DISCIPLES IN COUNCIL.

The Watch-Tower.

The North Carolina Christian Missionary Convention met at Grifton, October 25th and adjourned October 27th.

FIRST DAY.

The Convention was formally opened by an address of welcome by the editor of the Watch-Tower...

The following committees were appointed: On Finance, P. H. Johnson, W. R. Tetterton and J. H. Rountree...

The roll of churches was called and many responded by delegates and very encouraging letters.

The Convention took recess for dinner. After dinner the President called the house to order. Devotional exercises conducted by Bro. J. T. Davis.

The committee on preaching reported that Bro. M. T. Moye preached to-night at Salem and Bro. C. C. Smith in the Methodist church.

The President announced the following committee on the election of officers: W. R. Parker, Alfred Gaskins, R. A. L. Carr, J. S. Basnight, S. H. Rountree.

Bro. Henry Winfield delivered his address on "Are there Objections to our Mission Work?"

The night session was devoted to discussion of the theme opened by Bro. L. L. Chestnut "Shall we have a State Evangelist?"

The committee on grouping the churches submitted the following report: The committee declines to interfere with arrangements...

SECOND DAY.

The convention was called to order by President Farmer and devotional exercises conducted by Bro. D. W. Davis.

Bro. C. C. Smith of Ohio, agent for the education and evangelization of the negro, addressed the convention in one of the ablest speeches we have heard in behalf of the negro and his education, morally, spiritually and religiously. Bro. Smith submitted the following propositions which he calls peps: 1. Does the negro need education? 2. Does he want it? 3. Will it do him good? 4. Whose duty is it to help him?

The corresponding secretary read his report which we trust to be able to lay before our readers. The report was passed over to the committee on evangelizing.

After attending to miscellaneous business the convention adjourned until the night session. The night session was devoted to our educational work.

The roll of churches was called and many responded by delegates and very encouraging letters.

A PLAIN GIRL.

Said a young friend to me the other day: "I had only been born with good looks I might be more attractive to people. Now, there's Alice Scott, she has such beautiful eyes, and Hattie Barnes such a lovely complexion, and Maria Reed—well, her face is altogether perfect; but I am plain, and you know me as plain as a rail."

"You are much mistaken," I interrupted, "although it is true not understanding, Miss Saxebox; I was going to tell you about a lady I met."

"One morning my friend and I were sitting on the veranda reading, and hearing the gate click I looked up and saw a very plain looking woman coming up the drive way."

"But after all she was attractive—the did have some class," my friend said. "I've finished Miss Impetuousity," I answered. "I learned afterwards that when Miss Rollins was in her girlhood she spent so much time fretting over her looks that she really made herself very unattractive and unlovely; but it was her good fortune to meet with one who urged her to self-forgetfulness and a desire to please and help others, and soon she learned that a kind, thoughtful act, a sympathetic word and a pleasant smile went further than mere beauty of countenance."

"But she couldn't change her voice," still argued the girl. "Indeed she could, Miss Incredulous," I replied. "A voice trained only to articulate the gentlest and kindest of words unconsciously grows soft and musical in tone. Don't you suppose that if Miss Rollins had kept on grieving and grumbling because of the plainness of her features she would soon have cultivated a fretful and whining tone? And if gloomy and peevish thoughts had been allowed to rankle in her heart instead of the winsome smile there would have been scowls and wrinkles?"

"Ah, my dear! true beauty comes from within if the heart is right; if peace, contentment and love dwell within it, they will reflect themselves in the countenance and brighten the outward features. So take my advice, accept the inevitable, give up thinking about your looks, do good and be good, and in the end you will be happier and have more friends than if you had simply a pretty face."

"Beautiful faces are they that wear the light of a quiet spirit there, it matters little if dark or fair."

Shiloh's Consumption Cure. This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the most obstinate cases of Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine.

THE POLLY OF NEGLECT. Neglect is the great cause of failure. Success is in every man's reach if he takes pains to succeed. We must face our task and work for our might to accomplish it.

Have you ever suffered that excruciating torture known only to persons who have experienced the progress of gonorrhea? It is not unusual for Mr. Pickle to hand out at one time a long string of rod of sakers in this way.

A PERFECT WIFE.

On the anniversary of their marriage Edmund Burke presented to his wife this pen portrait of her charms. It may serve as a mirror in which wives of the present day may view themselves:

"She is not handsome, but it is a beauty not arising from features, from complexion, or from shape. She has all these in a high degree, but it is not by these she touches a heart; it is all that sweetness of temper, benevolence, innocence, and sensibility which a face can express that forms her beauty. She has a face that just raises your attention at first sight; it grows on you every moment, and you wonder it did no more than raise your attention at first."

"Her voice is a soft, low music, not formed to ruse in public assemblies, but to charm those who can distinguish a company from a crowd; it has this advantage, you must come close to her to hear it. To describe her body describes her mind; one is the transcript of the other; her understanding is not shown in the variety of matters it exerts itself on, but in the goodness of the choice she makes. She does not display it so much in saying or doing striking things, as in avoiding such as she ought not to say and do."

"No person of so few years can know the world better; no person was ever less corrupted by the knowledge. Her politeness flows rather from a natural disposition to oblige than from any rules on the subject, and therefore never fails to strike those who understand good breeding and those who do not. She has a steady and firm mind, which takes no more from the solidity of the female character than the solidity of marble does from its polish and luster. She has such virtues as makes us value the truly great of our own sex. She has all the winning graces that make us love even the faults we see in the weak and beautiful in hers."

With such a wife it is surprising that Burke could aver "that every car vanished the moment he started beneath his own roof!"

Since its first introduction, Electric Bitters has gained rapidly in popular favor, until now it is clearly in the lead among pure medicinal tonics and alteratives containing no alcohol or narcotics.

Following is a little story told by Joe H. Worth, says the Minneapolis Journal: A little girl, not more than four years old, the only child of some friends whom H. Worth used to visit frequently, was always puzzling her little brain about thunderstorms, what they were and what made those loud noises. One day she asked her mother about it, and her mama answered, "Why, darling, that loud noise is the voice of God."

Mr. David Pickle, of the Cuba district, Blakely, Ga., has a new mode of catching fish. The plan is this: The fish are baited for some days with a mixture of flour and magnetized steel filings made into stiff paste or dough. When they begin to take the bait a magnetized iron or steel rod, coated with the same kind of paste, is let down to them. They soon attempt to suck the paste from it, and in doing so stick hard and fast.

It is not unusual for Mr. Pickle to hand out at one time a long string of rod of sakers in this way. This plan of fishing, combined with Mr. Cal Odom's method of frightening or setting fire to the fur of raccoons and burning them out of the highest trees with roman candles, is bound to revolutionize hunting and fishing in this section.

Have you ever suffered that excruciating torture known only to persons who have experienced the progress of gonorrhea? It is not unusual for Mr. Pickle to hand out at one time a long string of rod of sakers in this way.

REAL FRIENDS.

You may have heard your mother tell how, when she went to school, she had such a dear girl friend, and how they two have kept up the friendship for many long years, and you have perhaps heard her say that school friendships are often the most enduring of any. Then you have wondered if you and your present "best friend" will love each other when both of you are gray-headed. Now let us see how things stand between you and your best friend Anna. Of course you like her very much, but you must confess that very frequently there comes a little "tiff," and you "fall out." When such a thing happens you straightway transplant your affections to some other girl, and your friend does likewise.

Now isn't it rather silly to have these unhappy differences so frequently? If Anna does some very unworthy act, then she deserves the loss of your friendship; but in your regard so frail a thing that it cannot stand small differences of opinion? Can not you be more generous?

If your friend is lovable and you are the kind of girl you ought to be, then you will bear with her inconsistencies and put up with some of her faults. Perhaps you are not quite perfect yourself, and she may have to bear some things from you. If your friendship is the real thing, you will remember that love "hath all things," "beareth all things," and so bearing many things patiently and sweetly, you will find that years will not weaken, but will rather strengthen, your mutual bond of intercourse.—H. A. P.'s Young People.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. A marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, etc.

CHERISH YOUR GIRLHOOD. Dear girls, don't be so often wishing you were grown up women that you will neglect your girlhood.

Be girls a while yet; tender, joyous, loving, obedient and industrious. Womanhood, with its privileges, and power, its burdens and its trials, will come soon enough. On this point, one has said: "Wait patiently, my children, through the whole limit of your girlhood. Go not after womanhood; let it come to you. Keep out of public view. Cultivate refinement and modesty. The cares and responsibilities of life will come soon enough. When they come, you will meet them, I trust, as true women should. But oh, be not so unwise as to throw away your girlhood. Rob not yourself of this beautiful season, which, wisely spent, will brighten all your future life."

A Million Fit and. A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds.

A Good Name. "A good name is to be desired above great riches." Remember essential in life, the one thing without which you cannot hope to get along in this world or the next.

CLEVE AND STEVE.

Good Morning.

It's four years more of Grover.

Yesterday was a Democratic day.

It was a glorious day for Democracy and the country.

Where was the party when the cyclone struck it yesterday.

Now name the day for a big torchlight procession and let's all celebrate a well earned victory.

The REFLECTOR raises its flags this morning and turns loose its chickens with permission to do their most lusty crowing. We feel good all over and so do the chickens.

The counties all around us did the handsome thing yesterday. Beaufort, Greene, Wilson and Martin give good Democratic majorities, Edgecombe elects several Democrats and glorious old Halifax piles up her majority above a half thousand.

The returns that came in from the several county precincts last night are sufficient to show that Pitt is Democratic by a nice majority notwithstanding the Third party Republican combine to defeat her. We have not all the figures in hand to publish this morning, to show how well Pitt done, but she spread herself handsomely.

All the election telegrams last night gave glorious returns from all over the country. It was a regular walk over for the Democracy. Pitt county elects her entire Democratic ticket by a nice majority. Elias Carr and the State ticket are elected over the entire combination. Grover Cleveland carries New York, Illinois, Connecticut, New Jersey, the solid South, and is elected President by a great majority.

ALABAMA.

Montgomery—42 precincts from various parts of the State give Cleveland a majority of 4,337.

Montgomery.—At this hour, 1 A. M., news from this State is sufficient to indicate a majority for Cleveland of at least 25,000 and some counties that freely gave a large majority for Kalb here returned large majority for Cleveland and the democratic Congressmen.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit—60 precincts outside of Wayne county give Rich for Governor 7,501, Morse 6,532.

Detroit.—Only about one fourth of Michigan has reported, still both sides claim majority. The democrats claim 5 of the 12 Congressmen.

OHIO.

Cincinnati—26 precincts in Cincinnati give Harrison 4,871, Cleveland 3,761. Same in 1891 gave McKinley 4,109, Campbell 3,240. There are 2,801 voting precincts in Ohio. McKinley's plurality in 1891 was 21,511.

Cincinnati—87 scattering precincts outside of Cincinnati and Cleveland gives Harrison a plurality of 929. Same precincts in '91 gave Campbell, democrat, plurality of 440.

Cincinnati—79 precincts outside of Cleveland and Cincinnati gives Harrison a plurality of 653. Same in 1890 gave complete democratic plurality of 377.

Cincinnati—224 precincts outside of Cleveland and Cincinnati give Harrison a plurality of 4,398.

COLORADO.

Denver—39 towns and precincts outside of Arapahoe county gives Harrison 656, Weaver 996.

THE REFLECTOR.

Local Reflections.

Yesterday did the work. Have you paid your taxes? The fair will soon be over. This has been a very dry fall. Hog killing time dra veth near. The Nursery is delivering fruit trees. Did your vote help to elect yesterday? Dig stock of Shoes just in at Brown Bros. You always see rain about election times. It was almost summer weather last week. Almanacs for 1893 are putting in their appearance. The gobbler is roosting high—Thanksgiving near. No doubt many feel relieved that the election is over. The New Home Sewing Machine for 35 at Brown Bros. The next date of general interest is Thanksgiving Day. Interest in everything else takes a back seat for the election. We had a regular summer thunder storm Thursday night. Rocky Mount fair begins to-day—excursion there to-morrow. The weather won't settle. Some people are just like the weather. New Home Sewing Machines and all machine parts at Brown Bros. It's a queer man that wouldn't rather feel his oats than his coars. These changes in the weather are fine for giving people bad colds. New Cream Cheese and N. Y. State Butter at the Old Brick Store. There was more frost Sunday morning but it has turned warm again. Want to eat something good? Boss Biscuits at the Old Brick Store. Nice unlined paper, envelopes to match, at Reflector Book Store. Cheapest Furniture, Bedsteads and Mattresses at the Old Brick Store. The closing days of the campaign were full of excitement and hard work. For a sweet snook go to Rountree's and get a Linden or Cardenas cigar. Wilmington will have her Welcome Week this year, commencing Nov. 26. Cash given for Produce, Hides, Egg and Furs at the Old Brick Store. Several entertainments are already spoken of for the coming holidays. The turkey has heard that Thanksgiving Day is named and will keep his eye open. First of the season—New fancy buckwheat and cherry jelly at the Old Brick Store. The Pitt County Rifles had a meeting and drill practice Friday afternoon with 25 out. Mr. M. C. Letchworth says his wife has a dancing clock that comes in and dances for his meals. Chrysanthemums are in bloom and several flower yards in town are real bowers of loveliness. There was a very large crowd in town Saturday and the Mayor had some cases for fighting to settle. The N. C. Conference of the M. E. church, South, meets in Goldsboro on the 14th of December. Large lot Ladies Cloaks, latest styles, at Brown Bros. If size wanted is not in stock can have it made to order on short notice. Attention is called to the notice to creditors by Fernando Ward, administrator of John Fleming. The building of the Coast Line railroad to Washington has made quite a business of fish and oyster shipping. If the daily papers have not done fine work in the last few days, there was never a time when they did. Monday night the town was full of smoke which the strong south wind blew in from the burning forests. There are some people now who will be lost for something to do—no speaking to go to and no politics to talk. The Reflector Book Store is this week expecting a splendid lot of new books. Get your pick as soon as they arrive. The Gritton Lamp-Light has closed its first year. It is a bright little paper and we wish Dr. Loftin much success with it. Many of the towns are being troubled with burglars. It is well enough that everybody should be well fortified against them. The candidate of a week ago will now not feel altogether so much interest in how your wife and little ones are getting on. Liberal premiums are offered for the best exhibits at the Weldon Fair. There is no reason why Pitt county cannot win some of them. The election is over now—everybody buckle down and go to work. The government is not going to take care of you or give you any money. Happy and content is a home with the Rochester, a lamp with the light of the morning. For catalogue write Rochester Lamp Co., New York. People ought to appreciate this issue of the REFLECTOR. The force worked all night last night in order to give the election news early this morning. NOTICE—All persons indebted to me for Guano will find their notes and accounts in the hands of J. L. Sugg. They will please call on him and settle the same. H. HARDING. November 1st, 1892. MISS LITTLE E. BROWN. THE NEW.

Personal. Miss Ida Garrison, of Ayden, is visiting Miss Lucy Cox. Mrs. John Crow, of Goldsboro, is visiting Mrs. W. H. Cox. Mr. J. B. Yellowley left last Wednesday for Mississippi, to be absent several weeks. Mr. J. F. Joyner has moved into the Swindell house on the corner near the Baptist church. Mr. H. T. King, a young man of this county who is traveling in South Carolina, was in town last week. Rev. R. W. Stancil has made his residence in Greenville and occupies the house next to Dr. W. M. B. Brown. Mr. T. C. Bryan, who has been absent several weeks at Asheville and other points returned home last Thursday. Misses Claig and Healden, representing the Eclectic Magazine, of Raleigh, have been spending a few days here canvassing for that journal. Rev. J. E. Winecoff, the Presbyterian minister at LaGrange, will preach at the Opera House on next Sabbath at 11 A. M., and at 7 P. M. Mrs. W. A. Stocks has moved her family back to Greenville and occupies the building recently vacated by Mr. J. F. Joyner. Mr. W. C. Jackson, who was at the A. & M. College, Raleigh, came home to vote. It was his first vote and he wanted to put it in for the straight Democracy. For two years in succession Mr. R. R. Cotten, of this county, has won the $75 premium for having the most tobacco at the Rocky Mount exposition. The President has named Thursday, Nov. 24th, as Thanksgiving Day. If the election is against him we would not give much for Bennie's thankfulness. The County Commissioners were in session Monday. There was not a great deal of work to do except allow a large number of delinquents to list their taxes. Most of the school boys wore long faces last week. The quarterly examinations gave them all they could look after and they were wondering how they would come out. The REFLECTOR man always likes to get in good company, consequently he made one of seven red-headed men to go to the polls in a body and vote yesterday morning. From applications we know of it looks like there will not be near enough houses in Greenville to accommodate all who want to live here next year. They ought to be more building going on. The fellow who thought yesterday that he would be elected but finds out today that he is not, feels about as bad as the man who went to blow a dose of cologne down a bulldog's throat "and the darned mule howled first." The REFLECTOR job office expects there will be a rush of mercantile printing just after the election and has prepared for it. We have just received a big lot of the very best paper and envelopes. Business men should see it. The long dry spell and continued low water in the river has not been relieved by the steamboats. The boats have barely been able to get to Greenville and for some time have not been further up the stream. Some cotton has been brought down the river on rafts and flats. The men who refuse to advertise in the local paper, but will pay a dollar for a three line write-up in some out of town journal, or catch-penny advertising scheme, where they can have no hope of getting any return, are not the men who are going to make a city prosperous, and build up five progressive papers.—Durham Sun. The REFLECTOR hopes many of those readers who subscribed for the campaign have liked the paper so well that they will continue taking it. The price is only $1 a year or 25 cents for three months. The time for which several subscribers expires with this issue. We will be glad to have you all renew and promise to make the paper interesting at all times. The Galates. Galetas is here and exhibitions are given each half hour from 2 to 5 P. M., and from 7:30 to 10 P. M. It is an interesting show and well worth the admission price of 15 cents. The wonder can be seen next door to the REFLECTOR office. The Washington Gazette's in the last issue has this to say of Galetas. "Lynn's Wonderful Illusion Shows are having quite a run here every evening in the Town Hall. A plaster cast is submitted to examination by the spectators. Replaced then on the stand it apparently changes to a living, beautiful lady, a rose is placed on her breast, changes back again to a statue, the rose turning to stone, and again the statue changes into a beautiful woman and the rose to life. The lady then gradually dies away to a skeleton, the skeleton changing to a bouquet of flowers; a lady appears in the bouquet, and then she is transformed into stone again. It is a truly wonderful performance and worth many times the admission fee of fifteen cents. Literary Note. From a prospectus that has come to hand we see that the old and long popular Peterson's Magazine is now under new management and will be converted into an illustrated periodical devoted to literature and art, under the title of The New Peterson Magazine. One thing that pleases the REFLECTOR with this new magazine is that our talented lady friend, Miss M. G. McClelland, of Virginia, is on the editorial staff. The editor-in-chief is Frank Lee Benedict, with Octave Thanet, M. G. McClelland and Howard Seely as associate editors. Besides these, whose names alone are sufficient guarantee for the literary excellence of the publication, the list of contributors will include many of the leading authors of the day. Each name above has already won great distinction in the literary world, and we are proud that two of the editorial staff are Southern writers. In recognition of this compliment the South should give The New Peterson Magazine a handsome support. We hope many of those who have read Miss McClelland's excellent productions will become subscribers. The address of The New Peterson Magazine will be 112-114 South Third St., Philadelphia.

Saturday's Record. Last Saturday was a day of disturbances and casualties. After filling up with an abundance of whiskey there were as many as seven fights in town among the colored people that evening and night. Alex Bailey was severely cut in one of these fights. The same night there was a difficulty at Gritton in which a colored man came out with a cracked skull. The particulars as told us are that a colored man went into the store of Mr. Kit Bland and purchased a bottle of whiskey. He took the bottle and his change and walked out. A few minutes later he went back in the store and asked for his change, saying he had not received it. Being told that he had already received it he became abusive whereupon the proprietor attempted to put him out. While this was going on another colored man ran up and struck Bland. This man was knocked down when he got up and started at Bland again he was struck on the head with something that fractured his skull. The same night there was a very ugly affair out in Beaver Dam township. It seems that previously there had been some hot words between Dr. Pitt and Mr. Nelson Nichols. About midnight Saturday night some parties went to the house in which Pitt lived to make an assault on him. They called to him and when he refused to open the door they broke in. Several shots were fired. Pitt emptied a pistol and snapped a gun at the intruders, and this failing to stop them he began using an axe. He struck one man on the head and another on the arm. The man struck on the head is a son of Nichols and the blow crushed his skull. On Monday morning warrants were sworn out against Nichols and his son and some other parties and in the afternoon a preliminary hearing began before Esquire B. S. Sheppard. Sunday morning near Lassiter's store, or Lizzie, in Greene county, a colored man was found dead on the road. There were no marks on his person to indicate any violence having been done him. He was known to be very drunk Saturday evening and the opinion is that he fell on the road and died from exposure. Evaporated Sweet Potatoes. Few people know how easily sweet potatoes can be dried, even in the sun, and how handy and useful the dried potatoes are. At best sweet potatoes are a troublesome crop to keep, but when dried or cured in an evaporator they are really no trouble to keep and are always at hand for use on the table at short notice. They should be sliced and then evaporated. Then to use them they are soaked to restore the evaporated moisture and then baked in pans as the fresh ones often are. They are an admirable article for puddings and pies. For this purpose it would be better, it seems to me, to grind them into meal and put up in packages with directions for making puddings. Put up in this way it ought not to be much trouble to create a market for the dried sweet potatoes. There is already an evaporating plant at Greensboro, and if this, or some other establishment, would undertake the putting up of the sweet potato meal in packages the article would sell well. Grocersmen are slow to take hold of such products in the crude evaporated state, but in such packages, with a few attractive hand-bills and a lot of receipts for making the many delicious preparations that can be made from sweet potatoes, a market could soon be made for a product that Eastern North Carolina can supply in limitless quantities. Who will start this enterprise.—W. F. Massey. A Public Speaker Who is Welcome for the Stories he Tells. "That reminds me of a story." When we hear this we drop work and look up with an attentive smile. This decision of the conversation proceeding it might have been exceedingly tiresome, but at this simple remark most men prick up their ears to listen. "That reminds me of a story." The Hon. H. W. J. Ham, of Georgia, was speaking. The conversation had turned upon campaign orators who addressed audiences they had never visited before. "Those orators," said Mr. Ham, of Georgia, "don't understand the conditions, and they make fools of themselves. That reminds me of a story. A young doctor from the North set up a shop in a little log cabin in Georgia. He waited a week for a patient to come along. No-body came. He waited another week. The sick people continued going to the other doctors. He waited one week more. He was getting hungry. At last he saw a man coming flying down the road on a Georgia mule. The man stopped in front of the log cabin and asked, 'Are you a doctor?' 'Of course,' answered the physician. The man got down from his mule, rolled up his trousers and held out a red, swollen leg. 'Look at that,' he said. The doctor examined it carefully and then said, 'My friend, you've got erysipelas.' A look of disgust came over the man's face. 'If I thought you were a fool,' he said, 'and now I know it. That's a yaller-jacket sting.' The story loses its charm in the repetition. It takes Mr. Ham to tell it. He was at the Continental Hotel yesterday. A reporter called to have a chat with him. "My dear friend," Mr. Ham, of Georgia said, "I've been a newspaper man myself. Many a weary month I've spent in the mountains gathering subscriptions for some weekly paper. Down where I live journalism is different from what it is here. Every journalist has to get into politics whether he wants to or not. If you were to go into the newspaper business down there you wouldn't know what to make of it. That reminds me of a story. They brought a prisoner down to Atlanta from northern Georgia who had been caught robbing. That's what they call it down here. I live. The fellow had never been in a city before and he looked at the stone pavements in the streets with great interest. At last he said: 'It's a good thing they built a city in this place. It isn't worth a darn for farming land. Look at the rocks.' "Well, it is just by accident that I got into national politics. I've always been more or less in politics down in Georgia, but I never looked outside much. They elected me to the Legislature and there I got to be a colonel. When the Third party people got to howling I made up my mind that the way to get at them was not by argument, but by just standing the life out of them. Well, that worked first rate, and when Old Whereabouts Watson began to howl they asked me to come down from the north and laugh at him. I went down and I just told them all the stories I know and we had a great time of it. "Well, that Watson campaign was a lively one. I addressed an audience in Atlanta one night, and most of them were Third party people. The pockets bulged with eggs. 'Gentlemen,' I said, 'there is a strong smell of eggs in this hall. Ham and eggs make a good dish, but, gentlemen, it doesn't go well after tea, and I've just had tea.' That put them in good humor, and they didn't throw any eggs. The Third party, I told them, in its complaints against the other parties was like an old woman who lived in South Carolina near the border. The surveyors changed the boundary line one day, and the woman was told that she was now in North Carolina. 'Oh, dear! oh, dear!' she said, 'and North Carolina is so unhealthy.' "I had told a story about himself. "I was walking along the street one day looking rather thin. I'd been quite sick. A man pointed to me, and asked a friend of mine who I was. 'His name,' said my friend, 'is the best part of a hog.' The man's face lit up, and he said: 'Cracking! What a funny name.'"

Nails a specialty. Give me a call and I guarantee satisfaction. "Seeing is Believing." And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either. Look for this lamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer hasn't the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World. TOBACCO DEPARTMENT

Last week gave some better weather for handling tobacco.

The breaks here Friday were tremendous, both houses being full.

Tobacco men were glad to see the rain, it put the weed in condition for handling.

The warehouses here had the largest breaks last Friday since the opening.

There were very heavy breaks here Friday. The Eastern sold 15,000 pounds that day.

Mr. E. A. Strause, of Henderson, was on the breaks here Friday and made some purchases.

Cooper's Warehouse, Henderson, is ready for new crop tobacco. He guarantees highest prices.

Prices were way up in Greenville last week—in fact this market is always as high as any to be found.

The old reliable is Cooper's Warehouse, Henderson. Send your tobacco there. Cooper is the farmer's friend.

The Burlington Tobacco Trade has made the News its official organ and elected editor Hunt an honorary member of the Board.

Remember if you send your tobacco to Cooper's Warehouse, Henderson, you will obtain high prices and be happy. Try it.

Mr. W. M. Hamilton, of Greene county, sold some tobacco at the Greenville Friday for $40.50. The same day Mr. M. E. Dail sold one lot as high as $35.50.

Ship your tobacco to Cooper's Warehouse, Henderson, and he will work honestly and faithfully for your best interest.

We see that our former townsmen, Mr. J. H. Shelburn, is auctioneer for the Burlington Warehouse. We all remember what a gab "John Henry" used to possess and will bank on his making a top-notch auctioneer.

On Aug. 11th, Cooper's Warehouse, Henderson, sold new primings for R. R. Carr at 4, 8, 12, 15, 15.50, 20 and 30, and for F. T. Carr at 4, 4.50, 6, 9, 10.50, 11, 15.75 and 20. Cooper can make just as good sales for you.

Mr. P. M. Edwards, of Farmville, sold 1226 pounds at the Greenville Warehouse Friday at an average of $15. It was the finest lot of tobacco that has been on the market this season. His prices run from $20 to $67.

There is a sore headed fellow running a Tobacco Journal over in Richmond that seems never to be happy unless he is casting slurs at North Carolina. We do not get his journal but hear he was recently hooting at this paper saying a farmer made a higher average in Greenville than he did on the same grade of tobacco in Richmond, and was ridiculing the assertion. If he will just come down here we will show him how easy it is done.

HENDERSON MARKET.
Reported by Owen Davis, Manager Davis Warehouse.

MARKET QUOTATIONS.
Market active. Breaks heavy during the past week. Prices generally very satisfactory to sellers. Wrappers are almost strangers on our breaks and whenever they are seen go like "hot cakes on a rainy day." at high prices.

Board of Trade met to-day and re-elected old officers. It was agreed to have it incorporated at once. Our boys and Henderson especially are determined not to be led, but to lead.

Bullock & Mitchell,

Owners and Proprietors.
Headquarters for Big Prices High Averages

We are still doing business at the same old stand, where we are better prepared than ever before to handle to advantage the fine bright tobacco from the "New Golden Belt." We have a very large corps of buyers who are anxious for New Tobacco and are willing to pay good prices for it. "Eastern Tobacco" stands well on our market and is eagerly sought after both by our order men and speculators. We are very glad that we can say to the "house of vanity" of Pitt and adjoining counties that tobacco has "started off" better this year than we have known it in several years and that we look for good prices during the season. High bids can be had FREE OF CHARGE by those planters shipping to us, by applying to S. M. Schultz & Co., Greenville, N. C., or to Amos G. Cox, Winterville, N. C. Remember that we bid lively on every pile put upon our floor and buy largely of all grades that we sell, and will see to it that you shall have highest market prices for every pound sold with us. Recollect that it cost you nothing to collect our checks as they are payable in New York Exchange without cost to holder. Don't forget to try us with a good shipment and we will convince you that we are "busters from war-backs" and that we "get there" every time on big prices and you know they talk. Will have your tobacco graded for you in our house by skilled hands at $1.00 per 100.

Thanking our friends for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon us in the past and pledging them our very best efforts to please them in the future, we are with best wishes,
Very truly your friends,

BULLOCK & MITCHELL,
OXFORD, N. C.
