FARMER JACK'S CITY WIFE.

Ten years to-day, Jack, I have lived This blessed country life; Since first I left my city home To be a farmer's wife.

I thought that I should miss it so— The tramp of busy feet, The ceaseless thrub of rushing life, The faces on the street.

I thought the country would be tame, Its interests mean and small; But then I could not say you no, And so I left it all.

I thought of all I loved and left As I came down the hill; My thro' went backward with a sigh And forward with a smile.

And now—the sun sees every day Earth's misery and bliss, And now where does he shine upon A happier lot than this?

Here are no walls to hem us in, All's open to the sky; Here I have learned to love the stars, And watch the clouds go by.

I watch the birds and squirrels, too, And claim them for my own, And trees and grass—how could I live Where all is brick and stone?

I love them still, those toll-worn streets, Where many feet have trod; The city brings us close to man; The country near to God.

To think I ever should have passed Uncertain 'twixt the two! I am so thankful that I chose The country, Jack, and you.

This do-odd farm! I wouldn't give One penny, peeping brood Of day-old chicks for all the wealth Of cities if I could.

I have my homely household tasks, I love the fields of grain, I love the flowers that lift their heads To drink the summer rain.

I love the orchard crawled with fruit, My garden fair to see, I love the horses and the cows— I know that they love me.

And yet, perhaps, it's something else That lends my life its charm; You see I love the farmer, Jack, And so I love the farm.

GEORGIA LETTER.

ATLANTA, GA., July 4th, '92.

Editor Eastern Reflector:—

The glorious fourth is a real gala day in Atlanta. Excursion after excursion has been coming in since yesterday morning.

The Christian Endeavors hold their convention here to-morrow, and Wednesday the Southern Educational Association hold their convention here.

Now, we appeal to South Carolina and to all those southern Democrats of other States who cherish the same feeling and contemplate the same course of conduct.

Among the many visitors in the city many are colored and notwithstanding the saloons are tightly closed yet they seem to have a supply of the staggering liquid on hand.

Among the white element the best of order prevails—not one seen drunk on the streets.

From Atlanta many of the teachers will go on an excursion to New York and Saratoga.

The fare for the round trip is $27.70 and the competing lines are the R. & D. via Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Albany to Saratoga.

Perhaps the first qualification for an ideal wife is that she should be womanly, kind sympathetic, and above all things, tolerant of faults in others.

AN APPEAL TO THE SOLID SOUTH.

[New York Sun.]

There are some southern States whose Democrats regard Grover Cleveland with aversion, and have proclaimed beforehand a settled purpose to carry this feeling into the election.

Now, we appeal to South Carolina and to all those southern Democrats of other States who cherish the same feeling and contemplate the same course of conduct.

A CHAT WITH GIRLS.

Woman's Work.

It is just because of the things missed because in my girlhood, that I want to have a chat with you dear girls.

I hope you will understand why I have chosen to speak to you first, of your personal appearance.

I know "the spirit is more than raiment," and yet, as in a difficult and intricate problem, the first self evident facts are used as the foundation.

I would not have you over nice or fatidious, but I would wish you to be dainty.

Because, too, of the benefits others will receive, even if unconsciously, from seeing often before them a bright, tidy, dainty little woman.

Scrupulously perform each duty of the toilet necessary to make you absolutely cleanly; you will soon grow to enjoy the incomparable comfort of knowing you are clean throughout from dainty ears to feet.

Be neat too, about your own private room. Take pride in knowing that closest and bureau drawers will at any time bear close inspection.

In buying new clothing, make a strong effort to get the best even if you have to darn and mend the old ones a little longer to wait for more money.

If the dress is but calico, it may be durable, and of fast and becoming color. Then if daintily and becomingly made, the effect is all that could be desired.

THE WHEAT SITUATION.

American Grocer.

It is doubtful if ever before so much depended upon the crops as is the case this year.

This year the condition of affairs in Europe gave this country an exceptional market, and if we can be equally as well favored next year there need not be the slightest misgivings as to the future of trade.

During the fiscal year which closes June 30 the United States will have exported about 220,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Reserves (visible and invisible) (estimated) July 1, '92. 70,000,000 bushels.

Total probable supply July 1st, 1892. 620,000,000 bushels.

Required for food and seed 1892-93. 368,000,000 bushels.

Remaining for export and reserves. 252,000,000 bushels.

If crops are up to the average in Europe what will the United States do with 220,000,000 bushels of wheat it will have to spare?

The following is a school boy's composition on the above subject. The boy was expelled from school.

ALEX. L. BLOW, Chm. Dem. Com.
GREENVILLE, N. C., July 13th 1892.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES AND THE WEAVERITES.

In our last issue we spoke of a rumor that some of our delegates to the State and district convention which appointed delegates to the National Democratic convention had declared their purpose not to vote for the Democratic elector. We are now told that some of these very men expect to attend our Democratic primaries and participate in their proceedings. This to our mind would be a piece of duplicity which we do not believe any self-respecting man would be guilty of. It must be remembered that the county convention is called, in part, to send delegates to the Congressional convention which meets in Edenton on August 9th. This Congressional convention will nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress and also a Democratic candidate for elector for the first district. The Democratic primaries to be held on the 23rd at the various voting places in the county are the places where those who expect to vote for the Democratic candidates for elector. Congress, Governor and other offices ought to assemble and speak their will concerning these matters. And we insist that it is the duty of every citizen who intends to vote for the Democratic candidate for elector. Congress, etc., to be at these primaries and take part in their proceedings. We want all our people to go with us in this contest, and we cannot see why any man who has ever voted the Democratic ticket should break away and stray off after false gods. The Republican party has brought the country to the very verge of a centralized despotism administered in the interest of a few tariff barons who have fattened and grown upon the sweat and toil of the laboring masses, and to maintain their power we are now threatened by them with Force Bills and military control of our Federal elections. Now add to this the wild scheme of Weaver and his followers for this centralized government to own and operate the railroads and we have a centralized despotism as complete and powerful as can be found in any of the despotic governments of Europe. How any man tainted with the vicious viens of Weaver can think of going into a Democratic primary is beyond our comprehension. The doctrines of the Democratic party and the teachings of Weaver are as far apart as the east is from the west. About the last place for a Weaverite to be a Democratic meeting, unless he appeared there as a penitent. Bob Ferguson would not be more out of place at a Methodist camp-meeting or a Baptist Association.

It must be within the knowledge of every well-informed man that the Democratic party from its very organization has been on the side of the people. It has always had in its ranks, both North and South, the people who were creating the wealth of the country with their labor and toil in field and shop and vocation and homes. It must also be well known that the Republican party is under the complete domination and control of the monied lords of the North who have amassed immense fortunes out of the hard earnings of their misguided employes. The great factory owners have sought to justify the exorbitant protective tariff under which they have grown rich while the great mass of the people have grown poorer with the false plea that it enables them to pay better wages to the laborer and better compensation to the producer. In 1888 when honest, heroic Cleveland undertook to tear away this false pretense rested and to show the American people how they had been robbed, these very robbers determined to defeat this man of the people, unloosed their purse strings and poured out their millions to purchase the very people whom they had robbed and plundered. To the shame of the purchasable vote in New York and Indiana he said they succeeded in their wicked work. Harrison was elected and at once these men who had corrupted the ballot box and purchased his election for him demanded that they should have a return of their money by imposing still heavier burdens upon the people, and their demands were passed into a law. Taxation was largely increased, the people had to pay and these robbers got their reward. The people soon began to see how they had been deceived, cheated and swindled. Instead of good prices for labor and farm products as promised the laborer received less for his labor and the farmer less for his productions, till it finally dawned upon them that they had been outraged and deceived by the party which professed to be their friend, and when these people got another chance at the Republican party they rose up in revolt against it in 1890 and recorded a verdict against it which made the robbers of the people tremble, and gave hope and encouragement to the patriot and the oppressed in easy section of our broad land. It thus became apparent to these robbers and Republican leaders that unless something was done the day of deliverance of the people was nigh at hand, and they turned to the Federal control of elections through Force bills and other such wicked legislation, to overturn the will of the people and to retain this vile party in power.

And now comes the strange, incomprehensible part of what we have to say. Had it been told us we would not have believed it, it is so incredible, so incomprehensible! North Carolina is about to falter! After years of effort and labor and education, the laborers and farmers of the North and West were brought to see how they had been robbed by the Republican party which they had supported, and are now ready to join their Southern brethren in driving it from power. We in the South have long known its tyranny and its robbery. It compelled our best citizens to walk between bayonets to the polls or not go at all. It plundered our States and our people till there was scarcely anything left to steal and carry away. What has become of the memory and indignation of our people! How can they be forgetful of the past or indifferent to the present at this supreme moment! The people of the North and West have risen up in their might and in their power and are on the march to victory under Democratic banners. They look to the Democratic, down-trodden South to join them. Every breeze from the North is laden with their stern resolves to de-throne plutocracy and enthroned Democracy. Just at this critical moment we hesitate, differ, divide and all is lost. Weaver comes along with his alluring snares and patent promises and enough of our people follow him to give the State to Harrison and his army of plutocrats. Will North Carolina, the birth place of constitutional liberty, the home of the brave and free, the enemy to oppression and wrong, when victory and redemption and glory is in her reach, deliberately put these blessings aside and, by the divisions and dissensions of her own sons, fastened the oppressions of the Republican party still more firmly upon us? Carolinians! Men of Pitt county! shall such things ever be said of you? A thousand times no! Then let every Democrat in the county be up and doing. Talk with your neighbor. Reason with your erring brother. Bring them back into our grand old party which has so long fought for the right. Do not let them go astray and thus defeat us just when we are about to win the battle of the ages.

San Francisco is a corrupt city. Vice and immorality abound to a shameless degree. Dives dance halls and houses of ill repute line some of the principal thoroughfares and carry on their vice with open doors, unobscured by the law. Even the churches exert little influence there, it seeming to be the general sentiment to let everybody do as he pleases. As stated in a former letter the Call mustered the courage and backbone to attack some of these dives, and the efforts of that paper were beginning to have effect. In the municipal government there is almost no reform and in some respects they have come out on to the New York boodle-plunder idea. For instance a city hall—the finest any city of the nation can boast—is now nearing completion, at least it is thought it can be completed by an outlay of another million or two. Already about $4,000,000 have been expended on it, and at least $1,000,000 of that have been stolen by the bosses of the job.

All the above is one side of San Francisco—and may properly be termed the objectionable side. Still there is another and better side, some features of which fill the visitor with admiration. The city has many magnificent buildings, the main residence portion being especially attractive. The Palace Hotel with its thousand rooms, immense court and elegant appointments in every detail, is perhaps the grandest hostelry on the continent. A sad incident connected with this structure is that its builder committed suicide on the eve of its completion. He was a wealthy man but the building broke him, and when he drew his last dollar from the bank the trouble of mind was so great that he sought to escape by taking his own life.

At San Francisco is located a very large government mint, said to be the largest in Uncle Sam's domain. Some of our party visited the mint and were shown through all its apartments. We learned all about making gold and silver coin—that is, how Uncle Sam makes it, but the trouble is that none of the rest of us can make it that way, it still being decreed that we must continue to dig and delve for the few mites that find their way into our breeches pockets. This is pretty much the way the editor felt while looking on the millions being made and locked up there. The mint can make half a million a day and I saw $5 gold pieces dropped out at the rate of 190 a minute. In one vault of this mint was $20,000,000 silver dollars and in another $10,000,000 in gold and silver, but all the visitor could see of these was the heavy door bearing the seal and certificate of the examiner. In another vault were stored silver bricks to the value of $6,000,000, each brick being worth $1,250. We were allowed to handle and weigh one of these bricks, but not to walk off with it. The number of persons working in this mint is 210, and the system is so perfect that no employe could take the smallest coin or piece of metal without being detected.

And San Francisco has most attractive parks which to visit is delightful. Golden Gate Park is said to be the loveliest in the United States. It extensive drives and boulevards, lakes over whose bosom swans gracefully glide, beautiful flower beds and lawns, immensities of conservatory with every rare tropical plant, large aviary with all kinds of birds and fowls, an enclosure in which are confined deer, elk, buffalo, and other wild animals, its monuments, its extensive building and play ground for children, all combine to make it a place of exceeding beauty and attraction. The children's building and play ground alone cost $50,000 and was the generous gift of one man. The handsomest monument in the park is surmounted by a statue of Francis S. Key, the author of "Star Spangled Banner." No visitor to San Francisco comes away without going to the Cliff House. This is a hotel situated on a huge rock bluff right in the edge of the Pacific ocean six miles from the heart of the city. One can sit upon the balcony of this hotel and for hours watch the waves lash the rocks beneath his feet, and hear the barking of hundreds of lazy sea finks that bask upon the seal rocks rising above the water a short distance away. It is a strange sight to see these water animals rolling their ugly bodies about, their barking like a pack of hounds rising above the roar of the ocean and the splashing of the waves.

Just in rear of the Cliff House is another most delightful place to visit. It is Sausalito Heights, than which it does not seem possible a more beautiful spot could be found anywhere. It is an almost perpendicular elevation of 200 feet, upon the summit being the grounds of Adolph Sutro, one of California's millionaires. The grounds are reached by a winding road from the Cliff House, and when the entrance is passed a veritable Eden confronts the visitor, and exclamations of rapture cannot be suppressed. I never beheld such exquisite grounds, and was frequently lost in admiration while walking through them. The artistically planned walks of shrubs, flowers and evergreens, blending their rich colors as harmoniously as if from the artist's brush. Indeed it was only an artist's mind and an artist's hand that could plan and execute the many designs in which the various-colored flowers were planted. And to add to the beauty of the surroundings there were at frequent intervals among the flowers and along the walks copies in plaster of the leading ancient and modern works of art. Reaching the highest point of the grounds one finds himself looking over a parapet wall upon a view whose beauty cannot be pictured in words, and I will not attempt more than a passing description. From this height the great Pacific lay just at our feet and extended out before the eye until lost by kissing the distant horizon; on the left the ocean's beach extends for miles; on the right walled in by the bluff and heights upon which we stood on one side and by towering hills on the other was the Golden Gate through which numberless craft were sailing in and out of the bay and harbor; while behind lay the city, her tall spires and majestic buildings towering heavenward. The rolling billows of the great ocean tossed the white breakers about like playthings, and these being caught in the rays of the evening sun made the whole bosom of the water glisten with the brightness of silver, while the Academy gleams resting upon the Golden Gate robbed its waters in a sheet of gold and crimson. The scene was grand, it was inspiring.

Before leaving Sausalito Heights let me say that while Mr. Sutro has spent thousands of dollars in beautifying the 60 acres that compose these grounds and making it a place of such magnificence and grandeur, the outlay was not for his sole benefit. On the contrary the gate remains open throughout the day and visitors are at liberty to enter at will and enjoy the beauties that surround his summer home. He is a benefactor.

In my next I will tell of the departure of our party from San Francisco and of our journey through northern California and the north west.

Another Western Breeze. The Nominations—Tammany—Single Tax Club—The Negro Disgusted—Flood and Rain Storms. (From our regular correspondent.) CHICAGO, ILLS., June 30, 1892. At last the Democrats have selected their leaders for the coming campaign and they have got a good and clean ticket in the field, which will carry the majority of the Western States beyond a doubt. There is not a single thing the opposition party can say against the men personally. The fight will be one of principle and not of personal slander. The party lines will be drawn together and when the 4th of November rolls around it will then be decided whether the people of this great country wish to submit to over-taxation, force bills and bossisms, or whether they wish low taxes, freedom at the polls and honest government. If they wish the latter they will support and work for the Democratic ticket.

THE NOMINATIONS. On Thursday morning June 23rd at 3:19 Grover Cleveland was nominated on the first ballot receiving 6174 votes which was more than friends of the ex-President anticipated. After working for eleven long hours through the hardest rain and thunder storm that has ever visited our city they began to ballot amid the greatest excitement and enthusiasm that ever was known in a convention. On Thursday afternoon, Gen. A. E. Stephenson, of Ills., was nominated on the first ballot for Vice-President amid great applause. His name will add a great deal more strength to the ticket and will result in turning this State over to the Democrat party, which will be a death blow to Republicanism of the West. It is useless for me to say anything about the Democratic nomination for President as his four years of service speaks for itself.

GEN. A. E. STEPHENSON. Was born in Christian Co., Kentucky, October 28th, 1835. He belongs to an old North Carolina family. His father was of Scotch-Irish parentage and during his residence in Kentucky was a planter. Gen. A. E. Stephenson was elected to Congress in 1874 by a strong Republican District by a majority of 2640. In this campaign he was supported by both the Greenback, Democratic and anti-Monopoly parties. In McLean county one of the strongest Republican counties he carried it one vote. Although he has been defeated several times we must take under consideration that his canvass was made in the Republican strongest districts and was entirely given up by the Democrats as lost. He never did give up but fought them right and left and cut down their majority to a very small figure. He has been accused of being a Greenbacker. He does not deny it. It was clearly seen that the Democrats had no show whatever in his district. He was nominated by the Greenbackers. (He was urged by his Democratic friends to accept) and endorsed by the Democrats and won the victory. He is and always has been a good and clean and honest Democrat. When the 4th of November rolls around he will get a majority that will make the "Rads" sick at their stomachs for months to come.

TAMMANY. "Tammany will support the ticket and don't you forget it." This remark was made by one of Tammany's braves and they said it in earnest. In failing to nominate their candidate does not make them any less Democrats but will vote and work for them to the victor. When they left they were wearing Cleveland badges and shouting the ticket. The Republican papers are raising a howl that Cleveland will not carry New York without Tammany's assistance. They might as well drop such ideas as this for Tammany is going to support him on every side. Tammany has too much at stake in the city of New York this fall to knife him. They elect a Mayor the coming election and the Mayor is elected by the people. It is worth more to them than the State government, and when they begin to knife Cleveland the Cleveland Democrats will knife their Mayor and turn the city over to the Republicans, which will overthrow Tammany out of about twenty or thirty millions of dollars a year. So by this any considerable man can see why Tammany cannot afford to knife him.

THE SINGLE TAX CLUB ENDORSES THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET AND PLATFORM. The Single Tax Club of this city held a meeting and endorsed the Democratic platform and will work and support the ticket. The meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in their club rooms. This club is composed of business men who congregate together and discuss different subjects that will be a benefit to the government and the people at large. How to overcome unnecessary taxation, how to protect labor from monopolies etc., are among the subjects discussed. At the conclusion of their meeting the following resolutions were drawn up and adopted: WHEREAS, The representatives of the National Democratic party this day in convention assembled have placed in nomination for President of the United States, Grover Cleveland, of N. Y., and William B. Brewster, of Grover, Cleveland the fearless and intrepid leader who did not hesitate to throw down the gauntlet to protect monopoly, and by appointing the public mind to its normal position its dual overthrow, be it therefore Resolved, That we, the members of the Chicago Single Tax Club, congratulate the above-named representatives on the high tribute which their wise selection pay to public intelligence.

THE NEGRO DISGUSTED WITH THE REPUBLICAN PARTY. The negro is at last fast awakening to which party has been and is his friend. They are disgusted at the way their race has been disappointed and snubbed by the Harrison administration, and not only by Harrison but by the whole Republican party at large. The colored people of this county held a large and enthusiastic meeting at their headquarters, 170 Monroe street, last week. Not only was there Democratic negroes, but Republican negroes from seventeen different States. They say they are going to support the Democratic ticket and will send their best orators through the different States to show why the Democrats are their friends and where they have proved themselves worthy of their support. Among the noted colored men present were Dr. J. E. Thompson, C. H. J. Taylor, Henry F. Dowling, S. L. Marsh and others. After speaking and discussing the different parties and their platform the following resolution was drawn up and adopted: WHEREAS, We, as free American citizens, loyal to our race interest and solicitors of our country's prosperity, believe and declare that no citizen's rights should be enlarged or abridged because of race, color, nationality, or religion; and WHEREAS, Our belief is that the best and most substantial interests of all the people would be best subserved by the ascendency of the Democratic party, the election of the candidates to be nominated in its convention now in session in this city, and the administration of the affairs of government upon the principles of honest rule, State rights, equal and exact justice to all men, no special taxation and no special legislation, their platform being broad enough for every Afro-American disaffected with the misrule and perversion of the fundamental principles by the once grand old Republican party to stand upon; therefore Resolved, That a national Afro-American Democratic committee be and is hereby created to consist of five members from each State and one from each territory to serve four years, or until the first day of the national Democratic convention, whose duty shall be to maintain and disseminate Democratic principles and inaugurate and prosecute an aggressive campaign for the success of the Democratic nominees for President and Vice-President, keeping always in mind the best interests of the Afro-American citizen and the general prosperity of the country at large.

DO YOUR DUTY. To my Southern Democrats and friends, I plead to you to do your duty for your country and party. Do not let us on the 4th of November receive the message over the wires that the "Solid South" is broken. But instead, let it be said that you have done your duty, that you stand on a better foundation than ever. If you know how proud the Democrats of the West are of the "Solid South," you would put on an extra effort to hold her in the position she now stands. When the leaders of our party in the West refer to the "Solid South" in their speeches it always brings applause and cries "she's alright." "We can count on her." So do not let us be disappointed and when the returns come in to you from the West we will surprise you with Democratic gains and Democratic victories that will be remembered for ages to come.

THE REFLECTOR. Local Reflections.

Cotton Seed Meal for sale at the Old Brick Store. The New Home Sewing Machine for $35 at Brown Bros. The Teacher's Assembly has closed. It was a big affair this year. The New Home Sewing Machine and all parts at Brown Bros. July 6th.—Ten bushels Black Peas for sale at the Old Brick Store. Potatoes are still low—farmers have lost money on them this season. Want to eat something good? Boss Biscuits at the Old Brick Store. Cash given for Produce, Hides, Eggs and Furs at the Old Brick Store. Cheapest Furniture, Bedsteads and Mattresses at the Old Brick Store. If you want to hear some good speeches don't miss the ratification meeting to-morrow night. The Rev. Mr. Gibble preached in the Episcopal church last Sunday, both morning and night. Mr. W. R. Parker sent the REFLECTOR a curiosity last week. It was a soft shell egg the shape of a gourd. Owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. G. F. Smith, there was no preaching service in the Methodist church Sunday. Be at the Court House to-morrow night at the organization of the Cleveland and Carr club. Every Democrat should be there. The first and second Regiments of the State Guard go into camp at Wrightsville to-morrow week. They will camp on the new grounds. A delightful lay-out was had last Friday night by a party of young folk. They had two wagon loads and enjoyed themselves immensely. The REFLECTOR office has just received a large lot of visiting cards and can fill all orders for the same. We have them bevel, gilt and plain. A picnic was had at the tobacco warehouse last Tuesday and big time was had all around. They set a splendid table and was highly enjoyed by all. Tuesday, July 19th, is the date of the grand family excursion to Norfolk from Kinston by the way of Greenville. And $2.75 is the round trip fare. The Greenville Alliance held its regular meeting here Saturday. Resolutions upon the death of Col. Polk were adopted and are published in another column. WANTED.—An energetic honest man to represent the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York. Address T. H. Dick, Jr. District Manager Barbours, N. C. The grand excursion to Norfolk from Kinston by the way of Greenville, on Tuesday, July 19th, will be a success in every particular. Fare for round trip $2.75. The tri-weekly freight now makes connections with the A. & N. C. railroad for Morehead City. The train leaves here Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 2 o'clock P. M. A lady who has two or three hours leisure each day can make money by assisting me in my business. Address with stamp, Mrs. L. N. Edwards, Greenville, North Carolina. Grand family excursion from Kinston to Norfolk, via Greenville and Harve, via Greenville, on Tuesday, July 19th. Fare from Greenville $2.75. Everybody should go. Fifty-six to a car is what the managers announce is all they will take on. We mean the grand excursion to Norfolk on July 19th. Everybody should go and take their families. No crowding, plenty of room. Fare $2.75. Attention is called to the advertisement of Hamilton Institute, fall term of which opens Aug. 29th. REFLECTOR readers know Prof. Duckett, Principal of the Institute, and know the character of the work he is qualified to do. The REFLECTOR is requested to announce that there will be a reform mass meeting in the Court House at 4 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. Several graduates of Keely Institute will make addresses. Public invited. Hon. F. M. Simmons, of New Bern, was last week chosen as chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. He is a thorough Democrat, a man of ability, and will occupy the position with credit to himself and the party. Something every tobacco planter of Pitt county ought to be interested in is "A Hoghead Story" told by A. G. Cox in another column. He is going to manufacture the very best hogheads this season and will deliver them at convenient places to customers. A company has organized in Greenville for the publication of The Eastern Tobacco Journal and Planters Guide. The publication will be devoted to the advancement of the tobacco interests of eastern North Carolina. The first issue will appear early in August. SOMETHING NEW—I will sell hats, flowers, gauze ribbons, pictures, easels and fancy ware right down at cost. Also a beautiful line of hamburger laces, etc. Give me a call before going elsewhere and be convinced of the great reduction in prices. Mrs. FANNIE JOYNER. Next Saturday week, 23rd, is the time for holding the township primaries. These will be Democratic meetings, and it will be dishonorable in any man to take part in these meetings unless he intends to support the nominees of the Democratic party, from President down to Constable. There are some aspirants for office in this county of whom it is said they will not declare whether or not they will vote for Cleveland and evade the question when it is put to them. No man should receive the slightest consideration at the hands of a Democratic convention unless that man intends to support every nominee of the party without exception. In the REFLECTOR to-day appears a card from Mr. R. M. Hearne announcing himself as a candidate for the nomination for the office of Register of Deeds of Pitt county. There is not a doubt about the ability of Mr. Hearne to fill the position, and should the people nominate and elect him to the office they will find him in every way qualified to serve the county faithfully.

Personal. Mrs. B. F. Sugg is quite sick. Master Guy Williamson has returned from Suffolk. Miss Ione May, of Farmville, is visiting Mrs. W. R. Parker. Rev. R. D. Carroll preached in the Baptist church here Sunday morning. Mrs. C. D. Rountree, is visiting the family of her brother, Dr. Johnson, at Grifton. Sheriff B. W. Edwards and Mr. F. L. Rouse, of Greene county, were in town yesterday. Rev. A. D. Hunter has returned home and will occupy his pulpit in the Baptist church next Sunday. Miss Jennie Joyner, of Scotland Neck, who was visiting the Misses Higgs, returned home Saturday. Mr. G. W. Evans, is now contractor and carrier of the mail between Greenville and Washington. Mr. J. White left yesterday to attend the grand encampment of Odd Fellows which meets in Winston to-day. Mr. Thos. Balfour left for Rock Hill, S. C. Monday morning where he goes to accept a position with his father. Mr. R. M. Hearne came up from Washington Saturday, and remained until Monday evening with his family. Mrs. Dan Perry and children, and Miss Clyde Sutton, of Kinston, have been visiting the family of Mr. H. A. Sutton the last few days. Mr. D. P. Haskett, of Raleigh, a brother of our townsman, Mr. D. D. Haskett, has located in Greenville and will engage in business here. The REFLECTOR extends him a welcome.

AYDEN NOTES. The drummers are quite numerous now. Mr. T. A. Nichols and Master Heber were in town this week. Miss Nannie Cox opened the public school last week at Spring Branch. Mr. Chas. Gough, Prof. Foster and Mr. Tatum were stopping at the Baker House Thursday. Unavoidable circumstances prevented the notes of last week reaching you in time for print. Misses Lydia and Laura Garris and Miss Annie Collins are visiting at Mrs. Tump Harrington's. Married, at the bride's father's, July 6th, 1892, Mr. Jesse Hart to Miss Pennie Garris. May you live long and be happy. We are very much in need of a place of worship. Why don't the good people in and around Ayden build a school house and chapel? The farmers are having too much rain for their good. Lookout, the green flag will be waving in their corn and cotton fields ere long. Listen! for the marriage bell will soon peal forth with all its glory and a handful of rice will be scattered around the depot (agent) if all reports are true. Mr. W. E. Patrick is the champion chicken buyer of Ayden. Mess. Hart & Harrington are also successful in chicken buying. They say trade this week was better than had been for some time. A. V. L. July 8th, 1892.

A REPLY TO PLANTER. EDITOR REFLECTOR.—In a recent issue of the REFLECTOR is a card signed by "A Planter" in which he says that a brilliant future is in store for the Greenville tobacco market. Now, Mr. Editor, while I thank "Planter" heartily for his history of tobacco culture in Pitt county, also for the good he speaks for Greenville, still I do not agree with his views of the situation. "Planter" seems to doubt that there will be the proper interest in Greenville as a tobacco market and says that everything depends on G. F. Evans, O. L. Joyner and Alex Heilbroner. Now, Mr. Planter, this is not right. I think to secure the Greenville market's success depends equally as much on the farmers of Pitt and adjacent counties and on the citizens of the town as it does on those directly interested in the tobacco business. Mr. Planter need have no doubts about my doing everything in my power to make Greenville the best market in the east, and unless Mr. Joyner and Mr. Evans are different men than I think they are they will also work exceedingly hard for the same purpose. Not only this but there is not a merchant or citizen in Greenville who does not want Greenville to stand pre-eminent as a tobacco market and these same citizens will exert their influence and abilities to accomplish that end. Who can doubt that such men as C. W. Priddy, M. R. Lang, Alfred Forbes, S. M. Schultz, W. S. Rawls, J. B. Cherry, R. J. Cobb, E. A. Moye, and I might mention every citizen of the town, will assist to make the Greenville market a whooping success. No, Mr. Planter, let the planters of Pitt and adjacent counties but lend us their assistance and we will in a short time show them the possibilities of the Greenville market. When a planter brings his tobacco to Greenville we want him to feel that he is selling his tobacco at home, at my word for it, Mr. Planter, you can promise all your friends that the Greenville market will be foremost among the best markets of the east during the coming season. Want of space forbids my writing more on the subject, but if "Planter" will make himself known to me I will point out to him the advantages of Greenville and a home market. ALEX HEILBRONER.

A Voice From Richmond. Richmond, Va., June 8, 1890. In '86 I was a severe sufferer from Rheumatic Gout. I was advised to try "Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy." I used 12 bottles, which made a perfect cure of me, and I have not had a return of the trouble since. I also found it a fine nerve, as one of its strong points. S. S. CADDOE. A Hoghead Story. I wish by this means to tell the people that I have prepared and am still preparing a large lot of material for Tobacco Hogheads. And to make it as convenient as possible for my customers I have decided to run two wagons on the road to deliver them at most convenient places. And I further promise that I will use my best efforts to put up such size and quality of Hogheads as the demand may want. And think I can compete in price with any. I will also pay special attention to making Hauling and Brackets for tramping horses you may build. Please see the before placing your orders or address me at Winterville, N. C. Respectfully, A. G. COX.

Destructive Fire. The large steam saw and planing mill situated at the A. & B. Junction was totally lost by fire on last Sunday morning about 1:30 o'clock. The mill owned by Mess. Parmele & Eccleston, was valued at $30,000 and was insured for $25,000. Several thousand feet of lumber was also burned. The night fireman was on duty and heard a roaring sound on the second floor and ran up stairs and threw open the door to the shaving room and the fire burst out and shot through the mill, consuming things as it went. It is supposed that it caught from a spark. We have not heard whether they will rebuild or not. The W. & W. railroad lost considerably by the fire, as several freight cars side-tracked near the mill were burned. Rible Presentation. When Mr. R. M. Hearne was transferred from Greenville to the Old Dominion office in Washington, he tendered his resignation as teacher of a class of young men in the Methodist Sunday-school. He had taught the class for a year and a half and they were much attached to each other. He came to Greenville Saturday to visit his family and attended Sunday-School next morning. The class availed itself of the opportunity offered by his presence and through Mr. W. F. Harding presented him with a splendid Oxford teacher's Bible, Mr. Harding making a neat presentation speech, voicing the admiration of the class for their former instructor. Mr. Hearne was taken by surprise but responded feelingly. Such little incidents are always pleasant and always help to smooth over the rough places in life's pathway.

NATURE VERSUS ART.
I know this hymn rhyme isn't perfect,
But rhyme is the best of the best.
The bird does not measure its music
That warbles the whole day long.
Nor them starting up their squawking
When their green trees don't grow white.

BOUM-BOUM.
The mother had seized Jacques' hand and spoke very low, as if demanded.
"What does that mean, Jacques?
He is lost!"
But the father had on his rough, workman's face a smile almost happy, but astonished, too; the smile of a condemned man who foresees a possibility of liberty.

BOUM-BOUM.
The child was lying stretched out in his little white bed, and his eyes grown large through fever, looked straight before him, always with the strange fixity of the sick who already perceive what the living do not see.

BOUM-BOUM.
The mother at the foot of the bed,
torn by suffering and wringing her
hands to keep herself from crying, anxiously followed the progress of the disease on the poor emaciated face of the little being.

BOUM-BOUM.
The child looked, but did not recognize the clown, and turned and twisted his body between his fingers, as if he were afraid to touch him.

torn by suffering and wringing her
hands to keep herself from crying,
anxiously followed the progress of

The Dog Bought to Defend His Master.
A gentleman owning a fine bulldog invited a friend to inspect him. The two proceeded to the carriage house, the dog was released and his possible admirer, wearing of his coat, the friend spying a set of boxing gloves invited the host to a friendly set-to. The challenge was accepted, the gloves were donned and the two men raised their hands in the attitude of defense.

A Quaker's Letter to a Jeweler.
A jeweler of Boone, Ia., received the following communication, which accompanied a watch sent to him by a Quaker customer to be repaired:
Dear Sir:—I hereby send you my pocket clock, which stands in need of friendly correction. The last time it was in your hands it was in a very bad way, and thereby, for I perceive by the index of its time that it is a liar and the truth is not in it, I beg, therefore, I beseech thee, correct it from the error of its ways, and show it the path wherein it should go. And when thou hast corrected the hand upon it, see that it is without passion, lest thou shouldst drive it to destruction, and when thou see it conforming to the spirit of moderation, I will return it to thee in the root of a true heart.

A Duel in the Dark.
Cornelius O'Dowd, in one of his inimitable essays, tells us that once upon a time in the County of Clare a quarrel occurred in the hunting field between two gentlemen who we will call Captain Robins and W. Jones, Esq. Very hot words were passed between the two, and the captain, besides the usual "I have pistols in the house," "I have a better," "I'm your man."

A Free Music Lesson.
The great baritone, Lassalle, with a congenial company of fellow artists, among whom were Dunbar Price,
Mrs. Blackstone and one of the De Reszkies, was one noonday in the summer time taking breakfast on the veranda of the Bessyroy hotel at Versailles, when two-eyed itan-ciant Italian musicians came along and began to play the harp and sing one of Valentine's songs from
"Faust."
