Elizabeth City Carolinian: Jeho Spivey, a well known colored man in Providence, this county, and, doubtless, the oldest person in Eastern North Carolina, died on the 17th inst., aged 110 years.

Kinston Free Press: We hear that Mr. B. L. Perry, of Beaufort, will have charge of the Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead City, the coming season. Mr. Perry is an experienced hotelier, and we doubt not that his guests will fare well.

Mr. J. B. Lindsey, of Lilesville, N. C., wants it known that he is in possession of the master rolls of the following companies and regiments of N. C. troops in the Confederate service: Company H, 51 regiment; Companies D, F, and G, 31st.

Pittsboro Record: On last Monday our esteemed countryman, Mr. W. P. Hadley, and his wife celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, and we hope that they may live to celebrate many more anniversaries of the wedding day. Mr. Hadley will be 83 years old next May and his wife will be 78 in April, and both are in good health.

Smithfield Herald: Rozetta Hinton, a colored woman living near Princeton, was a grandmother before she was twenty-seven years old. She was under thirteen when her daughter was born, and this daughter became a mother before she was fourteen. Edmond Cole, of Fork township, Wayne county, is eighty-five years of age and his youngest child is less than one month old. His first wife's six children are all dead. His present wife's five children are all younger than two children of whom he is the great-grandfather.

DIVORCES UNKNOWN.

When a Quaker is Once Married, it is For Life. Divorces are actually unknown among the Quakers, and this absence is accounted for by the extraordinary precautions employed when two young persons desire to be united in marriage. The parties place their proposals of marriage in a written form, which is referred to the society of which they are members, and is acted upon at a "preparation meeting" thereof. If all the attendant circumstances are in every respect in accordance with the views of those present, the proposal is approved, and is then introduced at the "monthly meeting," when it is again passed upon, and a committee of investigation into the characters, habits and circumstances of the engaged couple is appointed. These committees always consist of two members of each sex. The committee, after a most thorough examination and investigation, makes its report, generally at the succeeding "monthly meeting." This ends the preliminary arrangements, and the twain are at liberty to proceed in the accomplishment of their marriage, a committee of two of each sex being appointed by the committee to see if orderly conducted, and the marriage certificate delivered to the recorder. As a rule, the impressive ceremonies are generally conducted at the home of the bride, though occasionally in the "meeting." At the nuptial ceremonies the certificate is given to the couple, and, after receiving their own signatures, is in turn signed by every person present, and frequently contains a hundred names. Engagement or wedding rings are rarely given.

ROYAL FEAT.

Queen Victoria's shoe is that of a gouty old lady, and although roomy and comfortable, is not pretty, while Empress Eugenie, once the leader of feminine fashion of the civilized world, has now dispensed with those high heels which she was wont to affect in the days of her reign at the Tuileries. The Queen of Portugal, like her mother, the Countess de Paris, has feet that in point of size and shape are in keeping with their masculine ways and appearance. For one would scarcely expect a woman who smokes such huge and strong cigars as the Countess de Paris to own a dainty and elegant foot.

GOOD HORSE AND PLUCKY RIDER.

The greatest feat in riding ever performed by a woman has recently been accomplished by an English girl, Miss Thomasson, who rode on untrained horse over 251 miles in sixty-two and one-half hours through the mountains of the Tyrol. On the first day she went from Innsbruck over the Brenner Pass to Bozen, seventy-seven and one-half miles; on the second, from Bozen, by Moran, Vintchgau and the Maiser Heide to St. Valentin, fifty-six miles; on the third, by Hochsternmuntz and Laudeck, back to Innsbruck, this being eighty-eight miles. Rider and horse are in perfect health, though the tour was a novel experience to both.

THEY REFUSE TO BE "SHOOK."

In a recent German newspaper two curious announcements appear. In one number is the following notice: "I hereby declare, since the written notice of the 8th of August, 1892, and notwithstanding the refusal to accept the same, my betrothed Edith Franke Emma Ziegler is null and void. Richard Jork." In the next number of the paper the following appeared: "I hereby declare, with respect to the advertisement of the annulment of my betrothal, written and proclaimed, with Herr Jork I do not agree. I am, and still intend to remain, his betrothed. Emma Ziegler."

Mrs. Buffalo Bill.

Mrs. Buffalo Bill is said to be an amiable woman, very popular in the neighborhood of North Platte, where she lives. Her home, Scout's Rest, is a long, low building, four miles from the town, large and roomy, and quite like a hotel, and is surrounded by 300 acres of prairie land, magnificent stables and fine pasture lands, where are kept many thousands of fine blooded horses and cattle.

Mr. Price, Luttrellville, Mo., writes:

"I was afflicted with sciatica, and had lost the use of one arm and one leg, for nine years. I went to Hot Springs and also tried different doctors, but found no cure until I tried Botanic Blood Balm. It made me sound and well. I am well known in this vicinity."

MURFREES BURGLAR.

"There is not a particle of heroism about you, Ulysses," said Mrs. Murfree, as she brushed out her hair in front of the dresser, as preparatory to retiring for the night. "Not a particle," she emphatically repeated; "I am sure that I never saw a man more unlike his namesake. I have known you to be positively cowardly at times."

HOUSE AND HOME.

The Question of Money is the Question of the Day. As We Can't Have All We Desire, the Matter of Choice and Selection is All-Important—To Guard Against Unhappiness.

Language of the Dog's Tail.

There can be no question that the chief delight of wild dogs, as with modern hounds and sporting dogs, is in the chase and its accompanying excitement and companionship. One of the most thrilling moments to the human hunter (and doubtless to the canine), and one big with that most poignant of all delights, anticipation of pleasurable excitement combined with muscular activity, is when the presence of game is first detected. As we have seen in watching the behavior in a pack of fox-hounds, this is invariably the time when tails are wagged for the common good.

How Teeth Grow.

An eminent dentist is authority for the following: "It would take too long to describe the formation of the tooth, but it may interest you to know that the enamel is derived in the first place from the epithelium, or scurf skin, and is, in fact, modified skin, while the dentine, of which the bulk of the tooth is composed, is derived from the mucus layer below the epithelium. Lime salts are slowly deposited, and the tooth pulp, or nerve, is the last remains of what was once a pulpy mass of the shape of the future tooth, and upon the tooth pulp, the old pulp sometimes gets quite obliterated by calcareous deposits. The thirty-two permanent teeth are preceded by twenty temporary deciduous or milk teeth. These are fully erupted at about two to two and one-half years old, and at about six years of age a wonderful absorption sets in, by which the roots of the temporary teeth are removed to make room for the advancing permanent ones. The crowns of the former, having no support, become loose and fall away. One would naturally suppose that the advancing permanent tooth was a powerful factor in the absorption of its temporary predecessor, but we have many facts to prove it has no influence whatever; indeed, the interesting phenomena of the eruption and succession of teeth are very little understood. I may remark in passing, that a child of six, who has not yet lost any temporary teeth, has in his jaws, either erupted or not-erupted, no less than fifty-two teeth, more or less formed."

THE HAIR.

The hair, like all things of vegetable growth, is improved by clipping the ends once a month. It is not at all certain, however, that cutting the hair improves its growth after a person has reached the adult age. On the contrary it sometimes produces baldness. It is a mistake to use any alkali soap in washing the head, as this tends to make the hair dry. When the hair is naturally dry, a little vaseline may be used to advantage around the roots, but only enough to render the hair soft, not enough to make it greasy.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.

"John, what's the Sals law we read about, in history?" asked Mrs. John. "It was a law that prevented women becoming kings," replied John, laughingly.

THE EDITOR'S RUSE.

A subscriber to one of the Southern papers a few years ago, being sadly in arrears for the same, promised the editor that if his life was spared to a certain day he would without fail discharge his bill. The day passed, and the bill was not paid. The conclusion, therefore, was that the man was dead—absolutely defunct. Proceeding on this conclusion, the editor in his next issue placed the name of his delinquent under his obituary head, with the attendant circumstances of time and place. Pretty soon after this announcement the subject of it appeared to the editor, not with the pale ghostly appearance usually ascribed to apparitions, but with a face as red as scarlet; neither did it, like other apparitions, wait to be first spoken to, but broke silence.

PAT'S JOKE ON HIS NEIGHBORS.

An Irishman took a contract to dig a well. When he had dug about twenty-five feet down, he came one morning and found it had fallen in—filled nearly to the top. Pat looked cautiously around and saw that no one was near, then took off his hat and coat, and hung them on a windlass, crawled into some bushes, and awaited events. In a short time the neighbors discovered that the well had fallen in, and seeing Pat's hat and coat on the windlass, they supposed that he was at the bottom of the excavation. Only a few hours of brisk digging cleared the loose earth from the well. Just as the excavators had reached the bottom, and were wondering where the body was, Pat came out of the hole and good-naturedly thanked the diggers for relieving him of a sorry job. Some of the tired diggers were disgusted, but the joke was too good to allow of anything more than a laugh, which followed soon.

SHAKESPEARE'S EYEBROW.

Miss Sarah W. Gillette of Evanston, Ill., rejoices in the possession of what she believes to be Shakespear's eyebrow. Miss G.'s father, the late Dr. H. C. Gillette, bought the relic from R. G. Oaks of England. In 1851 Oaks was deputed to carve an olive wreath to encircle a bust of Shakespear. At that time the Duke of Devonshire owned the Kesselstadt death mask of Shakespear. This death mask had been discovered in a pawnbroker's shop in Kesselstadt, and pronounced to be a Shakespear mask. Oaks was permitted to use the mask in making the laurel wreath. He says: "In my examination for the pores in the plaster to decide whether the cast was original or not, I found two hairs of the eyebrow sticking in the cast. I extracted one entire, the other broke."

Good morning Baby Ruth.

Gov. Carr has appointed R. B. Lacy Commissioner of Labor Statistics for North Carolina.

The Durham Daily Sun is four years old and a bright, newsy sheet and a credit to Durham. We wish you unbounded success and a well-filled pocket book.

The Democratic party now control every branch of the Government, and we can confidently look for the reforms so much needed and so persistently demanded.

Miss Julia Force who murdered her two sisters in Atlanta, Ga., last week has been adjudged insane. It was an atrocious crime and one which no one but a fiend or a lunatic could have committed.

Any one who has kept up with the proceedings of our Legislature will be struck with unanimity with which the Third party members have acted and voted with the Republicans on all measures which have come before that body. This is as was predicted before the campaign closed and no honest man will deny the charges now.

The Democratic members of the Senate have been doing some good work for the party during the last days of the session. Not the least important of the many things which they accomplished was the holding up for the present the confirmation of the treaty with Hawaii and of Hanchett to succeed Judge Jackson promoted to the Supreme Court of the United States.

President Cleveland was inaugurated Saturday and though the weather was extremely bad yet the programme was pretty generally carried out. His inaugural address is short and pointed. The President very evidently wrote every word of it and like all of his writings it is full of common sense. There is not a word in it to criticize and it shows that the country is safe with him at the helm.

With Cleveland as President, Stevenson to preside over the Senate, and that Democratic, and with the House largely Democratic we may confidently expect much wise legislation for the next two years at least.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Below we give some of the bills of interest that have been introduced before the General Assembly:

SENATE.

The bill to pay off and establish the county of Elkin out of portions of Wilkes and Surry counties came up. Senator Jones offered an amendment striking out the amendment offered by him and adopted last night. The amendment was adopted. Senator Battle made a strong legal argument against the bill, and Senator Means replied in support of the measure. Senator Pettigrew spoke against the bill and Senator Posey replied to him. Senator Owen supported the bill. The previous question was ordered and the bill passed its third reading, ayes 28, noes 9.

Senator James, (by request), to amend section 724 of the Code, by requiring fines to be paid to road overseers.

Senator Cranor, to make slander indictable.

The bill to provide for the support of the North Carolina Institution at Raleigh for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, was taken up. This bill which appropriates $40,000 annually for the next two years, passed its third reading without opposition.

The bill to establish and provide for the militia, and for the support and maintenance of the State Guard, was taken up, and after discussion was tabled, at the request of the friends of the measure.

Senator Pettigrew offered a resolution of respect to Gen. Beauregard, which was unanimously adopted.

Senator James, to amend the act to authorize the town of Greenville to issue bonds.

As the hour for the consideration of the Confederate Monument bill approached the galleries and lobbies continued to fill with ladies and were soon crowded to their utmost.

The President announced that the hour for the special order was at hand, and the bill to incorporate the North Carolina Confederate Monument Association was taken up. The bill was read in full.

The bill passed its third reading by a unanimous vote—ayes 40, noes 0—omit great applause.

Senator James, to incorporate the Religious and Burying Society.

Senator James, to prevent the establishment of new counties unless a notice of six months is given.

The bill for the maintenance and support of the insane asylums of the State passed unanimously. It appropriates $50,000 annually for Raleigh; for outstanding accounts, $5,352.26; repairs to laundry $2,000; for erection and completion of congregated dining-room for female patients, with wards above, for the year 1894; $3,000 for electric light plant; $4,000 for engineering department, provided the same shall be decided necessary by a disinterested expert selected by the Governor. That $6,000 for 1894, in addition to the regular appropriation, be appropriated, for the erection of a congregated dining-room, with wards above, for male patients, at the State Hospital at Morganton. That $33,000 per annum be appropriated for the support of the Eastern Hospital at Goldsboro, and the necessary repairs and improvements; for the erection and completion of a congregated dining-room, with wards above, for male patients, 6,500 for the year 1894; for the purpose of land adjoining the grounds of hospital, $2,000 for the difference in exchange of $500.

The bill to allow the alumni of the University to elect twenty trustees failed to pass.

As a special order the bill for the maintenance and repair of the institution for deaf and blind, was taken up. The appropriation is $45,000 annually, of which $5,000 is for repairs. The bill passed unanimously.

Mr. Erwin, of Cleveland, to prevent unregistered persons from filling physicians' prescriptions.

Mr. Parker, to make abandonment and failure to support for 2 years ground for divorce.

that ass'noes must give bond and render accounts as administrators 20, and that the execution of an ass'noement shall precipitate all indebtedness, whether due or not.

The Alliance charter amendment bill which passed the Senate passed the House unanimously.

The bill to make the legal rate of interest 6 per cent. created much debate. On motion of Mr. Ray two such bills were tabled.

Then when the Senate bill that the legal rate of interest be reduced to 6 per cent. ninety days after Congress passes the bill abolishing the tax on the circulation of State banks, came up. Mr. Ray moved to exempt Macon county. Carried.

Mr. Jones, to exempt Caldwell county. Mr. Robertson moved to table. Carried—and the bill was also tabled. The bill and amendments were taken from the table after much debate. Adjourned without taking action.

The bill to reduce the total annual appropriation of the State Guard to $5,000 came up. It was introduced by Mr. Lovill, and was referred to the military committee, but to the finance committee. It passed second reading. A motion to defer and to make special order was voted down, and was also an amendment by Mr. Shepard to take off only the $5,000 annual appropriation for encampment. The bill passed third reading, 60 to 40. A number of members explained their votes and declared their belief that if the bill became a law it would result in the disbandment of the State Guard.

The bill to allow the alumni of the University to elect twenty trustees failed to pass.

As a special order the bill for the maintenance and repair of the institution for deaf and blind, was taken up. The appropriation is $45,000 annually, of which $5,000 is for repairs. The bill passed unanimously.

Mr. Erwin, of Cleveland, to prevent unregistered persons from filling physicians' prescriptions.

Mr. Parker, to make abandonment and failure to support for 2 years ground for divorce.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2, '93.

President Cleveland, Mrs. Cleveland and baby Ruth arrived yesterday, and notwithstanding the attempt to prevent a popular demonstration, by not making public the schedule of their train, they were met at the station and escorted to the hotel at which temporary quarters had been previously engaged for them by an immense crowd of enthusiastic admirers. They will take possession of the White House immediately after the personal belongings of Mr. Harrison and his family have already been removed therefrom, and Mr. Harrison will take his permanent departure in company with Mr. Cleveland whom he will accompany to the capital to-morrow. When Mr. Cleveland has been sworn in and has delivered his inaugural address he will proceed to the President's stand in front of the White House, from which he will review the mammoth parade. Having no desire to see the parade and hear the triumphant cheers of the democrats Mr. Harrison will leave at once for Indianapolis, on a special train which will be in waiting for him.

All of the members of the cabinet, except Judge Gresham, are on hand ready for business. He may get here to-morrow, but the probability is that he will not arrive until next week.

"Hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson!" greets one on every hand, as the Democratic organizations from every section march through the beautifully decorated streets, to their respective quarters. The advance guard of these organizations was headed by Vice President Stevenson and his personal escort, the Illinois club, of Bloomington. Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson were the guests of honor at the largest reception of the year, given by Mr. and Mrs. Levi P. Morton. Mr. Stevenson was extremely popular when he was First Assistant Postmaster General under Mr. Cleveland's first administration, but the ovation given him at this reception, and since, at his hotel, proves that his promotion, although to an office that controls no patronage, has made him still more popular.

these Senators are entitled to the thanks of the country. A treaty of annexation is far too important a matter to be introduced through the Senate. And they are entitled to the thanks of the Democratic party for having prevented the confirmation of the nomination of Judge Hanchett, of Michigan, to the vacancy made in the U. S. Circuit court by the promotion of Judge Jackson to the Supreme Court. They were determined that a republican should not be put in charge of this district in place of a Democrat, just on the eve of a Democratic administration.

Prominent Republican Senators are charged with having deliberately gone back on their pledged words, concerning the bill, passed by the House this week, repealing that clause of the McKinley tariff law which imposes a duty of 4 cents a pound on block tin. It is said that Representative Springer and other Democrats of the House Ways and Means committee were assured by leading Republican Senators that if they would put the bill through the House it should be passed by the Senate, and when the bill was passed the Senate committee on Finance, by a party vote, refused to even report it to the Senate. Well, there is at least the satisfaction of knowing that things will hereafter be more according to Democratic ideas.

From Bad to Worse

A Complication of Diseases

Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave Strength Just in Time.

Mr. Isaac Aber of Vienna, N. J.

"I gladly testify to the following facts: I have been a very great sufferer for the last five years with troubles of the kidneys and bladder and the worst stage of Diabetes Mellitus. I could scarcely eat anything because of the intense pain in my stomach. I was also at one time covered with salt rheum, and my cough weakened me so that I could scarcely walk. I had several attacks of bleeding at the lungs. My breath became so short that I was unable to work and was obliged to give up my business, which is that of a mason. I could not even walk about the house. So I kept going from bad to worse. I then had an attack of the shingles, which, with all my other complaints, confined me to my room for three months and

Nearly Took Away My Life.

I had heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a good medicine, so I bought a bottle. When I had taken it, I found it had done me some good, so I continued till I had taken three bottles. I improved so rapidly that I could walk out of doors, and have steadily gained till I am at work again and use my hammer and trowel once more.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

more. The physicians told me five years ago that I would not live three years, and all the neighbors think it a very strange thing to see me at work again. It is the strength given me by Hood's Sarsaparilla which enables me to do it." ISAAC ABER, Vienna, Warren County, N. J.

Something of Interest to Farmers!

NOW that the planting season is again near at hand, the question which is of the most interest to farmers, is what shall I plant, and how shall I plant it. After determining what to plant and when to plant it, it is of equally as much importance how you plant and cultivate. We think it is conceded by all that no land will make a good crop unless properly cultivated. The result of last years crops, we think, goes very far to show that a judicious use of commercial fertilizers pays on the lands in this section.

It is with much pleasure and satisfaction that we again offer for sale to our friends and patrons the High Grade and Reliable Brands of Fertilizer which we name below. The results from their use justify us in saying they are all well adapted to the soils of this section.

We will sell them for cash, or on time, upon usual terms, and we guarantee to give you a better grade of goods as cheap or cheaper than you can buy elsewhere.

Drop us a line for prices and terms, or call to see, and will take pleasure in naming you low figures and explaining to you the merits of the different brands. To individuals or clubs wanting a car load or more we will make special figures. We offer for your consideration and choice the following well established and high grade brands of Fertilizers:

Capital Tobacco Fertilizer

Not including a few brands of Fertilizers made especially for early truck. This is the richest highest grade brand of goods offered for sale in the State. The results obtained by our customers from its use justify us in saying we consider it the best goods for Tobacco sold in this section and we most heartily recommend it to your attention. As a Potato manure it ranks with the best.

National Fertilizer

As an all round moderate priced fertilizer is equalled by few and excelled by none. This goods has been thoroughly tested the past two seasons for tobacco and in no case has it failed to give entire satisfaction. It is equally good for both Cotton and Potatoes.

Guano

It is too well-known all over the State to need any recommendation at our hands. It has been tested on all crops and never found wanting. It has been used on Potatoes with the most satisfactory results, and for Cotton it stands at the head of the list. Such of our customers who have used it on Tobacco are much pleased and say they want it again.

Beef, Blood and Bone Fertilizer

This brand of goods as its name implies is composed largely of animal Flesh, Blood and Bone, and all farmers know these contain the best fertilizing properties of any thing they can use. This brand of Guano has been thoroughly tested on Cotton, Corn and Tobacco and you will be entirely safe to buy it for any crop.

Standard Bone Phosphate

This is a new brand of goods on this market but made by an old house, who thoroughly understand the business. It is composed largely of pure animal bone which we think is very valuable and is of permanent improvement to the soil. It comes to us very highly endorsed from other sections and we do not think you will make any mistake to give it a trial.

Acid Phosphate

Nearly all Acid Phosphate is the same, and differs only in the percentage of Avail. Phos. Acid which it contains. We have a standard brand for sale and guarantee it as good as the best.

German Kainit

Some farmers contend that Kainit makes them a better return for their money than any fertilizers they use. It is without doubt a good manure. We have a large stock on hand and know it to be good and pure as we take it direct from the importers' vessel. We are in a position to make you very low prices on Kainit and it will pay you to see us before you buy.

Write us and we will come to see you, or come to see us and we will make prices right and give you good goods. Yours truly,

Cotton seed, cotton and eggs are on the decline. It is getting time the price of pork was following.

After the grip, when you are weak and "played out" Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore your health and strength.

Every child in the county needing a slate should see those at Reflector Book Store. Nice slate for 3 cents.

It might be wise in our citizens to begin using the pretty weather by cleaning up their premises.

Do not forget the Greenville Iron Works if you want good Castings cheap.

Maybe Greenville has not discovered all her needs, but the town is suffering more for lack of factories than anything we can name right now.

Brown & Hooker are in their new store ready to show you goods.

Last week Brown & Hooker moved into one room of their handsome new double store. They are getting nicely arranged in their new quarters.

We had quite a large snow storm here Saturday, a regular March wind blowing at the time, made the snow fly in every direction. The ground was wet and it did not stick.

The Lang stock at Brown & Hooker's new store is going off like hot cakes.

It might be wise in our citizens to begin using the pretty weather by cleaning up their premises. To do this thoroughly may save some member of your family a spell of sickness.

$7,000 worth of the Lang stock on hand and must be closed out at New York cost at Brown & Hooker's new store.

Mr. W. H. Cox returned Monday night from a tour of the Northern markets and he has purchased one of the largest stocks the Rocket Store has ever handled. Watch for their advertisement soon.

Billie Burch hustled out 65 copies of the inaugural edition of the New York World for the Reflector Book Store, and could have sold more if the order had been larger. It was a big paper and brim full of Grover.

Rare bargains in the Lang stock at Brown & Hooker's new store.

The old party building on the corner of Evans and Fourth streets, had a narrow escape from fire one night last week a large lamp in Smith's barber shop hung too close to the ceiling, the ceiling took fire and the lamp fell to the floor. It was extinguished with only slight damage. If the fire had got a headway in that building there is no telling it would ever stop.

Plenty of light at Brown & Hooker's new store to show goods.

Dr. D. S. Harmon, the Russian Optician, arrived this morning and is at the King House. Any one needing his services will find it to their advantage to give him a call. He is a thorough gentleman and comes well recommended.

Look over the list of ordinances of the town and it will not be hard to discover that some of them are simply a dead letter. What is the use of going through the force of making an ordinance if it is not to be enforced.

The Lang stock must be moved off by April 1st at Brown & Hooker's new store.

Greenville is in a no fence territory and is under the stock law regulations, but notwithstanding this our people are daily troubled with hogs and other stock running at large through the town. It is time this thing was stopped.

Police clerks to show you the Lang stock at Brown & Hooker's new store.

Mr. Frank Wilson is in the Northern markets purchasing a brand new stock of goods for his dry goods emporium. He will open in one of Brown & Hooker's new stores and will show the good people of Pitt county that he can sell as well as any one. Wait and watch for his advertisement.

10,000 yards dress goods at Brown & Hooker's new store of the Lang stock.

Some time ago D. Y. Cooper of Henderson N. C. offered as a prize for several grades of Tobacco sold on his floor during the months of January and February a free trip to the Inauguration on the 4th of Pitt as usual bore off a part of these prizes. Mr. J. S. Langhoush of this county received the prize on the finest cutter. Pitt stands in the lead for fine tobacco and J. J. Langhoush knows how to show this.

Look out for counterfeit $5 gold pieces.—Weldon News.

We are always on the lookout for $5 pieces of all kinds, but how are we to distinguish the counterfeit article when we see it?—Henderson Gold Leaf.

That's the question.

The Henderson Gold Leaf well says: It is the desire of the editor to make this paper as readable and entertaining as possible—a vehicle of thought and communication among our people—a reflex of the progress and improvement of the community. To this end we invite you to let us know what you are doing. If you make improvements in your business, are interested in a new enterprise or are about to extend the range of your operations report the fact to the Gold Leaf. It will do you no harm and may prove of benefit to you and surely be of benefit to the community. Do not hide your light under a bushel but let the rays shine forth.

DR. HARMON, THE OCULIST. WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 21.

I note with regret the possibility that Dr. D. S. Harmon, the oculist, who has been located here for some time past, will leave our midst—if not permanently, at least for a long space of time.

Dr. Harmon has proven himself, to my satisfaction, a very thorough and efficient practitioner in his line. He has displayed remarkable skill in his practice, and has met with success in several instances where oculists of reputation have failed. His different optical inventions, and his skillful use of them, have led to a high opinion of his ability as an oculist among those who have consulted him.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Dr. Harmon as worthy of all confidence which may be reposed in him by our people, and should be very glad if, after all, he could be persuaded to continue his residence in this city.

A. J. HOWELL,
Wilmington Messenger.

WILSON, N. C.—This is to certify that Dr. D. S. Harmon spent several weeks in Wilson, N. C., during which time he met great success in his specialty—of fitting eye glasses for a large number of people, who have had great difficulty in spectacles, which thoroughly remedied their defective eye sight. Especially in the case with my wife, who has spent considerable money in securing the proper lens to suit her case. Dr. Harmon found it necessary to make the glass to suit her eyes, and after five weeks trial she declares that they cannot be bought for money so great is the relief to her by reason thereof.

B. F. BIGGS,
Ex-Sheriff Wilson County.

KING'S MOUNTAIN, N. C., July 22 1891.—My wife has been a constant sufferer from severe headache for years, and no medical treatment seemed to have more than a temporary effect in relieving her.

After using a pair of Dr. D. S. Harmon's spectacles her headache almost disappeared.

R. H. GARRATT.

I certify the above statement to be correct and genuine, and believe the effect to be as stated.

This will introduce to you Dr. D. S. Harmon, a first class Optician. Dr. S. Harmon, was with us several months last summer and made Hill's Drug Store his headquarters and we found him at all times a gentleman.

THOS. HILL, M. D.

A New Southern Magazine. The South has another exponent in the Manufacturer's Record Magazine, the first issue of which bears date of February, 1893. It issues from the same publishing house as the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, although it is an entirely separate and distinct publication. It deals with Southern resources and progress in a general and popular way, without technical details or burdensome statistics, aiming to present serviceable information to those who look to the South as a desirable field for investment. The publishers of this magazine are undertaking to get up a new printed and well illustrated monthly publication for $1.50 per year, and if the current issue could be a fair sample, there seems to be good equivalent of information and interest for the price.

W. F. BIGGS,
Ex-Sheriff Wilson County.

When one discovers a cure for even one of the ills which flesh is heir to, it holds it is his bounden duty to impart the knowledge thereof to his fellowmen in order that they too, may profit thereby and lessen this burden which we call life.

I found Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy to be a cure for many ills. We have used it for ten years. For Eczema and all kindred Skin diseases, even of the most obstinate aggravated type, I find it to be an infallible and speedy cure. As a general tonic it starts us easily first. It cured and restored to health one of our children for five years a victim to chronic diarrhoea, after the medical art had exhausted its resources for his relief. In short, for blood and skin diseases, colic and diarrhoea, I have tried it, not once, twice nor thrice, but countless times.

Editor Messenger, Wilmington, N. C.

Having seen a notice from Dr. Harmon, the Russian eye doctor, that his office will be closed sometime in February and will be opened again in the spring, I beg you to allow me space to say a few words with regard to the doctor's return, etc.

In April, 1889, I had an operation performed on my eyes by a Northern specialist, which did me a great deal of good. In June, 1892, however, I had to go North again for the same purpose, but was informed that nothing could be done to benefit me. On my return to Wilmington Dr. Harmon took charge of my case and I feel that through his skillful treatment my eyes are saved.

The doctor has invented an instrument for testing the eyes, etc., for which he is offered a considerable amount of money. Should he conclude to accept this, I am doubtful of his return to Wilmington, and hence, I would advise anyone who may need the service of a skillful eye doctor to call on him before he closes his office.

During the last four years I have been constant under treatment, and have tried several specialists, and it is due to Dr. Harmon to say that he has done more good than I expected. The amount of money paid him for his services is no comparison to the benefits received.

Respectfully, A. S. HEIDE.

THIS IS SUCCESS.

Mr. W. H. Summerell, of Winston, General Southern Manager of the New York Life Insurance Co., has been in the city for some days and is now at the Purcell House. In the course of an interview with him last evening a Review reporter gathered from him some interesting facts relative to Dr. Harmon's professional treatment of a member of his family. Mr. Summerell's daughter had long had a severe and painful affection of the eyes, which caused her intense and almost continuous headaches. He took her to New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Raleigh and consulted the most famous oculists he could find, getting advice and glasses from each and spending over a thousand dollars in the quest. But little relief was obtained and when she attempted to study or to sew the pain returned. Mr. Summerell finally encountered Dr. Harmon in Winston and called him in. She has since been under his treatment, using glasses recommended by him. She can now read and study with ease and can dispense with her glasses when she goes out. The entire cost of Dr. Harmon's treatment was but $10; against the $1,000—and more—spent by Mr. Summerell in consulting oculists at the North. Mr. Summerell feels very grateful to Dr. Harmon and is glad to let the facts be known. He tells us that he knows of another young lady in Winston who was also sadly afflicted but like his daughter, has received wonderful benefits by Dr. Harmon's course of treatment.—Wilmington Review, July 26th, 1892.

DR. HARMON, THE OCULIST. WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 21.

I note with regret the possibility that Dr. D. S. Harmon, the oculist, who has been located here for some time past, will leave our midst—if not permanently, at least for a long space of time.

Dr. Harmon has proven himself, to my satisfaction, a very thorough and efficient practitioner in his line. He has displayed remarkable skill in his practice, and has met with success in several instances where oculists of reputation have failed. His different optical inventions, and his skillful use of them, have led to a high opinion of his ability as an oculist among those who have consulted him.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Dr. Harmon as worthy of all confidence which may be reposed in him by our people, and should be very glad if, after all, he could be persuaded to continue his residence in this city.

A. J. HOWELL,
Wilmington Messenger.

WILSON, N. C.—This is to certify that Dr. D. S. Harmon spent several weeks in Wilson, N. C., during which time he met great success in his specialty—of fitting eye glasses for a large number of people, who have had great difficulty in spectacles, which thoroughly remedied their defective eye sight. Especially in the case with my wife, who has spent considerable money in securing the proper lens to suit her case. Dr. Harmon found it necessary to make the glass to suit her eyes, and after five weeks trial she declares that they cannot be bought for money so great is the relief to her by reason thereof.

B. F. BIGGS,
Ex-Sheriff Wilson County.

When one discovers a cure for even one of the ills which flesh is heir to, it holds it is his bounden duty to impart the knowledge thereof to his fellowmen in order that they too, may profit thereby and lessen this burden which we call life.

I found Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy to be a cure for many ills. We have used it for ten years. For Eczema and all kindred Skin diseases, even of the most obstinate aggravated type, I find it to be an infallible and speedy cure. As a general tonic it starts us easily first. It cured and restored to health one of our children for five years a victim to chronic diarrhoea, after the medical art had exhausted its resources for his relief. In short, for blood and skin diseases, colic and diarrhoea, I have tried it, not once, twice nor thrice, but countless times.

The movement of the cotton crop thus far this season would indicate that there was some foundation for the bad crop accounts daily reaching us from all parts of the cotton territory, if so the staple is selling too cheap and parties wishing to hold for higher prices can do so by shipping it to us and drawing for $25.00 per bale on same and having it held for six months is so desired.

THE BAEMIS TOBACCO PLANTER

has been used in Eastern North Carolina for the last three years and without a single exception has given entire satisfaction. Mess. Edwards and Moye purchased one of these machines last year and Mr. Edwards will testify that the machine was the salvation of his tobacco crop. Besides many others are willing to give a testimonial in its favor. A few of its advantages over hand setting are:

1. Plants in rows
2. It leaves the land in better shape for cultivating.
3. A more uniform growth is produced, hence the many aching backs from sowing and sowing.
4. It saves many aching backs from sowing and sowing.

Call on me at the Eastern Warehouse where I have some of the Planters on exhibition and will take pleasure in showing all of its advantages.

The breaks are still holding up well.

The Greenville and Eastern sold on the first about 12,000 pounds.

The farmers of Greene and Le-noir, who come to this market to sell tobacco nearly always carry back a load of goods purchased in Greenville.

If the merchants would help to build up this market for policy sake it would be a good investment for thousands of dollars worth of business would be done here that would otherwise go to some other place.

There are men in this town who when the subscription was being taken to build the Greenville warehouse subscribed the pitiful sum of twenty-five dollars, to-day regret it saying that it is lost when in fact, they have sold more than four times that amount of goods the direct result of the tobacco market.

Wilson is boasting heavily over the fact that one of the Wilson county farmers has sold his entire crop at an average of $150 per acre. That is nothing to compare with numbers of Pitt county farmers. Mr. R. R. Cotten says that he has sold 4 acres for $200 an acre. Messrs. Edwards & Moye have sold the entire crop at an average of over $100. Mr. R. Turnage, M. L. Moye, J. C. Jenkins, and numbers of others have sold their crop for over $150 per acre.

The Southern Tobaccoist which recently has been ruffling its feathers and blowing about the American Tobacco Company says in a late issue that the press of the land is the people's protector against monopoly. This is true to a letter and we rejoice that this journal has found it out and hope that it will not be unmindful of its duty in the future.

The following by O. L. Joyner was published in the Winston Journal in September 1891: If the press of North Carolina would do its duty as you have done, the righteous indignation of our oppressed people would rise so high that some means would be had by which this infamous monopolistic curse could be forever crushed from existence.

Splendid for a cough. Mrs. Kate Kidney, 22 Lewis St., San Francisco, Cal., writes from the Golden City: "I have been using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for nearly five years and have always found it a splendid remedy for a cough. I am never without a bottle in the house."

Bullock & Mitchell,

Owners and Proprietors
Headquarters for Big Prices High Averages

We are still doing business at the same old stand, where we are better prepared than ever before to handle to advantage the fine bright tobacco from the "New Golden Belt." We have a very large corps of buyers who are anxious for New Tobacco and are willing to pay good prices for it. "Eastern Tobacco" stands well on our market and is eagerly sought after by our order men and speculators. We are very glad that we can say to the "honest toymen" of Pitt and adjoining counties that tobacco has "started off" better this year than we have known it in several years and that we look for good prices during the season. Hogsheads can be had FREE OF CHARGE by those planters shipping to us, by applying to S. M. Schultz & Co., Greenville, N. C., or to Amos G. Cox, Winterville, N. C. Remember that we bid lively on every pile put upon our floor and buy largely of all grades that we sell, and will see to it that you shall have highest market price for every pound sold with us. Recollect that it cost you nothing to collect our checks as they are payable in New York Exchange without cost to holder. Don't forget to try us with a good shipment and we will convince you that we are "buskers from way back" and that we "get there" every time on big prices and you know they talk. We have your tobacco graded for you in our house by skilled hands at $1.00 per 100. Thanking our friends for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon us in the past and pledging them our very best efforts to please them in the future, we are with best wishes,
Very truly yours,
BULLOCK & MITCHELL,
Oxford, N. C.

The tobacco warehousemen of North Carolina have been largely instrumental in the rebuilding of most of her, to-day, prosperous towns and cities. It is a further fact that tobacco warehousemen do more work for the least money and least honor and get the most cursing of any other class of her citizens and yet there is an extra burden of five dollars tax for every hundred thousand pounds of tobacco sold on the warehouse floor which of course has to be paid by the warehouseman.

That this is wrong we believe every honest fair minded man will concede. It is unjust for the State to levy a tax on a class of her citizens who are doing so much for her internal improvement while a great many others are doing nothing for the advancement of her public interest go free from taxation. Our representatives in this Legislature would do well to carefully consider and repeal this burdensome law.

While traveling through the fine farming section of Farmville township a few days ago, it was our privilege and pleasure to spend a few hours with one of Pitt's most successful young agriculturists, the wide awake and aggressive Mr. W. Horne. He is the owner and manager of a first-class tobacco, grain and cotton farm, and a farmer right, he is. After chatting for a while pleasantly on various topics the conversation naturally drifted into the tobacco industry. A subject in which we were both deeply interested. He spoke of the natural advantages of Eastern North Carolina as a tobacco belt and of Greenville as a market. He expressed great surprise indeed at the business men of Greenville for not taking more interest in the tobacco industry and when we impressed upon him the necessity of more prize houses in Greenville and asked him to build one, he said: "What is the matter with the monied men of the town if there are any? Why was it that they would not go to work and build prize houses? Now since the market was on a solid basis and there was no risk at all in the matter besides it would prove a handsome investment that would pay from 18 to 30 per cent.

In reply we told him that beyond question of doubt. Prize houses in sufficient numbers would eventually go up, factories would be built and in a few more years Greenville would be one of the most prosperous cities of Eastern North Carolina.

Reader as you are interested in the prosperity of Greenville just cut this out and paste it away and see if the above prediction doesn't come true. A great many of these old, timey sticklers, some of whom are to-day stumbling blocks in the way of progress, have passed away and their vacancy in life's drama filled by men credited to meet the necessity of the age in which they live, but unless the signs of the times fail it will surely come.

With but few exceptions, it can be said to the credit of the farmers of the county that the success the tobacco market has thus far achieved is due to their efforts. The Greenville warehouse and prize house was built by subscription principally from the farmers. The Eastern Warehouse was built by Mr. Jacob Joyner who is a life long farmer. Yet in justice to the bank it must be said that Messrs. Tyson & Rawls have done more towards building the tobacco market than any other firm here, not only in the extension of credit but they have contributed liberally of their means and we believe these gentlemen will be the next to build a prize house. Now if the citizens of the town will build us four more good prize houses we will save to the town and county next season twenty thousand dollars that would otherwise go to some other county and of course it is going to be spent in Greenville.

Last year the market sold about 26,000 pounds. By the close of this season it will have sold a million two hundred and sixty thousand. Considerable improvement in one year. Next year we want to sell two and a half millions and will do it if you will give us the prize room. Give us your support now and in a short while we will burn up these old lamp posts and have electric lights, water works, macadamized streets and a town that will be an honor to the rich and fertile lands by which it is surrounded.

Now Try This.
It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from LaGrippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Deserving Praise

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. Here is the conclusion: And now, gentlemen, as I have told you such a trifling tale, I hope you will give me a trifle with which to drink your health.

AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA

Animal Life as Numerous and Varied There as Anywhere.

Some of the Curiosities That Inhabit the Extreme Depths—The Hermit Crab's Haunts Miles Below the Surface.

So recently as twenty years ago, it was generally supposed that the extreme depths of the ocean were destitute of animal life. Since then it has over and over again been practically demonstrated that neither the absolute darkness nor the low temperature, nor the immense pressure in those mysterious abysses, has been sufficient to prevent life from flourishing there as luxuriantly as elsewhere.

Fish, molluscs, worms, sponges, polyp, and microscopic organisms, are as numerous and varied in the deep waters as in the shallow ones, and even more so.

Of a single order only as many as 739 families and 4,318 species have been discovered in the depths of the Pacific Ocean alone.

The explorations of the warship Challenger, 1872-76, and of the German frigate Gazelle, 1874-76, introduced us to an entirely new world; and in this new world no class of arthropods is more interesting and curious than the decapods—that sub-class of crustaceans which includes the lobsters, the crawfish, and the crabs. Members of the sub-class are found in every sea, and at all depths between high-water mark and the lowest valleys of the Atlantic.

None of these deep-sea decapods has a much better right to the title of queer fish than the slim-legged lobster, which lives at depths ranging from 3,000 to 8,400 feet below the surface. The animal is furnished with extraordinarily long and slender antennae, or feelers, three or even four times the length of its body. Its legs, which are about half as long as the antennae and nearly as slender, bear at their ends tufts of fine bristles. Perched upon this, still-like legs, the animal sweeps with his antennae a very considerable area, and thus receives early notice of the approach of danger.

A kindred curiosity is the hard-bodied lobster, a decapod whose feelers are unusually short, but whose first pair of legs—those which bear the great claws—are monstrously long. This individual, no doubt, lives at the bottom of some narrow rocky cleft, or buries himself in the mud where his enemies cannot reach him, and, brandishing his long pinners, waits until his luckless prey comes within his grasp.

He resides at a depth of 3,000 feet; but he is, comparatively speaking, only a shallow water decapod, for his kinsman, a certain hermit crab, who rejoices in the names Pagurus abyssorum, haunts depths of 18,000 feet.

about three miles and a nan, and seems to thrive and be happy with a pressure of some three and a half tons of water per square inch on his back.

Like other hermit crabs, this creature enshrines the soft rearmost end of his body in the discarded shell of a mollusc, and guards the entrance with his claws and feelers. He carries his borrowed shell with him wherever he goes, his body meanwhile adapting itself to the shape of its home until in time it can no longer be withdrawn, even by exterior force, without breaking.

The hermit crab of the deep sea also resembles the majority of hermit crabs who live at higher levels, in generally having a chapeau or larder-on in the shape of a parasitic anemone. The fondness of the anemone for the society of the hermit crab is well known.

Healthy Exercise

That's what the work of washing clothes and cleaning house amounts to when it's done with Pyle's Pearline. Little or no rubbing; no drudgery; less annoyance; more comfort; more cleanliness; more economy; and a large saving of wear and tear on all sides. You'll find directions on back of package, for easy washing. It will cost you five cents to try it. Every grocer has PEARLINE—nothing else gives satisfaction to the millions of women who use and have been using PEARLINE for years—women who rely on their brains to save their backs.

Beware

Dealers and some unscrupulous grocers are offering imitations which they claim to be Pearline, or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—they are not, and dealers are dangerous. Manufactured only by JAMES PYLE, New York.
