AS TO MR. LOCKE CRAIG. rather than our divided union. Many of our best men in the South held similar views. The Rev. Mr. Craig died leaving Locke and Braxton to the care of their mother, who, being without means to educate them, sent them to the University of the State, ran a boarding house and by that means educated her sons. Locke Craig located in the Western part of the State and by his own energies and ability has achieved distinction and standing second to no man in Western North Carolina.

I am told, and he does not deny it, that at the age of 21 the first vote he ever cast, having read the life of James G. Blaine and being strongly impressed with the greatness of the man, that he voted for Blaine elector. The balance of the State ticket he voted for the Democratic nominees, and this is the only instance where he has ever failed to support the party nominees.

I think when we take an impartial view of this point in his life he should be commended rather than censured, considering the environments of his boyhood. I don't believe any man in the State has done harder work or made greater sacrifices for the cause of Democracy than Locke Craig, and it is a shame that men, who call themselves good Democrats, should seek to injure him by the vile slanders that are being circulated to injure a worthy and deserving son of our State, for the best interest of the State.

Very truly, C. W. Mitchell.

Colored People for Prohibition. The colored people of Greenville could not take much hand in the voting Tuesday, but they showed their interest in prohibition by holding prayer meetings and ringing their church bells. Those of them who voted put in the dry ticket.

It Reached the Spot. Mr. E. Humphrey, who owns a large general store at Onget, O., and is president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as of the Home Telephone Co., of Pike County, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery: "It saved my life. At least I think it did. It seemed to reach the spot—the very seat of my pain—where everything else failed. Dr. King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough spot; it beats the cough and the mucus away in the throat, lungs and chest. So I understand at J. L. Wooten's drug store, 65 and 67 1/2, Tall-bottle, Va."

MR. KITCHIN TO SEN. SIMMONS. It is more serious to me than the opposition of the Southern Railway and the American Tobacco Company. It may be serious to the people. If the Senator and the ex-Governor now, cannot they and the one they name hereafter constitute a triumvirate, who will operate a more powerful machine in naming candidates than the one I am now up against? The Democratic party shall not, with my consent, fall under such ring rule. Never before in the history of this State has such a bold attempt been made against the time-honored custom of letting the people choose their nominees free from the undue influence and hypnotic suggestions of the mighty ones whom the friends of all candidates have raised on high. After I am nominated I shall have the consolation of knowing that I made a bold and open fight with charity to all and malice towards none, and did it in my power to keep the Democracy near to the people and free from the baseness which ever threatens its usefulness as well as free from that wrongful influence of foreign corporations that ever seek unjust advantage over the public.

W. W. KITCHIN.

GOVERNOR IS TIRED AND WORN BUT HAPPY OVER RESULT. Tired and worn from a campaign of nearly two months, during which time he spoke nearly every day, Governor Glenn returned to Raleigh today from Winston-Salem, where yesterday he cast his vote for prohibition. He delivered an address there Sunday.

"You may say," said the governor, "that I am broken down, but am in splendid spirits. I am happier over the result of the election than I have been over anything in a long time."

Governor Glenn is considerably tanned from constant exposure to wind and weather and is hardly able to be up. He was at his office early today, however. - Evening Times.

We appeal to the merchants to support Ashley, Horne. No business man has been named by the Democrats of North Carolina in 60 years.

FOUR BREAK JAIL. Sometime after midnight Sunday night four colored prisoners made their escape from the county jail, and two of them are yet at large. Their names are John Teel, Jesse Valentine, Cleveland Taylor and Charles Williams. John Teel is the negro who made a dash for liberty, a few weeks ago, while being taken from court to jail, and was shot through the hip. Since being placed in jail, because of his wound as he was not confined in a cell with other prisoners, but was given a cot in the corridor where he could be better attended to. He had not walked at all since being shot but had made much complaint of his wound all the time, especially when an officer was around. Sunday night John got off his cot, took some pieces of iron from a stove in the corridor and broke the lock of the cell in which the other three were confined. Being released from the cell they found it easy to cut a hole through the brick wall and swing out to the ground.

Teel was soon captured, Williams came back and gave himself up, and officers are after the other two.

THE VOTES FOR CON. KITCHIN

MR. MANNING SAYS YESTERDAY GREATER THAN EXPECTED. States That Kitchin Led Craig by Forty Four Votes, is Only Twelve Behind Craig Now and Will Lead Him This Week.

Mr. J. S. Manning, of Durham, the State manager for Hon. W. W. Kitchin in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor, last night telephoned the following statement to the News and Observer:

"The result from the counties holding primaries today gives Mr. Kitchin more votes than I estimated in the News and Observer on Thursday morning."

"The votes of today, as far as ascertained, gives Kitchin 54 1/2, Horne 12 or 13, Craig 10.65, making Kitchin's lead over Craig in these counties netting, practically 44 votes. This leaves Craig with a lead of only about 12 votes. Kitchin will lead in the primaries to be held this week, and will overcome this lead of Craig. I stand by my statement that Kitchin will lead Craig by 50 votes at Charlotte."—Raleigh News and Observer.

FOR GOVERNOR. Your editorial suggesting ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis as the proper person to give the day in the present gubernatorial contest hit the bull's eye. He has been tested, he is from the east, he is with the "dear people." He is an old soldier, he is not afraid of the Southern railroad nor the American Tobacco Co., he never was elected to office and spent his night looking for another to the neglect of the one he had, he does not want any position as a step to the senate, he never voted for Blaine and he never got in a scramble for office. In fact, he is not waiting any office. This would be a good rebuke to the unseemly fight now on. Let us continue one cannot be governor unless he has a big bank account or a seat in congress. Besides, he can make a speech. He does not depend on "hot air"; he knows business, but he knows more than "business interests," he is far temperance, but he is not a "temperance politician," he is not one of the "big four," but he is equal to the "big four" and the other candidates combined. Give us Jarvis and let the Simmons machine, the trust buster and the farmer candidate have a rest. Give us the "dark horse" from the East. CITIZEN.

"MR. KITCHIN AND FUSION"

Chairman Howard A. Foushee Corrects New Bern Sun's Statement. Durham, N. C., May 27, 1908. Mr. R. M. Phillips, Editor of New Bern Sun, New Bern, N. C. Dear Sir:—Knowing you as I do, I was astonished to see in your paper of May 23rd your double column editorial entitled "Mr. Kitchin and fusion," in which you say that Mr. Butler fused with Mr. Kitchin in 1896 and gave him the populist vote against Mr. Settle, thereby bringing about what is claimed as a brilliant Democratic victory. This is unqualifiedly untrue. I was chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Durham county that year and a member of the Fifth district Democratic congressional executive committee and was then and have been since in close political touch with Mr. Kitchin. The populist chairman fused with Tom Settle and Mariu Butler did everything he could to get the populist vote for Tom Settle—confidential letters were sent out by the populist chairman urging the populists to vote for Settle. Some of them fell into the hands of the democrats and their contents were published throughout the district. After the campaign opened, it soon became apparent that Mr. Kitchin was getting the better of Mr. Settle and that many populists were going to leave their party and join the democrats and their own Mariu Butler had the populists called together in their congressional caucus and nominated Dr. A. J. Dalby, of Granville county, who has served as populist senator from that county. This nomination was brought about by the sole purpose of riding Mr. Settle.

In the interest of fair dealing, I request you to publish this letter and to correct editorially the error into which you have fallen. Yours truly, HOWARD A. FOUSHEE, Ch'm Durham Co. Ed. Elections.

INJUSTICE TO MR. HORNE.

The campaign of the Democratic nomination for Governor grows more and more disgusting. It is making strength faster for the Republican party in North Carolina than anything the Democrats have ever done before.

A SENSELESS CAMPAIGN.

This is about the queerest, the most suicidal, the most silly campaign within the party we ever saw. Democrats seem to have lost their heads and gone to fighting each other with as much bitterness as they ever fought Republicans or Populists.

A gentleman of Goldsboro in a card to the News and Observer, mentions the name of Editor W. C. Dowd, of Charlotte, as a good man for lieutenant governor.

Governor Glenn had a strong letter in Sunday's Raleigh News and Observer in which he advocated that the State convention instruct delegates to the national convention to vote for Bryan.

You are all right as long as you agree with the other fellow, but all wrong when your own opinion happens to be different.

Pitt, the home of the Eastern Carolina Teachers' Training School, and the county that is making such rapid progress educationally and industrially.

General Scales, the last survivor of the Confederate army, is now in the hands of the Federal Government.

Federal Judge has been ordered to have declared that he will help to enforce prohibition by indicting heavy punishment on those who may be convicted.

They are having even a warmer time over the race for gubernatorial nomination in Georgia than in North Carolina.

The Durham Herald expresses the hope that the state has been saved for the last time. We hope it will be saved every time it needs saving.

The next thing to do, is to fix it so the drug stores cannot sell it, then work for a law that will prohibit the shipment of it into dry territory.

Charlotte is going at prohibition right. The aldermen have refused fourteen drug stores in that city license to sell liquor on prescription.

As public sentiment was so largely behind the prohibition election, it looks like that same sentiment will be able to enforce the law.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon has about come to the conclusion to hold on to the job he has instead of taking the risk to get something else.

No doubt the Wilmington Star has discovered how the election went and is not yet looking for 23 wet counties.

The June bug can now have his inning until the boy gets a string tied to him.

Many people are acting like they thought the salvation of North Carolina depends entirely upon who gets the nomination for governor, and overlook the fact that the State convention will have other important things to do besides nominate some one for governor.

If you want to know where The Reflector stands, it being a fight entirely within the party we are not caring over-much which one gets the nomination.

Mr. La Follette's speech of nineteen hours must have been an effort to outdo in length the messages of the president.

Former United States Senator James K. Jones, of Arkansas, and at one time chairman of the national Democratic executive committee, died Monday at his residence in Washington City.

Both sides are deluged with claims and whittling down of their respective claims.

You can never tell what is going to be the result of the election.

Charlotte will do some interesting work when the retail merchants' association meets there.

Governor Glenn expresses himself as gratified at the great victory for prohibition. He has a right to be.

June is the poorest month in the year—at least the people are poorest. Tax listing time, you know.

There are folks saying and doing things in this campaign that they will regret when the war is over.

As the question of prohibition is settled, more interest will now be taken in politics and baseball.

The poor folks are going up to interview the tax lists. There are never any rich ones in June.

Mr. Craig made a great speech in the opera house Thursday night, and it made him friends.

Congress did not skidoo on the 23rd but is still chewing the rag at the same stand.

The greatest interest now is in those counties that have not held their conventions.

If the political pot does not boil over, it is going to come very close to it.

The New Bern Sun says "Mr. Cannon has adjourned." Right! Go up head.

June will tell us something from Charlotte.

THE SUN REPLIES.

The following is the reply of the New Bern Sun to the letter of Mr. Kitchin which appeared in the issue of this paper Thursday:

In regard to the statement that "Mr. Butler fused with Mr. Kitchin in 1896," he says in an untrue. He says the populists agreed to give his district to Mr. Settle in 1896. True, they did enter into that agreement; but they didn't stick to it any better than Butler stuck to his declared conviction when Elias Carr was nominated for governor in 1892.

Repeat of your sins, Mr. Kitchin, and come before the people with clean hands. Don't try to atone for political errors by stating that you had company and that Mr. Doughton, Mr. Daniels or anybody else, was in favor of the unholy, undesirable and revolting trade with the populists which you admit you favored in 1898.

One word more. Accusing the poll holders of your party of stealing elections is entirely too serious a matter for a dignified candidate for the highest office in the state to joke about.

Yes, the agreement was made to give the district to Mr. Settle, but Settle would not buckle to the populist demands, and Dr. Daboy was put up as a dummy.

Mr. Kitchin got the votes, as we said, and without them he could not have been elected. If Mr. Kitchin had not represented populist views he could not have received their votes in congress.

Mr. Kitchin touches lightly on the 1898 proposition. The editor of the Sun was one of Mr. Kitchin's commentators in that year, and knows personally that Mr. Kitchin was "earnest, urgent and insistent" for fusion with Butler and his friends.

Mr. Kitchin knows the ground is against him, and he is contented to admit that the favor of the people is with the party of the relative strength of the two parties," adding that "in this campaign our views were outvoted." By his own language Mr. Kitchin admits that our charge is true.

Mr. Kitchin says that we "win striking ineffectiveness," do not mention that Hon. Locke Craig was the head of the only fusion ticket that Butler's party ever effected with our State executive committee, or that he once was a Republican. We have never thought that fusion on the electoral ticket was wise in 1896, and have never defended it. We will not do so now. Mr. Craig simply obeyed the expressed mandate of his party. Neither do we think any more of Mr. Craig for having, in his early life, voted one Republican ticket, but in justice and fairness it should be said that the striking point of difference here is that Mr. Craig has repented of his sins, and made full atonement; Mr. Kitchin has not, and is trusting to evasive denials and the short memory of the people to let him out.

And in saying this we wish to make it plain to Mr. Kitchin that we are not supporting Mr. Craig in this contest. We are unreservedly and avowedly for Hon. Ashley Horne. He is "our favorite," and if he has made any attack on Mr. Kitchin or anybody else, the proof has not yet appeared.

Repent of your sins, Mr. Kitchin, and come before the people with clean hands. Thursday afternoon Hon. Locke Craig, of Asheville, one of the candidates for the nomination for governor, delivered the literary address. The largest crowd in attendance upon any of the exercises was out to hear Mr. Craig, and his speech was much enjoyed under great disadvantages.

Major London for Corporation Commissioner.

The position of Corporation Commissioner is a judicial one. Most of the questions that come before the commission for decision are of a judicial nature. The position is one of the most important under the State government. No man should be placed on the commission because he represents any special class; because he is for the corporation or is against the corporations or is anxious to do some special thing. The place should be filled by a man of judicial temperament, one capable of looking at all sides of a proposition and doing justice without fear or favor. Such a man is Maj. Henry A. London, of Chatham county, who is a candidate for the position.

Mr. Kitchin touches lightly on the 1898 proposition. The editor of the Sun was one of Mr. Kitchin's commentators in that year, and knows personally that Mr. Kitchin was "earnest, urgent and insistent" for fusion with Butler and his friends.

LEGEND OF OLD JAPAN

The Story of Chobei, the Leader of the Duelists.

A MAN WHO KNEW NOT FEAR.

Rather Than Tarnish His Reputation For Bravery He Accepted the Prince's Invitation and Went Voluntarily to the Front.

The following legend of Chobei has been handed down in Japan as indicative of the courage of the "bravos," or duelists, who flourished in Yedo during the sixteenth century, forming a sort of Japanese St. Bernard. Chobei, the leader of this class, was a redoubtable swordsman, whose constant recurring duels forced his master to keep him from his residence.

Chobei, with a sword of his, forced his way past the attending into the arena, and, after a few minutes, he had removed his garments and cast himself on a couch in feigned slumber.

"Who is that hero?" demanded the prince on his arrival. "The leader of the swordsmen," they answered him. "Who is he?" "He is Chobei," they answered him. "Who is he?" "He is Chobei," they answered him.

Cord for the Horse.
In Nottingham, England, a few weeks ago, a teamster loaded his wagon so heavily that the horses could not start it. He began lashing them and swearing, and a crowd gathered, but no one would take a lift at the wheels and help the horses get a move on the wagon. The driver was still lashing away when a grocer's horse standing across the road rushed at him with open mouth and seized him by the arm and bit him so savagely that he had to go to the hospital for treatment.

If the horses would stand by each other this way there would soon be an end to the cruelties seen every day in the cities. The man who lashes a horse because the horse can do no more than he can deserves a sentence to jail every time. - Chicago Ledger.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.
"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Soland Curry a patrolman of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and arms and I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands. I was incapacitated for duty. One time when I was in severe pain and some one told me to get a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using for a little while then two weeks ago and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by all Drug stores and dealers in patent medicines.

Mr. Horne is not the tool of any man or set of men. He is merely the people's candidate and would be the people's governor.

TO MAKE THE LAW EFFECTIVE.

A Charlotte Citizen Draws a Bill that Hits the Drinker.

The following bill, supplemental to the one ratified by the people last week, has been drafted by a citizen of Charlotte, to be submitted to the Legislature next winter, to the end of making prohibition really effective in North Carolina:

A Bill to be Entitled An Act to Prohibit the Drinking or Use of Intoxicating Liquors Except for Medical Purposes.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enact:

Section 1. That any person who shall drink imbibes by snuffing, hyperdermically injected, or otherwise introduce into his system, any quantity whatsoever, of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or intoxicating bitters, or any fluid which contains a sufficient quantity or percentage of alcohol to produce intoxication, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, be punished by fine or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 2. That the smell or odor of any of the liquors mentioned in the preceding section upon the breath of any person shall be prima facie a violation of this act, and evidence thereof shall be sufficient to sustain a conviction therefor.

Section 3. That the place where the smell or odor of such liquor is discovered or detected upon the breath of any person shall be conclusively presumed to be the place where the said liquors were drunk, and the venue of any indictment under this act may be laid accordingly.

Section 4. That this act shall not apply to any person who is bona fide sick, and uses such liquor upon the prescription of a regularly licensed physician, whose patient such person is at the time; nor to the bona fide patient of any regularly licensed dentist, who uses such liquor upon the prescription of such dentist, the patient being in the dental chair under treatment at the time; nor to the pastor, officers or communicants of any church or religious society while engaged in the celebration of sacrament or ceremony in which such liquors may be used.

Section 5. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

This bill, if enacted into a law, will make it compulsory upon those guardians of Old Jones and the niggers, who voted against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, at the recent election, to drink as they vote, and at the same time they will have the satisfaction of knowing they are observing the law of the land. This law will distinctly meet the argument that "prohibition does not prohibit." It will go to the root of the matter. The real evil to be legislated against is not the manufacture or sale of liquor. Millions of gallons of it may be made and sold and no harm would result if it were used to rub with, or in paints, or in the arts and sciences. It is the drinking of the stuff that makes wives widows and children orphans, and fills up the asylums, poor-houses and jails. If the manufacture and sale of the poison is to continue there must be some remedy to buy it. The real thing to prohibit is the purchase and drinking of it. If there were no people to drink it its manufacture and sale would die a natural death.

Another important matter about this law is that it is not affected by interstate commerce. Under the law recently voted on, liquor may still be shipped into the State from beyond its borders, but if it is made a crime to drink liquor, it matters not where the liquor comes from, interstate commerce is no defence to an indictment against the fellow who "introduces it into his system."

All who are in favor of this most excellent measure will please hold up their hands.—Charlotte Observer.

It Reached the Spot.

Mr. E. Humphrey, who owns a large general store at Oxford, O., and is president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as of the Home Telephone Co., of Erie county, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery: "It saved my life once. At least I think it did. I seemed to reach the end—the very end of my career—when everything else failed. Dr. King's New Discovery not only reached the cough spot; it beat the cough up and the work spots in the chest, lungs and throat. Sold under guarantee at J. L. Wooten's drug store, see and thank. Died.

Little Leonard Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilkinson, of near Farmville, was born September the sixth, 1906, and died May the 9th, 1908, making his stay on earth one year eight months and three days. He was taken very ill Sunday night and died the next Saturday night with the meningitis. All was done for him that a loving mother, father and the members of the family could do but they could not stay the hand of death. His bright eyes were soon closed in death. Oh! how sad it was to give him up, and hear his sweet little voice no more in the home that he once helped to make so happy and bright. He was a very pleasant, loving and kind-hearted child and was like a ray of sunshine in home. But God had called this little one to dwell with Him where there are no pains, sorrows and griefs.

Lying beneath the flowers, in the cold, cool grave waiting for the happy hours some bright shining day.

Democratic Primaries.

The Democratic executive committee have called the primaries to meet at the various voting places in Pitt county, Saturday June 6th, 1908, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Let every "Kitchen Man" remember that unless he attends the primary at his voting place he will have no voice whatever in saying who will be the next governor of North Carolina.

E. A. Moseley, Jr., Pres. Pitt county Kitchen Club, J. L. Fleming, Sec'y.

Their Only Child Dead.

Every heart in the community was touched with sorrow at the death of little Elizabeth, aged about one year, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Baker, which occurred at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon of meningitis after only a few days illness.

About a year and a half ago their first born was taken, and death now claiming their last and only child, robbing the home of its light and joy, is sad beyond expression. Much sympathy is expressed for the heart-broken parents, and may God comfort them in their great sorrow.

The funeral will take place at 5:30 this afternoon, services being conducted by Revs. M. T. Plyler and J. E. Ayscue. The pall bearers will be Messrs. J. F. Davenport, J. N. Hart, A. C. Holloman, B. W. Moseley, C. S. Carr, Drs. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, E. A. Moye and R. L. Carr.

Stand by your neighbor. Vote for Ashley Horne, the farmer and business man.

W. W. Kitchin

The next governor of North Carolina will arrive in Greenville by the Norfolk & Southern from Raleigh Friday morning June 5th at 8:55 and will go to Ayden by the Coast Line on the 11:21 o'clock train. This train will have an extra car to accommodate all the large crowd that will go to Ayden to hear him and the four o'clock train returning will have the same extra accommodation.

Dr. E. A. Moye, Pres. Pitt County Kitchen Club, J. L. Fleming, Sec'y.

Sons of Confederates vote for Ashley Horne, the comrade of your father.

Rally Day.

The Memorial Baptist Sunday school has set apart next Sunday as rally day. For several weeks past, in fact ever since the school began to occupy its new class rooms, the record has shown an average above 200, and the purpose of the coming rally day is to make the attendance even larger. There are special features every Sunday that make the exercises very interesting, and the rally day program will be a good one. Everybody is invited to attend next Sunday.

Mr. Horne is a prosperity promoter, not a panic maker.

County Democratic Convention.

At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Pitt county held this day, it was ordered that Democratic primaries be held on Saturday, the 6th day of June, 1908, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to a county convention to be held in Greenville, on Thursday, June 11th, 1908 at 12 o'clock m., at which delegates will be appointed to represent the county in the State Congressional and Judicial conventions of the Democratic party.

The several townships are entitled to elect the following number of delegates and alternates, to wit:—

Beaverdam, 3; Belvoir, 2; Bethel, 7; Carolina, 6; Chicod, 16; Contentnea, 17; Falkland, 7; Farmville, 6; Greenville, 20; Pictoune, 1; Swift Creek, 6.

This 21st day of May, 1908.

E. C. Harding, Chm. Dem. Ex. Com. Pitt C. W. L. Brown, Secty.

Danger Ahead.

The Greenville Reflector has this to say:

"The campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor grows more and more disgusting. It is making strength faster for the Republican party in North Carolina than anything the Democrats have ever done before. There are three good men aspiring for the nomination, yet the supporters of one malign the others just as if they were enemies instead of belonging to the same party, and vice versa. Some want to make the support of a certain man a test of Democracy, and some think everybody is a rascal who does not agree with them. The campaign for the nomination is a reflection on the party by which the enemies to Democracy are profiting."

And with the sentiment expressed we are in accord. The scramble for the governorship in North Carolina becomes more and more undignified. The campaign was pitched on a wrong key to begin with; and the lesser lights have caught up the refrain and vied with each other in mud-slinging ability. False charges have been made and all kinds of apparitions have been appealed to for the purpose of "stirring up the boys."

Another campaign or so like this and the Democratic party will wake up a sadder and a wiser party. Such contests conducted in such a spirit mean party disintegration.—Kinston Free Press.

Assistant Attorney General Clement is receiving letters of inquiry regarding the construction of the Supreme Court's decision on the poll tax question. He replies that the court holds that the State and county poll tax cannot exceed $2 and no city for town can levy a larger sum.

He cites the court's opinion in the Mecklenburg county case so the county commissioners can understand it fully when they meet. He says: "No other or further explanation or poll tax than $2 can be levied for any purpose. Thus all statutes levying property tax and poll tax combined in excess of $2 are invalid. This decision does not affect the poll tax levied in connection with the pension tax, that being a State tax and combined with the other tax does not exceed $2. The county commissioners in levying taxes for the present year will therefore eliminate all special tax on polls and levy the usual $2 as construed by the Supreme Court in the case. This decision in no manner affects the poll tax levied by the State but only requires that all special poll taxes levied by county commissioners in excess of $2 are void."—Raleigh or Charlotte Observer.
