THE REFLECTOR
Greenville, N. C.

D. J. WICKARD, Editor and Proprietor

Entered at the postoffice at Greenville, N. C., as second-class matter.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19th, 1895.

James R. Holland, ex-cashier of the Merchants' and Farmers' National Bank, of Charlotte, was arraigned in the Federal Court in that city, Thursday, and submitted to an indictment of embezzlement. He was sentenced to seven years in the Albany penitentiary. Holland got away with $90,000 of the bank's funds.

Hon. Tom Mason's subject for the literary address, which he delivered at Wake Forest College Wednesday, was: "What we make of our State." No man could have shown more conclusively and eloquently than he did what we ought to make North Carolina.

President Cleveland has issued an address admonishing all citizens of the United States not to take any part in the Cuban rebellion either by enlisting themselves or causing others to enlist for service. He says we are on terms of peace and amity with Spain and that it is desirable to remain so.

The silver men were in session in Memphis. Senator Turpie, of Indiana, was chosen president of the meeting. If all the men who are slated to speak do so the convention will be in session for several days. The gold bugs will evidently be pretty hotly scored. It is thought some organization will grow out of the convention.

Senator Butler has written a letter explaining what he meant by saying in his little speech at Chapel Hill commencement that the day would soon come when any Methodist or Baptist who opposed the University could not be elected as delegate to a conference or convention. He says he did not did not mean it that way.

The Circuit Court of appeals sitting in Richmond, Va. has squelched Judge Goff. It dissolves his famous injunction case in reference to the South Carolina registration laws. This is a great victory for the State and emphasizes the partisan decision of Judge Goff. Chief Justice Fuller of the Supreme Court of the United States sat with Judges Hughes and Seymour in the Court that sets aside Goff's decision.

At Durham some negroes applied to the manager of the Opera House for reserved seats among the white people on the lower floor of the hall to hear Blind Tom. They were refused the seats and immediately issued a big circular headed "Negroes Refused Recognition." That is a pretty dowsy-do. Negroes who act in such a manner need not one to have any respect for them, and really, they have none for themselves.

Mr. S. L. Patterson, of Caldwell county, has been elected Commissioner of Agriculture in place of Mr. Robinson resigned. He is a practical farmer. The other officers of the Board were retained. These are all Democrats. The men who were elected by the Legislature as members of the Board of Agriculture did not contest for the places as the Legislature could not elect with less than a quorum.

Ex-Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis delivered the annual address before the University of Tennessee at Knoxville on Tuesday. We have seen copies of Knoxville papers that spoke in highest terms of our honored townsman and congratulated the authorities of the University upon selecting him as speaker for the occasion. The Tribune published the address in full and said editorially, "It is full of wholesome truths, worthy sentiment and sound advice which is worth the consideration of every citizen."

In speaking of the presence of Ex-Gov. Jarvis in Knoxville, the Journal, which, by the way, is a Republican paper, says: "For a few days Knoxville will have among her visitors one of the most public-spirited of the public men of North Carolina in the person of Hon. Thos. J. Jarvis, ex-Governor and ex-United States senator. He is a man of ability and one whom the people of his state delight to honor. Moreover, he is one in honoring whom his people honor themselves."

SOXOLOGY.

Getting Things Mixed After the Order of Mark Twain.

Man sometimes finds himself doing things or going in ways contrary to his judgment without being able at the time to give a reason satisfactory to himself, for the wherefores of such doing or going. The writer found himself in one of these inexplicable predicaments that continued for more than a day, and we were at a loss to know whether someone had got us under a hypnotic spell, whether the departed missionary had sent back some of his spirits after us, or what. But some how or other our head and feet seemed at variance, the latter showing a disposition to go in ways contrary to the dictates of the former.

The trouble started Sunday morning, when our feet tried to turn every corner and go somewhere else instead of taking us to Sunday School. Bringing the obstreperous pedals under control of our will power they were kept under subjection for a while and the spell supposed to be broken. On the way home, however, those feet became unruly again and began kicking at a pile of brick placed on the sidewalk to be used in constructing a building. This puzzled us again that our feet should be kicking so, and our head had to come into play once more to convince those pedals that there was no earthly use for such kicking, there being fully six feet of sidewalk space in which to walk by those brick.

Nothing else occurred until after dinner when it was concluded that a good nap might drive away the spirits, if such they were molesting us. But as soon as we had fairly launched in dreamland those feet commenced again. The vision took us away to Washington for an interview with the President, and we had hardly got off to talking to him when up jumped both those feet and went to kicking Grover. The old man called time, and the only apology we could offer was that something was wrong with those feet, they had got in a kicking notion, but for the life of us we could not tell what they were kicking about.

The vision changed, when along came a man with an advertising novelty in which he convyoned our head there was good pay, when up came those feet again, kicking and crying "fake!" just because the novelty was not offered to them first.

Again the vision changed and those feet began taking us up wolvern Hill and the Heights of Gettysburg to view the war over again, but a passing steamer with a church excursion and "considerable dancing" set those feet to going at such a rate that we woke with a jump.

What could be the matter with those feet? They looked like the same old number sixes, but by this time such "capers" were becoming past finding out. Night drew on and we almost feared to retire, lest our slumbers should again be broken by the unusual notions of those feet. But not so, for laying aside the robes of day all presence of an undue influence about our feet immediately disappeared, and nothing more was thought of it for the night.

Scarcely had our toilet been completed next morning when the spell returned, and those feet seemed to resume their disposition to find something to kick at. Well, the thing began to grow monotonous—especially when at our desk in the office writing copy for the day some unaccountable presence seemed rising up and getting cross legged and tangled with what was being written.

Suddenly a servant from the house came rushing in almost breathless with a message from our better half to go out and buy a pair of socks, take off the pair we had on and send them home instanter. "What's the matter with these socks we've got on?" was demanded. "Whv, sah, de wash woman has got yer all mixed up, and you got on de other editor's socks 'stead of yer own." Quick as a flash the mystery was cleared up and the cause of all our muddle disclosed. We were not exactly standing in another editor's shoes, but were in his socks with both feet, and as the two minds don't often run in the same channel it's no wonder we thought our feet were doing lots of kicking. As the matter is now cleared up on our side, the question that arises is: What is the other editor doing for socks this week?

Collector Rogers, of the Western District, has appointed W. O. Conner, the late Collector Carter's brother-in-law, Chief Deputy in the revenue office.

The Teacher's Assembly meets at Morehead to-day. This body has been a power for good to the educational interests of North Carolina. It has brought co-operation in the work, and the teachers have been much encouraged in their work. A promising programme is given for the present session.

Marion Butler says he has cut loose from both the Democratic and Republican parties. He had to cut loose from the Democrats to get an office. He joined the Republicans to get one. Now that he has one he has cut loose from them. There will be no trouble about any party getting Butler if there is anything in it for him.

The Convention in Memphis is still in session and they are having some plain talking. At one time a cloud seemed to be gathering over the Convention caused by some utterances of some bolting Democrats who wanted to abolish party lines. At once the sentiment was denounced and had it not been put in the back ground the Democrats in the Convention would have left in disgust. Nearly all the speakers expressed the sentiment that free silver must come through the Democratic party and through no other.

The Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad.

Of all the railroads in the State, perhaps the greatest improvement of any for the past few years is the Atlantic and North Carolina. Through the energies of Hon. W. S. Chadwick, the greatest financier that the road has ever had, many wonderful improvements have been added. Before he became President the road had gone down almost to nothing, but since it has built up to a degree not excelled by any road in the State either in rolling stock or speed. Numbers of box cars, fine passenger coaches, and four large locomotives have been purchased since his connection with the road. The running time is as fast as any road. The road now has one freight, one passenger, and two through trucks trains a day. The passenger trains now leave Morehead City at 8:07 A. M. and arrive at Goldsboro at 11:25 A. M. returning leave Goldsboro at 3:20 P. M. and arrive at Morehead City at 6:37 P. M.

Besides the great improvement in the rolling stock, the road continues to pay a dividend which it never did before. Mr. Chadwick became President.

I have never met two more polite or courteous gentlemen than Prest. W. S. Chadwick and Supt. S. L. Dill. M. N. H.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, June 14, 1895.

The Georgia delegation which visited Washington for the purpose of inviting President Cleveland and the cabinet to attend the Atlanta Exposition returned home in a very good humor. President Cleveland and every member of the cabinet who was in Washington accepted the invitation and will visit the exposition during the latter part of October, unless important public business shall prevent. President Cleveland complimented the Georgians very highly on the energy they have displayed in working for the success of the exposition.

Secretary Olney's first move as Secretary of State was an important one. He believes that the United States should insist that it should insist that other countries should do under similar circumstances. Therefore on account of representations made by the Spanish minister he ordered the Cruiser Raleigh to proceed to Florida waters and to remain there until further orders for the purpose of preventing filibustering parties going over to Cuba. It is altogether probable that Secretary Olney, like most other Americans, sympathizes with the attempt of the Cuban revolutionists to throw off the yoke of Spain, but his personal sympathies have nothing to do with his official duties. The United States is at peace with Spain and it is the duty of its government to exercise all due diligence to prevent the departure of armed bodies of men from its ports to make war upon Spain; hence the President's proclamation.

Wilmington had a $20,000 fire Sunday morning.

MEMPHIS CONVENTION.

The following resolutions were adopted by the silver convention at Memphis last week:

"Silver and gold coin have in all ages constituted the money of the world, were the money of the fathers of the republic, the money of history and of the constitution."

"The universal experience of mankind has demonstrated that the joint use of both silver and gold coin as money constitutes the most stable standard of value and that the full amount of both metals is necessary as a medium of exchange."

"The demonetization of either of these historic metals in any a fall in the price of commodities, a diminution of legitimate profits, a continuing increase in the burden of debts, a withdrawal of money from the channels of trade and industry where it no longer yields a safe and sure return and its idle accumulation in the banks and the great money centers of the country."

"There is no health or soundness in a financial system under which a hoarded dollar is productive of increase to its possessor which an invested dollar yields a constantly diminishing return and under which fortunes are made by the accretions of idle capital or destroyed by a persistent fall in the price of commodities and persistent dwindling in the margin of profits in almost every branch of useful industry. Such a system puts a premium on idleness and a penalty upon industry, and such a system that which the criminal legislation of 1875 has imposed upon country."

"The bi-metallic standard of silver and gold has behind it the experience of ages, and has been tested and approved by the enlightened and deliberate judgment of mankind. The gold standard is a departure from the established policy of the civilized world with nothing to commend it, but twenty-two years of depression and disaster to the people and extraordinary accumulation of wealth in the hands of a few."

"There are some facts bearing upon this question recognized and admitted by all candid men, whether advocates of bi-metallicism or of the single gold standard. Among them is the fact that the very year that marked the change from the bimetallic to the single gold standard is the very year that marked for a condition of rising prices, large profits, general contentment and great prosperity, a condition of falling prices, diminishing profits, insecurity of investment, unemployed labor and a heavy depression in all branches of trade and industry. It is not a matter of dispute, even among the honest advocates of the gold standard, that general prosperity came to an end with the destruction of bi-metallic system, and that hard times, falling prices, idle workmen and widespread depression came in with the gold standard and prevail today wherever the gold standard has been adopted."

"Every international monetary conference that has been called, every demand in this country and in Europe for an international agreement to re-establish the bi-metallic standard is a confession that the demonetization of the system was a blunder if not a crime, that its consequences have been disastrous and that the conditions that it has wrought are full of menace and of peril."

"The logic of facts established beyond intelligent question that the destruction of silver as primary interests is the cause of the widespread depression and suffering that began with the gold standard. There can be restoration of prosperity, no permanent relief from prevailing conditions until the great cause has been removed by a complete restoration of silver to its proper place as a money metal, equal with gold."

"We believe in a money of stable value; we believe least of all in an appreciating standard; it is only through the practical operation of bimetallicism that a stable standard of value can be secured. A standard constituted of money constantly increasing in value is not a sound, a single nor a stable standard, but a constantly changing standard."

"The effect of gold monometallicism is to establish one standard for the creditor and another for the debtor; and there can be no more dishonest monetary system than that which gives short measure to the creditor and long measure to the debtor. Under the policy prevailing prior to 1873 there can be no violent change in the relative value of the two metals, for a rise in value of one metal is counteracted by a demand and a fall in value by an increased demand. Under the operation of this benevolent law a stable relation was maintained between them in spite of the extreme changes relative to productions. From the first period of our history up to 1873, the right of the debtor to choose whether he should pay his debts in silver or gold coin was always recognized. The subsequent policy has been to transfer the right to the creditor, thus tending to constantly increase the value of the debtor metal and destroy the parity between them."

"Believing that it is absolutely necessary to reverse this iniquitous and ruinous policy, we therefore resolve:

"That we favor the immediate restoration of silver to its former place as a full legal tender, standard money equal with gold, and the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 and upon terms of exact equality."

"That while we should welcome the co-operation of other nations

we believe that the United States should not wait upon the pleasure of foreign government or the consent of foreign creditors, but should themselves proceed to reverse the "grinding process" that is destroying the prosperity of the people and should lead by their example the nations of the earth."

"That the rights of the American people, the interests of American labor and the prosperity of American industry have a higher claim to the consideration of the people's law makers than the greed of foreign creditors, or the avaricious demands made by 'idle holders of idle capital.'"

"The right to regulate its own monetary system in the interests of its own people is a right which no free government can barter, sell or surrender. This reserved right is a part of every bond, of every contract and of every obligation. No creditor or claimant can set up a right that can take precedence over a nation's obligations to promote the welfare of the masses of its own people. This is a debt higher and more binding than all other debts, and one which is not only dishonest but reasonable to ignore."

"Under the financial policy that now prevails, we see the land filled with idle and discontented workmen and an ever growing army of tramps, men whom lack of work and opportunity have made outcasts and beggars. At the other end we find that a few thousand families own half the wealth of the country."

"The centralization of wealth has gone hand in hand with the spread of poverty. The pauper and plutocrat are of the same vicious and unholy system. The situation is full of menace to the liberties of the people and the life of the republic. The issue is enfranchisement or hopeless servitude. Whatever the power of money can do by debauchery and corruption to maintain its grasp on the law making power will be done. We therefore appeal to the plain people of the land with perfect confidence in their patriotism and intelligence to arouse themselves to a full sense of the peril that confronts them and defend the citadel of their liberties with a vigilance that shall neither slumber nor sleep."

LOCAL NOTES AND TOBACCO TOTTINGS.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

Tobacco town is putting on a new dress indeed.

We hear that Mr. J. F. Joyner is topping his tobacco.

Mr. F. M. Smith has ten acres of the most uniform tobacco that we have seen. It seems to be growing in a perfectly healthy condition.

There is much necessity of a telephone from the warehouses down town. It will not cost much and some of our people might make a speculative investment here.

Mr. L. F. Evans has leased the Greenville Warehouse and will run it the coming season. Leon is a good all-around tobacco man, has had much experience in the warehouse business and will meet success.

How about a telephone for Greenville to connect with the tobacco town warehouses and prize-ries, depot and down town. It would be a thing of great convenience to the town and would cost but little.

Meeting of the Tobacco Growers Association next Saturday. Let every farmer who sees this word to the balance to come. We want a large crowd. There will be some important matters discussed that day and every farmer ought to hear it.

Hail passed through the Farmville and Ayden sections Saturday night. Mr. R. L. Davis says it seriously damaged about half of his crop of tobacco. Beyond this we don't know the extent of the damage as we have seen no one else from these sections.

Mr. W. C. Moore, from near Falkland, tells us that he has invented a means by which tobacco can be cured without employing the patent system. He will exhibit next Saturday at the meeting of the tobacco growers. It will pay all who are interested to come just to see that.

Since so much has been said about the patent looping system we have made some inquiries and investigations concerning the United States patent laws. Mr. A. L. Blow and Col. Harry Skinner on the authority of the revised statutes, of the United States patent laws say that whenever any thing was in common use anywhere in the United States for a period of two years prior to the time the patent was granted, that the patent is absolutely void. If this is the case and there is no doubt about that the then only thing to do is to get up an affidavit showing that it was in common use for more than two years before it was patented and submit it to the proper authorities. We are not informed as to the methods of procedure in getting a patent set aside but we are told that it has to be done through the Attorney General of the United States.

A correspondent writing from Pittsylvania county, Va., to the Danville Register, under date June 4th says: The wheat crop is one of the finest on record, and oats are above an average. Of the tobacco he says many of our planters are not yet half done planting tobacco. When we had seasons the land was too wet to till and the plants too late and small to plant, and now everything is too hot and dry to set out the seed. The '94 crop is getting scarce in the barns. Such necessitates a late crop and a late crop up there means a sorry crop. So it behooves our people to bestir themselves and supply the demand for fine tobacco. You can do it.

Mr. G. F. Evans says he is in receipt of a letter from Mr. R. H. Hayes who is in Philadelphia undergoing medical treatment in which he says that he is improving as rapidly as he could expect. He says he has heard that it was rumored down here that he would not be back next season, and in reply to that he wishes it made known that he has never entertained any other idea than coming back, and further since his rapid improvement he has added largely to his order business and will be on next fall prepared to handle a great deal more tobacco than ever before. He will be prepared to handle every grade of tobacco that grows on the plant and his long experience and fair and square dealing with all his customers has won for him a reputation of which any man would have just cause to feel proud and which places him in a position to secure all the business that he can attend to without any solicitation on his part. Mr. Hayes is quite a young man and to all appearance has a strong constitution. His many friends here and the innumerable ones in the tobacco trade are hoping that under the treatment of the Philadelphia physicians he will be made as strong as ever again.

We are not a prophet nor a son of a prophet, but we are going to venture the assertion that before the close of the year 1900, unless the signs of the times mean nothing, that Greenville will be a town of 5,000 inhabitants. Until five years ago our fertile soils were used for nothing except to make cotton and corn. No allurements, inducements or special advantages were offered to the outside world to come among us, and hence the advantages that this sparsely populated and variety of soils were not known and our own people never troubled them selves to herald them to the world. The always alert Yankee of the north has late been casting about in quest of a better home. They have settled a good many of them on much less favored spots than this and as soon as their own country will soon be blooming in rich orchards over hill sides spread in ever green pastures, and our more fertile fields made to bring forth products yet unknown to our people. In central and southern Georgia where the soil and climate are not half so attractive as ours, Northern men with limited capital have gone there and upturned the turf of the long neglected old pine fields and to day, where ten years ago nothing grew save the old field peach, there are thousands peach trees and vines, turning out to their owners annually incomes larger than the salaries of some of our highest officials.

With these facts and a thorough knowledge of the unprofitableness of northern agriculture, when it is known that our country possesses many hidden charms even superior to sections that have already been settled up it is at all strange that our country should build up with amazing rapidity? Just watch and we will see what we will see.

MORE FLAMES.

INCENDIARIES BURN ANOTHER HOUSE.

Store Broken into and Attempt Made to Burn That Also—Negro Arrested.

(Special to Reflector.)

KINSTON, N. C., June 12.—This morning about 2:15 o'clock the house of Mr. Sol Oettinger was discovered on fire, and in forty minutes it was burned to the ground. It was set on fire and the flames had made such headway when discovered that they could not be extinguished. The house was worth $3,000. Most of the furniture was saved, but in a badly damaged condition.

While the fire was in progress at Mr. Oettinger's the store of P. R. Borden was broken into. Blood was found on the ground outside the window and on the floor inside the store, showing that the party breaking in the store had cut himself on the broken glass of the window. Some burned paper inside the store indicated that an effort was also made to fire this building but it was not successful. No goods were missed from the store except some cigars and cigarettes.

A negro boy named Henry Sanders was arrested last night for breaking in the house of Mrs. H. Cummings on Saturday night. He was given a hearing before the Mayor to-day and held in a $500 bond. The bond was not given up to 2 P. M.

FIRE FIENDS CAUGHT.

Several Arrests Made—Letter From "White Caps."

It seems that at last Kinston is about catching up with some of the fiends who were the cause of the late destructive fires that have visited that town. In its reports from there the REFLECTOR has published the names of some negroes who were arrested for breaking in houses and were believed to be implicated in the burnings, but in some places the chain of evidence worked up against them would be broken. Confessions have followed some later arrests and we hope other developments will follow that will clear up the whole mystery and bring every perpetrator to speedy justice.

A few nights ago Dr. Weylen discovered some one in his yard. The party eluded him temporarily and ran out of his back yard and ran up with two policemen, one of whom watched him to his home and found him to be Isaiah Hill, colored, who had long been suspected and shadowed by the authorities. He was promptly arrested and locked up. Next day a warrant was issued for Hill Dove, a country negro, who had been seen in town just before every fire and against whose damaging evidence was developed after the last fire.

Isaiah Hill was put on trial charged with kindling one of the most destructive fires. Rouse was put upon the stand and confessed that he was intimate with Hill, and that Hill confessed to him (Rouse) that he (Hill) with the negro Dove kindled said fire. Dove is also in jail, and the people are fully satisfied that they have the right scoundrels at last. The negroes were bound over to court. It is reported that a white man has also been arrested.

When that a note signed "White Caps" was sent to the town authorities stating that if the authorities did not take steps within three days to punish these parties they (the "White Caps") would take the matter in hand.

BIG FIRE AT PARMELE.

Three Dry Kilns and a Large Quantity of Lumber Destroyed.

(Special to Reflector.)

PARMELE, N. C., June 17.—About 10:30 o'clock this morning one of the dry kilns of the Parmele Eccleston Lumber Company caught on fire and burned rapidly. The kiln would probably have been saved had the water supply held out, but about 11:15 the water became exhausted when the fire took a fresh hold and burned furiously for two hours, the flames going to two other kilns. The kilns were full of lumber and made a very hot, angry fire.

It was thought that Mr. W. H. Harper's mill and several dwellings would also be destroyed but by hard work these were saved and only the three dry kilns with their contents burned.

The loss cannot yet be estimated but it is considerable. The cause of the fire is supposed to be sparks getting in the kiln.

Went Leave Us.

Capt. Pace is in receipt of a letter from one of the largest commission houses in London, England, making him a proposition to come and handle their latino bucco business, but the Captain has written them declining, saying he has a contract here, but offering his services to buy for them on this market.

PITT FEMALE SEMINARY.

A Successful Closing Entertainment—Distinctions and Scholarship—Prof. Goode will Leave Greenville.

It was a large and well behaved audience that assembled in the Opera House, Tuesday evening, to witness the closing exercises of Pitt Female Seminary. This institution has given a number of very pleasant entertainments to our people, and this closing one fell behind none of the others in interest.

The following programme was rendered with utmost precision and in perfect order:

PART I.—PRIMARY.

Hallelujah—Chorus School.

Piano Solo—Soldier's Joy, Bessie. Misses James, Rawls and G. Forbes.

Piano Duet—Schottische, Bellack. Misses Proctor and Tompkins.

Character Song—Tommy Moore, Primary Class.

Piano Solo—Summer, Liehner. Miss Rawls.

Recitation—Little Snowdrop, Bradley. Miss Bertha Patrick.

Piano Duet—Alpine Waltz, Mack. Misses Rawls and Nell Skinner.

Piano Solo—Flower Song, Lange. Miss James.

Motion Song—The Owl, Primary Class.

Piano Trio—Norma March, Bissell. Misses B. Patrick, E. Proctor, M. Tucker.

Dumb-Bell Drill, Class.

PART II.—INTERMEDIATE.

Pole Drill. Physical Culture Class.

Piano Solo—La Traviata, J. Ascher. Miss Sheppard.

Scarf Drill, Physical Culture Class.

Piano Duet—Qui Vive, Jackson. Misses B. Patrick and D. Tucker.

Reading, A Georgian at the Opera. Miss Bruce Forbes.

Piano Duet—Le Reveil du Lion, Ant. de Kontski. Misses Sheppard and McGowan.

Recitation—Luz Italians, O. Meredith. Miss Sheppard.

Piano Solo—Les Rameaux, Leybach. Miss McGowan.

Pantomime, Angel's Serenade. Misses B. Patrick and M. Hines.

Study in Attitude, Class.

Tambourine Drill, Small Girls.

Valedictory, Miss Blow.

Announcement of Distinctions, Sweet and Low, Chorus Class.

Every piece was a faultless manner. The audience was especially delighted with the drills and exercises by classes. It was almost marvellous to see the smallest pupils go through their parts so accurately, but it shows what can be accomplished by thorough training. It was evident on every hand that the work at the Seminary has been of the very highest order.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF DISTINCTIONS.

Just before the last number on the programme was rendered Prof. Goode made the following announcement of distinctions for the term, none of those mentioned falling below 85 on examination:

Latin—1st class, Maud Blow; 2nd class, Addie Johnston.

NOTICE OF SALE.

By virtue of a sale contained in a deed of trust executed by W. M. B. Brown and wife Jane to the undersigned, in book P, page 691, Register's office of this county, I will sell at the Court House door in the town of Greenville, N. C., on Wednesday, July 10th, at 11 o'clock, A. M., for cash, at public auction to the highest bidder, the following property, to-wit: A certain plantation adjoining Annie Thomas, Allen Tucker and others, containing 700 acres known as the W. M. B. Brown plantation. For boundaries see deed book V4, page 187-6-7.

Also a certain farm known as the Dixon farm containing 28 1/2 acres, more or less, adjoining the lands of Ed Dixon, J. J. Nobles and others, conveyed to W. M. B. Brown by S. H. Langley and wife and Marina Dixon.

Also a house and lot in the town of Greenville on the northwest corner of 4th and Cotanche streets, being part of lot 116.

Also seven lots in said town adjoining each other and known as the "Brick Yard Lots" numbers 146, 156, 157.

Also a certain lot in said town on the corner of Dickerson avenue and Marshall Lane, known as the L. V. Morley house and in Map 1894, occupied by W. B. Brown and wife as a residence. This June 7th, 1895.

G. H. BROWN, Jr., Trustee.

REFLECTOR BELIEVES.

The REFLECTOR believes the people of Greenville are making a mistake in all wing Prof. Goode to leave. There has been no better teacher here, and no better advancement has been made by the pupils than under his instruction. He is just the kind of man needed to carry on a good school, and that the patronage given him was not sufficient to maintain it does not speak well for the town.

QUINERLY ITEMS.

QUINERLY, N. C., June 18 1895—

Rev. C. M. Howard filled his regular appointment at Salem Sunday.

Sheriff King was here Wednesday.

Dr. W. L. Best went to Greenville Saturday.

Rev. C. Brand, of Ayden, was here yesterday.

Mrs. Spencer Brooks went to Kinston yesterday.

Mr. L. J. Chapman went to Newbern yesterday and returned to-day.

Miss Lena Brooks, of Hamilton, is visiting relatives near here.

See notice to creditors by Susan E. Tucker, executrix of Warren Tucker.

Mr. Walter King and his sister, Miss Sarah, attended the commencement at Chocowinity last week.

Miss Maggie Dawson, of Maple Cypress, is visiting friends in the village.

Quite a crowd from our neighborhood will attend the racing in Greenville the fourth of July.

Several persons are speaking of going to Morehead Thursday, and there will be quite a party to go next Monday.

The play "Imogene" will be produced on the 28th, inst., for the benefit of Home Bldg. Company. They should have a good house.

The REFLECTOR acknowledges an invitation to be present at the races on July 4th, under the management of the Greenville Pleasure Club.

A cow belonging to Mr. E. D. Maaning, of Bethel township, dropped a calf a few days ago that weighed 52 pounds at birth. The calf died.

Beginning next Saturday, 22nd, the Old Dominion Company will run a splendid steamer, the Virginia Dare, from Washington to Oeraoke every Saturday night.

Mr. W. T. G-dwin has begun the erection of a dwelling house on Dickerson avenue on a lot purchased from Mr. J. R. Cory. It will be a six room house, the front two stories.

Cadet Lyman A. Cotten left on June 10th for a three-months cruise on the U. S. S. Monongahela for the Island of Madeira. Mr. Cotten passed a very creditable examination at Annapolis.

The Institute for the colored teachers of the county will be held in the Court House next week, beginning on Monday. On Friday the examination for certificates will be held by the County Examiner.

The reputation of Riverside Nurseries is going abroad. This morning Messrs. A. Warren & S. expressed a large box of flowers to Norfolk to be used in the commencement exercises of Norfolk College. They were beautifully arranged and looked just too meet. Under the gentle touch of Ellen no wonder.

Miss Bessie Jarvis gave a delightful entertainment at the home of her mother, on Friday evening, complimentary to Misses Mattie Russell of Washington, and May Harris, of Falkland, who are visiting here. A large number of the young people of the town were present and the occasion was in every way a great success.

HEBEL COMMENCEMENT.

The closing exercises of Bethel High School took place Thursday the attendance being quite large. At 11 o'clock A. M. Rev. L. L. Nash, D. D. of Newbern, delivered the annual sermon in the Methodist church. His subject was "The universal reign of God," and his sermon one of unusual ability.

At 3 P. M. Rev. R. J. Moore, of Washington, delivered the address. His theme was "Writing," life writing, in which he compared life to a book, every individual being the author of his own character. It was one of the most beautiful and instructive discourses to which we ever listened.

The entertainment at night was largely attended and an interesting and well executed programme given. Prof. McWhorter told us he had decided to leave the county and would go to Alabama in the fall. In his departure the county will lose an excellent teacher and it is to be regretted that he has decided to return to his native State.

Hail Storms at Ayden.

AYDEN, N. C., June 17.—Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock this section was visited by a sharp hail storm, and about 10 o'clock at night was followed by another more severe. The first storm continued about an hour and the last one fully two hours. The hail stones were small but extremely thick, while the wind and rain were terrific. Corn, cotton and tobacco crops were badly damaged. Old people say it was the worst storm that has visited this section. The rain washed up many bridges.

The potato crop around here is very short, and the price, as well as the potatoes, is small.

The tax assessors were here Saturday assessing and listing property.

An Improvement.

Cherry Hill Cemetery is now in better condition than it has been in a great while. The walks and lots have all been cleaned up and several new walks have been made through the unoccupied part of the enclosure. The rickety stile over which pedestrians had to pass to get within the grounds has been removed and a small gate placed near the driveway for their use. Councilman Brown has had the work done well and we hope Cherry Hill will be kept in its present good condition.

Will Connect One Way.

To-day Mr. Borden, one of the Coast Line authorities, telegraphed here to agent J. R. Moore that beginning next Sunday, 23rd, the schedule of the freight trains over this road would be changed so that the south bound train will reach Kinston every day at 4 o'clock P. M. This will enable people from this section to make close connection every day at Kinston and go through to Morehead without having to stop over in Kinston, which is even better than the twice a-week schedule the REFLECTOR has been advocating. However, there is no arrangement for close connection on the return trip at present, but it is hoped this may be effected later.

We set the pace, others try to follow

To-day Mr. Borden, one of the Coast Line authorities, telegraphed here to agent J. R. Moore that beginning next Sunday, 23rd, the schedule of the freight trains over this road would be changed so that the south bound train will reach Kinston every day at 4 o'clock P. M. This will enable people from this section to make close connection every day at Kinston and go through to Morehead without having to stop over in Kinston, which is even better than the twice a-week schedule the REFLECTOR has been advocating. However, there is no arrangement for close connection on the return trip at present, but it is hoped this may be effected later.

Local Reflections.

Spring chickens continue scarce and high.

Remember I pay you cash for Beeswax, Chickens, Eggs and Country Produce at the Old Brick Store.

The colored salvation army is in Tarboro.

A large stock of nice Furniture cheap at the Old Brick Store.

Plums are ripe and peaches soon will be.

FOR SEED—15 bushels Un-know Peas, by J. L. Starkey & Co.

Potato quotations to-day were all the way from $2 to $3-50.

Bring your cotton seed to Henry Sheppard, and buy your Meal and Hulls. Car load of each just arrived for sale cheap.

It is vacation all around now, all the schools being closed.

The fire engine and equipments have been moved to the new engine house.

Reports coming in from all over the county say that tobacco is growing fine.

The carpenters are the busiest folks in town now. It is difficult to find all other lines.

Fish can be kept from smelling by cutting off their noses, but the onion can't be stopped that way.

During the heavy rain yesterday a building on Mr. J. H. Moore's place near the depot was crushed in.

Remember I can take your measure and have you a suit of clothes made to order. Fit guaranteed. Frank Wilson.

A witty man recently defined a bonnet as a thing made partly of ribbon, partly of lace, but principally of price.

The colored people had another big baptizing at the river Sunday morning. The ordinance was administered to 25.

There is talk of an entertainment for the benefit of Hope Fire Company. The boys would look all right in uniform.

The Standard has rooted up a hog pen in Concord that it drew all the onions out of a neighboring garden.

TOBACCO GROWERS ATTENTION.—We have just received a large quantity of tobacco flue iron of good quality and clean. Parties who have ordered flues from us can get them now at any time.
