WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1894

Entered at the post-office at Greenville, N. C., as second-class mail matter.

This is the last issue of the EASTERN REFLECTOR for the year 1894 and we take occasion to return sincere thanks to every subscriber and advertiser for the patronage extended during the year. We hope all who have been with us during the past year will continue during the coming year, and that many new names will be added to our subscription list. It will be our aim at all times to give the people a clean, truthful paper that will be a credit to the town and county. Every friend can help us in this by speaking to his neighbor and asking him to take the REFLECTOR for next year. Now wishing all a Merry Christmas, and hoping the New Year will bring you peace and prosperity, we bid farewell to the old year.

There will be three women in the next Colorado Legislature—Mrs. Clara Cressingham, Mrs. Frances Klock and Mrs. Carrie Clyde Holly.

Mr. B. L. Perry who for two years past has been proprietor of the Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, is so severely ill at his home in Raleigh of heart disease and dropsy that his life is despaired of.

Spot cotton is being bought very freely at Augusta, Ga., by investors, who prefer the actual article to futures. Several thousand bales are already stored and the stock is almost daily being added to.

The coroner's jury in the case of the death of Andy Bowen returned a verdict that death was due to concussion of the brain and that the fatality was due to the neglect of the club in not padding the floor of the ring.

The Goldsboro Argus has become the property of the Argus Publishing Co., with Jas. E. Robinson as president, and Walter E. Bonitz as secretary and treasurer. Mr. Robinson will continue as editor. Mr. Bonitz will have the business management.

The low price of cotton is the cause of serious alarm to the Egyptian growers. They are unable to pay their taxes, and the price of land in the delta has fallen off considerably. American planters have but to grow corn as well as cotton and they will command the situation.

Marion Butler, President of the National Farmers' Alliance, announces that the next annual meeting will be held in Raleigh in February, at which time the corner stone will be laid to the monument that is to be erected in Oakwood cemetery to the memory of the late Col. L. L. Polk.

Reports received at the State Agricultural Department show that the increase of logs in North Carolina is 100 per cent in the last two years, and that less meat will be purchased outside of the State than at any time since the war. Farmers state that they propose to reduce the cotton acreage one half to two-thirds and to proportionately increase grain crops.

The New York Sun prints the following in its editorial columns: We are enabled on the highest authority to state that Messrs. Joseph H. Choate and Clarence A. Steward regard the new income tax as unconstitutional, and that these eminent lawyers will represent a large body of public spirited New York merchants and business-men who propose to test constitutionality of the law in the courts.

The report of the insane asylum at Raleigh for the two years ending November 30th, last shows that there are now 307 patients. Two years ago there were 300, and during that period 34 males and 87 females were admitted, making total number under treatment 471. Ninety-six were discharged cured, 20 as improved, 3 on probation, and 47 died. The death rate is only 5 per cent, the average in this country in asylums being 7 per cent; and 54 per cent of those admitted recovered their minds, the general average in asylums being 35 per cent. The annual appropriation for the asylum is $52,500, and the per capita cost is only $108.87, this including all their expenses of maintenance, clothing, &c., as well as repairs of the buildings. During the year a new building containing wards for 75 females and a congregate dining-room large enough to accommodate 250 females has been completed at cost of $18,000.

DELIGHTFUL MUSICALS.

The entertainment at the Female Seminary Friday night was one of the best ever given in Greenville. From beginning to end it was a splendid success and reflected the highest credit on not only the participants but also on Prof. Goode and his most efficient corps of teachers. We wish space could be had to-day to comment upon each select, for every part was perfect and faultlessly rendered, but as it is we will have to be content with giving the excellent programme which was as follows:

- 1. Hail to the Winter King—Chorus.
2. Christmas Welcome—Primary Class

LOCAL NOTES AND TOBACCO JOTTINGS.

Reports from nearly all the tobacco sections of the South show the '94 crop to be anything but a fine one. About 50 per cent of the Kentucky crop is nondescript and in those sections of Va., and N. C. where fine wrappers and good cutters were expected wild berry nondescript stuff is showing up. So our Eastern farmers have good grounds to build their hopes upon if they grow a good crop in '95.

Mr. J. S. Jenkins, than whom there is no buyer that has more closely identified himself with the tobacco interest of Greenville for the past three years, has so conducted his business in the interest of the parties for whom he has been buying, that after the holidays they will put him on some of the up country markets. Mr. Jenkins will return in time for the opening breaks of the warehouses here next season. While we regret his leaving us at all, yet we hope for him a pleasant and profitable stay.

Friday Mrs. L. Griffin received a very large rock fish, something unusual for the time of year. It was sent from Washington by Mr. E. T. Stewart.

Parting Sermon.

Rev. J. H. Lamberth delivered his parting sermon at the Baptist church Sunday night. It consisted of a brief history of his own experience which was told in a manner both interesting and touching. We wish every young man in the community could have heard him. It was indeed an inspiration to a higher, better and more noble life. In his closing remarks he referred to the happiness his stay in Greenville had afforded him, his pleasant relations with the ministers of other denominations, and the congenial manner in which he had been treated by all our people. Mr. Lamberth is truly a consecrated christian gentleman, a faithful man of God, an able, eloquent preacher, and it is with reluctance and sorrow that the church and community part with him. Greenville has been greatly benefited by such a man living among us.

PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY.

Faces Caught as They Passed Before the Reflector.

Mrs. M. A. Jarvis is sick.

Mrs. C. Stephens has gone to Hassell's to spend Christmas.

Mr. George E. Harrison has gone to Henderson for the holidays.

Mr. L. W. Stark, auctioneer for the Greenville Warehouse, left Friday to spend the holidays at Oxford.

Mr. J. W. Wiggins left Friday morning to spend the holidays at Rocky Mount and to see his best girl. The tobacco boys hope Jim will take good care of himself.

Mr. J. W. Price Dead.

Information has been received here that Mr. J. W. Price, who was traveling salesman for Findlay, Roberts & Co. hardware merchants of Baltimore, died in that city on Saturday. Mr. Price was one of the best of men, a thorough gentleman, and was held in high esteem wherever he went. He had some warm friends in Greenville who learn with sorrow of his death.

That's the Way.

A remark Mr. J. J. Cherry made in our hearing gives an idea of how Greenville is growing. He said: "If you fail to go on a street for a few days, the next time you pass along there is a new house up and people in it"

Carried to Raleigh.

Capt. Richard Williams left Friday morning for Raleigh to take Mr. James H. Barnhill, particulars of whose sad condition were published a few days ago, to the State Hospital. We are glad that admission to the hospital was so soon obtained for him and hope his mind will be early restored.

Pastor Called.

Rev. J. H. Lamberth, who has been pastor of the Baptist church here for the past two years, having accepted a call to the church at Mt. Airy, the church held a meeting after the regular services Thursday night and extended a call to Dr. J. D. Hufham. Dr. Hufham is well known here and it is hoped he can accept.

We Don't Miss.

There is a custom among weekly newspapers to miss the issue between Christmas and New Year and take a little holiday. The REFLECTOR did not avail itself of the custom last year and departs from it this year also by greeting its readers with the usual issue this week. Not that our boys fail to love a rest and holiday as much as the other printers, but when they say "Boss, if you want to give the people something to read this week we'll stand by you" no other persuasion was needed. We believe the people will appreciate having something to read this week.

Greenville Growing.

Mr. Lovit Hines tells us that Greenville Lumber Company has just sold six lots in their property to parties who will build at an early date. That section of the town has the prettiest building lots around Greenville and we are glad to see improvements continuing out there.

After Turkeys.

At Falkland Thursday night some thieves broke into Dr. J. Morrill's buggy house and stole six turkeys he had just bought the day before. Some parties hearing the noise made by the turkeys started in that direction when the thieves fled and in their fright dropped all the turkeys but two. So the doctor did not lose all his Xmas dinner.

Boys and Hogs.

Verily the types do mix things up sometime. The Index last week in speaking of two boys said "they are fine hogs," and now the Salisbury Herald says a man up that way "killed two boys that weighed 345 and 374 pounds respectively." Well, its getting close to Christmas, so the brethren will have to be excused.

Two Deaths.

Little Ruth, one and a half year old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Mewborn, of Farmville, died on Wednesday about noon and was buried Thursday.

Miss Fannie Rollins, aged about 15 years, daughter of Mr. J. J. Rollins, of Pactolus, Died Wednesday afternoon. She was buried in Washington Thursday. The family have the sympathy of friends here.

Married.

ROUNTREE-ABBOTT.—At 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening 19th, inst., at the home of Mrs. Lucy Abbott, mother of the bride, in Lenoir county, Mr. L. H. Rountree, of Greenville and Miss May Abbott were married by Rev. J. B. Tingle. They arrived in Greenville on this morning's train. We join their many friends in extending warmest congratulations.

HINES-DANIEL.—At seven forty-five o'clock Wednesday, 19, at the residence of Mrs. F. T. Daniel, on Pitt street, her oldest daughter, Miss Viney, was married to Mr. W. C. Hines, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. H. Lamberth. They were attended by Mr. S. M. Daniel and Miss Nannie Bagwell.

They received a number of very handsome bridal presents, among them being a rocking chair from Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cherry, towels from Misses Blanch and Dot Flanagan, waiter from Miss Clemmie Fleming, centre table from Mrs. Quinn, tea spoons, cups and saucers from S. M. Daniel, napkins from Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Moore, knives and forks from D. D. Haskett, butter dish from Dr. W. H. Bagwell and wife, lamp from Frank Wilson, silver pepper box from Miss Olive Daniel, silver salt box from Miss Lena Matthews, silver hall ornament from Mrs. Georgia Pearce, cup and saucer from C. D. Harrington, wall splasher from Mrs. M. T. Cowell, table cloth from Mrs. C. M. Bernard, pin tray from Hassel Daniel, berry bowl from Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kennedy, goblets from Will and Hassel Daniel, pillow and bolster covers from Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrington, point lace handkerchief, C. B. Wichard and mother, table cloth and napkins from Miss Lucy and Robert Cox.

The couple took the morning train for the home of the groom's father, in Sampson county, where they will spend the holidays and return to make Greenville their home. They have the best wishes of the REFLECTOR and a host of friends.

Blood Poison

After Approach of Death, New Life by Taking Hood's.

Mr. Wm. E. Greenholts Baltimore, Md.

"For four years I was in intense suffering with an abscess on my thigh. It discharged freely and several times.

Pieces of Bone Came Out.

Last February I had to take my bed for four weeks, and then it was I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I soon got on my feet, but was very weak and went to the Maryland University hospital, where they said my trouble was chronic blood poisoning and gave me little hope. I returned home and continued taking Hood's. I have used six bottles and the abscess has entirely disappeared, and I have been in.

Five Months Ever Since.

I know if it had not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla I should be in my grave. I have gained in weight from 147 a year ago to 170 pounds to-day.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

I praise Hood's Sarsaparilla for it all." Wm. E. GREENHOLTS, 1812 Hanover St., Baltimore, Md.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, weak heads, indigestion.
