is ordered and taken all previous registration and registration books become useless and cannot be used at subsequent elections. The registration for the election on 14th, of May 1907 was a new registration and not a special registration. It is therefore certain that the registration books in use at the election on the 14th of May, 1907, must be used in the coming election. Any voter whose name is on the registration books used at the election on the 14th of May, 1907 need not register again All whose names are not on these books will have to register for The registration books were

law requires them to be closed at sundown on Saturday the 16th day of May, 1908. The law also the polling places in their respective precincts on each Saturday during the period of registration, but the registrars can register the yoters at other times and places.
