Beaufort to Have Modern Summer and Winter Hotel.

Beaufort, N. C., July 31.—
Ever since the great storm of 1889, which swept away Beaufort's resort hotel, the people here have been very anxious to see it built back, but, although many attempts have been made, they have not been successful in their plans to rebuild. At last their wish is to be realized. A hotel company, composed principally of the best business men of the town will, within a day or two organize for the purdical states of the summer and with the last few years was supposed to be incurable.
