STATE NEWS.

Things Mentioned in our State Exchanges that are of General Interest

The Cream of the News.

A large force of hands is at work getting the grounds at Carolina City, near Morehead, in readiness for the encampment of the State Guard.

The Jewish citizens of Newbern have organized a religious congregation and will build a synagogue as soon as a suitable site is secured.

The news says that a child weighing only two pounds was born last week to Mrs. James Delap, at Thomasville. The child is living and doing well.

Goldboro Headlight: A mad dog bit Miss Ida Lancaster, the 16-year-old daughter of Handley Lancaster, in Stony Creek township, Tuesday evening, causing a painful wound.

One of the signers of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, Benjamin Patton, lies buried near Concord in an unmarked grave. The Concord Standard is making efforts to have a suitable monument erected to the old hero.

Burlington News: The magistrates of Burlington and Graham townships were indicted Monday, and fined for a little neglect of duty. Last fall it seems they forgot to report on the condition of the roads in these townships. Judgment was suspended on payment of cost, which amounted to over $6.

Alamance Gleaser: On last Thursday evening, about dark, as Mr. A. F. Allred, of Bellemont, was coming up town accompanied by Wm. Thompson, at the rear of Mrs. Sally Albright's lot two negroes sprang out. Allred was stricken with a bottle, which knocked him down senseless, and inflicted an ugly wound over his left eye, and the negroes fled. Not a word was said. Merited punishment should be meted to such evil doers.

Salisbury Herald: A negro man from Stanly county is in town to-day and is attracting considerable attention. He is illiterate, being unable to read or write, but is a marvelous hand at figuring. He can add or subtract figures as fast as they are given him without an error, and handles fractions with almost the same ease as whole numbers. Tell him the year and month of your birth and he immediately gives your age in years, months and days. This peculiar gift is unaccountable.

Scotland Neck Democrat: On the Caledonia State farm one day last week, a convict made a desperate lunge for liberty. He was plowing very early in the morning and on reaching the end of his row he jumped into the woods and ran off. Four guards and several dogs were in early pursuit and many shots were fired at the flying fugitive, but none of them reached the mark. He ran in all about 15 miles, and was captured before noon. He was brought back and made to plow the remainder of the day.

The Greensboro Record hears of a distressing occurrence in Rockingham county last Friday. A negro and a white man were hunting turkeys in the same body of woods, each unknown to the other. The negro heard a noise which he took for the gobble of a turkey, and presently saw what he thought was a turkey's head. He fired, and running forward, was shocked to find that he had shot and killed a man—a white man named Harris. He surrendered himself and was discharged. He has been nearly prostrated by the occurrence.

THE DRUNKARDS LAMENT.

BY RICHARD KYLLIE.

I have been to the funeral of all my hopes
And entombed them one by one;
Not a word was said,
Nor a tear was shed,
When the mournful task was done.

Slowly and sadly I turned me round
And sought my silent room;
And there alone,
By the old hearthstone,
I wept the midnight gloom.

And as the night winds deepening shade
Lowered above my brow,
I swept o'er days
When manhood's rays,
Were brighter far than now.

The dying embers on the hearth
Gave out their flickering light,
As if to say,
"This is the way,
Thy life shall close in night."

I wept alone in anguish sore
O'er the flight of prospects fair,
While demons laughed
And eagerly quaffed
My tears like nectar rare.

Through hell's red hall I an echo rang,
An echo loud and long;
As in the howl
I plunged my soul,
In the night of madness strong.

And there within that sparkling glass
I knew the cause to lie,
This all my own
From zone to zone,
Yet millions drink and die.

IMPORTANCE OF A WELL SPENT YOUTH.

NELLIE WILSON, PACTOLA'S, N. C.

"It matters little where I was born,
Or if my parents are rich or poor;
Whether they shrink at the cold world's scorn,
Or walk in the pride of wealth secure;
But whether I live an honest life,
And hold my integrity firm in my clutch,
I tell you, my friends, plain as I can,
It matters much."

We conceive of no spectacle better calculated to lead the mind to serious reflections than that of an aged person who has mis-spent a long life, and who, when standing near the end of life's journey looks down the long vista of his years only to recall opportunities unimproved. Now that it is all too late, he can plainly see where he passed by in heedless haste the true gems of life in pursuit of the alluring pleasures of vanity, but which when gained like the apples of Sodom, turned to ashes in his very grasp. But alas! regrets are useless, save when they awaken in the mind a wish to avoid errors. "Life is a crowning triumph, or a disastrous defeat, garlands or chains, a prison or a prize." Great destinies lie shrouded in your swift passing hours, and responsibilities stand in the passage of this earthly life; dangers lie hidden in the by-paths of life's great highway, and uncertainty hangs over your future history. God has given you existence with full power, and opportunity to improve it and be happy. He also has given you equal power to despise the gift and be wretched, which you will do is the great problem to be solved by your choice and conduct. Your bliss or misery in two words hangs pivoted in the balance; and I trust yours will not be that which struck terror to the ears of Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans.

What an awful doom, "weighed in the balance and found wanting." Imagine Babylon on the close of that eventful day as the shadows of her two hundred and fifty towers began to lengthen and gleam in the setting sun; and gates of brass, burnished and glittering as they open and shut like doors of flames. The hanging gardens wet with the dew of heaven pour forth fragrance for miles around. The streets and squares were lighted for dance and frolic and promenade. The theatres and galleries of art invite the wealth and pomp and grandeur of the city to rare entertainments; scenes of riot are on every side, godless mirth and splendid wickedness come to do their mightiest deeds of darkness. A royal feast is to be given at the king's palace. Rushing up to the gates are chariots upholstered with precious cloths from Dedan and drawn by green eyed horses from Toormah that rear and neigh in the grasp of the charioteers; women dressed in all the splendors of the Syrian emerald, and the color-blending of agate, and the chasteness of coral and the sombre glory of Tyroean purple, and princely embroideries brought from afar by camels across deserts and by ships of Tarshish across the sea. Open wide the gates and let the guest come in. Hark to the silvery music as it ripples out upon the evening air, made heavy by perfumes stealing up from those Babylonian gardens. Let the

THE TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.

An event of great importance to the teachers of North Carolina, and to every school in the State, will be the tenth annual session of The North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, at Morehead City, June 20 to July 3, 1893. Many new features in the Assembly work introduced this session, will make the occasion of more value than ever.

Men and women of the highest reputation and success in our State, representing every department of education, will be present to meet you and give you their best thoughts and views in professional work. The meeting will be one of unusual educational value, such as ambitious and progressive teachers cannot afford to lose. It will be a time to make most pleasant and valuable acquaintances, renew and strengthen old friendships, exchange professional experiences with those who are working in lines like your own, and to get broader, deeper and more practical conceptions of popular education.

The results of such a delightful meeting of our teachers as has been planned for the coming session of the Assembly are certain to increase the interest of all our people in education; and to establish our schools on a more prosperous basis than ever before.

There will be a full and free presentation and discussion of such methods of teaching as are adapted to the peculiar conditions of our educational systems, public and private. Teachers cannot be too strongly urged to be present who desire to become more efficient in their work; to know why the most successful members of the profession succeed; to secure a good school or a change of location for the fall term; to gain a new educational inspiration, or to recover from the fatigue of a school term by the unfailing influence of the refreshing sea-breeze and the exhilaration of an ocean bath.

One of the most valuable departments of the Assembly now is the Teachers' Bureau, which will assist teachers in securing good positions, and will supply competent teachers to any principal or school committee who may desire them. Mr. E. E. Britton has charge of the Bureau, and no charge is made for any assistance rendered. Applications should be sent in at once.

The expenses of your trip will be exceedingly light—a two weeks visit to the Assembly, including round-trip railroad fare from the most distant portion of the State and first-class board at the famous Atlantic Hotel, need not cost over $25. The total average expense of attendance for the entire session, including railroad fare and board, will not exceed $18. The professional and social value of the meeting to a teacher will be many times greater than the slight expense of attendance.

The annual fees for membership in the Teachers' Assembly are $3 for males and $1 for females. By special request of the Assembly the railroads will add to the membership fee to the price of the ticket, and will furnish purchaser a coupon, for which, when presented to the Secretary at Morehead City, a "Certificate of membership" will be supplied, which will entitle the holder to all special hotel rates, lectures, entertainments, and every other privilege of the Assembly on same terms as teachers. When purchasing your teachers' ticket be sure your baggage is checked through to Morehead City.

The various railroads of the State have made, specially for the Assembly, a very liberal rate of about one and a half cents a mile each way. Tickets on sale from June 18 to 30, and are good to return any time until July 20, and permit stopping over on the return trip. The great Atlantic Hotel gives first-class accommodations to all who hold certificates of membership at a uniform rate of only $1 per day. The boatmen make reductions for sailing and fishing parties, so that these delights may be constantly participated in by all.

A cordial invitation is extended to teachers and friends of education of other States to visit the

DENIAL AS TO THE USE OF ALLIANCE FUNDS FOR THIRD PARTY PURPOSES.

Kinston Free Press.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 11.—We, the undersigned officers of the N. C. State Alliance, in answer to the several statements by newspapers and individuals, again denounce as false the report that $4,368.10 or any other sum was appropriated or allowed to be used in the interest of the "People's party" last year. Not one cent of Alliance funds were used for such a purpose. By order of the executive committee at the May meeting last year, all the Alliance lecturers were withdrawn from the field, this being several weeks prior to the first start to organize a new party. Not a cent was paid for lecturing after that time and no money was used for other than legitimate expenses of the Alliance.

Signed, S. B. ALEXANDER, J. S. JOHNSON, J. M. MEADOWS, Executive Committee. MARION BUTLER, President. CYPRIUS THOMPSON, Lecturer. W. S. BARNES, Secretary-Treasurer. W. H. WORTH, State Bus. Agent. W. A. GRAHAM, Trustee.

Of course everybody understands the claim that the money was paid to Alliance lecturers, as it was. But the idea is that most of these lecturers were third party men and talked third party doctrine; in other words talked and worked for a third party, while, ostensibly, lecturing for the Alliance, and while being paid out of Alliance funds. They did such work long before the May meeting. The first start to organize a new party was made prior to the month of May. We suppose the signers of the above denial mean that Mr. Butler and some of the other prominent Alliancemen did not fully go into the third party until after May.

Cause and Effect.

The New York Commercial Bulletin calls attention to the fact that capital is leaving Kansas, and that the farmers, being unable to borrow money, are in a deplorable condition. Nothing else could be expected. What capitalist is going to invest money in a State under control of the Third party, the foundation principles of which is opposition to capitalists and the establishment of socialism in the country? The same condition of affairs would be found in any State where such principles are permitted to govern the people.—Richmond Times.

Five Good Rules.

An old Scotch writer has said the longer I live the more I feel the importance of adhering to the following rules:

- 1. To hear as little as possible of what is to the prejudice of others.
- 2. To believe nothing of the kind until an absolutely forced to do so.
- 3. Never to drink the spirit of one who circulates an ill report.
- 4. Always to moderate as far as I can the unkindness which is expressed towards others.
- 5. Always to believe that if the other side were heard, very different accounts might be given the matter.

Recently we have read some interesting articles from prominent ministers in North Carolina on the needs and necessity of a Reformatory for boys in this State. We think this a matter that should have the attention of every citizen. It cannot be disputed that sending a youth, who has given way to temptation and fell, to the State penitentiary, and there placed in company with the toughest thieves and murderers of the land, would naturally develop into a tough and dangerous criminal himself. While on the other hand had the State been provided with a Reformatory and he sent there he would have perhaps made a useful citizen. Other states have them and they have proven successful, and we hope some day to see North Carolina adopt one.—Roanoke Courier.

BEWARE OF FRIGHT.

Lenoir Topic.

Not a great while ago we read a little fable about the appearance of the Angel of Death before a petty Asiatic Prince and his warning to him that he proposed to sweep over his principality in the summer and take away 10,000 of his people with the dreadful scourge of cholera. Presently the summer came and with it the cholera and 25,000 people died as its victims. In the winter the Angel of Death reappeared before the Prince, who upbraided his grim visitor for not keeping faith with him. The Angel replied that he had kept his word to the letter and carried off 10,000 people with cholera. "But," retorted the Prince, "25,000 died." The Angel answered that 15,000 of them did not die of cholera. "Of what did they die?" asked the Prince. "Of Fear," replied the Angel of Death. And we read somewhere else of a man condemned to death being pardoned upon condition that he should spend the night in a bed at a hospital in which a cholera patient had just died. The man was taken to the hospital and put to bed, seeing the attendants remove the body of a dead person from it. In a short while he was taken with all the symptoms of cholera and died quickly. In truth, however, he was put to bed in a hospital where there were no cholera patients and the man whom he succeeded as a lodger had died of consumption. This shows the power of the imagination and it also warns us to beware of panic if cholera should appear on this side of the Atlantic this summer. Outside of the great cities, we are told, where people are crowded together, there is little danger any way, but it is not at all improper for every section, even the most remote and isolated, to guard against the approach of all epidemic diseases by sanitation. Cholera, it is stated, is much less to be dreaded than typhoid fever and it is a well known fact that this latter disease, with which we are somewhat familiar, can be kept within narrow bounds, as far as fatal results are concerned, by sanitation. Good, pure water, perfect drainage of lots and dwellings and temperate habits are a great protection against disease. This is applicable not only to towns but to residents of the country. See to it that your water supply is in no danger of pollution and that it is kept perfectly pure. Vessels filled with milk should always be kept covered. Nature always gives warning of the fact of the hatching of disease-bearing elements by sending out bad odors. Trace them up and deodorize them. In some towns, in the mornings and in the afternoons, one frequently can, in the summer, sniff a stench that is almost intolerable. And this, too, in towns where ordinary diligence is exercised to produce cleanliness and healthfulness.

But extraordinary efforts should be made to abate such nuisances, for they always indicate that they come from a source that may at any time originate an epidemic. They do not always do so, but they are liable to do it at any time. Too much attention cannot be devoted to this matter.

A statistician remarks that the invention of the sewing machine has enabled one woman to sew as much as a hundred could sew by hand a century ago; but he omits to state that one woman now demands as much clothing as a hundred did a century ago, so that matters are not much improved after all.—Orange (Va.) Observer.

Specimen Case.

S. H. Clifford, New Caspel, Wis., was troubled with Neurgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

A SECOND CHARLIE ROSS.

Charlotte Observer.

A second Charlie Ross came to light. Yesterday's noon train brought in a young man by the name of J. G. Chancey, who claims to be the same who was stolen from his parents in Washington, N. C., when but four years old. Mr. Chancey's story is as follows: When but four years of age he was stolen, being taken, he supposes, to Savannah, as his first recollections are connected with that place. He was kept there by a lady whom he does not know and was afterward placed in the Catholic home, where he stayed 10 or 12 years. He finally ran away from there and roamed about Georgia, making his living as best he could until he became a marble cutter. Being then at the age when he naturally began to enquire about his family, he learned that he had none. He concluded that he would make an effort to find some people by his name, but did not succeed until last January he met a book agent in Gainesville, who knew some Chanceys in Washington, this State. Mr. Chancey went to Washington several weeks ago and hunted out his supposed relatives. To his surprise and delight he found that there lived there a Mr. Chancey who had lost a boy when he was only four years old, and that he filled the bill in every way. His mother—supposed to be—recognized him immediately, he says. However, he is not perfectly satisfied as to his identity, and will continue the search. Mr. Chancey is 25 or 32 years old, he does not know which. He left last night for Gainesville, but will return to Washington shortly to further study the peculiar facts of his life.

Professionally speaking, the more the people are crowded together, there is little danger any way, but it is not at all improper for every section, even the most remote and isolated, to guard against the approach of all epidemic diseases by sanitation. Cholera, it is stated, is much less to be dreaded than typhoid fever and it is a well known fact that this latter disease, with which we are somewhat familiar, can be kept within narrow bounds, as far as fatal results are concerned, by sanitation. See to it that your water supply is in no danger of pollution and that it is kept perfectly pure. Vessels filled with milk should always be kept covered. Nature always gives warning of the fact of the hatching of disease-bearing elements by sending out bad odors. Trace them up and deodorize them. In some towns, in the mornings and in the afternoons, one frequently can, in the summer, sniff a stench that is almost intolerable. And this, too, in towns where ordinary diligence is exercised to produce cleanliness and healthfulness.

But extraordinary efforts should be made to abate such nuisances, for they always indicate that they come from a source that may at any time originate an epidemic. They do not always do so, but they are liable to do it at any time. Too much attention cannot be devoted to this matter.

A CORRECTION ABOUT THE TAX VALUE OF JAMES CITY.

Kinston Free Press.

Soon after the James City was the Free Press published a report that Mr. Bryan, the owner of the property, listed it at only $1,000. We heard the statement repeated time and again and took it for granted that it was true. We were shown the original of the following and take pleasure in publishing the same:

NEWBURN, N. C., May 13, 1893. JAMES A. BRYAN, Esq. DEAR SIR:—The tax list for 1892 shows that the James City lots are assessed for taxation at $20,613. There is other real property adjoining the said City listed to you at $2,400. Very truly yours, JAMES W. BIDDLE, Reg. of Deeds.

The Free Press hopes the papers that published the statement from the Free Press that this property was listed at only $1,000, and commented on the same, will do Mr. Bryan the justice to make a correction.

It should be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cookport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free Trial Bottles at Wooten's Drug Store. Large bottles, 50c, and $1.00.

AN IMPORTANT ACT.

Perhaps no more important act was passed by the last legislature than the one entitled "An act to prevent fraudulent assignments." It provides that upon the making of a voluntary assignment all debts of the maker shall become due at once; that the trustee shall file a verified inventory before the clerk of the superior court within ten days; that a schedule of all doubts shall be filed before the clerk within five days; that any creditor may complain before the clerk and have the trustee removed unless he gives bond; it forbids the sale of the property of the assignee within ten days; requires the trustee to file a verified account of receipts and disbursements every three months, and within twelve months to file a final account, and that all creditors shall file a verified statement of their claims before receiving payment. Violations of the provisions of the act are made a misdemeanor. The act goes into effect January 1st, 1894.

Notice.

I desire to announce to my friends and the public generally that I have opened an office for myself just across the street from my residence and on the old Dr. Flow lot where I can be found at any time.

One of the most important acts of this administration is the revoking of order No. 164 by Secretary Hoke Smith. By this one decision fifteen or twenty millions of dollars have been saved to the United States in pensions which heretofore had to be paid out by this order...

This is one reason the South is so poor. It has to pay its part of the pension money and none of the money paid out comes to this section. The Democratic party promised reform in the pension business...

The long and much talked of trial of Prof. Biggs of Union Theological University has been ended and resulted in the suspension of the Professor. All lovers of the Bible will rejoice at the final finding of the Assembly.

Prof. Biggs was tried for heresy based upon the fact that he taught the following things: First, that reason was an enlightening and saving power, that a man might reject the Bible and yet be saved...

Second, that the Bible might originally as it came from the hands of the writers have contained errors, thereby rejecting its inspiration. Thirdly, that Moses was not the author of the Pentateuch.

Fourth, that Isaiah did not write the book of the Bible which bears his name, and in the fifth, that through Christ was not the only mode of salvation. We do not believe that these views are held by many Presbyterians of the south...

MAGISTRATES MEETING.

The Justices of the Peace of the county held a joint meeting with the Board of County Commissioners Monday for the purpose of levying taxes for the year...

The Magistrates were called to order by chairman G. T. Tyson and a call of the roll showed thirty-nine present out of a total of forty-four in the county.

Mr. Dawson made the statement that there is now in the county treasury the sum of $2,400. This amount is not quite half as large as the amount on hand a year ago—$5,000 then—but out of the funds of last year the dam at North end of Greenville bridge was constructed...

A motion was offered that the levy be made the same as last year, when Esquire R. L. Joyner offered the amendment that the levy be raised to 2 1/2 cents so that the Board might not be confined to barely enough to meet current expenses but have something for making improvements and put a fire proof vault in the Court House.

This question was considerably discussed by a number of the Magistrates, the remarks of Esq. G. T. Tyson being especially eloquent and patriotic. Upon a vote the same levy as last year was adopted.

The Board of Commissioners was instructed to build a new bridge across the creek at Grifton. The next business was the election of Board of education.

Notices of church and society and all other entertainments from which revenue is to be derived will be charged for at the rate of five cents a line.

Commencement week.

Sunday night was a sweater.
The crowd in town Monday was large.
Heavy rain and thunder storm Friday evening.
A. I. Blow, Commissioner, advertises land sale.
The Town Council held its monthly meeting last night.
The price of pork declined more than $2 a barrel Monday.

The young folks are glad that this is the last week of school.
Some of the dogs act like they don't fancy wearing muzzles.
The slang expression "no flies on it" will have to take a back seat now, for the pesky nuisances are on everything. It looks like they were never more numerous than this season.

On the first of February Mr. R. B. Bryant put seven Wyandotte hens in an enclosure separate from his other fowls and up to the first of this week those seven hens laid 570 eggs.
People in town Monday told us that Farmville township had the heaviest rain storm on Saturday evening that has visited that section in ten years. Several farms were badly damaged.

The Southern last week reported the death of Mrs. Sarah Morris, aged 76, in that town. She was the mother of Mrs. A. Arnhem and used to visit Greenville frequently when the latter lived here.

Commencement exercises of Greenville Male Academy and Greenville Female School take place Thursday and Friday evenings in the Opera House. Exercises will begin promptly at 8:30.

The Board of Education had a busy session Monday getting all the School Committees for the several districts appointed. We hope to publish the full list of appointments in next issue.
The Goldsboro Headlight reports that a Chinaman in that town named Lum Keung applied to the Register of Deeds for a marriage license, but as the girl (colored) was only 15 years old, no license was granted.

The Greenville Amateurs under the management of Mrs. Jarvis presented the drama "Woe Back" at the Opera House last night. We go to press too early to make any comment except to say it could not have been otherwise than a success.

Potatoes are bringing a good price and many of our planters are shipping. During the past week they have sold from $3.50 to $5.00 a barrel with a strong demand.
LATER—Telegraphic advices yesterday reported the market broken.

Miss Coghill's music school will give a recital in the Opera House next Tuesday evening, beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock. The public invited, and all expecting to attend are requested to be in the hall by the above hour as the doors will be closed at the beginning of the exercises.
There was a large congregation to witness the children's day exercises in the Methodist church Sunday night. Every part of the programme was well rendered and the audience enjoyed it to the fullest.
Superintendent D. D. Haskett is doing splendid work for the Sunday-school and keeps a good interest among the children all the while.

Memorial Services.
Next Sunday morning in St. Paul's church memorial services to Rev. N. C. Hughes, D. D., will be held, conducted by the Rector, Rev. Albon Greaves. Addresses upon the life of Dr. Hughes will be delivered by Col. Harry Skinner and Maj. Henry Harding.

Officers Elected.
Greenville Lodge No. 284, A. F. & A. M., at its meeting last Thursday elected the following officers:
Worshipful Master—W. M. King.
Senior Warden—H. Harding.
Junior Warden—J. W. Smith.
Secretary—J. L. Suggs.
Treasurer—W. S. Rawls.
The other officers will be appointed.

The Rumor Untree.
CHAPEL HILL, N. C., June 1st, 93.
MR. EDITOR:—Whereas, it has been rumored by some that M. T. Spier was expelled or dismissed from the University of North Carolina, this is written to deny any such report and to certify that M. T. Spier was neither expelled nor dismissed by the authorities of the University.
GEO. T. WINSTON, President.

Ocracoke.
There is no more delightful resort on the North Carolina coast than Ocracoke. Fishing, sailing and bathing are enjoyed to the fullest there. The hotel will be kept this season by Mr. J. W. Mayo, of Washington, and Capt. Dave Hill will run his steamer regularly between Washington and Ocracoke. Something interesting about this resort will be found in another column.

Down in Texas.
Mr. J. A. Lorenzo de Visconti, now at Cheapside, Texas, writes us under date of May 25th to renew his subscription to THE REFLECTOR, and says they are having delightful weather down there in sunny Texas—the land of flowers. For over three weeks roasting cars had been on the market and melons were almost ripe. Saturday following the date of his letter a new bridge was opened across the Gaudaloupe river at Hochheim, and the occasion was expected to bring together several thousand people to participate in a big barbecue.

Personal.
Mr. Herman Wilson, of Kinston, spent a few days here last week.
Miss Rosa Forbes is attending the University commencement this week.
Mrs. E. B. Higgs has returned from a visit to her parents in Scotland Neck.
Mrs. S. M. Merritt returned Friday from visiting relatives in Wilson and Toisnot.

Mrs. J. P. Haskett and two children, of Kinston are visiting the family of Mr. D. D. Haskett.
Mr. W. H. Long left yesterday to spend a few weeks at his old home, New Market, Tenn.

Mrs. Duncan, of Beaufort, who was visiting the family of Rev. G. F. Smith, returned home Monday.

Mr. J. A. Crews, representing the Wilmington Messenger, was in town Monday. The Messenger has a host of friends here.

A daughter of Mr. C. Dawson, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, graduated at Salem Female Academy last week.

Misses Novella Higgs and Bertha Savage, who were attending school at Mount de Sales near Baltimore, returned home Friday evening.

From the Raleigh papers we learn that handsome life size portraits of ex-Gov. Jarvis and Mrs. Jarvis have recently been placed in the Governor's Mansion.
Mrs. L. V. Morrill and children, of Snow Hill, are visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. B. Brown. Mr. Morrill was also here Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. A. D. Hunter, of Carversville, Va., formerly pastor of Baptist church here, was shaking hands with his many friends here yesterday. He is spending the week in this section.
Maj. H. Harding, Register of Deeds, accompanied by Mrs. Harding left Monday for Chapel Hill to attend the University and be present at the graduation of their son, Mr. F. C. Harding.

Rev. B. W. Spilman arrived Saturday evening from the Seminary at Louisville and preached at Pictious Sunday morning and here Sunday night. He went to Weldon Monday to visit his mother and will return to Greenville Friday evening.

Mr. Andrew Joyner, manager of Keely Institute at Ashland, Va., has been spending a few days at home. His connection with the institute will not interfere at all with his law practice here, and he will return to Greenville in time for the fall courts.

Little Lillian Burch, two-and-a-half-year-old daughter of our Foreman, Mr. W. F. Burch, is quite a musical prodigy. She sings a number of airs correctly, being so familiar with the words of the songs that she can sing them merely from the name of the song being called to her, always giving to each its proper tune. She is full of music as any little child we ever saw.

Don't Hinder.
If anything is mentioned for the up-building of Greenville and you are not disposed to aid it, do not retard the progress of the town by putting yourself in the way and attempting to hinder any enterprise. Don't cry down any movement simply because you are not in sympathy with it or cannot be the controlling spirit in it. Hands off if you can't put your shoulder to the wheel.

Died.
Miss Isabella Bogart, a very charming young lady of Washington who had many friends here, died at her home in that town on last Friday night. She was the eldest daughter of Col. D. N. Bogart, who was killed while on duty at Newbern during the settlement of the James City affair. Truly the afflictions of that family have been great during the last few weeks. They have the earnest sympathy of friends here.

Knocked From the Railroad.
One day last week a 15-year-old colored boy was lying asleep on the track of the A. & R. railroad between Parmele and Bethel. The engineer of an approaching train saw him and blew the whistle, but could not stop the train before reaching him. The boy was knocked from the track and received injuries from which it is not thought he can recover. At last accounts he was lying in a critical condition and had only spoken once since the accident.

A Careless Driver.
Out near Whichard station one day last week while some hands were felling timber for Woolard's mill a hauler drove a yoke of oxen up near where the cutters were at work on a tree and stopped his team. The tree fell, the body of it coming down upon the yoke immediately between the two oxen, killing one of the animals and injuring the other so as to make it unfit for service. The driver himself had a narrow escape from being caught under the falling tree.

See Here.
Suppose a local paper should take no more interest in the prosperity and progress of a town than do some of the citizens. Every word spoken for the advancement of a town is just that much in the interest of every business in the town, and in matters that tend to help the town every citizen should be active. Don't wait for your paper to do everything—it will do its part but there are some things it cannot do. We long for the time when the people of the community will feel such an interest in each other's business that they will come together and work in concert for those enterprises that help the town, and in helping the town help every man's business.

Marriage Licenses.
During the month of May only fourteen marriage licenses were issued in this county, as follows:
White—Wm. Raubury and Annie McCotter, John Jolly and Maggie Weatherington, W. P. Clark and G. W. Tripp. Colored—George Boyd and Florence Sinton, John Hall and Ada Smith, Chas. Routner and Bettie Stevens, Bryan Daniel and Cecelia Hines, John Dickson and Ann King, John H. Dewry and Ida Harris.

The Commencements.

The closing exercises of Greenville Male Academy and Greenville Female School, the former under the principal, Prof. W. H. Rasdale and the latter under Mrs. V. L. Pendleton, will take place jointly at the Opera House on next Thursday and Friday evenings beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock. All are invited. We are requested to ask that the audience assemble by the appointed hour or they may fail to gain entrance. We have heard it very strongly intimated that there will be no admissions after 8:30 o'clock. Knowing the Principals as we do we can safely predict a good entertainment and we bespeak for them your prompt attendance as requested.

Mayor's Court.
Mayor Fleming disposed of the following cases coming before his court during the past two weeks:
Sam Brown, riotous and disorderly conduct, fined $1 and costs.
Joseph Bell, intoxicated on streets, fined $1 and costs.
W. B. James and Abram Harris, affray in which deadly weapon was used, both bound in the sum of $100 for appearance at September term of Pitt Superior Court.

Ida Reed, vulgar and profane language, fined $1 and costs.
John Curtis and Leon Patrick, riotous and disorderly conduct, Curtis fined $4 and costs, Patrick fined $1 and costs.
Henry Marshman and Leon Patrick, riotous and disorderly conduct, Marshman fined $2 and costs, Patrick fined $1 and costs.

"O CROW, COCK!"
AN ISLAND FULL OF BEAUTY AND ANCIENT STORY.
AN INTERESTING SKETCH.
We all admire the beautiful in nature, and that which has suggestion of antiquity at once invites inquiry and investigation.
Today I write of a place distinguished for marvellous natural beauty and one that has weird legends, as well as strange relics connected intimately with its history.

OCRACOKE ISLAND.
There is a long line of slender islands stretching parallel to the Atlantic Coast, the curious have considered freaks in geological creation—and indeed it is so. Above point this ancient stretch of land makes out into Cape Hatteras, the most dreaded locality on the American coast to mariners. Just 25 miles from Hatteras light is the center of Ocracoke, where the gods have dealt out blessings with lavish hand.
The island is eighteen miles long and two miles wide. On the one side the clear placid waters of the Pamlico Sound stretches out in quiet, limpid beauty, while on the other the raging Atlantic in furious dispersion lashes the shores. Every fingered wave stands up behind angry billows of ocean, while the King of Day, goes down in quiet splendor beneath the surface of the sea.

From the one side the breaker byezes blow from crested billows; from the other the gentle zephyrs, like the breath of sylphs and sea-maidens, come at evening to cool the visitors enjayed bro.
SILVER LAKE.
In the heart of the island, Silver Lake, a mile in circumference, the indented edge is fringed with queer-shaped tea tree, surface dotted with sail, and waters teeming with fishes, lends variety to the scenery.

CAPT. KIDD.
It is said that there was Captain Kidd's rendezvous, and that the circumstance of his capture gave the island a name. It is said to have paced the deck of his vessel all night before his capture, feeling the presentment of foreboding evil, and once in a while would cry out "O Crow Cock." Even now the old inhabitants call the place Ocracoke. Many believe that rich hidden treasures lie buried here to this day. The oldest grave yards and grave stones in the State are found on the island, and the quaint and interesting customs of the people, as well as their hospitality, remind the stranger of the story of the fishermen of Galilee. Much of their time is devoted to fishing and hunting.

SPORTS ON THE ISLAND.
The waters of the sound and ocean teem with all kinds of fish, and there is no better hook and line fishing on the coast. The stranger is amazed at the tremendous catches of millions of mullets by the natives, who jump from their boats and encircle the schools of fish on the shallows. Clams and oysters are caught, fresh and luscious every day in the year. This island, and the adjacent ones, abound also, in birds of many varieties, and it is verily the "Sportsman's Paradise." Stilling and surf-bathing are unsurpassed, and as a health and pleasure resort, free from the stiff formalities of fashion, it has no equal.
The mammoth four story Ocracoke Hotel will be open after June 15th, and a pleasant week or two can be enjoyed no where. The Coast Line R. C., and the J. & W. R. R., will take passengers to Washington, N. C., and a steamer will transfer them to the island. The steamer also connects at B-Port with the Norfolk Southern R. R. Mr. J. W. Mayo, Washington, N. C., who is the proprietor, will take pleasure in writing you any information. Address him at Washington, N. C.—Washington, N. C. Gazette.

Notice.
By virtue of a mortgage to me executed by Alfred Walker and wife and duly recorded in the Register's office of Martin county, in book FF, pages 436 and 437, I shall sell for cash before the county house doory, in Martin county, on Monday, the 3rd day of July, 1893, the land conveyed in said mortgage.
This the 12th day of May, 1893.
S. R. MOBLEY, Mortgagee.

COUGH SYRUP
I am now prepared to treat successfully "Croup" of the feet from which arises the exceedingly unpleasant odor with which many are afflicted and which is so annoying to them and those with whom they associate. I can relieve this entirely at once, and I respectfully ask you to give me a trial and I will guarantee to remove this most worrying and offensive affliction. My services can be secured by calling at my shop or it will give me pleasure to serve you at your homes whenever notified in any way. This treatment will obviate the necessity of almost daily bathing to which many are subjected and is a trouble. Try my treatment and you will not regret it.
