Let's Get Down to Business. Eat Before You Retire.

The country has cause for congratulation that the election is over. The excitement incident to a campaign always interferes with business, and no election for the past quarter of a century perhaps, has interfered with it more than has this.

But now the battle is ended. There is no longer any uncertainty as to the result. But no matter who has won, business enterprises should take on new life.

North Carolina especially should press forward. The South is now coming to the front as never before.

With the great resources at our command, with the Southward trend of immigration and capital and the increase of the population in this county we have no time to mourn over our political losses.

We may be quite sure that our will is likely to be crossed during the day, so let us prepare for it.

Dr. Cathell, of Baltimore, in a recent article in a medical journal, recommends all, and especially weak persons, to eat before retiring to sleep. He says: "I am of the opinion that fasting during the long interval between supper and breakfast, and especially the complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep, adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness we so often meet. Physiology teaches that in the body there is a perpetual disintegration of tissue, sleeping or waking. It is therefore logical to believe that the supply of nourishment should be somewhat continuous, especially in those who are below par if we would counteract their emaciation and lower degree of vitality; and as bodily exercise is suspended during sleep, with wear and tear correspondingly diminished, while digestion, assimilation and nutritive activity continue as usual, the food furnished during this period adds more than is destroyed, and increased weight and improved general vigor are the results."

Ex-President Harrison rises to remark that the late set back has sent the Democratic party into permanent retirement. Not quite. Only to the repair shop. Even ex P's may be somewhat too previous sometimes, but they should value their reputation for sense and think before they speak. They have been killing the Democratic party ever since 1860, but they have never succeeded in persuading it to stay dead.—Wilmington Star.

Bond Issue Inevitable—The Commerce Committee Won't go to California to see which of the two Little Harbors Needs Deepening—May go Later—The Coming Congress, &c.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17, 1894.

A million dollar bond issue is considered a necessity by Mr. Cleveland. He has decided on it I hear, without consulting other authorities, because of the pressing exigencies of the Treasury.

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Times indulges in the following gossip:

The situation in North Carolina is now being considerably discussed, and with the return here of a number of men who went home to vote some very interesting news crops out.

Alexandria is anxious for the Duke of Durham to settle there. Capt. John B. Hussey who received a $2,100 Chiefs place in the Treasury from Senator Ransom during Cleveland's first administration, eulogises our Mary Ann in the last issue of the Evening Star, this city.

The Republicans will filibuster, and make a re-organization of the Senate necessary after March 4th. The short session of Congress which convenes in less than three weeks will be a most notable one.

perhaps Sergeant-at-arms Hussey!

If the Democrats ever get in power again let them send Senators and members here who recognize plow horses also.

And The Cat Came Back.

"I have got a kitten at home," said W. L. Slocum, of Manchester, N. H., "which I think has traveled about as rapidly and as far in one day as any other animal in the world.

"A little computation shows the distance the cat traveled. The wheel moves at the rate of 250 revolutions a minute, and at every turn passes twenty seven feet.

The result of the election is an undoubted surprise all round. No matter what the wisecracks may say, no Republican in these parts expected a tidal wave in their favor and the most sanguine Populist could hardly have expected it to be what it is.

By No Means Convinced.

A patient in an insane asylum imagined himself dead. Nothing could drive this delusion out of the man's brain.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills.

Two years from now, when the Republicans and Democrats are struggling for supremacy in his country, where will be our popu list neighbors?

Plain Talk.

The election is over. It is a good time to do some plain talking. Henceforth it is the duty of the Democratic party to take care of itself and to make its next fight on the line of a White Man's Government.

THE INCOME TAX. Although the income tax does not begin to operate until January 1st, the first levy will be on incomes received in 1894.

Every person having an income of $3,500 must report it to the Collector of Internal Revenue for his district, or his deputy. Salaries received from corporations are reported by the corporations to the collector of the recipient's district.

There are exemptions allowed by the bill in computing an individual's income besides the $4,000. They are as follows: The necessary expenses of conducting a business, all interest paid or due within the year, local taxes, losses in trade or from fires, storms or shipwreck, not compensated for by insurances or otherwise; worthless debts, an income on which the tax has been paid by corporations.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17 1894.

Those Republicans and Populists who are trying so hard to make somebody think that they believe the Democratic party, as a national organization, is dead, are merely making themselves ridiculous. The Democratic party which, to go no further back than the memory of every middle-aged man, made six successive unsuccessful Presidential campaigns—defeated in five at the polls and in one at the hands of an abortion known as the electoral commission—is not to be killed by disunion among a few of its prominent members which resulted in a stay-at-home vote large enough to defeat it in a Congressional election. On the contrary, that defeat will eventually make the Democratic party stronger than ever before, because it will result in showing some of the prominent experimenters that deviations from the established principles of the party will not be tolerated by the voters; that thousands, eye millions of good Democrats will refuse to endorse any half-and-half principles, preferring defeat to compromise with principles they have been taught to oppose. The recent election was a bitter lesson, but the future will prove that it was a useful one.

President Cleveland is not spending much time at the White House just now, because the time is short between this and the assembling of Congress and his annual message to Congress, which will be one of the most important to the country and to the Democratic party he has ever written, requires his entire time, and he can work undisturbed at his country residence, something which experience has shown him he cannot do in this office at the White House. During his vacation the President devoted much time to studying the financial system of the country which is generally admitted to be radically defective, and the result of that study will be shown in the recommendations of his message to Congress.

No Democrat can possibly regret the issue of bonds officially announced this week by Secretary Carlisle, more than does President Cleveland and the members of his cabinet, but in the face of the necessity for preserving the national credit, and in the absence of any other method, owing to the system inherited from a long series of Republican administrations, regrets were idle and action imperative. When a merchant finds his credit endangered, owing to his receipts being less than his expenditures, he cannot afford to waste time in regrets because those expenditures are largely the result of extravagant contracts made by his predecessor. His credit must be protected and nothing will do that but prompt payment of his obligations as they mature, and to do that he must have money and it can only be had by borrowing it on his note. That he does, trusting to his ability to stop the leaks in his business and make it profitable in order to pay it back. That is precisely the position of the administration in announcing an issue of bonds.

Senators Ransom and Gorman had a casual meeting and a friendly conversation in a committee room at the Capitol one day this week, and straightway a story was started that they had agreed on a plan by which a Democrat was to be elected at an extra session of the North Carolina legislature to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Vance, and Senator Ransom was to resign and be elected for a full term beginning March 4, 1895, at the same extra session. Verily, "the wicked fleeth when no man pursueth."

A striking exhibition of fanaticism run wild is given by the criticism of Mrs. Cleveland by members of a Pennsylvania branch of the W. C. T. U., because she followed the usual custom and broke a bottle of champagne in christening the steamship St. Louis, launched at Philadelphia last Monday. The criticism is all the more senseless because Mrs. Cleveland is a consistent advocate of temperance, never drinking wine at her own or anyone else's table. In this case she was an invited guest and had no more to do with what was to be used at the christening than a guest would have to do with what was served on your table.

Homicide at Kinston.

On last Wednesday in Kinston Mr. Chas. H. Brown, lawyer, and Mr. George W. Warters, a Deputy Sheriff of Lenoir county, had an altercation in the Court House. It seems that in a speech to the jury Mr. Brown had made remarks that Mr. Warters did not like. Upon the adjournment of court Mr. Warters approached Mr. Brown about the matter, whereupon Brown accused Warters of swearing to a lie against him. Then Warters called Brown a liar. Brown jumped on the railing that surrounds the bar and struck Warters with a chair after being warned by Warters to keep off. Warters shot immediately after he was struck, the ball entering the neck. Warters was placed under a $500 bond. We learn since that Brown has died.

Quinley Items.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate were perfected last week by Henry Sheppard, real estate agent, to wit:

F. V. Manning and others, to W. F. Morrill, and wife, farm.

J. W. Brooks and wife, to F. V. Manning, farm.

H. A. Gilliam, to George Dudley and wife, house and lot.

Mr. Sheppard is now conveniently located on main st., office in the old Dancy building, where he will be pleased to confer with parties who desire to rent, buy or sell property of any kind, either in Greenville or in the country. He solicits correspondence. Give him a trial.

Tax Payers, Take Notice!

A Clever Gentleman.
It is a pleasure to ride with a man like Capt. Hawks, of the Scotland Neck and Kinston railroad. We overheard a conversation between two ladies and a gentleman one day recently in which one of the ladies expressed herself as follows: "I have traveled very near all over the United States and must say that the conductor on this road is the most accommodating and polite of any I have ever traveled with."
Notice.

All the stewards, trustees, Sunday-school superintendents, and others interested in the circuit are urged to be present. Matters of importance will come up before the conference.

Mr. W. M. Russ, of Raleigh, spent a day or two here last week. The REFLECTOR was glad to have a visit from him. He took Mrs. Russ and their little daughter back home with him.
Mr. G. T. Tyson, of Beaver Dam, and Mr. J. W. Dixon, of Willow Green, two of the best tobacco farmers in all this section, went to Henderson last Thursday to make some sales. Mr. Dixon was accompanied by his wife.
Our popular townsman Mr. Jesse L. Sugg, will today wed Miss Minnie Exum a young lady greatly beloved and admired by every one. The marriage will take place at the residence of Mr. R. P. Sugg, near Farmville. The REFLECTOR tenders its best wishes.
Mr. Henry Pannil, of the Pannil Paint Co., arrived here on last Wednesday night and dropped in the REFLECTOR office for a chat. His force of eight men arrived Saturday night and will paint the town, if you say so. Every man with him plays an instrument of some kind and we may expect some good music before long.
Mr. J. C. Albritton returned home Monday evening from a trip of several weeks through the States south of us. He says "the people here at home complain and talk of hard times, when they really have no knowledge of such a condition. If they want to see hard times sure enough let them go down in portions of Georgia, Alabama and Florida."
The enterprising firm of J. R. Smith & Bro., of Ayden, have purchased the store they now occupy and the lot adjoining on East Avenue street from Mr. A. G. Cox and are now under their own vine and fig tree. They are clever young men and deserve the success that is crowning their labors.
Ayden claims to have the best drinking water in Pitt county. It is just splendid for this scribe has tried it and knows whereof he speaks.
Dr. Joseph Dixon, a young and promising physician of Ayden, is giving entire satisfaction. We hear him spoken of in the highest terms.
We were talking to some of the merchants and farmers and they expressed a desire to have a tobacco warehouse erected there. We would not be surprised to hear at any time that they were building one.
There is considerable building going on in Ayden. One building is course of erection has two large stories to it.
We understand that Ayden will soon have a large hotel. A gentleman was telling us that he was looking for a site.

HOW TO GET THERE.
A Conversation Between a Newly Married Couple.
He.—Well Sallie, I think we are about fixed.
She.—You men are always about fixed but never get there.
He.—I bet I have got there this time.
She.—Please tell me how!
He.—I have engaged the house and bought the Furniture so we can move next week, how do you like that?
She.—How do you expect to pay for the Furniture? I am not going to have any of your common stuff and you can't buy anything else, as you told me we would have to live close as you were getting a small salary.
He.—Stop a little, Sallie dear, and I will try to explain. You know that fine Oak Suit you admired so much at the Furniture & Racket Store.
She.—Yes I know what a beauty it is but you can't buy that, you said you had no money but your salary.
He.—You are right, but I have bought it, come go around to the house and look at it.
She.—All right, I believe I will He.—What do you think of it?
She.—Oh, Jimmie, it is just too lovely for anything, how in the world did you manage to get there?
He.—I will show you, here is the contract with the Furniture & Racket Store and it calls for an Oak Suit $25.00, one Washstand set 4.50, one tin set 1.25, one oak extension dining table $5, one set knives 2.00, forks 1.50 one set spoons 1.00, one pair Cuspidors 20cts, one Castor 75, one set dishes plates, cups and saucers 5.80 making a total of $45.00 I paid them ten dollars cash and will have to pay five dollars per month which you see will only take me seven months to pay the whole bill that is the way I got there.
She.—Oh, Jimmie, come here let me kiss you, you sweet thing. I am going to try and help you pay for these beautiful things, but men like you forget to get any towels you men always forget something.
He.—That is so. I will go right down to the Furniture & Racket Store. I saw some there pure linen 21 inches wide and 45 inches long at 48 cents a pair. If there is anything else you want let me know and I will get it there as they keep every thing needed about the house and sell as cheap as any house in town, in fact I believe a little cheaper if you look at the quality of their goods, so kiss me honey and I will go after the towels.
