylor.—He was the second President to die in office.
He is said to have partaken im-moderately of ice water and iced milk, and then a large quantity of cherries. The result was an attack of cholera morbus. Another authority attributes his death to a severe cold. The former seems the more likely. He was 66 years old.
Millard Fillmore.—He died from a stroke of paralysis March 8, 1874, in his 74th year.
Frank Pierce.—His death was due to abdominal dropsy, and occurred October 8, 1869, in the 65th year of his age.
James Bucham.—His death occurred, June 1, 1868, and was caused by rheumatic gout. He was 77 years of age.
Abraham Lincoln.—He was shot by J. Wilkes Booth at Ford's theatre, Washington, April 14, 1865, and died the following day, aged 56.
Andrew Johnson.—He died from a stroke of paralysis July 31, 1875, aged 67.
The deaths of Grant, Garfield and Arthur are recent enough to be remembered by all.

WHEN GIRLS SHOULD MARRY.
In discussing the question of a suitable age for young people to marry, Mrs. Harriett Prescott Spofford, in the Boston Journal, gives her views, as follows, in regard to girls:
However the mother of a son may look at the subject of early marriage, the mother of a daughter is justified, it seems to me, in a rather decided opposition to them.
Some girls there may be, of rare ability, who are competent to take upon their young shoulders the responsibility of a house, its work or the direction of those who do its work, the oversight of a husband's wardrobe, the bearing and nursing of children, physical attention to them in health and in sickness, and the daily direction of their moral and mental education, together with all the other indoor and outdoor cares incidental to the position of one who is in the head of a family and who has happiness of a home and a husband on her heart and conscience. But these cases are few and exceptional, and the great multitude of girls under twenty are not equal to such a strain upon nerve and muscle without an arrest of development.
A few years later they may remember themselves at that age as still children; they may feel some reproach toward those who laid up on them a burden greater than children should bear.
Before twenty a girl has hardly had the chance to receive the complete instruction from text books to which she has a right, to say nothing of the domestic education of the kitchen, the needle, the sick room; she has had little chance to learn anything of the world of human nature; she has lived more with dreams and ideals than with realities. She may make a charming wife at first, and a tender mother always, maternal instinct and solicitude taking the place of all the superiority that added years might have given. But she must stop there, taxed to the utmost, she has no time, no strength, and, perhaps—as inclination grows by use—no inclination to read, to study, to keep pace with a husband's advance, or even to appreciate it.

HUMANE EDUCATION NEEDED.
Salisbury Herald.
This striking headline must meet the approbation of every American citizen. We need to be taught humane education. Our country is sadly in want of proper training in humane affairs. No nation in the world needs it worse than ours. Birds, animals and insects, alike, receive the same inhuman treatment at our hands. The noble horse is maltreated, kicked and cuffed around as though he were wood; the ox is beaten and bruised and often poorly fed.
The dog, even, comes in for his share of the cuffs. The most consecrated Christian in the land takes the life of a helpless creature without a thought or a care.
It is truly singular in his progressive era of Christian piety and intellectual development, that such should be the case. It has often been our lot to watch with sorrow some apparently well-meaning individual, take the life of a worm, a bug or a spider, which perchance crossed his path on his daily round in quest of food. The cruel, heartless heel crushes life from a helpless creature, robbing it of the sweetest thing in its existence.
The sportsman, with gun in hand, thinks naught of the life he is robbing, so his pleasures are full.
He ruthlessly robs his prey of its life, caring nothing for the pany carcass. The same may be said of various sports where the life and feeling of animals are at stake. It is indeed time our people were calling a halt in their inhuman course toward the lower animals.
We need more stringent laws for the prevention of cruelty to animals, but above all things, we need human education to such a degree that we should be loath to take unnecessarily the life of the meanest of God's creation. The sooner this is done the nearer we will be to perfect men and women.
Let each one examine himself closer in his treatment of the dumb brute and learn to have more compassion for creatures. Make humane education a study and better the world thereby.

AN OCEAN BURIAL.
I have just seen an ocean burial.
Just now a body has disappeared beneath the waves, to be one of the great multitude that shall come forth when the sea gives up its dead. It was an old man, a steerage passenger, far gone with heart disease when he came on board.
He was alone, and nobody knew him. Probably he understood that he could not live long. But his thoughts perhaps went back to the old churchyard of his fathers, and he tried to hold out until he could be laid to rest by the graves of his kindred.
But the summons came in mid ocean. A Romish priest jabbered a few Latin prayers over the lifeless remains, and scattered drops of water or oil upon the coarse sack that covered them. The great panting engine, turning endlessly at its mighty wheel, at a given signal stopped its labor for a moment.
A British flag was quickly drawn off the extemporized bier, the end of the board was lifted to a high angle; and the poor, limp clay slipped off and shot swiftly down to its ocean bed. And then as the engine started again, the hundreds who had looked on went back to their reading, their chat, their games and laughter, which closed over the solemn scene as the waves closed over the body, and almost as quickly. Scarce a memory of it is left behind.
Well, perhaps it is better so.
Certainly for us who are off for rest and recreation, we can properly say, "Peace to the ashes of the dead," and then turn, somewhat sobered, to the usual occupations of the day.

STATE NEWS.
Happenings Here and There as Gathered From our Exchanges.
Pickpockets were at work in Wilmington last week. They robbed the messenger of the Navassa guano company of $500 on the principal street. In an hour the thief was caught and the money all recovered.
Senator Ransom will be the senior Senator in the Fifty-second Congress, having served continuously from April 24, 1871. Senator Jones, of Nevada, and Allison, of Iowa, come next, their service having begun March 4, 1873.
Salisbury Herald: An old lady at the County Home between 65 and 70 years of age sent to Salisbury one day last week and purchased a Webster's spelling book with the intention of learning to read. She is said to be prosecuting her study with zeal.
The Tobacco Exposition at Rocky Mount last Wednesday was a grand success. 140,000 pounds of bright tobacco was on exhibition. Prices were very high and satisfactory to all. Tobacco was there from many counties—20,000 pounds from Pitt.
Wilmington Star: It was learned here yesterday that J. B. Benson, Treasurer of Bladen county, has absconded with six thousand dollars of the county's money. Benson was a prominent and highly respected citizen of the county and kept a large Alliance store at Elizabethtown.
Saturday evening two colored boys living 3 miles from Henderson went to town, got drunk and started home about 10 o'clock at night.
They were overcome on the way, lay down in a corn field and went to sleep, and the weather blowing up very cold during the night they were frozen to death.
State Chronicle: Mr. Junius Leavister, while engaged in repairing a tank at the Raleigh and Gaston shops yesterday, fell to the ground, dislocating his shoulder.
He was carried to St. John's hospital, where the shoulder was set by Dr. Knox, and he is getting along alright now.
Biblical Interpreter: Rev. M. L.
Kessler has tendered his resignation as secretary of the Sunday school department of the Baptist Church of the State and has accepted the pastorate of the church at Laurinburg. Bro. Kessler, after his call to the ministry, thoroughly prepared himself for the pastorate and for the preaching of the gospel, and feels that it is his duty to enter upon that work.
Raleigh News and Observer: Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Black have issued cards of invitation to the celebration of their silver wedding on Wednesday, December 3, 1891, at 8 o'clock p. m. at the Oxford Orphan Asylum of which Dr.
Black is Superintendent. Jesse Goodwin, sentenced in the U. S. Court yesterday to two years at hard labor in the penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, for passing counterfeit coin, is a Wake county young man and has lived near Bal-eigh all his life, we believe. He was a good mechanic and well known to many of our people, but he got into bad company.—It is said that Mr. Hanson W. Bowden, the cashier of the National Bank of Wilmington that failed the other day, has left Wilmington; and feels are expressed lest his misdeeds have given way under the weight of the bank's disaster. It is not thought that he had been guilty of any personal delinquency.
Durham Sun: Geo. H. Wyld, the bigamist, was captured yesterday. It will be remembered that he was arrested at Kingston and made his escape Wednesday evening by jumping through a window of the train at University Station, while deputy sheriff J. E.
Dupree was en route with him to Greensboro. Wyld went to the house of Mr. James Crabtree, about five miles from Durham, to secure a hammer or something to unfasten the handcuffs that he wore. As soon as Mr. Crabtree saw him he knew that he was an escaped prisoner, so he caught him and tied him and sent a boy to this city to know of Sheriff Markham if any of his prisoners had gotten away. Mr. Markham knew at once that it was Wyld and went out to Mr. Crabtree's and brought the bigamist here, reaching here about four o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was locked up until time for the 7:30 train, when Mr. Dupree again left for Greensboro with his prisoner.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
From our Regular Correspondence.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4, 1891.—The very spirited contest for the Speakership of the House of Representatives will close with the selection of one of the candidates by the Democratic caucus which will be held to-morrow, but it will be years before it is forgotten.
There have been many things to cause it to be remembered, not the least of which is the large number of candidates that will remain in the field up to the last—this is of itself highly creditable to the Democratic party as an organization, as it shows that it is a party that does not tolerate bossism, but gives every man in its ranks an equal right to aspire to any honor within its gift. Another thing about it that will not soon be forgotten is the action of the Republicans in trying by misrepresenting innocent remarks made by Democrats, and in many instances by the outright manufacture of statements to create a feeling of antagonism between the friends of the several candidates—they succeeded but too well, in some instances.
Whoever is selected for Speaker the attempt will be made in certain quarters to make it appear that the selection makes certain the nomination for President next year of some one of the gentlemen who have been prominently named for that honor. That is another Republican scheme. There is not the slightest thing to base such a conclusion upon, no matter which of the candidates for Speaker may win. There are, to your correspondent's certain knowledge, men in the ranks of the supporters of each of the candidates who favor Mr. Cleveland, Governor Hill, Governor Gray, Senator Gorman and Governor Boies, so you see what nonsense it is to say that the success of any one of the candidates for Speaker will have any direct effect upon the nomination for President next year. Just as members of Congress have differed in their opinions of the best men for Speaker, so will they differ when it comes to selecting a candidate for President. The national Democratic convention, and not the House of Representatives, will name the Presidential nominee of the party, Republican busybodies to the contrary notwithstanding.
Representative Cooper, of Indiana, who originated the Ramm investigation in the last Congress, says that if Mr. Harrison persists in keeping Ramm at the head of the pension office he will move for another investigation. Mr. Cooper has secured a large addition to the stock of ammunition which the packed committee of the last Congress refused to allow him to use, and if Ramm does not vacate the pension office he will see to it that the next investigation does not end with a coat of whitewash.
It is stated here, but denied, that Secretary Foster's health is in a precarious condition. While denying that he is seriously sick, his friends admit that he is going South for several weeks' rest before he again takes up his work as Secretary of the Treasury.
Mr. Harrison's friends in the Republican party have been anxiously expecting this week that often announced statement from Mr. Blaine that he would not be the candidate of his party, it having been stated here the other day by ex-Senator Saunders, of Nebraska, whose daughter is Russell Harrison's wife, that Mr. Blaine would shortly take the public into his confidence; but alas, for the Harrison crowd, it seems to be only another false alarm, as Mr. Blaine says not a word, but continues to smile when visiting Republicans tell him that they propose nominating him next year.
Attorney General Miller is not an admirer of the newspapers, probably because they have refused to class him as high as his own conceit tells him he should go; therefore it caused no surprise when he tried to cast a slur upon the press, while the argument in the cases against the constitutionality of the McKinley tariff law was proceeding before the Supreme Court. It came about this way: Mr. Stephen G.
Clark, of New York, while arguing the omission of the tobacco rebate clause in the bill as signed by the President invalidated the whole bill, produced a book kept in the Clerk's office showing the

CONFIDENCE.
Henderson Gold Leaf.
It is but a single word—Confidence!—but how wide and weighty in meaning and effect it is. What significant forces are wrapped up in it. As some one has truly said:
"Confidence is the foundation upon which all orders are built, whether it be social, financial or business of any nature. In fact, it's the groundwork of the Christian religion, and is simply another word for faith. Knock that prop from under it and the whole system falls a chaotic mass. Take confidence out of your social order, and doubt and suspicion run riot in the land. Take confidence out of the financial world and it shivers it into irretrievable ruin. It's the faith we have in the world and its people that moves it without jar or friction. Destroy that faith and blear eyed doubt looks out with trembling suspicion. If this be true, and we do not think there are many honest men who doubt it, how careful ought we to be in discharging the trust imposed upon us in our several capacities of life by which we win and maintain confidence."
Governor McKinney Demolished.
Frankie McKinney, is a few years older than Ruth Cleveland, and if the latter young lady is as bright and quick as the small one who dominates the Virginia gubernatorial mansion, she will make the White House lively winter after next.
It is related that on one occasion Frankie McKinney was rather ob-streperous at the dinner table.
Her father warned her if she did not stop he would send her away.
The offense was repeated and she was ordered away from the table.
She toddled off, and as she reached the door she turned around, looked firmly at Gov. McKinney and waving her hand defiantly over her head said: "Hurrah for Malone!"
Then she walked off satisfied that she had gotten even with the whole crowd.—State.

THE WIFE'S FARM.
At its recent annual meeting the State Agricultural Society of Georgia, in formal resolution unanimously adopted, recommended and urged upon every farmer of that State the setting aside from five to ten acres of land around the homestead, said acreage to be known as "The Wife's Farm," to be devoted exclusively to the culture on the extensive plan, of grain, grasses, vegetables, poultry, pigs, etc., and that an hour or two each morning shall be devoted by the farmer and his force to cultivate the "farm." The idea of the society was to make each farm self sustaining and independent.
A Delaware cobbler ran a savings bank for thirty-nine years, and didn't know it. He gave his wife every week a certain sum of money for her own use. He never had curiosity enough to ask her what she did with it, and she never told him. At the end of thirty-nine years she died, and the old man went fumbling about an ancient table drawer, and was surprised by the discovery of a bag of gold and a role of greenbacks amounting to $10,000, which the good third woman had been laying away from week to week.—Wilmington Star.

HERE'S THE TRUTH.
Warrenton Gazette.
It is a fearful mistake to think that only the farmers of the United States are the sufferers under our high tariff and other class legislation for the lawyers and the doctors, editors, preachers, land renters, laborers, shoemakers, and all other classes feel the hard times worse than even the farmers do, for the farmer has a field to graze his cow, he can get his wood without paying out cash for it—he can make enough bread and meat to keep soul and body together, but what becomes of those who have to buy all, and can get no money to buy with? We are all in the same boat, and he who thinks differently is very unwise. We may differ as to the means of relief, but we all know we want it, and need it. Therefore, let us pool our issues and do the best we can, one for the other and each for all.

A bad Year for Calamity Howlers.
From the Chicago Tribune.
He was a stranger from out west. He paused as he went inside the door of the city church and whispered to the usher: "Sermon's begun, hain't it?" "Yes," answered the usher. "What's he preachin' about?" "I hardly know yet. The text is the first verse of the second chapter of Lamentations."
"I don't want to hear him," said the stranger with decision, as he backed hastily out of the door.
"He's a calamity howler." From the latest reports from the recently earthquake-visited section of Japan, it appears that over 5,000 people were killed and 200,000 people left destitute and homeless. The disturbance was mainly in the great centers of porcelain manufacture, this industry having been almost entirely destroyed.—Wilmington Star.

Not Luck, but Work.
Twenty clerks in a store, twenty hands in a printing office, twenty apprentices in a shipyard, twenty young men in a town, all want to get on in the world, and expect to do so, says an old merchant.
"One of the clerks will become a partner, and make a fortune; one of the compositors will own a newspaper and become an influential citizen; one of the apprentices will become a master builder; one of the villagers will get a handsome farm, and live like a patriarch—but which one is the lucky individual? Lucky! There is no luck about it. The thing is almost as certain as the rule of three. The young fellow who will distance his competitors is he who masters his business, who preserves his integrity, who lives cleanly and purely, who devotes his leisure to the acquisition of knowledge, who gains friends by deserving them, and who saves his spare money. There are some ways to fortune shorter than this dusty old highway, but the staunch men all go this road.

ADDRESS OF THE COMMITTEE.

The address prepared by the committee which was appointed in October by the Democratic Executive Committee of the State has been issued. The committee was composed of five members of the Alliance and five members of the order. It is a document well worth the careful perusal of every Democratic voter of the State. It is certainly along the right. It condemns harsh criticism of each other on account of differences of opinion in reference to the means to be employed to accomplish common ends. It strongly advocates reform in the financial system of the country, a reduction in the abominable high tariff under which we are laboring, the increase of the volume of currency, and a decided opposition to the enactment of the Force Bill. If followed it will secure entire harmony in the party which is so much desired at the present. It entirely demolishes the idea that a third party is even desirable now, much less a necessity. It is a wise document and will be published in full in next week's REFLECTOR.

MCDUGAL ACQUITTED.

McDougal who was tried at Fayetteville for the murder of his uncle, Simon Conoley, has been acquitted. Many witnesses of high character were examined and the evidence which was almost entirely circumstantial, was seemingly as strong as it could have been made that he was the perpetrator of the cold blooded crime, and yet he has been released. This and the trial of the Motz brothers some few weeks ago, have been two of the most noted trials in the history of North Carolina. Able counsel did able work on both sides. It is to be hoped that the verdicts were righteous ones, but they have failed in a large measure to satisfy the minds of the jury of North Carolina readers who have carefully perused every scintilla of evidence adduced. We fear that both verdicts have weakened the confidence which should never be shaken, in the safe bulwark of trial by a jury. The innocent ought not to be punished, but the guilty must not be allowed to go free.

PETITION TO SUB-ALLIANCES.

A petition is being circulated among some of the sub-Alliances of the State asking the members to sign it pledging themselves to vote the Third Party ticket in 1892. This is without the knowledge of the State Alliance, as Secretary Barnes says that he has not seen it and knows nothing about it. It is evidently a radical trick to split the Democratic party in North Carolina so that her electoral vote may be cast for Harrison. They would give any amount of money to get the electoral vote of one Southern State. We have too much faith in the men who compose the Alliance of this State to believe that they will be duped by any such method as this which is now being made to entrap them. We have said before and we repeat it that the demands of the Alliance and the Democratic party in this State are identical in substance and there is no need for, nor will there be a third party in North Carolina.

REPUBLICAN VOTE FOR SPEAKER

The Republicans in the House of Representatives cast their vote for Ex-Speaker Reid. It is probable they thought he deserved this complimentary vote as a compensation for his services to them in their better days when he always ruled in their favor regardless of precedent or law. He will doubtless have a lively time in his raising "points of order" in reference to the rulings of the Speaker this session, because they are not in unison with his as a precedent.

CONGRESS MEETS.

Congress met on Monday the 7th inst. The President's message was sent in to the body on Tuesday. We will have something to say in reference to it in our next issue. We venture the assertion that with a Democratic House this Congress will not leave the record that will entitle it to the name of the "Billion Dollar" body. There is much sorely needed legislation and we trust that much of it may come at this session of Congress.

WIDE AWAKE.

The Christmas Wide Awake has been made by some of the brightest people in America: Mary E. Wilkins, Jessie Benton Fremont, Charlotte Perkins Stetson, Olive Hassam, Irving R. Wildes, John Mead Howells, Charlotte M. Vaile, Captain Curtis, U. S. A., Emilie Poulsson, Eleanor Lewis, Mrs. Maria McIntosh Cox, Mrs. Harriet Maxwell Converse, L. J. Bridgman, Frances Courtenay Baylor, Lieut-Col. Thorndike, Caroline Hunt Rimmer, Charles Monte, E. H. Garrett. There is a great range of story, ballad, and picture, all full of the Christmas spirit. Wide Awake is $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop Company: Boston.

ARTILLERY SHOTS.

Fortress Monroe, Va., Dec. 7, '91. Owing to sickness your correspondent was unable to give you the happenings of the Post last week. Another Thanksgiving day has passed, although cold and disagreeable the programme prepared by the enlisted men was carried out. It being a national holiday all duties were suspended for the day, except the necessary guard mounting. A game of base ball between the Indian team at the Normal school and the Fort boys was the most important feature of the day. The Indians have a strong team and our boys realized that there was hard work before them if they came out victorious. At 10:15 our boys took the field; Scanlan c, Smith p, Donavin 1st b, Doner 2nd b, Clancy 3d b, Hamper s s, Eastner i f, Fitzhugh c f, Gorman r f. Our team had been a strong one but military duties prevented three of its best players from participating in the game. Privates Shanahan, McCurdy and Dancy. Although the Indians played well, they were no match for the Fort boys. The Fort team won by a score of eight to three.

It is the custom of the different Batteries here on all national holidays to have a sumptuous repast and on Thanksgiving day the question could often be heard: who will have the best dinner? Each battery striving to outdo all others in this respect. It is conceded by all in the garrison that Battery H, as it always does headed the list. It would have been a great surprise to many of those shallow minded people who believe all soldiers are slaves and criminals, to have seen the bill of fare of Battery H on that day. For slaves and criminals are not feasted as we were and are every day. The services in the chapel were conducted by the Post Chaplain, Rev. Mr. Freland and were largely attended by the enlisted men.

Another "Tar Heel" for Battery H in the person of William A. Williams, of Tarboro, N. C. Private Williams was placed in Sergeant Reyle's squad of recruits on Monday. We now have three from that town. If Tarboro has any more such men who wish to enlist they can find a vacant bunk in Battery H. Tar Heels are all the go here and we give them a hearty welcome.

On Wednesday last the training ship Janestown ran aground in Hampton Roads. In making a tact the ran on the mud shore near the Rip Rap. The Atlanta, one of the new cruisers, was anchored in the roads at the time and went to her assistance. She was towed by the Atlanta the following day, up to Norfolk. On Friday the Charleston made her appearance and is now anchored in the Roads. Col. Frank will visit her to day.

The snow fall on Sunday the 29th November, was the greatest seen here for several years. Private Pippin who has been visiting his relatives and friends at his old home has returned to the Post and assumed his duties. Judging from the smile he wears, he heard something very pleasant while there.

The disagreeable weather for the past week caused the suspension of all military duty except the guard duty and the boys are having plenty of leisure hours. They amuse themselves by reading and playing the different games. The libraries contain hundreds of good books, and each Battery has its own billiard hall.

Fish and oysters are very plentiful and every day some of the Soldiers are after them. U. S. A.

JUSTICES MEETING.

The Board of Magistrates for the County met in the Court House Monday and was called to order at 12 o'clock by Chairman G. T. Tyson. 84 members being present. The chairman stated the object of the meeting to elect a County Commissioner to fill the unexpired term of G. M. Goring, resigned, and nominations were declared in order.

L. Maget presented the name of S. A. Gainer, and S. S. Ransberry nominated Slade Chapman. Mc.G. Holiday nominated A. B. Congleton. Two ballots were taken, the first resulting as follows: Gainer 15, Congleton 12, Chapman 6; the second Gainer 18, Congleton 13, Chapman 2.

S. A. Gainer was declared to have received a majority of the votes cast and upon motion his election was made unanimous.

The Secretary, J. C. Moore, was instructed to notify Mr. Gorman of his election and request him to come forward and qualify at once.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

HALL OF COVENANT LODGE NO 17 I. O. O. F. GREENVILLE N. C., December 1st 1891. WHEREAS, God in his infinite majesty has seen fit to remove from our midst our worthy brother A. N. Ryan, who departed this life on Thursday, the 26th day of November, A. D. 1891, and he be it Resolved, 1st. That while we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who hath taken him away, we none the less mourn his death for by his association and upright life he had endeared himself to all who knew him. 2nd. That we tender to his bereaved family our heartfelt sympathies in their great hour of grief and distress. 3rd. That in the death of Bro. Ryan Covenant Lodge has lost a worthy and faithful member, his family an affectionate and loving husband and father, the church an upright christian and consecrated member, and our town a most excellent citizen. 4th. That we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days and that the Hall of our Lodge be draped in mourning also for thirty days. 5th. That a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and they be spread upon the Minutes of our Lodge, and sent to the REFLECTOR for publication. E. A. MOVE J. WHITE W. H. ## All Praise It.

No step of enterprise that the REFLECTOR has ever taken brought to it so many compliments as the Daily issued during the N. C. Conference. From all sides words of praise have been spoken. The members of the Conference, besides many of them individually expressing their appreciation of the paper, adopted a resolution of thanks and good wishes; many of the brethren of the press have made kind reference to it; people away, some even strangers to us, have written congratulatory letters; and the home folks have been outspoken in their praise of the little sheet. All these evidences of appreciation are exceedingly gratifying to us. We wanted to give such a Daily that the Conference would be proud of and that the people of Greenville would not be ashamed to see go out from their town.

Mr. Brinson, District Lecturer of the Alliance, and Mr. Bell, State Lecturer, made speeches in Greenville last Thursday. But short notice had been given of their coming and the number that heard them was not so large as it otherwise would have been. Both these gentlemen made exceedingly conservative speeches, giving utterance to nothing that could be construed to tend to disrupting any party ties or breed dissension between any classes. They were for harmony and good will all through. The Alliancemen present heard them gladly, and those not members of the order could readily endorse what was said. When they had finished calls were made for Col. Skinner, and he also made a few remarks. After the speaking a private meeting was held with the Alliance.

Marriage Licenses

Were issued by the Register of Deeds of Pitt county to seventeen couples during the month of November, as follows:

Leggett, Arden Mills and Mattie Cratt, F. B. Knight and Ella Cobb, William Whitehurst and Julia A. Meeks, Levi Pearce and Kate Worthington, Josephus Mayo and Sackie Fleming.

Colored.—Hoyt Carman and Lula Strong, Fate Dupree and Luvenia Joyner, Henry Daniel and Mary Moore, Redmond Joyner and Mattie Baker, Abram Barrett and Susan Moore, James Bennett and Martha Daniel, Isaiah Tyson and Martha Carman.

The sale of land belonging to the Marcellus Moore estate by L. C. Latham, commissioner, as advertised on fourth page of REFLECTOR, has been postponed to Monday, 11th day of January.

FURNITURE!

STOCK OF FURNITURE.

It is made by the best workmen after the latest designs and in order to better display it we have converted the whole of the second story of our building into one large furniture room.

We shall apply our one price system to this department of our business also (as we think it is the only legitimate way to do business) and in order to get our trade started we have put the smallest possible profit upon it, and marked it so low that we guarantee you cannot duplicate the prices in any city in this country. We most cordially ask you to call and examine it.

CARPETS.

Our buyer was able to pick up some bargains in this line while North and if you will examine our stock we feel sure that we can save you money. We sell them with and without the lining. They are the very latest patterns and colors.

CLOTHING.

We do not handle any second-hand stuff nor misfits. Our Clothing is fresh from the manufacturers, AND IS MADE TO FIT and for further evidence of this we refer you to our many customers who have gotten such perfect fits from us, that they prefer them to MISFITS, which are so named because the maker found it such a hard task to get any one they would fit. Our Clothing is made by first-class tailors to FIT, and they do their work so well we usually succeed in fitting our customers the first garment they try on.

SHOES

For these we are headquarters and defy competition. In addition to a full stock of regular goods we have about 1,000 pairs which we bought in job lots at about one half their value. They consist of Childrens, Misses, Boys, Gentlemen and Ladies Shoes. We will sell them at the same discount at which we bought them, which is to say for about 50 per cent. on the dollar. We guarantee these goods first-class in every respect, and are only sold cheap because a large firm north failed and their stock was thrown on the market and had to be sold for what it would bring. Our buyer was on the ground and bought what we have. All of our lines are complete and having only one price forces us to be leaders in low prices on everything. You will save money by examining our stock if you don't buy. We only ask that you call upon us and see what we have.

BOOMING!

Booming! yes that is the word said at the right time for the Greenville Tobacco market is now in the end and she "will stay that."

My large two-story Prize House is now complete and I am prepared to handle every pound of tobacco in Pitt county and more besides. With ample means and competent assistants I propose to make it lively for the "boys. So farmers of Pitt and adjoining counties come right along without fear and don't listen at the beautiful tales of oily tongued drummers from other markets, but come straight to the Greenville Warehouse where old man "Gus" will greet you with a cheerful smile and see that your tobacco will bring top notch prices. Then if you are not pleased your tobacco will be packed up for you without cost, so you will lose nothing by giving the Greenville market a trial. Sales will commence promptly at 11 o'clock and all tobacco reaching the warehouse later will be carried over for next day's sale. Remember that our regular sale are Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Come right along boys and be convinced. Thanking you for the liberal patronage so far bestowed upon me and hope by strict attention to business and fair dealings to enjoy your confidence in the future.

Respectfully your friend,

The medical men say that the type of grip going around now is worse than when that disease first appeared. Save money by selling your Tobacco at Alliance searhouse, Henderson, N. Owners and Proprietors Banner searhouse.

Personal. Mrs. J. H. Kinison is visiting friends at Black Jack. Mr. W. H. Grimes, of Raleigh, was in town Monday. We regret to know that Mrs. Dr. Frank Brown is very sick. Miss Lillian Nobles has been spending some days with friends in town. Mr. J. B. Yellowly is in Mississippi looking after his business down there. Miss Bettie Darden, of Green county, has been visiting Miss Jennie Savage. Elder P. D. Gold, of Wilson, preached in the Baptist Church here Friday night. Mr. E. B. Moore, of Lewiston, was in town last week. He will again locate here next year. Rev. J. N. H. Sumnerell, of Tarboro, filled his regular appointment in Elliott Hall Sunday night. Mrs. Georgia Peace returned Friday from Raleigh where she had been for nearly three months past. Mr. W. B. Cowell, an architect of Winston, was summoned by telegraph last week to the bedside of his son, Mr. W. J. Cowell. Mrs. J. B. Cherry, who has been spending the fall in New York, will return home on this evening's train. Mr. Cherry met her in Baltimore. Mr. J. B. Lloyd, editor of the Tarboro Farmers' Advocate, attended the Alliance speaking here last Thursday and made us a pleasant call. Mr. R. F. Tuton, a Pitt county boy who has been in South Carolina two years past, was among his old friends last week. Heavy again REFLECTOR a call. Miss Daisy Carman, of Rountree's, accompanied by her cousin, Mr. Walter Carman passed through on Monday's train for a pleasure trip to Philadelphia. Mr. S. A. Gainer, the newly elected County Commissioner, is a staunch man, possessed of fine business qualifications, and will make an excellent Commissioner. Mrs. A. N. Ryan and children, accompanied by her father and brother, left Friday for Winchester, Va., which place was her home before coming to Greenville. We are glad to know that Mr. J. J. Daney, Jr., who is in the U. S. Army at Fortress Monroe, is making such an excellent record in the East, that he has been again promoted, this time to the rank of Sergeant. He will rise still higher. Messrs. G. F. Hanson and F. G. Brinkerhoff are in town for the purpose of establishing a branch of the Retail Merchants' Commercial Agency, headquarters at Chicago. Such agencies have been known to save merchants many dollars. Messrs. J. H. Tucker and J. D. Murphy, who left Greenville last spring to engage in the practice of law at Asheville, came down last week to be present at the coming special term of Pitt Superior Court, and remain a few days among their old friends. Rev. Geo. F. Smith, the new pastor of the Methodist Church, occupied his pulpit Sunday for the first time, preaching both morning and night. He made a favorable impression on his congregation, and all we have heard speak on the subject express themselves as highly pleased with him. It was a neat compliment the N. C. Conference at its recent session here paid Rev. R. B. John, and one worthily bestowed, when he was raised to the office of Presiding Elder of the Washington District. He is the youngest Presiding Elder in the State, but no man is qualified to do better work than he. He entered at once upon his duties and was with the church at Washington last Saturday and Sunday. He will hold the first quarterly meeting with Greenville church next Saturday and Sunday. In his new work Rev. Mr. John can continue his residence in Greenville, which causes his many friends here to rejoice. The town has been a little dull since the Conference. The firm of R. J. Grimes & Co. of Bethel, made an assignment last week. Last week's weather gave nearly everybody a bad cold. Some cases of grip developed. The ladies of the Baptist Church will give an oyster supper on Thursday night of next week. It is time Christmas advertisements were planted if they are expected to yield a good harvest. The paint factory started operations last week. It is proving a success and turns out a first-class article of paint. The special term of Pitt County Superior Court for the trial of civil causes only will begin next Monday, Judge Conno presiding. If this variableness of weather does not hit upon something to suit most everybody the fault is not in the multiplicity of changes. Mark Patrick, colored, was put in jail yesterday morning for stealing a bale of cotton from Josephus Cox & Co. He sold the cotton to A. G. Cox. They are having the finest kind of breaks at the Greenville warehouse. Our market goes right ahead of what was anticipated when steps were taken to build the warehouse. Do you want a splendid Dictionary, for little money? If so inquire at Reflector Book Store for particulars of a Dictionary club being made up. It is a chance to get one that you do not have every day. A copy of the REFLECTOR some times falls into the hands of persons who are not subscribers. All who see it are invited to send us One Dollar and get the paper for one year.

In the Mud. A few weeks ago the REFLECTOR hinted to the town authorities that the hill near the bridge ought to be fixed up before bad weather. If that suggestion had been acted upon there would not now be such a bad road hole at the top of the hill. For Just One Dollar. The REFLECTOR has this offer to make: Any new subscribers coming in between now and Christmas can get the paper until January 1st, 1893, for One Dollar. Tell your neighbor to bring us a dollar when he comes in to Court next week and have the paper sent to him. Married. At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. H. S. Congleton, in Carolina township, on Dec. 2nd, 1891, Mr. W. B. Roebuck was married to Miss Maggie L. Congleton, W. H. Williams, officiating. We extend best wishes. We Are Thankful. We are solid for the coming Christmas, regardless of the state of weather. On Friday Mrs. W. R. Whitcher brought us a large old ham for our Christmas dinner, also a sack of turnips and sweet potatoes for immediate use. Don't ever think an editor can be downed as long as he has such friends as this among the good women of the land. Renew Promptly. The REFLECTOR will continue the cash system adopted the first of this year, and as it will be only a few weeks now before the time for which many of our subscribers have paid, we take occasion to ask them to be prompt in renewing. We hope to carry every subscriber next year who is now on our books. Bring on your dollar so as not to miss any copy of the paper. No Catch. Beginning this week Brown Bros. will sell anything from their stock at supply over there. Only one thing because they have more goods on hand than they wish to carry on into next year, and as soon as the stock is sufficiently reduced regular prices will be resumed. This is not a catch advertisement at all, but they will sell goods just as stated—at cost—until notice is given to the contrary. Gin Burned. The gin house of B. F. Crawford and J. F. Allen, which they operated together in Beaver Dam township, was destroyed by fire on last Wednesday. The fire was supposed to have originated from sparks getting into the lint room in some way. Mr. Allen and two colored men were slightly burned in trying to save machinery from the fire. Loss was fully $500 upon which there was no insurance. How is This? The Greenville Tobacco Warehouse sold over 80,000 pounds of tobacco during the month of November and the weather was unfavorable for handling tobacco too. How does this strike you for a beginning? Some one must go ahead and put up at least four or five more good price houses and have them ready for use by the first of next August. The man who does it will make the best investment that has been made in Greenville for a long time. Just Complaint. In behalf of the people of Forbessville we again call the attention of the town authorities to the water supply over there. Only one public well in that portion of the town, and that one not in a condition for use more than a month at the time. We notice that in tax collecting time the people over there are called upon to pay their taxes as promptly as in any other section of the town. It is not right that they should be denied the conveniences for which they are taxed. A Mean Act. There is some meanness going on in the land yet. Last Thursday night Mr. W. M. Brown and wife went to Mr. Leonidas Fleming's, father of Mrs. Brown, about two miles from where they lived. Some one who it is supposed wished to injure Mr. Brown, tore up a bridge over which he would have to pass on the way, back home. Fortunately they did not return home that night. Mr. W. J. Fleming, who was also at Mr. Leonidas Fleming's, was returning home on foot about bed time and found the bridge torn up. Female School. Elsewhere will be found an advertisement of Greenville Female School to be opened January 4th. The Tyson school building is being enlarged to double its former size for this school. Miss Lillie Nicholson, of Warrenton has been secured as teacher, and Mrs. A. D. Hunter will have charge of the music department. Miss Nicholson comes bearing the very strongest testimonials as a teacher. She was prepared for college by Mrs. Pandleton, a lady whom many of our people know, and completed her education in Raleigh. She taught five or six years for Mr. Titus Carr, in Greene county. Her work always gives the highest satisfaction. The committee in charge of this school are fortunate in securing such an excellent lady and one so well qualified for teaching. Mrs. Hunter is too well known here for us to attempt any commendation of her. The Oft Repeated Story. Coroner H. F. Keel received a telegram yesterday morning stating that John Gray had been shot and killed in Bethel Monday night. The particulars of the shooting as we heard them yesterday were as follows: Gray was a colored boy about 14 years old. Monday night he went into the store of S. T. & J. R. Carson at Bethel. Willie Carson, a 12 year old white boy who clerked in the store, was alone at the time. The colored boy had a double action pistol in his pocket and took it out to show to Willie. Young Carson did not know much about that kind of pistol and while looking at it pulled the trigger. Of course the pistol went off. The ball struck the colored boy in the right breast and in less time than it takes to write this he was a dead negro. It's the same old story over—boys fooling with a pistol. The Register of Deeds has received the warrants for pensioners in this county and they are ready for delivery.

A Hard Corner.

The age of 30 is a hard corner for a woman to turn, and 35 is still harder. She feels that she is fast leaving her youth behind her. But there is no reason why a woman should be faded and waste at 35, or even at 45. The chief cause of the early fading of American women is found in the fact that many of them suffer from some form of female weakness or disease which robs the tissues of their blood, draws dark circles about the eyes, brings early wrinkles and sallowness, and stamps the face and figure with signs of decrepitude. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure all these troubles, will bring back the lost blood, and remove the pains and ailments which make women grow old before their time. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded.

Body Painting

Body painting is the most individual of all the modifications we are to consider. Each person in it exercises his own personal caprice or fancy. It is greatly esteemed. To get material the Furon Indian went twenty miles. Tyler says the Andaman islanders plaster themselves with lead and colored clay as a protection against mosquitoes and heat in most cases, painting is simply for display. It often serves as a sign of mourning, in the "wood" of the Briton and the "war paint" of the Indian the purpose is to strike terror. Mongeoles suggest an origin for the practice that seems to us quite reasonable. Bed is the commonest color used in body painting; it was probably the earliest.

The man who returned from battle covered with blood of hostile man or savage beast was a hero. Such a one might easily seek to constantly remind his neighbors of his success by replacing the real blood stains by artificial ones as the original wore away. Humboldt says of the Orinocoos that "no paint was a dishonor," but also that it was a chief's attribute, and that the chiefdom was the reward of bravery. Herodotus says that "Thracian chiefs painted as a distinction." And when in Rome the victor ascended the Capitoline hill painted with minium, there can be little doubt that he was simply using a very old symbol--of bloody victory.--Popular Science Monthly.

By Marriage.

A traveler says that he was riding along a cattle trail near the New Mexico line when he met a rather pompous looking native of the region who introduced himself as Colonel Higgins, of Devils River.

"Were you a colonel in the Confed erate army?" he asked.

"No, sah,"

"On the Union side, then?"

"No, sah, nehah was in no wah."

"Belong to the Texas Rangers?"

"No, sah, I do not."

"Ah, I see. You command one of the state militia regiments?"

"No, sah, I don't. Don't know nothing about soldiering."

"Where, then, did you get the rank of colonel?"

"'Tis a kunnel by marriage, sah."

"By marriage! How's that?"

"I married the widow of a kunnel, sah--Kunnel Thompson, of Waco."--Youtill's Companion.
